36 CASTLE ST., FORFAR.

NORTH BRITISH AND MERCANTILE INSURANCE COMPANY.

INCORPORATED BY ROYAL CHARTER & SPECIAL ACTS OF PARLIAMENT.
ESTABLISHED 1809.

FIRE. LIFE. ANNUITIES.
Total Assets exceed £13,000,000.

THE Funds of the Life Department are not liable for obligations under the Fire Department, nor are the Funds of the Fire Department liable for Obligations under the Life Department. In this Company, therefore, the Investments for the Life Department are kept entirely separate from those of the Fire Department, as set forth in the Balance Sheet.

LIFE DEPARTMENT.

IMPORTANT FEATURES.

All Bonuses vest on Declaration.

The period during which a lapsed policy may be revived is extended to one year, and the fine payable on revival is much reduced.

The Surrender Value of a lapsed policy is held at the credit of the assured during the extended period of ten years; and during that period the option is allowed of taking a paid-up policy calculated on very favourable terms.

The Suicide Clause is abolished.

The form of policy has been shortened and simplified, so that the true meaning of the contract may be readily ascertained.

Claims paid immediately on proof of death and title.

Premiums adjusted to each half-year of age.

Minimum Surrender Values fixed.

Policy not forfeited by error in Proposal Papers, unless accompanied by fraud.

General freedom of policies from restriction as to residence, occupation, and travel.

ANNUITY BRANCH.

Annuities, Immediate, Contingent, or Deferred, are granted on favourable terms.

FIRE DEPARTMENT.

Property of nearly every description insured at Home and Abroad at the Lowest Rates of Premium corresponding to the risk.

LOSSES SETTLED WITH PROMPTITUDE & LIBERALITY.

Prospectuses and every information may be had at the Chief Offices, Branches, or Agencies.

Paterson, Sons, & Co.

IN announcing their Clearance Sale of Pianos returned from hire, beg to thank all those customers who have kept them so very busy during the last two months with orders, that they have had no time to issue Lists of Instruments as usual. The Lists issued at this season are really of little value, as the Stock is changing daily, those instruments that come in from hire being often sold within a day or two of their return.

As Pianos are still coming in from hire, P. Sons, and Co. trust that the very liberal patronage they have experienced will continue until the whole of the past Season's stock of Instruments are cleared out. The Lowest Cash Prices will be quoted in every case, as P. Sons, & Co.'s experience is that a really good Piano or Organ sold at the lowest possible figure is the best form of Advertisement they can have.

Second-hand Cottage Pianos at £10 to £15.

Slightly-used Cottage Pianos at £15, £16, to £20.

High-class English and Foreign Pianos, returned from hire (Listed at 42 to 90 Gns.) at £22 to £59 cash.

Grand Pianos by Bechstein, Steinway, Brinsmead, Broadwood, &c., from £30 to £150.

THE QUEEN OF THE VILLAGE.

*"You are not for obscurity designed,
But, like the sun, should cheer all human kind."*

DRYDEN.

WISE SAYINGS ARE WORTH REMEMBERING.

Knowledge is no burden.

RECOMPENSE injury with justice, and recompense kindness with kindness.

The wise carry their knowledge, as they do their watches, not for the purpose of display, but for use.

Good manners are a part of good morals; and it is as much your duty as your interest to practise both.

We more readily confess to errors, mistakes, and shortcomings in our conduct than in our thoughts.

REMEMBER the uncertainty of life, and restrain thy hand from evil. He that was yesterday a king, behold him dead, and the beggar is better than he.

If you had as strong a dislike to being a bad man as you have to being thought one, what a difference there would be in your life!

The path of duty lies in what is near, and men seek for it in what is remote. The work of duty lies in what is easy, and men seek for it in what is difficult.

A LARGE part of self-culture is dependent upon the use that is made of the busiest and most closely filled hours. This is the same in every honest calling, whatever its nature.

Do you want to know the man against whom you have most reason to guard yourself? Your looking-glass will give a very fair likeness of his face.

"If you don't want dull thoughts to come," says Daniel Quorn, "you must keep 'em away as I keep the weeds out o' my bit o' garden. I fill the beds so full o' flowers that there isn't any room for weeds."

The profoundly wise do not declaim against superficial knowledge in others, so much as the profoundly ignorant; on the contrary, they would rather assist it with their advice than overwhelm it with their contempt; for they know that there was a period when even a Bacon or a Newton was superficial; and that he who has a little knowledge is far more likely to get more than he that has none.

If thou wouldst have a good servant, let thy servant find a wise master. Let his food, rest, and wages be seasonable; let his labour, recreation, and attentions depend upon thy pleasure; be not angry with him too long, lest he think thee malicious; nor too often, lest he count thee humorous; be not too fierce, lest he love thee not; nor too remiss, lest he fear thee not; nor too familiar, lest he prize thee not. In brief, whilst thou givest him the liberty of a servant, beware thou losest not the majesty of a master.

VANITY it is to wish to live long and to be careless to live well.

THERE is nothing so sweet as duty, and all the best pleasures of life come in the wake of duties done.

LIBERTY has no rights which are not grafted on justice; and the chief duty of liberty is to defend justice.

The latter part of a wise man's life is taken up in curing the follies, prejudices, and false opinions he had contracted in the former.

In many instances, the man who spends his life waiting for his ship to come in, wastes his time, because he originally omitted to send any ship out.

Philosophy for Everybody.

Perseverance is the best school for manly virtue.

What sunshine is to flowers, smiles are to humanity.

Poverty is in want of much, but avarice of everything.

Wit is a merchandise that is sold, but can never be bought.

Sow good services; sweet remembrances will grow from them.

The winner is he who gives himself to his work, body and soul.

Happiness is like the echo; it answers you, but it does not come.

The future destiny of the child is always the work of the mother.

He that wrestles with us strengthens our nerves and sharpens our skill.

The reproaches of enemies should quicken us to duty and not keep us from it.

TRUTH, whether in or out of fashion, is the measure of knowledge and business of the understanding; whatsoever is besides that, however authorised by consent or recommended by rarity, is nothing but ignorance or something worse.

It takes a great deal to make happiness, for everything must be in tune, like a piano; but it takes very little to spoil it. Fancy a bride, now, having a toothache, or a swelled face during the honeymoon. In courtship she won't show, but in marriage she can't help it.

A just and honest opinion concerning others is a treasure that no one can hold who is not honest himself; and the opinion of a dishonest person concerning himself is apt to be even more incorrect than that which he holds of others.

To welcome those influences which lift us into a higher sphere of intelligence, which give us a loftier standard of virtue, which enrich our hearts and arouse our enthusiasm and enlarge our capacities, is to benefit not only ourselves, but the entire community in which we dwell.

THE love of knowledge rather than the love of mere pleasure best prepares all to act well their part in life. The foundation of all success depends largely upon the cultivation of the mind, and whoever would do this must be willing to restrain his animal appetites and bring them into subjection. Mind must restrain and rule the passions if they are to be kept in their proper place and not allowed to warp the judgment or sully the life. To the mind a good book is like good food to the body—it is the material by which its strength and growth can be best promoted. A bad book is poison to the mind and ruin to the soul, and should be avoided with the greatest care at all times.

“LET THE JEST GO ROUND.”

“Tis mirth that fills the veins with blood.”—BEAUMONT AND FLETCHER.

IT is nice to talk to a girl who has her ideals, but it is discouraging to live with her.

Belle: “Mr. Jolyer is such a nice man. He said I had a voice like a bird.” Nell: “Yes; he told me you sang like an owl.”

She: “I know, Alfred, I have my faults.” He: “Oh, certainly.” She (angrily): “Indeed! Perhaps you’ll tell me what they are!”

Ada: “I can’t imagine how that secret leaked out.” Floss: “Nor I! I’m sure everyone to whom I told it promised to say nothing about it.”

He: “Nice dog—very! Have you taught it any new tricks since I was here last?” She (sweetly): “Yes; it will fetch your hat if you whistle.”

She: “I notice that it is the single men who are the most anxious to go to war.” He (much married): “Yes. They don’t know what war is.”

Little Dick: “Papa, didn’t you tell mamma we must economise?” Papa: “I did, my son.” Little Dick: “Well, I was thinking that if you’d get me a pony I wouldn’t wear out so many shoes.”

Husband: “I am just in the mood for reading something sensational and startling—something that will make my hair stand on end.” Wife: “Here is my last milliner’s bill.”

She: “Don’t you think that in order to be successful in these days a man should apply himself constantly?” He: “That’s my idea. I have been calling on an heiress now every day for six months.”

A WOMAN once asked another, “Pray, had your mother any children?” Seeing the other laugh, and quickly recollecting herself, “Bless me!” says she, “what a ridiculous mistake I made! It was your grandmother I meant.”

“Do you believe in the novel with a purpose?” said Squidg to an author friend. “Certainly,” the latter replied. “All the novels I ever wrote have the same purpose.” “What is it?” “To improve my banking account.”

First Philanthropist: “What have you been doing for the past five or six years?” Second Philanthropist: “I have been collecting money to assist poor people to emigrate to America. What have you been doing?” First Philanthropist: “I’ve been collecting money to assist them back again.”

“BILL,” said one Jack Tar to another the other day, “what is a hanthem?” “What,” replies Bill, “do you mean to say as you don’t know what a hanthem is!” “Not me.” “Well, then, I’ll tell yer. If I was to say to you, ‘Ere, Bill, give me that handspike,’ that wouldn’t be a hanthem. But if I was to say to you, ‘Bill, Bill, Bill, give, give, give, give me, give me that, that, that, that handspike, spike, spike, spike,’ why, that would be a hanthem!”

A MAN who has never been ashamed of himself has never yet been well introduced to himself.

Mamma: “Willie, where are those app’les gone that were in the storeroom?” Willie: “They are with the gingerbread that was in the cupboard.”

A WAITER spilt some gravy over a lady’s dress. The lady was terribly put out. “Never mind,” said the waiter, “there’s plenty more gravy where that came from.”

IF people should stop suddenly some evening telling what they think about other people, and tell what they know about themselves, what a stir-up there would be in modern society!

IT is related as singular that fat men never commit crime. But it doesn’t seem so singular when you reflect that it is difficult for a fat man to stoop to anything low.

It’s Lowell who asks, “What is so rare as a day in June,” is it not? Well, now, if he had only stopped to think a minute, he might have known that the 29th of February was the answer to the riddle.

“LOOK here,” said an excited man to a druggist, “you gave me morphine for quinine this morning!” “Is that so?” replied the druggist. “Then you owe me one shilling and ninenpence.”

SOMEONE has estimated that the time thrown away in this world in courting the girl you want to marry, and who is ready to marry you, would build all the railroads and bridges and tunnels and public buildings in the world.

Mistress: “Well, Mary, what did you think of the pictures at the Academy?” Mary: “Oh, mum, there was a picture there called ‘Two Dogs after Landseer,’ and I looked at it for nearly half an hour, but couldn’t see no Landseer!”

Askem: “Where’s the rich heiress you’re engaged to?” Tellum: “You see that lovely girl in pink at the other side of the room?”

Askem: “Yes. I say, old man, what a superb—!” Tellum: “Well, it isn’t she. It’s that grand old ruin in yellow sitting next her.”

A FRENCHMAN being about to remove his shop, his landlord inquired the reason, stating at the same time it was considered a very good stand. The Frenchman replied, with a shrug of the shoulders, “Oh, yes, he’s very good stand for ze business. Me stand all day, for nobody come to make me move.”

Mother of nine children (looking into the stocking basket): “Well, Bridget, for one thing I am sure we shan’t have to darn stockings after ten o’clock at night in the next world.” Bridget (sympathetically): “Shure, an’ that’s thrue for you, ma’am; for all the pictures av angels that iver I saw was barefuttet.”

A Question of Time.

*I kissed her at ten,
For she said that I might.
We were children when
I kissed her at ten.*

*It is years since then,
But ’twas only last night
That I kissed her at ten—
For she said that I might.*

Lincoln.

THE city of Lincoln is beautifully placed on the slope of a hill which is crowned by the cathedral. It is one of the ancient cities of England, and contains many interesting specimens of early architecture.

The cathedral is the chief building. It is surmounted by three towers, two of which, 180 feet in height, were formerly continued by spires of 101 feet. The central tower, 53 feet square, is 300 feet high. The interior length of the cathedral is 482 feet; the width, 80 feet.

Under the Romans Lincoln was a place of some importance, and under the Saxons and Danes it held a respectable position. It was the seat of an extensive trade at the time of the Norman Conquest.

Among the interesting antiquities of Lincoln are the Roman gate, the remains of the palace and stables of John of Gaunt, and the town-hall, which dates from the time of Henry VIII.

The first-mentioned of these—the Newport or North Gate of Lincoln—is one of the most perfect specimens of genuine Roman architecture in England. The Roman Ermine Street passes through this gate, and runs north from it for eleven or twelve miles as straight as an arrow. Many Roman coins, etc., have been found in the immediate vicinity of the gate.

GARDENING FOR THE MONTH.

Sow and place in pots hardy annuals, such as sweet peas and lupins. In open weather plant bulbous roots; in houses, cinerarias, primulas, camellias, hyacinths, etc., will now be in flower. If the weather be favourable, all vacant pieces of ground should at this time be either trenched or deeply dug. In open weather sow Path, black-seeded cos, and cabbage lettuce; horn carrots, radishes, and Flanders spinach may also be sown, but must be covered with straw if the weather be severe; also mazagan and long-pod beans. Plant out early York cabbage to succeed those of the October planting. Cauliflower plants must be carefully looked to in the frames, and have abundance of air. Peas and beans must be earthed up as a protection against frost, and to forward their early maturity. All snails should be destroyed, for one killed at this time will prevent the breeding of many dozens further in the year.

Truth.

TO discover truth is the best happiness of an individual; to communicate it, the greatest blessing he can bestow upon society.

A Good Name worth Having.

GET and preserve a good name, if it were but for the public service: for one of a deserved reputation hath oftentimes an opportunity to do that good, which another cannot that wants it. And he may practise it with more security and success.

Women's Rights.

EDDIE: "What are women's rights, pa?"
Pa: "Everything they want, my boy. Always remember that."

Signs of Character.

HE who by his conduct makes good friends on the one hand and bitter haters on the other gives evidence that there is something of the bold, independent, upright man in his composition; while the chicken-hearted, imbecile character is capable of making neither friends nor foes.

GENERAL VIEW OF LINCOLN.

A Use for His Voice.

"Do you think, professor," said the musically ambitious youth, "that I can ever do anything with my voice?"

"Well," was the cautious reply, "it may come in handy to halloa with in case of fire."

Heroes and Valets.

EVERYONE is familiar with the somewhat vulgar proverb that "No man is a hero to his own valet"; but it is well to bear in mind the saying of Hegel in answer to it: "This is not because the hero is no hero, but because the valet is a valet."

He Praised His Thrift.

CLARA: "And there comes Georgy Gussie now, dear papa, to get your consent."

Papa: "Georgy Gussie! What do you know about Georgy Gussie? Is he a business man?"

Clara: "He's all business, papa. He's perfectly devoted to money-getting. You just ought to hear how he praises your thrift in amassing a great fortune."

Borrowing and Lending.

NEITHER a borrower nor a lender be,
For loan oft loses both itself and friend,
And borrowing dulls the edge of husbandry.

An Arctic Meeting.

THE meeting of Dr. Nansen with Mr. Jackson was the concluding event in the dramatic story of Nansen's arctic adventures. It happened on the 17th of June, 1896, on which day, Nansen tells us, he heard a shout in the midst of the icy desert.

"Soon," he says, "I heard another shout, and saw, too, from an ice-ridge, a dark form moving among the hummocks further on. Who was it? Was it Jackson or one of his countrymen? or was it perhaps one of my countrymen?"

"We approached one another quickly. I waved my hat: he did the same. I heard him speak to his dog, and I listened. It was English; and as I drew nearer, I thought I recognised Mr. Jackson, whom I remembered once to have seen.

"I raised my hat; we extended a hand to one another, with a hearty 'How do ye do?'"

It was an interesting interview. On the one side was the civilised European in an English check suit and high rubber water boots, well-shaved and well-groomed; on the other the wild man clad in dirty rags, black with oil and soot, with long, uncombed hair and shaggy head black with smoke.

GARDENING FOR THE MONTH.

IN the flower garden sow anemones; hardy annuals in borders if the weather opens, and hardy biennials. Put in all remaining bulbs. Sow dahlias, and place the tubers in hot-beds or under glass in a border to break buds for slipping. Sow hardy perennials; plant suckers, slips, and partings of roots. By the end of the month complete the planting of flowering shrubs; sow also polyanthus, balsams, and cockscombs; and other tender annuals may now be sown by affording protection when requisite. In the kitchen-garden sow a full crop of peas of the ordinary kind about the beginning, and of marrowfats and other larger sorts about the end of the month, in the open quarters of the garden. Transplant early sugar-loaf cabbage and other cabbage-plants to where they are intended to remain. About the middle or end of the month sow carrot for an early crop on a light border or other sheltered situation, but the beginning of April is soon enough for sowing the principal crop. Plant early potatoes in open weather. About the middle of the month sow the first crop of savoys, leeks, onions, and lettuces; a small sowing of early turnips may be made in a very warm situation. Plant strawberries about the end of the month. Before the buds are much swelled, prune apricots, peaches, nectarines, and plums, and also apples, pears, cherries, gooseberries, currants, and raspberries before the end of the month. Continue the forcing of every description of fruit.

MEETING OF DR. NANSEN AND MR. JACKSON.

Not In It.

HE was declaring his passion for the American heiress in the most glowing sentences of a lover's eloquence.

"I will be your serf—your slave—your servant—your—"

"You will be my lord," she interrupted softly; and he knew then, from experience and observation, that her millions could never be his, for he had no title.

This May Be of Use.

ABOUT a year ago a wealthy London reporter happened to get into a theatre—on a complimentary ticket. Immediately in front of him was a tall lady who was wearing one of those three-storey hats, with a bay window and a flower garden on the roof. The journalist made frantic efforts to see what was happening on the stage, but it was eclipsed by the hat.

The young lady who wore the hat perceived that it was a source of annoyance to the journalist, so she kindly removed it and held it in her lap during the entire performance.

A few days afterwards the journalist caught cold, and was prostrated by pneumonia. Perceiving that his last hour was about to approach he made his will, and a few days afterwards he was removed to Woking cemetery with great pomp.

When his will was opened, it was discovered that he had left the lady who had so considerably removed her headgear in the theatre the reputed sum of £3,724,825 and ninepence, the latter amount being in actual cash.

N.B.—Cut this out and put it in your vest pocket, and if you should happen to sit behind a lady with a tall hat in the theatre, hand it to her to read. It very likely will secure you the view which you desire.

Reverence for Women.

THE rude faith of the Norseman was the first in which that reverence for women arose, which the Western nations may well claim as the brightest jewel in their crown of civilisation. While she was a slave in the East, a toy to the Greeks, a housewife to the Romans, she was a helpmate to the Teuton, and those stern warriors recognised something divine in her nature, and bowed before her clearer insight into heavenly mysteries.—SIR GEO. W. DASENT.

The Ways of the World.

*LAUGH, and the world laughs with you,
Weep, and you weep alone;
For this brave old earth must borrow its mirth,
It has trouble enough of its own.*

*Sing, and the hills will answer,
Sigh, it is lost on the air;
The echoes bound to a joyful sound,
But shrink from voicing care.*

*Rejoice, and men will seek you,
Grieve, and they turn and go;
They want full measure for all your pleasure,
But do not want your woe.*

*Be glad, and your friends are many,
Be sad, and you lose them all;
There are none to decline your nectared wine,
But alone you must drink life's gall.*

*Faast, and your halls are crowded,
Fast, and the world goes by;
Succeed and give, it will help you to live,
But no man can help you to die.*

*There's room in the halls of pleasure
For a long and lordly train,
But one by one we must all file on
Thro' the narrow aisles of pain.*

York.

THE city walls, a portion of which is shown in the engraving on the opposite page, form one of the most striking features of York. The exact date of their erection is unknown; but some portions are undoubtedly built on the foundations of the Roman wall. They were rebuilt, and the city thoroughly fortified, in the reigns of Edward I. and III. when it was exposed to the incursions of the Scots.

The Civil Wars finally disposed of their use for warlike purposes; and though they were repaired shortly after the Restoration, they have only since that time served the purposes of ornament and historical curiosity. They are perfect on the western side of the river, and form a beautiful walk from which views of the city are obtained.

Of the Bars or Gates of York the largest and most interesting is Micklegate. It forms a most striking approach to the city from the south. The date of its erection is unknown, but a portion of it is probably Norman. On the top of this gate were exposed the heads of traitors, the most memorable being during the Wars of the Roses. The Duke of York in 1640 had his head fixed here, surmounted by a paper crown, "that York might overlook the town of York."

The great feature of York is the Minster. Everything in the city seems to lead up to that wonderful building.

GARDENING FOR THE MONTH.

Sow tender annuals in pots and borders to remain. Sow biennials, carnations, polyanthus, and annuals generally. If the weather be dry and mild, attend diligently to the various branches of cropping in the kitchen garden. Lose no time in committing to the soil the various seeds and roots of plants. Plant beans of all sorts for principal crops. Sow marrowfat peas once a fortnight or three weeks at farthest. Remove cauliflower plants that have been in frames or in warm borders during the winter.

Sow broccoli towards the middle or end of the month; if sown earlier the plants are apt to start or button. Sow white and red celery seed and water the bed frequently in dry weather. Transplant cabbage-plants of all kinds into the places where they are to remain. Sow turnips for a first full crop, about the middle or end of the month, in an open situation and where the ground is light. About the middle of the month is the proper time in which to commence grafting apples, pears, plums, and cherries.

Trustworthy Men.

LET it once be understood that a man is strictly trustworthy, and confidence and unlimited credit are within his reach. Many a man has a reputation of far greater value than a bank deposit, for that by some accident may be destroyed or diverted from its legitimate purpose; but the name is a guarantee for all its owner promises.

In years past, when values had a more fixed standard, when there was less speculation and not so much of what is called "trading upon paper" as at present, the statement that a man's word was as good as his bond was more common than it is nowadays. To have this said of a man, especially of one who is comparatively young, is the greatest compliment that can be paid him.

He Would Not be Frightened.

AN old French shoemaker, who boasted that nothing could frighten him, was put to the test by two young men. One of them pretended to be dead, and the other, going to the shoemaker, induced him to sit up with the supposed corpse.

The shoemaker was in a hurry with some work, so he took his tools and leather and commenced working beside the corpse.

About twelve o'clock at night a cup of black coffee was brought him to keep him awake. He drank it, and resumed his work.

About one o'clock, the coffee having exhilarated him, forgetting that he was in the presence of death, he commenced singing a lively tune.

Suddenly the corpse arose, and exclaimed, in a hollow voice, "When a man is in the presence of death he should not sing!"

The shoemaker started, then suddenly dealt the corpse a blow on the head, exclaiming, "When a man is dead he should not speak."

It was the last time they tried to scare the shoemaker.

YORK FROM THE CITY WALLS.

A Quaker in Battle.

A GOOD story is told of a Quaker volunteer who was in a Virginia skirmish. Coming in pretty close quarters with a Secessionist, he remarked: "Friend, 'tis very unfortunate, but thou standest just where I am going to shoot." And, blazing away, down came his man.

A Highland Epitaph.

THERE is something singularly beautiful and affecting in the following epitaph, translated from one in Gaelic in the parish church in Glenorchy, in Argyleshire:—

"Lo, she lies here in the dust, and her memory fills me with grief;

Silent is the tongue of Memory, and the hand of Elegance is now at rest.

No more shall the poor give thee his blessing, no more shall the naked be warmed with the fleece of thy flock;

The tear shalt thou not wipe away from the eye of the wretched.

Where now, O feeble, is thy wanted help?

No more, my Fair, shall we meet thee in the social hall;

No more shall we sit at thy hospitable board.

Gone for ever is the sound of mirth;

The kind, the candid, the meek, is now no more.

Who can express our grief?

Flow, ye tears of woe!"

The Bright Side.

DR. JOHNSON used to say that the habit of looking at the bright side of things was worth more than a thousand pounds a year.

Writing History.

"You know I am supposed to be an historian," said Kinglake, the historian of the Crimean war, when talking to a friend. "The other day I got a letter which really touched me; it was signed by two people, husband and wife, and came from one of our colonies. They described their grief. Their only child had been killed in the Crimea. For some incomprehensible reason, they were most anxious to have their beloved darling mentioned in my History of the Crimean War.

"Surprised, but flattered, I replied by return of post—a thing I have not done for many, many years—that I should be happy to do my best for their comfort, provided they sent me the necessary particulars.

"Again a letter signed by both father and mother arrived, but with the following cruel addition:—'We have no particulars whatever. He was killed on the spot, like many others, and anything you may kindly invent will be welcome. We leave it entirely to your judgment.'

GARDENING FOR THE MONTH.

Sow hollyhocks, pinks, and all remaining annuals or biennials; in mild weather prick out those sown in February. Let all the coverings which may have been used to protect either winter or early spring crops be now cleared away. Roughly dig all vacant ground in the kitchen garden, and rake all the small borders. Use the hoe freely among crops of winter onions, etc. Destroy all weeds as they appear. Have all roots of docks, dandelions, and similar weeds dug up with a fork and immediately removed from the garden. Be careful to destroy snails and slugs. Cauli-flowers for a successive crop may be sown any time in this month on a sheltered border. Sow and plant all sorts of cabbages, and earth and clear from weeds the crops already planted. Sow full crops of savoys both at the beginning and end of the month. Peas should be sown twice this month and beans likewise. Rhubarb must be sown or planted. Carrots should now be sown. In the fruit garden disbudding is now to be attended to. Grafting may still be performed early in the month. Keep the ground about fruit-trees frequently loosened by the hoe.

Li Hung Chang.

LI HUNG CHANG, one of the most intelligent and enlightened Chinese of the present day, was sent as a special envoy to the coronation of the Czar in May, 1896, and he afterwards visited Germany, the Netherlands, France, England, the United States, and Canada.

In England his avowed object was to obtain the consent of the Government to an increase of the tariff between Great Britain and China; but this he failed to obtain.

On the 5th of August he visited the Queen at Osborne. He travelled by special train to Portsmouth, and was conveyed to Osborne by the Royal yacht Alberta, which passed between the lines of the fleet at Spithead so as to give him an opportunity of viewing the vessels. At Osborne luncheon was served, and the Envoy was afterwards introduced to the Queen by Lord Salisbury, the Prince of Wales being present at the interview. His Excellency read to Her Majesty an address from the Emperor of China, which was handed to the Queen by the Marquis of Salisbury, and to which the Queen made a reply. Her Majesty conferred upon Li Hung Chang the order of an Honorary Knight Grand Cross of the Royal Victorian Order.

Whilst in England Li Hung Chang also paid a visit to Mr. Gladstone, besides inspecting many ship-building and arms-manufacturing works.

GARDENING FOR THE MONTH.

GREENHOUSE plants may now be removed into the open border; take up and store bulbous roots generally when the leaves decay. If the weather in this month prove dry, the growth of many esculent plants will be considerably retarded, particularly the peas and beans which are in flower, the blossoms of which fall off before arriving at maturity, and consequently are not succeeded by fruit. A certain degree of attention is therefore necessary to give a regular supply of water to the growing crops. There is no work in the kitchen garden which at this time requires greater attention than the eradication of weeds. Every part of the kitchen garden should now be kept in a neat and well-regulated condition, and constant attention should be paid to all seeds committed to the ground. Those that vegetate freely should be forwarded by hoeing, thinning and watering. The depredations of insects should be guarded against.

LI HUNG CHANG RECEIVED IN AUDIENCE BY THE QUEEN.

Have a Decided Character.

WHEN you have decided upon a plan, even in trivial matters, do not reverse it, except for good reason. Decision of character will thus in time become habitual—and habit has well been described as second nature.

Why It Was Unhappy.

SYMPATHISING FRIEND: "I'm sorry to learn that your marriage with the rich American heiress is an unhappy one. Is it on account of her disposition?"

Impecunious Foreign Prince: "Ye'es; her deespoesection to handle all ze money herself."

How to Train Children.

BE very vigilant over thy child in the April of his understanding, lest the frosts of May nip his blossoms. While he is a tender twig, straighten him; whilst he is a new vessel, season him; such as thou makest him such commonly shalt thou find him.

Let his first lesson be obedience, and the second shall be what thou wilt.

Give him education in good letters, to the utmost of thy ability and his capacity.

Season his youth with the love of his Creator, and make the fear of his God the beginning of his knowledge.

If he have an active spirit, rather rectify than curb it; but reckon idleness among his chiefest faults.

As his judgment ripens observe his inclination, and tender him a calling that shall not cross it.

Forced marriages and callings seldom prosper.

Show him both the mow and the plow, and prepare him as well for the danger of the skirmish as possess him with the honour of the prize.—

QUARLES.

The Clever Fox.

WHEN two travellers in Yemen prepared two fowls for dinner; but, the hour of prayer coming on, they left them on the table and went to perform their devotions; meanwhile a fox came and stole one of the fowls.

After their prayers were finished, they saw the fox prowling about with their chicken in his mouth, so they pursued him and he dropped it. On coming up nearer to it, they found it to be only a piece of palm-fibre, which the fox had dropped to attract their attention. He had in the meantime crept round and carried off the second chicken, and left them dinnerless.

A Man's Reproach.

WHEN into my life you came

You gave me no promise, yet still

Dare I charge on you the shame

Of a pledge you have failed to fulfil.

Said not each tone of your voice,

Said not each look of your eye,

"Measure my truth at your choice,

No means of proof I deny"?

Was it for nothing your glance

Held itself, flame pure, to mine?

Needed there speech to enhance

The strength of its promise divine?

Was there no pledge in that smile,

Dazzling beyond all eclipse?

Only God measures your guile

When you could lie with those lips!

You fail me, in spite of it all,

And smile that no promise you break;

No word you have need to recall,

Your self is the vow you forsake!

On the Cam.

ON the opposite page our artist has illustrated one of the pleasures of life at Cambridge, a boating party on the River Cam. No healthier pastime could be found, or one better fitted for giving students sound constitutions, and preventing them from becoming mere book-worms. A great event of the year at Cambridge is the Boat Procession, which is held on an early evening after the May Races, in the small stretch of the river between King's and Clare bridges. The authorities of King's allow their large lawn to be trampled by "the profane vulgar" for this one day of the year, and the meadow on the west side of the river with the bridges are reserved for ticket-holders.

The eights row past in order, adorned with flags and flowers, then return and lie side by side in line across the river. When the line is formed, all except those in the first boat stand up, lift their oars in the air and cheer, while the band plays "For he's a jolly good fellow"; next, the second boat sits down and receives a like ovation, and then all the other boats in succession; after which the Head of the River again leads the way to the boat-houses, and the company separate.

The Cam, we may mention, rises in Essex, and after a course of about forty miles joins the Ouse three miles and a half above Ely.

GARDENING FOR THE MONTH.

Sow biennials and perennials for next year, if omitted last month. Take up bulbs and prick out seedlings. In the kitchen garden, thin all crops as they advance. Keep the hoe in full employment in every part of the garden. Support with sticks the crops that may require it, and water, as far as practicable, everything that stands in need of it. Sowing may be principally confined to peas and turnips. Plant out for winter use celery, cauliflowers, savoys, cabbages, lettuces, broccoli, leeks, and beet. All sorts of small salads should be sown; sugar-loaf cabbages for autumn and winter at the beginning of this month. The crop of onions should be thoroughly cleaned, and in those places where the bulbs appear to stand too close, they should be regularly thinned. A successional crop of kidney beans should be planted at this time. The ground intended for beans should never be manured at the time of sowing; but if fresh soil has been trenched up in a suitable place sow them in it. In dry weather water the drills before sowing. Watering out of doors is more or less necessary for newly-planted vegetables and flowers, and to counteract the effect of drought. After watering, loosen the ground with a hoe.

BOATING AT CAMBRIDGE.

The Angler.

HERE must always be differences of taste as to what kind of fly-fishing is the highest branch of the art. Hitherto trout-fishing has usually been put into the first place.

Certainly nowhere can the skilful angler more fully bring into play all his resources.

The game is small compared to a salmon; but the trout of much-fished waters becomes possessed of a knowledge, a cunning, and a wariness which are worthy of all respect.

On asking an experienced friend which he thought the more enjoyable, salmon- or trout-fishing, we got the answer, "They cannot be compared. Trout-fishing is like a symphony—all is harmony. One can enjoy the sky, the air, the trees, the water, the tackle, and the fish; but when one is fast to a salmon, it is 'circus' all the time."

This answer touches the essential difference; the-gentle exercise typical of angling is replaced by a more laborious occupation and the calm enjoyment by a struggle.

To us, at least, no such struggle has left such charming memories as have some hours of trout-fishing (what pictures they are!), when the capture was of so little moment that only the choicest fish went into the creel.

The expression, "Salmon-fishing spoils one for everything else," has often a truth beyond the speaker's intent.

Any fishing which makes the capture of the fish, or of any particular fish, important, is, so far, "spoiled" as a recreation.

Besides, the planning and the commercial details essential to securing salmon-fishing go far to remove it from the domain of sport to that of business.

'Tis Useless to Regret.

*WE'VE done the best we could, my dear,
There's nothing to regret;
We've taught the children many truths
On which our hearts were set;
And if against our old-time ways
They foolishly protest.
We never need regret, my dear,
That we have done our best.
There's many a plan that's come to naught;
There's many a light gone out;
And disappointments, griefs, and cares
Have hedged us round about;
And many a sad mistake we've made
Throughout our lives, and yet
We've done the very best we could,
'Tis useless to regret.
For out of evil good has come,
And out of darkness light;
And all wrong-doing in this world
Some day will be set right;
And though we have not reached the height
Attained by others, yet
We've done the best we could, my dear;
'Tis useless to regret.
We've tried to live like honest folks,
To do our duty well,
'Gainst evil things to take our stana,
In goodness to excel.
So judge yourself not harshly, dear.
Nor at misfortunes fret;
We've done the best we could, and so
'Tis useless to regret.*

To be employed is to be happy.

THE TAIL OF THE STORM.

*"O'er the glad waters of the dark blue sea,
Our thoughts are boundless and our souls as free,
Far as the breeze can bear, the billows foam,
Survey our empire and behold our home."*

The Czar.

IN August, 1896, the Czar of Russia commenced a tour which included visits to the Emperors of Austria and Germany, to Queen Victoria, and to the President of France.

The Imperial visit to Paris was in all externals as brilliant a success as the most ardent of French patriots could desire. The French people worked with one accord to give their guest a welcome such as is rarely granted to monarchs by their own subjects on the most solemn occasions of national rejoicing. The crowds who came to Paris to take part in the festivities are said to have raised the population of the capital from two and a half millions to four millions of people, while visitors and residents alike were content to wait patiently in serried masses for hours at a time in order to catch a glimpse of the Emperor and his consort as they drove by. In all this immense multitude, gathered together from the four corners of the Republic, there reigned but one spirit. All were eager to express their profound gratitude to the country which had been the first to enter into a cordial understanding with France since her downfall at the hands of united Germany.

One of the great events of the visit was the laying the corner-stone by the Emperor of the Alexander III. Bridge over the Seine on the 7th of October. It was in every way a great success.

GARDENING FOR THE MONTH.

PLANT heartsease slips, transplant perennials and biennials, lay down carnations. In the kitchen garden the attention of the gardener is principally directed to the crops of the ensuing year. As a preparatory step, let all useless and decaying leaves and stems of vegetables be removed, and carried to any piece of ground that is immediately to be dug, so as to have every vacant space ready for the reception of a crop to remain. Pay strict attention to watering, clearing the ground of weeds, and hoeing and earthing up all crops as they advance. Cauliflowers which were sown in May and intended for a late crop, will now be of a proper age to plant out permanently. Good lettuce plants should now be sown for winter and spring. Spinach of the prickly kind should now be sown for a full winter crop, late in the month. Take advantage of rainy weather for planting, otherwise it will be found necessary to employ a very free hand in watering. In dry weather it does considerable good to dip the roots in puddle before watering.

THE CZAR IN PARIS.

The Universal Charm.

A GROUP of Boston young women were discussing, on the piazza of a summer hotel, one of the gentlemen guests of the same.

"His manners are perfect," ventured one.

"He's rather too independent, I think," came a dissenting opinion; "but he has fascinating eyes."

"They would be much more so if they were brown instead of blue," dissented another; "but his figure is splendid."

"Don't you think he is a shade too stumpy?" asked another dissenter. "I don't like stumpy men; I do think, though, that his teeth are very fine."

"Most too small for a man's teeth," opposed a girl with a big mouth; "but he has a nose that a Greek god might envy."

"Greek enough," dissented another, "but it lacks character. He would have a stronger face if his nose were more Roman. His hair is his most attractive feature, I think; and he can let it wave about his white forehead beautifully."

"Huh!" sniffed another objector, "and he's so conceited about it! I do like his forehead, though."

"Altogether too low," objected an intellectual dissenter. "Don't you think he has a fine chin!"

"On the contrary, it's coarse," antagonised a sweet-voiced maiden, "and that kind of a chin means tyranny, if the man has a wife who is at all yielding. His hands have always pleased me by their shapeliness."

"Too much like a woman's," objected a masculine-looking maid. "I think——"

"What I like about him most," interrupted a stately beauty, "is his million dollars."

"Isn't it perfectly lovely?" assented every girl in the group with enthusiastic unanimity.

Ourselves and Others.

IT is not only wrong to desire the property of others, or their office or income; but it is also a great mistake to fret because we cannot do some things as well as others; for if we have not grossly neglected our privileges there are also things which we can do better than they.

The Tiger.

*TIGER, tiger, burning bright,
In the forests of the night,
What immortal hand or eye
Did frame thy fearful symmetry?*

*In what distant deeps or skies
Burnt the fire of thine eyes?
On what wings dare he aspire?
Whose the hand dare seize the fire?*

*And what shoulder, and what art,
Could twist the sinews of thy heart?
And when thy heart began to beat,
What dread hand, and what dread feet?*

*What the hammer, what the chain?
In what furnace was thy brain?
What the anvil? what dread grasp
Dare its deadly terrors clasp?*

*When the stars threw down their spears,
And watered heaven with their tears,
Did He smile His work to see,
Did He who made the lamb make thee?*

*Tiger, tiger, burning bright,
In the forests of the night,
What immortal hand or eye
Did frame thy fearful symmetry?*

Geneva.

THIS famous Swiss town stands at the southern extremity of the Lake of Geneva. Its situation on both sides of the lake, where it is narrowed to a point, and forms the Rhone, is exceedingly pleasant and advantageous for traffic.

Not so long ago Geneva was surrounded by walls, and consisted of clusters of narrow and ill-drained streets, but the spirit of improvement got abroad, the ancient ramparts were removed, the streets were widened and well paved, and new and commodious quays were constructed.

The history of Geneva is mixed up with that of the Reformation. In August, 1535, the Reformed religion was established by law; and in 1541 Calvin was invited to take up his residence permanently in Geneva as a public teacher of theology. It was he who impressed the stamp of rigid morality, not unalloyed with pedantry, on the minds of the citizens of Geneva, and awakened a taste for the exact sciences. The town, which had hitherto been merely a place of trade, thus acquired an important influence over the spiritual life of Europe, and became the centre of education for Protestant youths of Great Britain, France, Germany, and Spain.

Geneva is a favourite resort for travellers, for whose accommodation there are several large and splendid hotels commanding fine views of the lake.

GARDENING FOR THE MONTH.

Sow anemones, ten-week stocks, tulips, and other bulbous-rooted flower-seeds; carnations may still be laid. In the kitchen garden hoe, weed, thin, and stir the surface among all crops. Water, shade, and attend to neatness and order. Clear off all crops as soon as they are exhausted. Those seeds which are ripening should be gathered when dry, and after being properly hardened, laid by for use in a dry, airy seed-room. Watering in dry weather is required for all young, new pricked-out plants and others lately planted, and for seed-beds in particular. In rainy or showery weather take the opportunity to sow, prick, and plant all necessary crops of the season, and to plant slips, off-sets, etc., of aromatic and other pot-herbs. As slugs and other vermin will be now making deplorable ravages, constant attention is required to subdue them. Examine bulbs, in case they should become mouldy and injured by damp. New plantations of strawberries may still be made, and all the runners cut off from the old plants.

A Peep at Geneva.

The Selfish Boy.

ON a railway train the writer noticed the entrance of a mother and her little son, who were unexpectedly greeted by a friend of the mother's. The friend was only going a short distance, while the others were on a long journey. There happened to be but one vacant double-seat in the car, and into this the boy slipped, taking the seat next the window.

His mother, eager to improve the ten minutes with her friend, asked her son to give up his seat and take another for that little time, so that she could sit with her friend.

"No, I won't; I want to sit by the window."

"But, darling, only for ten minutes, and then you can sit by the window all day."—"No, I won't go. I want to sit by the window now."

"But, dear, not to give mamma pleasure?"—"No."

"Not for just ten little minutes, when mamma wants so much to talk to her friend?"

"No!"—with impatient emphasis. And in spite of humble entreaty from the mother, and good-natured urging from the friend, that home-nurtured bit of selfishness kept his place, the mother murmuring gently that "Bobby did so enjoy looking out of the window."

When seven-year-old Bobby becomes Robert the husband, his sad little wife will wonder, "Why is it that men have so little tenderness for their wives?"

Doing Good.

HOW often do we sigh for opportunities of doing good, whilst we neglect the openings of Providence in little things, which would frequently lead to the accomplishment of most important usefulness!

Dr. Johnson used to say, "He who waits to do a great deal of good at once, will never do any." Good is done by degrees. However small in proportion the benefit which follows individual attempts to do good, a great deal may thus be accomplished by perseverance, even in the midst of discouragements and disappointments.—CRABBE.

The Dying Man in His Garden.

*WHY, Damon, with the forward day
Dost thou thy little spot survey,
From tree to tree, with doubtful cheer,
Pursue the progress of the year,
What winds arise, what rains descend,
When thou before that year shalt end?
What do thy noontide walks avail,
To clear the leaf, and pick the snail,
Then wantonly to death decree
An insect usefuller than thee?
Thou and the worm are brother-kind,
As low, as earthy, and as blind.
Vain wretch! canst thou expect to see
The downy peach make court to thee?
Or that thy sense shall ever meet
The bean-flower's deep-embosom'd sweet
Exhaling with an evening blast?
Thy evenings then will all be past?
Thy narrow pride, thy fancied green
(For vanity's in little seen),
All must be left when Death appears,
In spite of wishes, groans, and tears;
Nor one of all thy plants that grow
But Rosemary will with thee go.*

Brighton Chain Pier.

ABOUT half-past ten on the night of 4th December, 1896, at the height of a furious east-south-east gale, the Chain Pier at Brighton was completely destroyed. The structure had been officially condemned, and for several weeks the public had not been allowed to go on to it; but it was hardly thought to be in so unsound a condition. Its collapse was sudden, almost dramatic. The sea was rushing over it tempestuously, the pitch darkness of the night being illuminated only by the electric lights from the Marine Parade, when, suddenly, above the screaming of the wind and the booming of the sea a louder roar was heard, then a crashing noise as of houses falling, and the next moment the Chain Pier had been swept completely away. The wreckage was at once carried in by the combined power of wind and current. But few fragments of the pier were taken eastward, the beach westward all along the front being strewn with wreckage, and throughout the night and on Saturday morning hundreds of people were carrying these away for firewood. Much of the deck and the lighter woodwork of the pier was smashed almost to match-wood, but huge timbers were tossed about on the waves, and would severely have damaged the boats had they not been hauled up on to the esplanades out of reach.

GARDENING FOR THE MONTH.

Sow hardy annuals for next year and also bulbous roots for early blooming. In this month several principal crops in the kitchen garden are to have the finishing sowing and planting, some for succession in the present autumn and following winter; others to stand the winter in young growth, to come in for early crops next spring and summer. The ground must now be prepared in proper time, by manuring and digging, for succeeding crops. Give all spare time to watering, which, if the weather be without rain, is essential, and attend to clearing off all decayed crops and to fallowing spare ground. The chief sowing crops this month are spinach, lettuce, onions, radishes, turnips, cabbage, coleworts, and successions of small salading, as cresses, mustard, etc. The chief planting crops are included under celery, endive, coleworts, cabbages, savoy, broccoli, lettuces, and leeks, and the several sorts of perennial, aromatic, and pot herbs. This is universally considered the chief month for the formation of mushroom beds. Hoe and thin the ground about turnips, and prick out the August-sown cabbage-plants early in the month.

DESTRUCTION OF BRIGHTON CHAIN PIER.

If There Were No Law.

A CAPITAL tale is told by Mrs. Norton in a letter to Sir Henry Taylor of an ex-smuggler she met in the Isle of Wight, now set there to catch smugglers. On turning his coat this man naturally desired his partners to pay him out his third share in the illegal craft, and when they refused he surreptitiously sawed off his bit. He replied to Mrs. Norton's comments, "Yes, marm, but you see they darn't nor I darn't complain at law . . . and that's how it would always be if there was no law; a man would try and right himself, and if he couldn't, he'd revenge himself."

He Had Only Two Faults.

THE Earl of Ballymore with whom the title expired prided himself on his smartness and knowledge of horse-flesh. Being at Henley Fair one day, his lordship met a "horse coper." The man approached, and after pulling his forelock, scratching his head, and otherwise following the fashion of his kind, asked the earl in the true confidential style of a horse-dealer, "If he wanted to buy a nice galding?"

"Is he good for anything?" asked the earl.

"Very, my lud—he 'as but two faults."

"What's the figure?"

"Twenty guineas."

"I'll take him; and now the deal is concluded tell me his brace of faults."

"The fust, my lud, is, if he's lat loose in the padduck, ye can't val catch 'im ag'in."

"That can soon be remedied by not putting him out to grass; but what of his other failing?"

"Vy that, my lud, to tell the rale trowth, is more dastrassing; fur ven you hev cotched 'im he bean't worth the trouble!"

The earl laughed heartily at being taken in by the horse-coper, and afterwards acknowledged that it was the case of the engineer "hoist with his own petard."

Be Honest.

THERE is no man but for his own interest hath an obligation to be honest; there may be sometimes temptations to be otherwise, but, all cards cast up, he shall find it the greatest ease, the highest profit, the best pleasure, the most safety, and the noblest fame, to lay hold of the horns of this altar, which, in all assays, can in himself protect him.—FELTHAM.

Unworthy.

*I DO confess thou 'rt smooth and fair,
And I might have gone near to love thee;
Had I not found the slightest prayer
That lips could speak had power to move thee;
But I can let thee now alone,
As worthy to be loved by none.*

*I do confess thou 'rt sweet, yet find
Thee such an unthrift of thy sweets,
Thy favours are but like the wind,
That kisses everything it meets,
And since thou can with more than one,
Thou 'rt worthy to be kissed by none.*

*The morning rose, that untouched stands,
Armed with her briars, how sweetly smells!
But plucked and strained through ruder hands,
Her sweets no longer with her dwells;
But scent and beauty both are gone,
And leaves fall from her, one by one.*

*Such fate, ere long, will thee betide,
When thou hast handled been a while,
Like sere flowers to be thrown aside;
And I will sigh, while some will smile,
To see thy love for more than one
Hath brought thee to be loved by none.*

At Canterbury.

OF the parish churches at Canterbury the most remarkable is St. Martin's, the church frequented by Bertha, the queen of Ethelbert, before Augustine's arrival, and thus the earliest seat of English Christianity. In this church the baptism of Ethelbert must have taken place, and the existing font has been supposed to belong to his time. Rude and archaic, however, as it is, it is not earlier than the Norman period, though Saxon masonry still exists in the church walls.

Temperance and Health.

FEED sparingly and defy the physician.—POPULAR PROVERB.

TEMPERANCE is a bridle of gold: he who uses it rightly is more like a god than a man.—BURTON.

It is too frequently the pride of students to despise those amusements and recreations which give to the rest of mankind strength of limbs and cheerfulness of heart.—DR. JOHNSON.

No man can be said to enjoy health who is only not sick, without he feel within himself a light-some and invigorating principle which will not suffer him to remain idle.—ADDISON.

The ingredients of health and long life are, Great temperance, open air, Early labour, little care. SIR PHILIP SYDNEY.

GARDENING FOR THE MONTH.

Sow hardy annuals, plant anemones and bulbs; cut carnation layers to be planted in pots; begin to take up dahlias as the flowers cease. In the kitchen garden all sowing and principal planting should be finished for the year: some plants necessary for winter, others to remain for next spring and summer. At this season many crops will be consumed or past perfection. The ground should be cleared of all the refuse, and weeds hoed down or the ground dug, and all advancing crops should have a thorough clearing from autumnal seed weeds, etc. Some want earthing up, and several esculent roots want digging up to preserve for winter eating. Take up all carrots and parsnips to be packed in sand in a dry place, or in pits like potatoes, and pare off the crowns clean to prevent them from shooting in spring. Plant cauliflowers under hand-glasses to flower. Gather and store apples and pears. The best criterion for gathering later fruit of any kind is the ease with which they leave the tree.

ST. MARTIN'S, CANTERBURY.

An Unexpected Legacy.

IN the year 1889 there died in Paris a rich old bachelor, who left his entire fortune to a poor girl, a seamstress, who was, moreover, almost unknown to him.

The secret of the old man ignoring his friends and relatives puzzled everybody very much. The deceased was what might be called an original. He was quite eccentric. In order to test the honesty of his fellow-creatures, he was in the habit of resorting to many curious experiments, which, as a general thing, did not improve the bad opinion he already had of the human race.

One of his plans to ascertain how many honest people there were travelling in omnibuses was to occupy a seat nearest the conductor and hand the fares of passengers to that official. Instead of handing the exact fare to the conductor, he would give him a coin of larger value.

When the passenger received back his excessive change, in fifteen consecutive instances he quietly pocketed the money. The sixteenth person who received back excessive change was a young, poorly-dressed girl, who had pity for the poor conductor, who only got three francs a day, and would have to make good the loss.

She immediately exclaimed—"Conductor, you have given me back too much change," and returned him the surplus money.

The eccentric was agreeably surprised. When the girl left the bus, he followed her, and having made further inquiry about her, satisfied himself that she was respectable.

The small coin that the girl returned to the conductor brought her half a million of francs.

In Too Much Haste.

IN Nottingham there lived an old couple, Mr. and Mrs. C—. They were exceedingly rich and exceedingly close. Some years ago they both died, and the heirs hurried down to Nottingham to hunt up the good things which the miserly couple had been obliged to leave behind them in their journey to another world, particularly the diamonds, a magnificent collection of which the late Mrs. C— had been known to possess. But nothing could they find.

In their search, young Mrs. C—, however, discovered in a lumber-room an old trunk, which, on being opened, was found to be full of old staves, old curl-papers, and general rubbish. So valueless did they all appear that she immediately ordered the contents to be turned out in the courtyard and burnt, and even herself superintended the work of destruction, occasionally aiding it by flicking in stray pieces with the point of her parasol. In so doing, however, she noticed one of the curl-papers slowly, through the action of the heat, uncurl itself, and to her horror discovered that it was a £50 note. About £800 were saved, but it is estimated that nearly £36,000 were destroyed.

However, the diamonds still remained, and a diligent search was instituted for these. In the meantime Mrs. C—, jun., to remove from her husband's gaze the heap of cinders that reminded him of his loss, had called in the aid of the local dustman, who carted them off.

At length an old woman in the workhouse was discovered who had formerly lived with the late Mr. and Mrs. C—, and, on inquiring of her as to the diamonds, she said, "Oh, certainly. Mrs. C— had some beautiful diamonds; but much good were they to her, for she sewed them all up in her old staves!"

Over £60,000 worth were thus destroyed.

Greece and Turkey.

WAR against Greece was formally declared by Turkey on the 17th of April, 1897. On the evening of that day an Imperial Irade was issued at Constantinople directing Edhem Pasha, who was in command of the Turkish forces, to cross the Greek frontier, recalling the Ottoman Minister from Athens, and ordering that the Greek Minister at the Porte should be handed his passports.

However much this was regretted, no one felt surprised at the decision come to by the Turks. For many weeks a Greek force had been stationed in the Turkish island of Crete by the orders of the Greek Government, in flagrant defiance of the first principles of public right.

As the action of the Great Powers prevented Greece from deriving from that manœuvre the advantages she desired, she followed it up by massing her whole available forces on the Turkish frontier and openly threatening to avenge the rebuff she had suffered in Crete by invading Macedonia, and so kindling the flames of war in the most dangerous corner of Europe.

From the first Greece had the worst of it: in fact, the campaign was for her army little better than a succession of misfortunes and retreats. In a month there was a suspension of hostilities, and the difficult business of the diplomatists began.

GARDENING FOR THE MONTH.

PLANT anemones if not done last month, finish planting bulbous roots, and take up dahlias after the first frost; plant ranunculuses if omitted last month. The business now in the kitchen garden is to sow seed, plant some few articles for early crops next year, and some to force in hot-beds for winter consumption, and to give occasional weeding and sometimes hoeing for the purpose of advancing late young crops: also to manure and dig vacant ground. The business of sowing and planting is but inconsiderable at this season; but is necessary in a few articles in the open ground and in hot-beds. The articles for sowing are early peas and beans and small salading: the two former in warm borders, the latter under glasses in hot-beds. Clear the advancing young crops from weeds. Winter onions and spinach to be carefully hand-hoed; hoe between advancing young crops of coleworts, cabbages, broccoli, savoys, celery, leeks, lettuce, endive, etc., loosening the surface of the ground about the plants, which will beneficially encourage their growth. Plant deciduous trees and shrubs as long as the weather continues favourable. Stocks of the wild rose should now be obtained from the hedges; choose those with straight stems.

THE CROWN PRINCE OF GREECE DRIVING THROUGH THE STREETS OF LARISSA.

Time for Reflection.

ALWAYS take time for reflection." So ran the wise little line in the moral department of her favourite paper. The moral lesson it contained made such an impression upon her that that evening she stood before the glass two hours longer than usual.

The Ways of the Woodlark.

THE woodlark is a very select bird; he keeps himself aloof from all other birds, he feeds by himself, he flies by himself, and is the first to come in song in the spring, and about the first to go to nest, and the first to moult. He is a difficult bird to catch, on account of his lightness on the wing.

He has a very sharp and quick eye, very much resembling that of the swallow; and when he is looking out for a future mate, he will select one of the highest trees he can find, such as an elm-tree, which is a favourite of his. As soon as day breaks he will arise from slumber, and ascend to the very top branch, and, after giving a few beautiful notes, he will start off ascending higher, and make a circling in the air, pouring forth his plaintive strains. We have known him take half an hour in going the journey, and he will then come back and settle upon the same branch.

His food in summer mostly consists of money spiders, that hang their web upon a furze bush. He also feeds on small beetles, which are to be found in hay-fields. In winter they generally look out for a ploughed field, and feed upon the small worms, and if the weather is hard they will collect around a farmyard, and feed upon the refuse from the barn.

They are also very fond of rolling in sand or gravel, and, if the weather is dry, they will roll into the road-dust which is scraped to the roadside.

Wasted Time.

HE who unintelligently attempts what is beyond his power must leave undone his own proper work, and thus his time is wasted, be he ever so closely occupied.

The Real Reason.

"NO, we didn't exactly quarrel," he said,
"But a man can't stand quite everything.
I thought I was in love with her, dead—
But that was away last spring.

"I took her driving—she liked to drive,
Or she said she did; I believed her then.
But I'll never, as sure as I'm alive,
Believe a woman again!

"I'm not considered a talking man,
And I'm willing to own it; there's no doubt
A man can't talk as a woman can,
And I was about talked out.

"I hadn't dared yet—for I am not vain—
To call her darling, or even dear,
So I just remarked, 'It's going to rain;
I felt a drop on my ear.'

"She looked at the clouds, and at my ear,
And this is what she saw fit to say:
'Oh, no! That rain is nowhere near;
It is half a mile away!'

"It didn't strike me at first, you know;
But when it did, why, it struck me strong!
She'd called me a donkey—or meant it so—
With ears a half-mile long!

"We both kept still the rest of the way,
And you might have thought that I was a prince,
She was so polite when I said 'Good-day!'
But I've never been near her since!"

The Diamond Jubilee.

THE greatest festival, perhaps, ever witnessed in this country was that of the 22nd of June, 1897, when the Queen celebrated the completion of the 60th year of her reign by going in procession through the Metropolis and attending an open-air thanksgiving service at St. Paul's Cathedral.

The scene at the Cathedral forms the subject of our engraving on the opposite page. The service was a short one. It was opened by the "Te Deum," the music being expressly written for this occasion by the organist of St. Paul's. There were five hundred choristers, who were accompanied by the massed bands of the Royal Artillery and the School of Military Music. The "Te Deum" was followed by the Lord's Prayer, and then came a special prayer for the Queen. After that the benediction was pronounced by the Archbishop of Canterbury, and after the benediction "All people that on earth do dwell" was sung to the familiar Old Hundredth by the vast congregation.

The choir and the assembled multitude then by a common impulse burst into the strain of "God Save the Queen," and at the conclusion of the National Anthem the Archbishop of Canterbury called for three cheers for the Queen, an invitation which was immediately answered with indescribable fervour.

GARDENING FOR THE MONTH.

DEFEND anemones, auriculas, and carnations in severe weather; tulips should also be defended in bad weather. Fibrous-rooted perennials and biennials to be divided and planted; bulbs may still be planted in mild weather. This being the month in the entire year in which the least is to be done in the way of sowing and planting, the active gardener is particularly called upon to prepare to the best advantage the soil for succeeding operations. Everything likely to suffer from the frost, such as young cabbages, sown late for spring planting, ought to be well protected with mats, straw, dry fern, or long dry manure. If the weather be frosty, and the ground hard and unfit for the spade, let the manure be carried to the plots which are to receive it. If the weather be open, let every hour be occupied by the spade; the ground to be laid out in ridges, to enrich for spring sowing and planting. Dig round old fruit-trees. If any trees grow too luxuriantly to bear well, root-prune them. Nail and prune wall-trees.

JUBILEE CELEBRATION AT ST. PAUL'S, 22ND JUNE, 1897.

At a Picture Sale.

A POOR retailer of fruit, who had three small children, could scarcely, in dear times, earn as much as was necessary to procure herself and children bread; but for the hire of the damp hole, which her landlord called a room, it was impossible. The hard-hearted man distrained for his rent, really took her bed, and her little wretched furniture, and ordered them to be sold by auction.

The poor wretched widow and her orphans were present at the sale. Even the best things were thrown away for a trifle, and there was not enough produced for the rent.

In the catalogue there was a very small and much smoked picture of Saint Jerome, an inheritance from her grandmother, which hung over her bed, and to which she and her children offered up their pious prayers.

A painter who was present examined the picture, and at last bade a few shillings.

Another connoisseur doubled the bidding. The painter, to alarm his rival at once, immediately rose to a pound, but the connoisseur went on, and after a few more bids rose to "Twenty-five pounds!"

"Fifty!" answered the painter.

"A hundred!" replied the connoisseur.

The astonishment and joy of the poor woman may be well conceived, who not only saw all her debts paid by the little Jerome, but a considerable surplus remaining.

She could scarcely believe her ears, when she heard that the two connoisseurs still kept out-bidding each other.

The painter first was silent, at an offer of six hundred pounds.

"You are fortunate," said he, after the painting was knocked down to his rival, "you are fortunate, sir, in being richer than I am: otherwise you would not have had it under a thousand."

It was an original of Raphael's.

What Is Sophistry?

"PAPA," said Benny, "what does the word 'sophistry' mean?"

"Sophistry, Benny," replied the father, "is the other fellow's argument."

Uncertain.

A GOOD husbandman, says Confucius, can sow, but he cannot secure a harvest; an artisan may excel in handicraft, but he cannot provide a market for his goods; and in the same way a superior man can cultivate his principles, but he cannot make them acceptable.

Songs Everywhere.

*THERE is ever a song somewhere, my dear;
There is ever a something sings always;
There's the song of the thrush when the skies
are grey,
The sunshine showers across the grain,
And the bluebird trills in the orchard tree;
And in and out, when the leaves drip rain,
The swallows are twittering ceaselessly.*

*There is ever a song somewhere, my dear;
Be the skies above or dark, or fair,
There is ever a song that our hearts may hear—
There is ever a song somewhere, my dear—
There is ever a song somewhere!*

*There is ever a song somewhere, my dear;
In midnight black or the midday blue;
The robin pipes when the sun is here,
And the crickets chirrup the whole night through.*

*The buds may blow, and the fruit may grow,
And the autumn leaves drop crisp and sear;
But whether the sun, or the rain, or the snow,
There is ever a song somewhere, my dear.*

The dimensions allowed for an inland postal parcel are:—

Greatest length .. 3ft. 6in.

Greatest length and girth combined .. 6ft. 0in.

A Parcel Post has also been established between this country and many foreign countries and the British Colonies and possessions generally. For rates and regulations, see the Post Office Guide.

Postage on Inland Registered Newspapers.

Prepaid Rate.—On each Registered Newspaper, whether posted singly or in a packet, the postage when prepaid is one halfpenny; but a packet containing two or more Registered Newspapers is not chargeable with a higher rate of postage than would be chargeable on a Book Packet of the same weight—viz., one halfpenny for 2 oz. or fraction of 2 oz.

Foreign and Colonial Patterns and Samples.

This post is absolutely restricted to bona fide trade patterns and samples. The rate of postage is 1/2d. per 2 oz., except that the lowest charge is 1d., for which sum, however, a weight of 4 oz. may be sent.

Post and Letter Cards.

Post Cards, bearing a halfpenny impressed stamp, are available for transmission between places in the United Kingdom only. They are sold at 10 for 5 1/2d., or of finer quality, 10 for 6d. They can also be had in smaller numbers or singly. Reply Cards are also sold.

Letter Cards are sold at 8 for 9d.

Smaller numbers in proportion.

Foreign Postal Cards, 1d.; reply 2d.

Broken amounts may be made up by affixing stamps to the face of the Order.

Registration and Compensation.

By the prepayment of a fee of twopence any postal packet (parcels included) may be registered to any place in the United Kingdom. Every packet to be registered must be given to an agent of the Post Office, and a receipt obtained for it. The Postmaster-General will give compensation up to a maximum limit of £50 for the loss and damage of Inland Registered Postal Packets of all kinds. The ordinary fee of 2d. secures £5; the payment of 3d. £10; 4d. £15; 5d. £20; 6d. £25; 7d. £30; 8d. £35; 9d. £40; 10d. £45; and 11d. £50.

Post Office Savings Banks.

No deposit of less than a shilling is received, nor any pence, and not more than £50 in one year. No further deposit is allowed when the amount standing in depositor's name amounts to £200 inclusive of interest. Interest is allowed at the rate of 2 1/2 per cent. (or sixpence in the pound) per annum—that is, at the rate of one halfpenny per pound per month.

At every Post Office in the United Kingdom forms for making small deposits are issued gratuitously. Each form has twelve divisions, in each of which a penny postage stamp can be placed; when the twelve are filled in, it is received at any Post Office Savings Bank as a shilling.

Any person can invest, at any Post Office Savings Bank, small sums in Government Stock. Not more than £200 can be invested in any one year. The amount held by the investor must not exceed £500.

REGISTERS OF BIRTHS, MARRIAGES, AND DEATHS.

Copies of these are kept at Somerset House, and may be searched on payment of a fee of one shilling. If a certified copy of any entry be required, the charge for that, in addition to the shilling for the search, is two shillings and sevenpence, which includes a penny for stamp duty. The registers contain an entry of births, deaths, and marriages since 1st July, 1837. Copies can always be obtained from the Registrar for the district, or the Superintendent Registrar who has the custody of the registers (including those of persons married at the churches) when filled.

MARRIAGES.

In the case of marriage by banns, if the contracting parties reside in different parishes, the publication must be made in the churches of each parish for three consecutive Sundays. If three months be permitted to elapse after the third time of publication, the banns become useless, and the parties must either obtain a licence or submit to the republication of the banns. Civil Marriages can be performed before a duly licensed Registrar. Particulars of such can be obtained at all Registry Offices.

TO THE PUBLIC :

Everybody should read the Forfar Herald, "The Paper for Forfar." It has always the best and most reliable epitome of the news of the week; gives full reports of all meetings and happenings; has frequent original articles of special interest to Forfar and Forfarians; while its Leading columns are devoted to the furtherance of the best interests of the people. The Herald is read by Forfarians in all parts of the world.

TO ADVERTISERS :

The Herald is the best medium for reaching the Householders of Forfar. Its success is the best proof I can offer of its worth.

Lawn Mowers Repaired & Sharpened.

After many years careful study and practical experience in the Repairing and Sharpening of Lawn Mowers, and our Machinery possessing all the latest improvements, being thoroughly rigid, automatic in action, and having no vibration — which secures a perfect edge—we are thus in a position to execute first-class work on the shortest notice.

Testimonial from Mr Thos. Wilson, the Gardens, Glamis Castle.

“Will you please send, as soon as convenient, for our Lawn Mowers, for their annual overhaul. I may say that your careful and efficient handling of these machines during the last four seasons has given me great satisfaction, the 36in. Mower having cut almost continuously for five months this last season without a hitch. It will give me great pleasure to recommend you to my friends for prompt and accurate attention, combined with economy.”
THOS. WILSON.”

ODD. By the Author of "Probable Sons," "Teddy's Button," etc. Illustrated. 2s. cloth.

A graceful and touching story, full of Gospel teaching. The heroine, a little girl, who is not understood by those about her, lavishes her affection upon a dog, which has been presented to her, and finally saves her life.

DWELL DEEP;
or, Hilda Thorn's Life Story. By the Author of "Probable Sons," "Teddy's Button," etc. 2s. cloth.

"The author has a keen perception of what can be done, by a girl, who, though surrounded by luxury, can devote herself to the welfare of others, and at the same time keep in view a loyal reverence to her Saviour."
—Public Opinion.

NOT PEACE BUT A SWORD. By G. ROBERT WYNNE, D.D., Archdeacon of Aghadoc and Canon of St. Patrick's Cathedral, Dublin. Illustrated. 2s. cloth.

A striking tale of the power of the Gospel in Ireland, and of the great difficulties thrown in the way of any who seek to leave the Roman Catholic Church under the influence of New Testament teaching.

Reduced from "My Grandmother's Album."

A NEW STORY by the Author of "Probable Sons," etc.

ON THE EDGE OF A MOOR.

By the author of "Eric's Good News," "Probable Sons," "Dwell Deep," "Teddy's Button," "Odd," etc. Illustrated. 3s. cloth.

This new tale shows how, if the heart is set upon it, useful work for the Master may be found even where at first there seems little or no opening for it. It is equally suitable for adult or juvenile reader.

Useful Half-Crown Gift Books.

THROUGH A POCKET LENS.

By HENRY SCHERREN, F.Z.S., author of "Ponds and Rock Pools," etc. Well Illustrated. Crown 8vo. 2s. 6d. cloth.

"An exceedingly useful book, in which the powers of the pocket lens have not been exaggerated. The work is fully illustrated by about 100 wood engravings, and abounds with illustrations drawn from the lower forms of animal life—spiders, mites, myriapods, the smaller crustaceans, and the insects and their larvæ. We cannot imagine a more useful preliminary training for a young student than working with a pocket lens through the course indicated by the author."—Field.

PONDS AND ROCK POOLS. With Hints on Collecting for, and the Management of, the Micro-Aquarium. By HENRY SCHERREN. With Illustrations. 2s. 6d. cloth.

"A history of most of the inhabitants of ponds and sea-pools which are likely to fall under the notice of a young biological student."—Academy.

WORK. The Illustrated Weekly Journal for Mechanics.

A £100 Scholarship, Medals, and Money Gained from Reading "Work."

"SIR,—As my first success is due in a great measure to your journal, I have great pleasure in recording my experiences. I served an apprenticeship to joinery, during which period I began to study your journal, thus turning my thoughts to drawing and design. At the end of one year as journeyman I left the shop of my apprenticeship and was engaged by a firm of cabinet makers, with whom I remained till July, 1892. I forwarded my drawings and designs (in 1892) to South Kensington, and was awarded a National Scholarship (value £100), tenable for two years, at the National Art Schools, and was so far successful as to be awarded a third year as senior student, with an increased allowance. I have found your journal invaluable as an aid to the technical examinations held by the City and Guilds, for to your paper is due to a great extent my first-class silver medal in cabinet making, 1894, and first-class silver medal and £8 prize for plasterers' work, 1895.—JOHN B. DANIELL (Kirkby-in-Furness)."

 "WORK" is also published Monthly, price 6d., each Part containing a Coloured Plate; and in Volumes, 4s. each.

Wages Increased through Reading "Work."

"SIR,—This is how I improved my position: Being, in the first place, only a brush hand or painters' labourer, I studied night and day to better my position and, above all, to understand my work thoroughly and well. This I was able to do through WORK and my own perseverance. Now I am recognised as a full-fledged painter, and in receipt of 36s. per week instead of 24s. per week.—R. ALFRED DAVEY (Poplar, E.)."

Many Pounds Earned through "Work."

"SIR,—I have found WORK one of the most valuable papers I ever read. I have earned many pounds in green-house repairing and resetting green-house boilers. I have also earned many pounds by repairing furniture of various kinds. So I must say that this paper WORK has been my tutor, and I hope to continue with it, as it is the best pennyworth I ever bought.—ALBERT E. PRIESTLEY (Queensbury, near Bradford)."

The Practical Journal for all Engaged in the Building Trades.

EVERY FRIDAY, price 1d.

Building World.

"Building World" Recommends Itself.

"SIR,—I must congratulate you on the excellence of your 53rd number of BUILDING WORLD. Calling as I do upon joiners, builders, and contractors, I hear nothing but good opinions of your paper. Before this number was issued I had presented several copies to joiners, etc., most of whom have become readers. I may say that this is the first paper connected with the building trade that I have taken any interest in, and I am a subscriber to several; but the excellence of an article recommends itself. This is the only reason for interesting myself in it, and is it not a very good reason? I wish BUILDING WORLD the success it deserves.—J. B. R. (Newcastle)."

 Also published Monthly, price 6d., each Part containing a valuable Coloured Plate; and in Volumes, 4s. each.

WEEKLY, 1½d.; MONTHLY, 3d.

Cottage Gardening.

Edited by W. ROBINSON, F.L.S., Author of "The English Flower Garden." Fully Illustrated.

"We know of no similar publication that equals this, either in lowness of price or in variety of information."—Guardian.
