Distinctive Tailoring.

There is a distinguished mark about really High-class Tailoring which it is difficult to define exactly. A first essential is, of course, the skill of the man who cuts and fits the garments. It is because our Tailoring has this distinctive quality that we ask you to entrust us with your orders.

Juvenile Clothing

Is a branch of our business in which we specialise—Boys' School Outfits being a particular study. Every age minutely catered for.

The POST OFFICE early in the nineteenth century was at 31 and 33 Friars' Vennel. Prior to 1830 it was removed to 12 Castle Street. Afterwards the business was conducted in a little shop in High Street, on the site of Messrs Cooper & Co.'s premises. Thence it was removed to English Street, to a house nearly opposite the head of Queen Street, and known as "The Dooocot." Its next location (from 1853) was in Queen Street, in the same premises as the present branch office. New offices in Buccleuch Street (of which a print, kindly lent by Mr Allan, chemist, is given above) were opened in 1889.

Articles which must not be sent by Post.

Nothing indecent, explosive, or dangerous, no living creature, nor anything likely to injure the contents of the Mails or an officer of the Post Office, is allowed to be sent by Post.

Make-up of Correspondence.

Everything sent through the Post must be so packed or made up as to preserve the contents from loss or damage in the Post, and to prevent injury to other correspondence.

the Poste Restante for more than three months. Letters addressed to initials or to fictitious names at Post Offices are not taken in at the Poste Restante, but are sent to the Returned Letter Branch for disposal.

Parcels addressed to a Post Office to be called for are not kept at the Poste Restante more than three weeks, after which time, if not called for, they are returned to the sender.

“Blind Literature” Post.

Subject to certain conditions, this fee secures compensation in the event of loss or damage up to £5. Subject to the same conditions, compensation up to £400 may be secured on payment of the proper fees. The fees (which in each case include the ordinary registration fee of 2d) are as follows:—

Fee.	Limit of Compensation.	Fee.	Limit of Compensation.	Fee.	Limit of Compensation.

No compensation is given in respect of money unless it is sent by Letter Post in one of the registered letter envelopes sold by the Post Office, and certain other conditions are complied with; and in no case does the compensation given in respect of coin exceed £5.

If it be desired to secure compensation for damage to a packet

(other than a parcel*), the packet must bear the words "Fragile, with care."

Compensation up to a limit of £2 is given in respect of the loss or damage of unregistered parcels, provided that, in case of loss, a certificate of posting was obtained at the time of handing in, and that certain other conditions were complied with. No compensation is given in respect of money enclosed in any parcel, or in respect of jewellery enclosed in an unregistered parcel.

Advice of Delivery.

The sender of a registered packet may, on payment of a further fee of 2d, either at the time of posting or subsequently, obtain advice of its delivery.

Enquiry as to Loss.

Enquiry as to the alleged loss or non-delivery of a registered packet should also be accompanied by a fee of 2d, and should, if possible, be made upon the form used in applying for an advice of delivery. If it is found that the Post Office is in fault the enquiry fee will be refunded.

Express Delivery of Letters and Parcels.

1. Express throughout (Local Service).

The charge is 3d for every mile or part of a mile from the Office of delivery to the address, together with a further fixed charge of 1d for each article beyond one. A weight fee of 3d is charged upon packets over 1 lb. in weight.

A reply is charged for at the same rates, unless it is for an address on the messenger's homeward route or within half a mile of his office, in which case the charge for mileage is half the ordinary rates.

If it is necessary to employ a special conveyance, the cost must be paid by the sender, in addition to the ordinary express fee. The weight fee is not charged in this case.

2. Express delivery after transmission by ordinary Post.

Correspondence posted in the ordinary way can, when the sender so desires, be delivered by express messenger either from the Head Office or from the usual delivery office immediately on arrival. The fee is 3d a mile or part of a mile in addition to the ordinary postage. The words "Express Delivery" must be boldly and legibly written on the cover, and in the case of a letter the cover must be marked with a broad perpendicular line from top to bottom both on front and back.

* That is, a packet sent by Parcel Post. But whenever a parcel requires to be treated with special care the nature of its contents should be indicated on the cover.

ON SUNDAYS IN LONDON, Express Correspondence of all kinds (except parcels) for places in the London Postal District arriving on Sunday mornings by the Night Mails from the Provinces or posted in London too late for Express Delivery on Saturday nights but in time for the last collection, will be delivered from the General Post Office, provided that it is marked with a thick perpendicular line from top to bottom, and with the words "Express Delivery on Sunday," and an express fee is prepaid at the rate of 3d a mile or part of a mile, calculated from the General Post Office.

3. Express delivery at request of addressee (week days only).

The addressees of letters and parcels not marked for Express Delivery may have them delivered by special messenger in advance of the ordinary delivery by postmen, on making application in proper time on a form provided for the purpose and prepaying the usual express fee of 3d a mile on the first packet, and a further fixed charge of 1d for every additional ten or less number of packets.

For regulations respecting Express Letters sent by Telephone, see page 14.

Single Post Letters by Railway.

Single post letters, not exceeding 4 oz. in weight, are accepted by most railway companies to be sent by the next available train or steamship. They may either be called for at the station of address, by the addressee or by a Post Office Express messenger, or will be transferred from the station by a railway official to the nearest post office letter box. The postage must be prepaid in stamps, and a fee of 2d in cash must be paid to the railway company.

Private Boxes and Bags.

The charges made for the use of private boxes and bags may be ascertained on application to the Postmaster. Fees for the use of private boxes and bags are payable in advance. The letters are delivered on presentation at the private box office of the check card furnished to the renter by the Postmaster, or on presentation of a written order signed by the renter.

Private Posting Boxes.

Arrangements are made for special collections of letters from private posting boxes at offices or private residences. Particulars may be obtained of the Postmaster.

Prepayment in Money.

The postage on every kind of correspondence, other than newspapers, when it amounts to £1 and upwards, can be paid in money at the Head Office between 10 a.m. and 4 p.m. The letters, post-cards, or packets should be tied in bundles representing a postage of 5s each (or, in the case of exceptionally bulky packets, 2s 6d each), with the addresses arranged in the same direction, but this requirement does not apply to parcels prepaid in money.

Magazine Post for Canada and Newfoundland.

Duly registered British Newspapers, Magazines, and Trade Journals intended for despatch to Canada by Direct Canadian Packet and to Newfoundland by direct Packet or via Canada by direct Canadian Packet may be sent under certain conditions at a reduced postage rate of 1d per pound.

Parcel Post.

Parcels must be strongly packed; they are liable to be opened for Customs examination in the country of destination, and the contents are subject to Customs duty. The destination and the nature and value of the contents must be described on special forms provided at all Post Offices. By the rules of various countries many articles may not be sent by Parcel Post.

Cash on Delivery.

This arrangement for collecting from the recipient for remittance to the sender by Money Order or Postal Order the value of articles sent by Post extends in general to parcels, and in many cases to insured letters, and registered packets exchanged between the United Kingdom and certain British Possessions, certain British Post Office Agencies abroad, and Egypt.

Re-direction.

Re-direction, within the specified period, is free throughout the Postal Union except for parcels. Additional postage must, however, be paid on packets re-directed to countries for which the postage is higher than that originally paid.

Registration and Insurance.

Compensation for registered letters is paid only for total loss. Letters (containing documents only) and parcels for most European and some other countries may be insured (generally up to £400) against loss or abstraction of contents. Small packets of jewellery, etc., may be sent to certain countries as insured boxes. These are subject to Customs examination, and must be accompanied by the special forms used for parcels.

Express Delivery.

In many countries there are arrangements for express delivery similar to those in this country.

Reply Coupons.

Coupons exchangeable for stamps of the value of 25 centimes (2½d) each in any country participating in the arrangement can be purchased at any Money Order Office at the price of 3d. Coupons received from other countries may be exchanged for postage stamps at any Money Order Office.

Further information with regard to the regulations of the Foreign or Colonial Post may be obtained at any Post Office or from the Post Office Guide, pages 52-84, 710-837, and 862-3.

TELEGRAPHS.

INLAND.

Charges.

The charge is 6d for the first 12 words, including the address, and  $\frac{1}{2}$ d for each additional word.

Groups of figures are counted at the rate of five figures to a word.

Delivery.

Telegrams are delivered free of charge within three miles of the Telegraph Office nearest the address, or within the town postal delivery of the terminal office, if a Head Office, when that delivery extends beyond three miles. When the addressee resides beyond the free delivery, portorage is charged at the rate of 3d a mile or part of a mile, during the ordinary office hours, reckoning from the boundary of the free delivery. A telegram handed in late at night may, at the request of the sender, be held over for delivery on the following morning.

Prepaid Replies.

The cost of a reply not exceeding forty-eight words may be prepaid; and a reply form will then be delivered to the addressee, who may send his reply from any Telegraph Office or use the form to prepay any message within two months.

Addresses.

The address of a telegram should be sufficiently full to enable it to be delivered without difficulty, and without reference to directories or other sources of information. In telegrams for towns, the name of the street and the number of the house should be given when the address is not registered.

An address ordinarily used for letters is not necessarily correct or sufficient for telegrams.

Abbreviated Telegraphic Addresses.

Any person may register an abbreviated telegraphic address on payment of a fee of one guinea per annum. Applications should be made to the Chief Office.

Repetition.

If the receiver of a telegram doubts its accuracy, he may have it repeated by depositing half the amount paid for its transmission. The money will be refunded to him if it is found that the telegram has been inaccurately transmitted. The sender may have a telegram repeated back from office to office on payment of an additional half rate at the time of handing in; but in this case no copy of the repetition is given to the sender.

FOREIGN.

Foreign Telegrams may be written in plain language or in secret language. Secret language comprises code language and figure or letter cypher.

In plain language the length allowed for a single word is 15 letters, additional letters being charged for at the rate of 15 letters to a word.

Words in plain language in the text of a mixed telegram (that is, a telegram containing words in plain language and words in code language) are charged for at the rate of 10 letters to a word, any excess being charged for at the rate of 10 letters to a word.

Code words must not contain more than 10 letters. They may be real words or pronounceable groups of letters having the appearance of real words. The real words must be drawn from one of the following languages:—English, French, German, Italian, Spanish, Portuguese, Dutch, and Latin; the groups of letters must be pronounceable according to the current usage of one of those languages.

In cypher language, which comprises groups of figures or letters having a secret meaning, the groups are counted at five figures or letters to a word. Figure and letter cypher cannot be combined in one group.

Words incorrectly spelled, so as to reduce the number of letters below the maximum, or incorrectly joined together contrary to the usage of the language, are inadmissible.

A reply of any length can be prepaid to a foreign telegram. The amount paid for a reply is refunded to the sender of the original telegram if no reply is sent, provided that application is made within three months. Foreign reply forms are only available for six weeks.

The receiver of a telegram can obtain the correction of passages which are doubtful by paying a sum calculated by multiplying the number of words to be repeated by the rate per word to the place from which repetition is to be obtained. The minimum charge is 10d. The amount is refunded if the telegram has been inaccurately transmitted.

If the repetition shows that the repeated words were not all inaccurately transmitted in the first instance, a proportionate part only of the amount paid for repetition will be refunded.

The Postmaster-General is not liable for any losses sustained or expenses incurred in consequence of the inaccurate transmission, delay, or non-delivery of a telegram.

For Telegrams sent by Telephone, see page 14.

WIRELESS TELEGRAPHY.

Radiotelegrams are accepted at any Telegraph Office for transmission from various Coast Stations in the United Kingdom and abroad to certain ships equipped with wireless telegraph apparatus. Further particulars can be obtained from the Post Office Guide (quarterly edition), pages 864-869, or at any Telegraph Office.

TELEPHONES.*Trunk Telephone Lines.

The scale of charges for three minutes' conversation is as follows:—

For distances not exceeding 100 miles, 3d for each 25 miles or fraction thereof.

For each additional 40 miles or fraction thereof, 6d.

When a Trunk conversation is between a subscriber to the National Telephone Company's system and a caller or subscriber of the Municipal Exchange at Portsmouth, a "terminal fee" has also to be paid.

The ordinary period of conversation is limited to three minutes, but any person may secure the uninterrupted use of a trunk line for six minutes by prepaying a double fee, or may extend a three minutes' conversation to six minutes on demand at the end of the first period. The latter privilege can be exercised at Call Offices only if a deposit has been made by the caller in the first instance to cover the fee for the second period of three minutes. This deposit is refunded if the call is not extended.

Callers are required to pay a Call Office fee of 2d on inward Trunk calls, and also, in addition to the Trunk fee, on calls originated at Call Offices.

Between the hours of 7 p.m. and 7 a.m. the charge for a six minutes' conversation is the same as for a single period of three minutes during the day. During the same period, for a three minutes' conversation, for which the day charge is 9d, a reduced fee of 6d is charged, and half the usual day charge is made where the ordinary fee is 1s or more.

Express Letters and Telegrams sent by Telephone.

Any subscriber to a Telephone Exchange may telephone messages (except those for transmission at Press rate) to most of the Post Offices which can be reached through the local Exchange System, or by means of the Post Office trunk wires, in order that the messages may be written down and dealt with as telegrams, or express letters, or ordinary letters. Messages intended to be forwarded by telegraph should be telephoned as a rule to the Head Telegraph Office of the district. Many public Telephone Call Offices, or private telephone lines to Post Offices, may also be used in this way.

An ordinary letter or express letter telephoned to a Post Office is delivered for the usual postage fee or express delivery fee if it does not contain more than 30 words, including the address; and each additional 30 words or fraction thereof is treated, for purposes of charge, as a separate letter or express letter, as the case may be.

The charge for the use of the telephone is the same as in the case of an ordinary call.

Any person receiving an Express Letter in this way may send another Express Letter back to the Post Office to be telephoned to the sender of the original message on payment of the appropriate Express and Telephone fees.

Telegrams may also be delivered to the addressees by telephone in lieu of delivery by messenger. Persons renting circuits from the National Telephone Company, or from a corporation licensed to carry on telephonic business, and desiring these facilities, should apply in the first instance to the company or corporation, as the case may be. Further particulars can be obtained of the Postmaster.

Any subscriber to a Telephone Exchange may obtain the services of an express messenger by telephoning to the nearest Post Office which is connected with his Exchange.

Telephonic delivery in London on Sunday of messages from the provinces.

Anyone residing in the country may send by post to London by the last despatch available for a Sunday arrival a message for delivery to a telephone subscriber in the London Telephone area on Sunday.

The message, together with the name, exchange, and telephone number of the addressee and the name and address of the sender, must be written upon a sheet of paper and posted in an envelope addressed to the Central Telegraph Office, London, E.C., and marked conspicuously "For telephone delivery on Sunday." A broad perpendicular line must also be drawn by the sender across the centre of the front and back of the envelope from top to bottom.

The letters may be handed in at a Post Office or posted in any letter box, and the charges for the services are:—

- (1) The ordinary postage on the letter to be paid by stamps affixed to the envelope, and
- (2) A fee of 3d for a message not exceeding 30 words, and 3d for each additional 30 words or portion thereof, to be paid in stamps affixed to the sheet of paper on which the message is written.

One letter may contain a message or messages for several telephone subscribers, but a separate message fee must be paid in respect of each message to be telephoned.

The sender may state the approximate time at which the message should be telephoned on Sunday. In the absence of such indication messages will usually be telephoned in the order of their receipt at the Central Telegraph Office beginning about 8.30 a.m.

If the attention of the London subscriber cannot be gained, the message will be delivered by post on Monday with a statement as to the attempts made to deliver it on Sunday.

Private Wires.

Private wires to Post Offices for the purpose of obtaining the foregoing facilities, or private wires between different premises of the same firm or the premises of different firms, can be provided by the Post Office. The terms and conditions may be ascertained of the Secretary, General Post Office.

Let . . . People Know.

You don't know how many good accounts you miss just by a freak of fortune. ¶ New residents don't know about you, old residents never think you might do better for them than their present tradesmen. ¶ Let people know that yours is the shop, by advertising the fact. ¶ A series of well-planned advertisements inserted in the "DUMFRIES STANDARD" will draw in the new residents and bring you many a trial order from people who might have traded with you years ago if only they had thought about it. ¶ Our representative will be pleased to discuss the question with you on receipt of a post-card addressed to

Bind Your Magazines

The cost of having your Magazines bound is inconsiderable, compared with the price you pay for the Magazines themselves.

Many of the Monthly Periodicals of to-day are real works of art—many of them contain serial stories or continued articles which you may wish to refer to from time to time. They are too valuable to be thrown away.

Send your back numbers to us, and we will bind them neatly for you in volumes, at very Moderate Prices.

THE QUEEN OF FLOWERS

No Garden, however small, is complete without its collection of ROSES. Their culture too, provided certain points are satisfied, is exceedingly simple, so that it is small wonder that the Rose is such a general favourite.

For many years we have grown Roses very extensively, and our Collection is each year revised and brought up to date, the best of the new introductions being added, whilst the old and tried favourites are retained.

LARCHFIELD ROSES are well and hardily grown, and flower well, and provide during the flowering season a feast of beauty for the eye. Pay us a visit whilst they are in bloom, and select your own varieties. We will mark and reserve them for you, and send them at the proper time for planting. Our prices, consistent with the well-known high quality of our Roses, are extremely moderate, and we know nothing better can be obtained elsewhere.

FOREST TREES.

Whilst specialising in Roses, it must not be thought that we grow nothing else. Far from it. FOREST TREES, COVERT PLANTS are grown literally by the million, and solicit a visit from Proprietors and Foresters to inspect our stock before purchasing elsewhere. ORNAMENTAL TREES and SHRUBS are also a strong point with us, whilst of

STANDARD TREES

we have an exceptionally fine collection, with straight stems and good heads.

SCOTTISH PROVIDENT INSTITUTION.

Head Office—6 Andrew Square, EDINBURGH.

Accumulated Funds exceed - £14,750,000.

THE DISTINCTIVE SYSTEM of this Institution offers the substantial advantage of With-Profit Assurances at rates differing little from those usually charged for Non-Profit Policies.

THE WHOLE SURPLUS is reserved for those who prove to be good lives, no share being given until the premiums paid, if accumulated at 4 per cent. compound interest, would amount to the sum assured.

THE SURPLUS for the Septennium ended 1908 was £1,800,000. Over 70 per cent. of the Policies which became claims during the Septennium received Bonuses which averaged close on 50 per cent. of the original assurances.

PROVISION FOR THE YOUNG. A SAVINGS FUND POLICY.

A Premium of £10 secures a substantial Assurance commencing at age 21 with numerous options.

ENDOWMENT ASSURANCE SPECIAL CLASS—WITH PROFITS.

Bonuses allocated on the compound system, and additions at the rate of £1 15s per cent. per annum were allotted at last division, intermediate Bonuses being at same rate on sums assured and existing Bonuses.

The Fire on the Hearth

(PATENTED AND REGISTERED).

A Grate produced on Scientific Principles, and with vast improvements over any other barless Grate.

COMPLETE COMBUSTION AND ECONOMICAL.

Simple and inexpensive to fix.
 Requires no interference or alteration to existing hearth.
 No parts to get out of order.
 The whole of the Grate being constructed above the floor line, it is free from the serious danger of firing floor beams.

The fire burns on a solid fire-brick body, with a metal front, and is surrounded by a full radiating lean-over fire-brick back.
 No raised hearth. No sunk fire.
 The draught can be regulated by the ashpan.
 Made in various sizes.

The continuous and increasing sale of this Grate has proved its efficiency.
