FOR DYSPEPSIA AND ALL LIVER COMPLAINTS TAKE
Jamieson's Special Dandelion and Camomile Pills.

Manufactured from Finest Drugs by himself on his own premises.

1½ doz., 7d; 3 doz., 1s. Carriage paid on 1s worth and upwards. Read this:—

Millbrae, Langside, Glasgow, 8th March, 1893. Dr Dobie has much pleasure in bearing testimony to the benefits derived from Jamieson's Dandelion Pills. You are at liberty to print my testimonial, and hope it may be the means of leading others to try the pills. They were a Godsend to me. Last year I suffered dreadfully from dyspepsia. Being in Rothesay in the summer, and hearing of Mr Jamieson's Stomach Pills, I called and got a box of them. They did me a power of good. Whenever I feel out of sorts, a pill daily for three or four days puts me all right. Several friends to whom I recommended them have also derived great benefit.—JOHN DOBIE, D.D., Shanrock Street U.P. Church.

Cachets for headaches and other ailments. These can be taken with water without tasting the drugs.

MISSES JESSIE M'KIRDY and MARGARET M'LEA HIGGIE, Niece and Grand-Niece of the Late MISS MARGARET M'LEA, PREMIER DRESSMAKER OF THE DISTRICT, beg to announce that the Business established by her over 50 years ago, and successfully carried on since, will be continued on the same progressive lines by us.

We have assisted our Aunt since our earliest years. Miss M'KIRDY's long and intimate connection has made her thoroughly conversant with every detail of the Business, and Miss HIGGIE's recent engagement in the first-class firm of Messrs STEWART & M'DONALD, Glasgow, and elsewhere, gives her experience which will add to the attractiveness of the Business and the benefit of patrons.

It was Miss M'Lea's desire that the business should go on as hitherto, and her wish shall be respected. "Miss M'LEA for Dressmaking" have long been household words in the district, and that reputation it shall be our aim to maintain.

PREFACE.

Through the generosity of our Advertising friends, we are again enabled to give this compilation the honours of the Press, and our best thanks are due to those who have given us their assistance.

HIGGIE & CO.

Rothesay, June, 1898.

P.S. —We insert all the names in this publication gratis, so as to have the lists as complete as possible. We regret that several business persons have again been waited upon by some person or persons unknown, who collected payment therefor. We rely for recuperation upon a liberal subscription for the book, but here again we have been assured that money has been paid but no directory delivered. It is unpleasant to make this annual warning: We recommend enquiry before giving an order, and the stoppage of prepayment.—H. & Co.

ALTERATION.

Captain Harding, of the Renfrewshire Police, has also been appointed Chief of the Bute Force, vice Captain John Mackay retired.

▲ B C INTRODUCTION
TO THE
Health, Profit, and Pleasure Resorts
OF BONNIE SCOTLAND.

THE First Edition of this new publication has been well received everywhere. The following are samples of the acknowledgements sent us :—

HER MAJESTY THE QUEEN was graciously pleased to accept a copy, and commanded her Private Secretary to thank Mr Higgle.

The Rev. David Macrae, Dundee, writes :— " I have been looking through your admirable Guide with great interest. Page 100 is a guide also on a point of national honour, which it would be well if all guide-books followed."

" A wide circulation of it in England and further afield would undoubtedly help the tourist traffic."—Rothesay Chronicle.

" Valuable booklet. Every city, town and village of any importance is included—short historical references of each being made, attractions noted, and railway communications mentioned."—Paisley Express.

" Neat booklet. The various notes are correctly written, and supply plentiful information such as intending holiday-makers may be in search of."—Dundee Advertiser.

" A neat little tourist guide to Scotland."—Newry Telegraph.

" Is a wonderful compendium of what those in search of health or pleasure should know, and redounds to the credit of the publishers."—Hexham Herald.

" The letterpress has Mr Higgle's hall mark for conciseness and general usefulness. The sale of the little book among the public should be large."—Cambuslang Advertiser.

" This little fiery cross will be seen, at least, wherever Scots are found."—Glasgow Evening News.

" An extremely handy little holiday guide. 'The holiday-maker's Companion' gives, in the A B C form, tit-bits of information regarding almost every holiday resort and place of interest throughout the length and breadth of Scotland. In it also are to be found miscellaneous hints, which add to its usefulness."—Evening Citizen.

" A mass of useful and interesting information is here presented which will be found most serviceable to all holiday-makers."—The Good Templar.

" Lengthy title for a very small book. It contains a lot of information in brief space."—Haddington Advertiser.

" A handy little booklet, . . . Justifies its title."—The Buteman.

" It is a unique and original production, containing a great deal of invaluable information in small compass."—People's Journal.

" Somewhat formidable title of a small tourists' vade mecum. It contains a good deal of useful information."—Irvine Herald.

OFFICIALS.

COUNTY OF BUTE.

The County of Bute comprises the seven islands in the Firth of Clyde, viz. : — BUTE, the most populous; ARRAN, the largest; the GREAT and LITTLE CUMBRAES, off the Ayrshire Coast; HOLY ISLE and PLADDA, off Arran; and INCHMARNOCK, off Bute.

The total Area of the County (land and water, exclusive of tidal water) is 140,307 acres, of which 53,423 are mountain and heath lands used for grazing. There are about 25,605 acres under all kinds of crops, bare fallow, and grass, which is a gradual inroad on the mountain heath and hitherto uncultivated land.

The principal Industries are agriculture, horticulture, and fishing. The islands possess great and varied natural attractions, and are in the front rank of watering-places.

The Population in 1891 was 18,404—8,211 males and 10,193 females.

ISLE OF BUTE

Is 16 miles long, with an average breadth of four miles. It is rocky in the north and south, but fertile in the intervening districts. The climate is milder and more equable than on the mainland; and the place is, in consequence, a favourite health resort. Through the kindness of the Marquess of Bute, numerous beautiful roads and walks have been added in recent years for the benefit of residents and visitors, and all around the botanist, geologist, florist, photographer, and the otherwise scientific or inquisitive, may roam at their sweet wills. Good views are obtained from its eminences, and permission to fish in the streams and lochs may be procured. The island is rich in historical relics. The antiquarian will find food for reflection in Druidical remains, ruins of old chapels, castles, vitrified and other forts, &c.

PARISH OF ROTHESAY.

ROTHESAY, the capital of Buteshire, was originally a village in connection with the Castle. It became a place of considerable importance in fishing, coopering, and cotton spinning and weaving, and now it is noted as the most popular summer resort in Scotland. The Castle was built at different times, but is believed to have been begun about 1098 by the Norwegians. On 12th January, 1400, the town was created a royal burgh by Robert III., and in 1584 its privileges were confirmed and extended by James VI. It contains 9750 inhabitants and has never lacked enterprise. The first cotton mill in Scotland was opened here. The manufacturing industries, however, have gravitated to more convenient and larger commercial centres, but the public spirit of its inhabitants has remained, and found scope in developing and making known its attractions, and it is now famous as a first-class watering-place.

Three years ago the landward portion of the Parish of Rothesay being amalgamated with North Bute, henceforth, for secular purposes, the boundary of the parish will be the same as that of the burgh.

ISLE OF ARRAN.

This island, the largest in the group, is famous for the grandeur of its scenery and the variety of its geological deposits. Its highest mountain, Goatfell, is of three distinct formations, and is an epitome of the geology of the world. The loneliness and solemnity of its mountains and glens impress the visitor with wonder that such scenes can be enjoyed "so near and yet so far from the madding crowd." The island is divided into two parishes—Kilbride on the east and Kilmory on the west.

PARISH OF CUMBRAE.

The parish of Cumbrae comprises the islands of Great and Little Cumbrae off the Ayrshire Coast. The Burgh of Millport, on the larger isle, is a popular watering-place. The larger isle is about 12 miles in circumference, with a well-made road round it. Cumbrae affords good scope for the botanist; and on 15th May, 1897, a marine biological station was formally opened by Dr (now Sir) John Murray, F.R.S., of the "Challenger" expedition. The building is a short distance from Keppel Pier, on a site gifted by Lord Bute, and cost £1550. This permanent building is a development of the "Ark" with which the late Dr Robertson, the "Cumbrae Naturalist," was associated, and whose collection is arranged for inspection. Curator, Alex. Gray.

DRESS and MANTLE-MAKING.

20 BRIDGE STREET, ROTHESAY, May, 1898.

MISSES JESSIE M'KIRDY and MARGARET M'LEA HIGGIE, Niece and Grand-Niece of the Late Miss MARGARET M'LEA, PREMIER DRESSMAKER OF THE DISTRICT, beg to announce that the Business established by her over 50 years ago, and successfully carried on since, will be continued on the same progressive lines by us.

We have assisted our Aunt since our earliest years. Miss M'KIRDY's long and intimate connection has made her thoroughly conversant with every detail of the Business, and Miss HIGGIE's recent engagement in the first-class firm of Messrs STEWART & M'DONALD, Glasgow, and elsewhere, gives her experience which will add to the attractiveness of the Business and the benefit of patrons.

It was Miss M'Lea's desire that the business should go on as hitherto, and her wish shall be respected. "Miss M'LEA for Dressmaking" have long been household words in the district, and that reputation it shall be our aim to maintain.

Jessie M'Kirby.
Margt. M'L. Higgie.

The Name and Style of the Firm and the only Address will continue to be:—

Miss M'LEA, Dress and Mantle Maker,

BONNIE SCOTLAND'S PLEASURE RESORTS

Specifying the Attractions of Hundreds of Resorts.

Price 2d. HIGGIE & Co., Publishers, Glasgow and Rothesay, and all Booksellers.

1898 Notices.

Hexham Herald—"Is a wonderful compendium of what those in search of health or pleasure should know, and redounds to the credit of the publishers."

Argyllshire Advertiser—"Merits a wide circulation."

Jedburgh Gazette—"A bright, concise, and admirably arranged guide."

Dumfries & Galloway Courier & Herald—"Conciseness and accuracy are strong points about the booklet, which is likely to secure a large circulation."

Kirkcudbrightshire Advertiser—"Is a neatly got-up booklet, and contains much information about every place where the traveller could wish to go in Scotland."

West Lothian Courier—"Added to this we have a very sprightly written introduction, which touches on our national characteristics, whilst an appendix gives us a good idea of the health, profit, and pleasure which we may derive from these resorts. There is a special article dealing with 'The Worthy Scot' at home and abroad, which is well-written, and of itself it would be quite certain to make everyone who has 'Scotland and Scottish Manners' at heart invest in a copy of this cleverly got up little guide book. The publishers are to be congratulated for serving up to the public such a delightful souvenir of Scotland and the ways of her sons."

Cambuslang Advertiser—"Is an entirely new venture that should at once stamp itself as a permanent annual. Certainly it deserves such a position, as there is a mine of information pertaining to Scotland. As a souvenir of the old country, it will be specially acceptable to our friends in the colonies."

Rothesay Chronicle—"Must prove a valuable book of reference to those who want to see Scotland."

Broughty Ferry Guide—"Ere setting out, tourists cannot do better than invest in a copy of 'Bonnie Scotland's Resorts'—an exceedingly useful publication, crammed with information respecting every nook and cranny in the country."

Hawick News—"A nicely got-up and useful handbook. . . . Teries near and far will be interested to learn what it says about Hawick."

Invergordon Times—"It has an interesting introduction as to the situation, extent, general appearance, its mountains, islands, lochs, rivers, climate, antiquities, soil and productions, people, language, religion, civil government, industries, literature, science, art, music, &c., of Bonnie Scotland. It is a very neatly got up book, and will be found most useful to tourists, travellers, etc."

People's Journal—"A valuable handbook for tourists and others."

Glasgow Evening Times—"Contains a great deal of useful information in very small bulk, being practically a cheap pocket gazetteer of Scotland written by a fervid Scot."

Wishaw Press and Advertiser—"It is written in a popular style, and will be perused with much interest by natives as well, as by strangers in the land. While not intended to oppose or eclipse any of the larger or local guides, the publication is issued as a swift and airy messenger darting light into quarters otherwise inaccessible, and revealing a cluster of health, profit, and pleasure resorts which, taken all in all, cannot be met with in any other part of the world."

Peterhead Sentinel—"It is an eminently patriotic publication, and will be like a whiff of peat to the Scot abroad. . . . We know of no popular book better calculated to give Scotsmen a guid conceit of their own country and its resources than this twopenny gazetteer of Messrs Higgie's."

The News and Booksellers' Review—"This should prove an invaluable and interesting pocket companion."

Banffshire Advertiser—"The introduction is very well written, and gives a good idea of what Scotland is. To Scotsmen at home and abroad this little volume will be a treasure indeed."

Northern Figaro—"It may, without fear of contradiction, be said that the booklet is choke full of matter relating almost to everywhere throughout the length and breadth of Scotland. I heartily commend the idea of such a handy work of reference, and I doubt not it will speedily sell itself into the favour of Scots, both at home and abroad."

Paisley Express—"All the towns and many other places of interest have each a paragraph devoted to them—just as short and pithy as a sight-seer likes to tackle. Great skill has been exercised in the compilation of the guide book, which can easily be accommodated in one's pocket."

Scottish Guardian—"It is an interesting and informative little publication."

Wishaw Herald—"The winsome little volume. . . . Handy and serviceable production."

Price 2d. HIGGIE & Co., Publishers, Glasgow and Rothesay, and all Booksellers.
1898 Notices.

Evening Citizen—“Those who are making arrangements in connection with summer holidays will find a large amount of useful information in a very compact form in ‘Bonnie Scotland's Resorts,’ published by Higgie & Co., of Glasgow and Rothesay. This little handbook, which is really an international publication, gives a short account of the nature and attractions of all the holiday places in Scotland. The guidebook information is supplemented by racy descriptions of Scotch character and characteristics, intended specially for the edification and amusement of visitors from foreign parts.”

Banbury Guardian—“Intending tourists in Scotland this summer will find the Holiday Makers Companion invaluable to them. It is an exceeding handy little book, and can be had at various prices, even as low as twopence. The booklet is capitally arranged, and the concluding chapter about the ‘Scot Abroad’ is as readable as anything in Hill Burton. Messrs Higgie's work has only to be seen to be appreciated, and we wish the undertaking all the success it deserves, which is great.”

Western Mail, Cardiff—“A pretty little book all about Bonnie Scotland and its pleasure resorts—just the kind of thing to persuade to a holiday in the land o' cakes, and to take in the pocket when going.”

Stirling Observer—“Affording a great amount of useful information, valuable especially to all holiday-makers, but to all others as well.”

Banffshire Herald—“Should prove highly useful as a holiday-makers' companion. It is written in terse and comprehensive language and so far as we can judge is wonderfully up-to-date.”

Border Advertiser—“Is a cheap guide and gazetteer of the land of Caledonia, of use both for travellers and reference.”

Shetland News—“Is an exceedingly useful and handy little booklet published by Messrs Higgie & Co., Rothesay.”

Dundee Advertiser—“In each case a descriptive note is given constituting a pen-picture of the place: and such details are afforded as are likely to be wanted by intending visitors.”

Aberdeen People's Journal—“The introduction and appendix are well written, specially worthy of perusal in the latter being the pages which tell of our poets and poetry.”

Fife People's Journal—“This is the most handy, compact, and valuable booklet published regarding the health resorts of Bonnie Scotland.”

Glasgow People's Journal—“A valuable handbook for tourists and others.”

Peeblesshire Advertiser—“A neat little guide to the various places in Scotland famed as health or pleasure resorts. It will form an exceedingly handy and useful companion for tourists, from which they will be able to glean much information about fishing, golf, rowing, sailing, camping out, &c. By way of introduction, an interesting sketch is given of the extent, general appearance, mountains, rivers, lochs, and antiquities of Scotland.”

Montrose Review—“A pen-picture of the place.”

Routes, Resorts, Excursions, Fares, &c.

1d Monthly. HIGGIE & Co., Publishers, Glasgow and Rothesay, and all Booksellers.

1898 Notices.

Dundee Advertiser—“Wherein is provided all necessary information as to the popular coast routes and excursions, with tables of fares.”

Perthshire Constitutional—“Is an excellently-compiled production, and contains a wealth of information which the tourist, always likes to have, but which is difficult to get.”

Glasgow Evening Times—“A handy booklet containing information as to trains, steamers, golf courses, yacht races, and other matters in which people are interested while on holiday. The descriptions of scenery have been written by an enthusiastic lover of Scotland.”

Dundee Courier & Dundee Weekly News—“It is a marvellous penny production.”

Ayrshire Post—“Dealing chiefly with local information. . . Admirable compendium, and reflects credit on the publishers, who appear to be an extremely go-ahead firm.”

Fife Herald & Journal—“Is a wonderful pennyworth.”

Banbury Guardian—“Those who wish to take a trip down the Clyde, will find it the very thing for them. The description of the various resorts is smartly written, and the writer is to be congratulated on avoiding dry-as-dust details. Replete with all the information worth knowing may be taken as Messrs Higgie's motto.”

Cambuslang Advertiser—“For general details this little brochure should be in the pocket of all who take pleasure in a run to the coast.”
