MAP OF BUTE

PREFACE TO 1906-7 EDITION.

WE have again much pleasure in giving the honours of the Press to a new issue of this useful Buteshire reference book—thoroughly overhauled and brought up to date.

All the previous sections are continued, and to facilitate the search for information the different portions are printed on distinct coloured papers—an innovation of acknowledged service.

Our Advertising friends and the Prominent Business Firms in the District have appreciated the distribution of their announcements facing the text of the book, and we hope the continued prompt receipt of orders will enable us to make this benefit permanent.

Our desire is to overlook no one, and with that view we respectfully solicit notices of alterations or additions as early as possible, so that they may be given effect to.

This Directory is a more important publication than many imagine. It is not only found at all times throughout the county, but also in the libraries of Glasgow, Edinburgh, London, Dublin, Cambridge, Oxford, &c., and in numerous business houses and agencies in busy centres throughout the kingdom, so we are particularly anxious that nothing of benefit to Buteshire be omitted, but that every interest has a good show, and everything is up to date.

Our best thanks are again extended to those who have in any way helped us in this compilation. It takes long and careful vigilance to ascertain and give effect to the continual changes, and prompt information and orders are, consequently, particularly acceptable and valuable.

[The extra list of Householders arranged in Streets, held in readiness for several years, we have reluctantly had to abandon].

COUNTY OF BUTE.

THE COUNTY OF BUTE comprises the seven islands in the Firth of Clyde, viz.: —BUTE, the most populous; ARRAN, the largest; the GREAT and LITTLE CUMBRAES, off the Ayrshire Coast; HOLY ISLE and PLADDA, off Arran; and INCH-MARNOCK, off Bute.

The total AREA OF THE COUNTY (land and water, exclusive of tidal water) is 139,658 acres, of which 53,510 are mountain and heath lands used for grazing. 3,806 acres are under plantations, and 794 are covered with water. There are 25,981 acres under all kinds of crops, bare fallow and grass, which is a gradual inroad on the mountain heath and hitherto uncultivated land.

The principal INDUSTRIES are agriculture, horticulture, and fishing. The islands possess great and varied natural attractions, and are in the forefront as holiday resorts.

The POPULATION of the COUNTY (including its Burghs of ROTHESAY and MILLPORT) in 1801 was 11,791; 1831, 14,151; 1861, 16,331; 1881, 17,657. In 1891 it was 18,248 (8,057 males and 10,197 females); and in 1901, 18,786 (8,412 males and 10,374 females)—being an increase of 255 in the ten years—2.1 per cent. There were 4,270 inhabited houses in the islands.

The 1901 Census showed that in Buteshire there were 86 persons to the square mile, 7.4 acres to each person, and 204 yards approximate or distance in linear yards between person and person. The proportion of females to every 100 males is 123.32; the number of families is 4,422; inhabited houses, 4,263; rooms, 19,433; 4.25 persons to each family; 1.04 families to each house; 4.41 persons to each house; 4.56 rooms to each house; 4.40 rooms to each family; 1.97 persons to each room, and 20 persons speak Gaelic only.

BERMALINE.

(With apologies to W. H. Longfellow.)

The century was dying fast
As through a northern city passed
A man, who bore as in a vice,
A brown leaf with a strange device,
Bermaline.

In many homes he saw the light
Of household fires gleam warm and bright,
Yet indigestion claimed its own
For there that bread was still unknown,
Bermaline.

"Try not this place," the bigot said,
"The people here but eat white bread,
And any other will be decried,"
But loudly that valiant voice replied,
"Bermaline."

"Stay," the dyspeptic cried, "and blest
Be he who can at all arrest
Dyspepsia, and make life a pleasure.
For that," he said, "this bread's a treasure,"
"Bermaline."

"Beware of imitations poor,
They follow, but can not endure,
The bread to make Dyspepsia flee,
And universally used shall be,
"Bermaline."

Bermaline Bread.

The Bute County Directory

is the only Publication of the kind printed and published in Buteshire. Its data is carefully compiled, and much time and attention is devoted each year to the careful investigation and noting the necessary alterations in the personnel of the occupants of public offices, the correct addresses of the general inhabitants, and the latest changes amongst those engaged in trade.

The earliest publications connected with Rothesay were Directories, and they are interesting reading even at this time of day.

Our publication not only includes Rothesay, but embraces the whole County of Bute, and though it has increased in usefulness and circulation, its price and advertisement tariff have remained the same.

Parish of North Bute.

THIS is the northern portion of the island of Bute. Port-Bannatyne, its principal village, is two and a-half miles from Rothesay, with which it is connected by tramway. Kames Castle, in the vicinity, is said to be the oldest inhabited castle in the country, and was the ancient seat of the Bannatynes. The village was named after that family—two brothers of whom (John and Gilbert)—received a charter from King Robert the Bruce, for services rendered at Bannockburn. At the last census, there were 367 inhabited houses (1627 windowed rooms) and 192 uninhabited in the parish, and 373 separate families—793 males and 940 females—giving a total of 1733. The Port-Bannatyne ward (from Pointhouse to the other end of the village and back to Gortans and Bannatyne Mains) contained 473 males and 627 females—1100 in all; the North Bute ward, 125 males and 140 females; and the Cunnmermenoch ward, 195 males and 173 females. The total ten years ago was 1583, which shows an increase of 150 on the decimal period. Parliamentary constituency, 1905-6, 420

(For Courts and Court Officials, Justices of the Peace, and County Boards, see County Lists).

Assessments for 1906-7—Poor rate, 4d; registration, $\frac{1}{4}$ d; burial, $\frac{1}{2}$ n; education, $3\frac{1}{2}$ d; and park, $\frac{1}{2}$ d—8 $\frac{3}{4}$ d per £0: a reduction of $\frac{3}{4}$ d off previous year.

The Isle of Arran.

THIS island, the largest in the group, is famous for the grandeur of its scenery and the variety of its geological deposits. The island is twenty miles in length, twelve in breadth, and is divided into two parishes—Kilbride on the east, and Kilmory on the west. The King and Queen spent a very pleasant holiday in the island after their Coronation in August, 1902, and witnessed interesting sheep dog trials

One edition of the Directory is no sooner off than we begin to note alterations (and prepare for probable additions) for the next—so as to be unmistakably up to date.

We are far from being able to publish everything that we desire, but hints of all kinds are treasured in view of future adoption.
