

MARY OF CASTLE-CARY.

Saw ye my wee thing, saw ye my ain thing? Saw ye my true love down on yon lea? Cross'd she the meadow yestreen at the gloaming, Sought she the burnie whare flowers the haw-tree? Her hai... it is lint-white, her skin it is milk-white, Dark is the blue o'er saft rolling ee... Red red her ripe lips, and sweeter than roses, Where could my wee thing wander frae me.

²
 Nae your wee thing, I saw nae your ain thing,
 I saw I your true love down by yon lea;
 I met wi' my bonnie thing late in the gloaming,
 An' by the burnie where flowers the haw-tree;
 Her it was lint-white, her skin it was milk-white,
 It was the blue of her soft rolling e'e;
 Her ripe lips, and sweeter than roses—
 were the kisses that she gave to me.

⁷
 As nae my wee thing, it was nae my ain thing,
 Was nae my true love ye met by the tree:
 And is her leal heart, modest her nature.
 Ne never lo'ed ony till ance she lo'ed me.
 Name it is Mary, she's frae Castle-cary,
 It has she sat when a bairn on my knee:
 As your face is, were't fifty times fairer,
 Young bragger, she ne'er wad gie kisses to thee.

⁴
 It was then your Mary, she's frae Castle-cary,
 It was then your true love I met by the tree;
 Proud as her heart is and modest her nature,
 Sweet were the kisses that she gave to me
 Sair gloom'd his dark brown and blood-red his cheek grew
 Wild flashid the fire frae his wild rolling e'e
 Yer ruesair this morning your boasts and your scorning,
 Defend ye false traitor, fuloudly ye lie.

⁵
 Away wi' beguiling, cried the youth snailing—
 Off went the bonnet, the lint-white locks flee,
 The belted plaid fa'ing, her white bosom shawing,
 Fair stood the loved maid wi' the dark rolling e'e.
 Is it my wee thing, is it my ain thing,
 Is it my true love here that I see?
 O Jamie forgive me, your heart's constant to me,
 I'll never mair want'er, dear baddie frae thee.
