VICTORIA CROSS.

*(Extract from the London Gazette, dated 1st October, 1915.)*War Office, 1st October, 1915.

His Majesty the KING has been graciously pleased to award the Victoria Cross to the undermentioned Officer and Men:—

Captain Percy Howard Hansen, Adjutant, 6th (Service) Battalion, The Lincolnshire Regiment.

For most conspicuous bravery on 9th August, 1915, at Yilghin Burnu, Gallipoli Peninsula.

After the second capture of the "Green Knoll" his Battalion was forced to retire, leaving some wounded behind, owing to the intense heat from the scrub which had been set on fire.

When the retirement was effected Captain Hansen, with three or four volunteers, on his own initiative, dashed forward several times some 300 to 400 yards over open ground into the scrub under a terrific fire, and succeeded in rescuing from inevitable death by burning, no less than six wounded men.

No. 1300 Private Alfred Potts, 1st Berkshire Yeomanry, Territorial Force.

For most conspicuous bravery and devotion to a wounded comrade in the Gallipoli Peninsula.

Although himself severely wounded in the thigh in the attack on "Hill 70" on 21st August, 1915, he remained out over 48 hours under the Turkish trenches with a private of his Regiment who was severely wounded and unable to move, although he could himself have returned to safety.

Finally he fixed a shovel to the equipment of his wounded comrade, and, using this as a sledge, he dragged him back over 600 yards to our lines, though fired at by the Turks on the way. He reached our trenches at about 9.30 p.m. on 23rd August.

*(Extract from the London Gazette, dated 15th October, 1915.)*War Office,
15th October, 1915.

His Majesty the KING has been pleased to award the Victoria Cross to the undermentioned Officers, Non-Commissioned Officers and Men:—

Captain Alfred John Shout, 1st Battalion, Australian Imperial Force.

For most conspicuous bravery at Lone Pine trenches, in the Gallipoli Peninsula.

On the morning of the 9th August, 1915, with a very small party, Captain Shout charged down trenches strongly occupied by the enemy, and personally threw four bombs among them, killing eight and routing the remainder.

In the afternoon of the same day, from the position gained in the morning, he captured a further length of trench under similar conditions, and continued personally to bomb the enemy at close range under very heavy fire until he was severely wounded, losing his right hand and left eye.

This most gallant Officer has since succumbed to his injuries.

Lieutenant William John Symons, 7th Battalion, Australian Imperial Force.

For most conspicuous bravery on the night of 8th-9th August, 1915, at Lone Pine trenches, in the Gallipoli Peninsula.

He was in command of the right section of the newly captured trenches held by his battalion, and repelled several counter-attacks with great coolness. At about 5 a.m. on 9th August a series of determined attacks were made by the enemy on an isolated sap, and six officers were in succession killed or severely wounded, a portion of the sap being lost.

Lieutenant Symons then led a charge and retook the lost sap, shooting two Turks with his revolver. The sap was under hostile fire from three sides, and Lieutenant Symons withdrew some fifteen yards to a spot where some overhead cover could be obtained, and in the face of heavy fire built up a sand barricade. The enemy succeeded in setting fire to the fascines and woodwork of the head-cover, but Lieutenant Symons extinguished the fire and rebuilt the barricade.

His coolness and determination finally compelled the enemy to discontinue the attacks.

Lieutenant Frederick Harold Tubb, 7th Battalion, Australian Imperial Force.

For most conspicuous bravery and devotion to duty at Lone Pine trenches, in the Gallipoli Peninsula, on 9th August, 1915. In the early morning the enemy made a determined counter-attack on the centre of the newly captured trench held by Lieutenant Tubb. They advanced up a sap and blew in a sandbag barricade, leaving only one foot of it standing, but Lieutenant Tubb led his men back, repulsed the enemy, and rebuilt the barricade. Supported by strong bombing parties, the enemy, succeeded in twice again blowing in the barricade, but on each occasion Lieutenant Tubb, although wounded in the head and arm, held his ground with the greatest coolness and rebuilt it, and finally succeeded in maintaining his position under very heavy bomb fire.

2nd Lieutenant Hugo Vivian Hope Throssell, 10th Light Horse Regiment, Australian Imperial Force.

For most conspicuous bravery and devotion to duty during operations on the Kalakij Aghala (Hill 69) in the Gallipoli Peninsula on 29th and 30th August, 1915. Although severely wounded in several places during a counter-attack he refused to leave his post or to obtain medical assistance till all danger was passed, when he had his wounds dressed and returned to the firing line until ordered out of action by the Medical Officer.

By his personal courage and example he kept up the spirits of his party and was largely instrumental in saving the situation at a critical period.

No. 4/515 Corporal Cyril Royston Gnyton Bassett, New Zealand Divisional Signal Company.

For most conspicuous bravery and devotion to duty on the Chunuk Bair ridge in the Gallipoli Peninsula on 7th August, 1915.

After the New Zealand Infantry Brigade had attacked and established itself on the ridge, Corporal Bassett, in full daylight and under a continuous and heavy fire, succeeded in laying a telephone line from the old position to the new one on Chunuk Bair. He has subsequently been brought to notice for further excellent and most gallant work connected with the repair of telephone lines by day and night under heavy fire.

No. 384 Corporal Alexander Stewart Burton, 7th Battalion, Australian Imperial Force, and

No. 2130 Corporal William Dunstan, 7th Battalion, Australian Imperial Force.

For most conspicuous bravery at Lone Pine trenches in the Gallipoli Peninsula on the 9th August, 1915.

In the early morning the enemy made a determined counter-attack on the centre of the newly-captured trench held by Lieutenant Tubb, Corporals Burton and Dunstan and a few men. They advanced up a sap and blew in a sandbag barricade, leaving only one foot of it standing, but Lieutenant Tubb, with the two corporals, repulsed the enemy and rebuilt the barricade. Supported by strong bombing parties the enemy twice again succeeded in blowing in the barricade, but on each occasion they were repulsed and the barricade rebuilt, although Lieutenant Tubb was wounded in the head and arm and Corporal Burton was killed by a bomb while most gallantly building up the parapet under a hail of bombs.

No. 943 Private John Hamilton, 1st Battalion, Australian Imperial Force.

For most conspicuous bravery on 9th August, 1915, in the Gallipoli Peninsula.

During a heavy bomb attack by the enemy on the newly captured position at Lone Pine, Private Hamilton, with utter disregard to personal safety, exposed himself under heavy fire on the parapets, in order to secure a better firing position against the enemy's bomb throwers. His coolness and daring example had an immediate effect. The defence was encouraged, and the enemy driven off with heavy loss.

No. 958 Private Leonard Keyser, 1st Battalion, Australian Imperial Force.

For most conspicuous bravery and devotion to duty at Lone Pine trenches in the Gallipoli Peninsula.

On 7th August, 1915, he was in a trench which was being heavily bombed by the enemy. He picked up two live bombs and threw them back at the enemy at great risk to his own life, and continued throwing bombs, although himself wounded, thereby saving a portion of the trench which it was most important to hold.

On 8th August at the same place, Private Keyser successfully bombed the enemy out of a position, from which a temporary mastery over his own trench had been obtained, and was again wounded. Although marked for hospital he declined to leave, and volunteered to throw bombs for another company which had lost its bomb throwers.

He continued to bomb the enemy till the situation was relieved.

Second Lieutenant Benjamin Handley Geary, 4th Battalion (attached 1st Battalion), The East Surrey Regiment.

For most conspicuous bravery and determination on "Hill 60," near Ypres, on April 20th and 21st, 1915, when he held the left crater with his platoon, some men of the Bedfordshire Regiment and a few reinforcements who came up during the evening and night. The crater was first exposed to very heavy artillery fire which broke down the defences, and afterwards throughout the night to repeated bomb attacks which filled it with dead and wounded. Each attack was, however, repulsed mainly owing to the splendid personal gallantry and example of Second Lieutenant Geary. At one time he used a rifle with great effect, at another threw hand grenades, and exposed himself with entire disregard to danger in order to see by the light of flares where the enemy were coming on. In the intervals between the attacks he spent his whole time arranging for the ammunition supply and for reinforcements. He was severely wounded just before daylight on 21st April.

28th October, 1915.

His Majesty the KING has been pleased to award the Victoria Cross to

No. 6738 Lance-Serjeant Oliver Brooks, 3rd Battalion, Coldstream Guards.

For most conspicuous bravery near Loos, on the 5th October, 1915.

A strong party of the enemy having captured 200 yards of our trenches, Lance-Serjeant Brooks, on his own initiative, led a party of bombers in the most determined manner, and succeeded in regaining possession of the lost ground.

The signal bravery displayed by this Non-commissioned Officer, in the midst of a hail of bombs from the Germans, was of the very first order, and the complete success attained in a very dangerous undertaking was entirely due to his absolute fearlessness, presence of mind and promptitude.

(Extract from the London Gazette, dated 29th October, 1915.)

His Majesty the KING has been graciously pleased to approve of the appointment of the undermentioned Officers to be Companions of the Distinguished Service Order, in recognition of their gallantry and devotion to duty in the Field:—

Lieutenant-Colonel John Harvey, 8th (City of London) Battalion, The London Regiment (Post Office Rifles), Territorial Force.

For conspicuous ability, coolness and devotion to duty in the command of his unit during the attack on the German trenches at Fest Bert on 25th and 26th May, 1915. His gallant example greatly aided the successful attack.

Major Hadrian Bayley, 15th County of London Battery Royal Field Artillery, Territorial Force.

For conspicuous gallantry and ability from 12th to 26th May, 1915, at Le Plantin, when his battery rendered excellent service by its effective fire. He was heavily shelled by the enemy in his observation stations, but throughout the operations he sent back prompt and reliable information.

Major William Ellis Clark, 16th Battery, Royal Field Artillery.

For conspicuous gallantry and good work during operations between 9th and 19th May, 1915, near Rue du Bois, especially when under heavy shell fire at the observing station of his battery. His reports and observations on the course of events were of great value.

Major Roderick Livingston Lees, 1/6th Battalion, The Lancashire Fusiliers, Territorial Force.

For conspicuous gallantry and determination during an attack near Kribbla, Gallipoli peninsula, on 8th August, 1915. He commanded the defence of a position against heavy odds with great skill and tenacity, and showed absolute disregard of personal danger in leading and encouraging his men.

Major Ivon Tatham Standish, No. 3 Battery, Royal New Zealand Artillery.

For conspicuous gallantry in the Gallipoli peninsula on the 27th-28th August, 1915. He was controlling the fire of a very exposed section of guns, performing this duty on a flank under heavy fire, when one of his guns was put out of action and a fire broke out round his ammunition pit. He at once left his observing station, ran to the pit and personally assisted in extinguishing the fire.

REWARDS FOR SERVICE IN THE FIELD—*contd.*DISTINGUISHED SERVICE ORDER—contd.

Captain Richard Curwen Richmond Blair, 1/5th (Cumberland) Battalion, The Border Regiment, Territorial Force.

For conspicuous gallantry on the night of 27th September, 1915, at Armentières. He went out with a party of ten to bomb the enemy's trenches. Finding conditions unfavourable, the party lay down and waited about 60 yards from the enemy's wire. Soon afterwards a party of 14 Germans were seen advancing towards them. Captain Blair held his fire till they were 10 yards away, when he shot four of them with his revolver. His party accounted for all the remainder except two, and returned unscathed. Captain Blair has constantly taken part in arduous and enterprising night work.

Captain Cecil Arthur Callaghan, 2nd Battery, Field Artillery, Australian Imperial Force.

For conspicuous gallantry and ability on 12th July, 1915, during an action on the Gallipoli peninsula. As Forward Observing Officer he advanced with the first line of infantry and established telephone communication with his battery from the captured hostile trenches. During the day he continued to advance under heavy fire, sending back accurate reports, valuable not only to the guns, but also to the Corps Staff.

Captain Francis McCrone Douie, Royal Engineers, No. 3 Company, 1st King George's Own Sappers and Miners, Indian Army.

For conspicuous gallantry on 22nd May, 1915, west of Ferme du Bois. In broad daylight, accompanied by his orderly, Sapper Jiwa Khan, he got over the parapet and went to within 80 yards of the German trenches, which were being shelled by our guns, and brought back to safety a wounded man. He also assisted to bring in another wounded man on a stretcher. The Germans were alert at the time and opened fire at once.

Captain Bertram Sibbald Finn, New Zealand Medical Corps.

For conspicuous devotion to duty in the Gallipoli peninsula during operations from 6th to 9th August, 1915, when he worked day and night with unceasing zeal and without rest evacuating the wounded. His work was carried out under continuous fire, on one occasion the dressing station being heavily shelled for an hour, and many assistants and wounded being hit. Owing to Captain Finn's efforts the wounded lying in the more exposed positions were got into a place of greater safety.

Captain Harry Gardner, 2nd Battalion, The Duke of Wellington's (West Riding Regiment), attached 8th Battalion.

For conspicuous gallantry and determination during operations at Suvla Bay, Gallipoli peninsula, on 8th August, 1915. He continued to lead his men forward after being twice wounded, and only gave up after being wounded a third time.

Temporary Captain John Wingate Greany, 5th Battalion, The Duke of Edinburgh's (Wiltshire Regiment).

For conspicuous gallantry in the Gallipoli peninsula. On 10th August, 1915, his battalion suffered severely in the Salzi Belt valley, and on 25th August two men arrived in an exhausted condition, bringing word that no others were still alive at the nearer end of the valley, having lived for 14 days among the dead and wounded. Captain Greany formed a rescue party of volunteers from his regiment, and, although it was found impossible, owing to bright moonlight, rifle fire, and meeting a Turkish patrol, to complete the search on the night of 25th-26th August, yet on the following night he found and brought in the five men under heavy fire. Captain Greany also brought back valuable information regarding the country and the enemy's movements.

Captain Cecil Duncan Sasse, 1st Battalion (New South Wales) Australian Imperial Force.

For conspicuous gallantry and determination during the attack on Lone Pine, Gallipoli peninsula, on the 6th-7th August, 1915, when he led several bayonet charges on trenches occupied by the enemy, resulting in substantial gains. Captain Sasse was wounded three times, but remained on duty.

Captain Alan Humphrey Scott, 4th Battalion (New South Wales) Australian Imperial Force.

For conspicuous gallantry in the attack on Lone Pine, Gallipoli peninsula, on 6th-7th August, 1915. He held on to a very exposed position till all the wounded had been removed. Later, after a heavy bombing attack in superior force had compelled him to retire, he led a bayonet charge which retook and held a position. In face of the enemy's enfilading machine-gun fire. This position was of great importance as linking up the positions captured on either flank.

Captain and Brevet Major Guy Charles Williams, 173rd (Tunnelling) Company, Royal Engineers.

For conspicuous gallantry and initiative in France. He pushed his advanced galleries through those of the enemy, thereby successfully carrying out mining operations.

From the commencement of this dangerous and difficult operation Major Williams directed and controlled the work with great forethought and daring, which alone enabled an almost unique result to be obtained.

REWARDS FOR SERVICE IN THE FIELD—contd.

MILITARY CROSS.

(Extract from the London Gazette, dated 2nd October, 1915)

War Office,
2nd October, 1915.

His Majesty the KING has been graciously pleased to confer the Military Cross on the undermentioned Officers, in recognition of their gallantry and devotion to duty in the Field:—

Captain Robert Francis Day Burnett, 42nd Deoli Regiment (attached 89th Punjabis).

For conspicuous gallantry near Neuve Chapelle on the night of 7th-8th August, 1915.

With one Non-commissioned Officer and 4 Sepoys he voluntarily advanced from a sap-head under machine gun fire and rescued a badly wounded Non-commissioned Officer. The whole party had to stand up under fire in order to lift the wounded Non-commissioned Officer over the barbed wire.

Captain Ernest Cotton Deane, Royal Army Medical Corps (attached 2nd Battalion, The Leicestershire Regiment).

For conspicuous gallantry on 22nd August, 1915, near Fauquissart. A standing patrol 100 yards in front of our line was bombed by the enemy at about 10 p.m., the only notification being two loud bomb explosions. Captain Deane without any knowledge of the enemy's strength, at once got over the parapet and ran by himself to the spot under rifle and machine gun fire. Finding four wounded men he returned for stretchers and got them back into safety.

This is not the first time that Captain Deane's gallantry under fire has been brought to notice.

Temporary Captain Leonce Delphin, Royal Engineers.

For conspicuous energy in raising, practically unaided, in the district of Bethune, a labour corps from the refugees and local population. He carried out valuable work with this corps in the preparation of defences, and worked with it for many weeks under shell fire during the spring and summer of 1915.

Lieutenant (temporary Captain) George Douglas Begg, Reserve of Officers, 6th Battalion, The Royal Scots Fusiliers.

For conspicuous gallantry near Vermelles on 25th August, 1915. He made his way in broad daylight to a point within 8 yards of a German sap, discovering two rifle pits, and noting accurately the formation and wiring of the sap. During the whole time he was subjected to heavy fire.

Temporary Lieutenant Thomas Hamilton Carlisle, 171st (Mining) Company, Royal Engineers.

For conspicuous gallantry on the night of 12th September, 1915, near Armentières.

With another Officer he entered a mine, which was in a highly dangerous state at the time owing to gas fumes following an explosion, in order to rescue a man who had been overcome.

Their prompt action undoubtedly saved the man's life.

Lieutenant William Harold Hillyer, 3rd London Field Company, Royal Engineers, Territorial Force (attached 171st Mining Company).

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty in mining operations at "Hill 60," near Ypres, between 2nd and 17th April, 1915. The task of completing and changing one of our mines was one of great difficulty and strain. Lieutenant Hillyer worked and watched long hours at the end of a gallery 165 feet long and 3 feet by 2 feet 3 inches in size, knowing that the enemy was countermine close by. His pluck and endurance were remarkable, and resulted in the successful explosion of the mine and consequent capture of the hill.

Lieutenant Loudoun James MacLean, 57th Field Company, Royal Engineers.

For conspicuous gallantry and determination during the nights of 25th to 31st August, 1915, when he skillfully erected a bridge over the Yser Canal near Boesinghe under heavy rifle fire.

Although he lost several of his men, he carried the work through satisfactorily.

Temporary Lieutenant Eric Gny Sutton, 7th Battalion, The Royal Sussex Regiment.

For conspicuous gallantry on the night of 12th September, 1915, near Armentières. With another Officer he entered a mine, which was in a highly dangerous state at the time owing to gas fumes following an explosion, in order to rescue a man who had been overcome.

Their prompt action undoubtedly saved the man's life.

Temporary Second Lieutenant Fred Bell, attached 173rd (Tunnelling) Company, Royal Engineers.

For conspicuous gallantry and determination at Cambrai on 6th September, 1915. After the Germans had broken through into one of our mining galleries he went down into the working under fire, cleared out the enemy with his revolver in the dark, and held the ground till a sandbag revetment could be built.

This action contributed greatly to the successful completion of the mining operations.

Temporary Second Lieutenant Ernest William Byrde, 173rd (Tunnelling) Company, Royal Engineers.

For conspicuous gallantry and skill in France, when he was engaged in pushing forward advanced galleries through those of the enemy, thereby determining the success of the mining operations.

Second Lieutenant Charles Henry Dowden, D.S.O., 2nd Battalion, The King's Royal Rifle Corps.

For conspicuous gallantry on 5th September, 1915, near Le Rutoire. He crawled out in broad daylight 200 yards in front of our advanced trench, which was 300 yards in front of the firing line and reconnoitred the enemy's position from a point within 200 yards of their front line, bringing back very valuable information.

On 6th September he crawled out again and completed his reconnoissance, being fired on from a German sap.

On both occasions Second Lieutenant Dowden went out entirely on his own initiative.

Temporary Second Lieutenant Gilbert Hart, 173rd (Tunnelling) Company, Royal Engineers.

For conspicuous gallantry and skill in France, when he was engaged in pushing forward advanced galleries through those of the enemy, thereby determining the success of the mining operations.

Temporary Second Lieutenant Bernard Russell, 2nd Battalion, Princess Charlotte of Wales's (Royal Berkshire Regiment).

For conspicuous gallantry and ability on the afternoon of 12th September, 1915. Knowing that a detailed reconnoissance of the enemy's line in front of his brigade would be of value, he went out alone on his own initiative, and reconnoitred the enemy's wire barricades and parapet, working in some places along the front face of the enemy's parapet itself in broad daylight. His reconnoissance proved to be of the greatest value.

Temporary Second Lieutenant Horace Scott Sbleid, Royal Flying Corps.

For conspicuous gallantry and skill when on patrol duty with Corporal T. Bennett on 13th September, 1915.

When over Bois De Blez, at about 10,000 feet, he sighted a German Albatross, and at once dived and attacked it at about 7,000 feet, being subject at the time to heavy anti-air-raft gun fire. The German Albatross used a machine gun very conveniently mounted, but Corporal Bennett handled his gun with such skill that he disabled the German machine, which side-slipped and then nose-dived to the ground in our lines.

Second Lieutenant Sbleid has been exceptionally keen in pursuing German machines whenever seen, and on this occasion he manœuvred his own machine with admirable judgment and courage.

Second Lieutenant (temporary Lieutenant) Charles Sproxton, 1st/4th Battalion, Alexandra, Princess of Wales's Own (Yorkshire Regiment), Territorial Force.

For conspicuous gallantry and resource on many occasions in securing the defences of his Company line, notably the following:—

(1) on the night of 5th-6th July, 1915, near Wulverghem, although exposed by the enemy's flares to heavy rifle fire and assisted only by one Non-commissioned Officer, he carried 8 "knife-rests" (entanglements), and placed them in position within 40 yards of the enemy's line.

(2) on the night of the 6th-7th August, near Armentières, he was in charge of a party wiring in front of our fire trench. A German machine-gun was turned on the party, but Lieutenant Sproxton, after withdrawing his party, returned with the same Non-commissioned Officer, and, with utter disregard to danger, they completed the work.

Second Lieutenant (temporary Captain) Arthur Ashford Benjamin Thomson The Royal Warwickshire Regiment, attached Royal Flying Corps.

For conspicuous gallantry and determination on 29th August, 1915, near Nenne Chapelle. When ranging a heavy gun on the German trenches, he stayed up over two hours in heavy rain, with clouds at about 500 feet. At one time he found him self in a cloud on the far side of the German trenches; but, after coming back under heavy fire, he continued to observe with the greatest bravery and skill, only returning when too dark for more work. His gallant conduct resulted in 10 direct hits on the enemy's parapet.

Second Lieutenant (temporary Lieutenant) Harold Henry Walton, 7th (Robin Hood) Battalion, The Sherwood Foresters (Nottinghamshire and Derbyshire Regiment), Territorial Force.

For conspicuous gallantry and energy on several occasions:—On the night of 30th-31st July, 1915, near Ypres, when ordered to re-occupy an advanced sap, he was heavily bombarded with trench mortars and rifle grenades, several of his men being killed and buried; but by his cheerful example and gallant conduct he kept his men in hand and held on to his position. Had the enemy been able to get a footing in it the defence of the next trench would have been very difficult.

On the night of 3rd-4th August he led a patrol up an evacuated trench. It was not known if it was occupied by the enemy or not, and the information he brought back was of great value.

Lieutenant Walton has frequently reconnoitred close up to the enemy's trenches and obtained valuable information.

Temporary Second Lieutenant Raymond Burke Williams, 176th Company, Royal Engineers.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty at Givenchy on 25th August, 1915, when in charge of a mine. He went down the gallery immediately after the end had been blown in and ordered the men out owing to gas fumes. He then endeavoured to rescue the men till he was himself overcome by fumes, and had to be dragged out; but as soon as he recovered he again went half way down the mine and directed further rescue operations.

Second Lieutenant Williams has been in charge of mines in the Givenchy area since 7th July, and has consistently shown the greatest coolness in difficult operations necessitating rapid charging and blowing up of mines in very close proximity to the enemy's counter mines.

(Extract from the London Gazette, dated 18th October, 1915.)

The rank of Lt. was incorrectly shewn against the name of Arthur Rimington Glazebrook, 17th Battalion, West Yorkshire Regiment (Territorial Force), on page 8341 of the London Gazette, dated 6th September, 1913—it should have been 2nd Lieutenant.

(Extract from the London Gazette, dated 28th October 1915.),

His Majesty the KING has been pleased to confer the undermentioned reward for distinguished service in the Field, in connection with the recent military operations in Togoland.

Awarded the Military Cross.

Captain Cecil Geoffrey Hornby, East Lancashire Regiment.

(Extract from the London Gazette, dated 29th October, 1915.)

His Majesty the KING has been graciously pleased to confer the Military Cross on the undermentioned Officers, in recognition of their gallantry and devotion to duty in the Field:—

Captain Thomas Ralph Eastwood, The Rifle Brigade (The Prince Consort's Own).

For conspicuous gallantry and ability during operations on 6th-7th August, 1915, in the Gallipoli peninsula. He guided the night advance of his brigade with skill and resource, especially when the head of the column came under the enemy's fire. Owing to the severity of the opposition the advance came gradually to a standstill, and at this point Captain Eastwood rendered very valuable service in reorganising the column, thus enabling it to continue the advance.

Captain Percy Howard Hansen, MC, Adjutant 6th (Service) Battalion, The Lincolnshire Regiment.

For conspicuous gallantry at Suvia Bay on 9th September, 1915. He made a reconnaissance of the coast, stripping himself and carrying only a revolver and a blanket for disguise.

He swam and scrambled over rocks, which severely cut and bruised him, and obtained some valuable information and located a gun which was causing much damage. The undertaking was hazardous. On one occasion he met a patrol of 12 Turks who did not see him, and later a single Turk whom he killed. He returned to our lines in a state of great exhaustion.

Captain Owen Gendower Howell-Price, 3rd Battalion (New South Wales), Australian Imperial Force.

For conspicuous gallantry on August 7th, 1915, in the attack on Lone Pine, Gallipoli peninsula. He showed the greatest bravery in leading an attack against the Turkish trenches, frequently rallying his men under heavy fire, and restoring order at critical moments. He killed three Turks with his own hands.

Captain John Joseph Kavanagh, 3rd Battalion, The Connaught Rangers, attached 1st Battalion.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty on 25th September, 1915, when on special observation duty in a "crow's nest" in a very exposed building. From 6 a.m. onwards throughout the day, although under very heavy fire, he continued to send in most valuable information. His post was struck by four direct hits, but he only left it to put his orderlies under cover. He showed great nerve and determination.

Captain Lionel Wilmot Brabazon Rees, Royal Artillery and Royal Flying Corps.

For conspicuous gallantry and skill on several occasions, notably the following:—On 21st September, 1915, when flying a machine with one machine gun, accompanied by Flight-Sergeant Hargreaves, he sighted a large German biplane with two machine guns, 600 feet below him. He spiralled down and dived at the enemy, who, having the faster machine, manoeuvred to get him broadside on and then opened heavy fire. In spite of this Captain Rees pressed his attack and apparently succeeded in hitting the enemy's engine, for the machine made a quick turn, gained some distance and finally fell just inside the German lines near Herbecourt.

On 28th July he attacked and drove down a hostile monoplane in spite of the fact that the main spar of his machine had been shot through and the rear spar shattered.

On 31st August, accompanied by Flight-Sergeant Hargreaves, he fought a German machine more powerful than his own for three-quarters of an hour, then returned for more ammunition and went out to the attack again, finally bringing the enemy's machine down apparently wrecked.

Lieutenant (temporary Captain) Henry Alexander Hammick, 6th Battalion, The Manchester Regiment, Territorial Force

For conspicuous gallantry during operations at Helles, Gallipoli peninsula. After the attack on June 4th, 1915, he was the senior surviving company officer of his battalion, and for three days and nights held a section of the forward position with skill and coolness.

On the night of August 12-13th he showed great bravery and enterprise in the recapture of a trench occupied by the enemy, and held a barricade for five hours against continuous bomb attacks till the position was secured. The only other officer with him was killed.

Lieutenant Francis John Hext, 129th Battery, Royal Field Artillery.

For conspicuous gallantry and determination when Forward Observer with the infantry on 25th September, 1915. He first directed the fire of his battery, and then, following up the infantry himself, set up a continual stream of accurate and valuable information. Though both his telephonists were wounded he continued to get messages through, and was practically never out of touch the whole day. He showed great coolness, resource, and tenacity. Lieutenant Hext had previously been brought to notice for good service.

Temporary Lieutenant Allau Noel Minns, 88th Field Ambulance, Royal Army Medical Corps.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty at Suvia Bay, Gallipoli peninsula, on 8th August, 1915, when attending to the wounded under heavy shrapnel fire. Another officer who was assisting him was killed. Lieutenant Minns later returned to the dressing station, took out 12 stretcher squads and brought in 24 wounded men.

REWARDS FOR SERVICE IN THE FIELD—contd.

MILITARY CROSS—contd.

Lieutenant Percy John Ross, 7th Battery, Field Artillery, Australian Imperial Force.

For conspicuous gallantry in the attack on Lone Pine on 6th and 7th August, 1915, when he kept his gun in action for 48 hours, although continuously attacked at close range by superior gun fire. His gun emplacement was several times almost completely demolished, and he himself was finally wounded. Lieutenant Ross rendered very valuable assistance to the infantry in the attack through his determination to keep his gun in action at all costs.

Temporary Captain Thomas Scott Syers, 147th Brigade Ammunition Column, Royal Field Artillery.

For conspicuous gallantry and determination on 9th August, 1915, in the Gallipoli peninsula. He was in charge of some mortars, and, although heavily shelled, succeeded in totally destroying a hostile trench, and only ceased firing when he and his mortars were buried through the parapet being blown in. Again, on 24th August, when bombarding the enemy, three shells bursting remarkably stunned him, but, when he recovered, he continued to fire and demolished the enemy's trench. He was then sent to hospital suffering from severe shock.

Lieutenant (temporary Captain) William Harry Tapp, 2nd Dragoon Guards (Queen's Bays), Special Reserve.

For conspicuous gallantry on 2nd October, 1915, near Loos.

In order to fix observation points and correct contours on a map of "Hill 70," he took a plane table into the front line of trenches and carried out a survey. His work has been checked and found most accurate, although it was carried out under a continuous fire, which his plane table attracted.

Temporary Lieutenant Cornelius Thorne, 8th Battalion, The East Surrey Regiment.

For conspicuous gallantry on 23rd September, 1915, near Fricourt. His brother, Second Lieutenant M. Thorne, also in the 8th Battalion, East Surrey Regiment, was shot while out on patrol, and it was not known if he had been killed. Three unsuccessful attempts had been made to bring him in when Lieutenant C. Thorne came down from another part of the line, and with his soldier servant, Private Hine, went out under heavy machine-gun fire, found his brother, and carried him back. It was then found that Second Lieutenant M. Thorne had been killed.

Temporary Lieutenant Harry Bertram Walker, M.B., Royal Army Medical Corps, attached 9th Battalion, York and Lancaster Regiment.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty near Armentières on 25th September, 1915. A battery was being heavily shelled, but he proceeded at once to a trench where the wounded stood out of the guns. While doing this the next gun was put out of action, all the detachment being killed, but he continued to attend to the wounded till the arrival of the Field Ambulance.

Second Lieutenant (temporary Captain) Robert William Beacham, The Prince of Wales's Own (West Yorkshire Regiment), Adjutant, 6th (Service) Battalion, The Northamptonshire Regiment.

For conspicuous gallantry on the night of 28th September, 1915, at Fricourt. After the explosion of the enemy's mines he went out on his own initiative and investigated the newly formed crater, coming under fire at close range. He then returned, organized a working party, dug out a new line, and completed a new trench under fire. His gallant example gave confidence to the working party, and the new trench now forms an important addition to the defences of this section.

Second Lieutenant (temporary Lieutenant) Charles Stuart Peddie Black, 1/6th (City of Glasgow) Battalion, The Highland Light Infantry, Territorial Force.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty in the Gallipoli Peninsula on 21st July, 1915. The commander of his company being wounded he took command and led the company successfully against the enemy's trenches, holding on to the position which he had captured, and with great personal bravery repelling several severe bomb attacks. Although wounded in the head he held on for two hours, till the enemy were finally repulsed and the position made safe.

Temporary Second Lieutenant Henry Hugh Whitelock Boyes, 1/10th Battalion The Prince of Wales's (North Staffordshire Regiment).

For conspicuous gallantry during mine operations in the Gallipoli Peninsula on 13th-14th September, 1915. He was at the head of a gallery when the enemy broke in, but, after killing some with his revolver and compelling the rest to withdraw, he completed the preparations for exploding a charge which blew in the Turkish gallery.

Fighting was still in progress while he was doing this work.

Temporary Second Lieutenant Charles Emerson Clouting, 1st Battalion, The Buffs (East Kent Regiment).

For conspicuous gallantry on the night of the 21st September, 1915, near Forward Cottage, when on patrol duty with Captain Colville, 1st Shropshire Light Infantry. Captain Colville was shot within 15 yards of the German sap which they were reconnoitring, and, although Second Lieutenant Clouting endeavoured to drag him back, he was unable to do so. It was uncertain whether Captain Colville was still alive, and, after the return of the patrol, a rescue party was led back by Second Lieutenant Clouting. He found Captain Colville dead, and, recognising that numbers would be a source of danger, he sent all his party back except Serjeant Baker. These two crawled back under heavy fire, dragging the body with them. There was a bright moonlight at the time.

Second Lieutenant Archibald Kirkwood Dodds, 5th (City of London) Battalion, The London Regiment (London Rifle Brigade), Territorial Force, attached 181st Company, Royal Engineers.

For conspicuous gallantry on 2nd October, 1915, near Laventie. He entered a mine gallery, which was in a highly dangerous condition owing to gas, and rescued one of a party who had all been rendered unconscious by the fumes. He afterwards twice re-entered the gallery, and continued his attempts at rescue till he collapsed and became unconscious himself.

Second Lieutenant Leslie Flindlater, 3rd Battalion, The Manchester Regiment, attached 1st Battalion.

For conspicuous gallantry and resource on 25th September, 1915, near Nenne Chapel.

Believing the trenches opposite him to be occupied by our troops he led his platoon up to the barbed wire, which he cut and passed through before he was discovered by Germans who were holding the trenches in force.

He ordered the platoon to retire, while he himself, with Private Edwards, covered the movement by throwing bombs into the trench. His gallant action was so effective that the retirement was carried out in good order and with little loss.

Second Lieutenant Alfred William Gates, 3rd Battalion, The Prince of Wales's Volunteers (South Lancashire Regiment), attached 2nd Battalion.

For conspicuous gallantry on the morning of 25th September, 1915, near Hooge. He advanced twice to the assault with a party of bombers, but was compelled to retire owing to casualties. On the second occasion he reached the enemy's wire entanglement, which he personally endeavoured to cut under heavy shell and rifle fire.

Second Lieutenant Martin Heming Gillies, 21st (County of London) Battalion, The London Regiment (1st Surrey Rifles), Territorial Force.

For conspicuous gallantry at Maroc between 3rd and 24th September, 1915, when he carried out reconnaissances at night between the British and German front trenches. He obtained most valuable information on the nights of 12th/13th and 23rd/24th, when he patrolled right up to the German wire. Although wounded on the latter occasion in two places he refused assistance for fear of drawing fire on his patrol, and crawled back independently.

Temp. Second Lieutenant Henry Bayley Reginald Grey-Edwards, Royal Artillery and Royal Flying Corps.

For conspicuous gallantry and skill on 25th September, 1915, on the Phalempin-Sectin line, when he bombed a train and damaged the track from a height of 400 feet under heavy rifle fire.

He was attacked by an enemy aeroplane but drove it off. He also brought back a very useful reconnaissance report. This was all carried out under bad weather conditions.

Second Lieutenant Ernest William Frost Hammond, Honourable Artillery Company, Infantry, Territorial Force.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty during a bomb fight at Sanctuary Wood on 30th September, 1915. Although severely wounded in the right side during the afternoon and unable to use his right arm, he remained at the front, using his left arm, till after night-fall, when he would have been compelled to retire.

Second Lieutenant Sidney Phillip Hannam, Royal Field Artillery, Special Reserve.

For conspicuous gallantry and ability on 25th September, 1915, near Monin D'Artois, when, acting as Forward Observing Officer with an infantry battalion, he kept up communication with his battery throughout the day under heavy fire, and sent back valuable information.

Temporary Second Lieutenant Claud Francis Spurrel Jameson, 178th Tunnelling Company, Royal Engineers.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty on 21st August, 1915, near Fricourt, when leading a rescue party in a mine gallery foul with gas and in total darkness. The conditions were most difficult and dangerous. Second Lieutenant Jameson was mainly instrumental in saving the life of one man, and though partially overcome by gas, he descended again into the gallery and assisted to recover the body of an Officer who had been killed while searching for missing men.

Temporary Second Lieutenant Thomas William Gerald Johnson, 5th Battalion, The Connaught Rangers.

For conspicuous gallantry in the Gallipoli peninsula on several occasions, notably the following:—

On 8th August, 1915, during the attack on Lone Pine, when he showed the greatest personal bravery.

On 21st August, during the attack on the wells and trenches at Kabak Kuyu, when he led his men in the most dashing manner, and entering the Turkish trenches bayoneted 7 Turks with his own hands.

Second Lieutenant Selden Herbert Long, The Durham Light Infantry and Royal Flying Corps.

For conspicuous gallantry on several occasions, notably the following:—

On 10th September, 1915, he went out to attack an observation balloon shed with a 100-lb. bomb, but, being heavily fired at by an anti-aircraft battery, he silenced the guns with this bomb and returned for another one, with which he attacked the balloon. He only narrowly missed it as it was being deflated beside the shed.

On 23rd September he made two determined attacks on trains from 500 feet, breaking the rails in two places. On the first occasion he returned to the attack three times, and finally climbed to 1,000 feet in order to make better use of his bomb sight; on the second occasion he made most of his return journey at 1,000 feet in order better to examine villages, roads, etc.

On 25th September he attacked a train at 500 feet under heavy rifle fire, and damaged the line.

Late in the afternoon of 25th September he heard that trains were moving at 25 miles distance, and, in spite of darkness and bad weather, he volunteered to attack them. Heavy rain prevented his reaching them, so he turned to attack Peronne station, descending to 500 feet and coming under heavy anti-aircraft gun fire. This fire prevented his reaching the station, but he climbed to 1,500 feet and attacked a "Rocket" battery, silencing one of its guns.

Temporary Second Lieutenant Robert McPherson, New Zealand Field Artillery.

For conspicuous gallantry during operations in the Gallipoli peninsula, on 27th and 28th August, 1915. His battery was heavily shelled by high explosive shells during an assault on "Hill 60." One gun was put out of action, and a pit containing over 50 high explosive shells became surrounded by blazing brushwood. On a slight explosion had already taken place when Second Lieutenant McPherson, at great personal risk, went down into the pit and assisted in extinguishing the fire.

Temporary Second Lieutenant Edwin Cooper Scott, 12th Battalion, The Duke of Cambridge's Own (Middlesex Regiment), attached 178th Tunnelling Company, Royal Engineers.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty near Tamhour du Clos, where on two occasions he organised and led parties to the rescue of gassed miners. On the second occasion, 6th September 1915, he led a party down a shaft 55 feet deep and saved the lives of six miners who were gassed. He remained down till he thought all were rescued, and was then brought up, himself almost overcome, and laid on a bed; but, on hearing that all the miners had not been rescued, he endeavoured to return, although still suffering from the effects of gas. He showed great coolness and absolute disregard of personal danger.

Second Lieutenant John Harold Swan, 5th Battalion, The Northumberland Fusiliers, Territorial Force.

For conspicuous gallantry on the night of 25th-26th September, 1915, near Armentieres. A Serjeant who was engaged in forming the German trenches under Second Lieutenant Swan was severely wounded. Though exposed to heavy rifle fire and lighted up by flares, Second Lieutenant Swan remained with the Serjeant within a few yards of the German wire, attempted to bandage him, and gradually dragged him back on a coat while the Germans continued to fire. Aided by an Officer and stretcher-bearers who came out, the wounded Serjeant was at last brought in, but not before he had been again wounded.

Second Lieutenant Douglas Archibald Colquhoun Symington, Royal Flying Corps, Special Reserve.

For conspicuous gallantry and skill on 26th September, 1915, when he demolished part of a train which was moving towards St. Amand by bombs dropped from a height of 500 feet. A large portion of the train was completely wrecked, and he observed dead horses thrown out of it by the explosion. The remainder of the train was unable to proceed.

Second Lieutenant Noel Edwin Webster, 1st/7th (Robin Hood) Battalion, The Sherwood Foresters (Nottinghamshire and Derbyshire Regiment), Territorial Force, attached 139th Brigade, Mining Section.

For conspicuous gallantry near Hulleboke, on 23rd September, 1915. The enemy exploded a mine, thereby blowing up a portion of one of our galleries near which three men were working. Second Lieutenant Webster and Lieut.-Colonel Boot immediately went to the Galleries to try and save some men who were missing. After they had been repeatedly driven back by gas Private Aitchborough went down with air piping, but found the missing man dead. All three were severely gassed.

Temporary Second Lieutenant John Christian White, 7th Battalion, The Border Regiment.

For conspicuous gallantry and determination on 26th September, 1915, near Hooge, while leading a bombing party to assist another infantry battalion. The bombers were driven back through heavy casualties but Second Lieutenant White held on till only he and one bomber were left, when heavy shelling forced them to retire.

Subadar-Major Gambir Sing Punn, 1st Battalion, 6th Gurkha Rifles.

For conspicuous gallantry on 6th August, 1915, on Chuhuk Bair, when he set a splendid example of bravery under very trying conditions. Not only on 6th August but throughout the hard hand-to-hand fighting which followed he showed himself to be a leader of remarkable merit and undaunted courage.

REWARDS FOR SERVICE IN THE FIELD--contd.

For conspicuous gallantry and resource on the 24th July, 1915, throughout the action near Nasiriyah (Mesopotamia). Although severely wounded Company Serjeant-Major Newbrook remained with his command until the end of the day's operations, giving a fine example of bravery and devotion to duty.

For conspicuous gallantry and ability on the 24th July, 1915, near Nasiriyah (Mesopotamia), when he was one of the first to reach the enemy's trenches, and later on led several bayonet charges in the close fighting which ensued.
