PROMOTIONS AND REWARDS FOR SERVICE IN THE BATTLE OF JUTLAND.

(Extracts from the London Gazette, dated 15th September, 1916.)

Admiralty.
15th September, 1916.

The KING has been graciously pleased to approve of the grant of the Victoria Cross to the under-mentioned Officers in recognition of their bravery and devotion to duty :—

Major Francis John William Harvey, R.M.L.I. (killed in action).

Whilst mortally wounded and almost the only survivor after the explosion of an enemy shell in "Q" gunhouse, with great presence of mind and devotion to duty ordered the magazine to be flooded, thereby saving the ship. He died shortly afterwards.

The KING has been graciously pleased to give orders for the following appointments to the Distinguished Service Order to the under-mentioned Officers in recognition of their services :—

To be Companions of the Distinguished Service Order :—

Captain Edward Bamford, R.M.L.I.

In after control when it was blown to pieces by a shell hurst. Slightly hurnt in face and slightly wounded in leg. Then assisted to work one gun with a much reduced crew, and controlled another gun. Assisted in extinguishing a fire, and in general showed great coolness, power of command, judgment and courage, when exposed to a very heavy fire.

PROMOTIONS AND REWARDS FOR SERVICE IN THE BATTLE OF JUTLAND—contd.

The following promotions, etc., have been made in recognition of the services mentioned:—

Major Arthur George Troup, R.M.A., to be Brevet Lieutenant-Colonel.

Recommended for service in action.

Captain Robert Edgar Kilvert, R.M.A., to be Major. Was in command of "X" turret during the action, and as commanding Officer of the Marine detachment, is recommended as having specially contributed to the general efficiency of the ship.

Captain Richmond Campbell Shakespear Waller, R.M.L.I., to be Brevet Major.

Vice-Admiral Sir Doveton Sturdee reports:—

"This Officer has served continuously in the Home and Grand Fleet from April 1913, and has been in charge of the wireless organisation of Battle Squadron since the commencement of hostilities. This Squadron was composed of new ships of various types which had been hurriedly completed, and the work entailed in bringing the wireless installations of ships designed for foreign powers into effective working order was carried out entirely satisfactorily. Is unceasing in his endeavours to improve the wireless of the Squadron, and has been of valuable assistance since 1 have been in command; an excellent Marine Officer."

Lieutenant Harold Marsland Franks, R.M.A., to be Captain and Brevet Major.

Vice-Admiral Sir David Beatty reports:

"W/T Officer on my Staff. Showed great skill and resource in maintaining the vitally important wireless communications throughout the action, despite the fact that aerials were shot away and required constant repair. An Officer of high technical skill."

Royal Marine Gunner George Allan to be Lieutenant-Royal Marines.

Vice-Admiral Sir Doveton Sturdee reports:

"This Officer has served afloat for the whole of the war and is the Senior Warrant Officer, R.M., in the Squadron." He was recommended for commissioned rank by the Squadron selection committee on 14th January, 1916. Is fully worthy of promotion."

Royal Marine Gunner John Edward Flower, to be Lieutenant, Royal Marines.

Recommended for good service in action.

All the above to date 30th June, 1916.

The following Officer is noted for Brevet Major on attaining the rank of Captain, Royal Marines:—

Lieutenant Henry Loftus Mitchell McCausland, R.M.L.I.

The senior marine subaltern in the Squadron. Very highly recommended by his captain.

REWARDS FOR SERVICE IN THE FIELD.

VICTORIA CROSS.

(Extract from the London Gazette, dated 5th September, 1916.)

War Office,
5th September, 1916.

Lt. William Leefe Robinson, Worc. R. and R.F.C.

For most conspicuous bravery. He attacked an enemy airship under circumstances of great difficulty and danger, and sent it crashing to the ground as a flaming wreck.

He had been in the air for more than two hours, and had previously attacked another airship during his flight.

War Office,
9th September, 1916.

Temp. Maj. Stewart Walter Loudoun Shand, late York. R.

For most conspicuous bravery. When his company attempted to climb over the parapet to attack the enemy's trenches, they were met by very fierce machine gun fire, which temporarily stopped their progress. Maj. Loudoun Shand immediately leapt on the parapet, helped the men over it, and encouraged them in every way until he fell mortally wounded.

Even then he insisted on being propped up in the trench, and went on encouraging the non-commissioned officers and men until he died.

Capt. (temp. Lt.-Col.) Adrian Cartier de Wiart, D.S.O., Dn. Gds.

For most conspicuous bravery, coolness, and determination during severe operations of a prolonged nature. It was owing in a great measure to his dauntless courage and inspiring example that a serious reverse was averted.

He displayed the utmost energy and courage in forcing our attack home. After three other Battalion Commanders had become casualties, he controlled their commands, and ensured that the ground won was maintained at all costs.

He frequently exposed himself in the organisation of positions and of supplies, passing unflinchingly through the fire barrage of the most intense nature.

His gallantry was inspiring to all.

Temp. Lt. Geoffrey St. George Shillington Cather, late R. Ir Fus.

For most conspicuous bravery. From 7 p.m. till midnight he searched "No Man's Land," and brought in three wounded men.

Next morning at 8 a.m. he continued his search brought in another wounded man, and gave water to others, arranging for their rescue later. Finally, at 10.30 a.m. he took out water to another man, and was proceeding further on when he was himself killed.

All this was carried out in full view of the enemy, and under direct machine gun fire and intermittent artillery fire.

He set a splendid example of courage and self-sacrifice.

2nd Lt. Arthur Seaforth Blackburn, Austrln. Infy.

For most conspicuous bravery. He was directed with fifty men to drive the enemy from a strong point. By dogged determination he eventually captured their trench after personally leading four separate parties of bombers against it, many of whom became casualties.

In face of fierce opposition he captured 250 yards of trench. Then, after crawling forward with a sergeant to reconnoitre he returned, attacked and seized another 120 yards of trench, establishing communication with the battalion on his left.

Temp 2nd Lt. Donald Simpson Bell, late York. R.

For most conspicuous bravery. During an attack a very heavy enfilade fire was opened on the attacking company by a hostile machine gun. 2nd Lt. Bell immediately, and on his own initiative, crept up a communication trench and then, followed by Corpl. Colwill and Pte. Batey, rushed across the open under very heavy fire and attacked the machine gun, shooting the firer with his revolver, and destroying gun and personnel with bombs.

This very brave act saved many lives and ensured the success of the attack.

Five days later this gallant officer lost his life performing a very similar act of bravery.

No. 4 Coy. S.M. Nelson Victor Carter, late R. Huss. R.

For most conspicuous bravery. During an attack he was in command of the fourth wave of the assault. Under intense shell and machine gun fire he penetrated, with a few men, into the enemy's second line and inflicted heavy casualties with bombs. When forced to retire to the enemy's first line, he captured a machine gun and shot the gunner with his revolver. Finally, after carrying several wounded men into safety, he was himself mortally wounded and died in a few minutes.

His conduct throughout the day was magnificent.

No. 3203 Cpl. George Sanders, W. Yorks. R.

For most conspicuous bravery. After an advance into the enemy's trenches, he found himself isolated with a party of thirty men. He organised his defences, detailed a bombing party, and impressed on his men that his and their duty was to hold the position at all costs.

Next morning he drove off an attack by the enemy and rescued some prisoners who had fallen into their hands. Later two strong bombing attacks were beaten off. On the following day he was relieved after showing the greatest courage, determination and good leadership during 36 hours under very trying conditions.

All this time his party was without food and water, having given all their water to the wounded during the first night. After the relieving force was firmly established, he brought his party, nineteen strong, back to our trenches.

No. 3055 Pte. Thomas Cooke, late Austrln. Infy.

For most conspicuous bravery. After a Lewis gun had been disabled, he was ordered to take his gun and gun-team to a dangerous part of the line. Here he did fine work, but came under very heavy fire, with the result that finally he was the only man left. He still stuck to his post, and continued to fire his gun.

When assistance was sent he was found dead beside his gun. He set a splendid example of determination and devotion to duty.

No. 4073 Pte. William Frederick Faulds, South African Infy.

For most conspicuous bravery and devotion to duty. A bombing party under Lieut. Craig attempted to rush across 40 yards of ground which lay between the British and enemy trenches. Coming under very heavy rifle and machine gun fire the officer and the majority of the party were killed or wounded.

Unable to move, Lieut. Craig lay midway between the two lines of trench, the ground being quite open.

In full daylight Pte. Faulds, accompanied by two other men, climbed over the parapet, ran out, picked up the officer, and carried him back, one man being severely wounded in so doing.

Two days later Private Faulds again showed most conspicuous bravery in going out alone to bring in a wounded man, and carrying him nearly half a mile to a dressing station, subsequently rejoining his platoon. The artillery fire was at the time so intense that stretcher-bearers and others considered that any attempt to bring in the wounded meant certain death. This risk Private Faulds faced unflinchingly, and his bravery was crowned with success.

No. 2579 Pte. James Hutchinsan, Lan. Fus.

For most conspicuous bravery. During an attack on the enemy's position, this soldier was the leading man, and, entering their trench, shot two sentries and cleared two of the traverses.

After our object had been gained, and retirement ordered, Private Hutchinsan, on his own initiative, undertook the dangerous task of covering the retirement, and he did this with such gallantry and determination that the wounded were removed into safety. During all this time this gallant soldier was exposed to fierce fire from machine-guns and rifles at close quarters.

No. 588 Pte. William Jackson, Austrln. Infy.

For most conspicuous bravery. On the return from a successful raid, several members of the raiding party were seriously wounded in "No Man's Land" by shell fire. Private Jackson got back safely and, after handing over a prisoner whom he had brought in, immediately went out again under heavy shell fire and assisted in bringing in a wounded man. He then went out again, and with a sergeant was bringing in another wounded man when his arm was blown off by a shell and the sergeant was rendered unconscious.

He then returned to our trenches, obtained assistance, and went out again to look for his two wounded comrades.

He set a splendid example of pluck and determination. His work has always been marked by the greatest coolness and bravery.

No. 2053 Pte. John Leak, Austrln. Infy.

For most conspicuous bravery. He was one of a party which finally captured an enemy strong point. At one assault, when the enemy's bombs were outraging ours, Private Leak jumped out of the trench, ran forward under heavy machine-gun fire at close range, and threw three bombs into the enemy's bombing post. He then jumped into the post and bayoneted three unwounded enemy bombers.

Later, when the enemy in overwhelming numbers was driving his party back, he was always the last to withdraw at each stage, and kept on throwing bombs.

His courage and energy had such an effect on the enemy that, on the arrival of reinforcements, the whole trench was recaptured.

REWARDS FOR SERVICE IN THE FIELD—VICTORIA CROSS—contd.

No. 14/18278 Pte. William Frederick McFadzean, late R. Ir. Rif.

For most conspicuous bravery. While in a concentration trench and opening a box of bombs for distribution prior to an attack, the box slipped down into the trench, which was crowded with men and two of the safety pins fell out. Private McFadzean, instantly realising the danger to his comrades, with heroic courage threw himself on the top of the bombs.

The bombs exploded, blowing him to pieces, but only one other man was injured. He well knew his danger, being himself a bomber, but without a moment's hesitation he gave his life for his comrades.

No. 12639 Private James Miller, late R. Lanc. R.

For most conspicuous bravery. His battalion was consolidating a position after its capture by assault. Private Miller was ordered to take an important message under heavy shell fire and to bring back a reply at all costs.

He was compelled to cross the open, and on leaving the trench was shot almost immediately in the back, the bullet coming out through his abdomen. In spite of this, with heroic courage and self-sacrifice, he compressed with his hand the gaping wound in his abdomen, delivered his message, staggered back with the answer, and fell at the feet of the officer to whom he delivered it.

He gave his life with a supreme devotion to duty.

No. 3970 Pte. Martin O'Meara, Austrln. Inf.

For most conspicuous bravery. During four days of very heavy fighting he repeatedly went out and brought in wounded officers and men from "No Man's Land" under intense artillery and machine gun fire.

He also volunteered and carried up ammunition and bombs through a heavy barrage to a portion of the trenches, which was being heavily shelled at the time.

He showed throughout an utter contempt of danger, and undoubtedly saved many lives.

No. 12/18645 Pte. Robert Quigg, R. Ir. Rif.

For most conspicuous bravery. He advanced to the assault with his platoon three times. Early next morning, hearing a rumour that his platoon officer was lying out wounded, he went out seven times to look for him under heavy shell and machine gun fire, each time bringing back a wounded man. The last man he dragged in on a waterproof sheet from within a few yards of the enemy's wire.

He was seven hours engaged in this most gallant work, and finally was so exhausted that he had to give it up.

No. 68 Dmr. Walter Ritchie, Sea. Highrs.

For most conspicuous bravery and resource, when on his own initiative he stood on the parapet of an enemy trench, and, under heavy machine gun fire and bomb attacks, repeatedly sounded the "Charge," thereby rallying many men of various units who, having lost their leaders, were wavering and beginning to retire.

This action showed the highest type of courage and personal initiative.

Throughout the day Drummer Ritchie carried messages over fire-swept ground, showing the greatest devotion to duty.

No. 12067 Pte. William Short, late York. R.

For most conspicuous bravery. He was foremost in the attack, bombing the enemy with great gallantry, when he was severely wounded in the foot. He was urged to go back, but refused and continued to throw bombs.

Later his leg was shattered by a shell, and he was unable to stand, so he lay in the trench adjusting detonators and straightening the pins of bombs for his comrades.

He died before he could be carried out of the trench. For the last eleven months he had always volunteered for dangerous enterprises, and has always set a magnificent example of bravery and devotion to duty.

No. 20572 Pte. Thomas George Turrall, Worc. R.

For most conspicuous bravery and devotion to duty. During a bombing attack by a small party against the enemy the officer in charge was badly wounded, and the party having penetrated the position to a great depth was compelled eventually to retire.

Private Turrall remained with the wounded officer for three hours, under continuous and very heavy fire from machine guns and bombs, and, notwithstanding that both himself and the officer were at one time completely cut off from our troops, he held to his ground with determination, and finally carried the officer into our lines after our counter-attacks had made this possible.

No. 10799 Pte. Theodore William Henry Veale, Devon. R.

For most conspicuous bravery. Hearing that a wounded officer was lying out in front, Private Veale went out in search, and found him lying amidst growing corn within fifty yards of the enemy. He dragged the officer to a shell hole, returned for water and took it out. Finding he could not single-handed carry in the officer, he returned for assistance, and took out two volunteers. One of the party was killed when carrying the officer, and heavy fire necessitated leaving the officer in a shell hole.

At dusk Private Veale went out again with volunteers to bring in the officer. Whilst doing this an enemy patrol was observed approaching.

Private Veale at once went back and procured a Lewis gun, and with the fire of the gun he covered the party, and the officer was finally carried to safety.

The courage and determination displayed was of the highest order.

Rev. William Robert Fountaine Addison, temp. Chapl. to the Forces, 4th Class, Army Chapl. Dept.

For most conspicuous bravery. He carried a wounded man to the cover of a trench, and assisted several others to the same cover, after binding up their wounds under heavy rifle and machine gun fire.

In addition to these unaltd efforts, by his splendid example and utter disregard of personal danger, he encouraged the stretcher-bearers to go forward under heavy fire and collect the wounded.

2nd Lt. Edward Felix Baxter, late L'pool R.

For most conspicuous bravery. Prior to a raid on the hostile line he was engaged during two nights in cutting wire close to the enemy's trenches. The enemy could be heard on the other side of the parapet.

2nd Lt. Baxter, while assisting in the wire cutting, held a bomb in his hand with the pin withdrawn ready to throw. On one occasion the bomb slipped and fell to the ground, but he instantly picked it up, unscrewed the base plug, and took out the detonator, which he smothered in the ground, thereby preventing the alarm being given, and undoubtedly saving many casualties. Later he led the left storming party with the greatest gallantry, and was the first man into the trench, shooting the sentry with his revolver. He then assisted to bomb dugouts, and finally climbed out of the trench and assisted the last man over the parapet.

After this he was not seen again, though search parties went out at once to look for him. There seems no doubt that he lost his life in his great devotion to duty.

Temp. Capt. Eric Norman Frankland Bell, late R. Innis Fus.

For most conspicuous bravery. He was in command of a Trench Mortar Battery, and advanced with the infantry in the attack. When our front line was hung up by enflading machine gun fire Capt. Bell crept forward and shot the machine gunner.

Later, on no less than three occasions, when our bombing parties, which were clearing the enemy's trenches, were unable to advance, he went forward alone and threw Trench Mortar bombs among the enemy. When he had no more bombs available he stood on the parapet, under intense fire, and used a rifle with great coolness and effect on the enemy advancing to counter-attack.

Finally he was killed rallying and re-organising infantry parties which had lost their officers.

All this was outside the scope of his normal duties with his battery. He gave his life in his supreme devotion to duty.

Lt. (temp Capt.) Angus Buchanan, S. Wales Bord.

For most conspicuous bravery. During an attack an officer was lying out in the open severely wounded about 150 yards from cover. Two men went to his assistance and one of them was hit at once. Captain Buchanan, on seeing this, immediately went out and, with the help of the other man, carried the wounded officer to cover under heavy machine gun fire. He then returned and brought in the wounded man, again under heavy fire.

2nd Lt. Edgar Kinghorn Myles, Welsh R.

For most conspicuous bravery. He went out alone on several occasions in front of our advanced trenches, and under heavy rifle fire and at great personal risk, assisted wounded men lying in the open. On one occasion he carried in a wounded officer to a place of safety under circumstances of great danger.

Temp. Lt. Thomas Orde Lawder Wilkinson, late N. Lan. R.

For most conspicuous bravery. During an attack when a party of another unit was retiring without their machine gun, Lt. Wilkinson rushed forward and with two of his men, got the gun into action, and held up the enemy till they were relieved.

Later, when the advance was checked during a bombing attack, he forced his way forward and found four or five men of different units stopped by a solid block of earth, over which the enemy was throwing bombs.

With great pluck and promptness he mounted a machine gun on the top of the parapet and dispersed the enemy ombers. Subsequently he made two most gallant attempts to bring in a wounded man, but the second attempt he was shot through the heart just before reaching the man.

Throughout the day he set a magnificent example of courage and self-sacrifice.

No. 1352 Serjt. Claude Charles Castleton, late Austrian Machine Gun Company.

For most conspicuous bravery. During an attack on the enemy's trenches the infantry was temporarily driven back by the intense machine gun fire opened by the enemy. Many wounded were left in "No Man's Land" lying in shell holes.

Serjt. Castleton went out twice in face of this intense fire and each time brought in a wounded man on his back.

He went out a third time and was bringing in another wounded man when he was himself hit in the back and killed instantly.

He set a splendid example of courage and self-sacrifice.

No. 34314 Corpl. Joseph Davies, R. Welsh Fus.

For most conspicuous bravery. Prior to an attack on the enemy in a wood he became separated with eight men from the rest of his company. When the enemy delivered their second counter attack his party was completely surrounded, but he got them into a shell hole, and, by throwing bombs and opening rapid fire, succeeded in routing them. Not content with this he followed them up in their retreat and bayoneted several of them.

Corpl. Davies set a magnificent example of pluck and determination. He has done other very gallant work, and was badly wounded in the second battle of Ypres.

No. 920 Corpl. Sidney William Ware, late Sea Highrs.

For most conspicuous bravery. An order was given to withdraw to the cover of a communication trench. Corpl. Ware, whose cool gallantry had been very marked during the advance, was one of the few men remaining un wounded.

He picked up a wounded man and carried him some 200 yards to cover, and then returned for others, moving to and fro under very heavy fire for more than two hours until he had brought in all the wounded and was completely exhausted.

No. 1/12220 Pte. James Henry Fynn, S. Wales Bord.

For most conspicuous bravery. After a night attack he was one of a small party which dug in in front of our advanced line and about 300 yards from the enemy's trenches. Seeing several wounded men lying out in front he went out and bandaged them all under heavy fire, making several journeys in order to do so.

He then went back to our advanced trench for a stretcher and, being unable to get one, he himself carried on his back a badly wounded man into safety. He then returned and, aided by another man who was wounded during the act, carried in another badly wounded man.

He was under continuous fire while performing this gallant work.

No. 12330 Pte. Albert Hill, R. Welsh Fus.

For most conspicuous bravery. When his battalion had deployed under very heavy fire for an attack on the enemy in a wood, he dashed forward, when the order to charge was given, and, meeting two of the enemy suddenly, bayoneted them both. He was sent later by his platoon sergeant to get into touch with the company, and, finding himself cut off and almost surrounded by some twenty of the enemy, attacked them with bombs, killing and wounding many and scattering the remainder.

He then joined a sergeant of his company and helped him to fight the way back to the lines.

When he got back, hearing that his Company Officer and a scout were lying out wounded, he went out and assisted to bring in the wounded officer, two other men bringing in the scout.

Finally, he himself captured and brought in as prisoners two of the enemy. His conduct throughout was magnificent.

No. 1635 Naik Shahamad Khan, Punjabis.

For most conspicuous bravery. He was in charge of a machine gun section in an exposed position in front of and covering a gap in our new line, within 150 yards of the enemy's entrenched position. He beat off three counter attacks and worked his gun single-handed after all his men, except two belt-fillers, had become casualties.

For three hours he held the gap under very heavy fire while it was being made secure. When his gun was knocked out by hostile fire he and his two belt-fillers held their ground with rifles till ordered to withdraw.

With three men sent to assist him he then brought back his gun, ammunition, and one severely wounded man unable to walk. Finally, he himself returned and removed all remaining arms and equipment except two shovels.

But for his great gallantry and determination our line must have been penetrated by the enemy.

ORDER OF ST. MICHAEL AND ST. GEORGE.

Chancery of the Order of Saint Michael and Saint George
Downing Street, 6th September, 1916.

The KING has been graciously pleased to give directions for the following appointments to the Most Distinguished Order of St. Michael and St. George, in recognition of services with the Royal Naval Division in the Gallipoli Peninsula:—

To be Additional Members of the Third Class, or Companions of the said Most Distinguished Order:—

Lieut.-Col. (now Col. 2nd Comdt.) Edward James Stroud, R.M.L.I.
Lieut.-Col. Alexander Clebard Hamilton Hutchison, R.M.L.I.
Temp. Lieut.-Col. Leslie Orme Wilson, D.S.O., M.P. (Reserve of Officers, R.M.).

DISTINGUISHED SERVICE ORDER.

Admiralty, S.W.,
6th September, 1916.

The KING has been graciously pleased to give orders for the appointment of the undermentioned Officers to be Companions of the Distinguished Service Order:—

* * * * *

Capt. (temp. Maj.) Reginald Dawson Hopcraft Lough, R.M.L.I.

In recognition of their services with the Royal Naval Division in the Gallipoli Peninsula.

22nd September, 1916.

His Majesty the KING has been graciously pleased to approve of the appointments of the undermentioned Officers to be Companions of the Distinguished Service Order, in recognition of their gallantry and devotion to duty on the field.

Capt. Richard Archer Houlton, R.F.A.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty during operations. He was wounded when wire-cutting under heavy shell fire, but stuck to his duty till two days later, when he was again seriously wounded. He has always shown great coolness and bravery.

Temp. Capt. Lancelot Gerard Bourdillon, R.A.M.C.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. When an officer had been killed carrying in a wounded sergeant, Capt. Bourdillon went out in broad daylight, bandaged the sergeant's wounds, and only came in when certain that the latter could not live.

Temp. Capt. Heratius James Cannan, R.F.A.

For conspicuous gallantry, during a long period of operations in going forward to observe before positions were consolidated. On several occasions he has come in personal contact with the enemy, and acquitted himself most courageously.

His reconnaissances, carried out at great personal risk, have produced much valuable information.

Capt. William Kealty Campbell, M.B., R.A.M.C., Spec. Res.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He went ahead of the bearers and dressed the wounded in the open under heavy shell fire. Whilst establishing advanced dressing stations he was wounded and half-blinded by the explosion of a shell, but carried on his work. He set a splendid example to those around him.

Capt. (temp.) Thomas Healy Hunton Carter, R. War. R.

For conspicuous gallantry. When the explosion of an enemy mine wrecked a portion of the defences, Captain Carter, though oazed by the explosion, rallied the survivors under heavy shell fire and beat off a strong enemy attack. He has constantly shown great courage.

Temp. 2nd Lt. Frank Celfey, York & Lanc. R.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. He led his men to the attack under very heavy fire, and, after being wounded in the face and shoulder and put out of action for some time, he insisted on returning to the front line. Here he continued to do fine work, and was only stopped by being hit again in both wrists.

Temp. 2nd Lt. (temp. Lt.) Sidney Alfred Davis, Gen. List, Comdg. Trench Mortar Batt.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. He worked his guns with great skill and courage, repelling three counter-attacks. Finally he carried his wounded to the dressing station under heavy fire.

REWARDS FOR SERVICE IN THE FIELD—DISTINGUISHED SERVICE ORDER—contd.

Maj. Archibald Jenner Ellis, Bord. R.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. He led his reserve under very heavy machine gun fire till he was severely wounded. After this he continued to direct operations and to re-organize men in "No Man's Land."

Temp. 2nd Lt. Henry Cope Evans, Gen. List, att'd R.F.C.

For conspicuous gallantry and skill on many occasions in attacking hostile aircraft, frequently against large odds. In one fortnight he brought down 4 enemy machines, returning on one occasion with his machine badly damaged.

Temp. 2nd Lt. Arthur William Fraser, Bord. R.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. After suffering heavy casualties he led his company up to the enemy wire at a place where it was uncut. Though severely wounded, twice by bombs and once by rifle fire, he continued to direct the wire-cutting till he lost consciousness.

Temp. Lt. Henry Gallagher, R. Innis. Fus.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. When other officers became casualties he took command and led on his men with great dash. Seeing the enemy firing on our wounded, he got into a shell hole with a private, and shot six enemy snipers with a rifle. Finally he volunteered and with twenty men rescued 28 wounded men under very heavy fire.

2nd Lt. George Wright Glover, Rif. Brig.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. Though twice wounded in the advance, he continued to lead his men forward under heavy machine gun and artillery fire into the enemy's third line, where he organised the defences. Although his left arm was useless, he threw bombs as long as there was any supply. He set a splendid example all day.

Temp. Capt. Roland Ivor Gough, R. War. R.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. He led his men with great dash under heavy machine-gun and rifle fire, and, though his company suffered severely, he reached the enemy's trenches, where he was dangerously wounded. Nevertheless he continued to direct his men until exhausted.

Capt. Ian Cameron Grant, Cam'n Hghrs.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. When the attack was wavering he went forward into the front line and cheered on the troops till he was badly wounded. As Brigade Major he has set a fine example to all the officers in the Brigade.

Temp. Capt. Henry Sidney Hoffman Hall, Royal Fus.

For conspicuous gallantry when leading his company in two attacks, and consolidating and holding a new line at a very critical time, until blinded by a wound, and forced to give up his command. He displayed the greatest coolness and bravery, and set a fine example to both officers and men.

2nd Lt. (temp. Maj.) Henry Malkin Hance, R. of O., Ind. Army.

For conspicuous gallantry during mining operations. He has done fine work and has set an example of great courage and determination under very hazardous conditions.

2nd Lt. (temp. Maj.) Allen Faber Hobson, R.E.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty on many occasions. By his absolute coolness in danger he has set a magnificent example to his company and has carried out important work under trying conditions.

Maj. (temp. Lt.-Col.) John Oliver Hopkinson, Sea. Hghrs.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. He led his battalion against the enemy trenches, captured them and held his ground for 13 hours under heavy fire, repulsing constant attacks. He continued to command after being wounded.

Capt. James Walter Jones, M.B., Ind. Med. Service.

For conspicuous gallantry and presence of mind in closing with a soldier who had lost his reason and was moving along a trench prior to an attack with a bomb in each hand. Realising the situation, Capt. Jones closed with him, and wrenched one bomb from his hand. It immediately started to burn. Capt. Jones threw it some yards away, and it burst on touching the ground. Two officers were injured by the explosion, and several others might have been injured but for this prompt and courageous action.

Capt. John Upton Kelly, Wilts R. and F.F.C.

For conspicuous gallantry and skill on several occasions. When making a reconnaissance he came down to 700 feet under heavy fire, and obtained valuable information. Again, in attempting to observe through clouds, he flew over the enemy lines at 500 feet, and although severely wounded and almost blind, he brought his machine back to our lines.

Capt. John Emilius Laurie, Sea. Hghrs.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. At a critical time he rallied men of various units who were without leaders, did fine work consolidating the position, and helped to repel a bomb attack.

Temp. Capt. John Dunwoody Martin McCallum R. Ir. Rif.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. As senior officer with the battalion he controlled the operations with great skill and courage. He organised the consolidation of the position, moving about utterly regardless of personal danger and encouraging his men.

Maj. Robert Arthur McClymout, R.F.A.

For conspicuous gallantry. For several days he cut the enemy's wire, using an observation post which was exposed to heavy shell fire. Later, during an advance, he maintained communication with his battery, and was enabled to cut hostile wire and frequently to bring the fire of his battery to assist our infantry advance and to resist enemy counter-attacks.

Major Arthur Edward McNamara, R.W. Surr. R.

For conspicuous gallantry during operations. When acting as liaison officer between divisional headquarters and brigades he visited all brigade and battalion headquarters under very heavy shell fire. When both his orderlies were wounded he dressed their wounds under fire. After returning with his report he went out again, and when another orderly was wounded dressed his wounds also. While doing so a piece of shrapnel passed through his own clothing.

Temp. Lt. (temp. Capt.) Lancelot George Miles, R. Hghrs.

For conspicuous gallantry during operations. He handled his company with great skill and coolness during a heavy bombardment. He also led his company with great dash in an assault during which he captured four machine-guns. During the attack he was severely wounded by a bomb.

Temp. Capt. Allister Mackintosh Miller, Cav. and R.F.C.

For conspicuous gallantry and skill when attacking troops on the ground under heavy fire. On one occasion he flew close to the ground along a line of hostile machine-guns, engaging them with his machine-gun, drawing their fire, and enabling the cavalry to advance. Again, when alone, he engaged five enemy machines, bringing one down, and also successfully bombed a troop train, coming down to 300 feet to make sure of hitting.

REWARDS FOR SERVICE IN THE FIELD—DISTINGUISHED SERVICE ORDER—contd.

Temp. Capt. William Alexander Montgomery, R. Ir. Rif.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. For five hours he fought a running fight in the trenches, and held up the enemy's advance. Eventually he threw bombs himself till utterly exhausted, when he had to be carried to our lines. He set a splendid example all day.

Maj. Courtenay Talbot Saint Paul, R.F.A.

For conspicuous gallantry during operations. During two days his battery and observing station were subjected to very heavy shell-fire. His coolness and utter disregard of danger gave great confidence to his battery, and he carried out wire-cutting with great success.

Capt. (temp. Maj.) Geoffrey Tannton Raikes, S. Wales Bord.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. He led forward his reserve under very great difficulty with the greatest coolness and courage. After dark he personally supervised with the withdrawal of his wounded.

Maj. (temp. Lt.-Col.) Edwin Thomas Falkiner Sandys, Midd'x R.

For conspicuous gallantry when leading his battalion and keeping its direction during an attack under very heavy fire. Although wounded in several places, he continued to lead it until further wounds made it no longer possible to do so. The fine behaviour of the battalion was largely due to the Commanding Officer's personal qualities.

Capt. (temp. Maj.) Ernest Cowper Slade, Glouc. R.

For conspicuous gallantry during operations. He organised with great skill bombing attacks, in order to reach two companies which were isolated in a trench further north. On another occasion he was twice buried by shells in one night, but dug himself out and carried on as if nothing had happened.

Temp. Capt. John Edwin Sugden, R. Ir. Rif.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. He took command of a battalion when his C.O. was killed at a critical moment in the advance. Under heavy machine-gun and trench mortar fire he handled the two leading companies with great skill and courage. Later he went back to fetch the two remaining companies. By his courage and fine example he kept the battalion together and reached the enemy line.

Maj. (temp. Lt.-Col.) Philip Edmund Vaughan, Worc. R.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. After a long advance under very heavy machine-gun fire his battalion was held up by wire, but with another officer he forced his way through, got his men into a village, consolidated and held his position there, and captured over 160 prisoners and ten machine-guns.

Capt. (temp. Maj.) Bertram Charles Maximilian Western, E. Lan. R.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. After a long advance over the open under heavy machine-gun fire, he assisted his C.O. to force his way through wire. They led on the men into a village, and held on to their position there, capturing over 160 prisoners and ten machine-guns.

Capt. (temp. Maj.) John Alexander Wilson-Charge, R. War. R.

For conspicuous gallantry during operations. He organised a bombing attack which gained 220 yards of trench. After he had left it, the bombing party was driven back. He returned, and had succeeded in capturing some of the lost ground, when he was wounded.

AUSTRALIAN IMPERIAL FORCE.

Lt. Vivian Stewart Cooper, Aust. Inf.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. He repulsed a strong enemy counter-attack, and, when his battalion was relieved, remained in the position. When the enemy attacked he opened fire on them from a point which he had selected, killing large numbers. Ninety-one prisoners were taken by his battalion, twenty surrendering to Lt. Cooper.

Maj. Horace Frederick Kingsmill, Aust. Art.

For conspicuous gallantry and fine work during an attack, when acting as liaison officer, constantly under heavy fire. Without the clear and quick information supplied by him, the support given by the Brigade would have been impossible.

Capt. Stanley Norman Lawrance, Aust. Inf.

For conspicuous gallantry during an attack, when, although severely wounded, he continued to direct operations and, in spite of great difficulties, consolidated and maintained his position, remaining at his post until overcome by loss of blood.

Capt. Augustine Bernard Lodge, Aust. Inf.

For conspicuous gallantry and skill in reconnoitring a position under heavy fire prior to an attack, and subsequently in leading the attacking force to their place of assembly. After one company had lost all its officers, Captain Lodge went forward, rallied the men, and cleared the trench which was obstructing the advance. Although wounded, he continued his work until the objective had been gained.

Maj. Leslie Frank Strang Mather, Aus. Eng.

For conspicuous gallantry and consistent good work since the commencement of the campaign, and until he was wounded leading his company into action under heavy shell fire.

Capt. Ferdinand George Medcalf, Aust. Inf.

For conspicuous gallantry when, in leading his company in an attack, he put the crew of a hostile machine gun out of action with a bomb and captured the gun. He showed unflinching courage and resource in holding captured ground. When wounded in three places, and unable to walk, he ordered the stretcher-bearers to take up a seriously wounded man, and to leave him to crawl to the rear.

Maj. Donald Ticehurst Moore, Aust. Inf.

For conspicuous gallantry when leading his men during an attack under very heavy shell fire. He led through an intense barrage to an advanced position in the line just captured.

Capt. Augustus Oates, Aust. Inf.

For conspicuous gallantry during operations in holding the enemy at bay on several occasions with revolver fire, thus enabling the erection of barricades and the evacuation of the wounded. He also organised and led bombing attacks with great courage and skill.

Capt. (temp. Maj.) Percival James Savage, Aust. Eng.

For conspicuous gallantry and ability during a period of operations under very heavy shell fire. The good work done by his company was due to his untiring energy and fine powers of leadership.

Capt. Alan Stewart Vowles, Aust. Inf.

For conspicuous gallantry and fine leadership during a period of operations when he commanded the greater portion of three companies in the front line with great success and ability. His cool appreciation and handling of the situation enabled the position to be held against counter-attack, and under heavy shell fire.

REWARDS FOR SERVICE IN THE FIELD—DISTINGUISHED SERVICE ORDER—contd.

CANADIAN FORCE.

Capt. Charles Edward Kilmer, Can. Inf.

For conspicuous gallantry during operations. He led with great skill a successful daylight attack on the enemy's trenches. Though severely wounded, he was the last man to withdraw after all his party, including the wounded, had got clear.

(Extract from the London Gazette dated 26th September, 1916.)

His Majesty the KING has been graciously pleased to approve of the appointments of the under-mentioned Officers to be Companions of the Distinguished Service Order, in recognition of their gallantry and devotion to duty in the field:—

2nd Lt. (temp. Lt.) Albert Ball, M.C., Notts. & Derby. R. and R.F.C.

For conspicuous gallantry and skill. Observing seven enemy machines in formation, he immediately attacked one of them and shot it down at 15 yards range. The remaining machines retired. Immediately afterwards, seeing five more hostile machines, he attacked one at about 10 yards range and shot it down, flames coming out of the fuselage. He then attacked another of the machines, which had been firing at him, and shot it down into a village, when it landed on the top of a house. He then went to the nearest aerodrome for more ammunition, and, returning, attacked three more machines, causing them to dive under control. Being then short of petrol he came home. His own machine was badly shot about in these fights.

Capt. (temp. Maj.) George Seton Briscoe, Worc. R.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. During the attack he made untiring efforts under heavy shell fire to get consolidating parties forward to the newly captured position. He led them personally until severely wounded.

Temp. Capt. Norman Walford Broughton, M.B., R.A.M.C.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty during operations. During a very heavy bombardment he, on three occasions, helped to dig out men from blown-in dug-outs. Shells were bursting all round him, but he refused to take cover, and it was mainly due to his efforts that most of the buried men were rescued. He has done other fine and gallant work.

2nd Lt. (temp. Lt.) Herbert Cecil Butcher, R. Lanc. R.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. When the battalion was suffering severe casualties it was largely due to his courage and utter disregard of personal danger that there was no check in the advance. When his C.O. was wounded he took command of the battalion, and displayed the greatest coolness and devotion to duty at a critical time.

Temp. 2nd Lt. Ian Carmichael, High. L.I.

For conspicuous gallantry. He led a raid with great dash, jumped into the enemy's sap, killed two of the enemy, wounded another and took one prisoner. He was himself wounded. Subsequently he went out twice into "No Man's Land" and rescued wounded men.

Temp. Capt. Gny Langston Cazalet, M.C., R. Fus.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. He led his company in the attack, and held 500 yards of the trench won, although twice heavily counter-attacked by the enemy, who used liquid fire, bombs, and rifles. Though wounded, he cheered on his men and refused to leave the trench.

Maj. Oswald Mosley Croshaw, Yeo.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. When attached to Brigade Headquarters, he twice voluntarily passed through a very heavy artillery and machine-gun barrage, and brought back accurate information of the situation.

Temp. Capt. Edmund Fearonside, Manch. R.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. He led up two companies of reinforcements, over some 1,800 yards of open ground swept by machine-gun fire, into a village. Here he rallied his men and organised a further attack. He displayed the greatest coolness and courage.

Temp. 2nd Lt. Edgar Lyn Fifoot, R. Fus.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. During the attack he made his way along a trench to get into touch with the battalion attacking on his right. He took several prisoners, and finally built a barricade when held up by the enemy's bombers. He was severely burnt in the enemy's liquid fire attack, but stuck to his duty and did further fine work.

Capt. Neil Fraser-Tytler, R.H.A.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. On several occasions he displayed the greatest coolness and courage under heavy shell fire, when ranging his own and other batteries from exposed positions. He has done other fine work and has set a splendid example.

Maj. (temp. Lt.-Col.) Robert Moore Thacker Gillson Wilts R.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. Under very heavy fire he attacked and captured a wood. Though wounded himself he resumed command when he heard that the next senior officer had been killed, and remained on duty till loss of blood compelled him to hand over to his Adjutant.

Maj. John Lelschlug Grinlinton, R.G.A.

For conspicuous gallantry during several days of operations. As F.O.O. he sent back invaluable information. He was twice knocked over by shell-bursts, and his pluck and cheerfulness exercised great influence on his battery.

Maj. (temp. Lt.-Col.) John Hamilton Hall, Midd'x R.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. He led his battalion to consolidate a mine crater in the enemy's front line. In spite of very heavy casualties, he conducted the operation with the greatest determination, and succeeded in holding his position all day.

2nd Lt. (temp. Lt.) John Charles Holden Hill, Worc. R.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. When the attack was held up by flanking fire, he ordered his men back and was the last to re-enter our trenches. After rallying his men, he went out 100 yards into "No Man's Land" and partly carried and partly dragged a wounded man back into safety. The enemy were sniping at them the whole time.

Temp. 2nd Lt. William Henry Gray Jessup, D. of Corn. L.I.

For conspicuous gallantry during operations. When the enemy launched a heavy bomb attack on the flank of our attacking troops, he met them with a party of eight bombers and drove them back. The whole party except himself and one man became casualties. But, collecting another party, he held on for twenty-four hours under continuous fire in his isolated position.

Temp. Maj. William MacCallum Macfarlane, High. L.I.

For conspicuous gallantry during operations. Just as the relief of his company had been completed, the enemy made a strong bombing counter-attack, which drove back the relieving troops. Maj. Macfarlane at once led his company back to its original position, and repelled the counter-attack. He set a fine example of cool courage.

2nd Lt. (temp. Capt.) Robert James McKay, Arg. & South'd Highls.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. Though wounded early in the attack, he stuck to his post and seized a portion of the enemy's line with a small party of about 20 men. This he held against repeated attacks till he was forced back by overwhelming numbers four hours later.

Temp. 2nd Lt. Albert Bernard O'Donnell, R. War. R.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. During an attack, when all his senior officers had become casualties, he took command, led the companies on, and captured the enemy's trench. He then reorganised the company and consolidated the defences. He himself shot six of the enemy in the trench.

Captain Isaac Arthur James Pask, M.C., R.G.A.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. He displayed the greatest coolness during a very heavy bombardment, and carried on after a shell had blown him across a gunpit and slightly wounded him. His dugout was twice been hit, and he has constantly gone out through a heavy barrage to observe fire. He put out a fire, although surrounded by ammunition and under heavy fire.

Temp. Lt. William Howard Proctor, N. Lan. R.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. He supported a bomb attack on a strongly held trench. When the attack was checked, he at once joined in with great determination and carried the whole attack forward. Though wounded by a bullet through the jaw, he led his men on till exhausted by loss of blood.

Temp. 2nd Lt. Robert Clement Perks, W. Rid. R.

For conspicuous gallantry during operations. When leading a bombing party, he was wounded in the face and rendered insensible. On recovering, he again took part in the attack. While throwing bombs he was again twice wounded, in the hand and foot, but continued to lead his men till rendered unconscious by a fourth wound in the face.

Capt. Frederick Courteney Selous, Royal Fusiliers.

For conspicuous gallantry, resource and endurance.

He has set a magnificent example to all ranks, and the value of his services with his battalion cannot be over-estimated.

Temp. 2nd Lt. Arthur Charles Taylor, Midd'x R.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. Seeing a large number of men of another unit who had lost their bearings, he went out, and, finding that they had lost their officers, reorganised them, directed them where to dig in, and thus enabled the ground won to be held. Later, he did other fine work.

2nd Lt. Ernest Gilbert Turner, R. Scots.

For conspicuous gallantry during operations. By a combined bombing operation with another platoon, he cut off and captured 63 of the enemy. Two days later he did fine and gallant work during an attack, and afterwards returned, under close machine gun fire, and rescued wounded men.

Maj. (temp. Lt.-Col.) Richard Knox Walsh, R. Sc. Fus.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. He commanded the supporting battalion in the attack, and displayed great skill and courage. He was in charge of the captured village until relieved. Nine days later, when his battalion captured another position, he held on to it for 36 hours with great ability and determination. He has done other fine work.

Capt. (temp. Maj.) Francis George Wynne, N. Lan. R.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty in action. When the enemy, in overwhelming numbers, attacked our trenches, he remained at his post, though wounded and unable to stand, until the enemy were beaten off. He not only commanded his own company, but took charge of another, the officers of which had become casualties.

AUSTRALIAN IMPERIAL FORCE.

Maj. Robert Henry Beardsmore, Aust. Inf.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. Though wounded early in the engagement, he proceeded, without waiting to have his wounds dressed, to organise his company as a working party, and supervised the work for about 10 hours. He did fine work throughout, and displayed great coolness and courage.

Maj. Leslie Jack Coulter, Aust. Eng.

For conspicuous gallantry during operations. When a "Push Pipe" failed to explode he went out, accompanied by a corporal, under heavy shrapnel and machine-gun fire, and blew up the exposed portion of the "Push Pipe." Later, when the leads were cut by hostile shell fire, he went out under very heavy fire to try and light the fuse further down the sap. Though wounded he refused to be removed till the "Push Pipe" had been successfully exploded.

Maj. Patrick Currie, Aust. Inf.

For consistent gallantry and good work during operations, notably on one occasion, during an attack, when he jumped over the parapet exposed to heavy fire in order to cheer on his men. He was subsequently wounded.

Capt. William Pendennis Devonshire, Aust. Inf.

For consistent good work during operations, notably when he took charge of all the men of his battalion in the first captured enemy trench, and, after repulsing a counter-attack, led them on and captured further enemy positions.

Capt. Robert Rainey Harper, Aust. Inf.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. He led an attack on the enemy trenches, and, though wounded before reaching the enemy, stuck to his command and entered their trenches. He was almost immediately again wounded by a bomb, but remained at his post for over an hour. He refused to be removed till he had seen all his men in safety.

Rev. John Joseph Kennedy, Aust. A. Chapl. Dept.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He carried wounded men from the front trenches to the dressing station under very heavy shell fire throughout the whole night, returning repeatedly to the firing line. He also assisted in dressing wounded men, and did most gallant work throughout.

Capt. Thomas Roy Marsden, Aust. Inf.

For conspicuous gallantry during operations. He took charge of six guns in the front line, and remained in action all night. Finally with these guns he covered the retirement of our infantry, and then carried a wounded man back across "No Man's Land." Later he went forward again and carried in a serjeant.

Lt. Alfred Marshall, Aust. Inf.

For conspicuous gallantry during operations. He displayed great skill and courage as Adjutant, when guiding a battalion into its position for attack across "No Man's Land" under heavy shell fire. On another occasion he did find work consolidating the captured trench.

Maj. John Malbon Maughan, Aust. Inf.

For conspicuous gallantry during a bomb fight. He stood before the parapet firing a "Very" pistol, to light up the ground for his bombers. He was exposed to enemy snipers' fire from "No Man's Land," and the continual firing of his pistol showed his position. Finally he was wounded.

Temp. Captain Douglas William Hunter, M.B., R.A.M.C.

For exceptional gallantry and devotion to duty. This officer laboured incessantly tending and clearing the wounded in the open and in front line trenches under very heavy fire.

At a critical time when casualties had been heavy he steadied and reorganised his stretcher bearers by his magnificent example and skilful control. After the battalion had withdrawn he continued searching the battlefield for wounded.

He showed absolute disregard of danger.

(Substituted for the announcement published in the London Gazette dated 25th August, 1916.)

The undermentioned have been awarded a Bar to their Distinguished Service Order for subsequent acts of conspicuous gallantry.

Lt. Albert Ball, D.S.O., Notts. and Derby. R. and R.F.C.

For conspicuous skill and gallantry. When on escort duty to a bombing raid he saw four enemy machines in formation. He dived on to them and broke up their formation, and then shot down the nearest one, which fell on its nose. He came down to about 500 feet to make certain it was wrecked. On another occasion, observing 12 enemy machines in formation, he dived in among them, and fired a drum into the nearest machine, which went down out of control. Several more hostile machines then approached, and he fired three more drums at them, driving down another out of control. He then returned, crossing the lines at a low altitude with his machine very much damaged.

(The award of the Distinguished Service Order is also announced in the Gazette of this date.)

Maj. Arthur Alec Goschen, D.S.O., R.F.A.

For conspicuous gallantry during operations. When a heavy shell knocked out one of his guns and buried several men he immediately commenced to dig them out, under very heavy shell fire, and, with assistance, rescued them all. On another occasion, when a pile of H.E. ammunition was ignited by a shell, he succeeded in extinguishing the flames at very great personal risk.

(The Distinguished Service Order was awarded in London Gazette dated 27th September, 1901.)

MILITARY CROSS.

(Extract from the London Gazette, dated 2nd September, 1916.)

CORRECTION.

The acts of gallantry for which the undermentioned Officers were awarded the Military Cross in the London Gazette of 25th August, 1916, are as specified below, and not as therein published:—

Lt. Arnold Thimbleby Price, Durh. L.I.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. With ten men he barricaded a road subject to heavy machine gun fire. He then with a platoon dug himself in under fire near the captured enemy guns, and thus secured their retention.

Lt. Wilfred York Price, Welsh R.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. He pressed forward his attack on the enemy trenches with the greatest determination. Even after being severely wounded he endeavoured to drive his attack home.

(Extract from the London Gazette, dated 9th September, 1916.)

The undermentioned Officers have been awarded a Bar to their Military Cross for subsequent acts of conspicuous gallantry:—

2nd Lt. (temp. Capt.) Albert Anderton, R.F.A.

For conspicuous gallantry on several occasions, notably when he carried out two very dangerous reconnaissances in front of our line and brought back valuable information. At—, when hearing that his C.O. was wounded, he got out of the trench, crawled to where he lay within 80 yards of the enemy's line, and found him dead. Later, assisted by other officers of the brigade, he brought the body in after dark.

(The Military Cross was awarded in London Gazette dated 26th August, 1916.)

2nd Lt. (temp. Lt.) Arthur James Ashdown, R.F.A. Spec. Res.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. He followed the Infantry in the assault and got a trench mortar into action in the enemy's front line trench. Finally, though badly wounded in the head, he brought the detachment back under heavy machine gun fire.

(The Military Cross was awarded in London Gazette dated 16th March, 1916.)

2nd Lt. George Brown Bird, R. War. R.

For conspicuous gallantry during operations. When his V.O. had become a casualty he took command and organised the defence of the line. It was mainly due to his good work that three enemy counter attacks were repulsed.

(The Military Cross was awarded in London Gazette dated 3rd June, 1916.)

Lt. William Henry Carter, S. Staff. R.

For conspicuous and consistent gallantry. Hardly a week passes without his name being brought to notice for some act of devotion and gallantry. Lately he carried out most gallant rescue work under fire after a night raid. He arrived in France in August, 1914, as signalling sergeant of the battalion, and has been with it in every action. Nothing affects his courage and nerve.

(The Military Cross was awarded in Gazette dated 23rd December, 1915.)

Lt. (temp. Capt.) Allan James Harington, Som. L.I.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. Soon after entering the enemy trenches he found himself in command of the battalion and did fine work, organising bombing parties, consolidating the ground won and repelling counter-attacks. He was finally wounded and forced to retire.

(The Military Cross was awarded in London Gazette dated 14th January, 1916.)

REWARDS FOR SERVICE IN THE FIELD—MILITARY CROSS—contd.

Temp. 2nd Lt. Patrick Stephen Lynne, Leins. R.

For conspicuous gallantry during a raid on the enemy's trenches. He walked along their parapet directing the bombers in the trench till, after three-quarters of an hour he was badly wounded. His personal example was largely responsible for the success of the raid.

(The Military Cross was awarded in the London Gazette dated 27th July, 1916.)

Temp. 2nd Lt. Noël de Pultron MacRoberts, R. Suss. R.

For conspicuous gallantry. He reconnoitred and cut the enemy's wire, completing his work with a torpedo, under rifle and grenade fire. Later he led a successful raid into the enemy's trenches. He, though wounded, personally accounted for two of the enemy who opposed his advance. His coolness and personal gallantry were largely responsible for the success of the raid.

For conspicuous gallantry. He led his company through a barrage of hostile fire to the support of another battalion. He also led out a bombing party to reconnoitre the enemy's position. He has frequently set a fine example of coolness under fire.

(The Military Cross was awarded in London Gazette dated 3rd June, 1916.)

Temp. 2nd Lt. Arthur McArthur, North'd Fus.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. When reconnoitring he saw that another battalion was being attacked. He got 40 or 50 men and held off the attackers with bombs and rifle fire for over an hour till they surrendered. Over 30 of the enemy were killed and sixty made prisoners.

(The Military Cross was awarded in London Gazette dated 27 July, 1916.)

Lt. (temp. Capt.) Henry McCulloch, High. L.I.

For conspicuous gallantry when leading a bombing patrol. They went to a crater almost touching the enemy wire and threw 16 bombs at the enemy who were working in it. The enterprise was hazardous owing to the deep mud to be traversed and the heavy machine gun fire from the enemy.

(The Military Cross was awarded in London Gazette dated 14th January, 1916.)

Temp. Lt. (temp. Capt.) Percy Moody, R. W. Fus.

For conspicuous gallantry during a raid. He organized and led his company with great dash, the result being that the raid was completely successful.

(The Military Cross was awarded in London Gazette dated 14th January, 1916.)

Temp. Lt. George Morrison Philip, North'd Fus.

For conspicuous gallantry. With another officer he carried out a successful raid at short notice on the enemy's trenches. The enemy fired on him from a deep dug-out, but he fired his revolver into the dug-out and secured the surrender of six men. He has done daring reconnaissance work.

(The Military Cross was awarded in London Gazette dated 15th March, 1916.)

2nd Lt. Thomas Tannatt Pryce, Glouc. R.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. He commanded the leading platoon in the assault, with great dash and determination, right up to the enemy's trenches, under very heavy fire of all kinds. He set a fine example.

(The Military Cross was awarded in London Gazette dated 23rd December, 1915.)

2nd Lt. (temp. Capt.) Leslie Eric Rundell, Lond. R.

For conspicuous gallantry and ability during an enemy attack. He dealt most resolutely with a situation which for a while was very precarious.

(The Military Cross was awarded in Gazette dated 15th March, 1916.)

Capt. Lionel Bassett Lipscombe Seckham, Lan. Fus.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. He led one of the leading companies with great dash and reached the enemy's third line, where he did fine work consolidating the defences and organizing bombing attacks. He held on till relieved about midnight.

(The Military Cross was awarded in London Gazette, dated 3rd July, 1915.)

Temp. Capt. George Kenneth Thompson, York. R.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. He led the first line in the attack with great dash, and, though wounded, stuck to his duty and continued to do fine work until midnight, when he was ordered back with a message. He was then sent to hospital.

(The Military Cross was awarded in London Gazette dated 15th March, 1916.)

Lt. (temp. Maj.) Arthur Ashford Benjamin Thomeon, R. War. R. and R.F.C.

For conspicuous gallantry and good work during Zeppelin raids.

(The Military Cross was awarded in Gazette dated 2nd October, 1915.)

The announcement of the award of a second Military Cross, which appeared on page 5408 of the Gazette dated 31st May, 1916, is now cancelled.

Lt. (Actg. Capt.) Alfred Syer Trimmer, Can. Infy.

For coolness, bravery, and great devotion to duty. Under heavy fire for two days, he, with the assistance of two of his platoon, carried out the special duties assigned to him in a most heroic manner.

(The Military Cross was awarded in London Gazette dated 15th March, 1916.)

Lt. Robert Albert Watson, R.G.A.

For conspicuous gallantry during a long period of operations, when acting as F.O.O. Daily under heavy fire, he showed great bravery in finding observation posts and gaining information. He was wounded in the performance of these duties.

(The Military Cross was awarded in London Gazette dated 23rd June, 1915.)

Lt. (temp. Maj.) Guy Williams, Lond. R.

For conspicuous gallantry under heavy shell fire. When the line on his flank was broken he organized a flank defence with conspicuous success, and saved a serious situation. He was wounded.

(The Military Cross was awarded in the Gazette dated 3rd June, 1916.)

Temp. Capt. Edgar William Wood, S. Staff. R.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty in action. He continued to command his company and direct operations after he had been severely wounded.

(The Military Cross was awarded in London Gazette dated 3rd June, 1916.)

(Extract from the London Gazette, dated 22nd September, 1916.)

His Majesty the KING has been graciously pleased to confer the Military Cross on the undermentioned Officers and Warrant Officers in recognition of their gallantry and devotion to duty in the field:—

2nd Lt. Douglas Fisher Adamson, R. Highrs.

For conspicuous gallantry. When an enemy shell ignited an ammunition store he dashed out of his trench with a spade and some sandbags, and, aided by two men, extinguished the fire. This plucky act prevented a heavy explosion and saved many casualties.

Capt. (temp. Maj.) John Newton Aldworth, R. Berks. R.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. He was in command of two support companies to the attack, and, realising the situation at the critical moment, by his able handling of his supports enabled the objective to be reached and made good. He set a fine example of coolness and bravery throughout the attack.

Temp. 2nd Lt. John Amour, R.F.A.

For conspicuous gallantry when, in company with another artillery officer, he kept at bay with rifle fire and bombs in a sap, occupied by both sides, an enemy patrol, thereby enabling his battery to successfully register an important point in the enemy's switch line.

Capt. Kenneth Arthur Noel Anderson, Sea. Highrs.

For conspicuous gallantry. Captain Anderson was severely wounded in front of an enemy first line trench. He endeavoured to struggle on, but progress was impossible as one of his legs was broken. Nevertheless, although exposed to heavy fire, he continued to direct and encourage the men.

2nd Lt. Harold Hammond Aykroyd, W. Rid. R.

For conspicuous gallantry. Since taking charge of the Scouts of the Battalion he has done fine work, notably when he led two patrols during operations to discover the enemy's position and movements. He led these patrols with great skill and determination and brought back valuable reports.

Lt. (temp. Capt.) George William Norman Barefoot, R. Ir. Fus.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. He held on to the position gained until ordered to withdraw 18 hours later, having successfully repulsed three enemy attacks. When he withdrew he brought back a trench-gun, a machine-gun, three prisoners and all his wounded.

Temp. Lt. John Vincent Bates, R.A.M.C.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty when tending wounded men under heavy snail fire, utterly regardless of his own safety. He made repeated efforts to save wounded men from burning when his dressing station was set on fire by a shell. His conduct throughout several days of heavy fighting was very fine.

2nd Lt. Malcolm Glassford Begg, Rif. Brig., & R.F.C.

For conspicuous gallantry and skill in contact patrol work. A close reconnaissance was required of a certain locality, and he came down to 700 feet and obtained valuable information under a heavy fire from the ground.

2nd Lt. John Rotherford Bellerby, W. York. R.

For conspicuous gallantry and skill in covering a detachment of infantry and machine-guns during retirement. He was subjected to heavy fire and continuous bomb attacks. He has shown the utmost devotion to duty.

Temp. Capt. Cyril Armand Bernard, R.A.M.C.

For great gallantry and devotion to duty in volunteering to conduct, under very heavy shell fire, stretcher-bearers bringing in wounded. He made several trips and brought in many wounded.

2nd Lt. Francis Victor Blackwell, W. Rid. R.

For conspicuous gallantry. He volunteered and led a patrol by daylight to within 15 yards of the enemy's lines, and returned with most useful information. He brought back four machine-guns which had been left behind during the fighting.

Temp. Capt. Arthur Joseph Blake, R.A.M.C.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty during operations. He tended wounded men incessantly day and night under most trying conditions. He went out into "No Man's Land" searching for any wounded men who might still be lying there.

2nd Lt. (temp. Lt.) Stanley Charles Booker, Worc. R.

For conspicuous gallantry. Assisted by another officer and two men, he brought in 14 wounded men from "No Man's Land" under heavy fire. Next day, with two men, he brought in a wounded officer from within 30 yards of the enemy's parapet.

Temp. 2nd Lt. (temp. Capt.) Edmund Farmaner Bowkett, Gen. Lst., att'd Trench Mortar Bty.

For conspicuous gallantry during an attack. When he found it impossible to employ his trench guns, after getting them across "No Man's Land," he organized and led with great bravery a bombing party, which materially helped to break the enemy's counter-attack.

Temp. Lt. (temp. Capt.) Henry Wycliffe Brewis, Glouc. R.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. He led his company with great dash, and seized under heavy fire a hostile advanced post, which proved most useful.

2nd Lt. Laurence Briggs, R.E.

For conspicuous gallantry during operations. With a detachment of his section he laid out a fine 400 yards long as a starting place for an infantry attack. This line was well in advance of our position at the time, and he was under continuous shrapnel fire.

Temp. 2nd Lt. Herbert Seton Broughall, R. Suss. R.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. He led an assaulting party with great dash into the enemy's third trench line and did fine work there, clearing out their bombers and snipers. It was his first time under fire.

Temp. Lt. James William Brown, R. Scots.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. Lieutenant Brown and 2nd Lt. Winchester rallied the battalion after a check in front of uncut wire, and afterwards led the men on to the enemy's second line. Later these two officers organized and carried out a bombing attack, which resulted in the capture of 63 of the enemy.

2nd Lt. David Brown, R.F.A., Spec. Res.

For conspicuous gallantry during operations. When three guns of his battery had been put out of action and many casualties had been suffered, he continued to load, lay and fire the fourth gun under heavy and accurate shell fire. Later he went back under fire and brought up stretchers for the wounded.

Temp. 2nd Lt. John Browne, Royal Irish Rifles.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. He led his platoon into the enemy's line with great dash and courage, subsequently driving off an enemy bomb attack from a post on his flank. He was wounded in doing this, but carried on and completed his task.

Rev. Geoffrey Edward Browne, Chaplain to the Forces, 4th Class, Army Chapl. Dept.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty during operations. He went up with the first party of stretcher-bearers, and worked indefatigably both in the open and in the first collecting post tending and cheering the wounded. He worked for two days without rest, and his cheery optimism never deserted him.

REWARDS FOR SERVICE IN THE FIELD—MILITARY CROSS—contd.

Lt. Kenneth Robert Gordon Browne, Essex R. Spec. Res.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. He led his machine-gun section in the attack with great skill and total disregard of personal danger, entering the enemy's lines with the leading troops. He continued to do fine work throughout that day and the ensuing night, and finally cleared out several enemy dug-outs and sent back many prisoners.

Lt. Clarence Edward Victor Buxton, R.H.A. Spec. Res.

For conspicuous gallantry in reconnoitring the enemy's wire in front of our outpost wire, and in bringing the fire of his battery to bear on the enemy's trench. On several occasions during active operations he performed invaluable work and sent in reliable information.

Lt. Lawrence William Ludovic Cadie, Essex R.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. When his C.O. was wounded, he continued to reorganise the men in the second line of the enemy's trench under heavy shell and machine-gun fire. His fine example did much to steady the men under trying circumstances.

2nd Lt. (temp. Lt.) Vernon Christopher Russell Caley, R. War. R.

For conspicuous gallantry. He led a bombing party against an enemy strong post, and personally accounted for some of the enemy with his revolver and grenades. Later, assisted by one man, he brought in a wounded man under fire.

Temp. 2nd Lt. Arthur Campbell, Bord. R.

For conspicuous gallantry during operations. He took charge of the machine-gun section of another officer who was badly wounded, although he himself was wounded at the time, and continued to fight all the guns throughout the night. His cheerfulness and pluck kept up the spirits of the gun teams, which had suffered severely.

Rev. Henry Calville Montgomery Campbell, temp. Chaplin, 4th Cl., A. Chaplin. Dept.

For conspicuous gallantry and good work during operations. He went out under heavy fire into "No Man's Land" by daylight to help the wounded lying there. His cheerful disposition and devotion to duty under trying circumstances has gained him the respect and confidence of the Brigade.

2nd Lt. (temp. Capt.) John Sharpe Campbell, R.F.A.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. He commanded his battery with great coolness under heavy fire, in support of the attack, and, in spite of several casualties, kept up an effective fire.

Temp. 2nd Lt. William Robert Brown Caseby, R. Scots.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. He led his platoon with great dash, and, when all other company officers had fallen, re-organised the men and led forward a second attack.

Lt. (temp. Capt.) Gilbert Stacey Castle, Glouc. R.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. He was in command of a company which, with one other, took an enemy front line trench by assault. When the other company commander was killed, he took charge of both companies and held the position against bombing attacks.

2nd Lt. (temp. Lt.) Eustace Shipstone Cattle, York. & Lanc. R.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. He led a bombing attack under very difficult circumstances, and finally tried to work round the enemy's flank, crossing the open to do so under close and heavy fire from enemy snipers.

Lt. Charles Meredith Bouverie Chapman, E. Kent R., and R.F.C.

For conspicuous gallantry and skill in action against hostile aeroplanes. On one occasion he attacked three L.V.G.'s and one Fokker, shooting the latter down. Later, during an air battle with eleven enemy machines, he brought another Fokker down.

2nd Lt. (temp. Capt.) David Cameron Chisholm, North'n R., Spec. Res.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. He led his company, which was in support, into the enemy's lines, and organised the ground captured for defence. His skill and coolness were of great assistance to the operations.

Capt. Charles Pritchard Clayton, Welsh R., Spec. Res.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. He displayed great coolness during a bombing attack, and commanded his company with marked ability. He set a fine example.

Temp. Lt. Charles Reid Cleghorn, Midd'x R.

For conspicuous gallantry. He raided the enemy's front trench with a small party to see if it was strongly held, forcing his way through the wire with great difficulty. He showed the greatest determination under heavy rifle, grenade and bomb fire.

Lt. Alan Egerton Collier, R.E., Spec. Res.

For conspicuous gallantry. He accompanied the advanced infantry and constructed, under heavy shell fire, a strong point in the line gained. His good work enabled an enemy counter-attack to be beaten off.

Temp. 2nd Lt. John Valentine Cooke, R.W. Surr. R.

For conspicuous gallantry. When a sergeant and private were trying to get a wounded man over the wire in "No Man's Land," he at once went over the parapet, and, though fired at by snipers, assisted in successfully bringing the man in.

Temp. 2nd Lt. Sidney Cameron Cook-Watson, Gen. List, att'd. Light T.M. Bty.

For conspicuous gallantry. He dug in two trench guns in "No Man's Land," between our own and the enemy's trenches, and remained with them for many hours, firing over 200 shells into the hostile trenches. He was under heavy shell and machine gun fire the whole time, and was several times buried.

2nd Lt. Basil Joseph Corballis, Som. L.I.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. When he reached the enemy first line, he found that the men carrying guns had become casualties. He returned through heavy barrage, reorganised his men and led them on again to the attack.

Lt. Ronald Cory-Wright, R. War. R., Spec. Res.

For conspicuous gallantry when leading his men in an attack. Although wounded, he refused to leave the field until the operation had been successfully completed.

Temp. Capt. Robert Grote Cordiner, Linc. R.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. Though wounded he continued to lead his company in the attack till a second time wounded severely in the face.

2nd Lt. (temp. Lt.) George St. John Coventry, S. Wales Bord.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. He led his company in the assault under a heavy machine-gun and artillery fire with the greatest dash, and, after receiving severe wounds, he continued to encourage his men forward.

REWARDS FOR SERVICE IN THE FIELD—MILITARY CROSS—contd.

2nd Lt. Alfred Jones Croft, Bord. R., Spec. R.

For conspicuous gallantry and able leadership during an attack. When a party of the enemy got between him and the next battalion, he collected a small party and at once attacked and drove them back. When his senior officer was wounded, he led the company forward with great bravery.

2nd Lt. William Edgar Crombie, R. War. R.

For conspicuous gallantry. After an attack, when his battalion had been relieved, he voluntarily stayed behind, and with a small party brought in fifteen wounded men from "No Man's Land." He was frequently close to the enemy's wire and under machine gun and rifle fire.

Temp. Capt. Monro Cuthbertson, R. Fus.

For conspicuous gallantry during an attack. When another battalion was in difficulties for want of ammunition, Capt. Cuthbertson organised parties under heavy shell fire and supplied their deficiencies. Later, with a quick grasp of the situation, he ordered an advance, thereby greatly assisting in the success of the attack.

Lt. (temp. Capt.) James Ferrand Dearden, R. Fus.

2nd Lt. (temp. Capt.) Andrew Guy de la Mare, Essex R.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. At a critical moment in the attack, assisted by an officer and a company sergeant-major, he organised a party of about forty men of different units and manned and held a crater. They kept the enemy in check with some of the enemy's own bombs which they found. They were subjected throughout to heavy artillery and bombing attacks.

2nd Lt. William Oliphant Dowu, R. Berks. R.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. He made an excellent reconnaissance of an enemy strong point, and brought back most useful information. Two nights later he commanded the right platoon in an attack, and after entering the enemy's trench led a bombing party which killed 11 of the enemy.

Capt. William Downs, R.E.

For conspicuous gallantry during operations, notably when he constructed a defensive post in front of our line under heavy artillery and machine-gun fire. This post proved later of great tactical value.

2nd Lt. Benjamin Hay Drakes, E. York. R.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. He commanded the leading platoon of the assault with great dash, and though his thumb was blown off early in the advance, he stuck to his command till again wounded in the leg after he had reached the enemy's lines.

Temp. 2nd Lt. Charles Frederick Dutton, S. Wales Bord.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. In spite of heavy losses he led his men on till he was hung up by the enemy wire. He then got the remains of his company into shell holes and bombed the enemy. He personally shot three of the enemy.

Temp. Capt. Guy Wellesley Eaton, R. Ir. Fus.

For conspicuous gallantry during a raid on the enemy's trenches. His party met with great difficulty in crossing the enemy's wire, but he himself with a sergeant entered their front line. He shot two of the enemy with his revolver. On his return, hearing that another officer had been wounded and was missing, he went out and helped to bring him in under heavy fire.

Temp. Capt. Charles Robert Ewbank Edmundson, York and Lanc. R.

For conspicuous gallantry during an assault. He led his company forward in face of heavy shell and machine-gun fire, and after most of his men had been shot down and he himself badly wounded, he collected the remainder, and again led them to the assault. He was again severely wounded.

Temp. Lt. John Edwardes, Welsh R.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. He attacked three times a hostile machine-gun which was causing severe casualties. Finally with a few men he captured it, and killed the gun team. He was wounded later in the day.

2nd Lt. Reginald Boutwood Emmett, Notts. and Derby R.

For conspicuous gallantry. When out with a patrol of 12 men an enemy covering party opened fire and threw bombs, wounding him and three of his party. On his return a man was found to be missing, so he went out again, found him and brought him in. He then went out with another party and a machine-gun to see if any of the enemy was still left in "No Man's Land."

Temp. Lt. Thomas Dagleish Fairgrieve, R.F.A.

For consistent good work as forward observing officer on many occasions. He has at great risk always obtained and sent back useful information. His gallantry has previously been brought to notice.

Lt. (temp. Capt.) Cyril Dalton Fawkes, Hamps. R.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. Though badly wounded early in the attack and unable to get on, he continued to encourage and cheer his men.

Temp. Capt. Bernard Weston Fish, N. Lan. R.

For conspicuous gallantry. With a sergeant he carried out three dangerous and successful reconnaissances, returning with most useful information.

2nd Lt. Sidney Ford Fiskin, R.A.

For conspicuous gallantry and good work. He carried out a reconnaissance over ground which was swept by shell and machine-gun fire. The reports he sent in were accurate and valuable.

2nd Lt. Gerald Ernest George FitzGibbon, Rif. Brig.

For conspicuous gallantry during an attack. After his Company Commander had been killed, he rallied the company under heavy fire, and consolidated the position gained. He was wounded in the attack.

2nd Lt. (temp. Lt.) James Flint, Lond. R.

For conspicuous gallantry when leading a raid on the enemy's trenches. Though wounded in the advance, he led his men into the trenches, shot two of the enemy himself, and pushed on till he was a second time severely wounded. He then withdrew his men and lay in a shell-hole, where he fainted, till a patrol found him and brought him back.

Temp. Capt. John Maitland Forsyth, M.B., R.A.M.C.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty during operations. When the battalion was subjected to continuous heavy shell fire, he tended the wounded with great courage. On hearing that an officer was badly wounded out in the front, he went out at once under heavy fire to look for him. He has always carried out his duties under fire with the greatest coolness and courage.

2nd Lt. Wilfred Cecil Fowler, R. War. R.

For conspicuous gallantry in leading a party into a village, and, after severe hand-to-hand fighting, in driving the enemy out, and in restoring the situation at a critical moment.

REWARDS FOR SERVICE IN THE FIELD—MILITARY CROSS—contd.

Lt. (temp. Capt.) Harold Gordon Fraser, Yorks. L.I.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. He did fine work organising the defences and directing bombing operations. His plucky example inspired great confidence in his men.

Temp. 2nd Lt. Rowan Arthur Bayfield Freeland, Devon. R.

For conspicuous gallantry during an attack, when he was himself responsible for the capture of a machine-gun, which was in action against his men, he personally accounting for three of the enemy.

2nd Lt. Francis Eric Frith, R.F.A. Spec. Res.

For conspicuous gallantry during operations. When his battery was severely shelled, and several casualties had occurred, he displayed the greatest coolness and disregard of danger, and set a fine example to his men. He assisted in saving ammunition from a "dump" which had become ignited.

Temp. Capt. Barry St. John Galvin, R. Ir. Fus.

For gallantry and devotion to duty during a raid. Although wounded, he continued to lead his party. Later he was disabled by a bomb. When he regained consciousness he entered the enemy front line, where he was again wounded, and rendered unable to regain our lines without assistance. His example has always been of the highest order.

Temp. Capt. Cecil Walter Stanley Gardner, Welsh R.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. He assisted in bombing down the enemy's trenches, in order to get into touch with the battalion on the flank. Later he consolidated the position under heavy fire and successfully held it.

2nd Lt. (temp. Capt.) Robert Gee, Royal Fus.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. He encouraged his men during the attack by fearlessly exposing himself and cheering them on. When wounded he refused to retire, and urged his men on till, after being blown into the air by a shell, he was carried in half unconscious.

2nd Lt. Dudley Robert Gibson, R. Berks. R.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. He led his platoon with great dash up to the enemy wire. Finding they could not get through, he patrolled till he found a gap, through which he led them on under heavy fire.

2nd Lt. Kenneth Nigel Wilson Gilbert, R.F.A. Spec. Res.

For conspicuous gallantry during operations. He displayed great coolness and disregard of danger on two days when his battery was heavily shelled. He set a fine example when one of his guns was knocked out, he also led a party to save ammunition from a "dump" which had become ignited.

Temp. Lt. Hedley Percy McCheyne Glover, R.F.A.

For consistently gallant conduct during operations. It was entirely owing to his good work that machine-guns enfilading our infantry were knocked out. His gallant conduct has previously been brought to notice.

Lt. (temp. Capt.) John McKillop Gordon, Cam'n Highrs.

Capt. William Longman Gordon, Sea. Highrs., Spec. Res.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. He led his company with great dash and took an active part in repelling bombing attacks throughout the day.

Lt. Colin McVean Gubbins, R.F.A.

For conspicuous gallantry. When one of his guns and its detachment were blown up by a heavy shell, he organised a rescue party and personally helped to dig out the wounded while shells were falling all around.

2nd Lt. Edward Temple Leigh Gurdon, Rif. Brig.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. When all his senior officers became casualties he took command of the battalion, and showed great ability, coolness and courage throughout the day.

Temp. 2nd Lt. Ernest Edward Haines, Gen. List, att'd. L'pool R.

For conspicuous gallantry. He carried out by day a very risky reconnaissance of the enemy's position, capturing an enemy sentry before he could give the alarm. He brought back valuable information.

2nd Lt. Alexander John Hanmer, E. Kent R.

For conspicuous gallantry when in command of a party detailed to capture an advanced position. The capture secured the flanks of two other attacking parties. Having accomplished his task he continued to advance, bombing the enemy until he fell wounded.

2nd Lt. Leonard William Hardingham, R.F.A. Spec. Res.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. By his personal efforts as F.O.O. telephonic communication was established and maintained throughout the action. On another occasion he assisted with great pluck in bringing in a wounded officer.

Lt. William Eardley Harper, Durh. L.I. Spec. Res. and R.F.C.

For conspicuous gallantry and skill in many aerial combats, and notably when, acting as Gunner Observer, his machine, with two others, met six hostile aeroplanes. He at once attacked, and shot down one machine. He then attacked and drove down a second one. A thick fog came on and, in landing, his machine was wrecked, and he was badly cut and shaken. He managed to walk two miles to his aerodrome and to deliver his report before collapsing.

Temp. 2nd Lt. Frank James Hawkins, Welsh R.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. He attacked a hostile machine gun and killed the man working it. He showed great bravery till severely wounded.

Lt. Stanley Muirhead Hayercraft, R.E. Spec. Res.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty in organising the collection of wounded under repeated bursts of shrapnel, machine gun and rifle fire. He himself carried in three wounded men, although severely strained by falling into a shell hole. On several occasions during attacks he exhibited great courage and untiring energy.

Temp. 2nd Lt. Cyril Beauchamp Hayes, R.E.

For conspicuous gallantry. He went forward to reconnoitre a crater after the enemy had exploded a mine. Assisted by an officer he dragged three men out of the crater under heavy fire from rifles and bombs. During the consolidation of the crater he was seriously wounded, but his fine example had so fired the men under him that they completed the work after he had been carried away.

Lt. (temp. Capt.) Joseph Barry Hayes, R. W. Surr. R.

For conspicuous gallantry in organising a front line after an attack, under heavy fire and in difficult circumstances lasting for two days. He had lost both his subalterns in the attack.

REWARDS FOR SERVICE IN THE FIELD—MILITARY CROSS—contd.

Temp. Lt. Henry James Heath, Midd'x R.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. He commanded his platoon with great coolness and courage, and, when severely wounded, continued to urge on his men and to issue instructions.

Lt. Edward Hegarty, R. Ir. Regt.

For conspicuous gallantry and ability in handling his company during the capture of a position and during a counter-attack by the enemy. At one time, owing to heavy shell fire, he had to withdraw, but when the enemy's guns lifted, he reoccupied the position. Throughout the day he set a fine example of bravery.

Temp. 2nd Lt. Timothy Charles Vincent Hegarty, R.E.

For conspicuous gallantry. When the party occupying the far lip of the crater had been driven in by an enemy counter-attack, he rallied his men and carried on his work without a covering party. On another occasion, when enemy bombers made a sudden attack, he went to the help of the Infantry and assisted them to beat off the attack.

Temp. Capt. Francis Joseph Henry, R.A.M.C.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion during operations. Captain Henry attended the wounded night and day incessantly in the regimental "Aid Post," which was in an exposed position, and damaged by shell fire. He also went into the open, under heavy artillery and machine-gun fire.

2nd Lt. Cecil Frederick Holland, Glouc. R.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. After reconnoitring the enemy trench he led forward his platoon with great dash. Although wounded he did fine work repelling bombing attacks.

Temp. Capt. Bernard Hill Horsley, York. L.I.

For conspicuous gallantry and skill in leading his company in an attack under very heavy shell and machine-gun fire. He was severely wounded. Throughout the campaign he has displayed great powers of leadership.

Temp. 2nd Lt. Arthur Royce Howlett, R.E.

For conspicuous gallantry during operations. He established a forward dump of R.E. Stores, passing backwards and forwards through a heavy barrage. He showed the utmost coolness and determination.

Temp. 2nd Lt. Godfrey Hudson, Machine Gun Corps.

For conspicuous gallantry during operations. He carried out a dangerous reconnaissance with two other officers, who were both killed. He advanced to the enemy's trenches in front of a captured position, and brought back valuable information.

2nd Lt. Henry Camden Hunt, Midd'x R.

For conspicuous gallantry when holding a portion of a captured enemy trench and assisting another officer in the defence of it. Subsequently he carried a badly wounded officer into our lines.

Lt. Dermot Lesby Hurford, R.G.A.

For conspicuous gallantry during operations. During a prolonged period he has been the means, with another officer, of bringing in valuable and reliable information regarding movements of our own and enemy troops. He has frequently carried out this work under heavy shell and rifle fire.

Capt. Collin Arthur Jardine, D.S.O., R.H.A.

For conspicuous gallantry in reconnoitring hostile lines and finding observation posts, from which he could bring the fire of his battery to bear on the enemy. He was wounded during a hostile counter-attack but refused to be taken away by the stretcher-bearers until they had first carried back a soldier who was lying wounded beside him.

2nd Lt. Percy John William Johnson, R. War. R.

For conspicuous gallantry when reconnoitring a crater. Accompanied by a corporal he crawled to the crater unobserved, and seeing a faint light at the bottom and hearing work going on, he threw four bombs at the light, the fourth striking some explosive which blew up a large column of earth. He was then fired at by a revolver and a machine-gun, but got back in safety.

2nd Lt. (temp. Capt.) Philip Norman Johnson, York and Lanc. R.

For conspicuous gallantry and ability when under intense bombardment he led his company across in support of other troops. He organised his command skilfully and repelled some bombing attacks. He personally reconnoitred the enemy line and brought back six machine-guns. His personal gallantry and cheerfulness has done much to maintain the fighting efficiency of his command.

2nd Lt. Leslie Johnston, W. rec. R.

For conspicuous gallantry. He went over the parapet twice in broad daylight, and brought in wounded men from "No Man's Land."

2nd Lt. Felix Ernest Jones, Ox. and Bucks. L.I.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. Though wounded in the leg he led his platoon in a charge into the enemy's trench, which was successfully captured before he would go back and have his wound dressed.

Temp. 2nd Lt. Thomas Alfred Kelly, R. Fus.

For conspicuous gallantry in leading his men through a very heavy barrage in the attempt to support an attack. He displayed great coolness under fire, and inspired confidence in all ranks with him.

2nd Lt. William Henry Kelly, S. Wales Bord.

For conspicuous gallantry during operations. While with a patrol removing enemy wire, the enemy opened fire with machine-guns and threw bombs at 20 yards' range. He got his party under cover till the fire died down, and then went out and completed his task.

Temp. 2nd Lt. Michael Augustine Kent, Notts. and Derby. R.

For gallantry and initiative during a raid. When this officer heard that the commander of the raiding party had been wounded, he at once went forward and took over. He displayed much ability in controlling direction and leading through the enemy wire, until himself severely wounded.

2nd Lt. Alexander Adolphus Kerr, R.F.A.

For gallant conduct and devotion to duty when acting as forward observing officer. Under very heavy fire he made repeated attempts to lay his wire up to the captured position.

Temp. Capt. Albert Edward Kerr, North'd Fus.

For conspicuous gallantry in an assault on enemy trenches, when, although seriously wounded unable to move and exposed to heavy fire, he refused assistance and continued to encourage his men to advance.

2nd Lt. William Ruddock Kidd, R. Dub. Fus., Spec. Res.

For conspicuous gallantry. He led a party into the enemy's trenches with great dash, and successfully withdrew after a hot fight in which he himself was badly wounded.

2nd Lt. George William King, R.F.A.

For conspicuous gallantry during a long period of active operations as liaison officer with the Infantry. He succeeded in sending back valuable information, which could only be obtained by personal reconnaissance under heavy fire.

REWARDS FOR SERVICE IN THE FIELD—MILITARY CROSS—contd.

2nd Lt. Leonard King, Glouc. R.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. He led his platoon under very heavy machine-gun fire after suffering severe casualties. On the next night he showed great coolness in steadying his men during a heavy bombardment.

2nd Lt. Ernest Oliver Cavan Lambart, R. Berks. R.

For conspicuous gallantry during operations. During a very heavy bombardment he kept his gun teams steady by his coolness and fine example. Later he went into "No Man's Land" and helped to bring in the wounded under heavy fire.

Temp. Lt. Geoffrey Lambert, R.E.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion in going on two nights into "No Man's Land" and bringing in wounded men from within 50 yards of the enemy's trenches under continuous machine-gun and rifle fire. During the preparations for an attack he displayed great bravery in laying out a new fire trench. Though wounded on his return he remained out till dawn, to search for a missing man.

Temp. 2nd Lt. Frederick Norman Stocken Lampard North's Fns.

For conspicuous gallantry. When a mine was sprung by us, he was in charge of the covering party during the consolidation of the crater. The enemy left their trenches and attacked the party with bomb and rifle fire, but 2nd Lt. Lampard, with an R.E. officer, kept them at bay till reinforcements arrived. Though wounded in the head he stuck to his post till morning.

Rev. Albert Ernest Laurio, temp. Chapl., 4th Class, A. Chapl. Dept.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty during operations. He worked all day in helping the wounded back from the front line trenches under heavy fire. When his brigade was withdrawn he remained and continued collecting wounded for two days and two nights under heavy fire, showing an utter disregard of personal danger.

Capt. Robert Law, R. Dub. Fns.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. He led the leading company of his battalion with great determination against the enemy's front line. One shell carried his helmet away and another lifted him off his feet, but he reorganised his company and led another attack.

2nd Lt. Gilbert Barnett Legge, R.F.A., Spec. Res.

For consistently gallant and good work as forward observing officer, notably when, in order to establish an observation post, he worked forward through captured trenches infested with snipers. He captured two of the enemy in so doing.

Temp. Lt. Edward Francis Lepper, R. Ir. Rif.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. When consolidating his position in the enemy's line he repeatedly repulsed bombing attacks and organised counterattacks from any stray men whom he could collect. He held his trench for over 12 hours until the garrison was reduced to one sergeant and himself.

Temp. Lt. James Arthur Lilley, R.A.M.C.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty when tending the wounded in the open and in the front trenches under very heavy shell fire. His coolness under heavy fire had a great moral effect on the men.

Temp. Lt. Alan Scrivener Lloyd, R.F.A.

For most conspicuous gallantry as forward observing officer. He laid his wire to the most advanced infantry trench, and from thence, under heavy fire, directed the fire of his battery until the enemy battery was knocked out.

Lt. (temp. Capt.) Thomas Alfred Lowe, R. Ir. Regt.

For conspicuous gallantry during a hostile counter-attack on a village. Captain Lowe collected all men in the vicinity, and led them under heavy fire in a bayonet charge which drove out the enemy. Later he led another bayonet charge against enemy reinforcements, finally driving them away.

Temp. Lt. Frederic Gerald Bazalgette Lucas, Bedfordshire R.

For conspicuous gallantry during a period of active operations. After his senior officer had been killed he commanded his company with great coolness and judgment, and although wounded continued to advance, sticking to his post for three hours.

Temp. Capt. Fred Bail Ludlow, Notts. and Derby. R.

For gallantry and devotion to duty when in command of a raiding party. Although badly wounded during the assembly, he continued to organise and control the advance till compelled to return through loss of blood.

2nd Lt. Alexander Lindsay Macdonald, R. Highrs. and R.F.C.

For conspicuous gallantry and skill when carrying out artillery and patrol work at low altitudes and under heavy fire. On one occasion he dispersed a large body of infantry by machine gun fire from 1,200 feet, and then at once turned a battery on to another advancing battalion, causing many casualties.

Lt. Roderick Oswald Corderoy Macdonald, R.F.A. Spec. Res.

For conspicuous gallantry in connection with the registration of his own and other batteries of the brigade. His duties often took him out in front of our own troops. He carried out his work with extraordinary determination and at great personal risk.

Capt. George Reginald Edward Gray Mackay, M.B., R.A.M.C.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He went across the open to tend the wounded in a trench which was being heavily shelled, and helped them into safety. On the same day he went out again to help some stretcher-bearers and wounded under heavy fire. He saved many lives and set a fine example of courage.

Temp. Lt. William Nigel Mackenzie, R.F.A.

For conspicuous gallantry. He advanced with the leading infantry in an attack, and established an observation post, where he was continually exposed to heavy fire. After his commanding officer had been wounded he commanded the battery with great skill under constant fire, having two guns knocked out.

Temp. Capt. Dugald Black MacLean, M.B., R.A.M.C.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty during operations. He worked incessantly, attending the wounded in the open, with practically no rest for three days, under heavy shell and machine gun fire. His keenness and bravery inspired the stretcher-bearers.

Temp. Capt. George MacLeod, M.B., R.A.M.C.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty during several days of operations. He worked unceasingly tending and bringing in wounded officers and men, frequently in the open and under heavy fire. He set a splendid example to those around him.

2nd Lt. William Samuel Maitland, R. Ir. Rif.

For conspicuous gallantry. Although wounded he continued to lead his platoon in an attack in face of very heavy machine gun fire, until wounded a second time.

REWARDS FOR SERVICE IN THE FIELD—MILITARY CROSS—contd.

Temp. Capt. George Ernest Malcolm, R. Highrs.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. He led his company in the attack with great dash, and, after suffering heavy casualties, held his ground until a party of another regiment without officers joined him. He immediately took command of these and led a fresh attack until he was wounded.

2nd Lt. (temp. Lt.) Arthur Ewart Marnham, R.G.A.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty when acting as F.O.O. and Intelligence Officer to his group for a long period of active operations, during which he was daily under fire. His information, gathered at great personal risk, was most valuable.

Temp. 2nd Lt. Edgar Hugh Matheson, W. York. R.

For conspicuous gallantry in leading three patrols to investigate the enemy wire during a bombardment. Later he crawled down the battalion front, regardless of "Very" lights and machine gun fire, and carried orders.

Temp. 2nd Lt. Sydney Herbert Matthews, North'd Fus.

For conspicuous gallantry in leading his men to the enemy's second line trenches and holding on for three days, under heavy shell and machine gun fire, in order to consolidate his position.

Temp. 2nd Lt. William Henry Matthews, E. Surr. R.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. He organised and led with great dash an attack on a strongly defended enemy post, capturing and putting out of action several machine guns and killing many of the enemy.

2nd Lt. (temp. Lt.) Robert Maxwell, R. Scots.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. He took a half company through a heavy enemy barrage to its allotted position in spite of heavy casualties, and then returned with a small party and got his wounded away.

2nd Lt. Frank James Lanham Mayger, S. Wales Bord.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. After suffering heavy casualties in the advance he rallied all the men that were within reach, and sent back a clear report asking for instructions. On a previous occasion he did good work removing casualties from the enemy wire after a raid.

Capt. Campbell McNeill McCormack, M.B., R.A.M.C., Spec. Res.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty during operations. He directed the stretcher-bearers under heavy shell fire with the greatest coolness and courage. He succeeded in entering a village which had been heavily shelled, and, with another captain, a sergeant and four men, collected the wounded into a dugout and succeeded in getting them back later. He has frequently shown great courage.

Temp. Lt. Walter Woods McKown, R.F.A.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. He was the first F.O.O. to get a line into the village, and, utterly regardless of heavy shell fire, kept communication going for 30 hours.

Temp. Capt. Samuel Wilson McLellan, M.D., F.R.C.S., R.A.M.C.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty in action. He brought up stretcher-bearers during the attack, and, though soon wounded and rendered unconscious by a shell, he resumed work immediately on his recovery, and carried on under very heavy shell fire. He worked without stopping for 30 hours.

2nd Lt. Charles Mollet, Dorset R., Spec. Res.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion during an attack under very heavy fire. After the failure of the first attack, when his seniors were wounded, he assumed command of the battalion, and reorganised it for further attack. He ultimately brought it out of action. He was wounded during the operations.

Temp. 2nd Lt. Guy Douglas Clifford Money, Hamps. R.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. He kept his men together and led them into action under heavy machine-gun, shell, and rifle fire. He showed the greatest coolness, and did fine work throughout the day.

Temp. Lt. Frank Percival Montgomery, M.B. R.A.M.C.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty during operations. He collected and evacuated large numbers of wounded under heavy shell and machine gun fire, working for five days in the open practically without sleep. He set a splendid example.

Temp. 2nd Lt. Leslie Montrose-Ekin, York & Lanc. R.

For conspicuous gallantry as Officer in Command of a Lewis gun team. He led his men across the open under heavy machine gun and shell fire, in which they all became casualties and he himself wounded. Notwithstanding, he took the gun forward alone, and continued to serve it until it was knocked out of action and he was seriously wounded again.

2nd Lt. Herbert Morden-Wright, R.F.A.

For conspicuous gallantry during operations. For several days he observed the effects of our fire, often under very heavy shell fire. His observation post was blown in three times, and once he was knocked down by the blast of a shell, but he carried on with great coolness.

Temp. 2nd Lt. Albert Percy Myers, R. Lanc. R.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. He led his section forward with great dash, and, when they had all become casualties, he went back and collected stragglers and led them on to the attack. Though wounded early in the day, he refused to leave his battalion, and set a fine example throughout.

Lt. Francis Donald Napier-Clavering, R.E., Spec. Res.

For conspicuous gallantry during operations. He completed the construction and wiring of a strong point under heavy shell fire with bursts of machine gun fire. He has also carried out some dangerous reconnaissances.

Temp. Lt. George Spoor Nelson, North'd Fus.

For conspicuous gallantry before and during an assault on an enemy position. On reaching the hostile wire he found some men of another battalion who had preceded him, and led them forward through the wire until only two or three remained unwounded. Later he assisted in carrying in the wounded under heavy fire.

Temp. Capt. William Nelson, R. Fus.

For conspicuous gallantry when leading an attack, ordered at very short notice, on enemy trenches. The attack resulted in a considerable advance of our line, and three hostile field guns were put out of action.

2nd Lt. Alfred Nohle, R. Scots.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. He organised several attacks on an enemy position, and when all other Company Commanders had become casualties, he personally led the first party into the

REWARDS FOR SERVICE IN THE FIELD—MILITARY CROSS—contd.

- position under heavy machine gun and rifle fire. Later he organised bombing parties, and personally carried up supplies of bombs across the open under short range machine gun fire.
- 2nd Lt. (temp. Lt.) Wilfred James O'Bryen, R. War. R.
For conspicuous gallantry. When the explosion of an enemy mine had wrecked part of the defences of the company on his left, he rallied all the men near him and placed them to cover the new crater under heavy fire. He displayed great coolness in organising working parties directly the attack had been repulsed.
- 2nd Lt. Arthur Denzil Onslow, R. War. R., Spec. Res.
For conspicuous gallantry and coolness in leading his company in an attack until stopped by intact wire and concentrated machine gun fire. He exposed himself, regardless of danger, in carrying in wounded.
- Temp. 2nd Lt. Rupert Frederic Courtney Oxley-Boyle, M.G. Corps.
For conspicuous gallantry during operations. He displayed the greatest coolness under heavy shell fire, and, though severely wounded, stuck to his duty till again wounded. He refused to be removed till he had seen his men go over the parapet into action.
- 2nd Lt. Henry Jepson Paddison, Worc. R.
For conspicuous gallantry during operations. He went over the parapet in broad daylight and brought in a wounded man, who was lying 75 yards from the enemy trenches and 150 yards from our own. The man was severely wounded, and had to be carried a few feet at a time.
- Temp. Capt. Duncan Westlake Pailthorpe, R.A.M.C.
For conspicuous gallantry and devotion during operations, when attending the wounded in the open near the firing line under heavy fire of all descriptions, utterly regardless of personal danger.
- Temp. 2nd Lt. Stanley Edward Pakeman, R. Fus.
For conspicuous gallantry in action. After his command had suffered severe casualties he went up and down the line collecting men to lead on, till he was severely wounded himself.
- Temp. Capt. Murray Hulme Paterson, R.A.M.C.
For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty during operations. He went out twice by daylight into "No Man's Land" and brought in wounded men. When his battalion was relieved, he remained in his Aid Post till it was cleared of wounded. He did fine work.
- 2nd Lt. Hamilton Francis Moore Pellatt, R. Ir. Regt., Spec. Res.
For conspicuous gallantry in action. When a platoon was required from his company, to replace casualties in the front line, he at once volunteered and led his men forward with the greatest determination, though suffering heavy casualties.
- Temp. 2nd Lt. (temp. Capt.) Reginald Percy Perrin, Gen. List, attd. Trench Mortar Batty.
For conspicuous gallantry during operations. He brought up his trench guns and materially assisted in destroying a strong point, which was holding up the whole advance. His guns were frequently asked for, and he was always ready and able to get them into action immediately, whenever they were required.
- 2nd Lt. (temp. Lt.) George Stephens Perry, R.E.
For conspicuous gallantry during operations. He constructed a strong point under heavy fire, and, though wounded in two places, refused assistance and dressed and carried in a badly wounded sapper.
- Capt. Richard Perse, S. Staff. R.
For conspicuous gallantry. When working in the front line trenches he was knocked down and rendered unconscious, his subaltern being wounded. On recovering consciousness he crossed his subaltern's wounds, and at once got the men to work again. It was owing to his personal bravery that the task was completed under heavy fire.
- 2nd Lt. Arthur Harry Phillips, Oxf. & Bucks. L.I.
For conspicuous gallantry during operations. He went out into "No Man's Land" to reconnoitre and rally men under very heavy snaphel and machine-gun fire. He showed great coolness, and brought back valuable information.
- 2nd Lt. (temp. Lt.) John Bradley Philipson, R.E.
For conspicuous gallantry and determination in laying out and completing a strong point, which was of the greatest importance during subsequent operations. Although wounded, he showed great coolness and courage in defending the point from enemy counter-attack.
- Temp. Lt. Thomas Kingsley Pickard, York. R.
For conspicuous gallantry in going out alone and rescuing and bringing in an officer from the enemy's wire under bomb fire.
- Lt. Rudolph Arthur Preston, Linc. R. Spec. Res.
For conspicuous gallantry in action. He repelled strong hostile bomb attacks consolidated his position and captured some 20 to 30 prisoners.
- Temp. Capt. Edward Vincent Price, York & Lanc. R.
For conspicuous gallantry during an attack. After the first wave had suffered heavily from machine-gun fire, he rallied parties of men of several units, and with great bravery and determination led them on to renew the attack. He set a fine example to his men.
- Temp. Lt. Herbert Quarry, R.F.A.
For conspicuous gallantry. When his battery had ceased firing and he was given permission to withdraw, he saw his men away, but stayed behind himself in order to assist wounded infantrymen under very heavy shell fire.
- Temp. 2nd Lt. John Anthony Radford, R.F.A.
For conspicuous gallantry when getting a gun into a forward position, although much interfered with by hostile machine-gun fire. The gun subsequently fired over 100 rounds in about 25 minutes with open sights at points of the salient in the enemy's front line.
- Lt. Alexander Cecil Rankin, R.E. Spec. Res.
For conspicuous gallantry during prolonged operations until he was wounded. On one occasion he worked for many hours under heavy shell fire strengthening and extending a trench, thereby enabling the position to be held against a violent counter attack.
- Lt. (temp. Capt.) Thomas Cecil Rapp, W. Rid. R.
For conspicuous gallantry in organizing and directing, during an heavy bombardment, the rescue of a party of men who had been buried by the blowing in of a dug-out.
- 2nd Lt. Wilson Ratcliff, York. L.I.
For gallantry and devotion to duty during an enemy counter-attack on captured trenches. Though wounded, he went forward to his guns and reorganized his teams, which were losing heavily. He acted as one of the team for a gun, and continued, though wounded, until the attack was repulsed.
- 2nd Lt. (temp. Lt.) William Read, Lond. R.
For conspicuous gallantry. He led a raid on the enemy's trenches with great determination, though wounded in the arm and wrist. He remained to the last in the enemy's trench, and helped two wounded men out of it. Finally, when it was dark, he crawled back, and brought in a wounded man, with the assistance of two other men.

Temp. 2nd Lt. Ferdinand Edward Reiss, R. Fus.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. After his Captain had been killed, he led his company, and continued to urge on the men till he was badly wounded himself. He remained out till night, refusing to leave his men.

Temp. 2nd Lt. Stanley Renton, Devon. R.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. On reaching a front-line trench, he found the only officer wounded. He at once took command, organized the consolidation of the position under heavy machine-gun and sniping fire, and sent back a valuable report. Later, regardless of danger, he rendered first-aid to many wounded men.

Temp. Capt. Arthur Owen Playford Reynolds, M.B., R.A.M.C.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion during operations, when tending the wounded under heavy fire for thirty-six consecutive hours. He also made two gallant attempts to bring in a wounded officer under very heavy fire.

2nd Lt. (temp. Capt.) George Eustace Armstrong Richards, R.E.

For conspicuous gallantry during operations. He carried out several reconnaissances under heavy fire, and, with a party of sappers, put a newly-captured position into a state of defence under heavy fire.

2nd Lt. (temp. Capt.) John Harold Ellerson Rickerby, Glouc. R.

For conspicuous gallantry. He defended his post with the greatest determination against two strong attacks by the enemy, preceded by heavy bombardment. When his signallers had all become casualties, he went himself under fire to the signal dug-out to ask for reinforcements. On his return he beat off another attack by machine-gun fire, and then counter-attacked with the bayonet.

Temp. 2nd Lt. Alexander Stewart Ritchie, R. Highrs.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. He did fine patrol work and gathered valuable information regarding the enemy's wire. Later he showed great coolness and courage when leading his company and men of other regiments in a counter-attack.

Temp. 2nd Lt. Lionel John Roberts, Rif. Brig.

For conspicuous gallantry during a raid on the enemy's trenches. He led a bombing party until only himself and one private remained. He then personally threw bombs without any help for some time, eventually going back for more bombs and reinforcements. His pucky action held up the enemy, many of whom were killed.

Temp. 2nd Lt. William Jex Robertson, R. Sc. Fus.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. He led his men with great determination in the attack, fearlessly exposing himself until he was severely wounded. He then still continued urging men on, till too exhausted to use his voice.

Temp. Lt. William Stewart Robertson, R. Highrs.

For conspicuous gallantry during operations. When posting a standing patrol close to the enemy's line, a machine-gun wounded two of his party. After getting the wounded men into safety he returned, and brought in his telephone, which had been left behind, although he was being closely watched. He displayed great coolness and courage throughout.

2nd Lt. George Albert Robson, Rif. Brig.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. Just before the assault he mounted his two machine-guns, and fired them till they were both put out of action by hell-fire. While bringing up a new gun the enemy bombed his party, but he built a block and held up their bombing attacks for two hours in a tunnel in total darkness, though most of his men had become casualties.

Temp. 2nd Lt. Ernest George Rontley, E. Kent R.

For conspicuous gallantry when on a reconnoitring patrol. Although coming under heavy fire, he led his party with great skill across the open, entered the enemy trench, and established two blocks, taking three prisoners. Later, with a machine-gun, he covered the withdrawal.

Capt. Archibald Watson Russell, M.B., R.A.M.C. Spec. Res.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion during protracted operations. He voluntarily remained days and nights in the trenches and in the open dressing the wounded under heavy fire. He carried in several wounded men, and on one occasion he was partially buried.

Capt. Noel Humphrey Wykeham Saw, R.A.M.C. Spec. Res.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He worked incessantly for five days and nights tending the wounded brought in from 'No Man's Land.' He went out himself to direct operations connected with collecting the wounded, quite regardless of the heavy fire.

2nd Lt. Thomas Earle Gordon Scaife, Dn Gds. and R.F.C.

For conspicuous gallantry and skill when on contact patrol work during active operations, often flying low under heavy fire. On one occasion, when flying at 1,000 feet, his petrol tanks were pierced by shell fire. He managed to stop the holes and enabled his pilot to bring the machine home.

Capt. George Macdonald Scott, R.A.M.C. Spec. Res.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty in tending the wounded in 'No Man's Land' under heavy artillery and machine-gun fire. Finally he carried in a wounded officer on his back, but collapsed from his efforts. When he recovered he insisted on returning at once to duty, and continued dressing the wounded between the lines till he was knocked over by a shell and incapacitated.

Temp. 2nd Lt. Arthur Cecil Scriven, Suff. R.

For conspicuous gallantry. He was sent with four guns to a partially captured position, and contributed greatly to its consolidation. When the infantry were temporarily withdrawn he remained throughout a bombardment, and in spite of heavy casualties, succeeding in annihilating several local counter attacks.

2nd Lt. Cuthbert William Short, R. of O., Ind. Army and R.F.C.

For conspicuous gallantry and skill. On one occasion, when our cavalry were held up by machine-gun fire, he, with Capt. Miller as pilot, came close to the ground, and flew several times along the line of hostile machine-guns, drawing their fire, and engaging them with his Lewis gun, thus enabling the cavalry to advance.

Temp. 2nd Lt. Gerald Caldwell Sjordet, Rif. Brig.

For conspicuous gallantry during an attack. After his Company Commander had been killed he rallied the company under heavy fire, and consolidated the position gained. When the order to withdraw was given he brought the battalion back to the trenches, remaining on duty until wounded himself.

REWARDS FOR SERVICE IN THE FIELD—MILITARY CROSS—contd.

Temp. Capt. Wilfred Archer Sneath, M.B., F.R.C.S., R.A.M.C.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty during operations. He was out every night tending the wounded under fire. On one occasion he went out 200 yards in advance of our front line and dressed a wounded man under machine-gun fire, afterwards bringing him in.

Lt. (Temp. Capt.) Archibald Douglas Spark, Gord. Highrs.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. When ordered to keep his guns close behind our attack until a strong point was captured, he was informed that all the company officers had become casualties. Leaving his guns with his sergeant he took command of the company under very heavy fire. He finally covered the retirement and personally shot four of the enemy.

Temp. 2nd Lt. Dudley Sampson Blyth Starnes, Midd'x R.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. Held a platoon in an attack with great coolness and bravery, and reorganised men of other platoons whose leaders had fallen. He was finally himself severely wounded.

Temp. Capt. James Smith Stewart, M.B., R.A.M.C.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty during operations. When the advanced dressing-station was heavily shelled he worked continuously tending the wounded, and went up and down the road for the same purpose. He personally assisted in rescuing seven buried men under heavy fire.

2nd Lt. (temp. Capt.) Ivor Stewart-Liberty, Ox. and Bucks, L.I.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. He displayed complete disregard of personal danger, and by his fine example under heavy fire gave great encouragement to his men. He kept them together in the assault under heavy machine-gun fire and led them to the enemy's trenches. He was severely wounded.

2nd Lt. Harry Douglas Sturrock, High. Cyclist Bn.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. He led his platoon with great dash into the enemy's support line. Finally, though badly wounded in the head, he succeeded in carrying back a private, who was too badly wounded to get on by himself.

Temp. Capt. Jacob Guy Swart, R.A. and R.F.C.

For conspicuous gallantry and skill in attacking troops on the ground from a low altitude, his machine being frequently subjected to very heavy machine-gun and rifle fire from the ground.

2nd Lt. Victor Noel Honsman Symons, Worc. R.

For conspicuous gallantry. He rescued a wounded man from "No Man's Land" in broad daylight, though enemy snipers were firing at him both going out and coming in. He had previously done good work bringing up trench mortars and ammunition under heavy shell fire.

Temp. Capt. Allen Edgar Thompson, N.D., R.A.M.C.

For conspicuous gallantry and skill during operations when attending wounded under heavy fire for thirty-six consecutive hours. Many times he searched ruined trenches and open ground for wounded, and, although struck several times by shell splinters, and once buried by shell explosion, he continued his gallant work.

2nd Lt. (temp. Capt.) Edward de Trafford, S. Staff. R., Spec. Res.

For conspicuous gallantry when leading his company during an advance to occupy a position. His bravery and example contributed greatly to repel the constant enemy counter-attacks.

Temp. Lt. Alexander Frederick Traill, R.A.

For conspicuous gallantry. When in charge of an ammunition dump, which was ignited by shell fire he organised a party to extinguish the fire, and was carrying away a box of shells when an explosion knocked him down. On regaining consciousness he at once returned to the dump, and helped to carry away an officer and a N.C.O. who had been wounded.

2nd Lt. Reginald Ernest Trease, R.F.A., Spec. Res.

For conspicuous gallantry during operations. When acting as F.O.O. without a linesman, he went out under very heavy fire to mend his wire. When telephone communication became impossible, he went through the barrage and established visual communication. He has showed great gallantry throughout the operations.

2nd Lt. Ronald Henry Trippett, R.F.A.

For gallantry and devotion to duty. He remained with his guns under very heavy fire in an exposed position throughout the day. His gallant example gave much encouragement to his men.

2nd Lt. Frank Henry Lubbock Varcoe, Midd'x R.

For conspicuous gallantry during operations. He rendered invaluable assistance to his Company Commander during the attack, and later showed great skill in organising his defences. He shot with his revolver an enemy signaller who had entered the trench with his telephone instrument.

Temp. Lt. (temp. Capt.) William Crossley Waile, York and Lanc. R.

For conspicuous gallantry during an attack. He directed his guns with great skill and coolness, several times going into the open under heavy fire to assist his gun teams.

Lt. Lewis Henry Todd Walker, Welsh R.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. When in charge of an advanced bombing party he kept up the spirits of his men by his fine example for six hours, and continued to make progress. All were exhausted after hard fighting.

Lt. Francis Weldon Walshe, S. Wales Bord., Spec. Res.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. He led his company with great dash in the attack under very heavy machine gun fire. On a previous occasion he did fine work under shell and machine gun fire.

2nd Lt. (temp. Lt.) William Armstrong Webster, R.F.

For conspicuous gallantry when endeavouring to make a strong point in face of several hostile counter-attacks, which were successfully repelled. On another occasion he organised, with courage and ability, the inner defences under heavy shell fire.

2nd Lt. Arthur Conrad Robert Welsh, S. Wales Bord.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. He led a party of bombers with great dash, and refused to retire after he had been wounded.

Lt. (temp. Capt.) George Willis, E. York. R.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. He took command when his senior officer had been wounded, and later consolidated the left of the captured division. He displayed great coolness under fire, and set a fine example to his men. He has done fine work throughout the campaign.

Lt. James Ernest Studholme Wilson, R.A.M.C.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty during operations. He went up to the front line from his Aid Post through a very heavy barrage, in order to assist the wounded. By his pluck and skill he undoubtedly saved many lives. He afterwards controlled the evacuation of the casualties under heavy fire.

REWARDS FOR SERVICE IN THE FIELD—MILITARY CROSS—contd.

2nd Lt. (temp Capt.) Ronald Eliot Wilson, York. Lanc. R.

For conspicuous gallantry and leadership when, as battalion bombing officer, he organised and maintained bomb supplies under heavy shell fire. He led up several parties when the enemy counter-attacked, and finally guided a supporting company to the point attacked with comparatively small loss.

Temp. 2nd Lt. Charles Campbell Winchester, R' Scots.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. Lt. Brown and 2nd Lt. Winchester rallied the battalion after a check in front of uncut wire, and afterwards led the men on to the enemy's second line. Later those two officers organised and carried out a bombing attack, which resulted in the capture of 63 of the enemy.

Temp. 2nd Lt. Charles Aeh Windham, Norf. R.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. When the attack was held up, he organised the position with great coolness under heavy shell and machine-gun fire. He also led his men in a successful attack with the bayonet on two enemy lines of trenches, and was the first man in on both occasions.

Capt. William Louis René Wood, R.A.M.C.

For consistent gallantry and devotion to duty. On one occasion he went under very heavy shell fire to attend to the wounded, and also assisted to dig others out. By his coolness and example he has rendered great assistance under the most trying and dangerous conditions.

Lt. (temp. Capt.) Edward Hamilton Everard Woodward, Glouc. R.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. He led his company in the assault with great dash until he was wounded. He displayed great coolness and courage throughout the day.

Capt. Hugh Edmond Fowler Wyncoll, Notte. & Derby. R. and R.F.C.

For conspicuous gallantry and skill as an Observer, in attacking troops on the ground from low altitudes. On one occasion, with Captain Swart as pilot, he successfully attacked three detachments of the enemy, his machine being subjected to heavy machine-gun and rifle fire from the ground.

Temp. Lt. Donald Yorke, Welch R.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. He took command of a strange company which had lost its officers, led it forward, and consolidated the ground gained.

Capt. Reginald James Young, Midd'x R.

For conspicuous gallantry during an attack. He was one of the first to enter the enemy trench, displaying great coolness in encouraging men to throw bombs, while he himself accounted for several of the enemy with his revolver. Although badly wounded he continued his fine work until wounded again.

Temp. Lt. Thomas Forbes Young, R.E.

For conspicuous gallantry during operations. For two days he did most gallant work, collecting wounded in "No Man's Land" under heavy fire, quite regardless of his own safety.

No. 8859 C.S.M. William Aitken, Sea. Highrs.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. When all his officers had become casualties he took command of the company, organised bombing parties, and did fine work re-organising the defences.

No. 6764 Coy. S.M. Alfred Dorricott, Midd'x R.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. After the occupation of an enemy trench he commanded the survivors of his company, and by his personal bravery and example held the position until wounded.

10437 Co. Serjt.-Maj. William George Downs, K.O. Sco. Bord.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. When his company officers became casualties he took charge and rallied and controlled the company. It was chiefly due to his coolness and fine example that the company maintained its position.

7096 Co. Serjt.-Maj. William George Fenoulhet, Sea. Highrs.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. He did fine work at a critical time, rallying men of a number of units who were held up by machine-gun fire combined with bombing attacks. His splendid example gave great confidence to the men.

2956 Co. Serjt.-Maj. Alfred Fowles, Glouc. R.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. When his officers had become casualties he took command of the front line, rallying and urging the men forward under heavy machine-gun fire. He had previously on another occasion shown great bravery.

9541 Co. Serjt.-Maj. John James Gracie, K.O. Sco. Bord.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. When all his officers became casualties he took command of his company, and held his ground with great determination till ordered to withdraw. He has done fine work since the war started.

3516 Serjt.-Maj. Joseph Haggart, Norf. R.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. He displayed great coolness when organising company orderlies, enemy prisoners, and working parties under heavy artillery fire. When battalion headquarters caught fire he organised parties to put the fire out under heavy fire.

8788 Co. Serjt.-Maj. Andrew Harrison, E. Kent R.

For conspicuous gallantry during a night attack on an enemy strong point, when, although wounded, he ran along the parapet combing the enemy until all resistance had been overcome.

21,112 Serjt.-Maj. John Hodson, North'd Fus.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty during an attack. After all the officers had fallen he led the men to the first line of enemy trenches, and, although wounded, continued to struggle on ahead until he fell exhausted from loss of blood.

2999 Co. Serjt.-Maj. Arthur Hecourt March, R. War. R.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. When all his officers had become casualties he rallied the men of his company, and, by his fine example, kept them steady under very trying circumstances.

7364 Serjt.-Maj. George Henry Moore, Notts. & Derby. R.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. He advanced with the battalion under heavy machine-gun and shrapnel fire, and, although wounded, continued to advance until ordered to retire. His fine example inspired all with him.

5395 Co. Serjt.-Maj. John Palmer, Hamps. R.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. When all his company officers had become casualties he took command, led on the men, and set a splendid example.

8519 Co. Serjt.-Maj. Frederick Powell, R. W. Fus.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. When all the company officers had fallen he took command, and led his company under heavy fire with great skill and courage. He also rallied men of other units when the enemy counter-attacked.

REWARDS FOR SERVICE IN THE FIELD—MILITARY CROSS—contd.

7968 Co. Serjt.-Maj. Thomas Prentice, K.O. Sec. Bord.

46 Serjt.-Maj. Albert George Rider, R. Berks. R.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. His company was in support during an attack. When bombs, stores, etc., were required for the captured trenches, he organised carrying parties and led them across under heavy machine gun and shell fire. Next night he did further good work during a counter-attack by the enemy.

12725 Co. Serjt.-Maj. Edward Sweeney, R. Fus.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. He commanded his company when the officers had become casualties. After being wounded he threw bombs till no more were available. He then took a machine gun which he worked till it was disabled. Finally he withdrew his remaining men in good order.

S/5835 Co. Serjt.-Maj. Alfred West, R. W. Surr. R.

For conspicuous gallantry and resource. When all the officers of his company had become casualties during an attack, he assumed command, reorganised the company, and enabled the position to be successfully held.

8426 Co. Serjt.-Maj. George Whelan, W. York. R.

For conspicuous gallantry and good work during an attack. After all the officers of his company had become casualties he took command, and led on with the greatest courage and skill.

AUSTRALIAN IMPERIAL FORCE.

Capt. Percival Bluns, Aust. Infy.

For conspicuous gallantry during the consolidation of a position, when he and his men dug a firing line in broad daylight under heavy sniping fire. When the line was heavily bombarded later, he shifted his men to shellholes in front, thus saving many lives.

Lt. Cecil Mackintosh Bolleau, Aust. Infy.

For conspicuous gallantry in a combined bomb and machine gun attack, which was entirely successful, the objective being gained with very slight loss. Over 50 of the enemy were killed and 15 taken prisoners.

Lt. Richard Farley Bulkeley, Aust. Inf.

For conspicuous gallantry during operations: He pushed forward ahead of our position, capturing 13 prisoners and gaining most valuable information. Later he dug out, under heavy shell fire, men who had been buried.

Lt. Alan Victor Carter, Aust. Inf.

For conspicuous gallantry during operations, when, by his bravery and good leadership in a difficult situation, he enabled a trench to be held against a strong enemy counter-attack.

Lt. William Lempriere Cooke, Aust. Inf.

For conspicuous gallantry during a night action, when he, with great determination, brought three machine guns into the front firing line, and then recovered a gun belonging to another unit which had been lost.

2nd Lt. Frederick Brooke Darling, Aust. Fd. Art.

For conspicuous gallantry during a severe bombardment and enemy counter-attack. By keeping his guns in action until his ammunition was exhausted, and assisting to serve them himself, he greatly aided in repelling the attack.

Lt. Luke Patrick Fay, Aust. Infy.

For conspicuous gallantry during a night assault and capture of an enemy strong post. A heavy shelling the following day caused many casualties, but, although badly wounded, he led his company forward when ordered to clear a trench.

Capt. Samuel Charles Fitzpatrick, Aust. Army Med. Corps.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty during protracted operations. He dressed wounded in the open under heavy shell fire, and worked continuously for four days, with but little rest or sleep.

Capt. Joseph Patrick Fogarty, Aus. A. Med. Corps.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty in action. He carried out his work among the wounded with utter disregard to his own personal safety. Two brigades owe him a deep debt of gratitude.

Lt. Walter Cyril Godfrey, Aust. Inf.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. He carried out a fine reconnaissance in "No Man's Land," and did fine work with his Motor Detachment. Later he took command of an infantry party. Though seriously wounded, he stuck to his post till he collapsed.

2nd Lt. William Graham, Aust. Fd. Art.

For conspicuous gallantry when in charge of a forward Observation Post. Throughout the operations he sent down most valuable information, which enabled batteries of his brigade to act on parties of the enemy on his front line.

Capt. George Aloysius Makinson Heydon, Aust. Army Med. Corps.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty during protracted operations. For four days he attended the wounded under incessant fire, carrying them to his dressing station where the stretcher-bearers had become casualties.

Capt. Leslie Fraser Standish Hore, Aust. Light Horse.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. He carried out daring reconnaissances, and displayed great determination under heavy shell fire.

2nd Lt. Paul Maxwell Martyn, Aust. Pioneers.

For conspicuous gallantry when in charge of a pioneer party clearing and consolidating a trench. When the enemy counter-attacked, he collected his party, and repelled the attack under very difficult circumstances.

Capt. William Francis James McCann, Aust. Infy.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. He led his company in the attack, bombing the enemy back, and, in spite of heavy casualties, pressed forward until severely wounded by a bomb.

Lt. William Charles McCutchan, Aus. Divi. Sig. Co.

For conspicuous gallantry and skill during operations. By his personal bravery he was able to maintain important artillery communications during a critical period, frequently going out under heavy shell fire to repair lines. He was wounded, but completed his work before returning to headquarters.

Lt. (temp. Capt.) Henry Arthur McGregor, Aus. Inf.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. He handled his battery during several days' fighting with great skill and courage. During a reconnaissance under heavy fire he brought in one wounded man, and then shot and brought in an enemy sniper.

REWARDS FOR SERVICE IN THE FIELD—MILITARY CROSS—contd.

Lt. Charles Duncan Monteath, Aus. Infy.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. He led two consecutive night attacks on an enemy strong point, and succeeded in driving the enemy out of his position. He then held on with a few men for an hour until support arrived.

2nd Lt. Raymond Sherwin, Aus. Inf.

For conspicuous gallantry during protracted operations, culminating in the capture and retention of an important position. Early in the action, when all his seniors had become casualties, he commanded his company with skill and judgment under heavy shell fire, and repelled a strong hostile counter-attack.

Lt. Reginald Arthur Titford, Aus. Pioneers.

For conspicuous gallantry during operations when in charge of pioneers consolidating a trench. An infantry party in advance was heavily attacked and forced back. Both officers were wounded, but Lt. Titford assumed command and held on, until the arrival of a trench gun enabled the attack to be repelled.

Lt. Irving Thomas Galdner Turnbull, Aus. Fld. Art.

For conspicuous gallantry during operations in organising and maintaining communications by runner and telephone in a heavily shelled area. His example was most valuable during a critical period.

Lt. John Stuart Dight Walker, Aus. Inf.

For conspicuous gallantry and skill during operations. He assisted wounded men and sent up ammunition and water to forward dumps under incessant shell fire. During the main enemy counter-attack he directed a steady indirect fire, without waiting for orders, on the advancing enemy.

2nd Lt. Walter Lawry Waterhouse, Aus. Inf.

For conspicuous gallantry in the capture of an enemy's strong post which he had been sent out to examine. He took several prisoners. Later, during a heavy bombardment, he set a fine example to his company.

2nd Lt. Ralph Morton White, Aus. Inf.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. He led his men to the most advanced position gained, and, although his party lost heavily, reorganised men of other battalions who had lost their officers, successfully consolidated the position and beat off a counter-attack. After 36 hours of heavy fighting he was finally rendered unconscious by a shell explosion.

17 Serjt.-Maj. Frank White Goodwin, Aus. Infy.

For conspicuous gallantry during protracted operations. He led a patrol forward, gaining valuable information, supervised supplies for the front line, and worked without ceasing for three days and nights in the removal of the wounded under heavy fire.

CANADIAN FORCE.

Lt. Arthur Spencer Allen, Can. Inf.

For conspicuous gallantry on several occasions, notably when he organised and led parties against an enemy post, dispersing them with bombs. He also volunteered and cut a gap in the enemy's wire previous to a raid.

Lt. James Clifford Andrews, Can. Infy.

For conspicuous gallantry during a raid on the enemy's trenches. He captured a prisoner and removed him from the trench under heavy fire. When the officer in charge was wounded he took command and displayed great coolness during the withdrawal.

Lt. Guy Sedden Clarkson, Can. Infy.

For conspicuous gallantry and skill when leading a raiding party into the enemy's trenches. He inflicted heavy casualties and withdrew with one prisoner and some valuable identifications. His party suffered only one slight casualty.

Lt. Harry Robertson Dillon, Can. Fd. Art.

For conspicuous gallantry during operations. He rescued a wounded officer from close to the enemy's wire. He also controlled the fire of his battery from an exposed point within forty-five yards of the enemy's trenches, standing up and exposed to machine gun fire.

Lt. Sydney Baker Harris, Can. Inf.

For conspicuous gallantry during a raid on the enemy's trenches. He killed two of the enemy with his revolver and three with bombs. After being wounded he continued to encourage his men and to throw bombs. Finally he helped to carry a wounded sergeant back to our lines under heavy fire.

Lt. Thomas Lewis Owen Williams, Can. Inf.

For conspicuous gallantry when leading a raid into the enemy's trenches. After a fight his party succeeded in entering the trenches and in bringing back a prisoner and valuable information. He was himself severely wounded, and has since lost both his legs.

Lt. John Stanley Woods, Can. Inf.

For conspicuous gallantry when destroying an enemy post with its garrison. With another officer and a supply of explosive he forced his way through the wire round the post, and, though the enemy bombed him heavily, he laid and exploded his charge successfully.

NEWFOUNDLAND CONTINGENT.

Capt. Bertram Butler, Newfoundland R.

For conspicuous gallantry during operations. He commanded a raiding party on two successive nights with great determination in face of heavy opposition. A few days later he took part in an attack on the enemy's lines and did fine work.

NEW ZEALAND FORCE.

Capt. John Richmond Cowles, New Zealand Rif. Bde.

For conspicuous gallantry when leading a raid on the enemy's trenches. Thirty-three of the enemy were killed and useful identifications secured. Mainly owing to his skill and resource only seven of his men were wounded.

Lt. Phillip John Ellis, New Zealand Fd. Art.

For conspicuous gallantry. When one of the gun equipments became ignited he entered, and, with volunteers, assisted in removing a large amount of ammunition, including high explosives. He then succeeded in removing the gun from the burning equipment and preventing the spread of the fire. He was under shell fire at the time and our own ammunition was exploding.

Lt. Edward Henry Turner Kibblewhite, Wellington R.

For conspicuous gallantry. When the enemy raided an advanced position and his senior officer had become a casualty, he took command, rallied the men, led them back and drove out the enemy.

Capt. Alfred James Powley, New Zealand Rif. Bde.

For conspicuous gallantry during a raid on the enemy's trenches. His party was heavily encumbered by eight wounded, one dead man, and nine prisoners, but with great determination he got them all in safely.

REWARDS FOR SERVICE IN THE FIELD—MILITARY CROSS—contd.

2nd Lt. (temp. Lt.) Ralph Adams, R. War. R.

For conspicuous gallantry during a raid on the enemy's trenches. Under close fire he cut the enemy's wires with torpedoes. He then bombed his way along the enemy's trench, killing three of the enemy himself, and held a barricade till reinforced.

(The Military Cross was awarded in London Gazette dated 14th Jan. 1916.)

Capt. Leoline Jenkins, R.G.A. and R.F.C.

For conspicuous gallantry and skill. He has done much fine work for the artillery, often under very difficult circumstances. On one occasion he flew for a long time at a very low altitude under continual machine-gun and artillery fire.

(The Military Cross was awarded in London Gazette dated 3rd June 1916.)

(Extract from the London Gazette, dated 26th September, 1916.)

His Majesty the KING has been graciously pleased to confer the Military Cross on the undermentioned Officers and Warrant Officers in recognition of their gallantry and devotion to duty in the Field:—

Temp. 2nd Lt. Albert George Allen, S. Staffs R.

For conspicuous gallantry during operations. He carried out a very dangerous reconnaissance, crawling out twice by daylight close up to the enemy's position. He was heavily sniped at, but located the enemy in a trench previously reported as unoccupied.

Capt. William Barnsley Allen, M.B., R.A.M.C.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He was telephoned for when an artilleryman was severely wounded, and came in at once over ground which was being heavily shelled at the time. On another occasion he did similar fine work under heavy shell-fire.

Temp. 2nd Lt. Kenneth Anns, E. Surr. R.

For conspicuous gallantry during operations. With two men he reconnoitred close up to the enemy's lines, and brought back valuable information. He has continually volunteered for dangerous patrols.

Capt. Aston Gifford Astley, R. Fus.

For conspicuous gallantry during operations. He organized the machine-gun support to two attacks, and also the defences of both the captured positions. He inflicted heavy losses on the enemy.

Temp. Lt. Francis Wright Atherton, R.F.A.

For conspicuous gallantry during operations. He observed fire for thirty hours, during which he was under heavy enemy shell-fire. At intervals he moved to and fro repairing telephone wires. It was largely due to his pluck that communications were maintained.

2nd Lt. Joseph Henry Baker, R.F.A. Spec. Res.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. He kept a forward gun in action within 300 yards of the enemy throughout the attack, in spite of heavy shell-fire on his exposed position. He showed the greatest coolness and determination.

2nd Lt. Arnold Montague Barrowcliff, Leic. R.

For conspicuous gallantry. When the enemy exploded a mine, he at once collected six infantrymen, went over the parapet in broad daylight, and worked at consolidating the crater till he was wounded in three places and forced to withdraw.

Temp. Capt. George Galen Bartholomew, M.B. R.A.M.C.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty during operations. His dressing station was continually under shell-fire, but he tended the wounded with the greatest coolness and courage. He remained in the line thirty hours after the battalion had been removed. He had previously done similar fine work.

Temp. 2nd Lt. (temp. Capt.) Leonard Frank Beal Bedford.

For conspicuous gallantry during operations. He consolidated his position under heavy shell and machine-gun fire, and got into touch with the troops on his right. In spite of shell-fire he rendered a most useful report with map. He had previously done fine work in consolidating and holding a position in a wood under very difficult circumstances.

Temp. Lt. Arthur John Beard, Essex R.

For conspicuous gallantry during operations. He went out twice under very heavy shell-fire to find how things were going in the captured position. Finding that the bomb supply was running short, he led up parties with fresh supplies. His prompt action saved the situation.

Temp. 2nd Lt. George Beattie, Arg. & Sudth Highrs.

For conspicuous gallantry during operations. Second Lieutenants Irvine and Beattie crawled out for 150 yards from shell-hole to shell-hole, and, though frequently fired at, brought in a wounded officer on a waterproof sheet from within 50 yards of the enemy's trench.

Temp. Lt. Harold George Benest, R.F.A.

For conspicuous gallantry during operations. During a strong raid on the enemy's trenches he went out under very heavy shell-fire in order to establish visual communication after the wires had been cut. He also laid a wire back to the trenches, though twice half buried by shells. Later he brought in wounded men under machine-gun fire.

Lt. Vere Bennett-Stanford, R.F.A.

For conspicuous gallantry during operations. During a fortnight he did fine work as liaison officer with the infantry, and as F.O.O. He showed the greatest courage and resource under heavy shell-fire. At great personal risk he went out to the assistance of an officer who had been seriously wounded, and also of a wounded man.

2nd Lt. (temp. Capt.) Vivian Lionel Bennett, Norf. R.

For conspicuous gallantry during operations. He displayed great coolness during heavy bombardments, and later led his men forward in the attack with great dash. He was severely wounded during this operation.

2nd Lt. George Alexander Bentinck, R. Scots.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. When the leading battalion was held up by machine-gun fire, he brought up a gun into the front line and kept it in action under heavy shell-fire. Later, on the same day, he was instrumental in bringing in about twenty-four wounded officers and men under heavy fire. Next day he again distinguished himself, and was wounded.

2nd Lt. (temp. Lt.) Aubrey Francis Blackwell, R.F.A.

For conspicuous gallantry during operations. When his battery was being heavily shelled, and the order was given to clear part of the position, he repeatedly returned to his gun-pits and telephone dug-out to make sure that all his men were safe. On the afternoon of the same day, during another heavy shelling, he went back and brought away three men from a dug-out, which was shortly afterwards blown in.

REWARDS FOR SERVICE IN THE FIELD—MILITARY CROSS—contd

Lt. (temp. Capt.) Gny Bolsover, R.G.A. Spec. Res.

For conspicuous gallantry during operations. When the battery had been ordered to take cover, owing to heavy shell-fire, he ran out with a sergeant to two wounded officers near the battery position. They carried one to a trench 200 yards away, and then returned to the other. Finding him dead they went back to the first officer, dressed his wounds, and had him carried back. All this took place under very heavy shell-fire.

Temp. Capt. Hugh Salvin Bowlby, R. Suss. R.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. After launching a successful attack with two platoons, he at once reorganized his company, sent off a party with machine guns to reinforce a captured trench, and organised a reconnoitring patrol to get in touch with the enemy. It was largely due to his coolness and courage that we were able to hold this trench against the enemy attack.

2nd Lt. Norman Brearley, L'pool R. Spec. Res. and R.F.C.

For conspicuous skill and gallantry. He went out to attack an enemy kite balloon and managed to get immediately above his objective. He then pretended that he had been hit by anti-aircraft fire and side-slipped down to fifteen hundred feet, when he suddenly dived at the balloon which was being hauled down and fired into it until he almost touched it. When at 300 feet from the ground the balloon burst into flames and was entirely destroyed. He then returned.

Temp. Capt. Oebert Harold Brown, D.S.O., Suff. R.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. He commanded the only company which succeeded in reaching its objective, and beat off many bombing counter-attacks until he was finally ordered to withdraw. He set a fine example of coolness and courage, and carried out the withdrawal with great skill.

Capt. Thomas Gerard Brown, Conn. Rang. Spec. Res.

For conspicuous gallantry during operations. He displayed great skill and personal courage when in command of trench mortar batteries. On one occasion he took up two mortars into a position, only part of which was held by us. On another occasion, under heavy fire, he took a heavy mortar across the open and brought it into action.

2nd Lt. Eric West Brutton, Devon R. Spec. Res.

For conspicuous gallantry during operations. He supported the infantry attack with a machine-gun. After practically all his gun team had become casualties he served the gun himself, and remained in action as long as the gun could be of any use.

Temp. 2nd Lt. Arthur George Burrows, Suff. R.

For conspicuous gallantry when in charge of a raid. He was ordered to take a prisoner. He crawled under the enemy's wire and, though wounded on the parapet, entered the enemy's trench. After firing at one of the enemy who ran away, he saw another, closed with him and forced him to surrender. By this time he had been wounded in four places, and had to be assisted back by two privates who had followed him. The prisoner was brought back.

Temp. Lt. James Sidley Alexandor Burton, R. Berks. R.

For conspicuous gallantry. When bringing up rations under heavy shell fire a pair of mules in a limber bolted, knocking down the driver. Though badly wounded, Lt. Burton pursued the limber, climbed on the tail-board and along the pole, and stopped the mules. His pluck probably saved casualties, as the limber was loaded with bombs.

2nd Lt. Colin Bishop Callander, R. Muns. Fus.

For conspicuous gallantry. When a torpedo failed to cut the enemy's wire completely, he went with two men to cut it with wire-cutters. When both men had been wounded, he carried on for fifteen minutes and completed the work.

2nd Lt. Colin Palmer Campbell, R.F.A. Spec. Res.

For conspicuous gallantry as F.O.O. during operations. Though wounded in three places, he stuck to his post and carried on his duties for several hours.

Temp. 2nd Lt. Maurice Leslie Chaland, Norf. R.

For conspicuous gallantry during operations. When all the officers of his company had become casualties, he took command and consolidated a strong point in the captured enemy trench.

Temp. Capt. Sydney Herbert Clark, R. Fus.

For conspicuous gallantry during operations. He dressed the wounds of many men under a heavy hostile barrage. Later he led a bombing attack, took 150 yards of enemy trench, and, although wounded in three places, held it for more than an hour against enemy bombers and snipers until relieved.

2nd Lt. (temp. Capt.) Arthur Aubrey Clarke, Leic. R.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. He led his company with great dash through the first and second enemy lines and consolidated his position. He organized an attack on the third line, and was wounded in several places while leading the assault.

Temp. Capt. Alastir Henry Stanley Clarke, Sea. Highrs.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. He led his company with great dash. After being severely wounded he walked to Battalion Headquarters, and made an accurate report of the situation, before allowing himself to be attended to.

Temp. 2nd Lt. Gordon Elstone Clarke, D. of Corn. I.L.I.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. He repeatedly rallied parties of men and led them in the attack. His fine example and power of leadership were invaluable during critical situations.

2nd Lt. Frank Colvill, R.F.A.

For conspicuous gallantry during operations. He carried out successfully a most difficult reconnaissance, crawling from shell-hole to shell-hole in spite of the enemy's snipers. He remained out the whole day, and finally brought in a valuable report.

Temp. 2nd Lt. Hugh Douglas Copeman, N. Lan. R.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. When he saw that an attack on the enemy was being met by heavy shell and machine-gun fire, he got together all the men he could find, led them across into the enemy's trench, and inflicted heavy losses on the enemy, who greatly outnumbered our men. Later, he showed the greatest determination in hanging on to his position and in repelling an enemy counter-attack.

2nd Lt. Lewis Edmund Cording, Rlf. Brig.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. He led his platoon with great dash in the assault. Although hit early in the day it was largely due to his fine example that his platoon captured the enemy trench under heavy machine-gun, rifle and shell fire.

Temp. 2nd Lt. David Dewar Cormack, R. Sc. Fus.

For conspicuous gallantry during operations. He carried out most ably a difficult and dangerous reconnaissance. He has proved himself a brave and capable officer.

REWARDS FOR SERVICE IN THE FIELD—MILITARY CROSS—contd.

2nd Lt. (temp. Lt.) William Conrad Costin, Glouce. R.

For conspicuous gallantry during operations. When the enemy penetrated our front line he pushed forward to a point where he was much exposed, and directed an accurate fire on the trench with his trench guns. It was largely due to his skill and courage that we recaptured the trench.

Temp. 2nd Lt. Charles Oliver Crawford, R. Ir. Rif.

For conspicuous gallantry during operations. He organised a party in the dark, and succeeded in getting ammunition up to the front line. Later, he led a charge in order to rescue some bombs which had fallen into the enemy's hands and were badly needed. He has also done fine work against enemy bomb attacks.

Temp. Lt. Robert Leonard Creasy, R.F.A.

For conspicuous gallantry during operations. When in charge of the forward report centre during three days under heavy shell-fire he maintained communications and transmitted most valuable information.

Temp. Lt. Leonard Wilberforce Croft, E. Lan. R.

For conspicuous gallantry and resource. With one man he successfully carried out a dangerous reconnaissance by day. He met an enemy picket of eight men in their trench, but, though fired at, at five yards' range, he successfully withdrew.

Temp. Lt. Percy Charles Crowder, R.E.

For conspicuous gallantry. When the enemy fired a camouflet, burying three men, he at once entered the crater, and remained there for two hours in a most exposed position. With the aid of two men he dug out a badly wounded man, and brought back the body of another man to prevent the enemy getting an identification.

Temp. Lt. John Kenneth Daere, Hqrs., R.F.A.

For conspicuous gallantry during operations. Capt. Nicholson, with Lt. Daere and 2nd Lt. Dewey, accompanied by two signallers, carried out a most dangerous reconnaissance. They pushed on till they saw two small parties of the enemy, on whom they fired, accounting for about half-a-dozen. The enemy then advanced in force and they retired. Their report enabled our artillery to bring heavy fire to bear on the advancing enemy. 2nd Lt. Dewey was slightly wounded and one signaller killed.

Temp. 2nd Lt. (temp. Capt.) Edmund Hilton Dadd, R. W. Fus.

For conspicuous gallantry during a counter-attack. When the senior Captain was wounded he took over the command of the attacking line and drove off the advancing enemy.

Temp. Capt. Frank Dallimore, M.E., R.A.M.C.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty during operations. Under heavy shell and machine-gun fire, after his aid post had been blown in, he continued dressing the wounded, and only retired after every man had been attended to and safely removed. Twice previously he had done similar fine work.

Temp. 2nd Lt. Noel Conrad Dawson, R. Ir. Rif.

For conspicuous gallantry during operations. He led a party carrying bombs across "No Man's Land" under heavy shell-fire, and did fine work in bomb fighting.

2nd Lt. Hugh Graham Dewey, R.F.A.

For conspicuous gallantry during operations. Capt. Nicholson, with Lt. Daere and 2nd Lt. Dewey, accompanied by two signallers, carried out a most dangerous reconnaissance. They pushed on till they saw two small parties of the enemy, on whom they fired, accounting for about half-a-dozen. The enemy then advanced in force and they retired. Their report enabled our artillery to bring heavy fire to bear on the advancing enemy. 2nd Lt. Dewey was slightly wounded and one signaller killed.

Temp. 2nd Lt. (temp. Capt.) James Dey, Sea Highrs.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. He personally directed a successful attack on an enemy's strong point, which was holding up the right flank of the Brigade. Four days later he maintained his position against a heavy enemy counter-attack, and brought heavy fire to bear on the enemy.

Temp. Capt. Gerald Dixon-Spain, R. Fus. and R.F.C.

For conspicuous skill and gallantry on many occasions. Capt. Dixon-Spain, with 2nd Lt. Reid as pilot, attacked and drove back a hostile machine. A few minutes later four hostile machines were seen, three of which were attacked, one after another, and driven back, the fourth being accounted for by another patrol. Another time they attacked two hostile machines, shot one down and drove the other back. Two days later they attacked two more machines, of which one is believed to have been destroyed, the other being pursued back to its aerodrome.

Temp. 2nd Lt. Gilbert Frederick Dobie, R. W. Kent R.

For conspicuous gallantry during operations. He carried out a very dangerous reconnaissance to find an observation post in front of his brigade. He was severely wounded. He has done much fine work as Divisional Scout Officer.

Temp. 2nd Lt. Robert Kenneth Drummond, Cam'n Highrs.

For conspicuous gallantry during operations. When the company commander was wounded he took command, and, discovering that his men had advanced too far, reorganised them and brought them back under heavy fire of all kinds. His fine example and prompt action kept his men steady.

Temp. 2nd Lt. Harold Joseph George Duggan, N. Lsn R.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. During an attack on a trench strongly held by the enemy, after two officers had been severely wounded and the men had suffered heavily, he took command in the captured trench, beat off two counter-attacks, erected a barricade and consolidated the position. He set a fine example of cool bravery.

Temp. 2nd Lt. Francis Andrew Lloyd Edwards, R. Berks. R.

For conspicuous gallantry during operations. When the enemy twice attacked under cover of liquid fire, 2nd Lt. Edwards showed great pluck under most trying circumstances and held off the enemy. He was badly wounded in the head while constructing a barricade within 25 yards of the enemy.

Temp. Capt. Guy Fotherston, R.F.A.

For conspicuous gallantry during operations. He was in command of his battery for nearly a month under constant shell fire, during which his coolness and courage were most helpful. On one occasion he personally laid a wire through the enemy barrage, and succeeded in maintaining communications.

2nd Lt. John Fox, Manch. R.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. He was one of the few who arrived at the final objective, where he at once rallied the men and got them to work consolidating. He and his men were under heavy machine gun fire, and all displayed great courage throughout.

REWARDS FOR SERVICE IN THE FIELD—MILITARY CROSS—contd.

Temp. 2nd Lt. Ronald Monckton Fmljames, Durh. L.I.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. He repeatedly reorganised his party, and after evacuating the wounded, led forward the remainder to force a way through the wire.

Temp. 2nd Lt. Benjamin Gadsdon, Essex R.

For conspicuous gallantry during operations. When our bombers were driven back he saved the situation by reorganising and leading forward a bombing team. He used the enemy's bombs when his own ran out. By his pluck and good leading the enemy were driven back and the ground regained.

Temp. Capt. Charles George Gascon, North'd Fus.

For conspicuous gallantry during operations. He drew out with two other men three men who had been buried by a shell. He also went out into the open through a heavy barrage and brought in three wounded men of another regiment.

Temp. Capt. Henry Lex Francie Adam Gielgud, North R.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. He showed great energy and powers of leadership during an attack, which resulted in the capture of part of the enemy's front line. He afterwards consolidated the position won and organised his defences with great skill and coolness.

Lt. Edwin Alfred Godson, R. Ir. Fus. Spec. Res.

For conspicuous gallantry and good work. He organised and led a patrol which took four enemy prisoners and killed two without any loss to our side.

2nd Lt. Harold Frederick Gough, R. War. R.

For conspicuous gallantry and good work on several occasions, notably when he successfully blew a gap in the enemy's wire with a torpedo previous to a raid. On another occasion he did similar fine work.

Temp. Capt. Norman Clotworthy Graham, M.B., R.A.M.C.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty during operations. For several days he was constantly tending the wounded under heavy shell fire. He refused to leave the lines when the battalion had been relieved until he had attended to all the wounded of many other units. During the whole time he had hardly an hour's rest.

Temp. Lt. James Arthur Gravett, N. Lan. R.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. He led an attack on strongly occupied enemy trenches. Though wounded by a bomb early in the advance, he refused to leave his men till the objective had been gained. He was wounded a second time and his arm shattered by a bullet, but he stuck to his command with the greatest determination. He was the first man to reach the objective, where heavy loss was inflicted on the enemy.

2nd Lt. Cuthbert Fleeming Griffin, R.F.A., Spec. Res.

For conspicuous gallantry. When an ammunition wagon and dump were ignited by shell fire, he entered a dug-out close by at great personal risk, and rescued a sick sergeant and two men.

Temp. Capt. Henry Wood Gush, North'd Fus.

For conspicuous gallantry during operations. Though severely wounded and unable to move about without assistance, he remained with his company under intense shell fire in order to encourage and steady the men by his presence.

2nd Lt. (temp. Capt.) Christopher Harding, R. Ir. Rif.

For conspicuous gallantry during operations. On two occasions he went alone to the extreme front under heavy fire in order to obtain first-hand information. He also on his own initiative guided reinforcements across exposed ground to the firing line.

Lt. Charles Elam Hare, R.G.A.

For conspicuous gallantry on several occasions during operations, notably when establishing observation posts and acting as F.O.V. under heavy shell fire. His energy and pluck have inspired the telephonists of the battery.

2nd Lt. Eric Howard Harvey, Glouc. R.

For conspicuous gallantry during operations. After a senior officer had been wounded he led a bombing attack against a trench held by 40 of the enemy. He drove them out and consolidated the captured trench.

Temp. Capt. James Hondry, R. Scots.

For conspicuous gallantry in organising a bombing attack which captured and consolidated about 100 yards of the enemy's trench. He led with great dash until severely wounded.

2nd Lt. Marshall George Herbert, R.G.A., Spec. Res.

For conspicuous gallantry. When a building containing bombs and torpedoes had become ignited by a shell, he called for volunteers, and with them worked for over an hour with shells falling all round extinguishing the fire and saving bombs. The party had barely withdrawn on completion of the work, when a number of torpedoes exploded. His own gallantry and that of his party saved many casualties among men and horses.

Capt. John Geoffrey Heyder, Bord. R.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. He advanced with the reserves, and though wounded in two places, continued to give his C.O. every assistance. He set a fine example of bravery and devotion to duty.

Temp. 2nd Lt. (temp. Capt.) George Hibbert, Lanc. Fus.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. During an attack, though cut off from his battalion for many hours he held on to the captured enemy trenches in spite of heavy counter-attacks.

Temp. 2nd Lt. Thomas Higgin, R.E.

For conspicuous gallantry during operations. He persisted in the consolidation of the captured trenches under intense shell fire. Later he volunteered to assist the infantry by carrying up material, and made several journeys through a heavy barrage.

Temp. 2nd Lt. (temp. Capt.) Leonard Harry Horncastle, Wilts. R.

For conspicuous gallantry during operations. In spite of intense fire upon the trenches in which he was working, he organised two attacks with the greatest coolness. By his fine example he aided much in the capture of the enemy trenches.

2nd Lt. Godfrey Algernon Hoyland, R.F.A.

For conspicuous gallantry. When his battery was heavily shelled he organised a rescue party to dig out some buried men under very heavy shell fire, and set a fine example to those around him.

REWARDS FOR SERVICE IN THE FIELD—MILITARY CROSS—contd.

Temp. 2nd Lt. William Irvine, Arg. and Suth'd Highrs.

For conspicuous gallantry during operations. 2nd Lts. Irvine and Beattie crawled out for 150 yards from shell hole to shell hole and though frequently fired at brought in a wounded officer on a waterproof sheet from within 50 yards of the enemy's trench.

Capt. Vere Arthur Richard Isham, Suff. R.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. He led an attack along the enemy's trench with great dash. 300 yards of the trench was captured and successfully consolidated.

For conspicuous gallantry during operations. He directed the successful cutting of the wire from an exposed position under heavy shell fire. He was once partly buried. When his wires were cut he established communications by visual signalling, and, when the enemy counter-attacked in great force, he was able to bring a heavy fire to bear on them, which broke up their attack and inflicted heavy losses.

Temp. 2nd Lt. Arthur Leonard Jenner, Mach. Gun Corps.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. He set a fine example to his men, and commanded them most ably. With his guns he did fine work in assisting in breaking up an enemy counter-attack and in securing the position.

Temp. Capt. Elliott Johnston, R. Ir. Rif.

For conspicuous gallantry during operations. He raided the enemy's trenches and brought back thirteen prisoners, including an officer. During the raid he penetrated as far as the enemy's support trenches in order to see their condition.

Temp. Lt. Eric Russell Jones, R.F.A.

For conspicuous gallantry during operations. He cut the enemy wire with great success, and though warned by the medical officer that the strain of his work was becoming too much for him he refused to report himself sick, and did fine work for the rest of the week under constant shell fire.

2nd Lt. Alau Ralph Keep, R. W. Surr. R., Spec. Res.

For conspicuous gallantry during operations. He kept his battery continually in action day and night under heavy shell fire, thereby materially assisting the infantry to capture enemy trenches.

Temp. Lt. Thomas Joseph Kelly, Manch. R.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. During an attack he rallied stragglers under very heavy fire, and gave great assistance to his C.O. He had previously done fine work during operations.

2nd Lt. Frederick Victor Kibbey, Rif. Brig.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. He led the first line in an attack and captured a machine gun. He then commanded the covering party during the consolidation and silenced a machine gun. During the night he took out a wiring party. He did fine work all through.

Capt. Richard Kirk, Ches. R.

For conspicuous gallantry when leading a patrol in the enemy's trenches. He shot three of the enemy in a dug-out, and skilfully withdrew his patrol without any casualties on finding that the alarm had been given.

Temp. 2nd Lt. William Scott Knowles, Worc. R.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. During the attack he led forward a bombing party at a critical moment, when the enemy were rallying and attempting to reoccupy their trench. He was himself wounded on this occasion for the third time.

Temp. 2nd Lt. Thomas Laneceley, L'pool R.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. During the attack on the enemy's trenches he made prisoners of one officer and at least fifty men by a clever ruse. He has always shown coolness and courage under fire.

2nd Lt. Harry Lane, North'n R.

For conspicuous gallantry during a successful raid on the enemy's trenches. He set a fine example of bravery and courage and showed great determination when finding the enemy alert and in greater numbers than his own party.

2nd Lt. Henry Tipping Lawden, R. Scots Fus.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. When reconnoitring he got within 3 yards of the enemy, but was badly wounded in the legs and unable to return. After dark he was carried back after giving orders to his section. Through his courage and judgment his section was enabled to establish itself in a favourable position.

2nd Lt. Thomas Brooke Lawrence, Gord. Highrs.

For conspicuous gallantry during operations. In command of a company he organised an attack, and gained a position, capturing prisoners. Later he led a party which cleared a wood of snipers. He displayed ready initiative and cool judgment.

Temp. Lt. Thomae Eric Le Blanc-Smith, R.F.A.

For conspicuous gallantry during operations. As liaison officer he sent back the most valuable information, and as Observing Officer, within forty yards of the enemy and under trench mortar and shell fire, he registered his battery with great accuracy.

Temp. Lt. David Lewes, Notts. & Derby. R.

For conspicuous gallantry during operations. When in charge of a working party a shell burst in their midst and killed and wounded many of them. Though himself wounded in two places and badly shaken, he managed to bandage the wounded men and to get them all away before he collapsed.

Temp. 2nd Lt. George Muschamp Lister, York. R.

For conspicuous gallantry during operations. He led a party of volunteers into the enemy's position, bombed his way along the trench and captured an important point. He inflicted considerable losses to the enemy and took some prisoners before he was wounded.

Temp. Lt. Paul MacDonaid Littio, M.B., R.A.M.C.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. He collected and tended the wounded under very heavy fire during three days and nights. He also went out under heavy shell fire and brought in two wounded stretcher-bearers, and was going out again for two more when a shell fell and killed them both.

Temp. 2nd Lt. Hnw 1for Lloyd, North'n R.

For conspicuous gallantry during a raid on the enemy's trenches. All his men but one became casualties in the enemy's wire, but he pushed through and succeeded in killing an enemy officer in their trenches. He tried to remove the body of the officer, and refused to come back until definitely ordered to do so.

Temp. Lt. Richard Glyn Lloyd, L'pool R.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. When his senior officers became casualties he took command of the battalion and acted with great coolness. Later he performed the duties of Adjutant, and displayed great skill and courage in assisting to rally the battalion.

REWARDS FOR SERVICE IN THE FIELD—MILITARY CROSS—contd.

Temp. 2nd Lt. Alexander Macanlay, Cam'n Hghrs.

For conspicuous gallantry during operations. After personal reconnaissance he led the first bombing attack against a farm, and, though repeatedly driven back by shell fire, organised fresh attacks, and finally gained a footing in the farm which he held in spite of heavy shell fire.

Temp. 2nd Lt. Alastair Banks MacLachlan, R. Scots.

For conspicuous gallantry in successfully leading his hombers and capturing about 100 yards of enemy trench. He took command when his captain was wounded.

Temp. Lt. Robert Forbes Mansergh, Manch. R.

For conspicuous gallantry. When an enemy shell ignited an ammunition store, he and his orderly, although they had just been knocked over by the explosion of a shell, helped to organise a party to remove the ammunition. Continual explosions were taking place round them. Later he assisted to dress and bring in the wounded.

Temp. Capt. Gerald Patrick Manson, Som. L.I.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. He carried out a difficult attack, capturing a strongly held trench and two machine guns. He displayed great coolness and courage and was severely wounded.

Temp. Lt. Herbert Athelstan Maynard, Midd'x R.

For conspicuous gallantry during operations. When his bombing post was violently attacked he showed great skill and courage in beating off the enemy. Though wounded in the head by a bomb, he stuck to his post for two hours until relieved.

Temp. 2nd Lt. Robert William McKinley, R. Innls. Fus.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. During the attack he collected men of his own and other companies, led them forward, and established himself in the objective. On the way he fought four of the enemy who were mounting a machine gun. When finally driven back from his position he joined the main body, and held the trench allotted to him against repeated attacks.

Temp. 2nd Lt. James Acheson McLean, R.F.A., Spec. Res.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. He attempted to save a wounded gunner from a burning gunpit, and successfully saved the gun. During an attack he led two platoons of another unit over the parapet, and handed them over to their officer, who was rallying his men in the open. On another occasion he fought a single howitzer with great determination for seven days under heavy shell fire, although himself wounded.

Temp. 2nd Lt. Alexander Charles Meredith, M. Gun Corps.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. Owing to his coolness and pluck he was able to hold his position for six hours under heavy artillery fire, and to bring his four guns into action in the captured trench in excellent fire positions.

Temp. Lt. Robert Spottiswood Scott Mitchell, R.F.A.

For conspicuous gallantry during operations. Owing to casualties he was in command of his battery for a fortnight, though only having fifteen months' service. The battery was constantly shelled, but the good work done by it was largely due to his pluck and energy.

2nd Lt. Charles Percival Moore, L'pool R.

For conspicuous gallantry during operations. He organised the defence of the captured enemy trench and repulsed a counter-attack, after rallying some 100 men belonging to various units. Though cut off from everyone, he remained perfectly cheerful and won the complete confidence of his men. He sent back messages of great value.

Capt. Henry Gibbon Moore, R.G.A.

For conspicuous gallantry during operations. When some of his men were reported missing, he immediately rode back and found them sheltering from heavy shell fire in a dug-out. He succeeded in bringing them in. He has also done fine work under heavy fire as F.O.O.

Temp. Capt. John McIntosh Morgan, M.B., R.A.M.C.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty in action. He has shown an utter disregard of personal danger on several occasions when tending and removing the wounded.

Capt. John Mungle, R. Scots.

For conspicuous gallantry. He commanded a raiding party which was driven back to our parapet by machine-gun fire. Two hours later he launched the raid again with very successful results, setting a fine example of coolness and bravery.

Lt. John Murray, R. Sc. Fus.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. He led his company through a village and consolidated his position. He was then ordered back to report, and succeeded in reaching battalion headquarters after fighting his way through the enemy. He has been three times wounded, and has proved himself a capable and brave leader.

2nd Lt. Edward Victor Newbery, R.G.A., Spec. Res.

For conspicuous gallantry during operations. He laid a wire across the open under heavy shell fire, and sent back valuable information. On two occasions he observed and ranged his battery for several hours under heavy shell fire. On the second occasion his O.P. was shot away.

Temp. Capt. Stephen William Nicholson, R.F.A.

For conspicuous gallantry during operations. Captain Nicholson with Lieutenant Dacre and 2nd Lieutenant Dewey, accompanied by two signallers, carried out a most dangerous reconnaissance. They pushed on till they saw two small parties of the enemy, on whom they fired, accounting for about half a dozen. The enemy then advanced in force, and they retired. Their report enabled our artillery to bring heavy fire to bear on the advancing enemy. 2nd Lieutenant Dewey was slightly wounded, and one signaller killed.

Temp. Capt. Burford Noel Norman, R.A.M.C.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty during operations. He worked for practically 48 hours attending the wounded. His post was often shelled, but he only ceased work when he was physically incapable of further effort.

Capt. George Paterson Nunneley, Bedf. R., Spec. Res.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. Though wounded early in the attack, he remained in command of his company, and handled it with great skill under very trying circumstances.

2nd Lt. Gerald Patrick O'Donovan, Wore. R., Spec. Res.

For conspicuous gallantry during operations. He led bombing attacks which cleared the enemy's trench, and led to our position being considerably extended and secured against counter-attack. He set a fine personal example.

Temp. Lt. Henry Ardenne Ormerod, R.F.A.

For conspicuous gallantry during operations. As F.O.O. he directed fire for 39 hours after the occupation of a village, under constant shell fire. Next day his information regarding a heavy counter-attack by the enemy was most valuable. Though wounded he continued to observe from a spot where he was constantly sniped at. He did other fine work.

REWARDS FOR SERVICE IN THE FIELD—MILITARY CROSS—contd.

Lt. Leonard Farrington, R.G.A.

For conspicuous gallantry during operations. He went as F.O.O. through a heavy barrage to an exposed O.P., and sent down most useful information enabling his battery to keep up steady and accurate fire.

Temp. Lt. (temp. Capt.) George Robert Steel Paterson, High. L.I.

For conspicuous gallantry during operations. He went over the parapet under heavy fire, and brought in a wounded man. He has done fine work organising and leading forward parties to support homing posts during counter-attacks.

Temp. 2nd Lt. John Andrew Bowring Paul, E. Surr. R.

For conspicuous gallantry when in charge of a working party. When a shell burst in an ammunition store, causing many casualties, he rushed and bound up several wounded men at great risk from the exploding bombs. Later, on two occasions, he rescued wounded officers under heavy fire.

Temp. 2nd Lt. Robert Charles Perry, Glouce. R.

For conspicuous gallantry during operations. Under heavy shell fire he dug out three men of his company at great personal risk. Next day, by his fine example, he steadied his platoon in a position in which they were suffering heavy casualties, and safely withdrew them.

2nd Lt. Robert Philip, Arg. & Suth'd Illghrs.

For conspicuous gallantry on patrol, notably on one occasion, when he crept out in daylight by himself, and brought back valuable information after shooting three of the enemy, who were obstructing his movements.

Temp. 2nd Lt. George Edward Porter, Devon R.

For conspicuous gallantry under heavy shell and machine-gun fire during an attack. He organised the battalion on reaching the final objective, all the other officers having become casualties, and displayed the greatest coolness and courage.

Temp. 2nd Lt. Kenneth Reginald Potter, Norf. R.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. He took part in the attack on the enemy's front line, and when the trench had been captured, did fine work homing dug-outs. He carried on although wounded in the hand, until his arm had become useless and he had received a second wound in the face.

Temp. Lt. Eric Oakley Price, R.F.A.

For conspicuous gallantry during operations. When a gun was hit by a shell and two men wounded, he tended these men under fire, aided by two other men, and in five minutes had the gun in action again. On another occasion, when some of his men were buried by shell fire, he directed the digging party, which dug them all out after an hour's work under fire.

Temp. Capt. Theodore Oscar Purdon, Leins. R.

For conspicuous gallantry. When the enemy, after an intense bombardment, attempted a raid on our trenches, by his coolness and fine example, he steadied the men and repulsed the attack.

Temp. 2nd Lt. Frederick Llewellyn Forsyth Rees, Durh. L.I.

For conspicuous gallantry during operations. He led two bomb attacks, capturing the enemy's forward block and taking five prisoners. A further block, defended by barbed wire and two machine guns, resisted all his efforts to capture it, but he established a block only eighteen yards away from it, and held on all night in spite of desperate efforts by the enemy to turn him out.

2nd Lt. Guy Patrick Spence Reid, Sea. Highrs. and R.F.C.

For conspicuous skill and gallantry on many occasions. Capt. Dixon-Spain, with 2nd Lt. Reid as pilot, attacked and drove back a hostile machine. A few minutes later four hostile machines were seen, three of which were attacked one after another and driven back, the fourth being accounted for by another patrol. Another time they attacked two hostile machines, shot down one and drove the other back. Two days later they attacked two more machines, of which one is believed to have been destroyed, the other being pursued back to its aerodrome.

Lt. (temp. Capt.) Errol Seymour Rennie, E. York. R. Spec. Res.

For conspicuous gallantry during operations. He twice led most daring reconnaissances, lying out on the enemy's parapet in order to gain information. On the second occasion he shot two of the enemy with his revolver, and, in trying to bring a body back, he was seen and subjected to heavy rifle and bomb fire.

Capt. Gerald Arthur Rickards, R.F.A.

For conspicuous gallantry during operations. He reconnoitred to find an observation post in the newly-won ground, and persisted in his undertaking under very heavy fire, although the front trenches were in many places obliterated.

Temp. Lt. Clifford Roberts, R.F.A.

For conspicuous gallantry during operations. He took up an exposed position under heavy shell fire, and was thus enabled to warn our artillery of a heavy attack. Owing to his good work the attack was stopped by curtain fire with heavy loss to the enemy.

Temp. 2nd Lt. John Ryan, R.E.

For conspicuous gallantry as Signal Officer during operations. He was constantly in the front trenches, which were being heavily bombarded, and by his energy and skill maintained communication with Brigade Headquarters. He worked unceasingly for ninety-six hours, as the lines were being continually broken by shells.

Capt. Frederic Sanders, M.B., R.A.M.C. Spec. Res.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty in action. For forty-eight consecutive hours he worked in "No Man's Land," tending and carrying in the wounded, although he himself wounded at the time.

Temp. Capt. Robert Capel Seudamore, R. Fus.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. He led his company with great dash, and, though vigorously opposed, succeeded in capturing a-out forty prisoners. The following day, under constant shell fire, he successfully consolidated the position won.

2nd Lt. Eric William Sheppard, R.W. Kent R.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. He went forward under heavy fire and brought back a clear report of the situation. Though wounded, he insisted on remaining at duty.

2nd Lt. Charles Ely Rose Sherrington, Oxf. and Bucks. L.I.

For conspicuous gallantry during operations. When the enemy in great numbers counter-attacked his trench, he held on till almost surrounded, and then withdrew with the survivors of his force, eighteen in number, in such a manner that our line remained intact. Later the position was regained by a counter-attack.

REWARDS FOR SERVICE IN THE FIELD—MILITARY CROSS—contd.

Temp. Lt. John Boustead Sinclair, Bord. R.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. He continued to lead his men forward after he had been wounded three times. He was then ordered back to have his wounds dressed but immediately afterwards resumed his duties in the trenches till again ordered back.

Temp. Lt. Cyril Oscar Skey, R. Fus.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. He led his company with great dash in the attack, and entered an enemy trench immediately our barrage lifted, thereby completely surprising the enemy. During the following day he did fine work under shell-fire.

2nd Lt. (temp. Capt.) Arthur Sidney Smeltzer, E. Kent R.

For conspicuous gallantry in organizing and leading his company in the attack and capture of an enemy position. The success was largely due to his courage and energy.

2nd Lt. (temp. Capt.) Water Wyville Smith, Shrops. L.I.

For conspicuous gallantry during operations. On his own initiative he obtained valuable information under heavy fire. Next day, when the enemy counter-attacked, he led forward his company with great dash and recaptured a post which they had taken. He did other fine work consolidating the defences.

Lt. Hugh Pousett Snowden, Glouc. R.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. When his senior officers had become casualties in the capture of an enemy trench, he was sent forward to take command. He displayed great coolness in consolidating the position won. He had also led with success two night attacks and two strong bombing parties.

Temp. 2nd Lt. (temp. Lt.) Arthur Charles Sotherou Estcourt, Glouc. R.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. He fought his battery with great effect under very heavy fire during the attack, dispersing many enemy bombing parties. He also knocked out a machine-gun which was holding up the advance of one of our bombing parties.

Temp. Capt. John Maitland Stenhouse, M.B., R.A.M.C.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty during several days of operations, when attending to the wounded under heavy shell-fire. He repeatedly exposed himself when dressing wounds, and finally was himself wounded.

Temp. 2nd Lt. Sidney Thompson Stephens, Devon, R.

For conspicuous gallantry during an attack, when he led his platoon with the greatest courage against a strongly held point, accounting for several of the enemy with his revolver. He did not desist until seriously wounded by a bomb.

Capt. Derek Charles Stephenson, R.F.A.

For conspicuous gallantry during operations. He repeatedly reconnoitred the enemy's wire in "No Man's Land," and sent in valuable reports. On one occasion he destroyed wire from an observation post in front of the line, under heavy trench mortar and rifle fire.

Temp. 2nd Lt. John Whiteford Stevenson, High. L.I.

For conspicuous gallantry during a raid. He commanded the supporting party, displaying great coolness throughout, and greatly assisted in guiding the raiding party back. Later, with another officer, he went out twice to the rescue of wounded men.

Temp. 2nd Lt. Cyril Howard Stone, R. Fus.

For conspicuous gallantry. When his Company Commander had been wounded in an attack, and the company on his right had lost all its officers, Second Lieutenant Stone ably reorganised and commanded both companies with great courage and skill.

Temp. 2nd Lt. Josiah Taylor, R.F.A.

For conspicuous gallantry during operations. He brought his heavy trench mortar into action under heavy shell-fire, and kept up his fire during the day with great effect. The gun was in full view of the enemy. On another occasion he kept his gun in action under heavy shell-fire for six hours, till it was finally destroyed by a shell.

Lt. Neville Weber Thiele, R.F.A.

For conspicuous gallantry during operations. He kept his battery in action until only one gun was left, and this gun he helped to serve himself. Nearly all his dug outs had been blown in, and his emplacements destroyed. He has on two other occasions done fine and gallant work.

Temp. 2nd Lt. Dennis Thirlwell, D. of Corn. L.I.

For conspicuous gallantry. When the explosion of an enemy mine had wrecked part of the defences, he skillfully placed his machine-gun and opened on the enemy directly they attacked. He then went under fire to the support line and brought up reinforcements.

Temp. 2nd Lt. Francis Beattie Thomlinson, M. Gun Corps.

For conspicuous gallantry during operations. He went over the parapet with a machine-gun and assisted the leading platoons, which had been held up by enemy machine-gun fire. When his position became untenable, he fetched in a wounded man, who was hit again and killed on his back. He also helped to bring in another wounded man next day from "No Man's Land" under heavy fire.

Temp. Lt. Brian Stewart Thompson, L'pool R.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. He led his company with great skill in the assault through a thick mist. He received two serious wounds.

Capt. Pensam Thornton, R.A.M.C. Spec. Res.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty during operations. He did fine work among the wounded under fire, and, though badly wounded in two places, stuck to his work, though repeatedly urged to have his wounds properly dressed. He refused to leave the trenches until every wounded man had been brought in.

2nd Lt. Richard Guy Titley, Glouc. R.

For conspicuous gallantry during operations. He captured and consolidated an enemy barricade, and when on the next night the enemy attacked and killed or wounded all the garrison, he, with one wounded sergeant, held on to the barricade till reinforcements arrived.

Capt. Guy Torrance, M.B., R.A.M.C.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty during operations. He moved about under heavy fire and rendered first aid to about 180 officers and men. When his dressing station was blown in by a shell and his sergeant mortally wounded he continued his work in the open.

Temp. 2nd Lt. Arthur Ernest Turner, R. War. R.

For conspicuous gallantry during operations. He patrolled up to the enemy's front trench, and, although coming under fire, persisted in his efforts till he had gained the required information. On another occasion he led advanced bombing parties, of which he was practically the sole survivor.

Temp. 2nd Lt. Stanley George Tyte, R. Fus.

For conspicuous gallantry during operations. He held an advanced bombing post against strong opposition, and in the evening led a successful bombing attack on the enemy's trench gaining touch with the battalion on his right.

REWARDS FOR SERVICE IN THE FIELD—MILITARY CROSS—contd.

Lt. Wilfred Van Grulsen, R. Fus.

For conspicuous gallantry. When about 18 of his men had been hurled by shell fire he at once went to their rescue. His fine example encouraged his men, and all except three of the hurled men were rescued alive. He was under heavy shell fire the whole time. Later he helped to dig out some other men. Though only 18½ years old he displayed the greatest coolness and courage.

Temp. 2nd Lt. Edward Arnold Vansenden, York and Lanc. R.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. He led his men to the assault under very heavy machine-gun and shell fire, cheered them on when they had suffered severe casualties. He has done other fine work under fire.

Temp. Capt. Arthur Bowen Van Strauhenzee, R.F.A.

For conspicuous gallantry during operations. He set a fine example to his men during several days of heavy shelling. On one occasion he kept his battery in action under heavy shell fire, exposing himself the whole morning, moving from one gun to another, to encourage the men until the shelling ceased.

Temp. Capt. Walter Melville Wace, Bedf. R.

For conspicuous gallantry. When an attack was brought to a standstill by hostile machine-guns, he made several attempts to gain the position, and actually succeeded in entering a small portion of it with a few bombers, most of whom became casualties.

Temp. Lt. Bryan Rivers Walte, R.F.A.

For conspicuous gallantry during operations. He accompanied Capt. Rickards in a very dangerous reconnaissance. The trenches had been in many places obliterated, and it was necessary to go across the open under very heavy fire.

Temp. 2nd Lt. (temp. Lt.) William Gray Johnstone Walker, Genl. Llsu., mtd. T.M. Bty.

For conspicuous gallantry during operations. For several days he directed fire from an exposed position under machine-gun, rifle and shell fire, and showed the greatest coolness and courage. On one occasion he persisted in digging out some infantrymen who had been buried, and, although himself wounded, carried on till they had all been rescued.

Capt. William Sempie Wallace, M.B., R.A.M.C., Spec. Res.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty in action. Under very heavy shell fire he tended and directed the removal of the wounded. He continued working after being twice hurled and partly stunned by exploding shells.

Temp. 2nd Lt. John Gustave Walser, R.F.A.

For conspicuous gallantry during operations. When the wire from the observation post was destroyed he made several attempts to mend it, and on failing to do so went through the hostile barrage to the trench mortar position and opened fire. It was due to his fine example that the fire was kept up during a heavy hostile bombardment.

He has done other fine and gallant work.

Temp. 2nd Lt. Clement Watson, York. R.

For conspicuous gallantry during operations. After being heavily shelled all night he repulsed an attack on a sap-head. When attacked again two hours later he waited till the enemy were within thirty yards, and then destroyed a party of 50 of them. Later he did other fine work, and set a splendid example of courage and determination throughout.

Capt. Cecil Francis Wells, Lan. Fus. Spec. Res.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty in action. Though wounded early in the action he remained at his post for six hours until compelled by weakness to go back. He set a fine example to his men.

Temp. 2nd Lt. Eustace Roland Whithy, Middx R.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. When all the other officers of his company became casualties in the advance, he took command and, though wounded, endeavoured to gain more ground till he finally became unconscious.

Temp. Lt. Claude Maguire Whitehead, R. Lanc. R.

For conspicuous gallantry and ability. When on patrol duty his party was attacked by the enemy, of whom they killed four and took three prisoners. He then selflessly withdrew with no casualties and much useful information.

Temp. 2nd Lt. Albert Walter Whitlock, R. Fus.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. He led the reserve company of his battalion against the enemy's first line, directing and cheering them on till he felt wounded.

Temp. Lt. Frederick John Gordon Whittall, Manch. R.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. He led his company with great dash, and for 24 hours, under heavy shell fire, occupied and improved a line of trenches. On two previous occasions he has displayed great courage in action.

Temp. 2nd Lt. Bernard William Theodore Wickham, S. Staff. R.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. When his platoon had been wiring all night in "No Man's Land," the enemy made a bombing attack. Though the party was forced to fall back slightly for want of bombs, he held his ground, with two men, for more than an hour, until reinforcements arrived. He was wounded, but stuck to his command till the enemy's attacks were driven off.

Temp. Lt. Harry Douglas Wilding, R.E.

For conspicuous gallantry during operations. With two sappers he brought in a badly wounded man from "No Man's Land." Later he laid out a line of trenches in "No Man's Land" close to the enemy. He also carried out a dangerous reconnaissance, during which he penetrated part of the enemy's front line. He had been previously wounded.

2nd Lt. Clifford Llewellyn Wilson, Essex R.

For conspicuous gallantry during operations. When a trench was captured from the enemy, he commanded his machine guns with great skill and courage, placing them in the captured trench and thereby materially assisting the defence against counter-attack.

Temp. Capt. Charles McMorris Wilson, M.D., R.A.M.C.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty during operations. He worked for over an hour digging out wounded men, at great personal risk. He then returned to his aid post and attended to the wounded. Later, hearing that an officer had been wounded, he passed through 100 yards of the enemy's artillery barrage, dressed his wounds, and finally got him into safety as soon as the barrage permitted. On other occasions he has done fine and gallant work.

2nd Lt. James Victor Bryce Wood, S. Wales Bord.

For conspicuous gallantry when lending a raid on the enemy's trenches. He brought back a prisoner who was wounded by shell fire on the way. He then returned, under heavy fire, and assisted back the wounded, being the last to re-enter our own trenches.

REWARDS FOR SERVICE IN THE FIELD—MILITARY CROSS—contd.

Temp. 2nd Lt. John Frederick Woodall, M. Gun Corps.

For conspicuous gallantry during a raid. He rushed a machine gun up to the crater of a newly exploded mine, and by his pluck and skill held the enemy off 40 minutes until our raiding party had withdrawn. He and his team were under heavy fire.

Temp. 2nd Lt. James Harrison Worsley, L'pool R.

For conspicuous gallantry during operations. He took command of a party of different regiments in the most advanced position captured, and held his own, though entirely cut off and nearly surrounded by the enemy. He brought his men in after dusk.

2nd Lt. Malcolm Wykes, R. Berks. R.

For conspicuous gallantry during operations. For three days his energy and courage under heavy shell fire were most remarkable. As machine gun officer he worked night and day organising reliefs for the gun teams.

3/6297 Co. Serjt.-Maj. William Aitken, Cam'n Highrs. Spec. Res.

For conspicuous gallantry during operations. When it was found that the men had advanced too far, he most gallantly went forward, and managed to get them back into position. Under heavy fire of all kinds he walked up and down the line, and by his fine example and coolness steadied the men.

1665 Co. Serjt.-Maj. William Bell, R. Lan. R.

For conspicuous and consistent gallantry, notably during an attack on the enemy's trenches. When all the officers of his company had become casualties, he took command, and held up with great determination an enemy counter-attack.

(The Distinguished Conduct Medal awarded to this N.C.O. in London Gazette dated 19 Aug. 1916, page 8240, is now cancelled.)

15241 Co. Serjt.-Maj. Stephen Bullock, R. Innis. Fus.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. When all his officers became casualties, he led the company on most gallantly, and consolidated in the enemy's third line. Though wounded he stuck to his post. When forced to retire, he was cut off while covering the retirement and taken prisoner, but he fought his way through with his fists, being again severely wounded, and rejoined his battalion.

881 Co. Serjt.-Maj. Bernard Norris Butcher, R. Suss. R.

For conspicuous and consistent gallantry and good work. On one occasion, after all his officers had become casualties, he kept his company together, so that it rendered fine service later in the day. On another, when the battalion had suffered severely, his energy and cheery pluck was invaluable.

5711 Co. Serjt.-Maj. Ernest Carter, Leic. R.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. When his company officers had become casualties he led his company with great skill and coolness. He also rallied men of various battalions and steadied them by his fine personal example.

10108 Co. Serjt.-Maj. John Clay, Leic. R.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. When his company officers became casualties he took command and led the company with great skill and courage. Owing to his fine personal example the company was able to consolidate and hold its position.

11054 Co. Serjt.-Maj. Amos Geary, Leic. R.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. When sent back to clear up the enemy's first line trench he

611 Co. Serjt.-Maj. Stuart McKay, Arg. & Suth'd Highrs.

For conspicuous gallantry during operations. During a bombing raid against our trenches, although badly shaken and dazed by a portion of the parados which was blown on to his head by a shell, he refused to leave his post, and continued to assist his officers in every way. A few days later, though wounded in the foot during an attack, he again refused to go back until he was incapable of further effort.

6859 Co. Serjt.-Maj. Thomas Alfred Perkins, R. Berks. R.

For conspicuous gallantry during operations. When his company officers had been disabled he carried on with great coolness and courage during three days of intense bombardment. He moved freely about to keep the men at work.

6037 Co. Serjt.-Maj. Edmond Power, R. Ir. Regt.

For conspicuous gallantry during a hostile attack under very heavy shell and rifle fire. When his officers were wounded he rallied the company and led it forward to the counter-attack with the greatest bravery and skill.

14958 Serjt.-Maj. Archibald Rohson, York R.

For conspicuous gallantry and good work during operations. He organized a continuous supply of bombs, sand bags, etc., for the captured position. He was for five hours under heavy shell-fire and at times exposed to rifle and machine-gun fire. Later he did other fine work.

4529 Co. Serjt.-Maj. George Henry Rodwell, R. E.

For conspicuous gallantry. Owing to shortage of officers Co. Serjt.-Maj. Rodwell took the place of a Section Commander during a period of active operations. He was constantly laying out and repairing lines under very heavy shell fire, and the excellent results obtained were chiefly due to his personal example and disregard of danger.

B. 157 Co. Serjt.-Maj. Alfred James Smith, Rif. Brig.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. He advanced with his company to the assault and killed three of the enemy in a captured trench. He then, after his officers had become casualties, took command and commenced consolidation, though wounded by an enemy bomb. Finally, he had to be ordered back to the dressing station.

212 Co. Serjt.-Maj. Frederick Smith, Oxf. & Bucks. L.I.

For conspicuous gallantry during operations. During a successful bombing attack on the enemy's trench he showed great determination, and subsequently, when the captured trench was heavily bombarded, he was largely instrumental in maintaining the position. He has done other fine work, and has always shown great coolness under fire. He has been seriously wounded.

456 Co. Serjt.-Maj. William George Tibbles, Glouc. R.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. When his officers had become casualties he took command and carried on the fight. He succeeded in holding the captured trench and in consolidating the position.

Capt. Joseph Wilkie Scott, M.D., R.A.M.C.

For conspicuous gallantry in going forward with his stretcher-bearers, and when all his party, with the exception of one non-commissioned officer, had become casualties, he reached our advanced trench. In a shallow broken trench he tended wounded for several hours. He carried back wounded at great personal risk, and for some time organized the removal of wounded from the advanced trench.

(Substituted for the announcement published in the London Gazette dated 25th August, 1916.)

AUSTRALIAN IMPERIAL FORCE.

Capt. Raymond Asher Milton Allen, Aust. Inf.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty in action. He was wounded in the advance, but, refusing to be attended to, went forward with his men, and was seen later filling sand bags himself. Later he withdrew, but, on hearing that an officer was required to keep work going at the front, he immediately went forward again.

2nd Lt. Benjamin Angwin, Aust. Inf.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. When the other officers of his company had become casualties prior to the attack he reorganized the platoon commands and started off the attacking waves in good order. Later he displayed great coolness under heavy machine-gun fire, going up and down the line cheering his men.

Capt. George Bond, Aust. Inf.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. He led his company in two attacks with great dash and did fine work consolidating the most forward enemy trenches captured.

Lt. John Allan Broadbent, Aust. Inf.

For conspicuous gallantry during operations. His bombing platoon was sent to assist another battalion which was being heavily attacked. By his skill and courage he assisted greatly in repelling the attack, at a critical time throwing bombs himself for nearly an hour.

Lt. John Gurner Bruell, Aust. Eng.

For conspicuous gallantry during operations. After the capture of enemy trenches he, on his own initiative and by himself, carried out a most risky reconnaissance. The result of his report was the occupation of further trenches.

2nd Lt. Percy Willesby Chapman, Aust. Inf.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. He repeatedly led bombing attacks along the enemy's trenches, and fought them back long enough to enable many of our wounded to reach safety.

Capt. Charles Cosgrove, Aust. Army Med. Corps.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty in action. He tended the wounded throughout and for many hours after the action. He was frequently under heavy fire, but carried on quite regardless of personal danger.

Lt. William Denoon, Aust. Inf.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. At a critical stage he was ordered to make a counter attack, across ground swept by rifle and machine-gun fire, on part of the enemy's trench, from which we were being bombed. His attack won some 50 yards of trench before he was badly wounded.

Lt. Reginald George Downing, Aust. Inf.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. When in charge of machine guns his fine work materially assisted in repelling two enemy counter-attacks, and at dawn he effectively covered the right flank.

Lt. Arthur Kilworth Flack, Aust. Inf.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty in action. Though wounded before the infantry advance, he took his guns into action, and although his detachment suffered severely, he kept them both going, by firing one gun himself.

Lt. James Lionel Fletcher, Aust. Inf.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. He laid telephone wires under heavy machine gun and shell fire, and continued to maintain communications after the men with him had suffered severe casualties. On another occasion, though wounded, he refused to retire, and rallied his men under heavy shell fire.

2nd Lt. Trevor Francis, Aust. Inf.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty in action. Though severely wounded when leading his platoon in the attack, he continued for four hours to command the party protecting the exposed flank of the main body against a heavy attack.

2nd Lt. Harold Willoughby Fry, Aust. Eng.

For conspicuous gallantry during operations. He constructed a sap across "No Man's Land" with great rapidity. This sap subsequently proved of the greatest value to our troops which occupied the enemy's trenches.

Lt. Ian Grant Fullarton, Aust. Inf.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty in action. Though wounded in two places at the commencement of the operation, he refused to go back but continued to assist his C.O. in the front trench under heavy fire for fifteen hours. He was finally severely wounded by shrapnel.

Lt. Richard Horace Macconachie Gibbs, Aust. Inf.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. When his Company commander was seriously wounded, he took charge and led his men over the parapet and steadily forward under very heavy machine gun and rifle fire.

Capt. Keith Harvey Grieve, Aust. Army Med. Corps.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty in action. Owing to the battered condition of the front line trenches he was compelled to carry on his work among the wounded in the open. Under very heavy shell fire he showed the greatest coolness and courage. Though joined, many hours later, by other medical officers, he stuck to his work without rest or sleep.

2nd Lt. Archibald Clavering Gunter, Aust. Inf.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. As Bombing Officer, he repelled with his bombers the enemy bomb attacks. Later he counter-attacked them as long as his supply of bombs lasted, and, on receiving a fresh supply, bombed them away altogether.

Lt. William David Harris, Aust. Inf.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. As senior officer in the firing line he skillfully consolidated the ground won. He organised bombing parties and repelled a counter-attack, and all night set a fine example to those round him.

2nd Lt. William Patrick Healy, Aust. Inf.

For conspicuous gallantry during operations. He carried out a daring reconnaissance by daylight in front of our foremost position. After several officers had become casualties, he took command in part of the captured trenches, and displayed great skill and determination.

Capt. Frank Rupert Hewitt, Aust. Inf.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty in action. Although badly wounded shortly after leaving our trenches, he led forward his men, under very heavy fire, up to the front line. He set a fine example of courage.

Lt. Nicholas Hamlyn Hubbs, Aust. Inf.

For conspicuous gallantry during the consolidation of the captured enemy trenches. He took charge when his company commander had been wounded, and, by his courage and cheery manner, kept his men at work through a heavy bombardment.

REWARDS FOR SERVICE IN THE FIELD—MILITARY CROSS—contd.

2nd Lt. Arthur Hughes, Aust. Inf.

For conspicuous gallantry during operations. Though wounded, he accompanied another officer and located an enemy machine gun. They opened fire and drove off the enemy, capturing the gun. 2nd Lt. Hughes then occupied and held the point with a bombing party and machine gun detachment.

2nd Lt. Albert Edward Jackson, Aust. Inf.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. He showed great coolness under heavy shell fire while making his final arrangements as bombing officer prior to the attack. Later he did fine work with his bombers in the enemy's trenches till he was seriously wounded.

Lt. Carl Henry Kaepell, Aust. Inf.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. During an attack on the enemy trenches he pushed his guns forward into positions whence he could catch the retreating enemy and deal with counter-attacks. He showed great pluck and enterprise during the operation.

Lt. Frank Gerald Kellaway, Aust. Inf.

For conspicuous gallantry during operations. When the other officers of his company had become casualties, he rallied his men, led them in the assault, and made good the ground gained.

Lt. Thomas Kerr, Aust. Inf.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty in action. Though wounded immediately after crossing the parapet, he led his men on with great coolness. After advancing as far as possible, he ordered his men to dig themselves in and sent back a message for reinforcements. After having his wounds dressed he refused to go to hospital, but continued rendering valuable assistance to his battalion.

2nd Lt. Horace Chamberlain King, Aust. Inf.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. When his senior officers had become casualties, he took command and led his company with great coolness and skill under very heavy fire. On another occasion he led a party of about twenty-five against the enemy, took twenty-seven prisoners, and, charging forward, entered the next enemy trench and captured it with 100 prisoners.

2nd Lt. Austin Lennon, Aust. Inf.

For conspicuous gallantry during operations. He brought his trench mortars up to the captured trenches under very difficult circumstances, organised the defence of forty yards of trench, and, by the skilful use of his mortars, assisted to repulse the enemy counter-attack.

2nd Lt. Norman Beresford Lovett, Aust. Inf.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty in action. Though wounded while leading his platoon in the attack, he continued fighting all night. He returned at daylight to have his wounds dressed, but as the enemy developed a counter-attack, he disregarded his wounds and organised a party of wounded men and stragglers to resist this attack. He set a fine example of coolness and courage.

2nd Lt. Herbert George Matthews, Aust. Inf.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. He showed great courage when driving the enemy out of our trenches. His fine example gave great encouragement to the men. Though once wounded and twice buried by shells, he insisted on remaining at his post.

Lt. Robert Willesby McHenry, Aust. Art.

For conspicuous gallantry during operations. Prior to the infantry attack, he observed and reported on the effect of our fire at great personal risk. His wire was repeatedly cut by shell fire, and he showed great courage and resource in keeping up communications under heavy fire. He has often done fine work as F.O.O.

Lt. Keith Wenyn McKenzie, Aust. Inf.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. He led his men in the attack with great dash, and later, when the enemy had entered our trenches, he led a counter-attack which quickly cleared them out. On other occasions he has done fine work.

2nd Lt. Samuel Ernest Goold Mills, Aust. Inf.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty in action. Though twice wounded early in the attack he continued firing at his post throughout the night, displaying great personal courage.

Lt. Alfred George Morris, Aust. Inf.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. As Scout Officer he went forward with the first wave, but later took charge of a platoon and did fine work holding the left front. He set a fine example of coolness and courage.

Capt. John Joseph Murray, Aust. Inf.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. He led the first two waves of the attack with great dash, and skilfully consolidated the position won. Although outflanked and almost surrounded, he held on to his position with great determination. The success of his battalion was largely due to his tenacity.

Lt. Lewis Noedl, Aust. Eng.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty in action. He led forward a party of sappers with the attacking party, and commenced work on the saps immediately. Although he received two wounds in the first few minutes, and his wrist was broken, he carried on for two hours till he became too weak to go on.

Lt. Percy William Pearce, Aust. Inf.

For conspicuous gallantry during operations. When a withdrawal took place he refused to conform before receiving orders from his C.O., and set his men to work to dig in. He set a fine example of determination.

Capt. Hugh Rayson, Aust. Army Med. Corps.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty in action. For several days he rendered first-aid in the trenches under very heavy shell-fire, and worked night and day till the wounded were finally evacuated.

Capt. Rupert Markham Sadler, Aust. Inf.

For conspicuous gallantry during operations. He did fine work in the trenches at a very trying time, and during an attack on the enemy trenches displayed great courage and fine leadership. Though wounded during the assault, he stuck to his post till the enemy trenches were taken.

2nd Lt. Robert Arthur Salmon, Aust. Inf.

For conspicuous gallantry during operations. After the attack he patrolled "No Man's Land," and guided rescue parties, under machine gun and rifle fire, to bring in the wounded.

Capt. Alexander Sanderson, Aust. Eng.

For conspicuous gallantry during operations. He showed great coolness and pluck under heavy shell fire when exploding "Push Pipes." When the leads were cut by shell fire he went on regardless of danger to light the fuse. Finally his work was entirely successful.

Capt. Walter Roy Sheen, Aust. Inf.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. He took out a party of men during a very heavy bombardment, and, by his personal example and bravery, succeeded in rallying some men who were retreating, and in bringing them back to their original line. He thus secured the position against enemy attack.

REWARDS FOR SERVICE IN THE FIELD—MILITARY CROSS—contd.

Lt. Alexander Skene Smith, Aust. Inf.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. He reorganised his men and did fine work after the enemy's trenches had been taken. Throughout the operations he proved himself a useful and gallant company officer.

Capt. Robert Frederick Maberly Smith, Aust. Inf.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. He displayed great energy in the attack, and great coolness under heavy shell fire in consolidating the ground won. On another occasion he attacked an enemy post and inflicted heavy casualties.

2nd Lt. John Harold Sterling, Aust. Inf.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty in action. Although wounded in the neck, he continued to lead his men in the attack with great coolness under very heavy machine gun fire, which caused severe casualties.

Lt. George Alfred Still, Aust. Inf.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. He rallied and organised straggling troops, and led them on over open country. During the night, in the enemy's main breastwork, he ably assisted in consolidating the position won.

2nd Lt. Lawrence John Trounson, Aust. Inf.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. He kept up continuous fire with his machine gun all night, having established himself with one man on the top of the enemy's parapet. He and his gun were on one occasion literally blown out of the position.

2nd Lt. Clarence Wallach, Aust. Inf.

For conspicuous gallantry during operations. Under a very heavy bombardment which lasted forty-eight hours, after his company commander had been killed and the company had suffered severely, he took command and steadied the men by his fine example and cool courage.

Capt. Arthur Reginald White, Aust. Inf.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. Though blown into the air by a shell in the advance, he led on through the enemy barracks till he reached their trenches, where he did fine work in consolidating the position won. When the enemy counter-attacked, he led a charge with fixed bayonets, to create a diversion while his machine guns got into safety.

CANADIAN FORCE.

Lt. Lawrence Francis Gartner Cole, R. Can. R.

For conspicuous gallantry after a raid. With two other officers he worked for 45 minutes under heavy fire clearing the casualties. He did fine work throughout the raid and afterwards.

Lt. Owen Sydney Dunn, Can. Inf.

For conspicuous gallantry. When sent with a patrol to secure a prisoner he surprised a party of the enemy and shot and wounded one of them. The enemy retired throwing bombs, pursued by Lt. Dunn, who finally brought the wounded man back after dispersing the enemy party with bombs and repelling a rescue party.

Lt. Ernest Dorland Hicks, Can. Force and R.F.C.

For conspicuous skill and gallantry. He brought down two enemy machines and attacked and drove back over their lines three others. On one occasion he came down to 800 feet and bombed trains. On another he came down to 300 feet and dropped bombs on a station.

Capt. Ivan Steele Ralston, Can. Inf.

For conspicuous gallantry during an attack. Although twice buried by shell fire he refused to leave the front line till relieved 48 hours later. He showed great coolness and judgment in organising his defences.

Lt. Harry Roy Urle, Can. Eng.

For conspicuous gallantry. When the enemy blew a camouflet, damaging one of our galleries in which some men were working, he entered the shaft at great personal risk and succeeded in getting out the four remaining men into safety. The fifth man had been killed by the explosion.

Lt. John Gordon Young, Can. Inf.

For conspicuous gallantry. At a critical time he went out to the front line, reorganised the bombers and recaptured a bombing post which had been lost. Later he went over the parapet and brought in a wounded prisoner.

SOUTH AFRICAN CONTINGENT.

Lt. Robert Beverley, S. African Inf.

For conspicuous gallantry during operations. When reconnoitring the ground and the enemy's position in the front. On one occasion he lay out for over two hours under heavy shell fire, and though rendered unconscious for a time by the explosion of a shell managed to regain our line with the assistance of a lance-corporal.

2nd Lt. Frederick Hawthorne English, S. Afr. Inf.

For conspicuous gallantry during operations. By complete and constant disregard of personal safety he inflicted heavy losses on the enemy, and set a fine example to those under his command.

2nd Lt. Edward James Phillips, S. Afr. Inf.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. During three days he led bombing attacks to meet the enemy's attacks with great courage and determination. Though severely wounded in the shoulder on the first day he refused to retire.

Capt. Thomas Hesketh Ross, S. African Inf.

For conspicuous gallantry during operations. He handled his company with great skill and determination. On one occasion by his coolness and fine leading he enabled a position to be held at a critical time.

The undermentioned have been awarded a Bar to their Military Cross for subsequent acts of conspicuous gallantry:—

Temp. 2nd Lt. (temp. Capt.) John Bernard Barron, M.C., Worce. R.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. Though wounded before the attack started he refused to leave his post, and continued to direct the attacking companies until the position was firmly in our hands.

(The Military Cross was awarded in London Gazette dated 25th Aug. 1916.)

2nd Lt. (temp. Lt.) Bernard James Macklin, M.C., Wilts. R.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. He led his company forward with great dash, killing five of the enemy single-handed. When he was the only Officer left in his company he set a fine example of coolness and courage.

(The Military Cross was awarded in London Gazette dated 22nd Jan. 16.)

REWARDS FOR SERVICE IN THE FIELD—contd.

DISTINGUISHED CONDUCT MEDAL.

(Extract from the London Gazette, dated 22nd September, 1916.)

HIS Majesty the KING has been graciously pleased to approve of the award of the Distinguished Conduct Medal to the undermentioned Warrant Officers . . . for acts of gallantry and devotion to duty in the field.

10019 Actg. Co. Serjt.-Maj. P. W. Adams, Dorset R.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty. After being buried and rendered unconscious, he refused to leave the lines until given a direct order, and then returned after two hours. He set a splendid example of coolness and courage to all ranks with him.

7721 Co. Serjt.-Maj. E. E. Barker, Essex R.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. At a critical moment in the attack he assisted his officer to organise a party of about forty men of different units with which a crater was manned and held. Finally they kept the enemy in check with some of the enemy's own bombs which they found. They were subjected throughout to heavy artillery and bomb attacks by the enemy.

9 Serjt.-Maj. H. Barker, W. York. R.

For conspicuous bravery and continuous devotion to duty during severe operations. For 49 hours during stress of battle Serjt.-Maj. Barker was tireless in organising and carrying out work. He was regardless of danger. His service to the battalion was magnificent.

6867 Co. Serjt.-Maj. T. Black, K.O.S.B.

For conspicuous gallantry during operations. He led forward a party of snipers and then, creeping forward with one man under machine-gun fire, attacked a machine-gun at 80 yards. Later, throughout eight hours' heavy bombardment, he showed great coolness, and set a fine example.

5975 Co. Serjt.-Maj. A. R. Blanchard Notts. & Derby R.

For conspicuous gallantry and ability when in charge of two platoons, after his Company Commander and two other officers had become casualties. Twice he rallied the men of several different regiments and led them back to an assault on a trench, which he finally took and made good. His skill, courage and powers of leadership were most marked.

6668 Co. Serjt.-Maj. S. Carson, R. Innis. Fus.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty in action. He carried out his duties after being twice wounded until a third wound rendered him incapable of taking any further part in the operations. He has previously shown great coolness and bravery under trying circumstances.

7578 Co. Serjt.-Maj. P. E. E. Chappell, Som. L.I.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. When all his officers had become casualties, he collected all available men, including many of other regiments. He then organised bombing parties, and arranged the defences generally. He held on to the ground won till relieved at midnight.

10844 Co. Serjt.-Maj. T. Craig, Arg. & Suth'd Highrs.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. He rendered invaluable assistance to his company commander during a stiff fight, and during a heavy bombardment. His cheery example gave great confidence to the men. At a critical moment of the counter-attack he brought up a portion of his company, and by skilful handling suffered hardly any loss while advancing.

16842 Actg. Co. Serjt.-Maj. G. Cussins, W. York. R.

For conspicuous courage and ability throughout the campaign. He has shown admirable coolness and pluck in times of stress. He took charge when his officer was wounded and organised his line, though wounded, he subsequently did valuable work as Regimental Serjt.-Major.

1054 Co. Serjt.-Maj. R. Davis, Lond. R.

For conspicuous gallantry in voluntarily carrying a message to Battalion Headquarters under intense fire. Finding on his return his officer wounded, he assumed command of the company, and by his coolness and disregard of danger inspired all ranks with confidence.

9656 Co. Serjt.-Maj. F. G. Dumbleton, North'd Fus.

For conspicuous gallantry during an attack, when, under exceptionally heavy fire, he collected and controlled a disorganized party of men, left without an officer, and, attaching himself to another battalion, took part in the attack and in the subsequent capture of prisoners.

3/9671 Co. Serjt.-Maj. C. E. Faulkner, North'd Fus.

For conspicuous gallantry during an attack, when he went to his Company Commander, who had been wounded, and under heavy machine-gun and rifle fire, succeeded in dragging him to a place of safety. Subsequently he reorganized his company, and gave a splendid example of devotion to duty.

10794 Co. Serjt.-Maj. J. Fisher, Durh. L.I.

For conspicuous gallantry and resource in successfully bringing up a platoon, under heavy fire and at a critical moment, to protect an exposed flank. On two occasions he led bombing parties against superior numbers, and assisted to remove the wounded and dead under heavy shell and rifle fire, completely disregarding his own safety.

10992 Co. Serjt.-Maj. J. Franklin, Dorset R.

For conspicuous gallantry on several occasions, notably when he had to pass through a heavy barrage on special duty, and was knocked senseless by the explosion of three shells near him. On recovering consciousness he carried out his mission successfully.

1479 Co. Serjt.-Maj. A. Graham, R. Berke. R.

For conspicuous bravery and determination in reorganizing successive waves in an attack, and in supporting ably his Company Commander, who had been wounded early in the action. He showed courage and resource in evacuating casualties.

REWARDS FOR SERVICE IN THE FIELD—DISTINGUISHED CONDUCT MEDAL—contd.

9644 Co. Serjt.-Maj. H. Harris, Lanc. Fus.

For conspicuous gallantry during an advance when, with a small party, he put out of action four enemy machine-guns and captured several officers and men. His coolness and bravery had previously been noted.

.. ..

14906 Co. Serjt.-Maj. J. Hooper, Welsh R.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. When all his officers had become casualties he rallied and led a large party of men against the enemy.

7124 By Serjt.-Maj. C. F. Hunter, R.F.A.

For conspicuous gallantry and presence of mind under trying circumstances. Under heavy shell-fire he stopped a runaway team. Later, single-handed, he extinguished a fire that had broken out in an ammunition pit. His courage and devotion to duty undoubtedly saved many casualties.

.. ..

685 Co. Serjt.-Maj. J. N. Lavarick, Lanc. Fus.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. He greatly assisted his officers in organising men of different units. He then found and brought into action a trench gun, which he fired as long as ammunition lasted. He behaved with the greatest coolness, and set a fine example.

9485 Co. Serjt.-Maj. E. Loharne, Midd'x R.

For conspicuous gallantry. Although buried by a shell explosion and greatly shaken, he remained on duty throughout an attack, and displayed great coolness and courage.

6538 Co. Serjt.-Maj. E. Littlewood, Devon. R.

For conspicuous gallantry. When a mine exploded he was of the greatest assistance to his officer in organising and leading up a party to the lip of the crater. He set a fine example and displayed great coolness.

.. ..

835 Serjt.-Maj. G. A. McDonald, Midd'x R.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. After the attack he reorganised and rallied all the men round him, exposing himself with great coolness and cheerfulness under a very heavy bombardment. He has previously displayed great coolness under shell fire.

C/12003 Co. Serjt.-Maj. T. McEwen, K.R.R.C.

For conspicuous gallantry during a raid on the enemy's trenches. He displayed great dash and courage, and, after being blown off the enemy's parapet into a shell hole full of wire, continued to do his duty and to set a fine example to all ranks.

.. ..

5/1852 Co. Serjt.-Maj. M. D. McLauchlan, Arg. & Suth'd Highrs.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. He displayed the greatest coolness in the fight and in the counter-attack, when he got separated from his officer with a portion of the company. He did fine work bombing and fighting all night.

12001 Co. Serjt.-Maj. W. R. Parker, York. R.

For conspicuous gallantry and resource in leading his men during an attack after his company officer had been killed and two other officers wounded.

1432 Co. Serjt.-Maj. W. Parkes, York & Lan. R.

For conspicuous gallantry during an enemy counter-attack. Arriving at a critical moment with a party carrying bombs, he grasped the situation, and, aided by a private of another regiment, he drove the enemy out of the sap. On a subsequent occasion he rendered valuable service with reinforcements.

4812 Regtl. Serjt.-Maj. E. Paul, Som. L.I.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. He took charge of a party of fifty men, who were carrying R.E. stores to the captured enemy line. When hung up by heavy machine-gun fire he skillfully got his party through by a circuitous route. He then returned with most valuable information as to the state of affairs. Throughout the rest of the day he did fine work.

5403 By. Serjt.-Maj. J. Powell, R.F.A.

For conspicuous gallantry. When an ammunition dump became ignited by shell fire, he assisted the officer in charge to remove ammunition under very dangerous circumstances. Although blown away some distance by a violent explosion, he returned to the dump, and amid continual explosions, helped to carry away the wounded.

.. ..

G/1160 Act. Co. Serjt.-Maj. J. Prooth, R. Fus.

For conspicuous gallantry during a successful raid on the enemy's trenches. Later he assisted the medical officer to carry in the wounded men. He has frequently done fine work.

.. ..

L/4773 Serjt.-Maj. W. Routley, R. W. Surr. R.

For conspicuous gallantry in organising and personally taking up ammunition during operations under heavy fire. He set a fine example of devotion to duty.

6530 Serjt.-Maj. C. Shepherd, W. Rid. R.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. He succeeded in getting a party of carriers through to a trench mortar battery with ammunition. When the men wavered, owing to heavy shell and machine-gun fire, he rallied them by his cool example and led them on.

.. ..

342 Co. Serjt.-Maj. Stevens, Sea. Highrs.

For conspicuous gallantry during operations. He led a bombing party against an enemy's strong point, which was holding up the attack. His party broke through and bombed up the enemy's trenches in face of strong opposition. He has shown great bravery and coolness in action.

12468 Serjt. (Actg. Co. Serjt.-Maj.) J. Stewart, K.O.S.B.

For conspicuous gallantry during operations. When all his company officers had become casualties he rallied the men and displayed great coolness. On another occasion, after his officers had become casualties, though wounded early in the attack, he remained with his company till the battalion was relieved, encouraging the men throughout a heavy bombardment.

.. ..

356 Co. Serjt.-Maj. E. J. Ward, R. War. R.

For conspicuous gallantry. When an enemy mine had wrecked a portion of the defences, he extricated himself from a destroyed dug-out, sallied out alone, and attacked a small party of the enemy, killing the leader and one other. He was himself slightly wounded.

9183 Co. Serjt.-Maj. (Actg. Regtl. Serjt.-Maj.) E. Whiting, Lincoln. R.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion. During an attack he personally guided the parties carrying ammunition, food and water across the open to the front line under heavy shell and rifle fire, and, when supplies ran short, he collected ammunition and bombs off the dead lying in the open and formed "dumps" where parties could reach them.

11092 Serjt. (Actg. Co. Serjt.-Maj.) A. W. Worboys, Middx R.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. When cut off from his battalion he collected all the men near him, and continued to lead them on till he was wounded. He bombed the enemy in trenches where they were resisting, and repelled two bomb attacks

AUSTRALIAN IMPERIAL FORCE.

495 Co. Serjt.-Maj. M. H. Gaylor, Aust. Pioneers.

For conspicuous gallantry. When carrying rails from a dump in rear to the firing line over ground constantly under machine-gun fire, he set a fine example of energy and courage. Sufficient material was got through to enable a tram line to be completed. On a later occasion he searched "No Man's Land" for wounded, and brought in two machine guns and a quantity of equipment under machine gun fire.

349 Co. Serjt.-Maj. W. McLean, Aust. Infy.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. He held with great determination the left flank of his battalion's front in the enemy's main trench after it was captured. He showed the greatest coolness and determination during the night under heavy enfilade fire.

513 Co. Serjt.-Maj. H. N. Richards, Aust. Inf.

For conspicuous gallantry during operations. When his officers became casualties he took command, and displayed great coolness and bravery under heavy fire. He also did fine work carrying in wounded.

2874 Co. Serjt.-Maj. C. Snelling, Aust. Mach. Gun Co.

For conspicuous gallantry and ability in action. After his officer had been wounded, he assumed command, and carried out all previous arrangements. He was one of the first into the enemy trench, bayoneting a gunner and capturing a machine gun.

656 Co. Serjt.-Maj. J. M. R. Thorburn, Aust. Inf.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty during operations. He worked incessantly rescuing and helping the wounded, quite regardless of his personal safety.

NEW ZEALAND FORCE.

10/203 Co. Serjt.-Maj. W. E. Frost, Wellington R.

For conspicuous gallantry in assisting an officer to cover the withdrawal of raiders, which was necessary owing to enfilade fire from machine guns. Twice he returned to the enemy's lines through their wire, and under heavy fire rescued and brought back two wounded men.

SOUTH AFRICAN CONTINGENT.

3732 Actg. Co. Serjt.-Maj. W. L. King, S. African Inf.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. He displayed great coolness under heavy fire, and did fine work throughout the operations.

348 Co. Serjt.-Maj. E. E. Prebble, S. African Inf.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. He displayed great coolness under heavy fire, and did fine work throughout the operations.

3053 Actg. Co. Serjt.-Maj. J. M. Thomson, S. African Inf.

For conspicuous gallantry and fine leading during operations. After all his officers were wounded and when he had but few men left, he refused to retire and hung on with the greatest determination.

The undermentioned has been awarded a Bar to his Distinguished Conduct Medal for subsequent acts of conspicuous bravery.

9827 Co. Serjt.-Maj. C. E. Metcalfe, W. Rid. R.

For conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty in action. Though wounded, he refused to leave the line, and continued to carry out his duties most ably. During the following nine days, while holding the front line trenches, he rendered invaluable assistance in reorganising the battalion. He set a splendid example to all ranks.

(The Distinguished Conduct Medal was awarded in London Gazette, dated 3rd June 1915, page 5335.)

(Extract from the London Gazette, dated 26th September, 1916.)

His Majesty the KING has been graciously pleased to approve of the award of the Distinguished Conduct Medal to the under-mentioned Warrant Officers . . . for acts of gallantry and devotion to duty in the field:—

8977 Acting Co. Serjt.-Maj. H. T. Allwright, R. Scots.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. He assisted in bombing operations by which 63 of the enemy were captured. Two days later he did most gallant work with a section and machine gun. He also attended wounded men under fire and close to the enemy.

1036 By. Serjt.-Maj. W. H. Brown, R.G.A.

For conspicuous gallantry during operations. During an intense and prolonged bombardment of his battery, during which his emplacement was hit and some of his detachment killed and wounded, his fine courage and example so inspired his men with confidence that they kept their gun in action throughout.

20267 Co. Serjt. Maj. H. A. Breslain, R. Fus.

For conspicuous gallantry during operations. During the capture of a trench he, with his officer, got two machine-guns into action in the trench immediately after the assault, and greatly assisted in the holding of the position. When his officer was wounded he carried on under heavy fire.

6000 By. Serjt.-Maj. C. W. S. Broomfield, R.G.A.

For conspicuous gallantry. During a heavy bombardment when telephone communication was destroyed, he passed backwards and forwards under heavy shell fire in order to maintain communications.

916337 Co. Serjt.-Maj. J. E. Chapman, R. Innls. Fus.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. When all his officers had become casualties, he led the company with great skill and coolness. Though wounded early in the day, he stuck to his duty and finally brought the company out of action. During a prolonged bombardment of our trenches he was always the first to dig out buried men.

11131 Co. Serjt.-Maj. T. Counsell, R. Fus.

For conspicuous gallantry during operations. He did fine work when consolidating the captured trenches, and also when taking out parties to search for wounded. He has done other fine work.

G. 4282a Co. Serjt.-Maj. H. Dell, R. Fus.

For conspicuous gallantry during operations. He crawled out under heavy machine-gun fire and tended wounded men, bringing them back later. On another occasion he went through a heavy artillery barrage to search for two missing men of his company. His conduct during the recent operations had been very fine.

9000 By. Serjt.-Maj. Dowell, R.G.A.

For conspicuous gallantry on many occasions, notably when a shell set fire to some ammunition boxes, and he at once got some men together and put the fire out. The enemy shells were falling all round at the time

6180 Co. Serjt.-Maj. G. F. Filor, Wilts. R.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. When his company assailed the enemy trenches, he was of the greatest assistance in rallying men and organising the consolidation. He showed great dash in clearing out enemy dug-outs, and accounted for many of the enemy himself.

8657 Aetg. Co. Serjt. Maj. E. R. Freeman, R. War. R.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. When all his company officers had become casualties, he led the company with great coolness and ability for many hours while it was hotly engaged at close quarters with the enemy. He has done other fine and gallant work.

8994 Serjt.-Maj. C. Kingston, R.A.M.C.

For conspicuous and consistent good work. He has shown marked ability and initiative in times of emergency.

19 Aetg. By. Serjt.-Maj. J. Mason, R.F.A.

For conspicuous gallantry during operations when laying and repairing telephone wires under heavy shell fire. By his coolness and disregard of danger he was invaluable in getting men and heavy mortars through the hostile barrage.

10518 Aetg. Co. Serjt.-Maj. W. J. E. North, R. Sco. Fus.

For conspicuous gallantry during operations. He went out to within a few yards of the enemy's parapet and brought back a wounded officer some 400 yards. On the next night he did fine work consolidating the ground won and guiding up R.E. parties under heavy fire.

51122 By. Serjt.-Maj. G. Porter, R.F.A.

For conspicuous gallantry during operations. When a gun was hit and some men wounded, he tended the men under heavy fire, and quickly got the gun into action again. On another occasion he showed great courage in assisting to dig out men who had been buried by shell fire.

13344 Co. Serjt.-Maj. T. Robertson, R. Scots.

For conspicuous gallantry during operations. Hearing cries, he at once went out and brought in from about 60 yards in front of the enemy's parapet a wounded sergeant of another regiment. Later he went out again in search of a wounded officer.

7635 Co. Serjt.-Maj. J. Snodden, R. Innls. Fus.

For conspicuous gallantry during operations. He took command of a party of his own company, with some men of another regiment, and very effectively bombed the enemy's trenches. He has frequently shown great coolness and bravery.

AUSTRALIAN IMPERIAL FORCE.

555 Co. Serjt.-Maj. K. Ahnall, Aust. Inf.

For conspicuous gallantry in action. Though badly wounded in the attack, he remained with his company and directed and assisted wounded men to the dressing station under heavy shell and machine-gun fire. Though again wounded and shot through the chest, he still assisted in carrying wounded men.

4 Serjt.-Maj. A. H. L. Gray, Aust. Inf.

For conspicuous gallantry during operations. He repeatedly guided ammunition and ration parties to the front trenches under heavy shell-fire. On one occasion he went out and brought in a comrade who had been wounded by a sniper.
