VISIONS, DISCOVERIES ànd W ARNINGT

OFTHE

DKEADEUL and TERRIBLE

JUD GMENTS,

 UPONSCOTLAND, ENGLAND and IRELAND

Which were revealed to John Porter of Cros* SIBEIG.

Taken from bis own mouth, (while confined to his bed boing blind) and attefted by bimfelf, as by bis declaration anneised.

Jocl ii. 28,-30, 3 1, 32. And it fhall comse to pals, that I will pour out my Spirit upon all flefh, and your fons and your daughters fhall propbefy, and youtr old men fhall dream dreams, your young men Shall fee vifions. And I will shew wonders in the heavens, and in the earthblood and fire, and pillars of fnoke. The fun shall be turned into darknefs and the moon into blood, before that great and terrible day of the Lurd. And it shall come to pafs, that whofoever shall call on the un? of the Lords shall be delieered.

GLASGOW: Priated in the year. yyz.

 $\overline{7}$

 4.

 Rytura in an :

 \%.0

 4 in Col

$\left[\begin{array}{ll}{[3]}\end{array}\right.$

The Visions, Discoveries and WarnINGS, of the dreadful and terrible JU.DGMENTS upon Scotland, Engiand'and Ireland, which were revealed, to John Porter of Crossibeig.

IN a dream, being flanding as I thought, upon the braes of $A Y R$, I went to alit cie height near the cown, and looking about to the city, I obferved two coaches all black, going up the river fide towards the fouth, in fuch quick motion, as if they had not touched the ground, and as I looked after them, therc came one to me, and afked me, What I looked upon? I anfwered, Two coaches, the which I never faw the blacker: He faid, I will tell thee what thefe are, It is the devils going to combine together to go to Rome, to make the Pope to fend Antichrift to Scotland, to bring on a froke and retet a fatal fall.
2. At another time I apprehended a great light, and in the light I faw before me in large letters, The Lord is about to plead a controverfy with Scotiand, Engiand and Ireland for a defpifed and jighted Cojpel.
3. At another time being awake, but bellg incapable to know where 1 was, I apprehended by a vifion of light, that I was in the open fields fitting by an high-way fide; and faw a company of men walking by me, and cvery one of thein had in their right hand a large bloody napkin hanging down, upon which I perceived large letters, I afked the meaning of that which I faw upon the corners of the napkin? It was anfwered, It was the names of the $t$ welve apoftes of the Lamb. And looking after them I faw them come to the gates of a city, and as they entered in, each one took a bloody clout out of his pocket, and threw it down at the threfhold of the door, with which they wiped their feet as they went in ; then I anked, What meaned the clouts? It was anfwered, It was the cuftom in noblemen's houfes to have old caft clouts laid down at their doors to wipe their feet as they came in: for no unclean thing thall enter into the new Jerufalem; and then looking in at the gates of the city, 1 perceived a great number of people in a larger room than I can ex-

Prefe, havivigg every one of them a bloody mapkin in theyt tands.
4. After the Came manner, 1 apprebended $I$ was walising through a little town, "and law as it had becr a few Theep and lambs foreed out of a. houfe, parlaed by a dog, and pafing by the door I lookedin, and Paw a lamb, which I apprehended was not able to follow the reft; then I fiw one come to it, which Itook to be its mother, and as. I looked upon her; I fase one of lier fides open, as if it had bees the leaf of a window, and thus looking; one came to me; and asked, What I looked upon ? I anfwercul, A. few, fleeep and lambs purfucd by a dog, He faid, I will sell the what it means: This generation fecketh to deftroy my. little, flock, but cre long, I will give them another bone to gnaw upon, for I will bring in the king of Epain with an in vincible army for the abuie of my gofjel, which was the renown of this land, and made it famous in other churches, for, the minifters of this church are turned into divifions and factions among themfelves: for which I witl dafh them one a gainft another. : And as I looked I perceived a long roll coming to me, which lighted upon my knees; upon which I perceived three lines drawn leagth ways, I underitood the letters, but not the words, upon which a man came to mc, and a fled, What I was looking upon? I anfwered, Upon a written roll, buk could not undeiftand the language thereof, he faid, I will flew you the meaning thereof; I'll bring againt this land a people of a Arange language and fierce countenance; whofe fpeech thou fhalt not underfland, and they fhall march through the whole labd, to execute my judgments, for broken covenants and blood-thed of my fervants ; and for defpifing and flighting of my gofpel. I was afked again, What feeft thou? I anfwered, A log of timber, with two running fresins; I was afked, What was the colour of them ? I anfvered, The one is blackifh and dark The other bright and clear. Then lie bade me tafte the one that was black; and dipping my finger in it, I found it bitter. Then, he defired me to tafte that which was clear; the which when I did, I found it fweet; he anfwered, The bitter is the cup that is put in the hands of this generation, and the fweet is the cup that the remnant ase to rective afterwards. Then he afked, What wilt thon thon do for me, or raither, What fhall I do for thee? Then it cane upon my heart with foch power, that he caft an ope:s door to plead both for myfelf and his remnant, (in which I found great liherty,) that tie woedd fpare a remnant, and not make a full end in the day of his anger. At the fime time I fiw four lines drawn before one which ye will fond in lyfalaz 22. A foed shall fervice do 10 me, unto the Lord it shall be for a gencratior revkonid in ages all.

[ 5 ]

5. Another time I was awakened out of my flerp, with a great voice, which faid unto me, This year fhall be a year of great, confufion, fuch as was not fibce the gear king Uzziah died; for the mother thall forget her fucking child; :and the father tie fon of his old are, for there thall be a cry made to go forth and nest the Spanifh army, and he that goes forth to meet that frmy, fhall not find a man to take him by the hand to aft how le docth : ayd he that will not leave houle and famity, and go to the field for Chrift and his intereft: for I will bring a ftroke upon this land, and none flisll cleape from the kling to the beggat, and that for their many fins, particularly thefe three, viz. Eroken and burnt covenants, "and the blood hed of thinfe that teftified againft the fame, and a defpiifd and ligh:ed gofpel.
6. At another time being overpouled with a great light, a confiderable writing was luid before me, which 1 could not underftand, but at length I perceived an expreffion, viz. Come, hear all ye that fear the Lord, and I will tell you what I am to bring upon this generation; I have given you my gofpel in purity and plenty, for more than for. ty years, in which I laid before them, all the bleffings pronounced in the book of Deutcronomy, and a ll the carfes pronounced on mount Ebal againtt the difobedient, yet my gof. pel laked fome things among them. Tinere were foveral things laid before me, which I cannot rememler: and as I was turning from looking upon it, it was faid, Here was one thing that was lacking, viz. The light of my courtepance; I will raze this gencration, as a man razeli a piece of ground to provide his thrf, I will tun upon this generae tion, as a man treading mortar, tunning backwatd onat forward, treading upon the higheff liacos; And as I live. faitb the Lord, The houfe of Eii shall not efcape. i. C. The great ones fhall not be p, ft by for their greatnefs, nor the poor for bis poverty; and that for the following rea.

$\left[\begin{array}{ll}6\end{array}\right]$

Sons. The great ones were concerned in the making of thefe covenants, and the poor alfo; and it fhall be found shat the great ones were concerned in breaking of them, and the poor likewife, and both were concerned in the blood of thofe, who teftified againft the breaking and burning of thefe covenants.
7. I was at another time allowed to proclaim' a commiffion, withal faying, There were minifters in the place, and a fet of judicious men and chrittians, who were more fit than I, who was both blind and lame: to which I was anfwered, as it were with an angry countenance, İ have I aid thee there for feven years on that bed, for that end I have kept thee, which thou wilt not believe: and if thou continue in refufing I will fhew thee examples both from feripture and experience, that I have done to fuch as would not belicve. Then came to my remembrance, what he had done to the unbelieving lord at the gate of Samaria. Then he prefented the commifion to me, go and proclaim a facrifice in Bozrah, which thall come upon the land of Idumea, which is thee, O wretched Scotland! For I will call :he fuwls of the air and the beafts of the field, to eat the fle'h of kings, of captains and of great ones, who have Thed the blood of my fervants, that teftified againft the breaking of thefe covenants, for I am wounded in my members by this generation, and nothing will heal that wound but a plaifter of the hlood of thefe that wounded me: which plaifter I am about to make up Phortly.
8. And at another time I perceived a great army betwixt Girvan and Ayr, all in black, and obferved a moving towards the land, Again I perccived anorher army of toot, that came and took up their ground, and they flood each of them uson their own ground: and as I was mufing and looking with great concern upon them, I faw one all in white, who fad, Let not that trouble thee, I will build thee a fure houfe, better than tinat of fons and of daughers Saith the Lord. Then I heard another fiying unto me, Be nut afraid of that great army, for thou thalt fee them no more. I had not moved my foot feven yards, till I faw that army fall to the ground, as if they had been all fruck as with one ftone. Then returned the vifion of light, which faid, Now I have let thee fee that great army of 260000 all fall to the ground.

$\left[\begin{array}{ll}{[7]}\end{array}\right.$

A memorable inftance not to be forg ot but be a memosial of my return to the poor church of Scotland, for my return thall yet be great in this land, for 1 will have no more ado with Antichrift in my church, for I will give him a ftroke, and the report thereof fhall be heard through the whole world.
9. At another time as I was viewing the vifion of light, I perceived one coming down with a gieat ax in his right hand, and turning himfeif upon a ftep, he fet his one loot bigher than the other, and the band with the ax on his right knee, and fwore with an oath by him that liveth for ever and ever : yea, ere long Britain hall know what is my commifion with the ax : but let not that trouble thee, for thou fhalt not fee it.
10. That at another time I heard at a great diffance above me, as it had been one making a great moan, and another faying, What aileth thee child, to make fuch a moan? The child faid, We will all be ruined, for our church is filled full of fuperftition and damnable herefies; It was anfwered, That needs not trouble thee, thou haft nothing to do with that, it lies at the door of minifters, let them fee to that ; the child anfwered, We fuftain the pain and the lofs, for we will all be herried, for our church is full of thisves and robters.
II. At another time, lying upon my bed waking, there appeared to me, the likenefs of a woman with a ghoftly countenance, which paffed with a great motion by my bedflack, to the other fide of the houfe, and looked at me with an angry vifage, clapping her hands together, feveral times at me, and I overheard her, as talking with another and came over the fame difcourfe I had with another perfon that Thurfday before, and faid to the other, He hath made all. the honelt people that they cannot hear his name named, and others to mock and have him in derifion, which will make him that be had better be off the wolld than upon it. Then one of them afked me, What was that 1 had done? and repeated the former difcourfes to me, and faid, Since. thou haft done fo, I will learn thee a way to mend it, deny thou faid fo, I anfwered, How can I do that? I have told it to fome that will be believed, though I fhould fay to the contrary; but he ftill continued with temptations and terrible threatuings to that purpofe, till at laft I was made to cry ont O Lorp, rehuke tim! for hewill not be rebuk ell by ind Then all difappeared.

$[8]$

If agtit in Nov. I 729. I thought I was fanding in the openfills, dnd faw a man coming to me with a big cup of blood in tis hand, which when I beheld, He told me, He hid a conmifion to divide that cup into lefler cups among five bitie3; then I faw five cups in his other hand, fo to be divided; he named Ediaburgh, Glafgcivo and Ayr: "as for the other two I do nef politively remember them. Whicli blood twas to purge thefe cities of blood, for I will purge thern till I bring my remnant to fay, What have we to doäly Enore with flols?
i?. On this fame month 1 faw two living creatures having fix wings, two envered their faces, twin covered their. feet, and with two they did Hy, and they cried, Holy, boly Lord" God almighty, glury bẹ to thee, who hatly faid, I witl nut gion my glory to another, nor wiy praie 10 graven imae ges. I will not give my glory to Engifh bor Irifh, 10 French nor Spainyards, to Pope nor Pagan, but I will take the glory to myfelt, and will cover mytelf with a cloud in mine anger, that they fhall not fee my face, and I will run upon mine enemies," aud tread them as nire in the flreets; and will fatiste the eath with their blond as with dung? and then I will take mine ancer and the rod and tye them together, and throw them in the furnace.
14. At anoilier time it was laid before me, that it was a tollen of judgnents to conie upon the land, that the minifters were fo unconcerned when the Lord was about to bring. a defolating ftroke boith by fea and land, the fmoke whereof thall be feen from one lasd to another, that in lome hatbour, there fhall fcarcely one houle be left to tell another, Yonder a fhip coming into the harbour.
15. It was laid before me, that the Lord was about to purfue the blo d of his fervant, from the year r66t to this day, and nothing will purge bloot but bfood, and when it: is accomplifhed, it will se faidas the queen oi Sheba faid to: Solomon, that the one half was not cold of what the had found & For I have two words drawn, that dt a fortem and that of an intefling cnemy, and if ye find any favoury? is will be at the fiand of a foreiga enerny.
16. At another time I was awakened with a cry, fagings This is the fecond thine fhe cone unto thee with this?

[9]

Warning, but thou regardeft more the town ta $k$ of the country than my warnings, but I will make the an iron pillar, and a brazen wall againt this gemeratica; fpeak therefore that I command thee, left I confound thee before them. I do not fay as before, a facrifice in Bozrah, but I fay a facrifice in thee, wretched Scotland ! for I will dye the ground with blood from Gath-hill, to Irvine-water, for I will purge my church of popery and prelacy, and all other errors which are not according to the true principles of the church: for I will bring a fmall army with a rew minifters of the principles of the mountain-men fome time ago nicknamed whigs, and they fhall be the true feed of the church.
17. The reafon why I was defrrous to acquairt others with what was laid before me, was, becaufe of the fore rebuke I had for neglecting it. I apprehended I heard two men coming by the houfe, the one faying to the other, I have an old blind man in this houfe. I muft fpeak to him before I go any further : and turning myfelf upon my bed, I faw a young man in bright clothing, who faid to me, What I have laid before thee deny it not, but maintain it, and what thou haft not fpoken, fpeak, and what other things I lay before thee conceal them not, whether they hear or whither they forbear; they thall know that I have laid thee there for that end, and thou fialt not want a resward, for I never bad any man ferve me for nothing; and if thou difobey my commiffion, I will fill thy bed with a fulphureors fmoke, that none hall be able to come near thee, and left thou be difcouraged about where the fmoke fhall come from I will open the mouth of the bottomlefs pit, the habitation of thofe that difobey my commands, and let thee fee what fmoke cometh out of it ; upon which I was affrighted, that I came under a folemn promife that what he would keep u. pon my memory I hould not conceal it tho' it colt me my life: but it was faid unto me, What thou doft not remember I will not charge thee: for it. I anfwered, I wanted beath, I wanted fight, and fowas unfit to publifinit, to which it was anfwered, I fent them to thy bed-ftock to receive what thou hadft to fay to them, but thou did not feeak but took other obligations that they fhould not feak what thou told them before.
18. J3n. 12, 1730. Being awaked, it ws said to me,

J am as a bear bereaved of her whelps, that can neither. foeet man nor:bealt but tears them in pieces, I had:once a bonny: bairn time of bairns in Scotland; which they bereavedimelof, fome of them they fent to foreigntands and planpations, others they drowied in ithe fea; others ithey: killed in the fields upon gibbets and: fcaffolds, for! which I will drive them out of their boufes as Mheepare driveri in a ftormy day before the itorm, fecking for fielter, but find none, I will caufe my mouth to go through this generation as a ftorm of fnow goeth through a wood; where the higheit trees and thickeit brancher receive moit of the ftorm; I will leave their houfes without rib or roof, and their fub: fance; as corr in the fields, that hath' neither corb nor chaff. Upon the fame day about twilight, there fhined a freat light about me, fuch as I never faw before for bright ${ }^{3}$ nefe, which fo overpoweied me, that I knew not whether in the body or out of the body, and it was faid to me, I ani a merciful God, and he that repenteth and flecth to me will find a merciful God, and fuch as will not flee to me for mercy, by forfaking their fins, the generation to come Shall not remember that there was fuch a generation in the place. I have'a rembant in this place whom I will whip as a father doth his fon that ferveth him, I will not deal with this church as I have dealt with other churcbes, whom I have left never to return again, as the feven churches of Afia, for I have a remnadt of men and women in this land, fuch as I have not found the parallel of in any church'befide which bave token faft hold of me by their prayers of faith, they have faftned their grips fo that they will not let me go; for the cry of their prayers have come up before me, and outreacheth the cry of their fins, for which I will make the voice of the prayers of my remnant to be heard in fuch ac. clamations of joy as thallmake the very earth rebound and echoy and the delivery fo clofe atter the Atroke, as can hard: Iy be difcovered, a fimilie was given me, of two buthes growing fo clofe together, that the one could not be difcerned trom the other; until they were cut down and drawn efunder.
19. Upon fabbath about cock crowing, I was awakened out of fleep with a Tharp rebuke, thus, How often fhill I rebuke thee for concealing the defolating froke coming $u$ pon the land, which I laid before thee fo often, for which thou haf brought thyfelf very near that word, He that de: nieth me befere: men, him will I deny before my Father whick is in heaven : yet lown thee to he fathful, particitlarly the fat morning when I fent two men to thy boufe, thou difeovered to them what I laid before tiec, that they may know that it came from nie: I ownithat my remant have taken hold of me by piayer, itliat they will not. let' me go , for which miy remnant will be fo great in che land. that boufes to dwell in, on a piece of land will be at ili, to get as it is at this day. At the fame time it was daidunto me, I know the reafon thou art fo louthito tell' my rebukes it is becuufe of reports and country talk, for I hear it is, the report of forme, that what thou fpoke it. siss, wirong; but this gencration flall know whether it was zight or wrong Spoken, but thou muttered it as menido gear cthieffifollen, which durft not be ayowed, but rememher, Itim that confelfeth me before men, him will I confefs before my Hather which is in heaven, and therefore lay: forth ny commiffion before the world, let, them take it as they. will.
20. As I faid to thee longago, there was not fuch a year fince that when king Uzziah died, as : fhall fall out at this time, and in a fow years, which is to let you know, that time is my own. No man is to know it further than I plogie, I will fhew particalar figns to the woild of that year coming, but ye hall not know when they come, nor the mature of thern, far they thall fpeak for thenfelve When they cone.
21.1 Jan. 13. At night being- awake, I was inftantly cant into a deep fleep, and it was: fiid unio me, I have calt you ito a trance to d foover things to nthee, and I faw a theet, whife, and let down from a great height to the bedfide tied at the four corners's and fettled, as I thougbt ilipon my knees, and fafuing my eyes upor it, I faw upon one Lide, a part of every fort of fowls, and at the other fide cut pieces of Refh, and as I was thinking upon it, it, vas faid to me, I will lell thee the meaning, the fowls is the generality of this generation, and the fefh is the :romnant, which is to let thee fee the good and bad live in one commusity logether, and none of them will elcape my froke that will come upen the lapd, for I sm provoked to anger. by this generation in the place by the following fiñ, pride, whoredon, curturg eveering, ljing, feLting, and walking contrary to my commahds every way, that Lam provoked even by their buying and felling, for which I have two rods, the rod of mine anger, and the rod of my jealouly, wherewith I will even purfue them to the wildernefs of Zion and there will I let them fee the want of bread and water.
22. Another time being awake, there was a voice fpoke to me, faying, That the ifle betwist Kintyre and Carrick, which Thould occafiongreat blood both in the eaft and wort of Scotland and particularly in the fouth of Carrick ; then I perceived kour thips which received a commiffion to corre 10. Lochkillicran, called the flips of Tarfhifh, which was to raze this place by burning houfes, which fhould make the inhabitants to flee to the mountains, they that take hold of me by prayer for their refuge, will be fafe; but tho?e that take not hold of me for their Gelter, though the common evemy fhould not purfue them, yet they fhall not efcape my judgments which I will inflict upon them, whether by pef. tilence or any other Atroke; for there are many Mips gathered hither, fome for plunder, fome for accomplifhing the ftroke, yet they fhall be all broken and fcattered by very fmall means, particularly I apprehended one fmall thip, which fought a great parcel of thefe 'hips.
23. In the fame month, as I was fitting in my bed, I faw as it bad been the shape of an ax, laid before me in the bed'all crushed together into one lump, and the houffel of it out of all shape, and while I looked upon it, it was faid unto me, I will shew thee the meaning; This is the king of France his armies which shall be made that they shall neither cut nor fell in the time when he hath moft ado with them, a little thercafter in the morning in a furprizing manner, it was faid to me, I have got more lofs in my church by the king of Eratce than by any prince in Europe, for he hath trought my church in that land to a very fmall remnant, (if any,) for which I will make him as the top of a rock, that hath neither grafs nor earth.
24. Being afteep, I apprehended I faw a man, as I was walking in the fields, coming to me, I asked him, What be had in his hand? he anfixered, It is a sown, I have often made offer of it to thee and thou refufed it; I faid, I do not defire a crown, neither would take it, he replied, Go on in revealing what I have laid before thee, and thou thalt not want thy reward: but if thou refufe to declare what 1 lay before thee, I will make thee an example, fuch as there never was the like laid on a bed before thee; I foftring mine eyes on the man at a diffance from me, Ifaw a great fone fall on a fudden, as from the very clouds, betwixt him and me, and he faid, As thou haft feen this ftone fall on a fudden, to will I bring thic ftroke upon this generation : but yet they will not believe it, till it come to their very door, and thou fhalt not fee it.
25. Jan. 16. 1730. It was faid to me, I fent thee one of the baillies of Campbelton, to whom thou difcovered many things, which had been laid before thee, and be coming home did not conccal the fame ; which made the minifters and fome others come to thee, 10 whom thou alfo gave a largé account of things laid before thee, which they have not difcovered, except to fome principal men of the city, and in fo doing they have wronged this generation.
26. Another time I faw a creature, the likenefs of a fowl, and as I wondered what it could be, I lieard as if it had been the voice of one afking what I looked upon? I faid, A fowl, but cannot underfland what it is. I was anfwered, This is the red dragon fpoken of in the revelation, which fought with Miichael and his angels, which was the occafion of thefe sloody napkins on which thou faw the names of the twelve apoftles and of the Lamb, which I flewed thee a great while ago, I was afked again, What feeft thou? I anfwered, A white throne; and it was replied, The Lord bath erected a throne upon the earth, for the Lord hath faid he will come dows, and fee if the fins of the land bcaccording to the cry thereof, if not be will know, for he is about to execute his wrath upon this land, for many fins, particularly for breach of covenants between 'man and man, and betwixt nation and nation, and perfonal covenants at his table: but efpecially the folemn league and covenant, which was made in my name, for which I will pour out my wrath; but I have a remnunt which fall efcape, for thefe ends, leff the encmy fould niock and fay to thent, is this the reward of your prayers and fafting and communions, and all the nicer es you have obferved, fince it fares with you as with us? I have kept you fo many years blind, that my.remnant may underftand, that it was not difcovered by any other light, for in is gone abroad among my enemies, That an old blind man that hath lien fo many years upon bis bed, is made to difcover all thefe fecrets and defigns: which makes them aftonifhed.

27 Feb. I. About wo in the afiernoon, being furprized with a great light, it was fuid to me, 1 uft 1 be accountable of my delivery to thee, fo thou for thy receiving from me thou muft ftand before the judgment. feat of Chrift, and witnefs thy' delivery to this generation. I know thou hat omitted a great part, which thy memary could not contain, fór whiclí I dọ not quarrel thee. I take heaven and earth to witnef, that I am laying before thee the fall of Bibylon, and ruin of Romifh Antichrift. I was fo taken with thefe words, that I mace my appeal, that I would conceal nothing that he would keep upon my memory. Then I was anfwerc̀d, I am preparing a facrifice in Babylon which will make the fowls of the ant, and beats of the fieid to eat the nefh and drink the blood of Antichrif, according to that feripture, Rev. svi. 2. &c for I have a remunt that will take warning and leave her fies which fall elcape her judgments; but thers is an unaccountable mint. titude which I will foreep away in her, deftruction: for thofe whom the fword fiall leate, the fomine aud peftilence fhall find out, and I will bring a nation fuct as was not in my land lince the vifitation in Ireland: The fun' and mon frull be concerned as ticy were at the time when Ifrai a. venged themlolves on their enemies. All this 1 had in the vifion of light.
28. Another time I fiw a man coming to me, who faid He had no great commiffion at the time, only, the devil had taken his journey to excite and fir up the intruments who were to dccomplifh the defolating ftroke and fall of Antictrift in this land.
29. Feb. 9. After the fame manner I heard one faying, I will drive this generation in my anger, as the fmoke of a furnace is diven which no man can gather or bring back where it was; for I will make their a hos like a furnace that burneth, which when it is paft, men go and look into the furnace, and can fee notbing but ashes; for the molt pirt of this gereration make a mock at all nay warnings, of judgments, but they shall all be accomplished within a few yeare; as I have told thee in fome warnings before, Jin. 13. 'Thefe lins, breach of covenant, and Satan's fins which caft him out of lexven, fr. As the faine time, I

[ 15 ]

$\int_{\text {aw }}$ a man as with a drawn fword in bis hath, who faid, 1 an come down to take peace from the earth and io proclaim tvor againft Antichrift, \&c. by Michael and his ans gels with this ford, with which I have given him one Itroke'already; And I, heard another angel crying with a Ioud roice, babylon is failen; is fallen, and is become the habitation of devils; Rev.i xiv. 8. ©c. For Antichrif hatly alfumed to bimlelf a name of being Chrift's Vicar, which is Chirit's qqual : whereas I have 'no equal neither 'will have any man liave that name on earth: I will root out Antichritt, 'and it fiall be with irm as with the world at the laft day, whenil hal! diffolve it into nothing, it thall nev: er lake robt again, whicls 1 will thortly accomplifh.
30. Feb. I1: While lilay upon my bed, about two of the clock afternoors, the vifion of light appeared fo grear, that I shought there was no houfe above me, only clothes, and 1 heard a voice faying, As 1 am in heaven, and tiou upon earth lying upor thy bed, I will give this generation a froke that all the doctors on edrth cannot cure. Then I apprehended a man walking by me with a feal in his hand, and he ftood fill, and lifted up bis'rigbt hand, and fivore by him' that liveth for ever and ever, That he had often foretold, but they would not believe, but mocked at all the warnings; neither wilt thou believe thyfelf; but thefe that will not believe 1 will tresd as mi:e in the freets, which fhall be accomplifhed in a few years. I had alfo in clear letters laid before me, Fight and overcome, three times repeated. And another faid, What fhall we do? To whom it was replied, He that will not fight, fhall not overcome.
31. Feb. 17. Near fun-fetting-1 was furprized with a great light, and while 1 fat belooldingit, one appeared io me faying, 1 will iell thee the meaning of the light, it is to let the woild fee it is not by natural light all thefe things are revenled to thes; for thave taken away the leffer light and giveh thee the greater inficad thereof; I have found thee faithful in proclaiming ing commifions, whict liat been withftond hy fome in the pláce; but be they freat or Imall that withtand thee, go thou on in fulfilling the name of a comimifficner, leil I call thee by a more dreadful nanre, and as thou has difcovered great ithings; I will shew thee geater things which thou shalt detiver alfo.

That fame night I was awaked from fleep with a great light I faw as if the clouds had been open, and in a bright cloud I heard a voice faying, Glory be to our God, that is our God upon the throne, and to the Lamb which hath taken unto thee thy great power and bath reigned, who hath judged the great whore that fitteth upon many waters, which hath made the kings of the earth drunk, with the wine of her fornication, as the hath made them druuk with the cup, fo I will make all the kingdoms of the world with the blood of her deffruction. And I heard another fay, Thou haft rightly judged her, for the delighted in the blood of thy fervants, and thou hast given lier blood to drink. Then I beard a great lamentation, mourning and crying, to which while I liftned, it was faid, I will tell thee what that great cry meaneth, It is the deftruction of thele who received the mark of the beaft on their right. hand and foreheads. Then there appeared to me a vaft field of flain men, which none could number, and their blood running upon the earth. Then I faw as it were 2 throne erected in heaven, and on it one like unto the Son of man, clothed with a girment down to his feet, and girt about the paps with a golden girdle, faying, Rejoice over her ye heavens, and ye propheis and boly apoftes, for God. hath avenged you upon her. And a mighty angel took up a fone like a milfone and caft it into the fea, faying, Thus with violence fhall that great city Babylon be thrown down to be found no more at all.
32. Feb. 21. It was laid before me in printed letters, That the Lord was about to plead with Antichrift for the bload-hed of his fervants by him, fince be had a beginning which he would inflance in thefe aations following, Germany, Bohemia, Piedmont, France, Spain,' Britain, and Ireland, and particularly the bloody houfe of Autria, and for what was done in the Netherlands, whict was made defolate not for their own quarrel but for inine, becaufe they would not deny me; and acknowled ge the Pope to be head of my church. At the fame time it was faid, I will raze the kingdom of Spain as the top of a rock that hath neither food for man nor beaft, but I will firlt bring him to Bricain to avenge me of mine enemies, and for the injurics done me and my church there, and then I will-take the sod and throw it in the fire, and curfed be that man that refuletes refufeth to go forth, and bathe his fword in the blood of Antichrift.

$\left[\begin{array}{ll}{[17}\end{array}\right]$

33. At anotler time, I perceived a man walking with an inkhorn by his lide, and a pen in tis band, ano when I faftened nine eye upon bim, he faid, I an to fet a rrark and feal upon the followers of the Lamb, to diftingtith therm. from thofe that have the mark of the beaft in the appfoaclsing and defolating froke.
34. At another time it was laid before me, by firee fimilies, what he would do with Antichrift, tle firt was of a fifher draving his net, and every fifh that wanied fins'and feales; he thrciw into the ground of the fea, where they were nesver found any more; the fecond was of a man takine e. handful of fand, and throwing it againft the wiods the't it' was never feen or beard any more; the third was a man cutting down a field of corn, who left fome fallos flancing and fome falling, and afterwards feeking for feed in thefeftak; he found them all confumed and roten in the heart. At the fame time a great light appeared unto me, which retie me much concerncd, and it was faid to me, I liave toucled thy lips for this end, that thou may accomplifi the conimiffion I have delisered umto thee; declare thou to this generation, That they fhall lock to the fouth, and fee the Spanifh army great and very cruel; for they fhall do according to* that fcripture, Amos v. The city that goes out by a thouf ainis" shall leavt a hundred, and the city that goes out by a bikndred shall icave ten to the houfe of Ifrael, faith the Lord; yet notwithftanding 1 will caule my remuant in this land to bathe their fwords in the blood of Antichrin I faw in a vifion, that Chrit's church muft go into the furnace, and there be purged, for he will bave a pure church, or no church at all, for he will have his church purged from all the defiling errors and fuperftitious herefies which the bath been often brought under by antichriftian prelates for he wilt have his church and fpoute a chafte bride unto him. Then 1 faw a man coming unto me with a crown in his hand, who fad, This is the cruwn which Chrift's church fould receive in rbe day of her efpoufals unto him, becaufe antichrift hath enlarged hell with the fouls of thefe whon he hath drawn away with his lyperfitious idolatry, I will take unto me my great power and reign, and throw him into the lake of fire, which barneth, with fire and brimfone.
35. March 2 r. I faw a man paffing by me, who alked What I layy in his hand, 1 faid, A crown. Immediately he relurned the fame way, and I faw fomething in his other hand, bus could not underftand what it was, whereupon be anfwered, Ye fiave an old tralition in your native land, That the righteaus heir to the crown is commonly knawn by the ftar cn bis fide, fo this in my hand is the flar whereby I am known to be heir of my father's crown. There is an antichrifiap party who deligns to rob my father of his kiugdom in this land, and I am my father's only foa, the fon of his love, and who hath holden forth to the world; and who is more obliged to ftand for the intereft than tbe beir? they have defamed my fooufe and bride by calling her a menftruous woman with whom none may converfe, and who is obliged to own the bide, but the bridegroom? As I live, I will ride my horfe to the girths in the blood of Antichriat. For as great as their urny is which is combin3ug among the antichriftian party, 1 can break thean atl without ftroke of fword; and for as low as they think my 3uterelt in this land is, I will let them fee that I have a party that will appear againf them, whole armies I will make to prolper.
36. March 22. These appeared a man walking by me; and I asked where he was going? He anfwered, Alk a blining for this land before the ftorm and cloud break upon it, which is juft at the breaking. Another anfwered and Taid, It is weil done, for there will be need for it, for before the form be at an end, there Thall be many broken planks and boards amone ue, And pating by again, he was afked, Whither he was going ? he anfwered, He was go. irg to beg the fpirit of God to this land and minifters, for it was withdrawn at the time. Then he pafed by again, and hid like a piece of a broken pircher in his hand; and beips alked what be was going to do whinit, he replied, He was going to make it uew anain: the other anfreed, It was never kiown that any old broken pitcher or pot was made new! but he paffing on, returned inmediately with it whole in hiş hand, and faid, This is to let you fee, that t, altho' they fobuld break all my chush to Rivers, I can renew it again- Then it was lailes all that, is goon, but that doth not, fatisfy ub, if thou return irat to thyfelt again, He ano, fwered, I will certainly return; for I will be broughe back by the wreflings and prayers of the faints.
37. Marels 24. It was faid to; se, l have lid beforc thee many fimilies which was thought frange. I will teil thee another frange fimile concerning the men who deperd uppn the world for their thelter in the erfuing ftroke: I comparethe world to an old'rent mathle which a man takieth about him, in a frormy day the draws it up to cover his head, and his feet are all bare, and when he wraps his haods in it to cover himfelf before, it is riven all behiad, and his back is all bare, is is fo narrow, let him do what he will, there is more bare than covered.
38. March 37. About the midle of the day, I faw a man in a vifion, a man of a very high Nature and angry countenance, faying, That this land and people had wronged him of his pameand title which pertained to him as fupreme head of the church, in that they had nicknamed him by the name of the curfed prelate, and baih, given me ano. ther nane, whicb they call, Fanatic. Then thare appeared, to me another man of a very comely getture, who cosquired. Who it was that fpoike with me? I anfwered, I cannot sell, He faid, I will sel! thee, It is, Antichrit who is difpleafed for wronging his name, and then fpake thas, l'raife be to him that rides in heaven, by his name JAH, bis name for ever and ever Thall endure; and repeated ma. ny names which the Lord takes to himfelf: he was fuch a fhining gefture as I canmot venture to exprefs. This I faw under the vifion of a great light.
$\therefore$ 29. That fame night about ten o'clock, I was awakened out of fieep, with a furprifing light, as if there had been no lioufe above me, but the clouds all in light; and while I was admiring it, I heard une faying to me, Look about thee, which when I did, I law a great cloud coming from the fouth, very black and great, it nether touched the clouds above, nor the carth beneath : then he faid, That cloud is a combination of Franser, Spain, Itaiy aud Romee, for ruining of Britain and Ireland, I anfwered, What hall we do in fuch a dark time uff fuch a great cloud, which we are not able:o refilt? he faid, Ye mult do as a man cuith that hath-a great fwarm of bees which he capuot get commanded : he taketh a veffel and caftell water anongit them by which he maketh thern fall to the ground, and fo they ${ }^{4}$ seither fing zor wrotg him untill he putieth then into the fap whict he had defgned for them. Then If faid, What ter can we calt upon fo great an ormy that can harm then:? He anfwered, The vengeance of almighty God: To which I anfwered, Can we take the water, or command the megeance of almighty God? He replied, You mutt call to God by prayer in faith, for he keeps the cupnt vengeance in his own hand, and will throw it in amone them, which will inake them all fall io the ground like $b$ ee, and they fhall not move until he put them into the place which he hath prepared fur them, which is the hot om efs pt ; there hey thall ting his people no more: For the Loid will do with a is great army, as a man cutteth diown his harveft when'a tiorm arifeth he regardeth neither hughefs nur fouluets, fo that he cutteth down more in one hour, than he did in a whole day before. Then faid ILord, what will I do in luch a dejected cordition, for I promiled thol I will conceal n thing, and I know they will not beliere $\mathrm{m}^{-}$? And he laid, Ye have an old proverb, Seeing is believing, all the world over; I will let them fee it, and if leeing will not make them believe it, I will make them ficel it, for that which toucheth a man he believeth it. Then 1 faid, How can I dicuver it wh. n my memory cannot contain it by a great part? He anfwered, I create the ear to hear, 'and will give thee memary that thou maylt deliver to tais generation as much as will leave them without excufe, or to fay that I brought a ftroke upun them without giving tbem warnag. Iknow many will mock till they be infatuate that they fhall not knuw their enemies from therfriends : theretore go thou on 1 m warning, and I will make good my word to thee. Then I faid, 1 have found more of thy word in fo mer difcoveries than I can find in tulis; upon which the word was laid betore me, God my falvation is bicoms, \&xc. And further he faid, This may bewnuag t'ie laft l'll trouble thee with, tho' it be not the leaft. I ani rualy ainised I wi not aflep at this um:, but received the commifion an liw the vitioa with luch deep imprellions under that light which 1 forbear to exprets to the world.

[ 20 ]

40. April 1. Abous tob of te el ck at night, a great light chiningabontme, it was lu.d b:fore me that he was Bringing a great army of French, Spainyards, Romifh, and a part of every nation about them, to hring on a frolie on ihis land for broken covenants, or flighted gofpel, and the abounding lins of the land, and the bload of thole who tefified to the covenants, for, faith be, I will make the carth full of the blood of my enemies in this land! But I know a great many in this land will join with them, but fuch fhall fall with them, 'fo as to have neither name nor remembrance in it afterward. But I have referved 7000 men that have not bowed the knee to Baal, which thall be the feed that fhall do me fervice in this land. I will have a glorions church in this land, which thall be admired of all the earth.

4r. April 2. It was faid to me, How long thall this generation defer to bear my warnings? I will make this land without bread or water, far I am more concerned for this land, while they forbear to har my warnings, than for the wildernefs of Zin wherein no man dwells. This land Ahall be brought to that pafs, that one flail hardly find a man to afk how be fended in the form.
42. April. 5. About the midle of the day, there appeared to me a great light, and it was faid unto me, I have no great commiffion for thee at this time, being to go to the north of Scotland to tell them, That now their cup is full, and ere long it thall be as empty as ever it was full ; for many of them farll never have a full cup in this place again, and it feems to be one of the lalt warnings.
43. April 15 . it was faid unto me, I have given out a. long roll of warnings, but this generation hath mocked at them, and now I am to go to the main land of Scotland, and to tell them that thofe warnings they receive fiom this place darkly, fnall thortly be accomplifhed; for I have a remanat of tender-hearted chriltians liere, who will lay it to heart, but this place is hardened by mocking and Icoffing fo that any tender-hearted chriftian dare not let it be known they lay it to heart, left they be mocked by their neigtibours. But this generation fhall have few more warnings, till they be warned with the fword in their own bofoms! The firit year shall lay the land defolate. Their defign is to put their pretended king upon the throne, but they ohall alfoon put the wild fox that runs in the wood upon the thoone as they shall put him or any of that race upon it, as my lervants, hanged on gibbets for adhering to my intercit, have tefifíed and declared.
4.4. April $2 i$. In the evening of this day, I faw the appeisrance of a mon, who faid unto me, You have had a long fuminér feafon in this land, but ye have been like the fuggard, when the faid, Confider the ant thou fuggard, whioin prepareth he: food in the fummer, and is fixt for the form. A truly good :buibandman when he meets' with a good fesfon, dots not ly by and mifinprove his time, but cuts down and gathers in till he have all feeured within the fence, and wlofech op the flaps, and then he is fixed for the winter diftrefs I twould ye werc often with Gideon and David in the fiold of.priyer. I have given thee two warnings to the north of Scotland already, I will give you another, The barley cake tumbling into the camp of Midian, and torning down their rents.
45. In the evening of that fame day, the light was exceeding great for a long time, I beheld a rall but could not underftand a word of it, unon which onte fail to me, 1 am fent from lreaten to tell thes, that this is the light of heaven, but I aria to give warning of a dark-night to come on Britain and Jreland! I condefiended not longago, to lay out frgns, and propoled months and days, fut ye mocked and made light of it, but I fhall now give a Gign, and ye eha! no where know years, month3, weeles nor days, but when it comes ye sliall all fee it, for the fun avdmoon shal fall in one courle, but what further is to be feen I will refer till the vifon fpeak for itfelf, for there was never man faw fuch night of darkuefs, for there shall meither be moon-light nor ftar light through the who!e three kingdoms, from the one end to the other, atl shall feel that darknels.
46. May 6. It was faid to me, arife and appear as if theu were about to prepire a ship, and when this generation shall afk what thou mestef? thou shalt anfwer, It is for you $\frac{0}{}$ go to the louth fea, and view what a great fleet is preparing to invade Britain and Ireland, and if chey regard not thee, prepare a fecond, and when they ask the meaning whitwer in like numuer, and if they regard not that, make a fittle bott which needs no rails, and if they ask, What thoumexue? by fich a litule boat, then fayt thou, The leaft fisting boat that goes about the rock to cascts fish, shaf! ferve you to go the length to fee that fleet which is coming, day this before this generation, left they fay that I came upon them without warning.
47. May 7. In the morning, there appoared before me, a light and two men walking before. the one had as it were a fisord in his hand, and as I lookes at them, all difap: peared at that time; and in the latter part of the day, the vifion retureed and fixing my eyes upon the two men, the one bad a great fword in his hand, that had neither hilss nof bars, upon which I was afked, What I thought of that man with the fword in his hand? I could not tell, for lie looked like a gourd apgry man, and had feel harneffing from bead to foot, he replieth, This is to tell you that he is a man able for all that pppofe him, and needs neither hitt nor bar, tó cut down this goceration and faye a remnant, Then I an: fwered, I čannot fee tow a man with fuch a from ind in fuch a rage as be feems to becan fave a reminant, to which it was replied, I will let thee fee that prefenty, then I faw at a diffance from me as it had been a company of men and he faid, There is a company of men, and the man with the fword hath one fom in the eampany, upon which If whe man begin and cut dwwn the company with the fwort, ant none cfaped ill he came to his own for, and as the waz fetching a ftroke at him lie did not run away nor deffif, bue grafped him in his arms, and cried, Be merciful father, I an your own fon, and when he beard the voice of his jump he let the fword fall till the point fteck in the ground and neter tourhed him, then I heard as if the one hat faid to the other, How ean we believe fuch warning as thefe fooken by fueh a man, when it is reported $\mid$ y men of great fkill that he is out oforder and of a light brain? The obber anfisered, I arn the root and offspring of $D_{\text {Byid, }}$, the bright moraing ftar, il hold the feven ftars in my right hard, who dare fay unto me, What doft thou? And when I have a warning to give, I choofe whom I pleaice to. give forth my warnings. if my warnings bear cot my feal, and the not according to my word, thev quarrel it, but they are not concerned with: the commifioner, what condition he be in, that is;othing. to you, arid jou have no more anfwer to expect fromme at this ime.
48. Upon Friday following, I was warned by a voice, that he was preparing a facrifice in the if: nds of B:itaimand, Ireland, particularly in the hightands of Scosland, then I heard one faying, O that this generation both men and wo. men would belieye this andlyy it to heart, what a time this with be when they fhall be awakened out of their fleep, and polibly poffihly fee nothing but their neighbours houfcs all in a flame if not their owis. This I have laid before you in the name of the Lord.

[ 24 ]

48. In 1736. in the vifion of light, I thought I was in a plearant ficid, and there ppeared unto me a man in white fhining rainent, feying unco me, What feef thou? I anfwered, A bufh full of hranches and bloffom. Then he bade ne draw near, and lo! In a moment it all withered and decayed, except the heart of the bufl: I flood ftill till the buth was cut down by the root as with a feytlie, at which I wept fore. But, in a little time I beheld a bufh fpring up nut of the heart of the flock, far more beautiful and glorious than the firf, then I afked bim the meaning, he anfurered, The firf bub thou fawcft is the prefent degenerate apoftatized church of Scotland, which I will fweep away in mine anger: And whereas thon faw a bull, fpring up from the rovt of the former buth, this, is the remnant that I have referved to myfelf in the defolating ftroke, which fhall be the feed of miy church, whofe purity, beauty and glory thall be fo great, that the very hills and mountains fhall ring with the report thereof. Anem.

The Requeft of John Porter, to all who fhall have occafion to hear or read the forcgoing Difcoveries and Warnings.

IEarnellly defire all who fhall either hear of, or Shall. have occafion to read what has been difcovered to me and I in obedience to the command given me, have come municated so others from firft to laft, according as is.revealed in thefe few pages. That they receive them not as the product of my own contrivabce, or invention from lightnefs of brain or melancholy, as fome have taken the liberty 20 forge; for I deciare, That notwithit anding of my blindpeff for folong time. I am ripe in my memory and judgnient and I am fully affured of the way they were delivered unto me. Iatteft; that I received them with fucli power as I can. not exprefs; and that I do not offer to impofe upon the pre-: fent gencration, I dare afpeal with confidence unto God, to whom I mult fhortly give an accoant of my receivings and dilcoveries, and not to any man. JOHN PORTER.

