PREFACE.

THIS fecond part of the Affembly's Shorter Catechifm explained, through various impediments, was not published, till about feven years after the first; which is the reason, why there is an edition more of the first, than of the fecond part.

In the Preface to the first part of this work, fubscribed by the Reverend Mr EBENEZER ERSKINE and Me, the usefulness of sound standards of public authority, together with the divine warrant for such composures, is briefly set forth; as likewise a short account of the method, which the Westminster Assembly most judiciously observe, in this compensious, and almost incomparable system of divinity, The Shorter Catechism.

BOTH these eminent lights, the Reverend Mess. EBENEZER and RALPH ERSKINES, who affisted in composing and revising the first part of this Catechysm, are, some years ago, removed to the upper sanctuary by death; the first soon after *, and the fecond a little before the publishing of it †: fo that the charge of this fecond part was, by a renewed recommendation of my brethren, laid upon me. They, indeed, promifed to afford me materials, which fome of them did, and I made all the use of them I could.

This performance, fuch as it is, was never judicially read and approved by any of our judicatories, (though feveral of my brethren had opportunity to perufe the most part of it, before the whole was cast off); therefore any imperfections or weaknesses that may be found therein, are not to be imputed to the body of ministers, with whom I am, in providence, connected, but to myself only.

As to mistakes in divinity, I dare not say there are none; but, if there are, I may be consident to affirm, there were none design-

In this edition, there are feveral questions added which were not in the former; parti-

† The Reverend Mr Ralph Erskine, minister of the gospel at Dunfermine, died November 6. 1752. in the 68th year of his age, and forty-fecond of his ministry in that place.

He publified feveral polemical treatifes on various fubjects; but his practical works, both in profe and verfe, are now collected into two large Folio volumes; to which is prefixed a preface, giving a flort account of the author.

* The Reverend Mr Ebenezer Ething, minifler of the goffel, first at Portmoak, and then at Stirling, died June 2. 1754, in the T4th year of his age, and fifty fift of his ministry. There were what amounted to four Octavo volumes of excellent fermons, published in his own life-time, and a fifth after his death.

cularly, on the ceremonial law, which was the typical gofpel of the Jews; and others are altered and corrected, in the plainest way I could devise.

THE words of the Shorter Catechifin, from which the explicatory questions are formed, are inclosed within crotchets. [as is done in the first part], to distinguish them from quotations out of the Confession and Larger Catechifin, whereof there are severals, in both parts of this treatife: and the scripture-proofs are now ranged in such an order, as the reader may see at first view, the branch of the answer, each of them is designed to confirm.

IT has been acknowledged in all ages, that the catechetical way of instructing, is the most fpeedy and fuccessful method of conveying the knowledge of divine things; because thereby the truths of God are brought level to the weakest capacity, being separately proposed, one after another, with plain, and diftinct anfwers to each. If people then would be at the pains carefully to perufe, particularly on Sabbath evenings, the helps that have been offer-'ed for understanding their Catechism, they should foon have the experience of attaining fome tolerable infight into the leading principles of the Christian religion; and by that means hear the word preached with more spiritual benefit to their own fouls; and likewife be capable to diftinguish truth from error, in many of the practical books that are among their hands: for the first principles of the oracles of God ought to be learned in the first place. and when the knowledge of these is once attained, a patent door will be opened to farther improvements: whereas, if the foundation is not laid, it is needless to dream of carrying up the fabrick. And indeed, herein lies the fatal mistake of the most part of people, that though they can scarce repeat, far less understand their Catechism, yet they imagine they may read any other divine subject, that comes into their hands, with advantage; while, on the contrary, the understanding of their Catechism, in the first place, would be the most effectual and successful mean, for their profiting by what they might read, or hear, during the whole remainder of their life.

SHORTER CATECHISM

EXPLAINED.

PART SECOND.

39. QUEST. WHAT is the duty which God requireth of man?

Answ. The duty which God requireth of man, is obedience to his revealed will.

Quest: 1. Why are the principles of faith, in the Shorter Catechism, treated of, before duties of obedience?

Anfw. To shew, that man's duty cannot be rightly performed, unless it flow from a belief of these principles, as the root and spring of it, Heb. xi. 6.

Quest. 2. What do you understand by man's [duty]?

Anfw. That which he oweth to God, out of love and gratitude, Luke xvii. 10.

Quest. 3. What is it, that man thus oweth to God?

Anfw. Constant and universal [obedience], 1 Sam. xv. 22.

Quest. 4. From whence doth our obligation of obedience to God arise?

Anfw. From his univerfal fupremacy, and fovereign authority over us, as rational creatures, Lev. xviii. 5: who depend entirely upon him, for our life, and breath, and all things, Acts xvii: 25.

Quest. 5. What motive or excitement have Christians above others, unto the duties of obedience?

Anfw. They have the revelation of God's free love, mercy, and grace in Christ, bringing falvation unto them, PART II. which should teach them to live foberly, righteoufly, and godly, in this present world, Tit. ii. 11. 12.

Quest, 6. What is the only rule and measure of our obe-Answ. The [revealed will ] of God, If. viii, 20.

Quest. 7. Why is our obedience limited to God's revealed will?

Anfw. Because it is necessary that God should signify to us, in what infrances he will be obeyed, and the manner how our obedience is to be performed; otherwife, it would rather be a fulfilling of our own will than his, Micah vi. 8.

Quest. 8. Where bath God revealed his will, as the rule and measure of our obedience?

Anfw. In the scriptures of the Old and New Testament. 2 Tim. iii. 16.

Quest, o. What is the difference between God's fecret and revealed will?

Anfw. His fecret will is referved to himfelf, as the rule of his own procedure; but his revealed will is made known to us, as the rule of our faith and obedience, Deut. xxix. 20. The fecret things belong unto the Lord our God: but those things which are revealed, belong unto us, and to our children for ever, that we may do all the words of this law.

Quest. 10. Is it not agreeable to the revealed will of God, that we give obedience to the just commands of our lawful su-periours ?

Answ. Yes: for thus we are commanded, 1 Pet. ii. 13. Submit yourselves to every ordinance of man, for the Lord's Quest. 11. What is the difference betwixt the obedience we Bould vield to God, and that which we Bould give to our lawful fuperiours?

Answ. We should obey God for himself, or out of regard to his own authority, as the very ground and reason of our obedience; but we should obey our superiours, only in the Lord; or, as their commands are agreeable to his will, Eph. vi. 1. Children, obey your parents in the Lord; for this is right.

Quest. 12. What is our duty, when the commands of superiours lie a-cross to the commands of God?

Anfw. In that case, we ought, without the least hesitation, to obey God rather than men, Acts v. 29. Dan. iii. 18.

Quest. 13.

Quest. 13. Why ought God to be obeyed rather than men, when their commands are opposite?

Answ. Because " God alone is the Lord of the conscience, " Jam, iv. 12, and hath left it free from the doctrines and " commandments of men, which are in any thing contrary " to his word, Acts iv. 19. *"

Quest. 14. What is the nature of that obedience which is acceptable to God?

Anfw. It is fuch as flows from a vital union with Christ. and faith in him, as the principle of it, John xv. 4. 5.; is performed in a due manner, Pfal. v. 7; and aims at the glory of God, as the highest and ultimate end thereof, 1 Cor. x. 31.

Quest. 15. What encouragement doth God give us to effay an universal obedience to his revealed will?

Answ. That he requires nothing of us in point of duty. but what he promifes strength and furniture for the performance of, Ezek. xxxvi. 27. I will-cause you to walk in my flatutes, and we shall keep my judgments, and do them.

40. QUEST. What did God at first reveal to man for the rule of his obedience?

Answ. The rule which God at first revealed to man for his obedience, was the moral law.

Quest. 1. How are the laws of God distinguished?

Anfw. Into natural and politive.

Quest. 2. What is the law of God natural, or the law of nature?

Anfw. It is that necessary unalterable rule of right and wrong, founded in the infinitely holy and just nature of God, and whereunto men, as reasonable creatures, cannot but be indifpenfably bound, Rom. ii. 14: 15.

Quest. 3. What do you understand by positive laws?

Anfw. Such institutions as depend only upon the fovereign will and pleasure of God, and which he might not have injoined, and yet his nature remain the fame; fuch as, the command about not eating the forbidden fruit, and all the ceremonial precepts under the old dispensation.

Quest. 4. Where were the dictates of the law of nature originally inscribed?

Anjw. A fair copy of them was originally written upon the heart or mind of man, at his first creation; because he was made after the image of God, Gen. i. 27.

Quest. 5. Whether do these dictates become just and reasonable, because they are commanded; or, are they commanded, because they are just and reasonable in their own nature before?

Anfw. They are commanded, because they are just and reasonable in their own nature, antecedently to any divine precept about them, being sounded in the very holiness and wisdom of God, Pfal. exi. 7. 8.

Quest. 6. Did the dictates of the law of nature undergo any change or alteration in the mind of man, after the fall?

Anfus. The law of nature, being the natural infinited of reasonable creature, implanted in the foul by God himfelf, it can never be totally erafed or obliterated, as to its common and general principles, and immediate conclusions flowing from them; though with reference to fich native confequences as are more remote, it is mightily corrupted, and even altered and perverted, by the vitious and depraved nature of man, Rom. i. 21, 32.

Quest. 7. What are the common and general principles of the law of nature, which are still engraven, in some measure, about the minds of men. even where they have no written law?

Anfw. They are fuch as thefe; that God is to be worshipped: parents to be honoured: none are to be injured: that we should not do to others, what we would not wish them to do to us; and the like.

Quest. 8. How do you prove, that these, and the like principles, are still ingrained in man's nature, even where there is no written law?

Answ. From Rom. ii. 14. The Gentiles which have not the law, (namely, the written law), do by nature the things contained in the law.

Quest. 9. How doth it appear from mens own consciences, that they have innate principles of right and wrong, implanted in their natures?

Answ. From their consciences excusing or accusing them, as they commit actions manifeftly agreeable or difagreeable to these innate or inbred principles, Rom. ii. 15.

Quest. 10. What are the horrid, though native, consequences, of denying innate principles of right and wrong?

Anfw. The denying hereof faps the foundation of all religion, natural and revealed; fubverts all difference betwixt moral good and evil; and confequently opens a wide door to groß and downright Atheifm.

Quest. 11. Is there any difference betwixt the law of nature, and the moral law?

Anjw. Although the fime duties, which are contained in the law of nature, are prefetibled also in the moral law; yet there is this difference, that in the law of nature, there is nothing but what is moral; but in the moral law there is something also that is politive, namely, the means of worthip, and circumferibing the particular day for the observation of the Sabbath.

Quest. 12. What is the meaning of the word [moral], when applied to the law?

Anfw. Though the word literally has a respect to the manners of men; yet when applied to the law, it fignifies, that which is perpetually binding, in opposition to that which is binding only for a time.

Quest. 13. Was there any express revelation of the moral law made to Adam in innocency?

Anfw. He needed no express revelation thereof, because it was interwoven with his very nature, in his creation after the image of God, Eecl. vii. 9. God made man upright.

Quest. 14. Why then is it faid in the answer, that the moral law was [the rule which God at first revealed to man]? Answ. Because it was so distinctly written in his heart, and impressed on his nature, that it was equal to an express revelation.

Quest. 15. Is the moral law to be viewed only as the RULE of our obedience?

Anju. It must be viewed. aljo as the REASON thereof. We must not only do what is commanded in the law, and avoid what is forbidden therein; but we must allo do good, for this very reason, that God requires it; and avoid evil, because he forbids it, Lev. xviii. 4, 5.—I am the Lard your God, ye shall THEREFORE keep my statutes and my judgments.

Quest. 16. Are the precepts of the moral law of immutable obligation, so as that in no case they can be dispensed with?

Anju. With respect to God, these precepts which do not flow absolutely and immediately from his own nature, may, in certain particular cases, be altered or changed, providing it be done by his own express appointment: but, with repest to man, all the precepts of the moral law are of immutable obligation, and none of them can be dispensed with by him, at any rate, Matth. v. 18.

Queft. 17. Did not God difpense with the law against manflaughter, when he commanded Abraham, to offer his only fon Isac for a burnt-offering, upon one of the mountains in the land of Moriah, which he was to tell bim of, Gen. xxii,

Anfw. Though Abraham, it would feem, looked upon this mysterious command of his fovereign Lord, to be percentory, in as much as he immediately took journey with his son, to put the divine orders into execution; yet, in the issue, it proved only to be probatory, to discover to Abraham timeself, the reality of his faith, and the submissioners of his obedience to God, as slowing therefrom, yerf. 12. 16. 17.

Quest. 18. Would Abraham have been guilty of murder.

had he been permitted to facrifice his fon on this occasion?

Anfw. No; because he had the warrant of the most unquestionable authority, even the authority of the Lord, the Creator of the ends of the earth, for so doing, vers. 2.

Quest. 19. Is the moral law a perfect rule of life and manners?

Anfw. It is fo perfect, that nothing can be superadded thereunto, or corrected therein, Psal. xix. 7. The law of the Lord is perfect.

Quelt. 20. Did Christ supply any defects of the law, or correct any mistakes therein?

Anju. No: he acted the part of an interpreter, and defonder of the law, but not of a new lawgierer, as is evident from his explaining the law, and vindicating it [Matth. chapters v. vi. and viii.] from the corrupt gloffes that were put thereupon.

Quest. 21. Doth not Christ fay, John xiii. 34. A new commandment I give unto you, that ye love one another?

Anjw. This commandment was not new as to the fubtance of it, for it is the fum of the fecond table of the law, Matth.

Xxii. 20. and therefore called an old commandment, which we had from the beginning, I John ii. 7. 2 John verf. 5.; but it is called NEW, because it was enforced with the new motive and example of Christ's unparallelled love to us, imported in the words immediately following, As I have loved you, that we also love one another.

Quest, 22. Is the moral law abrogated under the New Tefament?

Anfw. By no means; for Christ came not to destroy the law, but to fulfil it, Matth. v. 17.

Quest. 23. Can righteousness and life be attained by the moral law, fince the fall?

Answ. No: for by the works of the law, Shall no flesh be instified, Gal. ii. 16.

Quest. 24. Of what use then, is the law unto men, fince righteousness and life cannot be attained by it?

Anfw, It is, notwithstanding, of manifold use, both to unregenerate finners, and to faints; for the law is good, if a man use it lawfully, I Tim. i. 8.; that is, in a fuitableness to the state wherein he is, either as a believer or unbeliever.

Quest. 25. Of what use is the law to unbelievers, or to unregenerate finners?

Answ. It is of use to discover to them their utter impotence and inability to attain justification and falvation by the works thereof; and thus it is a schoolmaster to bring them to Christ, that they may be justified by faith, Gal. iii. 24.

Quest. 26. How is the law a schoolmaster to bring sinners to Christ ?

Answ. By requiring spotless holiness of nature; perfect, perfonal, and perpetual obedience in the life; and full fatiffaction for fin; which none of mankind being capable of, they are thereby fout up to fee the need they stand in of Christ, who hath done all these things for them: For Christ is the end of the law for righteousness to every one that believeth, Rom. x. 4.

Quest. 27. Has the law this effect upon all the unregenerate?

Answ. No: the most part of them remain deaf to the dictates of the law, both as to their fin and danger, and are therefore rendered inexcufable, Rom. i. 20.

Quest. 28. Of what use is the law to the regenerate, or to believers?

Answ. It is of use to excite them to express their gratitude and thankfulness to Christ, for his fulfilling it as a covenant, Rom. viii. 3. 4. by their studying conformity thereto, both in their hearts and lives, as the RULE of their obedience; Rom. vii. 22. and xii. 2. *

Quest. 20. How can the moral law be the rule of obedience to believers, when it is faid of them. Rom. vi. 14. that they are not under the law?

Anfw. Though they are not under the law as a covenant of works, to be either justified or condemned thereby, yet they are under it as a rule of duty, and account it their happiness and privilege to be so, 1 Cor. ix. 21.

Quest. 30. What may we learn from the nature of the moral law in general?

Anfw. That God having fo clearly painted out his own nature, and, in a manner, expressed his very image therein; Lev. xix. 2. we ought to loath and abhor ourfelves, for our want of conformity thereunto, and our transgressing thereof times without number, Pfal. xl. 12.; and fly to the Lord Jefus, that by his righteousness imputed, the righteousness of the law may be fulfilled in us, Rom. viii. 3. 4.

Quest. 31. What other laws did God give the Jews, besides the moral law?

Anfw. He gave them also the CEREMONIAL and JUDI-CIAL laws.

Quest. 32. What was the CEREMONIAL last

Anfw. It was a fystem of positive precepts, about the external worship of God, in the Old-Testament church; chiefly defigued to typify Christ, as then to come, and to lead them to the knowledge of the way of falvation through him, Heb. x. I.

Quest. 33. What were the principal ceremonies about which this law roas conversant?

Anfw. They were fuch as respected sacred persons, places, and things.

Quest. 34. Who was the chief facred person among the Fews?

See Larger Cat. Queft. 974

Anfw. The high priest, who was ordained for men in things pertaining to God, Heb. v. 1.

Quest. 35. In what respect was he a type of Christ?

Anju. His being confecrated with a plentiful effusion of the hely anoisting oil, typified the unmeasurable communication of the Spirit unto Christ, Pfal. exxiii. 2. John iii. 34.; and his bearing the names of the children of strael upon his fpoulder, and in the breaft-plate, signified that Christ is the representative of all his spiritual feed, and hath their concerns continually at heart, If xlix. 3, 16.

Quest. 36. Were not the other ordinary priests of Aaron's family types of Christ likewise?

Anfw. Yes; for in as much as they daily offered facrifices according to the law, Heb. x. 11. they were typical of him, who now once in the end of the world, hath appeared to put away fin by the facrifice of himself, chap. ix. 26.

Quest. 37. What were the facred places under the old difpensation?

Anfw. The tabernacle and temple.

Quest. 38. What was the tabernacle?

Anju. It was a moveable and portable tent, feeured from the injuries of the weather, by feveral coverings; the whole planned by God himfelf, and executed by Mofes in the wildernefs, precifely according to the pattern flewed him in the mount, Heb. viii. 5.

Quest. 39. How was it inclosed?

Infw. By a large or spacious court, open above, but hung round with curtains of fine twined linen, five cubits, or, fewer feet and an half high, Exod. xxvii. 18.

Quest. 40. When and where was the temple built?

Anju. It was built by Solomon, at Jerufallem, in mount Morials, four hundred and eighty years ofter the children of Ifrael came out of Egypt, and confequently, about the fame number of years, after the tabernacle was fet up in the wildernels, 1 Kings vi. 1, compared with 2 Chron, iii.

Quest. 41. Was the plan of the temple, the contrivance of human fkill?

Asfu. No; like the tabernacle, it was devifed by God thmfelf: for David gate to Solomo his fun, the pattern of the whole of it, as he had it by the Spirit, 1 Chron. xxviii. 11. 12. And after cnumerating feveral particular parts of the model, All this, Jaid David, the Lord made me undertum of the model, All this, Jaid David, the Lord made me underfland in writing by his hand upon me, even all the works of this pattern, verf. 10.

Quest. 42. What did the tabernacle and temple typify? Anfw. Amongst other things, they both of them typified the human nature of Christ, which was assumed into union with his divine person, John ii. 19. 21.

Quest. 42. How many apartments were there, in these sa-

Anfw. Besides the large outward court, to which any of all Israel had access, who were not ceremonially unclean, there were, both in the tabernacle and temple, two facred apartments; the first, called the holy, and the second, the most holy place, separated by an embroidered vail of cunning work, Exod. xxvi. 31 -34.

Quest, 44. What did these several apartments signify?

Answ. The outward court might fignify the church vifible, confifting in a mixture of faints and finners; the holy place, the church invisible on earth, made up only of the true members of Christ's mystical body; and the holiest of all, represented heaven itself, or the church triumphant in glory.

Quest. 45. What were the facred things in the outward court, which was before the tabernacle?

Anfw. They were these three; the laver, the facrifices, and the altar on which they were offered.

Quest. 46. What was the laver?

Anfw. It was a brasen vessel for holding water, made of the looking-glaffes, or pelished pieces of brafs, gifted by the women who affembled at the door of the tabernacle of the congregation, Exod. xxxviii. 8.

Quest. 47. Where was it situate?

Anfw. Between the tabernacle of the congregation and the altar, Exod. xxx. 18.

Quest. 48. Why was it placed there?

Answ. That Aaron and his sons might wash their hands and their feet thereat, when they went into the tabernacle, or when they came near to the altar to minister, under no less penalty than death, verf. 19. 20. 21.

Quest. 49. Why was this ordinance, of the priests washing at the laver, injoined under fuch a severe penalty?

Anfw. To point out the absolute necessity of the application of the blood and Spirit of Christ unto the foul, as that without which there can be no efcaping of eternal death. I John i. 7. compared with Rom. vi. 23.

Quest. 50. What was the subject-matter of the sacrifices? Answ. Such of the clean beafts and fowls, specified by God himfelf, as were free of any blemish or imperfection whatfoever, Lev. xxii. 20.

Quest. 51. What was signified by the sacrifices being without blemish?

Anfw. The spotless holiness and purity of the human nature of Christ, which was facrificed for us, I Pet. i. 19.

Quest, 52. What were the instructive ceremonies that were used in expiatory sacrifices, or burnt-offerings?

Anfw. The fins of the offerers were to be typically laid upon the head of the facrifices, Lev. i. 4.; next it was to be flain by blood-shedding, verf. 5.; and then it was to be confumed wholly, or in part, with fire upon the altar, verf. o. Quest. 53. What was fignified, by charging the fins of the offerers upon the head of the facrifice?

Answ. That the fins of an elect world were laid on Christ.

to be expiated by him, If. liii. 6.

Quest. 54. What was typified by shedding the blood of the facrifice unto death? Anfav. That the blood of Christ was to be feed for many.

for the remission of sins, Matth. xxvi, 28.

Quest. 55. What was fignified by confuming the facrifice with fire upon the altar?

Answ. That the whole of that infinite wrath, which was due to finners, and would have been confuming them for ever, was poured out upon the glorious Surety, and endured by him, If. liii. 10. Quest. 56. Upon what altar were the facrifices offered and Anfw. Upon the brasen altar, or altar of burnt-offering, which was placed without, before the door of the tabernacle of the congregation, Exod. xl. 6.; intimating, that the facrifice of Christ was to be perfected on this earth, John xix, Quest. 57. What was typified by this altar?

Anfw. As the altar fanctificth the gift, Matth. xxiii. 19.; fo this altar typified the divine nature of Christ, as giving infinite worth and value to the facrifice of the human nature, because of the personal union, Heb. ix. 14.

Quest. 18. From whence came the fire originally, which was kept burning on the altar of burnt-offering?

Major but hing on the ditar of vorte-offering?

Anjiv It came originally and immediately from God himfelf; for when Moles was dedicating the tabernacle in the wilderness, there came a fire out from before the Lord, and conjumed, upon the alter, the burnt-offering, and the fat, Lev. ix. 24. And afterwards, at the dedication of Solomon's temple, when he had made an end of praying, the fire came down from beaven, and confumed the burnt-offering and the facrifices, 2 Chron, vila

Quest. 59. What was signified by this fire coming immediately from before the Lord, or, from heaven?

Answ. It fignified God's acceptance of, and acquiescence in the obedience unto death of his own eternal Son, typified by all these expiatory facrifices, H. xlii. 21.

Quest. 60. Why was the fire never to go out, but to be kept ever burning upon the altar, Lev. vi. 13.?

Anju. To flew, that it was not possible, that the blood of bulls, and of goats, flouid take away fin, Heb. x. 4.; and therefore to teach the people under that dispensation, to look to the atoning blood of the Messible, as that only which could quench the lame of divine weath against fin, and be an of-fering and a facrifice to God, for a fueet-finelling favour, Eph. v. 2. in which he might eternally rest.

Quest. 61. What were the facred things in the holy place, called the first tabernacle, Heb. ix. 2.?

Anfw. They were the candleflick; the table with the flow-bread; and the altar of incenfe.

Quell. 62. What was typified by the CANDLESTICK?

Anjou. That all true spiritual light is conveyed unto the church, only from Christ, John i. 9. 18.: and that as the branches were supplied with oil from the body of the candle-flick, so all the members are supplied out of the sulness of Christ; for God giveth not the Spirit by measure unto him, chap. iii. 34.

was always fet forth upon the table, Exod. xxv. 30.?

drip. That in Christ, who is the bread of life, there is food continually for starving shaners of mankind, John vi. 35.; and that we can never come wrong, at any time, to kim for supply, because in him dwelleth all the fulness of the Gathead bodity, Col. is, 9

Quest 64.

Quest. 64. What was typified by the altar of INCENSE, which was placed immediately before the vail, Exod. xxx. 6.? Anfw. The incense, which was continually burnt upon this altar, every morning and evening, Exod. xxx. 7. 8. (after the facrifices were offered without, upon the altar of burnt-offering), typified the prevalent intercession of Christ, founded upon his meritorious oblation, 1 John ii. 1. 2.

Quest. 65. What were the facred and fignificant things, contained in the most holy place, or, holiest of all, as it is called. Heb. ix. 2.?

Answ. The apostle to the Hebrews, savs, that the tabernacle which is called the holiest of all,-HAD the golden censer, and the ark of the covenant, overlaid round about with gold, wherein was the golden pot that had manna, and Aaron's rod that budded, and the tables of the covenant; and over it the cherubims of glory shadowing the mercy-seat, Heb. ix. 4. 5.

Quest, 66. Did the golden censer, like other facred utenfils in the most holy place, remain perpetually therein?

Anfw. No; it remained no longer, than the high priest continued within the vail, fprinkling the blood of the finoffering upon the mercy-feat, and before it, Lev. xvi. 14. during which time the cloud of incense, kindled with coals of fire from the altar of burnt-offering, covered the mercyfeat, verf. 12. 13. and then when the high priest retired from the most holy place, he carried off the golden censer with him, to the altar of incense, where it lay till there was next occasion for it.

Quest. 67. Why then was the holieft of all faid to HAVE the polden censer?

Answ. Because the principal use of it, was to carry in burning incense to the most holy place, along with the blood of the facrifice, on the great day of atonement, once every vear, Lev. xvi. 12, 12,

Quest. 68. What was typified by this cloud of incense, carried in by the high priest to the most holy place, along with the blood of the facrifice, once a year?

Anfw. The infallible prevalency of Christ's intercession, because of the infinite merit of his fatisfaction, Heb. vii. 25. Quest. 69. What was the most eminent pledge of the divine presence, in this most holy place?

Answ. The ark, with the mercy-seat that covered it, Exod. xxv. 21. 22. Thou shalt put the mercy-feat above upon the ark and there will I meet with thee, and I will commune

Quest. 70. What was put within the ark?

Anfav. Nothing but the two tables of stone, on which the ten commandments were written by the finger of God at mount Sinai, 1 Kings viii. 9. There was nothing in the ark, fave the TWO TABLES of Stone, which Moses put there at Quest. 71. Were not the golden pot that had manna, and Aaron's rod that budded, put within the ark, as it would Seem from Heb. ix. 4.?

Anfw. No: it is expressly faid, that both these were appointed to be laid up BEFORE the testimony, not IN IT, Exod. xvi. 34. and Numb. xvii. 10.

Quest, 72. What did the golden pot that had manna signify?

Anfw. The inexhauftible provision of all spiritual bleslings, laid up in Christ, for the members of his mystical body, John vi. 54. 55.

Quest. 73. What was typified by Aaron's rod that budded? an/w. The fixed choice that God had made of Christ, unto the office of priefthood, he being called of God thereunto, as was Aaron, Heb. v. 4.

Quest. 74. For what end was the ARK of the covenant properly made?

Anfw. It was for holding the two tables of the law, which are called the teltimony, Exod. xxv. 16. fays God to Mofes, Thou fhalt put into the ark, the testimony that I shall give Quest, 75. Why were the tables of the law, called the two tables of testimony, Exod. xxxi. 18.?

Anfw. Because they testified the will of God to mankind, as the unerring rule of duty, If. viii. 20.

Quest. 76. Why were these tables put into the ark?

Anfw. To fignify that the law, which was broken by the first Adam, was put up, as fulfilled, in the second, If. xlii. 21. that there might be no condemnation to them which are in Christ Jesus, Rom. viii. 1.

Quest. 77. Why were these tables called the tables of the covenant, and the ark, wherein they were contained, the ark of the covenant, Heb. ix. 4.?

Aufw. Because the ten commandments, written on these tables, were the matter of the covenant of works made with Adam, as the head of his posterity, Rom. x. 5.; and the fulfilment of them, both in point of doing and suffering, was the condition of the covenant of grace, made with Christ as the representative of his spiritual feed, Matth, iii. 12.

Quest. 78. What was the mercy-feat?

Anjw. It was a plate of folid gold, exactly fitted to the breadth and length of the ark, Exod. xxv. verf. 10. and 17. compared, fo as to be a lid, or covering, to the tables of the covenant, which were within it, verf. 21.

Quest. 79. Why was it called the mercy-seat?

Anjw. To intimate, that God is propitious and merciful to finners, only through the meritorious latisfaction of Christ, Rom. v. 21.

Quest. 80. What was fignified by its being a lid, or covering, to the tables of the covenant?

Anju. That the broken law was so hid or covered by the glorious Surety, who answered all its demands, Rom. viii. 33. 34. that it could accuse none before God, who had ji.d for refuge to lay hold upon the hope set before them, Heb. vii. 18.

Quest. 81. What was it that peculiarly belonged to the mery-feat ?

Answ. The cherubims of glory shadowing it, Heb. ix. 5. Quest. 82. What was represented by these cherubims?

Anfw. They represented the ministry and service of the boly angels to Christ and his church, Heb. i. 14.

Queft. 83. Why called cherubims of glory?

Anfw. Because God manifested his glory from between them, Exod. xxv. 22. and gave gracious answers with respect to his church and people, Numb. vii. 89.

Quest. 84. How did they shadow the mercy-feat?

Infw. By firetching forth and spreading their wings over it, intimating their readiness to fly upon Christ's errand on all occasions, Pfal. civ. 4.

Quest. 85. In what posture were the faces of these cherubims?

Anfw. They looked one to another, and toward the mercy-feat, Exod. xxv. 20.

Queft. 86. What did this posture of their faces fignify?

Answ. Their looking one to another, fignified their perfect harmony in serving the interests of Christ's kingdom, Ezek.

Ezek. i. 20.; and their looking toward the mercy-feat, fignified their defire to dive, with the most profound veneration and wonder, into the adorable mystery of redeeming love, I Pet. i. 12.—Which things the angels defire to look into.

Quest, 87. Who was allowed to enter into this most holy place?

Anju. None but the high prieß alone, without any to atend or affift him, Lev. vvi. 17.: And herein he was an eminent type of Chrift, who had the whole work of redemption laid upon his shoulders; and of the people there was none with him, It, Iviii. 2.

Quest. 88. When did the high priest enter into the holiest of all?

Anfw. Only once every year, namely, on the great day of atonement, which was appointed to be a folemn anniverfary fash, under that ceremonial dispensation, Lev. xvi. 29.

Quest. 89. In what manner did the high priest enter within the vail?

Anjou. He was expressly required to carry along with him the blood of the facifice, flain without the tabernacle, at the altar of burnt-offering, and the golden cenfor full of burning incenfe; without both which, he might by no means enter within the most holy place, Lev. xvi. 12.—16.

Quest. 90. What was typified by this folemnity?

Anfw. It typified the perpetual efficacy of the blood of Christ in heaven, for all the bleffings and benefits for which it was shed on earth, Heb. xii. 24.

Quest. Q1. Is the ceremonial law, or any part thereof, oba ligatory, now, under the New Testament?

dnfw. Although the divine truths, couched and fignified under the ceremonies of God's own inflitution, be unchangeably the fame; yet the observation of the ceremonies themfalves, is abrogated by the deuth and satisfaction of Christ, where they had their full accomplishment, John i. 17.

Quest. 92. How do you prove, that the ceremonial law was abolished by the death and satisfaction of Christ?

Aufu. From the utter defruction, for many ages bygone, of the temple at Jerufalem, where only it was lawful to offer facifices; which adorable Providence would never have permitted, if these ceremonial institutions had been to suffer offer.

after the death of Christ, of whom it was foretold, that he should cause the sacrifice and the oblation to cease, Dan. ix. 27. See also Jer. iii. 16.—In these days, faith the Lord, they shall ya no more, The ark of the covenant of the Lord: neither shall it come to mind, neither shall they remember it, neither shall thay remember it, neither shall that be done any more.

Quest. 93. What may we learn from the whole of this typical dispensation?

Anfw. That as the ceremonial law was a Badow of good things to come, Heb. x. 1. fo it is a perpetual evidence of the faithfulness and power of God, in the full accomplishment of all the bleftings that were prefigured thereby, John i. 17-

Quest. 94. What was the judicial law?

Anfw. It was that body of laws given by God, for the government of the Jews, partly founded in the law of nature, and partly respecting them, as they were a nation distinct from all others.

Quest. of. What were these laws which respected them as a people distinct from all others?

Anjw. They were fuch as concerned the redemption of their mortgaged effaces, Lev. xx. 13.; the refling of their land every feventh year, Exod. xxiii. 11.; the appointing cities of refuge for the man-flayer, Numb. xxxv. 15.; the appearing of their males before the Lord at Jerufalem, three times in the year, Deut. xvi. 16.; and the like.

Quest. of: Whether is this law abrogated, or is it still of binding force?

Anfw. In fo far as it respects the peculiar constitution of the Jewish nation, it is entirely abrogated; but in so far as it contains any statute, sounded in the law of nature, eommon to all nations, it is still of binding force.

41. Quest. Where is the moral law summarily comprehended?

Assw. The moral law is fummarily comprehended in the ten commandments.

Quest. 1. What is it to be [summarily comprehended]?

Answ. It is to be briesly summed up, in such sew and well chosen words, as take in a great deal more than what is expressed, Rom. xiii. 9.

Quest. 2. Where is the moral law thus briefly summed up?

Anfw. In the [ten commandments], Deut. x. 4. Quest. 3. Where is the law more largely and fully fet forth? Answ. In the whole scriptures of the Old and New Testament, Pfal. exix. 105. Quest. 4. By WHOM were the ten commandments first pronounced and promulgated? Anfw. By God himfelf, Exod. xx. 1. God spake all these words.

Quest, 5. Whether was it God essentially considered, or God considered as in the person of the Son, who spake these words? Answ. It was the three-one God, considered as in the perfon of the Son, who was the speaker of them; as is evident from Acts vii. 37. 38. where the Prophet, whom the Lord was to raife up unto the Jews, of their brethren, like unto Mofes, is expressly called, the Angel which spake to him in mount Sinai. See also Heb. xii. 25. 26.

Quest. 6. What was the peculiar work of God about these words, after he had stoken them with an audible voice, in the hearing of all Ifrael? Anfw. He wrote, or engraved them, with his own finger, on two tables of stone, Deut. ix. 10.

Quest. 7. Were each of these tables written on both sides? Answ. It is faid expressly that they were, Exod. xxxii. 15. -The tables were written on BOTH their fides; on the one fide, and on the other, were they written.

Quest. 8. What did this fignify?

Answ. The tables being full of writ on both fides, fignified, that nothing was to be added to the words of the law, or taken away from them, Deut. iv. 2.; and likewife, that the whole man, foul, fpirit, and body, must be fanctified wholly, I Theff. v. 22.

Quest. o. How oft were the commandments written on tables of Rone?

Answ The first being broke by Moses, on occasion of the idolatry of Ifrael, Exod. xxxii. 19. the Lord condescended to write on other two tables, the fame very words that were in the former ones, chap, xxxiv. I.

Quest. 10.

Quest, 10. Was there any difference betwixt the first two tables and the second? Anfw. The first two, which were entirely the work of God. (the polishing as well as the engraving), were broke beneath the mount, Exod. xxxii. 16. 19.; but the fecond, which were hewed by Moses, the typical mediator, were put into the ark, Deut. x. 3. 5.

Quest. 11. What was the spiritual mustery which was represented hereby ?

Answ. That though the covenant of works, made with the first Adam, was broken and violated by him, vet it was fulfilled in every respect by Christ the true mediator, who restored that which he took not away, Pfal. Ixix. 4.

Quest. 12. Why were the ten commandments written on tables of ftone?

Answ. To intimate the perpetuity, and everlasting obligation of the moral law, Pfal. exi. 8.

Quest. 12. What was signified by their being written with the finger of God?

Answ. That it is the work of God alone to put his laws into the mind of finners, and to write them in their hearts, Heb. viii. 10.

Quest. 14. Where was the law of the ten commandments thus expressly revealed?

Answ. At mount Sinai, which is also called Horeb, Deut.

Quest. 15. In what form was the law of the ten commandments given out at mount Singi?

Anfiv. In the form of a COVENANT, Deut. v. 2. The Lord our God made a covenant with us in Horeb. Accordingly the ten commandments are called the words of the covenant, Exod. xxxiv. 28.; and the tables of stone are termed the tables of the covenant, Deut. ix. 9.

Quest. 16. Whether was the Sinai transaction in the form of the covenant of works, or in the form of the covenant of grace?

Answ. There was a repetition of BOTH those covenants on that folemn occasion.

Quest. 17. In what order were these two covenants repeated on mount Sinai?

Answ. The covenant of grace was first promulgated, and then the covenant of works was displayed, as subservient thereunto.

Quest. 18. How doth it appear that the covenant of GRACE was first promulgated?

Anfu. From these words in the preface, prefixed to the commands, I am the Lord thy God, spoken to a select people, the natural seed of Abraham, as typical of his whole spiritual seed, Cal. iii. 16, 17.

Quest. 19. How are the tencommandments to be viewed as they stand annexed to this propulgation of the covenant of grace on mount Sinai?

Anfw. They are to be viewed as the law of Chrift, or as a rule of life, given by Chrift the Mediator, unto his spiritual feed, in virtue of his having engaged to fulfil the law as a covenant in their room. Rom. vii. 4.

Quest. 20. How doth it appear that the covenant of WORKS was likewise dis, layed on mount Sinai?

Anfu. From the thunderings and lightnings, and the voice of the living God, speaking (the words of the ten commandments) out of the midst of the fire, Exod. xx. 18, Deut. v. 22, 26.

Quest. 21. What was fignified by the thunderings and lightnings, and the voice of God speaking out of the midst of the fire?

An/w. These awful emblems, represented that infinite avenging wrath, which was due to all Adam's family, for the breach of the covenant of works, whereby the whole of God's holy law was violated and infringed, Gal, iii. 10.

Ouest. 22. Why did God make a display of the covenant of works in fuch an awful and tremendous manner?

Anfw. That finners of mankind might be deterred from remotest shought, of attempting obedience to the law as a condition of life; and be perfused to fly to, and acquiece in the undertaking of Christ, who engaged his heart to approach unto God, as surety in the room of an elect world, Jer. xxx. 21.

Quest, 23. If both covenants, of grace and works, were exhibited on mount Sinai, were not the Ifraelites, in that case, under both these covenants at one and the same time?

Answ. They could not be under both covenants in the same respects, at the same time; and therefore they must be onfidere

confidered, either as believers, or unbelievers, both as to their outward church-ftate, and inward foul-frame, Quest, 24. In what respects were the believing Israelites.

in the Sinaitic transaction, under both covenants?

Anfw. They were internally and really under the covenant of grace, as all believers are, Rom, vi. 14, and only externally under the above awful display of the covenant of works. as it was fubordinate and fubfervient to that of grace, in pointing out the necessity of the furety-righteousness, Gal.

Quest. 25. In what respects were unbelievers among them.

under these two covenants of works and grace?

Answ. They were only externally, and by profession, in respect of their visible church-state, under the covenant of grace, Rom. ix. 4. but internally and really, in respect of the state of their fouls before the Lord, they were under the covenant of works, chap. iv. 14. 15.

Quest. 26. Which of the two covenants were the principal part of the Sinai transaction?

Anfw. The covenant of grace was both in itself, and in God's intention, the principal part thereof: nevertheless the covenant of works was the most conspicuous part of it, and lay most obvious to the view of the people; for they saw the thunderings and the lightnings, and the noise of the trumpet. and the mountain smoking, Exod. xx. 18. And so terrible was the fight, that Mofes faid, I exceedingly fear and quake, Heb.

Quest. 27. What effect had this tremendous diflay of the covenant of works upon the Ifraelites?

Answ. It tended to beat them off, in some measure, from that felf-confidence which they had expressed before the publication of the law, Exod. xix. 8.; and to discover the necesfity of a Mediator, and of faith in him as the fole foundation of all acceptable obedience, Rom. xvi. 25, 26.

Quest. 28. How doth it appear that it had this effect?

Answ. From their own words to Moses, after the terrible fight which they faw, Deut. v. 27 .- Speak thou unto us ail that the Lord our God Shall speak unto thee, and we will HEAR. [that is, believe], and Do. On which account the Lord commends them, verf. 28 .- They have well faid all that they have Spoken: O that there were such an heart in them.

Quest. 29.

Quest. 29. In what respect had they faid well in what they had Spoken?

Anfw. In as much as they had made faith or believing, the fource and fpring of acceptable doing, for whatever is not of faith, is fin, Rom. xiv. 23.

Quest. 30. How many commandments are commonly allotted to each of the true tables of the law?

Answ. Four to the first table, containing our duty to God : and fix to the fecond, containing our duty to man.

Quest. 31. How are the precests which are naturally moral, diffinguished from these that are but positively so?

Answ. The precepts which are naturally moral have, in them, an innate rectitude and holinefs, which is inseparable from them: but the precepts which are politively moral, have their rectitude, not from their own nature, but from the polfitive command of God.

Quest. 32. What example may be given for the illustration

Bereof?

Answ. The fourth commandment, as it appoints God to be worshipped, is naturally moral, founded in the very nature of God: but, as it injoins that he be worshipped on such a particular day of the week, it is politively moral, founded only in the will of God.

Quest. 33. What is the difference betwixt the commands that are expressed in affirmative, and these that are expressed in negative terms?

Anfw. " What God forbids is at no time to be done. Rom. iii. 8.; what he commands is always our duty. Deut. iv. 8. o.; and yet every particular duty, is not to " be done at all times, Matth, xii. 7, *"

Quest. 34. Why are negative precepts binding at all times? Anfw. Because what is forbidden is at all times finful: and ought never to be done, on any pretext whatfoever, Gen. xxxix. o.

Quest. 35. What are the peculiar properties of the law of the ten commandments?

Answ. That it is perfect, Pfal. xix. 7. spiritual, Rom. wii. 14. and exceeding broad, or most extensive, Pfal. cxix. 95.

Quest. 36. What rule is to be observed for the right underflanding of the perfection of the law?

Anfw. "That it binds every one to full conformity in the whole man, unto the righteoufness thereof, and to entire

" obedience for ever; so as to require the utmost perfection in every duty, and to forbid the least degree of every sin,

" Matth. v. 21. to the end, James ii. 10. *"

Queft. 37. What rule is to be observed for understanding the foirituality of the law?

Anfw. That it reacheth to the thoughts and motions of the heart, as well as to the words and actions of the life, Deut. vi. 5. †

Quest. 38. What rule is to be observed for the right understanding of the breadth or extent of the law?

Anjo. That, as where a duty is commanded, the contrary fin is forbidden, If. Ivili: 12; and where a fin is forbidden, the contrary duty is commanded, Eph. iv. 28.; fo, when any duty is commanded, all the caufes and means of it are commanded allo, Heb. x. 24. 25.; and when any fin is forbidden, all occasions and temptations thereunto are forbidden, likewise, Gal. v. 26.‡

42. QUEST. What is the sum of the ten com-

Assw. The fum of the ten commandments is, To love the Lord our God with all our heart, with all our foul, with all our ftrength, and with all our mind; and our neighbour as ourfelves.

Quest. 1. How is the sum of the ten commandments divided in this answer?

Anfw. Into the fum of the four commandments in the first table, which contain our duty to God; and into the fum of the fix commandments in the fecond table, which contain our duty to man.

Ouest. 2. What is the fum of the four commandments in the first table, which contain our duty to God?

Antwo. It is I to love the Lord our God with all our heart. with all our foul, with all our Arength, and with all our mind Luke x. 27.

Quest, 2. Why is this called the first and great commandment, Matth, xxii, 28.?

Anfw. Because the duties of the first table have a more direct relation to God, as being the immediate object of them : or, because love to our neighbour, should flow from love to God, as the proper fountain and principle of it, I John v. I.

Quest. 4. What is meant by the [SUM] of the commandments?

Anfiv. The comprehensive duty of the law, which includes all other duties in the bosom of it, Rom. xiii. o.

Quest. 5. What is the comprehensive duty of the law? Answ. It is LOVE; for love is the fulfilling of the law, Rom, xiii, 10.

Quest. 6. What is the nature of that love which is the comprehensive duty of the law? Anfiv. It is fuch as flows from faith, as the fource and fountain of it; for faith worketh by love, Gal. v. 6. Quest, 7. What ought to be the supreme object of our love? Anfw. [The LORD], or [EHOVAH himself, as he is OUR God, Deut. xxx. 6.

Quest, 8. How many ways may the Lord be faid to be four Anfw. Two ways: either by external revelation and offer:

or by special property and possession.

Quest. o. To whom doth he make the external revelation and offer of himself as their God?

Anfav. To all fuch of mankind, without exception, as have the word of this falvation fent unto them, Prov. viii. 4.

Quest. 10. When is he our God by special property and pos-

Anfw. When by faith we are united to Christ, I Cor. iii. 23. in whom mercy and truth are met together, righteoufnefs and peace have kiffed each other, Pfal. lxxxv. 10.

Quest. 11. What is it to love the Lord our God [with all our heart ]?

Anfw. It is to love him unfeignedly, without hypocrify. or distimulation, Rom. xii. 9.

Quest, 12. What is it to love him [ with all our foul, and mind]?

Anhy. It is to have an intelligent, cordial, and affectionate love to God; expressed in all the duties, wherein any power or faculty of the foul can be exercised, If. xxvi. 8. 0.

Quest, 13. What is it to love the Lord our God [ with all our ftrength ]?

Anfw. It is to love nothing fo much as God, Matth. x. 27.; and nothing but in subordination to him. Luke xiv. 26. Quest. 14. How may we know, if we have such a supreme love to the Lord our God?

Answ. If we love him purely for himself, and his own matchless excellency, as shining in the face of Jesus, Song i. 3.4 if we account all things but loss in comparison of him. Phil. iii. 8 .: and if we centre in him, as the only resting-place of our souls for ever, Pfal. Ixxiii. 2c. 26.

Quest, 15. What is the fum of the fix commandments in the second table, which contain our duty to man?

Anfw. It is to love four neighbour as ourselves], Matth. xxii. 39. The second is like unto it, Thou Shalt love thy neighbour as thyfelf.

Quest. 16. Why is the sum of the second table said to be like unto the fum of the first?

Answ. Because the duties of the second table are injoined by the same authority with those of the first, James ii. 10.

Quest. 17. In which of the two tables is the lawful love of ourselves contained, seeing it is not expressly mentioned in either of them?

Anfw. It is fairly implied and supposed in both tables, particularly in the fecond, where love to ourselves is made the example and pattern, according to which we should love others, Luke x. 27. Thou shalt love-thy neighbour as thy-Quest. 18. What is lawful felf-love?

Anfw. It is an aiming at our own happiness, in subordie nation to the glory of God, which ought to be our chief and ultimate end, 1 Cor. x. 31.

Quest. 19. Whom are we to understand by four neigheefs to be ufeful, either as to their temporal or spiritual good. Luke x. 36. 37.

Anfw. All of mankind, unto whom we have any way ac-PART II.

Quest. 20. What is it to love our neighbour [as ourselves]? Anfw. It is to love him as truly and fincerely as we do ourfelves. Eph. v. 20. No man ever hated his own felb. but nourisbeth and cherisbeth it.

Quest. 21. Should our love to our neighbour be as great as it is to ourselves ?

Answ It is not required that it be as great in degree, but only that it be as fincere, and free of hypocrify, as it is to ourselves, Rom. xii. o.

Quelt. 22. What is the rule according to which our love to our neighbour (bould be regulated?

Answ. That we do to others what we would have them do to us. Matth. vii. 12.

Quest, 22. How is this rule to be explained for preventing the abuse of it ? Answ. That we do as we would be done to, from a wellinformed judgment: and by fuch as place themselves in the fame relations, and in the fame circumstances with us. Quest. 24. Why are we injoined to esteem others better than ourfelves, Phil, ii. 3.?

Anfav. Because the more of the grace of God we have in cur hearts, we will the more clearly fee that we ourfelves are the chief of finners, I Tim. i. 14. 15. and have the feed of all fin in us, which would foon fpring up into the worst of actions, if not restrained, Rom. vii. 23.

Quest, 25. What is the difference betwixt the love we should have to all in general, and the love we should have to the faints in particular?

Anfiv. We should love all men in general, with a love of benevolence, and likewise of beneficence according to our ability, Gal. vi. 10.; but we should love the saints with a love of complacency and delight, Pfal. xvi. 3.

Quest. 26. How ought our love to extend it felf to our enemies? Answ. By forgiving them, and praying for them, Matth.

v. 44. Acts vii 60.

Quest. 27. What may we learn from the fum of the commandments?

Answ. That charity, or love, which is the end of the commandment, ought to flow from a pure heart, and a good conscience, and faith unfeigned, I Tim. i. 5.

43. Quest.

43. QUEST. What is the preface to the ten commandments?

Answ. The preface to the ten commandments is in these words. I am the Lord thy God. which have brought thee out of the land of Egypt, out of the house of bondage.

44. QUEST. What doth the preface to the ten commandments teach us?

Answ. The preface to the ten commandments teacheth us, That because God is the Lord, and our God, and Redeemer, therefore we are bound to keep all his commandments.

Quest. 1. What is a [preface]?

Answ. It is something spoken before; or a preparatory introduction to a following discourse.

Quest. 2. Whether are these words, fI am the Lord thy God], &c. to be understood as a preface to all the commandments, or to the first only? Anfw. They are to be understood as a preface to them all;

though they ftand immediately connected with the first, as being the ground of the particular applicatory faith in a redeeming God, which is therein injoined.

Quest. 3. Why are the above words prefixed as a preface to all the commandments?

Answ. Because they are designed as so many reasons and arguments to enforce our obedience unto them.

Quest. 4. Why doth God give reasons to enforce obedience to his commands, when his will is the supreme law?

Anfw. To manifest his amazing condescension, in dealing with us in a fuitableness to our natures as rational creatures. Hof. xi. 4.

Quest. 5. How many reasons, or arguments, are there in this preface, whereby God enforces obedience to his law?

Anfw. Three: the first is, because he is THE LORD, or TEHOVAH;

34 Of the PREFACE to the Commandments.

JEHOVAH; the fecond, because he is OUR GOD; and the Quest. 6. Which of these three is the formal reason of obedience ?

Anfw. The first, namely, God's effential greatness, as he is JEHOVAH, the Most High over all the earth, Pfal. lxxxiii. 18: though, at the same time, his relative goodness, as our God, and the deliverance he hath accomplished as our Redeemer, are invincible arguments and motives thereunto, Lev. xix. 36. 37.

Quest. 7. What is the strength of the first argument for obedience, taken from God's being [THE LORD]?

Anfu. The fitength of it lies in this, That because God is JEHOVAH, "the teternal, immutable, and almighty God, "having his being in and of himfelf, and giving being to "all his words and works";" therefore all obedience and fubjection is due to him, Lev. xx. 8.

Oueft. 8. Wherein lies the firength of the second argument for obedience to God's law, taken from his being FOUR Gopl?

Anfuv. It lies in this, That because he makes himself over to finners of mankind, by a new-covenant grant, in the word of divine revelation; therefore this ought to sweeten all his commands, and powerfully excite us to the obedience of them, Lev. xx. 7.

Quest. o. What doth God make over to us in the word, when he makes a grant of himself therein, to be our God?

Answ. He makes over to us whatever be is, Hos. xiii. 4. and whatever he hath, Psal. lxxxiv. 11. as God, to be ours freely and eternally.

Quest. 10. What doth he make over to us, when he makes a grant of whatever HE 18?

Answ. He makes over to us both what he is effentially, and what he is personally.

Quest. 11. What doth be make over to us, when he makes a grant of what he is effentially?

Anfw. All his glorious attributes and excellencies to be ours, Exod xxxiv. 6:: his infinity, to be the extent of our inheritance, Rev. xxi. 7; his ettenity, to be the date of our happines, John xiv. 10:; his unchangeablenes, to be the rock of our reft, Mal. iii. 6.; his wisdom, to direct us, Psal. * Larger Cat. Quest. 101.

Ixxiii, 24.; his power, to protect us, 2 Chron, xvi, o.; his holinefs, to fanctify us, Ezek. xvi. 14.; his justice, to affoil us. Rom. iii. 26.; his goodness, to reward us in the way of grace, not of debt, I John ii. 25.; and his truth, to fecure us in the accomplishment of all his promises, Heb. x. 23.

Quest. 12. What doth he make over to us, when he makes a grant of what he is perfonally?

Answ. He makes over himself in the person of the Father, to be our God and Father in Christ, I Pct. i. 3.; in the person of the Son, to be our Redeemer and Saviour, If. xlviii. 17.; and in the person of the Holy Ghoft, to be our Sanctifier and Comforter, John xiv. 16.

Queft, 12. What is it that he makes over to us, when he makes a grant of whatever HE HATH?

Answ. As he hath all the good things we can noffibly need in time, or through eternity, fo he makes them all freely over to us in the promife, -All things are yours, I Cor. iii. 21.: for instance, he hath life, for the quickening of us who are dead in trespasses and fins, Eph. iit 1.; righteousness, for the justifying us who are guilty, If, xlv. 25;; and redemption, for delivering us who are lawful captives, chap. xlix. 24. 25. In a word, Eye hath not feen, nor ear heard, neither have entered into the heart of man, the things which God hath prepared for them that love him, I Cor. ii. o. Quest. 14. Is this grant that God makes of himself to us in the word, to be our God, no more than a mere argument, or motive, to enforce our obedience?

Anfw. It also strengthens and enables us thereunto, Ezek. xxxvi. 27, 28.

Quest. 15. How doth the revelation of God's being our God, strengthen and enable us to obedience?

Answ. In as much as by the revelation hereof, the Holy Ghost is conveyed, as the immediate efficient of holiness, Gal. iii. 2.; and faith is wrought in the foul, as the fpring and fountain thereof, chap, v. 6.

Quest. 16. Why doth God front his law with this grant of himself, as the Lord our God?

Answ. Because it is comprehensive of all the promises of the covenant, and of the bleffings that are wrapt up in them; and therefore the best encouragement to the obedience of faith: for, because he is our God, he will give us one heart and one way; he will not turn away from us to do us good, but will put his fear in our hearts, that we shall not depart from him, Ier. xxxii. 28, 20, 40.

Quest. 17. Why dath God make this declaration of his grace in the present time, [I AM], and not in the future, I WILL he thy Gad?

Anfau. To shew, that God's covenant of promise is always a folid ground and foundation for the present actings of faith, in every case and circumstance wherein we can be fituate, James ii. 23.

Quest. 18. Why doth God in this grant, address the finner in the fingular number, I am [THY] God?

Anfiv. Because he wants that every individual sinner, to whom the revelation of his grace doth come, should believe it, with a particular applicatory faith, Zech. xiii. o. I will fav. It is my people and they Shall fav. The Lord is MY GOD.

Quest. 10. How may we know, if ever we have, by faith, received the offer and grant that God makes of himself in the appred ?

Anfw. By our love and esteem of him, Exod. xv. 2, 3 by our repoling entire trust and confidence in him, Pfal. xviii, 2.; by our likeness and conformity to him, I John jii. 3.5 and by our longing after the full fruition and enjoyment of him. Pfal. lxxiii. 25.

Quest. 20. What is the THIRD ARGUMENT, in the preface, for enforcing our obedience?

Anfw. It is in these words ; I which have brought thee out of the land of Egypt, out of the house of bondage].

Oncit. 21. How are these words explained in our Cate.

Anfw. Of our spiritual redemption by Jesus Christ; for, The preface to the ten commandments teacheth us, That bereaufe God is the Lord, and our God, and REDEEMER, therefore we are bound to keep all his commandments ].

Quest. 22. Wherein lies the strength of this argument, for enforcing our obedience to the commands of God?

Anfw. It lies in this, That as he brought Ifrael of old out of their bondage in Egypt, so he delivereth us out of our spiritual thraldom; and therefore we should ferve him without fear, in boliness and righteousness before bim, all the days of our life, Luke i. 74. 75.

Quest. 22. In what respects did the deliverance of Ifrael out of Egypt resemble our spiritual redemption by Christ?

Anfw.

Anfu. The Ifaelites were made to ferve the Egyptians with rigour, Exod. i. 14.; fo finners, by nature, are under the most cruel bondage and fervitude to fin and Satan, 2 Pet. ii. 10.: the Ifaelites were not able of themfelves to shake off the Egyptian yoke, Exod. ii. 23.; no more are sinners of mankind capable to extricate themselves from a state of spiritual shavery, in which they are naturally instralled, Rom. v. 6.: the Israelites were brought out of Egypt with a front of our spiritual shadom, by the mighty power of God allenarly, Pfal. cx. 2. 2.: the Egyptians were defroyed, when Israel was delivered, Exod. xiv. 28.; so principalities and powers were spoiled, Col. ii. 15. transgression shifted was accomplished, Vest. 57.

Quest. 24. Seeing the deliverance of Ifrael, which was typical of our spiritual deliverance, was brought about by divine power, without the payment of a price, will it follow that our spiritual redemption was without a price also?

Anja. By no means; unless the similitude betwirt the type and the antitype did hold in every respect, which it cannot possibly do: for, though there be a resemblance betwirt them in some things, yet there is always a disparity in others; as might be made evident in every one of the scripture types and metaphors, whereunto divine things are compared: for instance, Jonah was alive in the whale's belly, whereas Christ was actually dead in the grave.

Quest. 25. Since God brought all the Ifraelites, without exception, out of Egypt, doth it from thence follow, that Christ redeemed all mankind from their spiritual bondage?

Anfw. No: because the Israelites did not typify and represent all mankind, but the elect only, Psal. cxxxv. 4.

Quest. 26. How do you prove, that the elect only, and not all mankind, were redeemed by Christ?

Anjo. From the Father's gift of them to him from eternity, John xvii. 6.; from his reprefenting them in his death, John x. 11.; and from his interceflow within the vail for them only, John xvii. 9. I pray for them: I pray not for the world, but for them which thou had given me.

Quest. 27. Are the purchase and intercession of Christ, precifely of the fame extent?

Anfus. Surely they are; for his intercession being founded on his purchase, and consisting in a presenting the merit thereof before the throne, Heb. ix. 24. it clearly follows that the one can be no more extensive than the other. John xvii: 24. Father, I will that they also whom thou hast given me, be with we where I are.

Queft. 38. How then are thefe feriptures to be explained, which feem to speak of an univerfal purchase of all mankinds such as, that Christ died for all, 2 Cor. v. 15.; that he tailed death for every man, Heb. ii. 9.; that he is the propriation for the fins of the whole world, 1 Tohn ii. 2.; and the like?

Anfur They are to be explained in a limited fense, of some only, and not of every individual of mankind; as the like general terms are undoubtedly to be understood in other places of scripture; such as, Col. i. 6. and Rev. xiii. 3: for, if it is alledged, that the above scripture-expressions prove an universal purchose, it may be said, with the same parity of reason, that they prove an universal application thereof, which seew will affert.

Quest. 29. Doth not the universal offer of Christ prove the universal redemption of all, at least, within the visible afro. No: it only proves the unqueftionable duty of all to believe, upon the call and command of God, 1 John iii. 23.; and the infinite intrinsic worth of the satisfaction of Christ for the salvation of all, if it had been so designed, chap. iv. 14.

Quest. 30. Doth the redemption purchased by Christ bring any benefit or advantage to the reprobate world?

Anfw. It is owing thereunto that the goffel is fent among them, John iv. 4, 4 that temporal judgments are flortened, Mark xiii. 20, 4 and it is on account of the eleck, who are to fpring of them, that they are preferved for a while in this world, Rom. xi. 30.: but then thefe, or the like benefits, are not to be confidered as the fruit of Chrift's purchase to the reprobate themselves, but to the elect only, who are living among them, 2 Cor. iv. 15. or, who are to descend from them, It vi. 12.

Quest. 21. Wherein confists the spiritual bondage we are naturally under, and redeemed from by Christ?

Anfw. It confifts in our being under the wrath of God, John iii. 18.; the guilt, power, and pollution of fin, Rom-viii. 7.; the tyranny of Satan, Eph. ii. 2.; the fnares and temptations of the world, I John ii. 16 ; and in our liableness to the pains of hell for ever, Matth. xxv. 46.

Oueft, 22. What right had Christ to be our Redeemer from this state of spiritual bondage?

Answ. He had a right of property, and a right of propinquity.

Quest. 13. How had he a right of property?

Answ. As he is God, he is the original owner, Rom. ix 21.; and as he is Mediator, he has the elect gifted unto him by his Father, John xvii. 6.

Quest. 24. How hath he a right of propinquity?

Anfw. He hath it by the legal union which subsisted betwixt him and us from eternity, in virtue of his being made a furety of a better testament, Heb. vii. 22.; and by the assumption of our nature in time, whereby he became our kinfman, and is not asbamed to call us brethren. Heb. ii. 11. 12.

Quest. 35. What doth God's delivering Ifrael out of the land of Egypt teach us, with respect to his church and people in general?

Answ. It teacheth us, that as affliction is the lot of the Lord's people, in this present evil world; so deliverance therefrom is secured in due time, Pfal. xxxiv. 19. Many are the afflictions of the righteous, but the Lord delivereth him out of them all.

Quest. 36. What is the difference between the afflictions of the godly, and those of the wicked?

Anfw. The afflictions of the godly are the chaftifements of a gracious Father, flowing from love, and defigned for their profit, Heb. xii. 6. 10.; but the afflictions of the wicked are the punishments of an avenging Judge, flowing from wrath, and designed for their ruin and destruction, Eccl. V. 17.

Quest. 37. What improvement ought we to make of our spi-

Anfw. It should excite us to fand fast in the liberty wherewith Christ hath made us free, and not be entangled again with the yoke of bondage, Gal. v. 1.; to afcribe all the praife of our spiritual liberty to our glorious Deliverer, Rev. i. 5. 6. and to testify our gratitude and thankfulness to him, by a conversation becoming the gospel, Phil. i. 27.

PARTEIL 45. QUESTA 45. QUEST. Which is the first commandment?

ANSW. The first commandment is, Thou shall have no other Gods before me.

46. QUEST. What is required in the first com-

Assw. The first commandment requireth us to know and acknowledge God to be the only true God, and our God; and to worship and glorify him accordingly.

Quest. 1. Why are most part of the commands of the law delivered in negative terms?

Anfw. Because negative precepts are of the strictest obligation, binding always, and at all times.

Quest. 2. Why is the first commandment, in particular, so expressed?

Answ. Because of the perpetual propensity of our natures, since the fall, to depart from the living God, through an evil heart of unbelief, Heb. iii. 12.

Quest. 3. Why is this commandment fet in the front of all the rest?

Anfw. To teach us, that the having JEHOVAH to be our God, is the leading and fundamental duty of the law, Exod. xv 2. which fweetly and powerfully influences obedience to all the other commands of it, Pfal. cxviii. 28.

Quest. 4. What influence has obedience to the first, upon obedience to the other precepts of the law?

Anfw. As obedience to the first commandment, is to be, lieve that God is our God, upon the gift of himself to us, in these words, [I am the Lord thy God]; so, without believing this, it is impossible we can do any thing essentially the him, Heb. xi. 6.; for, what sever is not of faith, is fin, Rom. xiv. 23.

Quest. 5. Why do this, and other commands, run in the second person singular, THOU, and not in the plural, YOU, or

AE ;

Anfw. To fignify, that God would have us to take his commandments, as spoken to each of us in particular, as if we were mentioned by name.

Quest. 6. What is the connection, betwixt the preface, and the first commandment?

Answ. The preface reveals and exhibits the object of faith: and the first commandment injoins the duty of believing on that object: the one makes a grant of grace; and the other warrants us to lay hold on it.

Quest. 7. Are the preface and first commandment of equal

Anfw. Yes: every one to whom the promise in the preface is revealed, is obliged by the command, to believe it with application, John iii, 18,

Quest. 8. Can the obligation of the law be in the least weakened by the grace of the gospel published in the preface?

Anfw. So far from it, that it is impossible for any man to share of the grace of the gospel, published in the preface, but in a way of believing, injoined in the first command of the law, Rom. iii. 31. Do we make void the law through faith? God forbid.

Quest. 9. What are the chief duties required in the first commandment, as thus connected with the preface?

Anfw. To know and acknowledge God to be the only true God, and our God; and to worlbip and glorify him accordingly].

Quest. 10. What KNOWLEDGE of God doth the first commandment require?

Answ. It requires us to know that God is; and that he is fuch a God as he hath manifested himself to be in his word. Heb. xi. 6.

Quest. 11. What hath God manifested himself to be in his word?

Answ. He hath manifested himself to be The Lord, the Lord God, merciful and gracious, long-suffering, and abundant in goodness and truth, keeping mercy for thousands, forgiving iniquity, transgression, and fin, and that will by no means clear the guilty, namely, without a fatisfaction, Exod. xxxiv. 6. 7.; or, he hath manifested himself to be in Christ. reconciling the world to himself, 2 Cor. v. 19.

Quelt. 12. What is it to [know] God as he is in Christ? Anfw, It is to know that he is well-pleased for Christ's

righteoufness sake, because he has magnified the law, and Quest. 13. How is the knowledge of God usually distinguish-Answ. Into speculative or common, and practical or faving knowledge.

Queft. 14. What is the speculative or common knowledge of God?

Answ. It is only a floating knowledge of him in the head, without any saving insuence or efficacy upon the heart and practice; as is to be found in ungodly persons or hypocrites, who may profess that they know God, but in works they deny him, Tit. i. 16.

Quest. 15. What is it to have a faving and practical knowledge of him?

Anfw. It is to have such a lively apprehension of his relation to us, as our God in Christ, as is accompanied with an habitual conformity to his will, in heart and life, 1 John ii. 3. 4.

Quest. 16. What are the evidences of true faving knowledge?

Anjw. If it is an experimental, Col. i. 6. interesting, Pfal. xli. 11. fanctifying, 2 Pet. i. 8. and humbling knowledge, Job xl. 4. 5.

Quest. 17. What is it to [ACKNOWLEDGE] God?

Anfw. It is to own, avouch, and confess him, both in fecret, and before the world, Rom. x. 10.—With the mouth confession is made unto falvation.

Quest, 18. Why are the knowing and acknowledging of God joined tagether ?

drigo. Because where-ever the faving knowledge of God is implanted in the heart, there will be always fome evidences thereof, either to ourselves, or others, discovered in the life, Dan. xi. 32.—The people that do know their God, shall be firong and do exploits.

Quest. 19. What should we know and acknowledge God to be?

Answ. We should know and acknowledge him to be [the only true God, and our God].

Quest. 20. What is it to know and acknowledge God to be

[the only true God]?

Answ. It is to believe and profess, that he alone, and none elle, is possessed all infinite perfection; and that the perfections of the divine nature are most eminently displayed and manifested in the person of Christ, our only Saviour and Redeemer, Hos. xiii. 4,—Thou shall know no God but me; for there is no Saviour befules me.

Quest. 21. What is it to know and acknowledge God to be [our God]?

Anfw. It is to profess our relation to him, as his people, upon the faith of the grant that he makes of himself to us, as ours, in the word, Deut. xxvi. 17. 18. Psal. xlviii. 14.

Quest. 22. Can we know and acknowledge God to be our God (as required in this commandment) unless we believe in Christ?

Answ. No: for no man cometh unto the Father but by me, fays Christ.—He that hath seen me, hath seen the Father, John xiv. 6. o.

Quest. 23. Is not faith, or believing in Christ, a gospelprecept only, and not required in the law?

Anjw. By no means: for, in the gg/yel, friêtly and properly taken, as it is contraditinct from the law, there can be no precept; because the gofpel, in this strict sense, is nothing else than a FROMISE, or glad tidings of a Saviour, with grace, mercy, and salvation in him, for lost sinners of Adam's family; according to the following scriptures, Gen. iii. 15. Il. 18. i. 1. 2. 3. Luke ii. 10. 11.

Quest. 24. Since faith and repentance are duties confequential to the entrance of fin, and the revelation of the gospel, must they not therefore be new precepts, not given to Adam in innocence?

Anju. Though there was no occasion for the exercise of these duties, in an innocent state; yet Adam being bound by the saw of creation, (particularly the ten commandments, given him in the form of a covenant of works), to believe whatever God should reveal, and obey whatever he should command: no sooner was the gospel-revelation made, than the same very law, which bound him, while in innocence, to believe in God-creator, obliged him, when fallen, to believe in God-creator, one revealed and made known unto him; and likewife to turn from fin to God, Rom. iii, 31.

Quest. 25. Whence is it that the obligation of the law is so extensive, as to bind to the belief of whatever God shall reveal?

Anfw. This arises from the absolute perfection of the law, which being a complete rule of all obedience, cannot but fasten the duty, the same moment that the object is revealed, Pfal. cxix. 96.—Thy commandment is exceeding broad.

Quest. 26. What is the absurdity of making faith and repentance new gospel-precepts?

Anfw. The abfurdity is, that hereby another righteoufnefs is introduced in our own persons, than the righteoufness of Christ, as the immediate ground of our pardon and acceptance before God.

Quest. 27. How doth this absurdity necessarily follow from the forefaid doctrine ?

Angu. If Chrift, as our Surety, has fulfilled the precept, and endured the penalty of the moral law, according to Gal. iv. 4. 5. then it cannot but follow, that this law of faith and repentance, not being fulfilled by him, must be fulfilled by ourfelves, in our own perfons, as our righteoufines before God: and thus another ground of justification is established, besides the furety-righteousness, contrary to Gal. ii. 16. and iii. 21.

Quest. 28. What is the doctrine of our Larger Catechism on this head?

Anju. That "believing and trufting" in God, (which is the fame with faith), "being careful in all things to please "him, and forrowful when in any thing he is offended," (which is the fame with repentance), are among "the duties "required in the first commandment." and that "unbelief,—"se diffrust,—incorrigiblene(s,—and hardness of heart," or impenitency, (according to Rom. ii. 5. there quoted), are among the "fins forbidden" therein ".

Quest. 29. What doth God require of us in this commandment, as the evidence of our knowing and acknowledging him to be the only true God, and our God?

Anfw. That we [worship and glorify him accordingly], Matth. iv. 10.—Thou shalt worship the Lord thy God, and him only shalt thou serve.

Quest. 30. What is it to [worship] God?

Anfw. It is to make him the furreme object of our esteem, Pfal. lxxi. 19. defire, Pfal. lxxiii. 25. and delight, Pfal. exlii. 5. and that, not only in our secret devotions, but likewife when joining with others in any religious exercife, Pfal, Quest. 31. What is it to [glorify] him?

Anfw. It is to afcribe all possible glory and perfection to him, Exod, xv. 11, and, in all our actions, to aim at the advancement of his honour and glory in the world, I Cor. x. 31.

Quest. 32. What is imported in our being required to wor-(bip and glorify him [accordingly]?

Answ. It imports, that fince God commands us to know and acknowledge him, not only to be the true God, but our own God, in virtue of the covenant-grant he makes of himfelf in the word; it becomes us, in all our actions, religious and civil, to behave towards him, as flanding in fuch a near and intimate relation unto us. Pfal. xlv. 11. 1 Cor. vi. 20.

Quest. 33. Can we glorify God aright, unless we acknowledge him to be our God in Christ?

Answ. No: for unless we acknowledge a God in Christ. as our God, we make him a liar, in faying, I am the Lord thy God, and rebel against his authority in the first commandment, which is, Thou falt have no other Gods before me.

Quest. 34. Is believing the promise then, the foundation of all acceptable worship and obedience? Anfw. Yes: for all true obedience, is the obedience of faith.

Rom. xvi. 26.; and without faith it is impossible to please God, Heb. xi. 6.

Quest. 35. In what manner are we required to worship and glorify God?

Answ. Both inwardly in our hearts, John iv. 24.; and out wardly in our lives, Matth. v. 16.

Quest. 36. How are we to worship God inwardly in our Answ. By trusting, Is. xxvi. 4. hoping, Pfal. cxxx. 5. and delighting in him, Pfal. xxxvii. 4.; by thinking and meditating upon him, Mal. iii. 16. Pfal. lxiii. 6.; devoting ourselves to him, If. xliv. 5.; and by being filled with grief, when he is offended by ourselves, or others, Psal. xxxviii. 18. and cxix. 136.

Quest. 37. How are we to worship and glorify him outwardly in our lives?

Anfw. By praying to him, and praising him with our lips, Pfal. exlii. 1. and exlv. 21.; by being zealous for his glory,

Pfal. lxix. 9.; careful to pleafe him, Col. i. 10.; and by walking humbly before him, Micah vi. 8.

Queft. 38. What improvement ought we to make of the covenant-grant in the preface, [I am the Lord thy God]; and the precept injoining the belief thereof, [Thou shalt have no other Gods before me?]

Anju. That it is the duty of every one of us, without waiting till we find gracious qualifications wrought in us, inflantly to lay claim to a God in Chrift, as our God, Pfal. xev. 7-5; this being what he requires in the first place, as the foundation of all other acts of obedience, 2 Chron. xx. 20.

Quest. 39. If it is an external federal relation to the vifible church, which God afferts in the presace, when he says, I am the Lord thy God; how can the first commandment warrant the faith of a special relation?

Anfw. As the command always warrants a particular application of every general promife, fo the external federal relation, which God bears to the vifible church, becomes a fpecial one, the moment that the promife is believed with a particular applicatory faith, Jer. iii. 24.

47. QUEST. What is forbidden in the first com-

Answ. The first commandment forbiddeth the denying, or not worshipping and glorifying the true God as God, and our God; and the giving of that worship and glory to any other which is due to him alone.

Quest. 1. To what general heads may the fins forbidden, in this commandment, be reduced?

Anfw. To these two; Atheism and idolatry.

Quest. 2. What is ATHEISM?

Anfw. It is the [denying], or not having a God. Ouest. 3. How is Atheim commonly distinguished?

Anfw. Into speculative and practical.

Quest. 4. How is speculative Atheism again subdivided?

Answ. Into that which is directly, and into that which is interpretatively such.

Quest. 5.

Quest: 5. What is direct speculative Atheism?

Answ. It is a fixed perfuasion in the heart, and an open profession with the mouth, that there is no God.

Quest. 6. What is speculative Atheism interpretatively, or by necessary consequence?

Answ. It is the rejecting of any of these truths, which are necessarily connected with the being of a God; fuch as the denving of providence, or any of the effential perfections of God; because from thence it would necessarily follow, that there is no God.

Quest. 7. Why would it necessarily follow, from the denying of providence, or any of the divine perfections, that there is no God?

Anfw. Because as it is impossible to conceive that there is a God, without conceiving at the same time, that he preferves and governs the world, If. xli. 23.; fo it is impossible to conceive his being or existence, without conceiving him to be poffeffed of all infinite perfection, I John i. c.

Quest. 8. Can there be fuch a person among men, as a direct speculative Atheist?

Answ. No: there can be none of mankind, who have, at all times, fuch a fixed and constant perfuasion that there is no God; as at no time whatfoever, to have the least fear or do be of the contrary, Dan. v. 6. 9.

oeft. 9. How doth it appear, that there can be no fuch perion as a downright speculative Atheist?

Anfav. From universal experience, which attests, that the knowledge and impression of the being of a God, is so natural to man, that he can no more divest himself thereof, at all times, than he can strip himself of his reason, or shake off his own existence, Rom. i. 19. That which may be known of God is manifest in them; for God hath shewed it unto them : i. e. ingrained it in their natures.

Quest. 10. Would it not feem that there may be a downright speculative Atheift, from Plal, xiv. 1. The fool hath faid in his heart, There is no God?

Answ. The words do not import a fixed and permanent perfualion, but rather a fecret will : accordingly, the expreffron is not, The fool hath believed, or is perfuaded in his heart; but hath sarp, that is, would fain have harboured

Quelt. 11. Why would wicked men wifb there was no God? PART II.

Anfw. To be free of any check or restraint upon their lufts, but that they may work all uncleanness with greediness, Eph. iv. 19.

Quest. 12. Who are they that are interpretatively Atheists?

Anfw. Not only they who deny the providence of God, or any effential attribute of his nature; but likewise all Deifts, who reject fupernatural revelation; and all openly wicked and profane perfons, who live as if there were no God, Pfal-X. 4. 11. 13.

Quest. 13. Whether is it speculative or practical Atheism that is chiefly levelled against, in this commandment?

Anfw. Both: but especially practical Atheism, as being univerfally prevalent, Rom. iii. 11.

Quest. 14. What is practical Atheism?

Answ. It is a denying of God in our practice, Tit. i. 16. They profess that they know God, but in works they deny him. Quest. 15. How doth practical Atheism evidence itself?

Anfw. In omitting the duties required in this commandment; namely, not knowing and acknowledging God, to be what he really is; and neglecting to worship and glorify Queit. 16. Who are guilty of not knowing God?

Anfw. Not only the Heathens, who walk contrary to ture's light, Rom. i. 21.; but likewife Christians, w ing privileged with the means of knowing God, as in Con if do yet flight and neglect the fame, John xv. 22. If I had not come and spoken unto them, they had not had fin: but now they have no clock for their fin.

' Quest. 17. Who are they that are guilty of not acknow-

Infw. They who rush upon the actions of life, without asking his counsel about them, Josh. ix. 14. The men took of their victuals, and asked not counsel at the mouth of the Lord. Quest. 18. Who are guilty of [not worshipping] God?

Anfw. They who live in the habitual neglect of the public, private, and fecret exercifes of his worship, If. xliii. 22. Thou half not called upon me, O Facob: thou half been Cueft. 19. Who are guilty of not [glorifying] him?

Anfw. They who fet up themselves as their own rule, Pfal. xii. 4. and make themselves their own end and happine/s, in opposition to God, Phil. ii. 21.

Quest. 20. When are men chargeable with this piece of practical Atheism, namely, of setting up themselves as their own rule?

Anfw. When they perform any action, religious, or civil, more because it is agreeable to felf, than as it is pleasing to God, Zech. vii. 5. 6.; when they envy the gifts and prosperity of others, Pfal. lxxiii. 3.; and when they would model or frame God himself according to their own fancy, imagining him to be altogether fuch a one as themselves, Pfal. 1. 21.

Quest. 21. When do men make themselves their own end.

and happiness, in opposition to God?

Anfa. When they acribe the glory of what they have, or othersfelves, and not unto God, Dan. iv. 30.; when they are more troubled for what difgraces themselves, than what dishonours God, I Sam. xy. 30.; and when they prefer the pleasures and profits of this world, to the glorifying and enjoying of God, Matth. xix. 22.

Quest. 22. When may we be faid to worship the true God, and yet not [4s God]?

Anfw. When we draw nigh unto him with the mouth, and honour him with our lips, but our hearts are far from him, Matth. xv. 8.

Quest. 23. When are we guilty of not worshipping and glorifying him, as [OUR God]?

Anjw. When, in the course or tenor of our behaviour and deportment towards him, we want the habitual exercise of the faith of our sederal relation unto him, Plal. lxxxi. 10. 11.

Quest. 24. May not the faints themselves be chargeable with some degree of prastical Atheism?

Anfu. No doubt they may; when they entertain unbecoming thoughts of God in their mind, or fpeak unadvifedly to him with their lips. Thus Job is cenfured by Elihu, for charging God with injuffice, chap. xxxiii. 10. 11.: and Jonah fpeaks moft rafily to God, when he fays, I do well to be angry, even unto death, chap iv. 9.

Quelt. 25. How may a person know when blasshemous thoughts, and atheistical expressions, are not inconsistent with a state of grace?

Anfw. When a blasphemous thought is fo far from being indulged, that it is treated with abhorrence; and when an atheistical expression (uttered through furprise, and the hurry and violence of temptation) is deeply regretted and lamented, Pfal, lxxiii, 21, 22,

Quest. 26. What is the other general and comprehensive an forbidden in this commandment?

Anfw. IDOLATRY.

Quest, 27. What is idolatry?

Answ. It is [ the giving that worship and glory to any other which is due to God alone ].

Ouest. 28. How is idolatry commonly distinguished?

An/w. Into that which is gross and external; and that which is more refined and internal.

Quest. 20. What is the idolatry which is gross and external? Answ. It is an ascribing the ordinary signs of worship, or religious homage, to any person or thing, besides the true

God. Lev. xxvi. I. Quest. 30. Who are they that are guilty of this groffer kind of idolatry?

Answ. HEATHENS and PAPISTS.

Quest. 31. What was the nature of the idolatry of the Hea-

Anfw. They made gods of the fun, moon, and flars, and almost of every other creature; yea, of devils themselves, as the apostle witnesseth, I Cor. x. 20. But that which was most frequent among them, was their making images or idols in the shape of some fort of living creatures, or of a mixture of them, and then worshipping them as if they were gods, Pfal. cxxxv. 15 .-- 10.

Quest, 32. How did Heathenish idolatry take its rise in the world?

Answ. By men becoming vain in their imaginations, whereby they changed the glory of the uncorruptible God, into an image made like to corruptible man, and to birds, and fourfooted beafts, and creeting things, Rom. i. 21. 23.

Quest. 33. How doth it appear that the Papists are guilty of this groffer kind of idolatry?

Anfw. By their bowing to images and altars; giving divine honour to the consecrated bread in the facrament; adoring the crucifix; praying to angels; and invocating the faints, especially the virgin Mary, whom they supplicate much more frequently than they do Christ himself. By all which it appears, that Popish idolatry succeeds in the room of the Heathenish; and is more inexcusable than it, because the Papifts have the benefit of divine revelation, which the Heathens have not.

Quest. 34. How do you prove, that the paying religious homage to such things, by the church of Rome, is groß idolatry?

Anju. From the nature of idolatry itself; the very efforce whereof confils in giving divine worship and honour to any creature whatGever, whether in heaven or earth; for it is written, Thou Balt worship the Lord thy God, and him only flash that ferve, Matth. iv. 10.

Quest. 35. What is the idolatry which is more refined and internal?

Answ. It is a fetting up of idols in the heart, Ezek. xiv. 4.; or a giving that room in our efteem and affection to any thing elfe, which God alone ought to possess, Luke xiv. 26. Quest. 36. To whom is this kind of idolatry incident?

Answ. To all mankind naturally: and even believers themfelves are cautioned and warned against it, I John v. 21. Little children, keep yourselves from idols.

Quest. 37. What are these idols which have a feat in every man and woman's heart by nature?

Anfu. Among many others, there are these two, which are worshipped and served by the generality, even of the vi-

Gible church, namely, SELF and the WORLD.

Quest. 38. How doth it appear that SELF is an idol which Quelt. 38. How doth it appear that SEL naturally reigns in the heart of every one?

Anfw. From the very first lesson in the school of Christianity, which is to be denied to self, Matth. xvi. 24. Then said Jessus unto his disciples, If any man will come after me, let him deny himself.

Quest. 39. What is it for a man to deny himself?

Anfw. It is to give up with his felf-wisdom, his felf-will, and his felf-righteousness.

Quest. 40. When do we give up with the idol of felf-wif-

Answ. When we are made to see our own depraved reason to be but folly, when compared with the wisdom of God rewealed in his word; for the wisdom of this world is foolishness with God, 1 Cor. iii. 19.

Quest. 41. When is the idol of felf-will dethroned?

Answ. When God's will of precept becomes the sole rule of our heart and life, Pfal. cxix. 105.; and his will of providence vidence is cheerfully acquiefced in, as the best for us, Rom-viii. 28.

Quest. 42. When do we part with the idol of felf-righteouf-

Anfw. When we fubmit to the righteoufners of God; or, found our plea, for eternal life, wholly and entirely upon the meritorious obedience and fatisfaction of Christ, as our Surety, in our room and slead, Phil. iii. 8. 9.

Quest. 43. How doth it appear that the WORLD is an idol feated in every man's heart by nature?

Anfw. From the habitual turn of our thoughts and affections to things temporal, Matth. vi. 31.; the eager pursuit of them, and ardent desire after them, in preference to these that are spiritual and eternal, chap. xvi. 26.

Quest. 44. What are the things of this world, which we naturally incline to idolize?

Anfau. Some make an idol of their worldly riches; making gednee, Job xxxi. 24.; fome, of their worldly pleafures, being lovers of pleafures, tome, of their worldly pleafures, being lovers of pleafures, more than lovers of God, 2 Tim. ii. 4.; fome make an idol of their worldly credit and reputation, receiving honour one of another, and not feeking the honour that cometh from God only, John v. 44.; fome, of their worldly relations, beltowing more of their love upon them, than upon God, Matth. x. 37.; and fome make an idol of their worldly helps and confidences, trufting more to thele than to God, If. xxxi. 1. Jer. xvii. 5.

Quest. 45. What is the verdict of the Spirit of God concerning these who make the world their idol?

Anfw. It is this, that if any man love the world, the love of the Father is not in him, I John ii. 15.

Quest. 48. How may Satan be faid to be even idolized, by those who profess to bear him an implacable hatred?

Answ. When his suggestions are regarded, more than the dictates of the Spirit of God in his word, Is. xl. 27. and xlix. 14.

Quest. 47. How may the suggestions of Satan be distinguished from the dictates of the Spirit of God?

Anfw. The tendency of all Satan's fuggestions is to set up, in the soul, some one thing or other in Christ's room, a Cor. iv. 4.; but the dictates of the Spirit of God are wholly calculated for giving Christ in all things the pre-eminence, John xvi. 14.

Quest. 48. Why is Satan called the god of this world,

2 Cor. iv. 4.?

Anfw. Because he is the spirit that worketh in the children of disobcdience, Eph. ii. 2. till the prey be taken from the mighty, and the lawful captive delivered, If xlix. 24. 25.

Quest. 49. Who are they that explicitly acknowledge the devil as their god?

Anfw. They are such as use forcery, divination, witchcraft, charming, and other diabolical arts and practices, condemned in Deut. xviii. 10. 11. 12.

Quest. 50. Was Joseph's cup an instrument of divination; or, did he himself use this unlawful art, when he says, Gen. xliv, 15.—Wot we not, that such a man as I can certainly divine?

Anfw. By no means; for the word translated DIVINE, on the margin, rendered make trial, or, inquiry; and so the meaning is, Know ye not, that such a man as I, who am so diligent and industrious in other matters, would soon miss the cup wherein I usually drink, and make inquiry after the person who had stolen it?

Quest. 51. What improvement ought we to make of the first commandment, as it stands connected with the preface?

Anfw. That as God warrants and commands us to believe in him, as our God and Redeemer, Pful. xlv. 11.3 for it is our duty to carry along with us the faith of this relation, in all our approaches unto his prefence, Heb. xi. 6.

48. QUEST. What are we specially taught by these words [BEFORE ME] in the sirst commandment?

Assw. These words [BEFORE ME] in the first commandment teach us, That God, who feeth all things, taketh notice of, and is much displeased with, the fin of having any other God.

Quest. 1. What is the strength of the argument couched in these words [BEFORE ME]?

54 Of these Words, BEFORE ME, &c.

Answ. That the fin of having any other God, is commited in the presence of him [who seeth all things], Heb. iv. 13.

Quest. 2. What is it for God to fee all things?

Answ. It is to have a most intimate, perfect, and comprehenfive knowledge of them, Pfal. cxlvii. 5 .- His understanding is infinite.

Quest, 2. Wherein confilts the infinity of God's knowledge?

Answ. Not so much in the perfect and comprehensive knowledge of the creatures, which are finite; as in the perfect and comprehensive knowledge of himself, and his own excellencies and perfections, which are infinite, I Cor. ii.

H. Ouest. A. How is it that God feeth or knoweth all things? Anfw. He fees all things at once in his own effence, di-flinctly, infallibly, and immutably, I John i. 5. Queit. 5. How do you prove that God hath fuch a comprehenfive fight and knowledge of all things?

Anfw. Because otherwise he could not be the Creator,

Governor, and Judge of the world, I Cor. iv. 5.

Quest. 6. In what light doth God fee or know evil actions? Answ. As they are opposite to his nature, Jer. xliv. 4. and contrary to his law, I John iii. 4. which is the fole and unerring flandard of all rectitude, Rom. vii. 12.

Quest. 7. What is that for which firikes more immediately and directly against the authority of God in this commandment ?

Anfw. It is [the fin of having any other God].

Quest. 8. What is it to have another God? Answ. It is to have our minds, wills, and affections carried out after other objects, as much, or more, than after God himfelf, If. xlvi. 9. compared with Ezek. xiv. 4.

Quest. 9. What [notice] doth God take of this fin?

Anfw. He threatens to refent it with the highest marks of displeasure, and that even in this life, as well as in the world to come, Deut. xxix. 24 .-- 29.

Quest. 10. Why is God fo [much displeased] with the fin of having any other God?

Anfw. Because it sets up a rival or competitor in his room, and that in his very fight and presence, Jer. xxxii. 30.

Quest. 11. What influence ought the presence of an all-feeing God to have upon us in all our actions? * Anfw. The confideration thereof ought to quicken and animate

animate us to every duty, Gen. v. 22. 24.; and feare and deter us from every fin, as being an affronting of him to his face, who is our witnefs, and ere long will be our judge, Gen. xxxix. 9.

49. QUEST. Which is the fecond command-

Answ. The fecond commandment is, Thou shall not make unto thee any graven image, or any likeness of any thing, that is in heaven above, or that is in the earth beneath, or that is in the water under the earth. Thou shalt not bow down thyself to them, nor serve them: for I the Lord thy God am a jealous God, visiting the iniquity of the fathers upon the children, unto the third and fourth generation of them that hate me; and shewing mercy unto thousands of them that love me; and keep my commandments.

50. QUEST. What is required in the second commandment?

Assw. The fecond commandment requireth the receiving, observing, and keeping pure and entire, all fuch religious worship and ordinances as God hath appointed in his word.

Quelt. T. What is the opinion of the Papilts about this com-

Answ. They alledge that it is not a diffinit precept from the first, but only an appendix, or supplement thereto, by way of illustration.

Quest. 2. What is their practice, in confequence of this binion ?

An/w. They constantly leave it out in their mass-books, and other liturgies of their church, lest the people should Part H.

observe the manifest contrariety of their image-worship, to what is here fo expressly forbidden. Queft. 2. Wherein then doth the fecond commandment differ from the first?

Answ. The first commandment respects the object, and requires that we worship the true God, for our God, and no other: the fecond respects the MEANS of worship, and requires that the true God be worshipped in such a way only, and by fuch ordinances as he has appointed in his word, in opposition to all human inventions.

Quest. 4. What is meant by [religious worship]?

Anfw. That homage and respect we owe to a gracious God, as a God of infinite perfection; whereby we profess fubication to, and confidence in him, as our God in Christ, for the fupply of all our wants; and afcribe the praise and glory that is due to him, as our chief good, and only happiriefs, Pfal. xcv. 6. 7.

Quest. 5. What are these religious [ordinances], which God hath appointed in his word?

Anfw. They are " prayer and thankfgiving in the name. " of Christ; the reading, preaching, and hearing of the " word; the administration and receiving of the facraments; " church-government and discipline; the ministry, and " maintenance thereof; religious fasting; fwearing by the " name of God; and vowing to him *."

Quest. 6. Is prayer a moral duty, founded in the law of nature?

Anfw. Surely it is: the necessary dependance of the rational creature upon its Creator, plainly proves it to be fo. Hence we find the very Heathens practifing it, when reduced to straits, Jonah i. 14.

Quest. 7. How doth it appear to be an instituted means of worlhip?

Anfw. From a variety of scripture-texts injoining the practice of it, in all cases and circumstances, Pfal. l. 15. Phil. iv. 6. 1 Theff. v. 17.

Quest. 8. What is acceptable prayer?

Anfw. It is an afking in Christ's name, what God has promiled to give, John xiv. 13.; with a full perfualion that he doth hear, and will answer, Mark xi. 24. James i. 6.

Larger Cat. Queft 108.

Quest. 9. How manifold is religious thanksgiving?
Answ. Two FOLD: stated and occasional.

Quest. 10. What is stated thanksgiving?

Anju. It is not only the thankful actnowledgment of mercies daily received, which is a branch of prayer; but likewife the finging the praises of God with the voice, which is a flated act of worthip, diffinct from prayer, though ejaculatory prayer ought, always, to be joined with it, Pfall. viii. 7.

Quest. 11. How do you prove that singing with the voice is a stated act of worship, appointed under the New Testament?

Answ. From the example of Christ and his apostles, who, after the first supers, sang an hymn, (or fslam, as on the margin), Matth. xxvi. 30.; and from the injunction laid upon all Christians to be employed in this exercise, as a stated duty. Eph. v. 18. 4.9, James v. 19.

Quest. 12. What should be the subject-matter of our praises to God?

Answ. The psalms, hymns, and spiritual songs, which are dictated by the Spirit of God in scripture; and not any human composure whatsoever, Eph. v. 19.

Quest. 13. In what manner should these be suno?

Anfw. With grace in our hearts to the Lord, Col. iii. 16.
Quest. 14. What is it to fing with grace in our hearts to the Lord?

Anfo. It is to have our hearts going along with our voice, in suitable acts of faith, and elevated affections, Pfal. lvii.

Quest. 15. Are not the Pfalms of David, as we fing them in our language, of human compositive?

Anfw. The translation in metre is human, but the fense and meaning is the same with the original.

Quest. 16. What is occasional thanksgiving?

Anjou. It is the fetting fome time apart, for giving thanks to God, for fome remarkable mercy and deliverance, refrecting either churches and nations in general, Neh. xii. 27. or ourfelves and families in particular, Eph. v. 20.

Quest. 17. How ought this duty to be gone about?

Answ. With an humble fense of our utter unworthiness of the least of all God's favours, 2 Sam, vii. 18.

Quest. 18. Are reading, hearing, and preaching of the word, acts of worship?

Anfw Although they are not acts of fuch immediate worfish as prayer and praife, wherein God is intmediately addreffed; yet being the infittuted and ordinary means of falvation, they ought to be practifed and attended, with that reverence and regard, which is due to the great God our Saviour, who is prefent in them, Matth. xxviii. 20. Acts x.
32.

Quest. 19. How are the administration and receiving of the facraments acts of worlbip?

Anfw. As therein, by the fensible figns of divine appointment, Christ and his benefits are represented, scaled, and applied to believers, Gal. iii. 27. I Cor. xi. 26.

Queft. 20. In what fense are church-government and discipline, to be ranked among the ordinances of divine worship?

Answer in as far as they are exercised in the name of the Lord Jesus, the alone head of his church, according to the Aele of his word, by church-judicatories lawfully conflitute, Matth. xviii. 20.

Quest. 21. Why is the ministry, and maintenance thereof, placed among religious ordinances?

Anju. Becaute as a standing ministry in the church, till the end of time, is of express divine institution, Eph. iv. 11. 12. 13.; is the suitable and comfortable maintenance thereof, is as expressly appointed, not only in the Old Testament, Numb. xviii. 21. 24. but likewife in the New, 1 Cor. ix. 13. 14. Do ye not know, that they which minister about hely things, live of the things of the temple? and they which wait at the altar, are partakers with the altar? Even so bath the Lord ordained, that they which preach the guspel, should live of the gassel.

Quest. 22. What is religious fasting?

Anjio. "A religious fast requires total abstinence, nor only from all food, (unless bodily weakness do manifestly disable from holding out, till the fast be ended,—), but alfo for from all worldly labour, discourses, and thoughts, and from all bodily delighes.—e" Josh, vii. 6. Judg. xx. 26.

Quest. 23. Whether is bodily fasting, or bare abstinence from food, any part of religious worship?

Anfw. Not properly in itself; but as it is a mean of divine appointment, for fitting and disposing us for more spiritualand foleran exercifes.

Oueft. 24. How doth fasting appear to be a mean of divine appointment?

Answ. From the practice of the faints under the Old Teftament, Efth. iv. 16. Dan. x. 2. 3.; from the testimony of Christ, Matth. vi. 17, 18, and xvii. 21.; and the example of his apostles, under the New, Acts xiii. 3. and xiv. 23.

Oucst, 25. What are these spiritual and solemn exercises, which fasting is designed to dispose us for ?

Anfw. Deep humiliation of foul before the Lord, on account of fin, Ezra ix. 6.; free confession thereof, Dan. ix. 20. and turning therefrom, Joel ii. 12. as the genuine fruits of our taking hold of God's covenant, Jer. 1. 4. 5.; together with an importunate requesting of our gracious God, for that which is the particular occasion of the fast, Pfal, xxxv. 13.

Quest, 26. Whether is religious fasting an occasional, or a Answ. It is merely occasional and extraordinary, to be gone about only as the call of providence may require and Quest. 27. What are the occurrences, in providence, which are a call to this extraordinary duty?

Anfw. "When fome great and notable judgments are " either inflicted upon a people," Dan. ix. 3. 12. 13. 14. " or, apparently imminent," 2 Chron. xx. 2. 3. 4. " or, 56 by fome extraordinary provocations notoriously deferved," 1 Sam. vii, 3. 6.; " as also, when some special blessing is to " be fought and obtained "," verf. 5. 8. 10.

Quest. 28. Is swearing by the name of God an act of immediate and instituted worship?

Answ. Undoubtedly it is: and that either when we devote ourselves to God in a covenant of duties, Deut. vi. 13. or declare the truth upon oath, when called thereto: because, in both cases, the name of God is solemnly interposed and invocated, Jer. iv. 2.

Quest. 29. To whom are vows to be made? Anfav. To God alone, as the only party and witness in the making and performing of them, Pfal. lxxvi. 11. Vow and pay unto the LORD your GOD.

Quest. 30. What Should be the subject-matter of our vows unto God?

Anfw. Nothing but what may tend either to promote the practice of commanded duty, Pfal. cxix. 57.; or prevent the commission of any sin, to which we are more ordinarily inclined and addicted, verf. 106.

Quest, 21. What doth this commandment require, with rewest to all these ordinances, and parts of worlbip, which God kas appointed in his word?

Anfav. The receiving and observing them; and keeping them pure and entire.

Quest. 32. What is it to [receive] God's ordinances?

Anfw. It is to approve of, and embrace them, as bearing the stamp of his authority upon them, Pfal. lxxxiv. 1. 2.

Quest. 33. What is it to [observe] them?

Answ. It is to set about the practice of them, or to be actually employed in them, Pfal. lv. 17. and cxix. 164. Luke Quest. 34. What is it to keep the ordinances of God

Fourel?

Anfro. It is to contribute our utmost endeavour to preserve thein from all mixture of human invention, Deut, xii. 32.

Quest. 35. What is it to keep them [entire]?

Jufw. It is, in the exercise of faith, to attend upon each of them in their proper feafon, fo as that one duty may not justle out another, Luke i. 6.

Quest. 36. What doth God require of us, in this command, with reference to all falle worship?

Answ. He requires " the disapproving, detesting, oppoof fing all false worship, Pfal. xvi. 4.; and, according to ee each one's place and calling, removing it, and all monu" ments of idolatry, Deut. vii. 5. *"

SI. QUEST. What is forbidden in the fecond commandment?

Answ. The fecond commandment forbid-deth the worshipping of God by images, or any other way not appointed in his word.

Quest. 1. What are the leading fins forbidden in this commandment?

Answ. Idolatry and will-worthin.

Quest. 2. What is the idolatry here condemned?

Answ. The worshipping of God by images : Thou Shalt not make unto thee any graven image, &c.

Quest. 3. What is an image?

Anfw. It is a statue, picture, or likeness of any creature whatfoever.

Quest. 4. Is it lawful to have images or pictures of mere Anfiv. Yes, providing they be only for ornament ; or the defign be merely historical, to transmit the memory of perfous and their actions to posterity.

Quest. 5. Can any image or representation be made of Anfw. No; it is absolutely impossible; he being an infinite, incomprehensible Spirit, If. xl. 18. To whom will re liken God? or what likeneft will ye compare unto him? If we cannot delineate our own fouls, much less the infinite God; Acts xvii. 29. We ought not to think that the Godhead is like unto gold, or filver, or stone, graven by art and man's de-Quest. 6. What judgment (bould we form of these who have devised images of God, or of the persons of the adorable Trinity?

Answ. We should adjudge their practice to be both unlawful and abominable.

Quest. 7. Why unlawful?

Answ. Because directly contrary to the express letter of the law in this commandment, and many other scriptures : fuch as Jer. x. 14. 15. Hof. xiii. 2. and particularly Deut. iv. 15 .- 19. and 23. Take ye therefore good heed unto yourfelves, (for ye faw NO MANNER of similitude on the day that the Lord spake unto you in Horeb, out of the midst of the fire ). lest ye corrupt yourselves, and make you a graven image, the similitude of any figure, the likeness of male or female, &c.

Quest. 8. How is it abominable?

Anfw. As it is a debasing the Creator of heaven and earth to the rank of his own creatures; and a practical denying of all his infinite perfections, Pfal. 1. 21.

Quest. o. May we not have a picture of CHRIST, who has a true body ?

Anfw. By no means: because, though he has a true body and a reasonable soul, John i. 14. yet his human nature fub-filts in his divine perfon, which no picture can represent, Pfall xlv. 2.

Quest. 10. Why then ought all pictures of Christ to be abox minated by Christians?

Anfw. Because they are downright lies, representing no more than the picture of a mere man; whereas, the true Christ is Cod-man; Immanuel, God with us, 1 Tim. iii. 16. Matth. i. 22.

Quest. 11. Is it lawful to form any inward representation of God, or of Christ, upon our fancy, bearing a resemblance to any creature what foever ?

Anfau. By no means, because this is the very inlet unto gross outward islostry: for, when once the Heathen because vain in their imaginations, they presently changed the glory of the uncorruptible God, into an image made like to corruptible man, and to birds and four-footed beasts, and creeping things, Rom. i. 21: 22.

Quest. 12. What is it to worship God by images, according to the idolatrous practice of the Papilts?

Anfw. It is either to make use of images as pretended belps to devotion; or to worship God before the images of faints, as intercessors with him.

Quest. 13. Can any feigned image of God, or of Christ, be helpful in devotion?

Äŋfio. No: it is the Spirit only who helpeth sur infirmities, in all acts of fipiritual devotion, Rom. viii. 26. And that faith, which is necessary for acceptance in duty, fixes upon the word of the living God, as its fole foundation, and not upon dead images, Luke xvi. 31.

Quest. 14. Will it excuse the Papists from the charge of idolarry, that they pretend to worship the true God before images, or by them, as means of worship, and not the very images themselves?

Anfw. Not at all', because this is a mean of worship expressly forbidden in this commandment, which prohibits all bowing down before images, upon whatever pretext it be: "Thou Shalt not BOW DOWN thyself to them, nor serve 66 them. "

Quest. 15. Do they worship images who bow down before them, even though it be the true God they intend to worthin by them ?

Anfw. In scripture-reckoning they do, If. ii. 8. o. Their land is full of idols : they worlbip the work of their own bands. -The mean man boweth down, and the great man humbleth himself.

Quest. 16. Was it the ultimate intention of the Israelites in the wilderness, to pay divine worship to the golden calf itself ;

or to TEHOVAR, by it, and before it?

Anfw. It was undoubtedly their ultimate intention to worship JEHOVAH, the true God, before that image; as appears from Exod. xxxii. 5. When Aaron faw it, he built an altar BEFORE IT; -and faid, To-morrow is a feast to the LORD, (or IEHOVAH, as it is in the original). And yet, because they did this, so directly contrary to the very letter of this commandment, they are charged with worshipping the image itself, vers. 8 .- They have made them a golden calf. and have worshipped IT, &c.

Quest. 17. Do not they who honour the picture of a prince, honour the prince himself?

Answ. If the prince forbid the making of his picture, it is a contempt of his authority to have it. God has frictly prohibited all images on religious accounts, and therefore it is impious to have or use them for these ends, Lev. xxvi. 1.

Quest. 18. May images be worshipped at all upon their own account?

Anfw. No: because they are the work of man's bands ; far inferior in dignity to man himfelf, If. xliv. o .- 18.

Quest. 19. May they be worshipped on account of their ORI-CINALS; or these whom they are designed to represent?

Anfw. No: whether they be designed to represent GoD, or the faints.

Quest. 20. Why may they not be worshipped, as they are defigned to represent Gop? Anfw. Because he never put his name in them; but declares his greatest hatred and detestation of them, Ier, xliv. Quest. 21. Why may they not be worshipped, as they are designed to represent eminent faints?

Answ. Because saints, however eminent, are but mere creatures; and therefore cannot be the objects of worship, either in themselves, or by their images, Acts xiv. 14. 15.

Quest. 22. Can faints in heaven be intercessors for finners on earth?

Answ. No: because intercession being sounded on satisfaction; none but Christ can be the intercessor, in regard none but he is the propitiation for our sins, 1 John ii. 1. 2.

Quest. 23. Is it lawful to have images or pictures in churches, though not for worship, yet for instruction, and raising the affections; as the Lutherans plead?

Anfau. No; because God has expressly prohibited not only the worfbipping, but the MAKING of any image whatforever on a religious account: and the fetting them up in churches, cannot but have a native tendency to beget a facred veneration for them; and therefore ought to be abflained from, as having, at leaft, an appearance of evil, 1 Thess. v. 22.

Quest. 24. May they not be placed in churches for beauty and ornament?

Anjw. No: the proper ornament of churches is the found preaching of the golpel, and the pure dispensation of the sacraments, and other ordinances of divine institution.

Quest. 25. Were not the images of the cherubims placed in the tabernacle and temple, by the command of God himself?

Anjou. Yes; but out of all hazard of any abufe, being placed in the boby of bolies, where none of the people ever came: they were inflituted by God himfelf, which images are not; and they belonged to the typical and ceremonial worship, which is now quite abolished.

Quest. 26. Are our forefathers to be blamed, for pulling down altars, images, and other monuments of idolatry, from places of public worship, at the reformation?

Anfw. No; they had feripture-precept and warrant for the defined their allers, and break down their images, and cut down their groves, and burn their graven images with fire-

Quest. 27. What do you understand by will-worship, the other leading fin, forbidden in this commandment?

Answ. It is the worshipping God [any other way not ap-

Quest. 28.

Ouest, 28. Should there be an express appointment in the word, for every part of divine worlbip we fet about?

Anfw. Undoubtedly there should; otherwise we are guilty of innovating upon the worship of God, and prescribing rules to the Almighty, which is both displeasing to him, and unprofitable to ourselves, Matth. xv. o.

Quest, 29. Who are they that are guilty of innovating upon the worlbin of God?

Answ. All they who prefumptuously annex their own fuperstitious inventions to the divine institutions, under pretence of their being teaching fignificant ceremonies; as they of the Popish and Episcopal persuasion do.

Quest. 30. What are these fignificant ceremonies which they add to the instituted ordinances of God's worship?

Anfw. The fign of the crofs in baptism; kneeling at receiving the facrament of the supper; erecting altars in churches; and bowing at the name of JESUS, are a few of many. Quest. 31. Why may not fuch ceremonies be used, when they are defigned for exciting devotion, and beautifying the wor-

Abip of God?

Answ. Because God has expressly forbidden the least adding unto, or abating from the orders and directions he himfelt has given in his word concerning his own worship, Deut. xii. 30. 31. 32 .- What things foever I command you, observe to do it : thou Shalt not ADD thereunto, nor DIMI-NISH from it.

Quest. 32. Were there not fignificant ceremonies in the Jewish worship under the Old Testament?

Answ. Yes; but they were of express divine appointment; and by the same appointment abolished in the death and refurrection of Christ, Heb, ix. 1 .- 15.

Quest. 33. May not fignificant ceremonies be founded on I Cor. xiv. 40. Let all things be done decently, and in order?

Anfw. No; because that text speaks only of the decent and orderly observation of the ordinances of God already instituted; and not in the least of any thing new to be added as a part of worship.

Quest. 34. Is reading of sermons, or discourses from the pulpit, an ordinance of God, appointed in his word?

Answ. So far from it, that we find the very contrary practifed by our Lord, while he was here upon earth, Luke iv. 16 .- 23. where, after reading his text out of the prophet Efaias. Efaias, it is faid, He closed the book,—and began to fay unto them, This day is this scripture fulfilled in your ears, &c. Quest. 35. How may we be further guilty of a breach of this commandment, than by idolatry and will-worship?

Anfw. When we either neglect, Heb. x. 25, contemn, Matth, xxii. 5, hinder, chap. xxiii. 13, or oppose the wordhip and ordinances which God hath appointed in his word, 1 Thesti. ii. 16.; or tolerate those who publish and maintain erroneous opinions or practices, Rev. ii. 14. 15. 20.

Quest. 36. What is the dostrine of our Confession, concerning the tolerating of those who publish and maintain erroneous opinions or practices?

Anjus. That " for their publishing of such opinions, or maintaining of such practices, as are contrary to the light of nature, or to the known principles of Christianity, whether concerning faith, worthip, or conversation; or to the power of godlines;—they may lawfully be called to account, and proceeded against by the cenfares of the church, and by the power of the civil magistrate *."

52. QUEST. What are the reasons annexed to the feconia commandment?

Answ. The reasons annexed to the second commandment, are, God's sovereignty over us, his propriety in us, and the zeal he hath to his own worship.

Quest. 1. Why doth our Catechism make mention of REA-SONS ANNEXED to this, and the three following commandments?

ments:

Answ. Because God himself has been pleased to subjoin to each of these precepts, the reasons, arguments, or motives, that should influence our obedience unto them.

Quest. 2. How many reasons are there annexed to this fecond commandment?

Anfw. THREE; contained in these words, " I the Lord thy God am a jealous God."

Quest. 3. Which is the FIRST of these reasons?

* See Confession, chap xx. $ 4. and the scriptures there quoted

Anfw. It is [God's fovereignty over us], in these words, I THE LORD; or, I JEHOVAH.

Quest. 4. What do you understand by God's fovereignty over Anfav. It is his abfolute fupreme power, or right of dominion over us, as his creatures, Rom. ix. 20. 21. whereby he can dispose of, vers. 22. 23. and prescribe unto us as seemeth him good, Deut. vi. 17.

Quest. 5. Wherein lies the strength of this first reason, for worshipping God by means of his own appointment?

Anfau. It lies in this, That being our fovereign Lord, it must be his fole prerogative to preferibe to us the means of his own worthin; and of confequence that it must be our duty, to make his pleasure herein, both the rule and reason our punctual observance of what he injoins, Pfal. xev. 2. 3.

Quest. 6. What is the SECOND reason annexed to this commandment ?

Answ. It is [bis propriety in us], in these words, THY GOD.

Quest. 7. What other propriety has God in us, than by right of creation?

Answ. He has a propriety likewise by right of redemption, Anjur. He has a propriety likewise by right of redemption, intimated in the preface to the commands, I am the Lord THY GOD, which have brought thee out of the land of Egypt, out of the house of bondage, Exod. xx. 2.

Quest. 8. Whether is it his propriety, by right of creation, or by right of redemption, that constitutes the federal relation between him and us?

Anfw. It is his propriety by right of redemption, If. xliii.

1.—I have REDEEMED thee, I have called thee by thy name, thou art MINE.

Quest. 9. What influence should his propriety in us, as his people, have upon our receiving and observing the ordinances of his worthin?

Asju. If we are his people, we are ranfomed by the blood of his only begotten Son, and fo under the ftrongest ties of duty and gratitude, to cleave to the precise mapner of worship prescribed in his word, rejecting all other modes and forms thereof whatfoever, Josh, xxiv. 24.

Quest 10. What is the THIRD reason annexed to this commandment?

Anfw. It is [the zeal he hath to his own worship], in these words, I—AM A JEALOUS GOD.

Quest. 11. In what sense is God said to be a jealous God?

Anju. Jealoufy is afcribed unto him (after the manner of men), to denote that he puts no confidence in his creatures, Deut. v. 29.; that he has his eye upon them; and is highly offended when they flight him, and beflow that love upon any other, which is due to him alone, chap xxxii. Is,—26.

Quest. 12. What is it for God to have [zeal] for [his own worthip?

Anfin. It is to have fuch a regard for the ordinances of his own inflitution, as highly to refent and revenge any addition unto, or alteration of them; whereof there is an awful inflance in Nadab and Abihu, who offered firange fire before the Lord, Lev. x. 1.—4.

Quest. 13. Wherein doth God manifest his zeal for his worship?

Answ. Both by way of threatening, and by way of promise.

Quest. 14. What doth God threaten as a testimony of his zeal for his worship?

Answ. To visit "the iniquity of the fathers upon the chil-"dren, to the third and fourth generation of them that hate" him.

Quest. 15. What is it to visit the iniquity of the fathers upon the children?

Answ. It is to inflict punishment upon the children for the faults and offences of their fathers.

Quest. 16, Are there any scripture-examples of God's doing

Infiu. As to temporal punishments there are.—Seven of Saul's fons were hanged before the Lord, for his offence in slaying the Gibeonites, 2 Sam. xxi. 8. 9. And for the sins of Jerobam, his whole house was utterly extinguished, 1 Kings xv. 20. 30.

Quest. 17. Is this thought just and equal among men?

Anju. Yes; as appears by the common practice of difinheriting the children of traitors and rebels, for the treasonable practices of their fathers; in order to create a greater deterlation of these crimes in others. Ouest. 18. Whether are temporal judgments only, or spiritual and eternal plagues also, intended in this threatening?

Answ.

Answ. Spiritual and eternal plagues are also intended, Matth. xxv. 41.

Quest. 19. How doth it appear, that spiritual and eternal judgments, are, at all, intended in this threatening?

Anjus. It appears from this, that the punishment threatened, should bear some proportion to the mercy promised; so, as that if the mercy promised, be of a spiritual and eternal nature, the judgment threatened must be of the same kind.

Quest. 20. How doth the scripture illustrate this?

Anfw. By the iffue of the final fentence at the great day, which is, that the wicked go away into everlafting punifoment, but the righteous into life eternal, Matth. xxv. 46.

Quest. 21. How doth it couful with the justice of God, to inflict spiritual and eternal judgments upon children for the fins of their parents?

Anfw. It is abundantly confiftent therewith; because the children punished with spiritual and eternal judgments, are only such as have served themselves heirs to their stathers sins, either by copying them over, Jer. xxxi. 29, 30.; or not disapproving of, and mourning for them; by which means their sathers sins become their own, Pfal. xiix. 13.

Quest. 22. How can the visiting the iniquity of the fathers upon the children, be reconciled with Ezek, xviii. 20.—The fon shall not bear the iniquity of the father ?

Anju. This paffage in Ezekiel is to be underflood of the fon, who doth not tread in the steps of his wicked state; as is evident from verf. 14, 17. If he beget a fon that feeth all his father's fins,—and dath not fuch like:—he fball not die for the iniquity of his father, he fball furths live: whereas the threatening in this commandment respects wicked children, who copy after the example of their gracelefy parents; sa Nadab the son of Jeroboam did, who walked in the way of his father, and in his fin wherewith he made Ifrael to fin, 1 Kings xv. 26.

Quest. 23. How doth it appear from the threatening itself, that this is the meaning?

Anfw. Because the children, on whom God visits the iniquity of their fathers, are expressly faid to be the third and fourth generation of them that HATE him.

Quest. 24. Why doth God threaten to visit the iniquity of the fathers upon the children, to the third and fourth generation only, of them that hate him; and not to all succeeding generations of fuch children?

Anjow. Not but that the haters of God unto all generations final meet with deferved punishment; but the threatening is limited to the third and fourth generation, for a greater judgment upon wicked parents, some of whom may live fee their posserity of their generations, and so read their own sin in the punishment of their offspring whom they have seduced; as Zedekhah, for his wickednels, saw his font, and the princes of Yudah, slain before his eyes, Jer. lii. 3, 10.

Quest. 25. What if such wicked parents shall die, before they fee their third and fourth generations?

Japus. In that case, if their confeiences are not quite feard, they will die under the dread and fear of the judgments here threatened befalling their children, Hof. ii. 4.; as well as of the fiery indignation which shall devour themselves, Heb. x. 27.

Quelt. 26. May not God formetimes visit the iniquities of the breakers of this commandment, upon their godly children?

Anfw. He will never vifit the iniquities of the fathers upon their godly chikfren, with fipritual and eternal judgments, though fometimes he may do it with temporal flockes; as no doubt many that were godly were carried captive to Babylon for the fins of their fathers, Lam. v. 7.; which, neverthelets, was for their real good, Jer. xxiv. 5.

Quest. 27. What may we learn from this threatening of visiting the iniquity of the fathers upon the children?

Anfo. That as nothing can be more cruel than for parents to east a bad example before their children, Jer. ix. 44. 15.3 so the example of forefathers will not vindicate their posterity in the way of sin, particularly in the practice of any corrupt or falle worthip. Ezek. xx. 18. 21.

Quest. 28. What is it, on the other hand, that God promises, as an evidence of his zeal for his worship?

Anfw. To shew mercy to thousands of them that love him,

Quest. 29. Who are they that truly love God?

Anfw. They who, from a faith of his own operation, have complacency and delight in him as their own God and portion, Pfal. v. 11.

Quest. 30. What is it to keep his commandments?

Answ. It is to effay an uniform and felf-denied obedience to the law as a rule, because Christ has fulfilled it as a covenant, Rom. vii. 4.

Quest. 31. What mercy doth God shew to them that love him, and keep his commandments?

Anfw. He shews strengthening, Pfal xciv. 18. comforting, Pfal. xxxi. 7. directing, Exod. xv. 13. and perfevering mercy unto them, 2 Sam. vii. 15.

Quest. 32. Doth God Shew mercy to children, because they are the offspring of godly parents?

Anfw. No; but merely because so it pleaseth him, Rom. ix. 15.—I will have mercy on whom I will have mercy.

Quest. 33. What benefit then have the children of godly parents beyond others ?

Anfw. They have the privilege of a religious education, Gen. xviii. 19.; are the children of many prayers, Job is 5.; and may plead the promife, I will be a God to thee, and to thy feed after thee, Gen. xvii. 7.

Quest. 34. Why doth the threatening run only to the third and fourth generation of them that hate him, and yet the promife to thousands of them that love him?

Anju. To flow that God has ta greater pleasure in the egrels of mercy, than in the venting of wrath, Ezek. xxxiii.

11.; and likewife for an encouragement both to parents and children, to aim at walking in all the commandments and ordinances of the Lord blameleffs, Luke 1. The state of the commandments and ordinances of the Lord blameleffs, Luke 1.

53. QUEST. Which is the third commandment?

Assw The third commandment is. Thou fall not take the name of the Lord thy God in van: for the Lord will not hold him guiltlefs that taketh his name in yain.

54. QUEST. What is required in the third commandment?

Answ. The third commandment requireth the holy and reverend use of God's names, titles, attributes, ordinances, word, and works.

Quest, I. What doth this commandment require in general? Answ. That the instituted means of God's worship be used in a right MANNER, becoming the majesty of him with whom we have to do. Pfal. v. 7.

Queft, 2. What is the duty directly opposite to the fin of taking God's name in vain Answ. It is the sanctifying of his name, If. viii. 12. Sanctify the Lord of holts himself, and let him be your fear and your dread. Quest. 3. What do you understand by the NAME of God? Answ. Every thing, whereby he is pleased to make himfelf known.

Quest. 4. Whereby doth God make himself known?

Answ. By his [names, titles, attributes, ordinances, word, and works ].

Quest. c. Does God need any name to diffinguish and difference him from others?

Answ. No: because he is a most singular Being, quite well diffinguished from all others, by the infinity and abfolute perfection of his nature, If. xliv. 6.

Quest. 6. Why then are [names] afcribed unto him in fcripture?

Answ. That fome knowledge of his nature and perfections may be conveyed unto us. Acts ix. 15.

Quest. 7. What are the names whereby he conveys the knowledge of himfelf unto us?

Anfw. He conveys the knowledge of his absolute, eternal, and immutable effence by the names of JEHOVAH, Exod. vi. 3. JAH, Pfal. lxviii. 4. and I AM, Exod. iii. 14.; the knowledge of his excellency and fovereignty, by the names Gop and LORD, Deut. vi. 4.; and the knowledge of the effential relation of the three divine perfons among themselves, by the names of FATHER, SON, and HOLT GHOST, Matth. xxviii. 10. Quest. 8. Is there any difference betwixt God's names and his titles?

Anfw. His names fet forth what he is in himfelf; his titles, what he is unto others.

Quest. o. How are God's [titles] commonly distinguished? Anfw. Into these that belong to him as the God of nature, and thefe that are afcribed unto him as the God of grace.

Quest 10.

Quest. 10. What are the titles that belong to him as the God of nature?

Anfw. They are such as these, The Creator of the ends of the earth, Is. xl. 28.; the Preserver of men, Job vii. 20.; King of nations, Jer. x. 7.; and Lord of hosts, Is. i. q.

Quest. 11. What are the titles that are ascribed unto him as the God of grace?

Anfw. They are these following among others; The God of Abraham, Isac, and of Jacob, Exod. iii. 6.; the Holy One of Israel, II. xlviii. 17.; King of faints, Rev. xv. 3.; the Father. of mercies, 2 Cor. i. 3.; the hearer of prayer, Pfal. 1xv. 2. and the God of faluation, Pfal. Ixviii. 2.

Quest. 12. Which is the most common and ordinary title ascribed to God under the New Testament?

Anfw. It is the infinitely amiable, and encouraging title of being the God and Father of our Lord Jefus Christ, Eph. i. 3. I Pet. i. 3.

i. 3. 1 Pet. i. 3. Quest. 13. What comfortable views may we take of God, as he is the God and Father of our Lord Jefus Christ?

Anfw. In this light we may view him as a reconciled God, Chrift, Eph.i. 6. 7.; and as our God and Father in him, John xx. 17.—I aftend unto my Father and your Father, and to my God and your God.

Quest. 14. What is to be understood by God's [attributes]?

Answ. The perfections and excellencies which are ascribed unto him as the effential properties of his nature *, Quest. 15. What are God's [ordinances]?

Anfw. The reading, preaching, and hearing of the word; the administration of the sacraments; prayer and praise; religious fasting and thanksgiving †.

Quest. 16. What are the ordinances wherein the name of God is more immediately interposed?

Anfw. The name of God is more immediately interposed in oaths, vows, and lots.

Ouest. 17. What is an OATH?

Answ. It is an act of religious worship, wherein God is folemnly invocated, or called upon, as a witness, for the confirmation of some matter in doubt. Quest. 18. Why is it faid to be an act of religious wor-thin? Answ. Because there is, or ought to be, in every formal oath, a folemn invocation of the name of God, Deut. vi. 13. Thou Shalt fear the Lord thy God, -and Shalt Sweat by his name.

Quest. 19. What is imported in calling upon God as a witness in an oath?

Answ. It imports, that we acknowledge him to be the infallible fearcher of our hearts; the powerful avenger of all perjury and falsehood; and at the same time to be infinitely superior to us: for men verily swear by the greater, Heb. vi. 16.

Quest. 20. In what cases should an oath be required?

Anhw. Only in cases that are doubtful, when the truth of things cannot be known with certainty any other way.

Quest. 21. What is the end of an oath in a lawful judicature? Anfw. It is for confirmation of the truth formerly doubtful; and for terminating strife and contradiction among men .- An oath for confirmation is to them an end of all strife, Heb. vi. 16.

Quest. 22. What are the necessary qualifications of a law-

Answ. That we swear-in truth, in judgment, and in righteoufness, Jer. iv. 2.

Quest. 23. What is it to fwear in truth?

Anfw. It is to take special care, that what is sworn be firicily agreeable to truth; and that there be an exact agreement between the fentiments of our minds, and the words of our mouth, without the least equipocation, or mental refermation.

Quest. 24. What is it to equivocate, or dissemble, in an onth?

Anfw. It is to have an inward referved meaning and fense of words, contrary to the common and ordinary acceptation of them, and that with a defign to deceive.

Quest. 25. Wherein confifts the evil and sinfulness of this practice?

Anfw. It destroys the nature and end of an oath, which is to bring forth nothing but the truth: it opens a wide door to all falfehood and lying, contrary to Eph. iv. 25. Wherefore putting away lying, fleak every man the truth with his neighbour: and it unhinges the firmelt bonds of fociety, that none can put confidence in another.

Quest. 26. What is it to fwear in judgment?

Affig. It is to fwear with knowledge and deliberation; fericully pondering in our mind, what it is we are about to fwear, and the folemn appeal we make unto God in the oath, together with the dangerous rifk we run, if we fwear either fallely or ignorantly.

Quest. 27. What is it to fwear in righteousness?

Anfw. It is to give our oath only in things lawful, or fuch as are confiltent with piety towards God, and equity towards man; and likewife to give it upon a lawful occation.

Quest. 28. When is a civil oath taken upon a lawful occasion?

Anfw. When it is required by a lawful magistrate, for the ending of strife and debate, and the impartial administration of justice.

Quest. 29. How do you prove that it is warrantable for upon oath, when called thereunto?

Anjou. From this, that an oath being no part of the ceremonial law, there can no reason be given, why it was lawful to swear under the Old Testament, which will not hold in the like circumstances Now; especially as there are approved examples of the use of an oath under the New Testament, 2 Cor. i. 22, Rev. x. 6. Heb. vi. (6.

Quest. 30. Doth not our Lord fay, Matth. v. 34.—Swear not at all; and the apostle James, chap. v. 12. Above all things fwear not?

Anfw. These texts do manifestly discharge prosane swearing in ordinary conversation, and not lawful swearing in judgment, when called thereto; as appears from the injunction subjoined in both places, Let your communication be, Tea, yea; Nay, nay.

Quett, 31. What is the ordinary outward form or sign, in fcripture, of appealing to God in an oath?

Answ. It is the lifting up of the hand; as appears from Gen. xiv. 22. Dan. xii. 7. Rev. x. 5. 6.

Quest. 32.

Quest. 32. What are we to think of that mode of fwearing by touching and kiffing the Gospel?

Answ. It is evidently superstitious, if not idolatrous; borrowed by the Papists, from the Heathens, who worshipped their idols in this manner, Job xxxi. 27. Hof. xiii. 2.

Quest. 33. How are oaths commonly distinguished as to their KINDS?

Answ. Into affertory and promissory oaths.

Quest. 34. What is an affertory oath?

Answ. It is an invoking God as a witness to the truth of what we declare, about things past or present.

Quest. 35. Why called affertory?

Answ. Because the party swearing, without any promise for the future, only afferts the things to have been or to be at present, as he then sweareth.

Quest. 36. What is the chief use of affertory oaths?

Anfw. It is to determine fuits and processes in human courts about matters of fact.

Quest. 37. What is a promissory oath?

Answ. It is the invoking God as a witness to the performing of a thing for the time to come, either absolutely or conditionally.

Quest. 38. Why called promissory?

Answ. Because the party swearing promiseth or engageth to do something hereafter.

Quest. 39. What Should be the subject-matter of affertory

Anfw. Such things as are both true and weighty, and which we know to be fo.

Queft. 40. What should be the subject-matter of promissory Answ. Such things as, to our knowledge, are lawful, possible, and in our power to perform.

Quest. 41. How may promissory oaths be subdivided?

Antw. Into civil and religious.

Quest. 42. What has a civil promissory onth a respect unto?
Answ. Unto contracts and engagements among men, whether of a more private or public nature.

Quest. 43. May not the supreme magistrate require an allegiance of his jubjects, or an oath of sidelity to obey his just and lawful commands?

Answ. It appears evidently from scripture that he may,

Eccl.

Quest. 44. What has a religious promissory outh a respect unto?

Answ. It respects the duties and services we owe more immediately to God, and the interests of religion *.

Quest. 45. Wherein lies the obligation of an oath?

Answ. In the strong tie or bond that the party swearing comes under, to the performance of fome duty engaged unto. Quest, 46. How manifold is the obligation of a promissory anth?

Anfw. Twofol, p: one unto the person to whom the oath is made, as a party: the other to God by whom the oath is made, as a witness and revenger.

Quest. 47. What is the difference between the obligation of a promise, and the obligation of an oath?

Anfw. A man is bound to perform his promife as well as his oath; but an oath being an immediate invocation of the name of God as a witness and judge, it is, on this account. of a ftronger obligation, and the breach of it a more heinous fin, than the breach of a simple promise.

Quest. 48. Doth not all obligation to duty respect a future time wherein it is to be performed? Anfw. It necessarily doth for in the nature of the thing: although in some cases the time of performance may be very fbort, after the obligation is contracted.

Quest. 49. What obligation doth a person come under in an affertory oath, which respects the time past, or present? Anfw. He comes under an obligation to declare the truth. and nothing but the truth, in what he is about to fay; or. that his words shall exactly agree with his mind.

Quest. 50. What obligation doth a person come under in a promissory oath, which respects the time to come?

Anfw. He comes under an obligation to endeavour, as far as in him lieth, to fulfil that which he hath fworn; or, to perform all that he hath promised by oath, Numb. xxx. 2. If a man vow a vow unto the Lord, or fwear an oath to bind his foul with a bond; he shall not break his word, he shall do according to all that proceedeth out of his mouth.

Quest. 51. Is an oath about a thing lawful and possible, obligatory, even though it be extorted by force or fear?

Answ. Undoubtedly it is; because of the reverence due to God, by whom the oath is made as a witness and judge. Lev. xix. 12. Ye fball not fwear by my name falfely, neither thatt thou profane the name of the God: I am the Lord. Matth. v. 33. Thou fbalt not for fwear thyfelf, but fbalt perform unto the Lord thine oaths. Quest. 52. Is a person bound to pay such a sum to a robber as he has promifed by his oath, for the ranfom of his life?

Answ. He is certainly bound to pay it, because of two PENAL evils, he voluntarily made choice of the least; to part with his money, rather than his life: accordingly the righteous man sweareth to his OWN HURT, and changeth not. Pfal. xv. 4.

Quest, 12. Is an oath, which is lawful as to the matter of it, though finful as to the manner, and even obtained by deceit, or rashly made, binding and obligatory upon the person who has fworn it?

Anfw. Yes: as is evident from the instance of the Gibeonites, who deceived Ifrael into a league with them by oath. and yet their oath was binding, Josh. ix. 14 .- 20.

Quest, ca. Are oaths and contracts to be kept with Heathens and heretics?

Anfav. No doubt they should, as well as with others. Zedekiah king of Judah was feverely punished for his breach of oath to the king of Babylon, 2 Chron. xxxvi. 13. Ezek. xvii. 16. Besides, if infidelity and heresy do not nullify the marriage-oath, neither ought they to make void any other lawful contract.

Quest. 55. What is a vow?

Anfw. It is a voluntary and deliberate engagement to God only as party, and that about matters of a facred or religious concern. Pfal. exxxii. 2 .- 6.

Quest. 56. What is the difference betwixt an oath and a tow ?

Answ. In an eath, man is generally the party, and God is brought in as the witness; but in a vow, God himself is always the fole party, besides his being a witness, Pfal. 1. 14.

Quest. 57. What is the subject-matter of vows?

Anfw. Only things religious; or fuch as relate immediately to the glory of God, and the falvation of our fouls.

Quest. 58. How ought vows to be entered into?

Anfw. In the exercise of faith; or in the strength of the grace that is in Christ Jesus, John xv. 5. without which there can be no performance, Phil. iv. 13.

Quest. 59. How many kinds of vows are there?

Answ. Two; personal, and social.

Quest. 60. What is a personal vow?

Anfw. It is the act of an individual or fingle perfon, taking hold of God's covenant of grace, or acquideling therein as made with Chrift, who is the all of it; and thereupon engaging to be the Lord's, and to effay the practice of all duty in his ftrength, It xliv 5. One float fay, I am the Lord's. PGla. cxix. 106. I have fowen, and will perform it, that I will keep thy righteous judgments *.

Quest. 61. What is a focial vow?

Anfw. It is the joint concurrence of feveral individuals the fame exercife, as in a perfonal one, openly avouching the Lord to be their God, Deut, xxvi. 17. where Mofes, speaking of all Ifrael, says, Thou hast avouched the Lord this day to be thy God, to wask in his ways, &c.

Quest. 62. When doth fuch a focial vow commonly get the name of a NATIONAL COVENANT?

Anju. When the representatives of a nation, or the better part of them, concur in a covenant of duties, as ingrasted upon the covenant of grace, Jet. 1. 4. 5.—The children of Ifrael field come, they and the children of Judah together,—Jaying, Come, and let us join ourfelves to the Lord, in a perpetual covenant that fhall not be forgotten. See also Nch. ix. 38. and x. 1.—30.

Quest. 63. How do you prove, that national covenanting is a warrantable duty under the New Testament?

Anfw. From its being promifed in the Old Testament, that this shall be a duty performed under the New, If. xix. 21.—The Egyptians shall know the Lord in that day, and—they shall vow a vow unto the Lord, and shall perform it. Befides, if it was a moral duty upon frecial occasions, under the Old Testament, [as appears from 2 Chron, xv. 12. and xxxiv. 31, 32. Nch. ix. 38.], it must remain to be the same, upon the like occasions, still; because Christ came not to defroy the law or the prophets, but to fulle them, Matth. v. 17.

Quest. 64. Is our obligation to moral duties increased, by our vowing or engaging to perform them?

Anfw. Although it is impossible that our obligation to moral duty can be increased by any deed of ours, beyond what it is already by the law of God, which is of the highest authority; yet by reason of our own voluntary and superadded engagement, this obligation from the law may make a deeper impression than before, Pfal. xiv. 17. 18.; and our fin receive an higher aggravation, if we either omit the duty engaged unto, or commit the evil opposite to it, Deut. xxiii.

Quest. 65. What is a LOT, or lotting?

Anfu. It is a laying affect the use of all means, or second causes, and appealing directly to God, that he may, by his immediate providence, give a present decision about any matter in question: so to the lot is cast into the lap; but the whole dissolute thereof is of the Lord. Prov. xvi. 23.

Quest. 66. Why are lots said to be an appeal to God?

Ann. Becaufe, by calling of lots between two or moe persons, or things, we put him to it, or require him immediately to declare his mind by the event, which way the decision shall go, Actis 1.24, 26.—Shew whether of these two thou half, holpen.—And the lat fell on Matthia.

Quest. 67. In what cases may a decision be put upon the casual event of a lot?

Anfw. Only in cases of great weight, and absolute necesfity, Josh. vii. 12. 14.

Quest. 68. Why should a lot be used only in a case of great weight and moment?

Anfw. Because a lot being a material or implicit invoking of God to give a decision, it would be a wicked projanation of his name, to call him to determine in trifles, or things of little or no value.

Quest. 69. Why should it be used only in cases of absolute neceffity?

Answ. Because where human prudence can determine, it would be a tempting of God, to require his decision.

Queft. 70.

Quest. 70. What then is the end of lots?

Answ. It is the same as of oaths, to determine finally in momentous controversies, that which can be decided no other way. Prov. xviii. 18. The lot caufeth contention to ceafe, and parteth between the mighty.

Quest. 71. In what manner ought lots to be used?

Answ. In a most reverend manner, as in the presence of God, who pronounceth the fentence; and in whose decision all parties ought chearfully to acquiesce, Acts i. 24, 26. And they PRAYED, -and gave forth their lots.

Quest. 72. What is the [word] wherein the name of God is declared?

Answ. The scriptures of the Old and New Testament.

Quest. 73. What is meant by God's [works] in this anfwer?

Answ. His works of creation and providence; which last includes redemption.

Quest. 74. What doth this commandment REQUIRE, with reference to God's names, titles, attributes, ordinances, word, and works?

Anfw. [The holy and reverend use of ] them.

Quest. 75. What is it to make a holy and reverend use of Anfw. It is in all our meditations, speeches, and writings, to have the most profound respect and regard for every thing, whereby God manifests his name and glory, Deut, xxviii. 58.

Quest. 76 When do we essay to make a reverend use of God's names, titles, and attributes?

Answ. When we view them as in Christ; and in this light draw virtue from them, for the increase of our faith and holiness, Exod. xxiii. 20. 21 .- Obey his voice, -for my name is in him.

Quest. 77. When do we endeavour an holy and reverend use of the ordinances?

Answ. When we view God as present in them. Matth. xxviii. 20.; and attend or perform them with a fingle eye to his glory, Pfal. lxxxvi. o.

Quest. 78. When do we use the word in a holy and reverend manner?

Answ. When we search and believe the scriptures, as sestifying of Christ, John v. 39.; and are directed by them as a lamp unto our feet, and a light unto our path, Pfal. cxix. 105.

Quest. 79. When do we effay to make a holy and reverend use of the works of God?

Answ. When we are enabled to make suitable improvement of the bright difflays he has made of his glorious excellencies, in creation, providence, and redemption, fo as to walk humbly and thankfully before him, Rev. xv. 3. 4 .- Great and marvellous are thy works, Lord God almighty; just and true are thy ways, thou King of faints. Who would not fear thee. O Lord, and glorify thy name? for thou only art holy.

55. QUEST. What is forbidden in the third commandment?

Answ. The third commandment forbiddeth all profaning or abusing of any thing whereby God maketh himfelf known.

Quest. 1. What do you understand by [profaning or abusing of any thing whereby God maketh himself known?

Answ. It is the using of his names, titles, attributes, ordinances, word, and works, in a rafb, irreverend, and unbecoming manner.

Quest. 2. How are God's names, titles, and attributes, profaned or abused by men?

Anfw. Many ways, particularly, " by blasphemy, per-" jury, finful curlings, oaths, vows, and lots "."

Quest. 3. What is blasphemy?

Answ. It is speaking in a reproachful, reviling, and undervaluing manner, of God, If. xxxvi. 20. of his word, Acts xiii. 45. or of any of his providential dispensations, Ezek, xviii. 25.

Quest. 4. What is the aggravation of this fin?

Anfw. It is an atheistical contempt of the most high God;-the greatest affront that can be done him by his creatures, Exod. v. 2.

Quest. 5. May not perfons be guilty of blass hemy in their hearts, though never uttered in words?

Anfw. Undoubtedly they may; either when atheistical thoughts of him are harboured, Pfal. xiv. 1.; or, difpara-" Larger Cat. Queft. 113.

ging and unbecoming conceptions of him entertained, Pfal. x. 11. and l. 21.

Quest. 6. What was the punishment of blasphemy, at the hand of man, by the law of God?

Anfw. It was death, Lev. xxiv. 16. He that blasphemeth the name of the Lord, he shall furely be put to death.

Quest. 7. What is perjury?

Anfw. It is a breach or violation of any folemn oath or vow, we have entered into, or come under, Matth. v. 33.

Thou Balt not for wear the left.

Quest. 8. When are persons guilty of persury in affertory paths?

Anfw. When they affert fuch a thing, upon oath, to be true, which yet they know to be falfe; like the witneffer againtf Naboth, I Kings xxi, 12: or even when they are doubtful and uncertain about the truth of what they are fwearing; like the witneffer againtf Chrift, whose witneffing did not agree together, Mark xiv, 58. 59.

Quest. q. When are persons guilty of perjury in promissory naths?

Anfw. When they promife upon oath, what they have no mind to perform; or when, without any infuperable impediment laid in their way, or any juft and relevant excufe, they fail in the performance; as in the perjury of Zedekiah king of Judah, who broke his oath to the king of Babylon, Ezek. xvii. 16.

Quest. 10. Is a person guilty of perjury, if he swears to do a thing impossible, or unlawful?

Anjou. Surely he is: for, if he fwear to a thing impossible, he fwears to a manifel lie: if he fwear to do a thing unlawful, he is doubly perjured; both in making such an oath, and in fulfilling it, as was the case with Herod, Matth. xiv. 9.10.

Quest. 11. What is the aggravation of the sin of perjury?

Anju. It not only breaks all bonds of fociety among men, but impeaches the omnificience of God himfell, calling him to atteft what conficience knows to be an untruth: and therefore God threatens, that his curfe fhall enter into the boufe of him that fweareth falfely,—and fhall confume it, with the timber thereof, and the finnes thereof, Zech. v. 3. 4.

Quest. 12. How is God's name profaned by sinful cursings? Answ. When God's wrath and vengeance is imprecated upon ourselves or others; or when the devil is any manner of way invocated for harm.

Quest. 13. What do wicked persons wish for, when they imprecate the wrath and vengeance of God upon themselves?

Answ. They do, in effect, pray, that God would hasten their everlasting destruction, and that their damnation may not slumber, but be speedily inflicted, 2 Pet. ii. 3.

Quest. 14. Do the devils themselves venture to wish for this?

Answ. No: they believe, that there is further wrath abiding them at the judgment of the great day: and they tremble at the fore-thoughts of it, James ii. 19. Jude verf.

Quest. 15. What is the evil of imprecating divine vengeance upon others t Anfu. It is a piece of the most profane, prefumptuous, and impudent freedom with the Majesty of heaven; as if he were bound to empty the vials of his wrath upon our fellowereatures, at our pleasure, and that in order to gratify our paffionate revenge upon them, 2 Sam. xvi. 5. 8.

Quest. 16. Is it not a most horrid and abominable wickedness. to call or invoke the devil to TAKE ourselves or others ?

Anju. Be fure it is; for it is a putting the devil in God's flead, or an employing of him to do God's work for him, even when he is delaying to do it himfelf; which is no lefs than devil-worfbip, and we ought not to have fellow bip with devils. 1 Cor. x. 20.

Quest. 17. How is the name of God abused by finful oaths? Alifu. When men take unlawful oaths that may be imposed upon them; and when, in their ordinary convertation, they swear by God, or by any thing whereby he maketh himself known; contrary to Matth. v. 37. Let your communication be, Yea, yea; Nay, nay; for whatsever is more than these, cometh of evil; or, of the evil one.

Quest. 18. Wherein lies the heinousness of swearing in common discourse?

Anjus, It is a most Heaven-daring wickedness, even an infulring of the great God, our Maker, to his face a actime, which we dare not, without danger, be guilty of against our fellow-creatures: and after all, there is neither pleasures nor profit attending it.

Quest. 19.

Quest. 19. Is it a taking of God's name in vain, to swear by the creatures; such as, by heaven, by our life, soul, confcience, or the like ?

Anfw. Yes; because swearing by any of the creatures, is every a swearing by God, the Creator and Preserver of all things, Matth. xxii. 22. He that shall swear by Heaven, swearch by the throne of God, and by him that little thereas.

Quest. 20. Did not Joseph, who was a good man, swear once and again, by the life of Pharaoh, Gen. xlii. 15. 16.?

Anjw. The goodness of the man did not excuse the sintulness of the action: we are not to do evil that good may come, Rom. iii. 8. For, though it may be alledged, that to say, By the life of Pharaob, is no more than to say, As fure as Pharaob lives; yet the words themselves, being in the form of an unlawful oath, which, it would seem, was commonly used by the Egyptians, they ought not, for this reason, to have been utered.

Quest. 21. Is swearing by faith, or troth, a formal pro-faning of God's name?

Anya. No doubt it is; for, when a perfon (wears in this manner, he tacitly invokes God to bear witnefs, that he is speaking faithfully and truly, and to punish him, if he is doing otherwise; which, in ordinary convertation, is undoubtedly firstly, and a falling into condemnation, Jam. v. 12.

Quest. 22. Will a habit or custom of swearing in common discourse, be an excuse for it?

Answ. By no means; any more than an habit or custom of killing men, can be an excuse for wilful murder.

Quest. 23. How is the name of God profaned by finful

Anfw. Either when we folemnly enter into a refolution to do what is abfolutely unlawful, as Jezebel did, 1 Kings xix. 2:; or, when we come under engagements to duty, and againft fin, in our own fitrength, without a due dependence on the grace of God, as the greater part of the Ifraclites did, Deut. v. 27. 29.; or, when we vow, and are not refolved to perform, as Johanan and his confederates did, Jer.xlii. c. compared with verf. 20.

Quest. 24. When is the name of God profaned or abused by lots?

Anfav. When God is appealed unto by way of diversion, as in playing at cards and dice, where the great God is most prefumptuoully invoked to determine who shall be the gains.

ar. Lots are also unlawful, when there is an appeal by them to God, in matters of small moment, which might be otherwise easily decided; this being too like the practice of the foldiers, who, after they had crucified Christ, did cast lots for his vesture, John xix. 23, 24.

Quest. 25. How do men profane the name of God in their outward walk?

Anife. By making profellion of religion in hypocrify, and backfliding from it, Heb. vi. 6.; or, by committing fuch enormities and immoralities, as reflect dishonour thereupon, and make the name of God to be evil spoken of, Rom. ii.

Quest. 26. How are the ordinances of God profaned and abused ?

Anfus. Either when they are quite neglected, Acts vii. 42-43-; or, when they are attended, and gone about in formal, fuperficial, and cultomary manner, without feeking to meet with God in them, or to have fipritual food and nourithment to our fouls by them, If. Xxix. 13, 14.

Quest. 27. How is the word profaned and abused?

Anjw. "By mifinterpreting, mifapplying, or perverting any part of it, to profane jells, curious and unprofitable queltions, vain janglings, or the maintaining of falle doc- trines; abufing it,—or any thing contained under the name of God, to charms,—or any way opposing God's truth, grace, and ways—."

Quest. 28. How are the works of God abused?

Anfw. When "the creatures" are profitute to "finful" lufts and practices;" and when there is a "murmuring and quarrelling at God's providences †."

56. QUEST. What is the reason annexed to the third commandment?

Answ. The reason annexed to the third commandment, is, That however the breakers of this commandment may escape punishment from men, vet the Lord our God will not fuffer them to escape his righteous judgment.

Quest. 1. Are there any arguments against taking God's name in vain, couched in the preceptive part itself, of this commandment ?

Answ. Yes: he whose name we are discharged to take in vain, is the LORD OUR GOD; -Thou falt not take the name of the LORD THY GOD in vain.

Quest. 2. What is the force of the argument taken from his being [the Lord], or [EHOVAH?

Answ. That his infinite effential glory and excellency should fill us with the greatest reverence and humility, when we think, or fpeak of any thing by which he makes himfelf known, Pfal. lxxxiii. 18.

Quest. 3. What is the force of the argument taken from his being [our God]?

Answ. That his making himself over to us in the covenant of promife, as our reconciled God and Father in Christ. should lay us under the strongest obligation to a holy and reverent use of his name, Exod. xv. 2.

Quest. 4. What is the particular reason expressly subjoined or annexed to this commandment?

Answ. It is in these words, by way of threatening, For the Lord will not hold him guiltless that taketh his name in wain.

Quest. 4. What is the import of the threatening, the Lord will not hold him guiltless?

Anfw. It imports, that he will furely hold him guilty in a peculiar manner, who prefumes to profane or abuse his name, fo as that divine vengeance thall be infallibly certain against him, Zech. v. 3.

Quest. 6. In what light doth the scripture represent them who take God's name in vain?

Anfw. It represents them as his open and avowed enemies, Pfal. cxxxix. 20 .- Thine ENEMIES take thy name in vain.

Quest. 7. How doth it appear that divine vengeance is infallibly certain against the profaners of God's name?

Anfw. It appears from the very terms of the threatening, The Lord WILL NOT hold bim guiltless: that is, as fure as PART II.

there

there will be a judgment-feat, before which finners must appear; so fure it is, that this sin shall then be taken particular notice of, as a main article of the inditement, Mal. iii.

Quest. 8. Why do [the breakers of this commandment escape punishment from men]?

Anfor. Because many of these to whom the administration of justice is committed, being themselves guilty, do therefore shew no concern for vindicating the honour of God's name in punishing the protaners of it.

Quest. 9. Why will not the Lord our God [fuffer them to escape his righteous judgment]?

Anfw. Because if Heathens are highly punishable for this crime, as contrary to one of the first dictates of nature's light, Rom. i. 32: much more, among Christians, the manifestation of God's name in Christ, being the greatest bless, john xv. 22: their profaning or abusing of it, must be the greatest sin, Amos iii. 2.

57. QUEST. Which is the fourth command-

Answ. The fourth commandment is, Remember the Sabbath-day, to keep it holy. Six days shalt thou labour, and do all thy work. But the seventh day is the Sabbath of the Lord thy God: in it thou shalt not do any work, thou, nor thy son, nor thy daughter, thy man-servant, nor thy maid-servant, nor thy cattle, nor thy stranger that is within thy gates. For in six days the Lord made heaven and earth, the sea, and all that in them is, and resled the seventh day: wherefore the Lord blessed the Sabbath day, and ballowed it.

58. QUEST. What is required in the fourth commandment?

ANSW.

Answ. The fourth commandment requireth the keeping holy to God, fuch fet times as he hath appointed in his word; expressly one whole day in feven, to be a holy Sabbath to himfelf.

Quest. 1. What about the worship of God hath this command a reference unto ?

Anfw. It refers to the special TIME of God's worship.

Quest. 2. Is the TIME of God's worship left arbitrary to the will of man?

Answ. No: we are to keep [holy to God fuch set times as he hath appointed in his word.

Quest. 3. Why should [fuch set times] be kept holy, and no other ?

Answ. Because God is the sovereign Lord of our time, and has the fole power and authority to direct how it should be improved.

Quest. 4. What is meant by the set times mentioned in the anfwer?

Answ. The stated feasts, and holy convocations for religious worship, instituted under the ceremonial law, which the church of the Jews was obliged to observe during that dispensation, Lev. xxiii.

Quest, s. Is there any warrant for anniversary, or stated holy-days, now, under the New Testament?

Answ. No: these under the Old, being abrogated by the death and refurrection of Christ, there is neither precept nor example in scripture, for any of the yearly holy-days observed by Papifts, and others : on the contrary, all fuch days are condemned in bulk, Gal. iv. 10. Col. ii. 16, 17.

Quest. 6. What crimes doth the observation of them import?

Answ. The observation of them imports no less than an impeachment of the institutions of God, concerning his worship, as if they were imperfect; and an incroachment upon the liberty wherewith Christ hath made his church and people free, Col. ii. 20.

Quest. 7. What is the special and stated time, which God has [expressly] appointed in his word, to be kept holy?

Answ. [One whole day in seven, to be a holy Sabbath to himself.

Quest. 8. What is meant by a [whole day]?

Answ. A whole natural day, confisting of twenty-four Quest. o. What do you understand by one whole day I'm seven]? Answ. A seventh part of our weekly time; or one complete day, either after, or before fix days labour.

Quest. 10. When should we begin and end this day?

Answ. We should measure it just as we do other days. from midnight to midnight, without alienating any part of it to our own works.

Quest. 11. Are not sleeping and eating on the Sabbath-day, our own works?

Answ. If these refreshments of nature are in moderation, and to the glory of God on the Sabbath, they are not properly our own works, because they are necessary to strengthen our bodies for religious exercifes.

Quest. 12. What is the fignification of the word [Sabbath]? Answ. It is an Hebrew word, fignifying REST; as it is interpreted, Heb. iv. o. There remaineth therefore a REST [margin, keeping of a Sabbath] to the people of God.

Quest. 12. Is Sunday a proper or fit name for this day?

Answ. Although it cannot, in charity, be supposed that many who use this term, have any knowledge of, or pay the fmallest regard unto the idolatrous rife of this name, or the pames affigned to the other days of the week; yet it were to be wished, that all Christians would call this holy day, by one or other of its fcripture-defignations.

Quest. 14. May it not continue to be called Sabbath NOW, as well as under the Old Testament?

Anfw. Yes; in regard our Lord himself calls it by this name, Matth. xxiv. 20. Pray we that your flight be not in winter, neither on the Sabbath-day.

Quest. 15. But is not our Lord speaking there of the Jewish, and not of the Christian Sabbath?

Answ. He is speaking of the Christian Sabbath only; for he is speaking of the flight which should happen at the de-Aruction of Jerusalem; which did not take place, till about forty years after the Jewish Sabbath was abolished, and the Christian Sabbath come in its room.

Quest. 16.

Ouest. 16. Why is it called a [holy] Sabbath?

Anhu. Because it was consecrated and set apart by God himfelf, for his own worship and fervice.

Quest. 17. Is there any other day holy, but the Sabbath alone ?

Answ. Other days may be occasionally employed in the worthip of God, according to providential calls thereunto; vet there is no other day morally and perpetually holy, but the Sabbath only.

Queft: 18. Is the Sabbath instrumentally holy; or, is the time itself of the Sabbath an instrument and means (as the word and facraments are) of conveying spiritual grace?

Answ. Not at all: for the time of the Sabbath is only a holy SEASON, wherein God is pleased to bless his people. more ordinarily than at other times, John xx. 10 .- 24. still referving to himself the prerogative of communicating his grace, at other times likewife, as he shall see meet, chap. xxi. 15 .- 18.

Quest. 19. Whether is the fourth commandment founded on the light of nature, or upon politive institution?

Anfw. It is founded partly on both.

Quest. 20. What part of this commandment is it, that is founded entirely on nature's light; or is, what they call, moral-natural?

Answ. The substance of it; namely, that as God is to be worshipped, so some stated time should be set apart for that end.

Quest, 21. What part of it is founded on positive institution; or is, what they call, moral-positive?

Answ. That one proportion of time should be observed for God's worship and service rather than another; namelo that it should be a feventh, rather than a third, fourth, fifth, or fixth part of our weekly time.

Quest. 22. Why do you call this a POSITIVE institution?

Answ. Because the observing of one day in seven, for a Sabbath, flows from the fovereign will of God appointing it; and could never have been observed, more than any other part of time, merely by the force of nature's light.

Quest. 23. Why do you call it MORAL-positive?

Answ. Because though the law, appointing the precise time of the Sabbath, be politive, yet the reason of the law (plainIv implied in the law itfelf, namely, that divine wifdom faw it most equal and meet, that man having fix, God should have a feventh day to himfelf) is MORAL.

Quest. 24. Wherein then confifts the morality of the fourth commandment?

Answ. In keeping holy to God any seventh day, he shall be pleased to appoint.

Quest. 25. What is to be meant by [the SEVENTH day]

mentioned in the command?

Answ. Not only the seventh in order from the creation. but any other feventh part of our weekly time, as God shall determine.

Quest. 26. How doth this appear from the words of the command itself?

Anfw. In the beginning of the commandment, it is not faid. Remember the leventh day, (namely, in order from the creation); but, Remember the Sabbath-day, to keep it holy. Just so in the end of the command, the words are not, The Lord bleffed the feventh day; but, The Lord bleffed the Sabbath-day, and hallowed it.

Quest. 27. How do you prove the observation of Tone whole day in feven for a holy Sabbath to the Lord, to be of a moral and perpetual obligation?

Answ. From the time of the first institution of the Sabbath; from its being placed in the DECALOGUE, or fummary of moral precepts; and from their being nothing originally ceremonial, or typical, in the fcope or fubstance thereof.

Quest. 28. When was the Sabbath first instituted?

Answ. The will of God, that some stated time should be fet apart for his worship, was written, with the rest of the commandments, upon man's heart at his first creation; and God's refting from all his works on the first seventh day, his bleffing and fanctifying thereof, (Gen. ii. 1. 2. 3.) were fufficient evidences of the will of God to mankind, that they should observe every feventh day thereafter, till God should be pleafed to alter it.

Quest. 29. How is the morality of the Sabbath evinced from the FIRST INSTITUTION of it?

Anfw. Being instituted while Adam was in innocency, and confequently before all types and ceremonies respecting an atonement for fin; and being appointed him upon a moral ground, without any particular reference to an innocent flate, more than any other, it must therefore be of perpetual obligation.

Quest. 30. What was the moral ground upon which the Sabbath was appointed unto Adam?

Anfw. It was this, that infinite wifdom faw it meet, for God's glory, and needful, for man's good; that man have one day in the week, for more immediate and fpecial converse with God.

Quest. 31. What need was there for Adam in innocence, being perfectly holy, to have one day by another, for more immediate converse with God?

Anfw. That herein he might be like unto God, who fet him an example of holy working fix days, and of a holy refting on the feventh.

Quest. 32. Could Adam's mind be equally intense upon the immediate worship of God, when about his ordinary employment in dressing the garden, as on a day set apart for that purpose?

Anju. No: for though there could be no interruption of his happiness and fellowship with God, when dressing the garden, as he was a perfect ereature; yet being at the same time a finite creature, his mind, while he was about that employment, could not be to interide upon the simmediate worthipping of God, as it would be on a day set apart for that purpose; therefore it was fit he should have such a day, that therein he might have uninterrupted freedom, in the immediate contemplation and enjoyment of his Maker, without any avocation from wordly things.

Quest. 33. What may be inferred from this, for the morality of the Sabbath?

Anfw. That if Adam in innocence needed a Sabbath, for the more immediate fervice and folernm worthip of God, much more do we, who are firful creatures, and so immerfed in worldly cares, need such a day.

Quest. 34. Did the religious observation of the Sabbath take place immediately upon the back of the creation, or not till the publishing of the law at mount Sinai?

Anju. It took place at, and from the first seventh day after the creation: for God's helpfing and familifying of the Schbath is related as a thing actually done at that time; and not as a thing to be done upwards of two thousand years thereafter, Gen. ii. 3.

Quest. 35. How can the observation of the Sabbath be faid to take place immediately after the creation, when the scripture is wholly silent about the observation of it till the time of Moses?

Anju. It might as well be argued, that the Sabbath was not observed after Moses' time, during the government of the Judges, (which, according to Acts xiii. 20. was about the space of four hundred and sifty years), there being umention of the church's observing a Sabbath during the whole of that long period; and yet it cannot be supposed that so many godly men, as the Judges were, would suffer the observation of the Sabbath to go into entire declication.

Quest. 36. Is there any evidence from scripture, that the Israelites knew the observation of the Sabbath to be a moral duty, before the publishing of the law from mount Sinai?

Anjw. Yes: for when the manna was first given them, before they came to mount Sinai, Moles speaks of the Sabbath, as a day well known to them, Exod. xvi. 23. To-morrow is the rest of the holy Sabbath unto the Lord.

Quest. 37. How may the morality of the Sabbath be demonstrated from its SITUATION in the decalogue, or ten commandments?

Anju. It is placed in the midly of moral precepts, and must hencefore be of the fame nature and kind with them. It has the fame dignity and honour put upon it, that the other nine commandments have: for it was, with them, proclaimed from the mouth of God, in the hearing of all life it fault, witten upon tables of flone, by the finger of God; and, with them, lodged within the arks none of which privileges were conferred upon the ceremonial law; and confequently the fourth commandment must be of the fame perpetual obligation, with the other moral precept, James ii. 10.

Quest. 38. Was there any thing TYPICAL of Christ in the original institution of the Sabbath?

Anfa. It is impossible there could: for Adam in innocence, being under a covenant of works, had no need of Christ, or the revelation of him by types; no, not to confirm him in that covenant, Gal. iii. 12,

Quest. 39. What would have been the consequence, if the Sabbath had been originally and essentially typical?

Answ. If so, then it should have been abolished, upon the death of Christ, and no more remembrance of it, than of the new moons and jubilees: which is indeed, what they who ar-yeu against the morality of the Sabbath seem mightily to want.

Quest. 40. Were not the Israelites commanded to keep the Sabbath-day, in memory of their deliverance out of Egypt, which was typical of our redemption by Christ?

Anju. Yes: their deliverance out of Egypt was annexed, nount Sipai, as a Juperadded ground for the observation of that particular Jeventh day, which God appointed to be kept immediately after the creation, Deut. v. 15. For which reason, this particular Jeventh day was abolified at the refurection of Christ: but still the Jeventh part of weekly time, fixed by God at the beginning, as the Jublance of this commandment, remained unchangeably moral.

Quest. 41. Will it follow that the substance of this commandment is ceremonial, because it is faid of Christ, Matth.

xii. 8. that he is Lord even of the Sabbath-day?

Anjiu. By no means; the very contrary nullfyallow, namely, that fuch a feventh part of weekly time, as is now obferved, is moral, because he, who is Lord of the Sabbath, hath appointed it to be fo; and confequently has power to welver the work of it for his own fervice.

Quest. 42. Is it any argument against the morality of the Sabbath, that it was made for man, and not man for the Sabbath ?

Anjue No; but rather an argument for it: for the meaning is, that refing on the Sabbath, was appointed for man's good, that it might be a means to a farther and better end, even the true fantification thereof, in the exercise of the duttes of piety and mercy required thereon.

59. QUEST. Which day of the feven hath God appointed to be the weekly Sabbath?

Assw From the beginning of the world, to the refurrection of Christ, God appointed the seventh day of the week to be the weekly Sabbath; and the first day of the week, ever since, to continue to the end of the world, which is the Christian Sabbath.

PART II. M Quest. 1.

Queft. 1. When did God appoint the feventh day of the week to be the weekly Sabbath?

Answ. [From the beginning of the world], Gen. ii. 2. 3. Quest. 2. Why is it faid to be from the beginning of the world, when it was not done, till after man was created on the fixth day?

Answ. Because the world, as to its perfection of parts, did not properly begin, till the creation was completely smilhed; which was not till man was made, who was to have dominion—over all the earth, Gen. i. 26.

Quest. 3. How long was this seventh or last day of the week appointed to be the weekly Sabbath?

veek appointed to be the weekly Saboath?

Anfw. [Till the refurrection of Christ,] Matth. xxviii. 1.

Ouest. A. Which day of the week did God appoint for the Sabbath Tever fince that time?

Anfw. [The first day of the week], Acts xx. 7.

Quest. 5. For how long time is the first day of the week appointed to be the weekly Sabbath?

Anfw. [To the end of the world].

Quest. 6. How are we fure that it is appointed to [continue to the end of the world]?

Answ. Because the canon of scripture is concluded, and therefore no new revelations and institutions to be expected,

Rev. xxii. 18. 19.

Ouest. 7. Why is the first day of the week called [the Chriftian Sabbath]?

Answ. Because it was instituted by Christ, and uniformly observed by Christians ever since his resurrection.

Quest. 8. Are not all divine institutions observed in virtue of some moral precept?

Answ. Yes; otherwise the law of the Lord would not be perfect, as it is declared to be, Pfal. xix. 7.

Quest. 9. In virtue of what moral precept bas the first day of the week been observed by Christians?

Anfw. In virtue of the fourth commandment; even as the means of worship, instituted under the New Testament, have been observed in virtue of the fecond.

Quest. 10. How can the first day of the week be observed, in virtue of the fourth commandment, when it is not therein particularly mentioned?

Anfw. The morality of the Sabbath doth not lie in observing the seventh day in order from the creation; but in observing fuch a feventh day as is determined and appointed by God; which may be either the first or last of the seven days, as he shall fee meet.

Quest. 11. Under what name or defignation is the Chriflian Sabbath foretold under the Old Testament?

Answ. Under the name of the EIGHTH DAY, Ezek. xliii. 27. And when these days are expired, it shall be that upon the EIGHTH DAY, and so forward, the priests shall make your burnt-offerings upon the altar, and your peace-offerings; and I will accept you, faith the Lord.

Quest. 12. Why called the eighth day?

Anfw. Because the first day of the week now, is the eighth in order from the creation.

Quest. 13. What is the efficient cause of the change of the Sahhath?

Anfw. The fovereign will and pleasure of him who is Lord of the Sabbath, Mark ii. 28.

Quest. 14. What is the moving cause hereof? Answ. The refurrection of Christ from the dead, which was early on the first day of the week, Mark xvi. o. Quest. 15. Wby is the day of Christ's refurrection appointed to be the Sabbath?

Anfw. Because his refurrection was a demonstrative evidence, that he had completely finished the glorious work of redemption, Rom. i. 4.; and therefore it was his RESTING-DAY, Heb. iv. 10. He that is entered into his reft, he also hath ceased from his own works, as God did from his.

Quest. 16. Why might not the day of Christ's incarnation. or the day of his passion, have been consecrated to be our Sabbath-days?

Anfw. Because they were both of them days of Christ's labour and forrow, which he had to go through before he came to his reft, Luke xxiv. 26. In his incarnation and birth, he entered upon his work, Gal. iv. 4. 5. In his passion, he was under the forest part of his labour, even the exquisite and unspeakable agonies of his foul, Matth. xxvi. 38.

Quest. 17. Why might not the day of his ascension been made the Sabbath, as well as the day of his refurrection?

Answ. Because on the day of his ascension he entered only into his PLACE of reft, the third heavens; whereas he had entered before into his STATE of rest on the day of his refur-M 2 rection: and the place is but a circumstance, when compared with the state.

Quest. 18. Why did God change his day of rest?

Anju. Because his rest in the work of creation was marred and fooled by man's sin, Gen. vi. 6.3 whereas his rest in the work of redemption, entered into at the refurrection of Christ, is that wherein he will have eternal and unchangeable pleasure, John xvii. 23. Besides, redemption is a far greater and more excellent work, than even that of creation.

Quest. 19. How may the change of the Sabbath, from the last to the first day of the week, be evinced from scripture?

Asju. If our Lord Jefus, after his refurrection, met ordinarily with his disciples on the first day of the week: if, after his ascension, he poured out his Spirit in an extraordinary manner on that day: if by the example and pravilice of the apostles and primitive Christians, recorded in the New Testament, the first day of the week was honoured above any other, for the public exercises of God's worship: if by apostolic precept, the observation of this day, rather than any other, was injoined for Sabbath-services: and if this day is peculiarly diagnified with the title of the Lord's Early then it must undoubtedly be the Christian Sabbath by divine institution.

Quest. 20. How doth it appear, that our Lord, after his refurrection, met ordinarily with his disciples on the first day of the week?

Anju. From two inflances of it, expressly recorded, John xx. 19, 26.; where it is affirmed, that he met with them on the evening of the fame day wherein he arose from the dead, being the first day of the week; and that Thomas was not with them when Jesus came, vers. 24. Likewise, on that same day eight days, he appeared to them again, when they were within, and Thomas with them, vers. 26. From whence it would feem, that he met with them ordinarily on that day, during his forty days abode on earth, after his resurrection.

Quest, 21. How is it evident, that Christ, after his ascension, poured out his Spirit in an extraordinary manner, on this day?

Anfw. From A&s ii. 1.—5. And when the day of Pentecounty was fully come, they were all, with one accord, in one place; and fuddenly there came a found from heaven,—and they were all filled with the Holy Ghoft, &c.

Quest. 22,

Quest. 22. What was the day of Pentecost?

Anjw. It was the fiftieth day after the paffover, when the new meat-offering was brought unto the Lord, Numb. xxviii- 26.

Quest. 23. How do you prove that this was the first day of the week ?

Anfw. From Lev. xxiii. 16.; where it is faid, that the morrow after the feventh Sabbath is the fittieth day, [or Pentecoft]. And it is certain, that the morrow after the Jewish Sabbath, must be the first day of the week.

Quest. 24. How doth it appear from the example and practice of the apostles and primitive Christians, that the first day of the week was honoured above any other, for the public exercises of God's worlbip?

Anfu. From Acts xx. 7. And on the first day of the week, when the distribe came together to break bread, Paul preached unto them. Where it is obvious, that the distribe met ordinarily upon the sirst day of the week, for hearing the word, and celebrating the facrament of the supper: for it is not said, the apostle called them, but that they came together to break bread; and Paul, on that occasion, preached when them.

Quest. 25. How may it be proved from the context, that the disciples met ordinarily for the public exercises of God's worlbit, on the first day of the week?

Anjo. That they did io, may be proved from this, that Paul abade with them fiven days, as is evident from verf. 6s; and yet upon none of the fiven did they meet for communicating, or breaking of bread, but on the first day of the week only: which plainly says, that they held it for the Chryllian Sabbath, and nor the feventh or last day, which is not for much as mentioned.

Quest. 26. But do we not read, Ast xiii. 14. that Paul preached in a synagogue on the Sabbath-day; which certainly behoved to be the Jewish Sabbath, or last day of the week?

Anjw. He only preached occasionally on the Jewish Sabbath, as the fittest time, when the Jews were assembled together, to dispense gospel-truth among them; but did not honour this day as a state time for public worship.

Quest. 27. What apostolic precept is there, for the observation of the first day of the week, rather than any other, for Sabbath-services?

Anfw.

Anju. It is in 1 Cor. xvi. 1. 2. Now, concerning the calletion for the faints, as I have given order to the churches of Galatia, even fo do ye. Upon the fift day of the week, let every one of you lay by him in store, as God hath prospered him.

Quest. 28. What is the argument from this text, to prove an apostolic precept, for observing the first day of the week as the Christian Sabbath?

Anfw. It may run thus: That if collections for the poor are expressly commanded to be made on the first day of the week, it plainly follows, that Christians mult meet together on that day, for this, and other Sabbath services.

Quest. 29. But may not this be a temporary precept, binding, for a time, upon the church of Corinth only?

Anju. As the words of the text expressly affirm, that it was binding also upon the churches of Galatia, so the apolle directs his epille, not to the church of Corinto only, but to all that in every place call upon the name of Jejus Christ, chap. i. 2.; and confequently it must be binding upon all the churches, to the end of the world.

Quest. 30. In what place of the New Testament is there mention made of a day dignified with the title of the LORD's DAY?

Answ. In Rev. i. 10. I was in the Spirit, says John, on the Lord's DAY.

Quest. 31. How may it be proved, that what is here called the Lord's day, is the first day of the week?

Anfiv. By these two arguments: That no other day of the week but the first, can justly be called the Lord's day: and that the first day of the week is so called, in virtue of Christ's fantifying it for his own honour and service, above any other day.

Quest. 32. Why can no other day of the week but the first be justly called the Lord's day?

Anja. Because there is no action or work of Christ (fave bealing on the Sabbath) mentioned or recorded as done upon any one day of the week by another, except that of his refurrection, which is unanimoully affirmed by the evangelifts, to be on the first day of the week.

Quest. 33. How doth it appear, that the first day of the week is called the Lord's day, in virtue of his sanctifying it for his own bonour and fervice?

Anfan. As the feventh-day Sabbath was called the Sabbath of the Lord, because instituted by him as God-creator; so the first day of the week is called the Lord's day, because instituted by him as God-redeemer; or, as the facrament of bread and wine is called the Lord's table, and the Lord's Supper, (1 Cor x, 21. and xi. 20.), because it is an ordinance of his institution; so the first day of the week is called the Lord's day, for the fame very reason.

Quest. 24. Would the apostles have observed and recommended the first day of the week for the Christian Sabbath, if they had not been particularly instructed herein by Christ him-

Anfw. No furely: for, after his passion, he spoke of the things pertaining to the kingdom of God, Acts i. 3.; whereof, the change of the Sabbath, from the last to the first day of the week, was none of the leaft; and it is certain, that the apostles delivered nothing to the churches, as a rule of faith or practice, but what they received of the Lord, I Cor. xi. 23.

60. QUEST. How is the Sabbath to be fanctified?

Answ. The Sabbath is to be fanctified by a holy resting all that day, even from such worldly employments and recreations as are lawful on other days; and spending the whole time in the public and private exercises of God's worship, except so much as is to be taken up in the works of necessity and mercy.

Quest. 1. In what sense is the Sabbath fail to be [fandi-

Anfw. As it is dedicated by God, for man's fake and ufe, that he may keep it holy to God.

Quest. 2. In what manner should he keep it holy to God? Anfw. By [a holy refting], and by holy exercises.

Quest. 3. What Should we rest from on the Sabbath? Answ. [Even from such worldly employments and recreations tions as are lawful on other days]; or, which is the same thing, from all fervile work, Neh. xiii. 15 .- 23.

Quest. 4. What is it that makes a work servile?

Anfav. If it is done for our worldly gain, profit, and livelihood; or, if by prudent management, it might have been done the week before; or, if it be of fuch a kind, as may be delayed till after the Sabbath, Exod. xxxiv. 21. Six days thou Shalt work, but on the seventh thou shalt rest: in * earing-time, and in harvest thou Shalt rest.

Quest, z. Why doth God injoin rest on the Sabbath so peremptorily and particularly, in the time of plowing and harveft?

Answ. Because in these seasons men are most keenly set upon their labour; and may be in the greatest hazard of grudging the time of the Sabbath for reft.

Quest. 6. If the weather is unseasonable through the week. do not reaping and ingathering, in that case, become works of necessity on the Sabbatb?

Answ. By no means: because any unseasonableness of the weather that may happen, being common and general, proceeds only from the course of God's ordinary providence. which we ought not to diffrust, in regard of his promise, that while the earth remaineth, feed-time and harvest-fall not ceafe, Gen. viii. 22.

Quest. 7. If a field of corns is in hazard of being carried away by the unexpected inundation of a river, is it lawful to endeavour the prefervation of them upon the Sabbath?

Anfw. Yes: because the dispensation is extraordinary; the case not common nor general; and the damage likewise, in an ordinary way, irrecoverable.

Quest. 8. Are Christians, under the New Testament, obliged to as first an abstistence from worldly labour, as the Tews were under the Old?

Anfw. Yes furely: for moral duties being of unchangeable obligation, Christians must be bound to as strict a performance of them now, as the Jews were then, Pfal. xix. 9.

Quest. o. Were not the Jews prohibited to dress meat on the Sabbath, Exod, xvi. 22.?

Anfw. They were prohibited fuch fervile work as was requifite in preparing manna for food; fuch as the grinding of Plowing time, or, feed-time.

it in mills, beating it in mortars, and baking it in pans, Numb. xi. 8.; but not all dreffing of meat, for the comfortable nourilbment of their bodies, no more than we.

Quest. 10. How doth it appear that they were allowed to

of their hodies?

of their orders?

Anju. From our Lord's being prefent at a meal on the Sabbath-day, to which there were feveral guefts bidden, and confequently meat behoved to be prepared and dreffed for their entertainment, Luke xiv. 1. 7.

Quest. 11. Were not the Jews forbidden to kindle fire in their habitations upon the Sabbath-day, Exod. xxxv. 3.?

Anju. Yes, for any fervile work, though it were even making materials for the tahernacle, (which is the work spoken of through the following part of that chapter); but they were not forbidden to kindle fires for works of necessity or mercy, any more than Christians are Queft. 12. Were they not ordered to abide every man in his place, and not to go out of his place on the seventh day.

Exod. xvi. 29.?

Anfw. The prohibition only refpects their going abroad about the unnecellary and fervile work of gathering manna upon the Sabbath; otherwife, they were allowed to go aut about works of necellity and mercy: and it appears from Acts i. 12. that they were allowed to travel a Sabbath-day's journey.

Quest. 13. What was a Sabbath-day's journey?

Anfw. Whatever was the tradition of the Pharifees about it, it appears to have been the distance of their respective dwellings, from the place, where they ordinarily attended public ordinances, 2 Kings iv. 23.

Quest. 14. Are we not to rest on the Lord's day from lawful recreations, as well as from lawful worldly employments?

ful recreations, as well as from lawful worldly employments? Anfw. Yes; because we are expressly required, on this holy, day, to abstain from doing our own ways, finding our own pleasure, and speaking our own words, M. Iviii. 12.

Quest. 15. What are these recreations that " are lawful on " other days?"

Anfw. Innocent passimes, visiting friends, walking in the fields, talking of the news, or common affairs, and the like. Quest. 16. Why are these recreations unlawful on the Lord's day?

Answ. Because they tend to divert the mind from the duties of the Sabbath, as much, if not more, than worldly employments.

Quest. 17. Is not the Sabbath a festival, or feast-day; and consequently may not our conversation thereon be cheerful and dimerting?

Anfav. It is indeed, properly, a feast-day, but of a spiritual. not of a carnal nature; we may refresh our bodies moderately, but not fumptuously; and our conversation ought to turn wholly upon spiritual and heavenly subjects, or such as have a tendency thereunto, after the example of our Lord, Luke xiv. 1 .-- 25.

Quest, 18. What should be the principal end of our fix days

Answ. That it be so managed, as no way to discompose or unfit us for a holy resting on the Sabbath, or meeting with God on his own day.

Quest. 19. What is a [holy resting]?

Answ. Not only an abstaining from our own work, or labour, but an entering by faith, (in the use of appointed means), into the presence and enjoyment of a God in Christ, as the only rest of our fouls, Heb. iv. 3.: that having no work of our own to mind or do, we may be wholly taken up with the works of God.

Quest. 20. Why called a [holy] resting?

Answ. Because we should rest from worldly labour, in order to be employed in the holy exercises, which the Lord requires on this day; otherwise, as to bare cellation, our cattle rest from outward labour, as well as we.

Quest. 21. What are the holy EXERCISES, in which we ought to be employed on the Lord's day?

Anfw. In the public and private exercises of God's wor-Bip.

Quest. 22. What are the [public exercises] of God's worflip, wherein we flould be employed?

Anfw. Hearing the word preached, Rom. x. 17. joining in public prayers and praifes, Luke xxiv. 53. and partaking of the facraments, Acts xx. 7. Quest. 23. What is included under the [private] exercises # of God's worthip?

Anfw. Family and fecret duties.

Quest. 24. What are the duties incumbent on us in a family-capacity, on the Lord's day?

**Anfw. Family-worthip, and family-catechifing, together with Christian conference, as there is occasion, Lev.xxiii.

3.—It is the Sabbath of the Lord in all your DWELLINGS, or private families; and therefore God is to be worshipped in them on that day.

Quest. 25. What is family-worship?

Anfw. It is the daily joining of all that are united in a domeftic relation, or who are dwelling together in the fame houle and family, in finging God's praises, Acts ii 47, reading his word, Deut. vi. 7. and praying unto him, Jer. x. 25.

Quest. 26. How do you prove family-worship to be a duty daily incumbent upon those who have families?

Answ. From scripture-precept, and from scripture-ex-

Quest. 27. How is family-worship evinced from scripture-precept?

Anju. Befides that this commandment injoins every mafter of a family, to fanchify the Sabbath within his gates, that is, to worthip God in his family, there are also other friptures, inculcating the fame thing, by necessiary confequence; fuch as, Eph. vi. 18. Praying always, with AEL prayer and supplication. I Tim. ii. 8. I will, therefore, that men pray EVERY WHERE. If with AEL prayer, then furely with family-prayer; if EVERY WHERE, then certainly in our families.

Quest. 28. What are the examples of family-worship recorded in scripture for our imitation?

Anju. Amongh others, there are the examples of Abraham, Gen. vivil 19.; of Tolbua, chap. xxiv, x2—As for me and my haufe, we will ferve the Lord; of David, 2 Sam. vi. 20.; of Cornelius, Acls x. 22; and, to crown all, the example of our beliful Lord, whom we find finging Pfalms, Matth. xxvi. 30. and praying with his difciples, who were his family, Luke ix. 18.

Quest. 29. What should be the subject-matter of familycatechifing?

Anfw. What they have been hearing through the day, together with the principles of our religion, as laid out in the Shorter Catechifm, with the helps that are published upon the fame, which masters of families ought to use for their affiftance in this work. Quest. 30. What are the proper seasons of Christian conference on the Sabbath?

Anfau. At meals, and in the interval of duties: our freech should be always, but especially on the Lord's day, seasoned with falt, Col. iv. 6.

Quest. 21. What are the secret duties in which we ought to he exercised on the Lord's day?

Answ. Secret prayer, reading the scriptures, and other foul-edifying books, meditation upon divine subjects, and felf-examination.

Quest. 32. With what frame and disposition of foul ought the public and private exercises of God's worship to be gone about ?

Anfw. With a spiritual frame and disposition, Rev. i. 10.

I was IN THE SPIRIT on the Lord's day.

Quest. 33. What is it to be in the Spirit on the Lord's day? Answ. It is not only to have the actual inhabitation of the Spirit, which is the privilege of believers every day, Ezek, xxxvi, 27.; but to have the influences and operations of the Spirit more liberally let out, Luke iv. 31. 32. and the graces thereof in a more lively exercise, than at other times, Acts ii. 41.

Quest. 24. What moral argument bave we from the ceremonial law, for offering a greater plenty of spiritual sacrifices to God on the Sabbath, than upon other days?

Anfw. The daily facrifice, or continual burnt-offering was to be doubled on the Sabbath, Numb. xxviii. o.; intimating, that they were bound to double their devotions on that day, which was confecrated to God to be spent in his service.

Quest. 35. How much of the Sabbath is to be spent in the public and private exercises of God's worship?

Answ. The WHOLE of it, from the ordinary time of rifing on other days, to the ordinary time of going to reft; Texcept so much as is to be taken up in the works of necessity and mercy.]

Quest. 36. What is to be understood by works of [neces-Anfw. Such as could not be forefeen, nor provided against the day before, nor delayed till the day after the Sabbath.

Quest. 37.

Quest. 37. What instances may be given of fuch works of necessity on the Lord's day?

Anfw. Flying from, and defending ourfelves againft an enemy; quenching of fire, accidentally or wilfully kindled; flanding by the helm, or working a hip at fea, (providing they do not weigh anchor, or, hoife fail from harbours or friths, on the Lord's day), and the like

Quest. 38. What are the works of [mercy] which may be done on the Sabbath?

Anjus. The moderate refreshment of our bodies, Luke vi. 1; visiting the fick, preparing and administering remedies unto them, Luke xiii. 16.3 feeding our cattle, vers. 15.; and preserving their lives, if in danger, chap. xiv. 5.; and making collections for the poor, 1 Cor. xvi. 2.

Quest. 39. What cautions are requisite about works of necessity and mercy?

Answ. That these works be real, and not pretended; that we spend as little time about them as possible; and that we endeavour to attain a holy frame of spirit while about them.

Quest. 40. How doth it appear that works of necessity and mercy are lawful on the Lord's day?

Anfw. Because though God rested from his work of creation on the seventh day, yet he did not rest thereon from preserving what he had made.

Quest. 41. "Why is the charge of keeping the Sabbath more specially directed to governors of families, and other

" Superiors ?"

Anfw. "—Because they are bound not only to keep it themselves, but to see that it be observed by all these that the are under their charge; and because they are prone often times to hinder them by employments of their own "."

Quest. 42. Ought not magistrates to punish these who are guilty of the open and presumptuous breach of the Sabbath?

Anfw. Undoubtedly they should: and they have the example of Nehemiah for a precedent, worthy of their imitation in this matter, chap. xiii. 21.

Quest. 43. What is the most effectual way for the civil magistrate to suppress Sabbath-profanation?

Answ. To be impartial in the execution of the laws against Sabbath-breaking, especially upon those who are of a more eminent rank and flation, because they ought to be exemplary to others, Neh. xiii. 17. Then I contended with the NOBLES of Judah, and faid unto them, What evil thing is this that ye do, and profame the Sabbath-day?

Quest. 44. " Why is the word REMEMBER fet in the be" ginning of the fourth commandment?"

Anfw. "—Partly, because we are very ready to forget it; and partly, because in keeping it, we are helped better to " keep all the rest of the commandments "."

61. QUEST. What is forbidden in the fourth commandment?

Answ. The fourth commandment forbiddeth the omiffion, or careless performance of the duties required, and the profaning the day by idleness, or doing that which is in itself finful, or by unnecessary thoughts, words, or works, about our worldly employments or recreations.

Quest. 1. How are the fins ranked that are forbidden in this commandment?

Answ. They are ranked into fins of omission, and fins of commission +.

Quelt. 2. What are the fins of [omiflion] here forbidden? Anyw. Both the total neglect of the duties required, and the neglect of the careful performance of them, when essayed.

Quest. 3. What is the total neglect of the duties required on the Sabbath, an evidence of?

Anfw. It is a plain evidence of the neglect of all religious duties through the week; and consequently an evidence of Atheism, profanencis, and apostacy.

Quest. 4. When are persons guilty of the [careless persorm-ance] of the duties required on the Sabbath?

Anfw. When they go about them in a partial, formal, and lifelefs way, Matth. xv. 8.

Quest. z. What is it to go about duties in a partial way? Answ. It is to perform some of them, and omit others equally necessary; fuch as, attending the public, and neglecting the private exercises of God's worship; or the contrary.

Quest. 6. What is formality in duty?

Anfw. It is the bare outward performance thereof, without regarding the manner in which it ought to be done, or the vital principle from whence it should flow, 2 Tim. iii.

Quest. 7. What are the ordinary causes of the dead and lifeless performance of religious duties?

Answ. Wandering thoughts, weariness, and drowsiness, are among none of the leaft. Quest. 8. What is the best antidote against wandering thoughts? Answ. Faith in exercise; for this will fix the attention to what we are prefently engaged in, whether hearing, praying, or praifing, Pfal. lvii. 7.

Quest. o. Whence arises weariness in duty?

Answ. From the natural bias of the heart and affections to worldly things, rather than religious exercises, Amos viii. 5. When will the new moon be gone, that we may fell corn? and the Sabbath, that we may fet forth wheat?

Quest. 10. What is the evil of drowfiness, particularly in hearing the word, or joining in prayer and praise?

Answ. If it be voluntary and customary, it is a manifest contempt of the word and presence of the great God, and paying less regard to him, than we even do to our fellowcreatures.

Quest, 11. What are the fins of COMMISSION forbidden in this commandment?

Answ. [The profaning the day by idleness, or doing that which is in itself finful, or by unnecessary thoughts, words, or works, about our worldly employments or recreations.] Quest. 12. What is the [idleness] here prohibited?

Anfw. It is a loitering away the Sabbath, in a flothful. indolent, and inactive manner, without any real benefit or advantage, either to foul or body, Matth. xx. 3.

Quest. 13. Why is there a prohibition of Idoing that which is in itself finful], on the Lord's day, when it is unlawful on every other day?

Answ. Because whatever the finful action be, there is a which ought to be kept holy to God, than upon any other day, Jer. xvii. 27.

Quest. 14. What are these [thoughts, words, or works] that are here called [unneceffary]?

Anfw. They are fuch as are [about our worldly employments or recreations ; or, they are all fuch thoughts, words, or works, as are not inevitably used about the works of necessity and mercy, which are lawful on this day,

Quest. 15. Why is the day faid to be profuned by the fins here forbidden?

Answ. Because these fins are each of them the reverse of that holinefs, which should shine in all our duties, public and private, on the Lord's day, If. lviii. 12. 14.

62. QUEST. What are the reasons annexed to the fourth commandment?

Answ. The reasons annexed to the fourth commandment are, God's allowing us fix days of the week for our own employments, his challenging a special propriety in the feventh, his own example, and his bleffing the Sabbath-day.

Quest. 1. How many reasons are there annexed to this commandment? Anfw. Four; which are moe than to any of the rest.

Quest. 2. Why are moe reasons annexed to this command than to any of the rest?

Anfw. Because of the proneness of men to break it; and likewise that the violation thereof may be rendered the more inexcufable.

Quest. 3. Which is the first reason?

Anfw. It is [God's allowing us fix days of the week for our own employments]; in these words, Six days shalt thou labour and do all thy work.

Quest, 4. Wherein lies the strength of this reason?

Answ. It lies in this, that it would be most highly unreasonable and ungrateful, to grudge a seventh part of our time, in the more immediate fervice and worship of God: when he has been fo liberal as to allow us fix parts thereof. for our own fecular and worldly affairs.

Quest. 5. What similar instance of ingratitude may be given for the illustration hereof?

Answ. The fin of our first parents, in refusing to abstain from one tree, when they were allowed the free use of all the rest of the garden, Gen. iii. 2. 3. 6.

Quest. 6. Is working fix days in our own employment a precept properly belonging to this commandment?

Answ. No: it is properly a branch of the eighth commandment, but it is brought in here occasionally, to inforce the facred observation of a feventh day, when God has been fo bountiful, as to allow us fix for our own occasions.

Quest. 7. Which is the second reason annexed to this commandment ?

Answ. It is this challenging a special propriety in the seventh ]: in these words, But the seventh day is the Sabbath of the Lord thy God.

Quest. 8. What is the force of this reason?

Answ. The force of it is this; -as that gracious God, who makes a grant of himfelf unto us in the covenant of promise, claims this day as his own, so it is our greatest privilege or happiness to have access unto, and communion with him thereon, If. lviii. 14.

Quest. o. Wherein lies the privilege or happiness of communion with God on his own day?

Answ. In having a foretaste in grace here of what shall be more fully enjoyed in glory hereafter, 1 Cor. xiii. 12.

Quest, 10. Which is the third reason?

Anfw. It is [his own example]; in these words, For in fix days the Lord made heaven and earth, the fea, and all that in them is, and rested the seventh day.

Quest. 11. Could not God have made heaven and earth, the fea, and all that in them is, in less time than the space of fix days?

Anfw. No doubt: he could have made all things, in the fame beauty and perfection, wherein ever they appeared, in an instant of time, if he had pleased.

Quest. 12. Why then did he take fix days?

Answ. To fix the morality of fix days for worldly labour, PART IL and of a feventh for holy rest; and both these by his own ex-

Queft. 13. But doth not the example of God's refting the feventh day, oblige us fill to observe the seventh day, in order from the creation, as the Sabbath?

Anjw. No: because though moral examples bind always to the kind of the action, yet not always to every particular circumstance thereof.

Quest. 14. What is the kind of the action which God's examble binds us unto?

ample oinds us unto?

Anfw. It is to observe one day in feven for holy resting, either the last or first, as he shall appoint.

Quest. 15. How can God's example of resting on the seventh day, be an argument for our resting on the first?

Anfw. Though the observation of a particular day in feven be MUTABLE; yet the duty of observing a feventh part of weekly time is MORAL, both by God's precept and example.

Quest. 16. Which is the fourth reason annexed to this com-

Answ. It is [his bleffing the Sabbath-day]; in these words, Wherefore the Lord bleffed the Sabbath-day, and hallowed it.

Quest. 17. In what sense may the Sabbath be faid to be Anfw. Not only by God's confectating the day itself to an holy use; but by his bleffing it to the true observers of it, and by his bleffing them in it.

Queft. 18. How doth God blefs the Sabbath to the true obfervers of it?

Anju. By ordering it to in his providence, that the religious observation of the Sabbath shall be no detriment unto, but rather a furtherance of their lawful employments through the week; even as the profaming of it, draws a train of all miseries and woes after it, Net. xiii. 18.

Quest. 19. How doth he bless them in it, or upon it?

Answ. By making it the happy feason of a more plenteous communication of all spiritual bleffings unto them, If. lviii.

Quest. 20. What doth the illative particle WHEREFORE teach us?

Answ. That God's resling on the Sabbath was the great reason of his setting it apart to be a day of holy rest unto us, that we might contemplate the works of God, both of creation and redemption, thereupon.

tha

63. QUEST. Which is the fifth commandment?
Answ. The fifth commandment is, Honour thy father and thy mother; that thy days may be long upon the land which the Lord thy God riveth thee.

64. QUEST. What is required in the fifth com-

Assw. The fifth commandment requireth the preferving the honour, and performing the duties, belonging to every one in their feveral places and relations, as fuperiors, inferiors, or equals.

Quest. 1. "Who are meant by father and mother, in the "fifth commandment?

Anjw. "Not only natural parents, but all fuperiors in age and gifts; and especially such as, by God's ordinance, are over us in place of authority, whether in family,

"church, or commonwealth *"

Queft. 2. "Why are superiors stilled father and mother?

Answ. "To teach them in all duties towards their infe-

"riors, like natural parents, to express love and tenderness to them, according to their feveral relations; and to work inferiors to a greater willingness and cheerfulness, in

"inferiors to a greater willingness and cheerfulness, in "performing their duties to their superiors, as to their pa-"rents +."

Queft. 3. "What is the general scope of the fifth commandment?"

Answ. It is "the performance of those duties we mutual-

"Iy owe in our feveral relations ‡."

Quest. 4. What are the RELATIONS wherein we stand to each other?

* Larger Cat. Quest. 124. + Quest. 125. † Quest. 126. O 2 Anfw.

Quest. 10. What is the rule and measure of that obedience and submission, which is due from inferiors to their supe-

Anfw. The law of God: for, when any thing is injoined contrary thereunto, the fixed rule is, To obey God rather than men, Acis iv. 10, and v. 20.

Quest. 11. What is it that procures honour from one person to another?

Anfw. It is fomething of eminence, excellency, or worth that is discernible in them, Acts x. 25.

Quest. 12. Are there not different degrees of external honour due to some beyond others?

Answ. Yes; according to the different offices and stations wherein God places them in the world, I Tim. v. I. 2.

Quest. 13. What is that degree of bonour which the meanest and lowest part of mankind are entitled unto from the greatest and highest?

Answ. It is to be esteemed and regarded by them, in proportion as they are necessary and useful, Eph. vi. 9.

Quest. 14. Why are we commanded to honour all men,

1 Pet. ii. 17:? Anfw. Because there are sew or none, in whom we may not observe some gift or other, in which they are superior to us, if we were to judge ourselves humbly and impartially, Phil. ii. 2.

Quest. 15.

Quest. 15. Are men to be honoured according to their Answ. No; but according as they employ their riches, in fome meafure, for the good of others, either in the church or commonwealth, 1 Tim. vi. 17. 18.

Quest, 16. What are the several relations, wherein duties are mutually to be performed, according to this commandment?

Answ. They are such as subsist between parents and children; magistrates and subjects; ministers and people; hufbands and wives; mafters and fervants; and likewife between those who have a greater or leffer degree of gifts and graces.

Quest. 17. Who are they that have the first and natural right to honour and respect?

Answ. NATURAL PARENTS; fathers and mothers.

Quest. 18. Is equal honour and regard due from children to their mother, as to their father?

Answ. Yes furely: and therefore to prevent any difference, in respect of esteem, reverence, and obedience, she is named before the father, in Lev. xix. 3. Ye Shall fear every man his mother and his father.

Quest. 19. What are the duties of parents to their children? Anfw. To train them up for God, Prov. xxii. 6. in the knowledge and profession of the true religion, Deut. vi. 7.; to teach them by example, as well as by precept, Pfal. ci. 2. 3.; to be careful in applying fuitable and feafonable correction to their faults, Prov. xiii. 24. and xix. 18. and xxiii. 13. 14.; to provide for them according to ability, 2 Cor. xii. 14.; and to be earnest in prayer to God for a bleffing upon them, Gen. xlviii. 15. 16.

Quest. 20. What are the duties of children to their parents? Aufw. To love them dearly, Gen. xlvi. 29.; to esteem and think highly of them in their minds, Lev. xix. 3. Mal. i. 6.; to hearken to their counfels, Prov. iv. 1. and obey their lawful commands, Eph. vi. 1.; to fubmit patiently to their corrections, Heb. xii. 9.; and to fuccour and relieve them in case of poverty and want, Gen. xlvii. 12. especially in old age, Ruth iv. 15.

Quest. 21. May children dispose of themselves in marriage without the knowledge and confent of their parents?

Answ. No; as appears from the charge given by Abraham, concerning his fon Isaac, Gen. xxiv. 3. 4. and that of Ifaac to Jacob, chap, xxviii, 1, 2, 1 but if children shall difpofe of themselves without the knowledge and consent of their parents, they act contrary to the honour, deference, and gratitude they owe to them, as Efau did, Gen. xxvi. 24. 25. Quest. 22. What are the duties of magistrates towards their Subjects?

Anfw. To establish good laws, 2 Kings xviii. 4. and see them impartially executed, Rom. xiii. 3. 4.; to protect their fubiccts in their religion, lives, and liberties, I Pet, ii. 14,; and to be nursing-fathers to the church, If. xlix. 27.

Quest. 22. What is the duty of the magistrate with reference to the church of Christ?

Anfiv. Although he " may not assume to himself the ad-" ministration of word and facraments, or the power of the " keys of the kingdom of heaven; yet he hath authority, and it is his duty, to take order, that unity and peace be " preferved in the church; that the truth of God be kept

" pure and entire; that all blasphemies and heresies be suppreffed; all corruptions and abuses in worship and disci" pline prevented and reformed; and all the ordinances of " God duly fettled, administered, and observed *."

Quest. 24. What are the duties of subjects towards their magistrates?

Anfw. To honour and reverence them, 2 Sam. ix. 6.; to obey their just laws, Eccl. viii. 2.; to pay them the tribute that is due to them, Rom. xiii. 7.; to pray for them, I Tim. ii. 1. 2.; and to support and defend their persons and authority, I Sam. xxvi. 15. 16. Efth. vi. 2.

Quest. 25. Are subjects bound to be obsequious to the lawful commands of magistrates, who are of a different religion from them?

Anfw. " Infidelity, or difference in religion, doth not " make void the magistrate's just and legal authority, nor

" free the people from their due obedience to him to Quest. 26. What are the duties of ministers to their people?

iii. 22.; and to pleafe them well in all things, not answering again, Tit. ii. 9.

Quest. 31. Are masters and servants on earth, subject to Quest. 31. Are masters and servants on earth, subject to one common Lord and Master in beaven?

Answ. Yes: and therefore they ought to behave towards one another, as in his fight; for there is no respect of persons with him, Eph. vi. 9.

Queft. 32

Quest. 32. What are the duties of these who have a larger measure of gifts and grace conferred upon them, towards fuch as have a lesser share of the same?

Anfu. To be exemplary in humility and felf-denial, Gen. xxxii. 10.; as having nothing but what they have received, 1 Cor. iv. 7.; to be communicative of what the Lord has freely given them, Matth. x. 8.; and improve their talents for the benefit of themfelves and others, chap. xxv. 16.

Quest. 33. What are the duties of fuch as are weaker in gifts and graces, towards these that are stronger?

Anfw. To be followers of them in fo far as they are of Chrift, 1 Cor. xi. 11; to be willing to learn from their experiences, Heb. vi. 12.; and to covet earnefly the beft gifts, 1 Cor. xii. 31.

Quest. 34. What is the duty of the younger towards the aged ?

Anfw. To honour and respect them, especially if the hoary bead be found in the way of righteousnies, Prov. xvi. 31-Thou shalt rise up before the hoary head, and honour the face of the old man. Lev. xiv. 32.

Quest. 35. What are the duties of equals to one another?
Answ. To provoke each other unto love and good works,

Heb. x. 24.; to be kindly affectioned one to another, in honour preferring one another, Rom. xii. 10.

Quest. 36. What is the fruit and consequence of the confcientious performance of these relative duties?

Anfw. Hereby outward peace and concord will be better maintained between man and man, 1 Pet. iii. 10. 11.; and likewife the members of Christ's body will be knit more closely to one another in love, 1 John iv. 7.

65. QUEST. What is forbidden in the fifth commandment?

Answ. The fifth commandment forbiddeth the neglecting of, or doing any thing against, the honour and duty which belongesh to every one in their feveral places and relations.

Quest. 1. What is it to neglect the honour and duty which belongeth to every one in their several places and relations? Anfw. It is not only to omit the performance of such relative duties altogether, but even when they are performed, to do them without any regard to the command and authority of God injoining them, If. xxix. 13.

Quest. 2. What is it to do [any thing against the honour and duty which belongeth to every one]?

Answ. It is to commit these sins which are the very opposite of the relative duties incumbent on us, Rom. ii. 22.

Quest. 3. " What are the fins of inferiors against their

" Superiors ?"

Answ. "Envying at, contempt of, and rebellion against their persons and places, in their lawful counsels, commands, and corrections *."

Quest. 4. " What are the fins of superiors?"

Anfau. ".—Commanding things unlawful, or not in the mover of inferiors to perform; counfelling, encouraging, or favouring them in that which is evil;" and "diffua-" ding, difcouraging, or difcountenancing them in that "which is good—\text{\text{discouraging}}, or diffusion them in that

Quest. 5. " What are the fins of equals?"

Answ. "-Envying the gifts, grieving at the advancement or prosperity one of another, and usurping pre-eminence one over another 1."

Quest. 6. What punishment did the law of Moses inflict upon children for smiting or cursing their parents?

Anju. Death, Exod. xxi. 15. He that fmitteth his fatter, or his mother, fball furely be put to Death. And vers. 17. He that curfeth his father, or his mother, fball furely be but to Death.

Quest. 7. Why was fuch a severe punishment inflisted for thefe crimes ?

Anfw. Because either beating or cursing of parents are fins directly opposite to the hight and law of nature, and pregnant evidences, not only of the worst kind of ingratitude, but of incurable disobedience; and therefore the equity of this punishment feems to be approved by our Lord under the New Testament, Matth. xx. 4.

66. QUEST. What is the reason annexed to the fifth commandment?

Answ. The reason annexed to the fifth commandment, is, a promise of long life and prosperity (as far as it shall serve for God's glory, and their own good) to all such as keep this commandment.

Quest. 1. Whether doth the [promise] annexed to this commandment, respect temporal or spiritual good?

Anfw. It respects temporal good, to shew that godliness is profitable unto all things, having the promise of the life that now is, as well as of that which is to come, I Tim. iv. 8.

Quest. 2. What is the temporal good here promised?

Answ. It is [long life]; in these words, That thy days may be long upon the land which the Lord thy God giveth thee.

Quest. 3. Is it long life merely that is promised, without any thing elfe?

Anfw. No: it is long life [and prosperity], or the bleffings and comforts of life; without which, long life would be a grievous burden, Rev. ix. 6.

Quest. 4. Hath not this promise a particular reference to obedient children among the Jews, their living long in the land of Judea, which God gave unto them?

Anfw. Any reference it had unto them, is not exclusive of a reference or relation to children that shall honour their parents, in any other part of the earth, to the end of the world; for so the aposite explains it, Eph. vi. 2. 3. However thy father and thy mother,—that it may be well with thee, and that theu mays! live long on the earth.

Quest. 5. What is the difference between the promise of long life in this commandment, and the promise of mercy in the second

Anfu. The promife of flowing mercy, in the feeond commandment, extends to all fuch as love God, and keep his commandments, in general; but the promife of long life here, extends only to the keepers of this commandment in particular.

Quest. 6. Hath this promise always a literal accomplishment; or, do godly and obedient children always live long on earth?

Anfw. If any of them are removed by death, in their younger years, it is either to take them away from the evil to come. If, Ivii. 1.; or to transplant them, so much sooner, to a better country, that is, an heavenly, Heb. xi. 16.

Quest. 7. What are the things which tend to make a long life a happy and comfortable one?

Anfw. They are these three, among others: growth in grace and holines, in proportion to our advancing in years, Psal xcii. 13, 14.; retaining the entire exercise of reason, and some vigour of body, in old age, Deut. xxxiv. 7.; and continuing uleful to others, in our generation, to the end, Josh. xxiv. 25, compared with vers. 20.

Quest. 8. Why is the fifth commandment called the first commandment with promife, Eph. vi. 2.?

Answ. Because it is the first commandment of the second table, and the only commandment in it, that hath an express promise annexed unto it.

Quest. 9. Why is there a special and express promise annexed to this commandment, when it is so strongly inserced by the light of nature?

Anfw. To shew the great regard that God has to the lawful authority of parents, Deut. xxi. 18.—22.; and to engage children to behave dutifully and obsequiously towards them, Prov. iv. 10.

Quest. 10. Whether is the promise of long life, in this commandment, absolute or limited?

Answ. It is limited, and that in the most comfortable man-

Quest. 11. What is the comfortable limitation?

Answ. Long life, with prosperity, is promised, [as far as it shall serve for God's glory, and their own good.]

Quest. 12. Could any wish for long life and prosperity upon other terms?

Answ. No child of God will defire any temporal bleffings, but as it is for God's glory and their good, Prov. xxx. 8.

Quest. 13. What advantage have the godly, with respect to temporal bleffings, above the wicked?

Anjw. They are warranted by promife, which the wicked are not, to expect as many temporal good things, as are needful and necessary for them, Psal. xxxiv. 10. If, xxxiii.

16.; and God's bleffing upon what they enjoy, however finall their portion of temporal comforts may be, Pfal. xxvii.
16. A little that a righteous man hath, is better than the riches of many wicked.

67. QUEST. Which is the fixth command-

Answ. The fixth commandment is, Thou fealt not kill.

68. QUEST. What is required in the fixth commandment?

Answ. The fixth commandment requireth all lawful endeavours, to preserve our own life, and the life of others.

Quest. 1. What doth this commandment chiefly respect?

Answ. The [LIFE] of man, which is the nearest and most valuable of all his temporal concerns, lob it. 4. Skin far skin;

yea, all that a man hath will he give for his life.

Quest. 2. What makes the life of man valuable?

Answ. His being made in the image of God, Gen. ix. 6.

Quest. 3. What doth this commandment require with reference to man's life?

Answ. [All lawful endeavours to preserve] it, in ourselves and others.

Quest. 4. What lawful endeavours should we use for the preservation of [our own] life?

Answ. The " just defence thereof against violence;—2 " sober use of meat, drink, physic, sleep, labour, and re" creation *."

Quest. 5. By what means should we endeavour to preserve

[the life of others]?

Answ. "By relifting all thoughts and purposes, subduing

"all passions, and avoiding all occasions, temptations, and practices, which tend to the unjust taking away the life of any †."

Larger Cat. Queft. 135. † Ibid.

Queft. 6. Why are we restricted by the answer to [lawful endeavours]?

Anfw. To caution and guard us against the unlawful means which some have used, for the preservation of their lives.

Quest. 7. What are the unlawful means which some have used for this end?

Answ. Denying the truth, 1 Tim. i. 19. 20. and lying,

Gen. xil. 12. 13.

Quest. 8. What will be the consequence of denying the truth, for preserving of natural life?

Answ. The losing of a better life than that which we intend thereby to preferve, Matth. xvi. 25. 26.

Quest. 9. May not a lie be told, at a time, for preferving life, especially if the preservation thereof be for the public good?

Anfw. At no time, and on no occasion whatsoever, are we to do evil, that good may come, Rom. iii. 8.

Quest. 10. Are we restricted, by this commandment, to the treservation of bodily life only?

Answ. No: we are also required to consult the welfare of our own fouls, and the fouls of others.

Quest. 11. What is required of us for the welfare of our own fouls?

Anfw. A careful avoiding of all fin, Prov. xi. 19. and a diligent use of all the means of grace, 1 Pet. ii. 2.

Quest. 12. What is required of us for promoting the welfare of the fouls of others?

Anfw. That we be communicative of our knowledge and experiences unto them, as occasion offers, Pfal. lxvi. 16.; that we pray for them, James v. 16.; and that we fet an example of holy walking before them, Matth. v. 16.

Quest. 13. What are these Christian virtues, or graces, which this commandment requires in order to the preservation of life?

Anfw. It requires for this end, "love, compassion, meek"ness, gentleness, kindness,—and comforting, and succouring the distressed *."

Quest. 14. Why should we bear a love to mankind in general?

Anjw. Because they are partakers of the same nature, and possessed of the same rational faculties with us, Acts xvii. 26, 28.

Quest. 15. How doth love contribute to the preservation of Anfav. It covers all these infirmities, and buries all these quarrels which tend to raise strife and variance among men,

Quest. 16. What influence hath compassion upon the duty here required?

Anfw. It affects us fo deeply with the calamities and miferies of our fellow-creatures, that it inclines us to relieve them according to ability, Luke x. 33, 34.

Quest. 17. How doth meekness tend to preserve life?

Anfw. As it governs our passions, Prov. xiv. 20 and prevents our being easily disturbed at the unkind and unmanner-ly treatment of others, Col. iii. 13,

Quest. 18. How doth gentleness contribute to the duty here mentioned?

Anfav. As it excites to an affable and courteous behaviour towards all we are convertant with, I Pet. iii. 8. and difpofes us to put the most favourable construction upon any of their actions that may appear doubtful, I Cor. xiii. 5.

Quest. 19. What influence has kindness upon preserving life?

Answ. As it stirs up to the performance of all good offices in our power, both to the souls and bodies of men, Rom. xii. 10. 12.

Quest. 20. What should engage us to comfort and succour the distressed?

Anfw. A defire to honour the Lord with our fuhflance, Prov. iii. 9. and to lend unto him, who will furely pay us again, chap. xix. 17.

69. QUEST. What is forbidden in the fixth commandment?

Answ. The fixth commandment forbiddeth the taking away of our own life, or the life of our neighbour unjuflly, and whatfoever tendeth thereunto.

Quest. 1. Doth this precept [Thou shalt not kill] prohibit the killing of beafts?

Anfw. No: God made a grant of them to man for food, and other ufer, Gen. ix. 3. and niii. 21. Nevertheles, the exercifing cinely upon beafts (as Balaam did, Numb. xxii. 29.) is very unbecoming all fober men; for a righteous man reparadel the lift of his beaff, Prov. xii. 10.

· Quest. 2. Were not the Jews prohibited to seethe a kid in his mother's milk, Deut. xiv. 21. and to kill the dam when they took the young, chap. xxii. 6. 7.?

Anflue As the doing either of these was an evidence of the favage disposition and temper of some men; so the reason of the prohibition, was to curb and restrain all cruesty to the brute-creatures, in order to prevent any inlet to the horrid sin of murder, or the barbarous usage of one another.

Quest. 3. What are the general fins here forbidden?

Answ. [The taking away of our own life, or the life of our neighbour unjustly], or whatsoever hath a tendency to either of the two.

Quest. 4. Is it lawful, in any case, to take away [our own life

Anfw. No: it is abfolutely unlawful, in any cafe whatever, to defert our flation, or leave the world, without the permiffion and allowance of the fovereign Lord of our life, lob xiv. 14.

Quest. 5. Is there any inflance in scripture of a good most being suffered to lay violent hands on himself?

Anfw. No: any instances the scripture gives of felf-murder, are in men of the most instances character; such as Saul, Ahitophel, Judas, and others of the like stamp.

Quest. 6. Was not Samson ( who was a good man, Heb.

xi. 32.) guilty of this heinous crime, Judg. xvi. 30.?

Anju. When Samfon pulled down the house upon himfelf, and upon all the lords of the Philishines, with about three thousand men and women that were therein; he did not intend his own death, any farther than as an inevitable contequence of defroying to many of the church's enemies, to which he was called and firengthened in an extraordinary reanner by God, as the Lord of life and death, whom he also furphicated for this extraordinary firength, Judge xvi. 28. And herein he was an eminent type of Christ, who, through death, did destroy him that had the power of death, that is, the devil Heb. ii. 14.

Quest. 7. What are the aggravations of the crime of felfmurder?

Answ. It is directly opposite to the natural principle of felf-preservation implanted in us, Job ii. 4.: it argues the highest impatience, and rooted discontent with our lot in a present world, vers. o.: it is an impious invasion of the prerogative of God, as the fole author and disposer of life, 1 Sam. ii. 6 .: and a most daring and presumptuous rushing upon death, and an awful eternity, chap, xxxi. 4. 5.

Quest. 8. What is meant, in the answer, by taking away

- the life of our neighbour unjustly ??

Answ. The taking it away at any rate, " except in case of public justice, lawful war, or necessary defence *."

Quest. o. What is it to take away life in case of public inflice ?

Answ. It is to inflict capital punishment upon notorious criminals, by a lawful magistrate, who is the ordinance of God for that purpose, Rom. xiii. 2. 4.

Queft. 10. What warrant has the civil magistrate to take away the life of a wilful murderer?

Anfav. The express command of God. Gen. ix. 6. Whose fleeddeth man's blood, by man shall his blood be shed.

Quest. 11. Is it lawful for the magistrate to spare, pardon, or reprieve a convicted murderer?

Anfw. It is expressly forbidden as a land-defiling fin, Numb. xxxv. 31. 33. Ye fball take no fatisfaction for the life of a murderer, which is guilty of death; but he shall surely be put to death .- For blood defileth the land : and the land cannot be cleanfed of the blood that is shed therein, but by the blood of him that fled it.

Quest. 12. What other crimes are punishable with death by the laws of God and man?

Anfw. Among feveral others, there are these following; deliberate blasphemy, Lev. xxiv. 16.; notour adultery, Lev. xx. 10.; incest, vers. 11. 12.; fodomy, vers. 13.; befliality, vers. 15.; and witchcraft, vers. 27.

Quest. 13. Is it warrantable in a Christian magistrate to repeal or difable penal laws against witchcraft?

Anfw. By no means; for God has expressly faid, Thou shalt not suffer a witch to live, Exod. xxii. 18.

Quest. 14. Is it lawful to wage war under the New Testament ?

Anfw. Yes; as appears from John the Baptist, his preferibing rules for a military life, Luke iii. 14; and Christ's commending the faith of the Centurion, and finding no fault with his office, Matth. viii. 10.

Quest. 15. What makes war lawful, and the shedding of blood therein warrantable?

Anfw. When it is undertaken in defence of civil or religious liberties, after all habile means have been rejected, for obtaining redrefs of the unjust invasions made upon them, Judg. xi. 12.—34.

Quest. 16. When is the killing of another to be sustained, as done in necessary defence?

Anfw. When there is no way of flying from the aggreffor, (which is rather to be chosen, if it can be done with fafety), but we must either lose our own life, or take away his, Exod-xxii. 2.

Quest. 17. What if one kill another at unawares, or unwill-ingly?

Anjw. If it is not through any culpable neglect, or eareleis overfight, it is not reputed murder, either by the law of God or man; and therefore cities of refuge were of old appointed for fuch, John xx. 9.

Quest. 18. How are men lavish and prodigal of their lives on points of honour?

Anfw. By duelling.

Quest. 19. What is a DUEL?

Anjw. It is a combat or fight between two private persons, upon a challenge given and accepted; wherein each party, aims at the life, or maining of the other.

Quest. 20. Wherein lies the sinfulness of such a practice?

Anfw. It flows from passion, pride, and infatiable revenge as the springs thereof; and is a bold invasion of God's right of vengeance, together with a desperate contempt of death, judgment, and eternity, Rom. xii. 19.

Quest. 21. Did not David fight a duel with Goliath?

Anjw. No; he fought by a peculiar divine impulse, under the shadow of lawful authority, for the public good, PART II.

and not from any private or personal revenge, a Sam. xvii.

Quest. 22. Who was the first murderer of fouls?

Anfw. The devil, who is therefore called a murderer from the beginning, John viii. 44.

Quest. 23. Who was the first murderer of the body?

Guest. 24. Wherefore did he flay him?

Answ. Because his own works were evil, and his brother's righteous, 1 John iii. 12.

Quest. 25. Why was he not put to death?

Anjw. Because God set a peculiar mark of his displeafure upon him, Gen. iv. 12. (worse, in some fort, than natural death), by protracting his miserable life, to be a fugitive, and vagabond in the earth, and a visible monument of an intolerable load of guilt, and hopeless despair, vers. 11.

Quest. 26. What is the difinal effect of this sin upon murderers themselves, even though they escape capital punishment from men?

Anfw. God frequently gives them up to the terror of a guilty conficience, which is their continual tormentor, Gen. iv. 13. 14.

Quest. 27. How has God testified his displeasure against this Anfw. Ordinarily, by shortening the lives of murderers, Plal 1v. 23.—Blody and deceifful men shall not live out half their days. And sometimes by transfirting temporal judgments to their posterity; as Saul's murder of the Gibeonites, was punished in the death of seven of his sons, 2 Sam. xxi. 6. 8. 9.

Quest. 28. How may murder be aggravated?

Anfw. If it is committed under pretence of religion, as Jezebel murdered Naboth, I Kings xxi, 9, 10.; and as the Psylfs perpetrate their maffacres: or, if it is done under the diguife and mafk of friendflip, as Joab killed Amafa, 2 Sam. xx. 9, 10.; or, which is unspeakably worse, as Judas betrayed our Lord, Matth, xxvi. 43, 49.

Quest. 29. Doth this command forbid only the taking away of our own life, and the life of our neighbour unjustly?

Answ. It forbids also, [what sover tendeth thereunte].

Quest. 30.

Quest. 30. What are these things which tend to the taking away of our own life?

Anfw. " Neglecting or withdrawing the lawful and ne-" ceffary means of preferving it; -- all exceffive passions, di-" stracting cares, and immoderate use of meat, drink, la" bour, and recreations "."

Quest. 31. How may we be guilty before God, of taking away the life of our neighbour, though we do not actually imbrue our hands in his blood?

Anfw. We may be guilty this way in our hearts, with our tongues, and by our actions.

Quest. 32. How may we be guilty of murder in our hearts? Answ. By harbouring " finful anger, hatred, envy, and " a defire of revenge +."

Quest. 33. May there be anger which is not finful?

Answ. Yes; when there is a detestation of the fin, and yet no diflike of the person: in which sense the apostle fays, Be ye angry, and fin not, Eph. iv. 26.

Quest. 34. What is the hazard of finful anger?

Anfw. Whofoever is angry with his brother without a caufe,

Shall be in danger of the judgment, Matth. v. 22.

Quest. 35. What is it to be in danger of the judgment? Answ. It is to be in danger of eternal punishment in the other world, for the breach of this commandment, if rich and fovereign grace prevent it not, Prov. xix. 19.

Quest. 36. How doth hatred tend to take away the life of our neighbour ?

Answ. It hath fuch a tendency thereunto, that whosoever hateth his brother is accounted a murderer, I John iii. 15. Quest. 37. What tendency hath envy to the taking away of Answ. As it is grieved at the good of another, or takes a fecret pleafure in his death, Prov. xxvii. 4.

Quest. 38. How doth defire of revenge tend to take away

Anfw. As it is accompanied with an inward habitual imprecation of fome vilible or remarkable judgment upon the person who is the object of it, quite contrary to the command of God, Rom. xii. 19. Avenge not your felves :- for it is written, Vengeange is mine: I will repay, faith the Lord?

Quest. 39. How may we be guilty of what tendeth to take away the life of our neighbour with our tongues?

Anfw. By bitter and provoking words, Prov. xii. 18.; or threatening, reviling, and deriding speeches, Matth. v. 22. Queft. 40. How may we be guilty this way by our actions?

Anfw. By oppression, Ezek. xviii. 18.; quarrelling, Gal. v. 15.; striking, or wounding, Numb. xxxv. 21.; and the like.

Quest. 41. What may we learn from this commandment?

Anfw. That however innocent we may be of the actual blood-shedding of others, yet we are ftill chargeable with the worst kind of murder, even that of our own fouls, while we will not come to Christ, that we might have life, John v. 40.; he being the only living and true way, chap. xiv. 6.; and no other name under beaven given among men whereby we mult be faved, Acts iv. 12.

70. QUEST. Which is the seventh command-

Answ. The feventh commandment is, Thou shalt not commit adultery.

71. QUEST. What is required in the seventh commandment?

Answ. The feventh commandment requireth the prefervation of our own and our neighbour's chaftity in heart, fpeech, and behaviour.

Quest. 1. What is [chastity]?

Airw. It is an abhorrence of all uncleanners, whether in the body, or in the mind and affections, Job xxxi. 1.

Quest. 2. What doth this commandment require with reference to such chastity?

Answ. [The preservation] of it, both in ourselves, and in our neighbours.

Quest. 3. What is the best means for preserving our own and our neighbour's chassity?

Anfw.

Anfw. The nourifhing in our minds and confciences a continual regard, reverence, and awe of the divine Majesty, and a fear of displeasing him, Prov. v. 20. 21.

Quest. 4. What influence will this have upon the preservation of chastity?

Anju. It will make us boldly refift all affaults or attacks that may be made upon it; as in the inflamce of Jofepher's wife to like with her, he refu-fed: and faid,—How can I do this great wickedness, and fin against God? Gen. xxix, 7.8.0.

Quest. 5. Wherein are we to preferve [our own and our neighbour's chastity]?

Anfw. [In heart, speech, and behaviour].

Quest. 6. How ought we [in heart] to preferve our own challity?

An/w. By refifting the very first motions of lust in the four Prov. iv. 23.; by repelling all wanton imaginations, Matth. v. 28.; and by essaying both these in the way of praying to God, that he would turn away our hearts and eyes from beholding vanity, Pfal. exix. 37.

Quest. 7. How ought we to preserve our [neighbour's chastity in our heart?

Answ. Not only by an ardent wishing the preservation thereof, but by loving one another with a pure heart fervently, I Pet. i. 22.

Quest. 8. How ought we to preserve our own and our neighbour's chastity in our [speech]?

Answ. By letting no corrupt communication proceed out of our mouth, but that which is good, to the use of edifying, that it may minister grace unto the hearers, Eph. iv. 20.

Quest. 9. How should we do this in our [behaviour]?

Anfw. By fuch an uniform modelty in our conduct and deportment, as may evidence that every one of us doth poffels bis veffel [that is, his body], in fancitification and honour, 1 Theff. iv. 4.

Quest. 10. Why should we be so careful to preserve our cha-Rity?

Anfw. Because we should study to have our bodies to be the temples of the Holy Ghost, and therefore should keep them free from these pollutions which are so provoking to a holy God, 1 Cor. vi. 19. 122 . Quest. 11. What is the ordinary mean of divine appointment for the preservation of chastity?

Answ. Lawful wedlock or marriage, 1 Cor. vii. 2. Nevertheless, to avoid fornication, let every man have his own wife, and let every woman have her own husband. Quest. 12. When was marriage first instituted?

Answ. Before the fall, in paradife, Gen. ii. 24.

Quest. 13. For what end was it instituted?

Anfw. " For the mutual help of husband and wife, Gen. " ii. 18.; for the increase of mankind with a legitimate

" iffue, and of the church with a holy feed, Mal. ii. 15.; " and for preventing uncleannefs, I Cor. vii. 2. *"

Quest. 14. What is necessary to constitute marriage? Anfw. The voluntary and mutual confent of both parties, Gen. xxiv. 58. 67.

Quest. 15. Who may lawfully marry?

Answ. "All forts of people who are able, with judgment," to give their confent," Heb. xiji. 4. Marriage is honourable in all +.

Quest. 16. What is the duty of Christians with reference to marriage?

Anfw. It is to marry only in the Lord, 1 Cor. vii. 39.

Quest, 17. What is the native import of marrying only in the Lord?

Answ. It plainly imports, that " such as profess the true " reformed religion should not marry with infidels, Papists,

" or other idolaters: neither should such as are godly be un-" equally yoked, by marrying with fuch as are notoriously wicked in their life, or maintain damnable herefies t."

Quest. 18. What is an incestuous marriage?

Answ. It is that which is within the degrees of confanguinity or affinity forbidden in the word, Lev. xviii. 6 .- 18.

Quest. 10. What is the meaning of the words confanguinity and affinity?

Anfw. Consanguinity is a relation by blood, being betwixt persons descended from the same family: AFFINITY is an alliance by marriage, between perfons who were not blood-relations before.

1 Ibid. with the feripture proofs.

Quest. 20. What is the general rule for preventing inceftu-

Anfw. "The man may not marry any of his wife's kindred nearer in blood than he may of his own; nor the woman of her hufband's kindred nearer in blood than of 66 her own * 33

Quest. 21. Is it proper to call marriage a HOLY estate?

Anfw. No; because they who are without the visible church, such as, Heathens, Turks, and Jews, may marry, as well as the professed members thereof, Heb. xiii. 4.

Quest. 22. Was marriage instituted to "signify the mysti-" cal union that is between Christ and his church," as the book of common prayer affirms?

Anfu. No; because this borders too near upon making marriage a facrament, as the Papists do; in as much as an outward visible fign, bf divine institution, and a spiritual benefit signified thereby, would make it partake of the nature of a scrament.

Queft. 23. Doth not the apostle make it a significant sign, when he says. Husbands, love your wives, even as Christ loved the church, Eph. v. 25.?

Anfw. He exhorts hufbands to have fuch a love to their wives, as may bear a faint refemblance, in some respects, to the love of Christ; but does not make the one a fign fignificant of the other.

Quest. 24. Is not marriage called a great mystery, vers.

Anfw. It is not marriage that is called a great myflery, but the union that is between Chrift and the members of his myflical body; as will appear by reading the whole verfe, This is a great myflery: but I fpeak concerning CHRIST and the CHURCH.

72. QUEST. What is forbidden in the seventh commandment?

Answ. The feventh commandment forbiddeth all unchaste thoughts, words, and actions.

Quest. I. What is forbidden in this commandment under the name of ADULTERY?

Answ. All forts of unchastity or uncleanness of what kind, or in what manner foever committed, Eph. v. 3.

Quest. 2. In what respects may persons be guilty of unchafity or uncleanness?

Angu. They may be quilty this way, in their Estate that Answ. They may be guilty this way, in their [thoughts, words, and actions.]

Quest. 3. When are persons chargeable before God with unchaste [thoughts]?

Anfw. When luftful defires are entertained and gratified in the mind, and as it were acted in the imagination, Prov. vi. 18. Matth. v. 28.

Quett. 4. What are the ufual incentives to unchafte thoughts?

Answ. "Lascivious songs, books, pictures, dancings, of ftage-plays," and the like *.

Quest. 5. What influence have stage-plays upon fomenting unchaste thoughts?

Anfau. They are generally stuffed with such amorous adventures, many of them of a most criminal nature, that they have a native tendency to debauch and desse the mind. If no corrupt communication is to proceed out of our mouth, according to Eph. iv. 29.; meither ought we to listen to it with our ears, as is done by those who attend the profane diversions of the stage.

Quest. 6. What is meant by [unchaste words]?

Anfw. All filthy, obscene, or smutty discourse; than which, nothing can be more grating and disagreeable to modest ears, Eph. v. 4.

Quest. 7. What are the unchaste [actions] that are forbidden in this commandment?

Anfw. Besides several others, that ought not to be framed among Heathers, let be Christians; there are these followings, poligamy, unjust divorce, fornication, and adultery properly so called.

Quest. 8. What is POLIGAMY?

Anfw. It is the having moe wives or husbands than one, at the same time, Mal. ii. 14.

Quest. 9. Is this a fin contrary to the law of nature?

Anjw. Yes; for it is contrary to the first institution of marriage; God having created but one woman, as an help meet for man, Gen. ii. 22.—25. compared with Matth. xix. 5. 6.

Quest. 10. Is it a fin prohibited in scripture?

Anfw. Yes; Lev. xviii. 18. Thou flast not take a wife to her lifer, to vex her-in her lifetime.

Ouest, 11. What is the meaning of taking a wife to her si-

Anfw. The meaning is, (according to the marginal reading), Thou shalt not take one wife to another; that is, thou shalt not have more wives than one at a time.

Quest. 12. But may not this be a prohibition of incest, namely, of marrying the wife's fifter?

Anfou. No; because it is faid, Thou shalt not do it in her lifetime; whereas it would be incessuous in a man to marsh is sifter-in-law, after his wife's death, as well as to do it in her lifetime: so that the meaning is, Thou shalt not take another wise to her whom thou halt married, by which means they would become fifters.

Quest, 12. Who was the first poligamist we read of in scripture?

Answ. Lamech, of the posterity of Cain, who had two wives, Gen. iv. 10.

Quest. 14. Were not feverals of the godly likewife guilty in this matter, as Abraham, Jacob, David, Solomon, and others? Anfw. Yes; but though these and other bad actions of good men be recorded in scripture, they are not approved of, nor proposed for our imitation; but rather set up as beacons, to prevent our making shipwreck on the same rocks.

Quest. 15. Has not God even testified his displeasure at the fin of poligamy, in the godly, though we do not read of his re-proving them for it in express words?

anfu. Yes: he has testified his displeasure in the course of his providence, by the emulations, quarrels, and dissurances that were hereby occasioned in their families; as in the instances of Sarah and Hagar, in Abraham's family, Gen. xxx. 1.15.; and of Hannah and Peninnah, in Elkanah's family, 1 Sam. 1.6.

Quest. 16. Does not God feem to approve of poligamy, PART II. when he fays to David, I gave thee thy master's wives inte thy bosom, 2 Sam, xii. 8.?

An fun. It being the cultom of these times, for succeeding kings to take possession of all that belonged to their predecessions, the meaning is, I bave made thee king in room of Saul, and have given thee the property of all that appertained to him: but we do not read of David's taking any of Saul's wives into his bed.

Quest. 17. What is an unjust DIVORCE?

Answ. It is the profecuting and obtaining a diffolution of marriage, upon other grounds than such as are warranted in the word of God, and by right reason.

Quest. 18. What are the grounds upon which a divorce may be fued for, and obtained, according to the word of God, and right reason?

Anfw. "Although the corruption of man be fuch as is apt to fludy arguments, unduly to put afunder those whom "God hath joined together in marriage; yet nothing but " adultery, or fuch wilful defertion, as can no way be remedied by the church or civil magistrate, is cause sufficient for dissolving the bond of marriage, Matth. xix. 8, 9.

" I Cor. vii. 15. *"

Quest. 19. Did not Moses suffer the Ifraelites to put away their wives, upon slighter grounds than that of adultery, as may be alledged from Deut. xxiv. 1.?

Anfw. Moses, in the text cited, gives no positive command about divorces in such cases, but only, in order to restrain the licentious freedom of the Israelites, in turning off their wives, at their own band, upon every trivial occasion, he injoins, that none put away his wife, but upon a legal process, or a bill of divorce, obtained in the ordinary course of law; which is the true meaning of the place.

Quest. 20. Why then doth our Lord tell the Pharifees, Matth. xix. 8. Moses, because of the hardness of your hearts, suffered you to put away your wives?

Anju. The meaning is; Mofes, because of the wicked and malicious disposition of the Jews, and in order to prevent a greater evil, namely, the ill ulage, or even killing of their hated wives, (if they could not be separated from them), permitted proceedies of divorce to be legally commenced.

Confession of faith, chap. xxit. § 6.

Quest, 21. Why is it added, but from the beginning it was not fo?

Answ. Because according to the original institution of marriage, nothing could diffolve it but the death of one of the parties, Matth. xix. 6. Wherefore they are no more twain, but one flesh. What therefore God hath joined together, let no man but afunder.

Quest. 22. Is it lawful to marry after a divorce is obtain-

Answ. " It is lawful for the innocent party to fue out a di-" vorce; and after the divorce, to marry another, as if the " offending party were dead "."

Quest. 23. Is the innocent party obliged, from Matth. v.

32. to fue for a divorce?

Anfav. No: divorces are not injoined as a precept, but allowed as a privilege, which the innocent party may claim, or not, as they pleafe.

Quest. 24. What if the adultery be on both fides?

Answ. In that case the right of divorce seems to be taken away from each of them.

Quest. 25. What is FORNICATION?

Answ. It is uncleanness committed between a man and a woman, both of them being unmarried; as it would feem Shechem and Dinah were, when guilty this way, Gen. xxxiv. 2.

Quest. 26. Was this esteemed a fin among the Heathens?

Answ. No: they made light of it, (as too many professed Christians have always done): hence the synod at Jerusalem injoined the converted Gentiles to abstain from fornication, Acts xv. 20.

Quest. 27. Wherein lies the evil of this fin?

Anfw. It defiles the body, 1 Cor. vi. 18.; stupifies the confcience, Hof. iv. 11.; and exposes to eternal wrath and damnation, 1 Cor. vi. o.

Quest. 28. What is ADULTERY, properly fo called? Anfw. It is uncleanness committed betwixt a man and a woman, either both, or one of them at least, in a married relation. Quest. 29. What is it commonly called when both the guilty persons are married?

Anfw. It is called double adultery, as was the case between David and Bathsheba, 2 Sam. xi. 3, 4.

Quest. 30. Whether are the confequences to families worse, when the man is married and the woman free; or, when the woman is married and the man free?

Answ. The consequences to families feem to be worse when the woman is married; because hereby a man's offforing is corrupted, and his inheritance alienated to a fou-rious iffue.

Quest. 21. What are the aggravations of this heinous fin? Answ. It is a breach of the marriage-oath, Mal. ii. 14.; an involving of two at once in the same guilt, I Cor. vi. 16. and it is a crime committed after obtaining the remedy which God has provided against it, chap, vii. 2.

Quest. 32. What are the fatal effects of adultery in this life? Anfw. It confumes the body, Prov. v. 11.; wastes a man's estate, bringing him to a piece of bread, chap. vi. 26.; and it leaves an indelible blot upon his name, His reproach fball not be wiped away, vers. 33.

Quest: 33. What will be the effect thereof in the life to come?

Answ. Eternal wrath and damnation, if rich mercy and grace prevent not, Eph. v. g. Quest. 34. How doth God testify his abhorrence of this fin?

Anfw. By declaring that he will referve the puniflment thereof in his own hand, to be inflicted in a very peculiar manner upon fuch as are guilty of it, Heb. xiii. 4. Whoremonvers and adulterers God will judge.

Quest. 35. What are the usual incentives to this, and other acts of uncleanness?

Answ, Drunkenness, Gen. xix. 33, fulness of bread, and abundance of idleness, Ezek. xvi. 49.

Quest. 36. What is the evil of idleness?

Answ. It is a deliberate wasting of precious time, to the manifest detriment both of foul and body, Eccl, x. 18.; and is a fit feafon for temptations to luft, Prov. vii. 7. 8.

Queft. 37. Wherein confifts the evil of gluttony? Anfw. It indifposeth for all duty, both religious and civil,

Prov. xxiii. 21.; and is a making a god of our belly, Phil.

Queft. 38. What is the evil of drunkenness?

ing a man of the right use of his reason; and leaves him defenceless against all temptations, Prov. xxiii. 29. 30.

Quest. 30. What are the proper remedies against lust, and all the incentives to it?

Anfw. A ferious reflecting upon the all-feeing eye of an infinitely holy God, Gen. xxxix. o.; a walking in the Spirit, whereby we shall be preserved from fulfilling the lusts of the fle/b, Gal. v. 16.; keeping a ftrict watch over our hearts, Prov. iv. 23.; studying to shun all occasions of this sin by the external fenfes, Job xxxi. 1.; and fervent prayer to God, to be kept from it, and all temptations to it, Pfal. cxix. 37.

73. QUEST. Which is the eighth commandment?

Answ. The eighth commandment is, Thou Shalt not steal.

74. QUEST. What is required in the eighth commandment?

Answ. The eighth commandment requireth the lawful procuring and furthering the wealth and outward estate of ourselves and others.

Quest. 1. What is the subject-matter of this commandment?

Answ. The wealth and outward estate of ourselves and others. 7

Quest. 2. What doth it require with reference to these?

Answ. [The procuring and furthering] of them.

Quest. 3. In what manner doth it injoin us to procure and further them?

Answ. Only in a [lawful] manner; for it requires the LAWFUL procuring and furthering of them.

Quest. 4. Whose wealth is it we sould procure and fur-

Anfw. Our own wealth, and that of others.

Quest. 5. By what lawful means should we procure and further OUR OWN wealth?

140 Anfw. By labour and industry in some honest calling, Eph.

iv. 28. Quest. 6. What is included in the labour and industry we fould exercise in our respective stations and callings?

Answ. Frugality in managing the affairs of our calling, and a moderate endeavour to recover our own when wrongfully detained from us.

Ouest. 7. What is to be understood by frugality in managing the affairs of our calling?

Answ. Prudence and moderation in our expences, so as to be fure always to foend within our incomes, Prov. xxxi. 16. Quest. 8. Is it warrantable to go to law, for recovering our own, when wrongfully detained?

Anfw. Yes furely; providing other means have been previously tried without success.

Quest, o. How do you prove that it is warrantable for Christians to go to law with one another, when necessitated thereunto?

Answ. From the lawfulness of magistracy, which is the ordinance of God, Rom. xiii. 2. for the punishment of evil doers; and for the praise of them that do well, 1 Pet. ii. 14.

Quest. 10. Doth not our Lord find fault with this method, when he fays, If any man will fue thee at law, and take away thy coat, let him have thy cloak also, Matth. v. 40.?

Answ. The meaning is, that we should rather part with a little of our right, than run ourselves into unnecessary charges at law, perhaps vaftly beyond the value of what we are feeking to regain; and thereby discover a contentious and quarrelfome spirit, unbecoming Christianity.

Quest. 11. Doth not the apostle also blame Christians for this practice, when he fays, Ye go to law one with another;

why do ye not rather take wrong, I Cor. vi. 7.?

Answ. The apostle is there speaking of bringing pleas unnecessarily before Heathen magistrates; and his meaning is, that Christians should make up differences among themselves, by fubmitting to arbitration; or even by fuffering fome wrong, rather than by vexatious law-fuits (especially about leffer matters) bring a fcandal upon the religion which they profess.

Quest. 12. How is the necessity of labouring in an honest calling inforced in scripture?

Answ. From the necessity of eating: the apostle argues from the natural necessity of the one, to the moral necessity of the other, 2 Thess. iii. 10. This we commanded you, that if any would not work, neither should he eat. Ouest. 12. Can we procure and surther our wealth and outward eftate, merely by our own labour and industry?

Answ. Our own industry is necessary, but without the Lord's blessing thereupon, it will not be successful; for it is the blessing of the Lord that maketh rich, Prov. x. 22.

Quest. 14. What ends should we propose to ourselves, in endeavouring to further, or increase, our own outward estate?

Anfw. That we may honour the Lord with our fubstance, Prov. iii. 9.; live comfortably ourselves, Eccl. v. 19.; and be useful to others, Eph. iv. 28.

Quest. 15. By what means should we procure and further the wealth and outward estate of OTHERS?

Anfw. By exercifing justice and righteousness towards all, Pfal. xv. 2.; and by relieving the wants and necessities of those who stand in need of our charity, 1 John iii. 17.

Quest. 16. What is the rule and standard of that justice and righteousness we should exercise towards all men?

Mn/w. That we so deal with others, as we would have them to deal with us, if we were in their place or condition: or, that we should never do that to another, which, if we were in that other's place or circumstances, we would reckon to be unjust, Matth. vii. 12.

Quest. 17. In what cases is this rule to be particularly applied, according to the scope of this commandment?

Answ. In all contracts, or matters of traffic and commerce between man and man; and likewise in making satisfaction for injuries.

Quest. 18. How is it to be applied in contracts, or matters of traffic between man and man?

Anjw. It is to be applied thus; that in buying and felling there be always a jult proportion between the price and the thing fold; or, that the fale be according to the worth or value of the goods, without taking advantage of ignorance or poverty on either fiels, Gen. xxiin 15, 16.

Queft. 19. How may the worth and value of goods be, known?

Answ. By this general maxim, that every thing is worth as much, as it may be currently sold for.

Quest. 20.

Quest. 20. May not the price of the same commodity vary and change at different times?

Anfw. Yes; according to the plenty or fcarcity of the commodity at the time of fale.

Quest. 21. What satisfaction sould be made to others, for taking or detaining what belongs to them; or any manner of way defrauding them ?

Anfa. No other fatisfaction is agreeable to God's will of precept, or will gain the approbation of men, but RESTITUTION, if the injuring party is ever capable to make it, Lev. vi. 2.—6. 1 Sam. xii. 2.

Quest. 22. What if the person to whom the restitution should be made, or his nearest of kin, cannot be found?

Answ. In that case, what has been unjustly detained ought to be given to the poor, or to some pious use, Numb. v. 8.

Quest. 23. Is relieving the necessities of the poor a duty required in this commandment?

Anfw. Yes; because it is a furthering the outward estate of our neighbour who is in want.

Quelt. 24. Why should we relieve the necessities of the poor? Answ. Because he that hath pity upon the poor, lendesh to the Lord; and that which he hath given, will he pay him again, Prov. xix. 17.

Quest. 25. Who are the proper objects of charity?

Anfw. All who are in real poverty and want, and are not able to work; especially these who are of the household of faith, Gal. vi. 10.

Quest. 26. How should our acts of charity be managed?

Answ. They should be conducted with prudence, namely, 25 our own circumstances will permit, and the necessity of the object requires, 1 John iii. 17.

Quest. 27. When should we perform acts of charity?

Answ. Presently, if the necossities of those whom we are bound to relieve, call for present affishance, Prov. iii. 28.

Ouest. 28. What should we shun or avoid, in our acts of sharity?

Answ. All oftentation, or a desire to be feen of men, and commended by them, Matth. vi. 2.—5.

75. QUEST. What is forbidden in the eighth commandment?

ANSW.

Answ. The eighth commandment forbiddeth whatfoever doth, or may unjustly hinder our own or our neighbour's wealth or outward estate.

Quest. 1. What doth the forbidding of THEFT necessarily Suppose ?

Answ. That there are distinct rights and properties among men, which cannot be justly invaded or incroached upon, Lev. vi. 4.

Quest. 2. What would be the necessary consequences of a community of goods among men?

Anfw. It would destroy traffic and commerce; abolish all acts of charity; encourage floth and idleness; and if there were no right and property, there could be no encroachment upon it by theft or flealing.

Quest. 3. From whom are we forbidden to steal?

Anfw. Both from ourselves and others.

Quest. 4. How may we be faid to steal from OURSELVES? Anfw. By idleness, niggardliness, and prodigality.

Quest. 5. How do we steal from ourselves, or impair our own estates, by idleness?

Answ. When we either live without a lawful calling. Prov. xix. 15.; or neglect it, if we have any, chap. xviii. o. Quest. 6. How may a person be said to steal from himself by niggardliness?

Anfw. When he defrauds himself of the due use and comfort of that estate which God hath given him, Eccl. vi. 2.

Quest. 7. How do persons, on the other hand, steal from themselves by prodigality?

Anfw: By being lavish and profuse in spending above their income, Prov. xxiii. 20. 21.

Quest. 8. What is the fin which is more directly pointed at, in this commandment?

Anfw. It is stealing from oTHERS; or laying hands upon, and taking away unjustly, that which is the right and property of another.

Quest. 9. How many ways may persons be faid to steal from others; or, [unjustly hinder their neighbour's wealth, or Anfw. Several ways; particularly, by theft, rebbery, re-PART II.

fetting, defrauding, monopolizing, and taking unlawful u-furv.

Quest. 10. What is theft?

Answ. It is the taking away clandestinely, or privily, from another, that which is his, Lev. xix. 11.

Quest. 11. How is theft commonly distinguished?

Anfw Into private and public.

Quest, 12. What is private theft?

Anfw. It is the taking away lefs or more of any private person's property, without their knowledge or consent, Obadvers. 5.

Quest. 13. Against whom is public thest committed?
Answ. Both against the church and commonwealth.

Quest. 14. How is public theft called, as committed against the church?

Answ. Either Simony or facrilege.

Quest. 15. What is Simony?

Anjw. It is the buying and felling of ecclefialtical places and offices for money, or other good deeds: 6 called, from the wicked practice of Simon Magus, who offered the apoflles money, faying, Give me also this power, that on whom-sever I lay handly, he may receive the Holy Ghoss, Acts viii. 18, 19.

Quest. 16. What is facrilege?

Anfw. It is the taking away or alienating of any thing which hath been dedicated to a facred use, Prov. xx. 25. Mal. iii. 8.

Quest. 17. Why are these called public thest, when, for most part, they are privately committed?

Answ. Because they very much affect the public interest and welfare of the church; in regard nothing has a greater tendency to her ruin, than Simonaical compacts and facrilegious usurpations.

Quest. 18. Wherein consists public theft, as committed against the commonwealth?

Anfw. In embezzling the current coin, or doing detriment to the public for private advantage, Rom. xiii. 7. Phil. ii. 4.

Quest. 19. What is robbery, or rapine?

Answ. It is the taking away the goods of another by violence and open force, Job xx. 19.

Quest. 20. Wherein lies the aggravation of this crime?

Anfw. In its being an avowed pillaging or plundering of our neighbour; and, for ordinary, accompanied with a threatening to take away his life, if he adventures to make the leaft refiftance, Judg. ix. 25.

Quest. 21. What is the evil of resetting of what is taken away, whether by stealth or violence?

Anfw. It is a manifest encouraging of, and partaking with thieves and robbers in their sin, Pfal. 1. 18.; and consequently a coming under the same guilt and condemnation with them, Prov. xxix, 24.

Quest. 22. How do men commonly defraud one another?

Answ. In buying, selling, and borrowing.

Quest. 23. How do they defraud in buying?

Anfw. By depreciating and vilifying what they intend to buy, that they may have it cheaper than the value, Prov. xx. 14.

Quest. 24. How do they defraud one another in felling?

Anfw. By taking an unreasonable price, 1 Thess. iv. 6.; or, cheating by false weights and measures, Deut. xxv. 13, 14. 15.

Quest. 25. How do they defraud in borrowing?

Anfw. When they borrow, or take on, what they know they can never be able, in the ordinary course of providence, to pay, Psal. xxxvii. 21.

Quest. 26. If a man's creditors compound with him for less than he is owing, is he therefore discharged of the whole debt?

Anju. Though his creditors for fear of lofing all, may, compound and difcharge for a part, fo as that there can be no action in law for the remainder; yet, in the court of confcience, and before Good, he is bound, if eyer he is able, to pay every farthing: and, if he is an honef man, he will never reckon his substance his own, till he do it, Rom. xiii.

Quest. 27. How may servants defraud their masters?

Answ. By wasting their masters goods, which they may have among their hands; and not working faithfully for their wages, Tit. ii. 9. 10

Quest. 28. How may masters defraud their servants?

Anfw. By detaining from, or tricking them out of their wages, Lev. xix. 13.; or by exacting of them too rigorous labour, Exod. v. 9.

Quest. 29. What is it to monopolize?

Answ. It is to engross commodities, in order to enhance the price of them.

Quest. 30. What is the worst kind of monopolising or forefalling?

Answ. It is the buying up corns and provisions in large quantities, in order to exact an higher price for them afterwards.

Quest. 31. Wherein consists the evil of this fin?

Anfw. They who are guilty of it enrich themselves upon the spoils of others, Ezek. xxii. 20.; they grind the faces of the poor, If, iii. 15.; and bring upon themselves the curse of the people. Prov. xi. 26. He that with-holdeth corn, the people shall CURSE him; but bleffing shall be upon the head of him that felleth it.

Quest 32. What is it to take USURY, according to the proper lignification of the word?

Anfw. It is to take gain, profit, or interest for the loan of Quest. 33. What kind of usury is lawful?

Anfav. That which is moderate, eafy, and no way oppreffive, Deut. xxiii, 20. compared with Exod. xxii. 21.

Quest. 34. How do you prove that moderate usury is lawful!

Answ. From the very light of nature, which teaches, that fince the borrower proposes to gain by the loan, the lender should have a reasonable share of his profits, as a recompence for the use of his money, which he might otherwife have disposed of to his own advantage, 2 Cor. viii. 13.

Quest. 35. What is the usury condemned in scripture, and by right reason?

Anfw. It is the exacting of more interest or gain for the loan of money, than is fettled by univerfal confent, and the laws of the land, Prov. xxviii. 8. He that by ufury, and unjust gain, increaseth his substance, shall gather it for him that will pity the poor.

Quest. 36. How do you prove from scripture, that mode: rate usury, or common interest, is not oppression in itself?

Answ. From the express command laid upon the Ifraelites not to oppress a stranger, Exod. xxiii. 9.; and yet their being allowed to take usury from him, Deut. xxiii. 20.; which they

they would not have been permitted to do, if there had been an intrinsic evil in the thing itself.

Quest. 37. Is it warrantable to take interest from the poor?

Answ. By no means; for if fuch as are honest, and in needy circumstances, shall borrow a small sum towards a livelihood, and repay it in due time, it is all can be expected. of them; and therefore the demanding of any profit or interest, or even taking any of their necessaries of life in pledge for the fum, feems to be plainly contrary to the law of charity, Exod. xxii. 25 .- 28. Pfal. xv. 5.

Quest. 38. Were not the Ifraelites discharged to take usury from their brethren, whether poor or rich, Deut. xxiii. 19.

Thou shalt not lend upon usury to thy brother?

Answ. This text is to be restricted to their poor brethren, as it is explained, Exod. xxii. 25. and Lev. xxv. 35. 36.; or, if it respects the Israelites indifferently, then it is one of the judicial laws peculiar to that people, and of no binding force now.

Quest. 39. What is the spring of all these different ways whereby men defraud and injure one another in their outward estate?

Answ. Covetousness, Luke xii. 15.; or an inordinate prizing and affecting of worldly goods, Pfal. lxii. 10.

Quest. 40. What should scare and deter every one from such wicked practices?

Answ. The confideration of the curse that shall enter into the house of the thief, Zech. v. 3. 4.; and of the vengeance that shall light upon such as go beyond and defraud their neighbour, for the Lord is the avenger of all fuch, I Theil. iv. 6.

76. OUEST. Which is the ninth commandment? Answ. The ninth commandment is, Thou shalt not bear false witness against thy neighbour.

77. OUEST. What is required in the ninth commandment?

Answ. The ninth commandment requireth the maintaining and promoting of truth between man and man, and of our own and our neighbour's good name, especially in witness bearing.

Quest. 1. Wherein doth the ninth commandment differ from the three preceding ones?

Anfw. The three commands immediately preceding, have a respect unto the injuries that may be done to ourselves or others by deeds or actions : but the ninth has a reference to wrongs done by words.

Quest. 2. What is the general duty required in this commandment?

Anfiv. It is [the maintaining and promoting of truth betrucen man and man.

Quest. 3. What is the TRUTH, between man and man.

we are required to maintain and promote?

Answ. It is the strict veracity of our words or speeches, in whatever we affert or deny; whether in our ordinary converfation; or in our oaths, promifes, bargains, and contracts, Zech. viii. 16 .- Speak ye every man the truth to his neighhour.

Quest. 4. Wherein consists the Strict veracity that ought to be in our words or speeches?

Anfw. In uttering things as they really are in themselves. according to our uptaking of them; that is, that there be an exact agreement and harmony between our thoughts, words, and the things themselves, Pfal. xv. 1-2 .- Who shall dwell in thy holy hill? He that-speaketh truth in his heart.

Quest. 5. Why will God have nothing but frist truth to be uttered? Anfw. Because he is a God of truth, and without iniquity, just and right is he, Deut. xxxii. 4. Quest. 6. Is it lawful at any time to conceal part of the Aufw. Yes; when neither the glory of God, nor our own, or our neighbour's good requires that the whole of it be told; only no untruth must be said in concealing of it, I Sam. xvi. 2. 5.

Quest. 7. What is the chief end for which the tongue, or gift of speech, is conferred upon us?

Anfw. That thereby we may glorify God by praying to,

Pfal. 1.15: and praifing of him, verf. 23.5; and by contending carneftly for, Jude verf. 3. and confelling his truth, Rom. x. 10.: hence is the tongue called our glory, Pfal. xxx. 12. To the end that my GLORY [that is, my tongue, as on the margin] may fing praife unto thee, and not be filent.

Quest. 8. What is the subordinate end thereof?

Anju. The edification and profit of our fellow-creatures, Eph. iv. 20. Let no corrupt communication proceed out of your mouth, but that which is good, to the ufe of edifying; margin, to edify profitably, in opposition to the infinite and wain talk which is in the mouths of most men.

Quest. 9. What is the particular duty required in the ninth commandment?

Anfw. That we maintain and promote [our own and our neighbour's good name, especially in witness-bearing.]

Quest. 10. What is a [good name]?

Anjw. It is the having of reputation and efteem, especially among the sober and religious, Psal. xvi. 3. and ci. 6.

Quest. 11. How may a good name be obtained?

Anfw. By being useful in the world, in the several stations and relations wherein adorable providence has placed us, Psal. exii. 9.

Quest. 12. Is self-commendation a fit mean to obtain a good name?

Answ. No: for ordinarily it is the high way to procure fcorn and contempt, 2 Cor. x. 12.

Quest. 13. Doth not the apostle commend himself, when he fays, In nothing am I behind the very chiefest apostles, 2 Cor. xii. 11.?

Anju. He only magnifies and exalts his office, and at the fame time leffens and disparages himself; for, albeit he lay, In nothing am I behind the very chiefel applies, yet he immediately subjoins, though I be nothing; and I Cor. xv. 9. I am the least of the apostles, who am not meet to be called an applie, because I persecuted the church of God.

Quest. 14. May we not commend the grace of God in us?

Answ. To be sure we may: for whatever is spoken to the commendation of free grace, is for the debasement of self,

I Cor. xv. 10. By the grace of God I am what I am.

Quest. 15. How ought we to maintain and promote [our own] good name?

Answ. Not only by a blameless walk and conversation before

before the world, Phil. ii. 15.; but likewife by vindicating ourselves from the calumnies and aspersions that may be injuriously cast upon us, Acts xxiv, 12. 13.

njuriously cast upon us, Acts xxiv. 12. 13.

Ouest. 16. With what frame of spirit ought the lawful vin-dication of ourselves to be managed?

Anfw. With moderation, meekness, and readiness to forgive those who have reproached and injured us, Col. iii. 12. 13.

Quest. 17. Who ought in a special manner to maintain and promote their own good name?

Anfw. This is especially incumbent on professors of religion, Matth. v. 16. and such as are in public trust, Tit. ii. 7. 8.

Quest. 18. Why should professors be careful to maintain their good name?

anjw. Because the loss thereof tends to reslect dishonour on religion, whereby the enemies thereof take occasion to blaspheme, 2 Sam. xii. 14.

Quest. 19. What is the advantage of a good name?

Anjw. A good name procures mutual love unto, and confidence in one another, and configurantly tends to promote the interests both of sacred and civil society: on which account a good name is said to be better than precious ointment, Eccl. vii. 1.; and rather to be chosen than great riches, Prov. xxii. 1.

Quest. 20. What doth this command require in reference to Tour neighbour's good name??

Amfw. The maintaining and promoting it, as we would do our ewn, Phil. ii. 4.; and that both in his presence and in his absence.

Quest. 21. How should we behave in the presence of our neighbour, for maintaining and promoting of his good name?

Anfw. When we observe any thing faulty in him, which deserves present notice, we should reprove it with meckness and love, Lev. xix. 17-; and what is really commendable we should prudently encourage and applaud, Rom. i. 8.

Quest. 22. How should we maintain and promote the good name of others in their absence?

Anjw. By commending what is praife-worthy in them, 3 John verf. 12.3 vindicating their character when unjustly attacked, Prov. xxv. 23.; and by covering their infurnities and blemiftes, as far as can be done in a confiftency with truth, and the credit of religion, 1 Pet. iv. 8.

Queft. 23. Why is the ward ESPECIALLY Subjoined to witnefs-bearing?

Anfw. Because as we should give testimony to truth on all occasions, so in a special manner when called by lawful authority to declare the matter of fast upon cath. Here by 2.

thority to declare the matter of fact upon oath, Jer. iv. 2.

Quest. 24. What special obligation lies upon us, to declare the true matter of fact, between man and man, when called thereto upon oath?

Anfw. In an oath, God is appealed unto, that we shall adeclare nothing but the truth, as we shall answer to him at the great day; and therefore our doing otherwise, either out of hatred or favour, is a laying ourselves open to his immediate wrath and displeasure, according to Mal. iii. 5.—I will be a fwish with with estimated false swearers,—faith the Lord of bosts.

78. QUEST. What is forbidden in the ninth

Answ. The ninth commandment forbiddeth whatfoever is prejudicial to truth, or injurious to our own or our neighbour's good name.

Quest. 1. What doth this command forbid in general?

Answ. [What soever is prejudicial to truth].

Quest. 2. What are we to understand by that which is [prejudicial to truth]?

Answ. All falsehood and lying of whatever kind, James

iii. 14 .- Lie not against the truth.

Quest. 3. What is the formal nature and notion of a LIE?
Anfw. It is voluntarily to speak and utter that which we know to be falle, as the old prophet at Bethel did to the man of God, I Kings xiii. 18.

Quest. 4. How is a lie aggravated ?

Anfw. When it is uttained with a design to deceive, and to harm others' thereby; like the devil, when he said, To shall not surely die.—To shall be as gods, knowing good and wil, Gen. iii. 4. 5.

PART II. T

Quest. 5.

Quest. 5. May not perfons utter an untruth, or what is false, and yet not be guilty of a lie?

Anfw. Yes: and that either through ignorance or misin-formation.

Quest. 6. When may they be faid to utter what is false through ignorance, and yet not be guilty of lying?

Anjw. When they fpeak raftly, according to their prefent conceptions of things, without due examination; as the Barbarians did, when they faw the venomous beaft hang on Paul's hand, they faid among themselves, No doubt this man it a murderer, &c. Ack sxviii. 4.

Quest. 7. When may we utter what is false through misin-formation, and not be guilty of a lie?

Anfw. When we speak according to the report we have have had from others, without any suspicion of being imposed upon; as Jacob did, when, by the imposition of his sons, [who had fold Joseph into Egypt, and dipped his coat in the blood of a kid], he said, It is my fon's coat; an evil beast het workered him: Joseph is without doubt rent in pieces, Gen. xxxvii. 33.

Quest. 8. How many forts of lies are there?

An/w. They are commonly ranked into three forts, namely, ludicrous, pernicious, and officious lies.

Quest. 9. What is a ludicrous or jocose lie?

Answer it is when persons relate things, they know to be false, with a design to make jest, or diversion, to others.

Quest. 10. What is it to be guilty of a pernicious lie?

Anfw. It is to contrive or fpread fome malicious report, we know or fufpect to be falle, on purpole to bring about fome hurt or damage to another, as Ziba dtd against Mephibosheth, 2 Sam. xvi. 3.

Quest. 11. What is the aggravation of a pernicious lie?

Answ. It is the very worst fort of lying, being both a contempt of the omnifeient God, who is witness to the falfehood; and a deliberate intention to do injury to our neighbour, though in our confeience we believe him innocent of what we lay to his charge.

Quest. 12. What is it for a person to make an officious lie?
Answ. It is to tell a downright untruth, for their own, or their neighbour's fafety and fecurity in time of danger, as Rahab did, who hid the spies in the roof of her house, and vet alledged they were gone out of the city, and that she knew not where they went, Josh. ii. 4. 5. 6.

Quest. 12. Doth not the apostle ascribe this action of hers to her faith, when he fays, Heb. xi. 31. By faith Rahab the harlot perished not with them that believed not, when she had received the fpies with peace?

Answ. No: what he ascribes to her faith is, her having received the fpies with peace; that is, her having confulted their fafety and prefervation with the greatest care and diligence: but not the lie she invented in order to conceal them. Her protecting the spies is commended, but not the manner in which the did it.

Quest. 14. Who are they that plead in favours of officious lies Answ. The Papists, Socinians, and most part of our modern moralists.

Ouest. 15. What arguments do they alledge in defence of this fort of lying ?

Answ. That it has been practifed by faints in scripture; and that it is fo far from being hurtful to any, that it has been beneficial to fome, in certain cases.

Quest. 16. What answer is to be given to the practice of the faints in this matter ?

Answ. That their finful failures, in this and other instances, are not recorded in scripture for imitation, but for caution and warning, that we fall not into the fame fnares.

Quest. 17. How do you answer the other argument for officious lying, " That it is so far from being hurtful to any, that it has been beneficial and advantageous to some, in certain cases, particularly, in saving the life of a dear friend, or useful member of society, which might otherwise have been manifeftly endangered ?"

Answ. It is answered thus, that in no case we are to do evil that good may come, Rom. iii. 8. If we are not to fpeak wickedly for God, nor talk deceitfully for him, according to Job xiii. 7.; neither are we to do fo, though it were for the benefit of all mankind, or the best among them.

Quest 18. How do you prove lying to be finful, or unlawful, in itself?

Answ. From this, that lying of all forts, without exception, is condemned in scripture, as hateful and abominable to God, Prov. vi. 17. 19. and xii. 22. Col. iii. 9.

Quest. 19

Quest. 10. Who is the author and father of lies?

Anfw. The devil, John vin. 44 .- When he speaketh a lie, he speaketh of his own: for he is a liar, and the father of it. Quest, 20. How doth God testify his displeasure against lying of all kinds?

Anhy. By declaring, that he who freaketh lies hall periffe, Prov. xix. 9.; accordingly it is faid, that ALL liars fball have their part in the lake which burneth with fire and brimflone. Rev. xxi. 8.

Quest, 21, What is more particularly forbidden in this commandment, according to the answer?

Answ. Whatsoever is- sinjurious to our own or our neighbour's good name].

Quest, 22, How may we injure our own good name?

Antw. By a vain-glorious commendation of ourselves. Prov. xii. 15.; by a despising of others who ought justly to be efteemed, chap, xxiii, o.; or by doing any thing scandalous and offensive in the eve of the world, I Sam. ii. 17. 20.

Quest. 29. Wherein may we be injurious to our neighbour's

good name?

Anfw. By flattering him to his face, Prov. xxviii. 4.; by defaming him behind his back, Pfal. 1, 20.; or by bearing false witness against him in public judicature, Ezek. xxii. 0.

Quest, 24. What is the evil of flattering our neighbour to his face?

Answ. It tends to foster and foment his pride, and thereby to bring on his ruin, Prov. xxvi. 28. A flattering mouth worketh ruin.

Quest, 25. What is the evil of defaming him behind his back?

Anfw. Nothing can be more devilish and malicious, than to fix calumny and reproach upon one, when he is not prefent to vindicate and defend himfelf : hence the same original word, which is rendered flander, 1 Tim. iii. 11. is used also to fignify the devil, 1 Pet. v. 8.

Quest. 26. Who are they that may be guilty of bearing falfe witness against their neighbour in public judicature?

Anfw, The purfuer, defender, witnesses, advocate, and judge, may each of them be guilty this way.

Quest. 27. How may the pursuer be guilty?

Anfw. In making an unjust demand upon the defender, Ads Acts xxiv. 5.; or laying to his charge what he believes him to be innocent of, chap. xxv. 7. Quest. 28. How is the defender, upon the other hand, chargeable with guilt in this matter? Answ. By artful and dilatory evalions, whereby the purfuer is put to needless trouble and charge, in the obtaining of justice. Quelt. 20. How may witnesses, in public judicature, be injurious to their neighbour's good name?

Anfw. Not only by the heinous fin of bearing testimony to a downright falsehood, but likewise by denying, mincing, or keeping back of the truth, or any part thereof.

Quest, 30. When are advocates, or attornies, guilty this Anfw. When they take in hand to plead and maintain a had cause, looking on it as a part of their profession, to be as warm and zealous in defending what is wrong, as what is just and right.

Quest. 31. How may the judge be guilty of bearing false witness ?

Anfw. By a rash, partial, and iniquous sentence, and thereby perverting justice, and injuring the innocent, like Pilate, Matth. xxvii. 24. 26.

Quest. 32. What is the evil of injuring our neighbour in his good name?

Anfw. It robs him of a most valuable treasure: for, if once his good name or character is funk, his further ufefulness in the world, is, in all appearance, irrecoverably gone.

Quest. 33. What should scare and deter us from the fins of the tongue, forbidden in this commandment?

An/w. That we are to answer, in the last and great day, for our words, as well as our actions, Matth. xii. 36. 37 .- Every idle word that men shall speak, they shall give account thereof in the day of judgment : for by thy words thou shalt be justified, and by the words thou Shalt be condemned.

70. OUEST. Which is the tenth commandment?

Answ. The tenth commandment is. Thou Shalt not covet thy neighbour's house, thou Shalt not covet thy neighbour's wife, nor his man-ferwant, nor his maid-servant, nor his ox, nor his ass, nor any thing that is thy neighbour's.

80. QUEST. What is required in the tenth commandment?

Answ. The tenth commandment requireth full contentment with our own condition, with a right and charitable frame of spirit toward our neighbour, and all that is his.

Quest. 1. What is the practice of the Papists with reference to the tenth commandment?

Anfw. In regard they firike out the fecond commandment, because contrary to their image-worship; therefore, in order to keep up the number TEN, they fifit THIS into two, making these words, Thou shalt not covet thy neighbour's house, to be the ninth; and, Thou shalt not covet thy neighbour's wife, &c. to be the tenth.

Quest. 2. How are they confuted?

Anfw. By the words of this commandment (as they are here inferred from Exod. xx. 17.) being transposed into a different order in Deut. v. 21.; where destring our neighbour's wife is put before covering of his bouse: which is a plain evidence, that what the Papists make two, is but one undivided precept; otherwise what, according to them, is the ninth in the one place, will be the tenth in the other.

Queft. 3. What is the general duty required in this commandment?

drifu. It is an inward difposition and inclination of the whole foul, to perform all the duties contained in the law, particularly in the second table, which this commandment more immediately respects; and that out of love to God, and a defire to please him, Pfal. cxix. 5, 47.

Quest. 4. How do you prove this to be the general duty requi-

Anfw. From the general fin forbidden, namely, COVET-ING, which includes the motion or filtring of corruption against all the commands of the law, because of their holiness and contrariety to depraved nature, Rom. vii. 7. 8.

Quest. 5.

Quest. 5. What inward disposition of foul dath this commandment require, with reference to ourfelves in particular? Answ. It requires, with reference to ourselves, [full contentment with our own condition], 4 Tim. vi. 6.

Quest. 6. What do you understand by full contentment with our own condition?

Anfw. A cheerful acquiescence in the lot, which God, in his holy and wise providence, is pleased to carve out for us in this world, Heb. xiii. 5.—Be content with fuch things as ye have.

Quest. 7. Is full contentment with our own condition attainable in this life?

Anju. Though the perfection of no grace is attainable in this life, yet a great measure, and eminent degree of grace, particularly this of contentment, may be, and has been attained by the faints in this world, Phil. iv. 11.—I have learned in whatever state I am. therewith to be content.

Quest. 8. Is contentment, in a prosperous condition, an easy attainment?

'Alyw. No: without grace it cannot be attained; because naturally our ambitious and covetous desires increase in proportion to our riches; as is evident in the instance of Ahab, whom a kingdom could not satisfy without Naboth's vinevard, 1 Kings xxi. 4.

Quest. 9. How is true contentment attained under profperous circumstances?

Anfw. By looking above all time-enjoyments as transitory and vain, unto God himfelf, as our chief good and eternal inheritance, Pfal. lxii. 10. and xvi. 5. 6.

Quest. 10. Is contentment required likewife under cross dispensations of providence; fuch as, poverty, reproach, bodily afflictions, and loss of near relations?

Anju. Though it be a grievous fin to be flupidly infenfible and unconcerned under these or the like circumstances, Hol. vii. 9-3, yet a contentment of jabmission, or such as is without repining and murmuring, is undoubtedly required under the forest troubles that can befal us in this life, Lam. iii. 39. Wherefore doth a living man complain?

Quest. 11. What ground of contentment have we under outward poverty and want?

Answ. That though we be the poor of this world, yet we may be rich in faith, and heirs of the kingdom, James ii. 5.

Quest. 12.

Quest. 12. Why should we bear reproach without murmaring?

Anfw. Because whatever reproach is cast upon us for Christ's fake, he will wipe it clean off at his fecond appearing, Luke xxii. 28. 29. Matth. xxv. 34.

Quest. 13. What reason of contentment have we under bos dily afflictions?

Anjw. That they are but of a short duration, 2 Cor. iv. 17.; mixed with mercy, Lam. iii. 32.; consistent with love, John xi. 3.; and designed for our profit, that we might be partakers of his holiness. Heb. xii. 10.

Quest. 14. What Should content and comfort us under the loss of near and dear relations?

Anfw. That the Lord Jefus, who ftands in every amiable relation to us, is always to the fore, being the fame yesterday, to-day, and for ever, Heb. xiii. 8.

Quest. 15. Are we required to be content under divine defertion, or the want of the fense of the love of God?

Anfur. Though we have no reason to quarrel with God, for withdrawing the light of his countenance, which we never descreed; yet it is impossible for any gracious soul to be easy and content under the hislings of his face, but must neede carnelly long for, and ardently breathe after the returns of his love; as is evident from the example and practice of the slaints, in the following texts, Job xxiii. 3, and xxix. 2, 3. Pfal. xiii. 1. and xlii. 1. 2, and xxxiv. 2.

Quest. 16. What inward frame or disposition of foul doth the senth commandment require with reference to our neighbour?

Answ. It requires [a right and charitable frame of spirit toward him, and all that is his], Rom. xii. 15.

Oueft. 17. When may we be faid to have this fright and charitable frame of fpirit | here required?

Anfw. When our inward motions and affections are influenced by grace, to fway and determine us to promote and rejoice in the welfare of our neighbour, both as to his spiritual and temporal concerns, 1 Cor. xiii. 4:—8.

Quest. 18. When may it be evident to ourselves, that we have a right and charitable frame of spirit towards these that excel us in gifts and graces?

Anfw. When, under a humbling fense of our own defects, we are thankful for the honour that is brought to God, by the shining of his gifts or grace in others, Gal. i. 23.

Quest. 19. What stould induce us to a right and charitable frame of spirit towards those that are in more prosperous circumstances than ourselves; or whose condition in the world is better than our own?

Anfw. The confidering that a flourishing condition in the world is not always the best, Pfal. xxxvii. 16.; that if we enjoy communion with God, it is infinitely preferable to all outward prosperity, without it, Pfal. xvi. 5. 6.

Quest. 20. How may such a right and charitable frame of Spirit be attained?

Anfw. Only by the implantation of faith, as the root of this and all the other motions of the foul that are acceptable to God, Heb. xi. 6. Rom. xiv. 23.

81. QUEST. What is forbidden in the tenth commandment?

Assw. The tenth commandment forbiddeth all discontentment with our own estate, envying or grieving at the good of our neighbour, and all inordinate motions and affections to any thing that is his.

Quest. 1. What is the leading fin forbidden in this command-

Anfw. It is COVETOUSNESS: Thou Shalt not COVET.

Ouest. 2. What is coverousness?

Anfw. It is an excellive and irregular defire of these worldly goods which we have not, Prov. i. 19. and which God in his providence does not see meet that we should have, Psal, lxxv. 6. 7.

Quest. 3. How doth the excess of an avaritious mind disco-

er itself

Answ. By such an infatiable thirst after worldly gain, as can never be fatisfied, Prov. xxx. 15.

Quest. 4. Wherein consults the irregularity of covetousness?
Answ. In the desire of worldly goods which are in the posPART II.

U
fiftion

fession of our neighbour, and even sometimes as they are his, I Kings xxi. 2.

Quest. 5. How doth the covetoufness of the heart discover itself?

Answ. By [discontentment with our own estate], and [envying or grieving at the good of our neighbour.]

Queft. 6. What is [discontentment with our own estace]?

Anfw. It is to murmur and fret at our present condition in the world, as being worse than, we think, should fall to our share, or than we are expecting and looking for, 2 Kings vi. 32.

Quest. 7. What is the aggravation of this fin?

Anfw. It argues an unwillingness to be at God's disposal, Pfal. xii. 4:; an effectming ourselves more competent judges than he, of what is best for us, 1 Kings i. 5.; and it is, in effect, an usurping the throne of God, and taking his government into our own hands, Exod. v. 2.

Quest. 8. What are the proper remedies against it?

Anjw. The only fovereign remedy, is to give Christ the pre-eminence in our hearts, Pfal. lxxiii. 25.; for then we will undervalue all time-things, in comparison of him, Pfal. lxxvi. 4.

Quest. o. What is [envying or grieving at the good of our neighbour]?

Anfw. It is to repine and grudge at his prosperous circumftances, Neh. ii. 10. or any superior endowment or privilege he is possessed of above ourselves, Psal. exii. 9. 10.

Quest. 10. What is the evil of this fin?

Anfw. It wastes and consumes the body, Prov. xiv. 30. Envy is the rottenness of the bones; and it is fertile of confufion, and every evil work, Jam. iii. 16.

Quest. 11. What is the source or spring of covetousness?

Answ. The [inordinate motions and affections] that are income.

our fouls.

Quest. 12. What do you understand by the [inordinate motions and affections] here forbidden?

Anfw. Not only the unlawful purposes, intentions, and defires, that are actually formed in the heart, but even the first risings and firrings of corruption in the foul, which are antecedent to the consent of the will, Gen. vi. c.

Quest. 13. Are not the vicious lufts and defires that are former formed and confented to in the heart, forbidden in other commandments of the second table, as well as in this?

Anlaw, Yes: as appears from our Saviour's expolition of the feventh commandment, Matth. v. 28. But I fav unto you. Wholoever looketh on a woman to lust after her, hath committed adultery with her already in his heart.

Quest. 14. How then is this commandment distinguished from others, which forbid heart-fins equally with it?

Answ. This commandment levelleth particularly at the root of all fin, namely, habitual luft, or corruption of nature, together with the very first motions or stirring thereof, and especially as these are contrary to the love of our neighbour; whereas other commandments chiefly respect such fecret and heart-fins, as are actually committed, though not known to the world. Quest. 15. How doth it appear, that this commandment levelleth particularly at habitual luft, or the root of all fin?

Answ. Because fince other commandments chiefly forbid heart-fins actually formed, this commandment must forbid the very rife of them, or the least bias and inclination to evil; otherwise it would not be distinct from the rest, nor would the law be absolutely perfect.

Quest. 16. Doth not the apostle James distinguish between lust and sin, chap. i. 15. When lust hath conceived, it bringeth forth fin; and will it not from thence follow, that luft, or corruption of nature, is not properly fin, and confequently not forbidden in this commandment?

Anfw. The apostle distinguishes between lust and sin no otherwise than betwixt a corrupt principle and the act which it produces; both which are hateful to God, and contrary to his law.

Quest. 17. If lust, or corruption of nature, cannot be remedied, or extirpated by any prescription in the divine law, why is it at all prohibited?

Answ. It is nevertheless prohibited, both because contrary to the nature of God, and as a mean to reprove and humble us for it. Rom. vii. o.

Quest. 18. What is the difference betwixt human and divine laws on this head?

Answ. Human laws respect only overt, or open acts of sin, but divine laws respect likewise the internal inclination and disposition which persons have to commit it, Pfal. lxvi. 18,

Quest. 10.

Quest. 19. What is the opinion of the Papists concerning the prohibition of habitual huft?

Answ. They pretend that the law of God only respects the corruption of our actions, but not the habit or principle from whence they proceed.

Quest. 20. How are they refuted?

Anfw. From the fpirituality of the law, which extends to the motions of the heart, as well as to the actions of the life, Rom. vii. 14. 23.

Quest. 21. If the first motions of corruption are not entertained, but presently curbed and restrained, why are they prohibited as finful?

Anfu. Because however soon they are carbed or restrained, yet having once a being in the soul, they cannot but leave a stain and pollution behind them, contrary to the holiness and purity required in the law, Jam. i. 14.

Quest. 22. Who are they that are sensible of these inordinate motions and affections of the heart, and are humbled for the fame ?

Anfw. None properly but the regenerate; as is evident from the inflance of the apollle, who fays of himfelf, after his conversion, I had not known luft, except the law had faid, Thou shall not covet; Rom. vi. 7.

Queft, 23. What is the apossible's meaning in these words?

Anfw. It is, as if he had faid, I had not known this strong propensity that is in my heart to all manner of fin, even before it be consented unto, or deliberately committed; unlefs the Spirit of God had discovered it unto me, in this precept of the law forbidding the fame.

Quest. 24. How doth this propensity to fin evidence it felf?

An $/\psi$ . In that no fooner is the object preferred, than preferrly there is an inordinate motion and affection of the heart after it. The combuffille matter within, catches fire at the very first spark of temptation, Josh. vii. 21.

Quest. 25. What may we learn from the general scope of this, and all the other commandments?

Anfw. That though we could forbear the evil, and do the good contained in every commandment, it would not be fufficient, except we did it for the Lord's fake, out of love to him, and regard to his authority, Ezek. xx. 19.

82. QUEST.

82. OUEST. Is any man able perfectly to keep the commandments of God?

Answ. No mere man, fince the fall, is able. in this life, perfectly to keep the commandments of God, but doth daily break them, in thought, word, and deed.

Quest. 1. What is it [perfectly to keep the commandments of God7?

Anfw. It is, from a nature perfectly holy, to yield conftant and uninterrupted obedience unto them, both in heart and life, Matth. xxii. 37. 30.

Quest. 2. Was ever any man, in this world, able to keep the commandments of God in this manner?

Anfw. Yes: Adam, before his fall, was able to give perfect obedience to them all, Eccl. vii. 29 .- God made man upright.

Quest. 2. Whether was Adam's ability to keep the commandments of God concreated with him; or, was it a superadded gift ?

Answ. It was concreated with him, as being made after the image of God, Gen. i. 27.

Quest. 4. Was none, fince the fall, able to keep them per-Fettly? Anfw. [No mere man] was ever able to do it, fince that time, Rom. iii. o. 10.

Quest. 5. What do you understand by a [mere man]?

Anfw. One who is no more than a man : and all Adam's family, descending from him by ordinary generation, are but mere men. Acts xvii. 26.

Quest. 6. Why is the limitation of no mere man inserted in the answer?

Answ. That CHRIST might be excepted, who is infinitely more than a man, being IMMANUEL, God with us, Matth. i. 23.

Quest. 7. Why should HE be excepted?

Answ. Because he not only yielded perfect obedience to the law in our nature, but an obedience meritorious of life for all his spiritual seed, Matth. iii. 15. Rom. v. 17. 19.

Queft. 8.

164

Quest. 3. Do not the faints, in this life, keep the commandments of God perfectly?

Answ. No: For there is not a just man upon the earth, that doth good, and finneth not, Eccl. vii. 20.

Quest. Q. Will they ever be capable of doing it ?

Answ. Yes: when they come to heaven, where they are made perfect, Heb. xii. 23.; and where the former things are paffed away, Rev. xxi. 4.

Quest. 10. Why are they not able perfecily to keep them [in this life??

Answ. Because of the remains of corruption cleaving to every one of them, while in this world, Rom, vii, 23.; and from which they long to be delivered, verf. 24.

Quest. 11. But may not grace received, in this life, enable them to keep the commandments of God perfectly?

Answ. There is no promise of any such grace, nor would it be confistent with the gradual nature of spiritual growth, in regard the faints do not arrive at their full flature till they come to glory, 1 Theff. iii. 13.

Quest. 12. How doth it appear from scripture, that the .

faints cannot attain perfection in this life?

Anhw. The scripture expressly affirms, that in many things they offend all, Jam, iii. 2. And it records the failings and infirmities of the most eminent of them that ever lived, such as, Abraham, Gen. xx. 2.; Mofes, Pfal. cvi. 33.; David, 2 Sam. xi. 4. 15.; Peter, Matth. xxvi. 72. 74.; and many others.

Quest. 13. Do not the faints themselves ingenuously acknowledge, that they cannot attain perfection while here?

Answ. Yes: Job ix. 20 .- If I say, I am perfect, it shall also prove me perverse. Paul likewise, Phil. iii. 12. Not as though I had already attained, or were already perfect.

Quest. 14. But is it not faid, that Noah, Gen. vi. 9. Hezekiah, If. xxxviii. 3. and Job, chap. i. 8. were each of them perfect ?

Answ. The persection ascribed to them, is only comparative; that is, they were more holy and circumspect than many others: but it cannot be understood of absolute perfection, in regard their fins and blemishes stand also upon record; Noah, for drunkenness, Gen. ix. 21.; Hezekiah, for ingratitude, 2 Chron. xxxii. 25.; and Job, for fome degrees of impatience under the rod, chap. iii.

Oucft. 15.

Quest. 15. If the faints cannot attain perfection in this life, why is it faid, that they do not commit fin, 1 John iii. o. Whosoever is born of God, doth not commit sin?

Anfw. The meaning is, they do not take pleafure and delight in fin, nor make a trade of it, as unregenerate perfons do, who are therefore called the workers of iniquity, Pfal. exxv. 5.

Quest. 16. Is not the perfection of fincerity attainable by the Saints?

Anju. They may attain to a very high and eminent depree of fincerity, in this world, Pfal. xviii. 23. 2 Cor. i. 12.; but the abfolute perfection of this, or any other grace; is not to be expected by them, till they come to heaven, I Cor. xiii. 12.

Quest. 17. Will they not be accepted upon fuch fincerity as they can attain to, though fbort of the perfection required in the law?

Anju. Their acceptance before God is not founded on their functive, or any other branch of their fanchification; but folley in their jufflication, whereby the righteoutings of the law is fulfilled in them, in virtue of the furety-righteoutiness imputed unto them, Rom. viii. 4.; and thus they are accepted in the Beloved, Eph. i. 6.

Quest. 18. Since none of mankind is able, in this life, perfelly to keep the commandments of God; how often doth the answer fay that they break them?

Anfw. It fays that they break them [daily], or continually, Gen. vi. 5.

Queft. 19. Wherein do they daily break them?

Answ. They do it [in thought, word, and deed].

Quest. 20. Is there any other possible way of breaking the commandments of God?

Anju. No: there is no other possible way of breaking them, (as to actual transgression), than either in our thoughts, words, or deeds; and our doing so, in all these respects, shews the justice of that charge which the Lord has against every one of us, Jer. iii. 5.—Behold, thou hast done evil things as thou coulds.

Quest. 21. How do we break the commandments of God in our THOUGHTS?

Answ. When our thoughts are finfully employed, either with reference to God, ourselves, or our neighbours.

Quest. 22. When are our thoughts finfully employed about Anfw. When they are entertaining unworthy and unbecoming notions and conceptions of him, Pfal. 1. 21. and xciv, 7.; fuch as reflect dithonour upon his perfections and providence, Zeph. i. 12.; or fuch as are inconfiftent with the discovery he has made of himfelf, as being in Christ reconciling the world to himfelf, 2 cor. v. 10.

Quest. 23. When are our thoughts finfully exercised about onrfelves?

Anfw. When they are gratifying our pride, Obad. verfa 3. ambition, If. xiv. 13. 14. and felf-applaufe, Rom. xii. 3.

Quest. 24. When are they finfully employed about our neighbours?

Anfw. When they are meditating and indulging envy, Gen. iv. 15. reproach, Jer. xx. 10. or revenge against them, Gen. xxvii. 41.

Quest. 25. What is the aggravating evil and malignity of Sinful thoughts?

Anfw. The evil and malignity of them confifts in this, that they are the immediate fource and fpring from whence all our finful words and deeds do flows; for out of the abundance of the heart the mouth (peaketh, Matth. xii. 24.

Quest. 26. What is the proper remedy and antidote against finful thoughts?

Anju. The Spirit's taking the things of Chrift, and then ing them unto us, John xvi. 14. whereby they will become the fubject-matter of our meditation and highest esteem; for where the treasure is, there will the heart be also, Matth. vi. 21.

Quest. 27. How do men break the commandments of God

by their words?

Anfiv. When, besides idle and unprofitable words, Matth. xii. 36. they utter such as are more directly dishonouring to God, Psal. 1xxiii. 9. 11. and hurtful and prejudicial to themselves and others, Psal. cxl. 4.

Quest. 28. How do they break them by their DEEDs?

Anfw. When these sins are committed, which have been conceived in the thought, and uttered by the tongue, being inconceivably moe than can be condescended upon, for innumerable evils have compassed us about, Pfal. xl. 12.

Quest. 29.

167 Quest. 20. What may we learn from man's inability to keep the commandments perfectly in this life?

Answ. That we must be wholly beholden to the free grace of God, for falvation and eternal life, Tit. iii. 5. and not to any thing in ourselves, who are, at best, but unprofitable fervants. Luke xvii. 10.

83. QUEST. Are all transgressions of the law equally beinous?

Answ. Some fins in themselves, and by reason of several aggravations, are more heinous in the fight of God than others.

Quest. 1. What do you understand by some sins being [more heinous 1 than others?

Anfw. That they are more abominable, hateful, and offensive to God than others are, Ezek. viii. 6. 13. 15.

Quest. 2. Are not all fins hateful and offensive to God?

Anfw. Yes: but not equally fo, Matth. vii. 3. Why beholdest thou the MOTE that is in thy brother's eye, but considerest not the BEAM that is in thine own?

Quest. 2. How doth it appear that all fins are not equally offenlive to God?

Answ. From the different degrees of punnishment that shall be inflicted in the other world, Matth. xi. 22. But I fay unto you, It shall be more tolerable for Tyre and Sidon in the day of judgment, than for you. See also Luke xii. 47.

· Quest. 4. In whose fight are some sins more heinous than athers?

Answ. [ In the fight of God ], who is the best judge of the heinoufness of fins, Job xxxvi. 9. Quest. 5. In what respects are some sins more heinous in the fight of God than others?

Anfay. Some are more heinous [in themselves], and some are fo [by reason of several aggravations].

Quest. 6. What is it for fins to be heinous [in themselves]? Answ. It is to be heinous in their own nature, though no other aggravating circumstance should attend them.

PART II.

Quoft. 7. How are thefe fins, that are in their own nature more beingus than others, commonly ranked?

Anfw. Sins committed more immediately against God, or the first table of his law, are more heinous in their own nature, than fins committed more immediately against man, or any precept of the fecond table. Likewife, fome fins against the second table, are more heinous in themselves, than other fins against the faid table.

Oucst, 8. What examples are usually given of both these?

Antw. Blafphemy against God is more heinous, in its own nature, than defaming, or speaking evil of our neighbour, I Sam. ii. 25.: and adultery is more heinous than theft, Prov. vi. 20, to the end of the chapter.

Quest. o. " What are those [aggravations] that make some

" fins more beinous than others?"

Anfw. " Sins receive their aggravation, 1. From the per-" four offending, 2. From the parties offended. 3. From " the nature and quality of the offence. 4. From the cir-" cumftances of time and place "."

Quest. 10. How may the perfons OFFENDING be viewed? Anhw. They may be viewed, either as to their age, gifts, or office.

Quest. 11. What aggravation arises from the age of the persons offending?

Anfw. If persons are advanced in years, whereby they may be fupposed to have more experience, their fins are more highly aggravated, than if committed by children, or fuch as are raw and unexperienced, Job xxxii. 7.

Quest. 12. How are fins aggravated from the gifts of the persons offending?

Answ. If the offenders have been eminent for their profession, 2 Sam. xii. 14. or have had a larger measure of gifts, 1 Kings xi. 9. or grace, Jam. iv. 17. conferred upon them, their fins will be proportionably aggravated beyond others, who have not been fo privileged.

Quest. 13. How are fins aggravated from the office, or flation, in which perfons offending may be placed? Anfw. If the persons, who give the offence, be in an emiment station in the world, or vested with any office in the church, Jer. xxiii. 11. 14. or in the state, 1 Kings xiv. 16.;

their fins cannot but be of a deeper tincture and dye, because their example is more likely to be followed by others, Ier. xxiii. 14.

Quest. 14. How do fins receive their aggravation from the parties OFFENDED?

Anfw. If committed "immediately againft God, his attributes and worthip; againft Christ, and his grace; againft the holy Spirit, his wirnels and working; againft superiors, and such as we stand especially related and engaged unto; againft any of the saints, particularly weak brethren;—and the common good of all or many *."

Queft. 15. On what account is fin aggravated, as being committed immediately against God, his attributes and worthip?

Anfw. In as much as it is a doing evil in his fight, Pfal. li. 4:; is a despiting of the riches of his goadness, Rom. ii. 4:; and an undervaluing his ordinances, Mal. i. 8. and the glory he has stamped upon them, yerf. 14.

Quest. 16. Wherein consists the heinousness of fin, as being against Christ, and his grace?

Anfw: In its being a flighting and contemning the only remedy which infinite wildom has provided for our malady, Acts iv. 12.: and furely there can be no efcaping, if we neglect fo great falvation, Heb. ii. 3.

Quest. 17. How is fin aggravated by its being committed against the holy Spirit, his witness and working

Anfw. In as much as it is a rejecting his testimony without us in the word, John xv. 26. and a quenching his motions and operations within us, I Theff. v. 19.

Quest. 18. What aggravation doth fin receive, as being committed against superiors, and such as we stand especially related and engaged unto?

Anfw. In fo far as fin is committed against any of these, it is a violation of the most facred bonds, both of nature,

Prov. xxx. 17. and gratitude, Pfal. lv. 12. 13.

Quest. 19. How is it aggravated as being committed against the faints, particularly weak brethren?

Anfw. As being committed against the faints, it is a contempt of the image of God in them, Luke x. 16; and as against weak brethren, it is laying a stumbling-block before them, whereby they may be infnared and fall, I Cor. viii. 12.

Quest. 20. Who are they that fin against the common good of all men, or many of them?

Answ. They are such as do what in them lies to hinder the propagation of the gospel, where it is not, and to mar the fuccess of it where it is, 1 Thest ii. 15. 16.; there being nothing that tends more to the common good of all menthan the word of this falvation being fent among them, Acts Xiii. 26.

Quest. 21. What is the aggravation of this fin?

Anfw. It makes those, who are guilty of it, bear the nearest resemblance they can, unto the devil, who aims at nothing more than the ruin and destruction of mankind, I Pet.

Quest. 22. How are fins aggravated from the NATURE and QUALITY of the offence?

Answ. They are much aggravated, " if the offence be " against the express letter of the law; break many com-" mandments :- if it break forth in words and actions :-" admit of no reparation; if against-conviction of con-

" fcience; -if done deliberately, -obstinately, and with de-66 light *."

Quest. 23. Why is the offence faid to be aggravated, from being committed against the express letter of the law?

Answ. Because in this case, there can remain no manner of doubt about the finfulness of the action; and therefore it must be a sinning with the greatest boldness and presumption, Rom. i. 32.

Quest. 24. What aggravation is there in breaking many commandments at once?

Answ. The fin hereby becomes a complicated offence, containing many crimes in the bosom of it; like David's sin in the matter of Uriah, 2 Sam. xii. 9.

Quest. 25. How is fin aggravated by breaking forth in words and actions?

Answ. Sinful words and actions reflect a more public dishonour on God, Matth. v. 22. and do greater injury to men. Mic. ii. 1. than if they were latent only in the thought.

&quot; See moe particulars on this head, Larger Cat. Quest. #51. § 3.

Quest. 26. What aggravation is there in these sins which admit of no reparation?

drife. Their admitting of no reparation, cannot mife to aggravate them in the very nature of things; thus murder or adultery cannot but be more heinous than theft, because there may be reflitution of one kind or other for theft, Lew. vi. 4. 5. but nothing can compensate the taking away the life of another, Numb. xxxv. 31. or the violation of the marriage-bed and covenant, Prov. vi. 35.

Quest. 27. What is the aggravation of sinning against convictions of confcience?

Anfw. This kind of finning is an offering violence to ourfelves, contrary to the checks of that judge and reprover which every one has in his own breaft, Rom. i. 32.

Quest. 28. What is the evil of sinning deliberately, obsti-nately, and with delight?

Anfw. It argues a giving a kind of defiance to the Almighty, Exod. v. 2.; a rooted hatred of him, Rom. viii. 7.; and a ftrong evidence of judicial blindness and hardness of heart, Zech. vii. 11. 12.

Quest. 29. What aggravation do sins receive from the circumstance of TIME?

An/w. They are more heinous, if committed on the Lord's day, Jer. xvii. 27. or on days occasionally set apart for fasting or thanksgiving, If. xxii. 12. 13. than at other times.

Quest. 30. How are fins aggravated from the circumstance of the PLACE in which they are committed?

Anfw. An offence is more heinous, if it is done in a land of gofpel-light, If. xxvi. 10.; or if it is committed "in public, or in the prefence of others, who are thereby likely to be provoked or defiled, 2 Sam. xvi. 22. ""

Quest. 31. What improvement should we make of this doctrine of fin in its aggravations?

dnju. To be more humbled and abafed before the Lord, under a fense of our fins thus aggravated, Ezraix. 6.; and likewise so much the more to admire the riches of pardoning mercy, as extended to the very chief of sinners, 1 Tim. 1. 13, 15.

Larger Cat. Queft. 151. § 4.

84. OUEST. What doth every fin deserve?

Answ. Every fin deferveth God's wrath and curfe, both in this life, and that which is to come.

Quest. 1. What do you understand by the defert or demerit of fin?

Answ. It is that in the nature of fin, which of itself deferves all that wrath and curfe, which God in his infinite juflice has entailed upon it, Gal. iii. 10.

Quest. 2. What is it in the nature of fin, which, of itself, deferves this wrath and curse?

Anfw. It is the opposition, and contrariety thereof to the holiness of God expressed in his law, Hab. i. 13.; which is the very thing that conftitutes the enormity, or heinousness of it, Jer. xliv. 4.

Quest. 3. Can wrath be ascribed unto God, as it is a pasfion

Anfw. No: for all paffions, properly speaking, are inconfiftent with God's absolute unchangeableness, Mal. iii. 6. and independency, Acts xiv. 15.

Quest. 4. What then is to be underflood by [God's wrath]? Answ. That most pure and undisturbed act of his will, which produces most dreadful effects against the sinner, If. xxxiii. 14.

Quest. 5. What are these dreadful effects, which the wrath of God produces against the sinner?

Answ. All the miseries of this life, death itself, and the pains of hell for ever *.

Quest. 6. Is the defert of fin separable from the nature of Answ. No: because sin being the very opposite of God's holy nature, and righteous law, cannot but deferve his wrath and curfe, Rom. vi. 23. Queft. 7. If every fin deferves God's wrath and curfe, must not the fins of believers deferve the same likewise?

Answ. Whatever be the defert of their fin, their persons

. All which fee explained, PART I. on the Mifery of man's natural fiate.

san never be exposed, or liable to God's vindictive wrath, either in this life, or that which is to come, Zeph. iii. 17. Hof. xiii. 14.

Quest. 8. Why cannot the persons of believers be liable to the wrath and curse of God?

Answ. Because of their union with Christ, Rom. viii. 1. who has fulfilled all righteoufness for them, verf. 33. 34.; or answered all demands of law and justice in their room and ftead, chap, iv. 25.

Quest. 9. What do the Papists mean by venial fins?

Anfw. Such fins as are in their own nature fo fmall and trivial, that they do not deferve eternal punishment.

Quest. 10. Are there any fins in this fense, venial?

Anfw. By no means: for the leaft fin, being committed against a God of infinite perfection, must, on that account, be objectively infinite, and confequently deferve an infinite punishment, 2 Theff. i. o.

Quest. 11. May not smaller offences be atoned for, by human satisfactions or penances?

Answ. " Even the least fin-cannot be expiated, but by " the blood of Christ, Heb. ix. 22. I Pet. i. 18. 19. *"

Quest. 12. What may we learn from the defert of fin? Anfw. The amazing love of God, in transferring the guilt and punishment of fin, upon the glorious Surety, making him to be fin for us, who knew no fin, that we might be made the righteousness of God in him, 2 Cor. v. 21.

85. OUEST. What doth God require of us. that we may escape his wrath and curse due to us for fin?

Answ. To escape the wrath and curse of God due to us for sin, God requireth of us faith in Jesus Christ, repentance unto life, with the diligent use of all the outward means whereby Christ communicateth to us the benefits of redemption.

Quest t. What weighty argument or motive, (among st. many others), doth the scripture afford, for essaying the practice of what [God requireth of us]?

Answ. That though we are injoined, to work out our own falvation with fear and trembling; yet, we are at the same affured, that it is God which worketh in us, both to will and to do, of his good pleasure, Phil. ii. 12. 13.

Quest. 2. Does God require any thing of us in point of duty, without promising suitable furniture, for the performance thereof?

Anfw. No; for he has said, I will—cause you to walk in my statutes, and ye shall keep my judgments, and do them, Ezek. xxxvi. 27.

Quest. 3. Can we [escape the wrath and curse of God due to us for sin], by any thing we can do of ourselves?

Anfw. No furely; for all our righteoufnesses are as filthy rags, If. lxiv. 6.; and, by the works of the law, shall no field be justified, Gal. ii. 16.

Quest. 4. Why then doth the answer say, that to escape the wrath and curse of God, due to us for sin, [God requireth of us, faith in Jesus Christ, repentance unto life, and a diligent use of all the outward means ?

Anfw. Because, though these duties, as performed by us, can neither give. a stille to, or possession of eternal life; yet God appoints and requires them, both as they are MEANS of conveying and improving the salvation purchased, I Cor. is 21. and likewise, as they are EVIDENCES of our interest therein, when conveyed, John vi. 47.

Quest. 5. Why doth God require [faith in Jesus Christ], as the fovereign means for escaping his wrath and curse?

Answ. Because there is falvation in no other; there being none other name under heaven, given among men, whereby we must be saved, Acts iv. 12.

Quest. 6. What encouragement have we, to essay believing in Jefus Chrift?

Anfw. There cannot be a greater encouragement than this, that faith it the gift of God, Eph. ii, 8.; and accordingly the promile runs, I will fay, It is my people, and they Iball fay, The Lord is my God, Zech. xiii. 9.

Quest. 7. Why is [repentance unto life] required?
Answ. Because it is the inseparable fruit and effect of faith or believing, Zech. xii. 10 .- They fall look upon me whom they have pierced, and they fall mourn for him.

Quest. 8. What encouragement have finners of mankind, privileged with gofpel-light, to look for, or expect this bleffing of repentance unto life, which God requires of them?

Answ. They are warranted to expect it on this ground. that as Christ has received gifts for men, Pfal. lxviii. 18, fo. him hath God exalted with his right hand, to be a Prince and a Saviour, for to GIVE repentance to Ifrael, Acts v. 21.

Quest. o. Why doth God require of us [the diligent use of all the outward means, whereby Christ communicateth to us the benefits of redemption??

Answ. Because a neglect or contempt of the means of divine appointment, for communicating the benefits of redemption, is, in the fight of God, the same thing, as a neglect or contempt of these inestimable benefits themselves, Luke x. 16.—He that despiseth you, despiseth me; and he that despiseth me, despiseth bim that sent me.

Quest. 10. Can our believing, repenting, and dilivent using of means, as they are acts of ours, be the procuring cause of our escaping wrath, or founding our title to life and falvation?

Answ. No; for, by the deeds of the law, there shall no flesh be justified in his fight, Rom. iii. 20. Our secutity from wrath, and title to heaven, are founded on the imputation of the furety-righteousness alone, If. xlv. 25.

Quest. 11. What would be the confequence, of making our faith, repentance, and good works, the procuring cause of our escaping the wrath and curse of God due to us for sin? Answ. This would be a fetting aside the satisfaction of Christ, and making a faviour of our duties; than which, nothing could nail us more effectually down under the curfe, Gal. iii. 10. As many as are of the works of the law, are under the curfe. Quest. 12. Have unbelieving and impenitent finners any warrant to conclude, that they have escaped the wrath and curfe of God, due to them for fin?

Answ. No furely; for he that believeth not, is condemned -already, John iii. 18 .: and our Lord fays, Except ye repent, ye shall all likewise perish, Luke xiii. 3.

Quest. 13. Is our escaping the wrath and curse of God, PART II. fuspended fuspended on the condition of our faith, repentance, and diligent use of the outward means?

Answ. No; for, if any promised bleshing were suspended upon the condition of our perfonal obedience, it would be the very form of the covenant of works. Rom. x. g. Moles describeth the righteousness which is of the law, That the man which doth thefe things, fall live by them.

Quest. IA. When do carnal and unregenerate men. turn the dispensation of the covenant of grace, into the form of the covenant of works?

Answ. When they separate the duties of faith, repentance, and the diligent use of the means, from the promises of the covenant, and hope to make themselves accepted with God, by their personal performance of these duties, Rom. x. 3.

Quest. 15. What CONNECTION have faith, repentance, and the use of outward means, with salvation? Anlw. They have the connection of APPOINTED MEANS.

prescribed by God himself, which, by his blessing, are subfervient for fuch a valuable end; being themselves a part of falvation, and evidences thereof, 2 Theff. ii. 13.

Quest. 16. How are the means of Salvation usually distin-Anfau. Into internal and external.

Quest. 17. What are the internal means?

Answ. Faith and repentance, with the other graces that accompany or flow from them.

Quest. 18. Why called internal, or inward?

Answ. Because they are wrought in the hearts of the elect. by the Spirit of God, as the fruits and effects of Christ's purchase and mediation, Zech. xii. 10.

Ouest. 10. What are the external, or outward means?

Answ. They are the ordinances of divine institution and appointment; fuch as, the word, facraments, and prayer, Quest. 20. How is faith in Tesus Christ connected with Salvation?

Anjw. As it is the hand that receives Christ and his righteousness, as the all of our falvation, Pfal. lxviii. 31. John i.

Quest 21. How is repentance unto life connected with falvation?

Anfw. As it confifts in that godly forrow for fin, flowing from faith, which is both the exercise and ornament, (in some measure), of all the travellers Zion-wards, while in Quest. 22. How is the diligent use of outward means connected with falvation?

Answ. As it is by them that I Christ communicates unto us the benefits of redemption ?. Prov. ii. 1 .-- 16.

Quest. 23. Could be not communicate the benefits of redemption, without the outward means?

this world. Jer. l. 4. 2 Cor. vii. 11.

Answ. Whatever he could do, yet his ordinary method is to honour his own ordinances, as the means of communicating these benefits to us, which we are not to expect, but in the use of them, Prov. viii. 34. Rom. x. 17.

Quest. 24. What USE doth God require us to make of the outward means?

Answ. He requires us to make fa diligent used of them.

Quest. 25. What is a diligent use of the outward means? Answ. It is an embracing every opportunity offered, in providence, for attending upon God in them, looking earneftly for his bleffing upon them, by which only, they will be efficacious for our spiritual benefit, 1 Cor. iii. 6, 7,

86. QUEST. What is faith in Jesus Christ?

Answ. Faith in Jefus Christ is a faving grace, whereby we receive and rest upon him alone, for falvation, as he is offered to us in the gospel, Quest. 1. What are the several kinds of faith mentioned in fcripture?

Answ. They are these four; historical, temporary, the faith of miracles, and faving faith.

Quest, 2. What is historical faith?

Answ. It is a bare affent to the truth of what is revealed in the word, without any real affection and regard to the things revealed therein. Such a faith as this, may be found in devils, James ii. 19.; and in wicked men, Acts viii. 13.

Quest. 3. Wby called historical?

Anfw. Not merely because it believes only the histories of the Bible; but because it assents to the truths revealed therein, as being little or no way concerned in them, or without any particular application of them to the foul, Acts xxviii.

Quest. 4. What is temporary faith?

Anfw. It is such as, together with an assent to the truth of divine revelation, is also accompanied with some slight and transient motion upon the assections; which may endure for a while, and then evanishes. Matth. xiii. 20. 21.

Queft. 5. Has this kind of faith any influence upon the bracdice?

Anfw. It may be, for a time, accompanied with an external reformation from fome groffer fins, 2 Pet. ii. 20.

Quest, 6. What is the faith of miracles?

Anjw. It is that peculiar gift, whereby a person believes, that, by the power of God, something shall be effected by him, which is quite above the power of all natural causes, 1 Cor. xiii. 2.

Quest. 7. On what occasion has God bestowed this faith upon any

Anfw. For the confirmation of some extraordinary mission, or of some important article of rerealed religion; as the miracles of Moses under the Old Testament, and of the apostles under the New.

Quest. 8. Was not the faith of miracles, in the days of our Saviour and his aposses, conferred upon some who were not in a state of salvation?

Anfw. Yes: both the extraordinary gift of the faith of miracles, and the ordinary and common gifts of the Spirit, were conferred upon fome, who, we are assured, will be interly rejected of God, Matth. vii. 22. 23. Many will flay unto me in that day, Lord, bave we not Profilesied in thy name? and in thy name have CAST OUT DEVILS? and in thy name done many wonderful works? And then will I profess unto them, I never KNEW you: depart from me, ye that work iniquity.

Quest. 9. What is saving and justifying faith?

Anfw. It is that faith in Jesus Christ, which is described in the answer, "whereby we receive and rest upon him alone, "for falvation," &c.

Quest 10. Why is this faith described in the answer, called a [GRACE]?

Answ. Because it is the gift of God, freely bestowed upon the finner. Eph. ii. 8. who has no antecedent worth, value, or good qualification, whereof he can boaft, I Cor.

Quest. II. Why a [SAVING] grace?

Anfw. Because where-ever true faith is, there salvation is already begun, which shall certainly be confummated in due time, John iii, 36.

Quest. 12. Where is the connection established between faith and Talmation?

Anfw. Faith, being the gifted hand that is firetched out to receive Christ in the promise, Psal. Ixviii. 32. cannot but be inseparably connected with salvation; because Christ, whom faith receives, is the ALL of our falvation, Col. iii. 11.; hence is that promise, Mark xvi. 16. He that believeth --- [ball be faved.

Quest. 13. Why is it called faith [IN JESUS CHRIST]?

Anfw. Because Christ is the main, or principal object of faving faith, Acts xvi. 31.

Oueft. 14. Why do you call him the main or principal chieft

Anfw. Because nothing can fill the eye or hand of faith. but Christ only, or God in him, Pfal. Ixxiii. 25.

Quest, 19. How is faith in Jefus Christ denominated in the anfwer?

Anfw. It is called a TRECEIVING lohn i. 12. and [RESTING] on him, Pfal. xxxvii. 7. Quest. 16. Are there not other denominations of faith in Christ, of the same divine authority with these mentioned?

Anfw. Yes; fuch as, eating, drinking, flying, entering, and many others.

Quest 17. From whence are these various denominations of faith derived?

Answ. From the different views wherein Christ is reprefented in the word.

Quest. 18. How may the above denominations of faith, be applied to the different views wherein Christ is represented in the word?

Anfw. When the flesb and blood of Christ, (or his incarnation and fatisfaction), are exhibited as meat indeed, and drink indeed; faith, in a fuitableness hereunto, is called an eating and a drinking of the fame, John vi. 55. 56.: when Christ is held forth as a refuge; faith is a firing to him for fafety, 180

fafety, Heb. vi. 18.: and when he is represented as a door; faith is an entering in by him, John x. 9.

Quest. 19. Why is faith, in the answer, expressed by [RB-CEIVING ?

Anfw. Because Christ, the glorious object of it, is revealed, in scripture, under the notion of a gift, 2 Cor. ix. 15. presented to such as are quite poor, and have nothing of their own. Rev. iii. 17. 18.

Quest. 20. Can there be a receiving of Christ, without a previous giving of him?

Anjou. No; there may indeed be a giving, where there is no receiving, because the gift may be refused; but there can be no such thing as a receiving of Christ, without a giving of him before; for, a man can receive nathing, except it be given him from heaven, John iii. 27.

Quest. 21. Why is faith called a [RESTING] on Christ?

Answ. Because he is revealed in the word as a firm foundation, Il. xxviii. 16. on which we may lay the weight of our everlasting concerns, with the greatest confidence and fatisfaction, Plai. exvi. 7.

Quest. 22. What other scripture-expression, is resting on Christ, equivalent unto?

Anfw. It is the fame with TRUSTING in him, If. xxvi. 4. or relying on his righteounfiefs and fulnefs, as laid out in the word, for our unanswerable plea, and inexhaultible treasure, chap. xlv. 24.

Quest. 23. For what end do we receive Christ, and rest upon him?

Anfw. [For falvation], Acts xv. TI.

Quest. 24. What is the [falvation] we receive and rest upon Christ for?

Anfw. It is falvation from fin, Matth. i. 21. as well as from wrath, 1 Theff. i. 10.; contifting in a life of holinefs here, as well as of happinefs hereafter. It is falvation begun in this life, and confiummated in glory, Rev. iii. 21.

Quest. 25. Why are we faid to receive and rest upon Christ [alone] for this falvation?

Anfw. To exclude every thing else but Christ himself, and his righteousness, as the ground of our confidence before God, and title to eternal life, Acts iv. 12.

Quest. 26. What else do men ordinarily rest upon for sal-

Anfw. Upon the general mercy of God; the works of the law; or a mixture of their own works with the righte-outness of Christ.

Quest. 27. Who are they that rest on the general mercy of Anfw. They who never faw the necessity of a fatisfaction to law and justice, in order to the honourable egress of mercy, according to Exod. xxxiv. 7.

Quest. 28. Who are they who rest on the works of the law, as the ground of their confidence?

Anfw. Such as have never been convinced, that the demands of the law are utterly above their reach, Gal. iii. 12.

Quest. 29. Who are they that are for blending or mixing their own works, with the righteoufnefs of Christ, as the ground of their hope?

Answ. Such as foolishly imagine they can supply what is defective in their own obedience, by what Christ has done for them, Rom. ix. 31. 32.

Quest. 30. Whereunto doth our Lord resemble this practice?

Answ. To the putting a piece of new cloth unto an old garment, whereby the rent is made worfe, Matth. ix. 16.

Quest. 31. Are not the very expressions of receiving and resting on Christ, designed to exclude the works of the law, from being any part of the ground of our hope of salvation?

Anfw. Yes; for, when a poor man receives his alms, or a weary man fits down, and refts him; none of them can, in any propriety of speech, be faid to work.

Queft. 32. Upon what warrant do we receive and rest upon him for salvation?

Anfw. Upon the warrant of his being [offered].

Quest. 33. To whom is he offered?

Answ. He is offered [to us], men and women of Adam's family, in contradistinction to the angels that fell, Heb. ii.

Quest. 34. Where is this offer made?

Anfw. [ In the gospel].

Quest. 35. What is the [gospel], as containing this offer? Anfw. It is good tidings, Luke ii. 10. or the promise of eternal life, 1 John ii. 25. to sinners of mankind, as such, through setus Christ our Lord, Prov. viii. 4.

Quest. 36. Though the offer of Christ to us be last mentioned, in the answer, yet is it not the first thing to be beliewed?

Answ. Surely it is: for, unless one believe that Christ is offered to him as a Saviour, he will never receive and rest upon him for falvation, Rom. x. 14.

Queft. 37. WHO offers Christ to us in the gospel?

Anfw. God, effentially confidered, in the person of the Father, makes the original or authentic gospel-offer of him. John vi. 32 .- My Father GIVETH you the true bread from keaven.

Queft, 28. In what form, or tenor, doth this authentic offer run?

Answ. In the form of a deed of gift, or grant, wherein he makes over his Son Jefus Christ, unto mankind lost, that whofoever of them all shall receive this gift, shall not perifh, but have eternal life.

Quest. 39. In what text of fcripture (amongst others) is this grant, or authentic gospel-offer, contained?

Anfw. It is expressed in so many words, John in. 16. God to loved the world, that he GAVE his only begotten Son, that WHOSOEVER believeth in him, Should not perifb, but have everlasting life.

Quest. 40. Who are they that offer Christ to sinners in sub-ardination to God?

Answ. Ministers of the gospel, who have a commission from him fo to do, 2 Cor. v. 19. 20.

Quest, 41. What is the ministerial offer ?

Anfw. It is the publishing or proclaiming of Heaven's gift, or grant, to finners of mankind, without exception, as the foundation of their faith, or warrant to believe, 1 John V. II.

Quest. 12. What would be the consequence, if there were any exception in the authentic gofpel-offer?

Anfw. The confequence would be, that no ministerial offer of Christ could be made to the party excepted, more than to the fallen angels.

Queft. 42. Doth the universality of Heaven's grant, and of the ministerial offer founded thereon, infer an universal redemption as to purchase?

Anfw. By no means: it only infers an univerfal warrant to believe.

Quest. 44.

Quest. 44. How do you prove that it infers an universal

Anju. From this, that if there were not fuch a gift and grant of Chrift as warranted all to receive him, the unbelieving world could not be condemned for rejecting him, as we find they are, John iii. 18.—He that believeth not, is condemned already.

Quest. 45. Is there an analogy, or proportion, betwixt our receiving and resting on Christ, and the offer that is made of him in the gospel?

Anfw. Yes: we receive and rest upon him [As] he is offered therein, I Cor. xv. 11.—So we preach, and so ye believed.

Quest. 46. How is he offered in the gospel?

Answ. He is offered freely, wholly, and particularly.

Ouest. 47. How do you prove, that he is offered, and should be received, freely?

Anju. From II. Iv. 1. Ho, every one that thirfleth, come ye to the waters, and he that hath no money: come ye, buy and eat, yea, come, buy wine and milk without money, and without price. Rev. xxii. 17.—Whofoever will, let him take the water of life FREELY.

Quest. 48. Why is Christ to be received freely?

Answ. Because God, out of his sovereign and matchless love, makes a free gift of him to mankind-sinners, John iii. 16. as being infinitely above all price, Job xxviii. 13.—24.

Quest. 49. What are these things, which the proud and legal hearts of sinners bring as a price for Christ, who is absolutely inestimable?

Anfw. Their duties, their good qualifications, their honest aims, their fincere endeavours, and the like.

Quest. 50. Why do they presume to bring such things as theje?

Anfw. Because they know not that they are wretched, and milerable, and poor, and blind, and naked, Rev. iii, 17.

Quest. 51. What is it to receive Christ wholly?

Anfw. It is to receive him in his person, as vested withall his relative offices, of prophet, priest, and king.

Quest. 52. Why must he be received wholly?

Anjw. Because there is nothing of Christ we can possibly want: standing in absolute need of him, as a prophet, for PART II.

instruction; as a prieft, for righteousness; and as a king, for fanctification, I Cor. i. 30.

Quest. 53. What is it for a person to receive Christ particularly ?

Anfw. It is to be verily perfuaded that Christ is his, upon the grant and offer of him, in the word, to him in particular,

John vii. 37. and ix. 35. Quest. 54. Is it not sufficient that a man believe, that the grant and offer of Christ is to sinners of mankind in general? Answ. No; there can be no benefit by a belief of the general offer, without a particular application, or appropriation thereof to the perion himself, I Tim. i. 15.

Quest. cc. How is this illustrated by an example?

Anfw. It is commonly illustrated thus: If a king makes a proclamation of pardon and indemnity to all the rebels within his kingdom; it is plain, that every individual rebel must either believe the pardon of his own crime of rebellion in particular, or elfe reject the king's proclamation of grace. and continue in his rebellious practices: there is no midft.

Quest. 56. Is not believing, that an indemnity is offered to rebels in general, a midft betwixt the two?

Answ. No: because loyal subjects, who need no pardon, may believe that a general indemnity is offered to rebels; and this even rebels themselves may believe, who yet may reject the benefit of that indemnity, and continue in their rebellion. John v. 40.

Quest. 57. Is a belief and perfuasion of the mercy of God in Christ, and of Christ's ability and willingness to save all that come to him, all that is necessary to justifying faith?

Anlw. No: because there being no appropriation, or particular application in this perfuafion, it can be no more than fuch a faith as devils and reprobates may have; or fuch as Papifts and Arminians may fubscribe unto, in a confiftency with their other errors and herefies.

Quest. 58. What is that appropriating perfuasion, in the nature of faith, which is necessary to answer the call and offer of the gospel?

Answ. It is not a perfuasion that Christ is mine in possession, or that I am already in a state of grace; but a persuasion that Christ is mine in the gift of God, and offer of the gospel, Zech. xiii. 9 .- I will fay, It is my people; and they shall fay, The Lord is my God: and therefore I appropriate to myfelf the common fulvation, Acts xv. II.: or, what did lie before me in common, in the gospel-offer, I take home to my own foul in particular, Gal. ii. 20.—Who loved me, and gave himfelf for me; believing that I shall have life and salvation by Christ; and that whatever he did, for the redemption of sinners, he did it for me.

Quest. 59. Why is an appropriating perfuasion (or, a man's being persuaded that Christ is his in particular) necessary to the nature of saving and justifying faith?

Anju. Because nothing can relieve the sinner from the eurse of the law, accusing and condemning him in particular, but saith's application of an offered Saviour, as made a curse for him in particular, to deliver him from that laweurse, Sal. iii. 10. 13.

Quest. 60. How do you prove, that a particular application of Christ is the effectual relief from the curse of the law, denounced against the sinner in particular?

Anju. From this, that the free gift is as full unto juftification, as the offence, through the law, was unto condemnation; for, as by the offence of one, judgment came upon all men to condemnation: even fo, by the righteeufness of one, the free gift came upon all men to justification of life, Rom. V. 18.

Quest. 61. Since an appropriating persuasion is necessary to the nature of faith, whether is every one that has true faith, always affired of his being in a gracious flate?

Anfw. No; for though a believer be perfuaded that Chrift is his in the promife and offer of the gofpel; yet, through the prevalency of remaining corruption, he may frequently aubt of his being in a flate of grace, or of his prefent title to eternal life, If. xlix. 14.

Quest. 62. Is doubting then in the nature of faith, because it is incident to the believer?

Anju. Doubting can no more be faid to be in the hature of faith, because through the prevalence of unbelief and corruption, it fometimes takes place in the believer, than darknels can be faid to be in the nature of the fun, because it is fometimes celipfed; for faith and doubting are in their own nature opposite, Matth. xxi. 21.—If ye have faith, and doubt not.—

Quest. 63. Have all true believers the same measure of aving faith?

Answ. No: some are but of little faith, Matth. xiv. 21.1 whereas others are strong in faith, giving glory to God, Rom, iv. 20. Howbeit the lowest measure of true and saving faith, is infallibly connected with glory, Matth. xii. 20.

Quest. 64. What are the evidences of a strong faith?

Answ. Trusting to the bare word of a faithful and powerful God, even when the outward course of providence seems to run against the performance of the promise, Rom. iv. 10.: a fixed resolution to wait on the Lord, for the promised good which we want, even after feeming repulfes and refufals. Matth. xv. 22 .- 20.; and a fedate repofing ourfelves on an unchangeable God, under all the viciflitudes of time. Pfal. cxii. 7.

Quest. 6c. How may the weakness of faith be discerned?

Answ. The more easily a person can suspect the love and favour of God, If. xl. 27.; the more impatient under delays of answering requests, chap. xxxviii. 14.; and the more addicted to a life of fenfe, John xx. 25. the weaker is the faith.

Quest. 66. How may the truth and reality of faving faith be known, though it be in the weakest and lowest degree?

Anlw. If we bear an inward enmity at fin, because offenfive to God, Pfal. li. 4.; if we can fay, that it is the defire of our fouls to love Christ above all things, John xxi. 17.; and to be eternal debtors to free grace, reigning through his righteousness, Rom. v. 20. 21.; then we may warrantably conclude, that our faith, however weak, yet is of a faving nature.

Quest. 67. What is true faith opposed to, in scripture? Answ. It is opposed to staggering at the promise, Rom. iv.

20.; to wavering, Jam. i. 6.; to doubting, Matth. xxi. 21.;

and, in a word, to unbelief, Mark ix. 24.

Quest. 68. Who are they who will not be charged with the fin of unbelief? Answ. The Heathen world, who are not privileged with the light of gospel-revelation, Rom. x. 14 .- How Shall they believe in him of whom they have not heard?

Quest. 60. What is the evil of this fin, in those who are favoured with gofpel-light?

Answ. It makes God a liar, I John v. 10.; treads under foot the Son of God; and doth despite unto the Spirit of grace, Heb. x. 29.

Quest. 70.

Quest. 70. What is the proper feat of faith?

anfw. The MEART; for with the HEART man believeth unto righteou/nefs, Rom. x. 10.: though faith be radically in the understanding, yet it operates upon the will, which embraces the object with particular application, Heb. xi. 13.

Quest. 71. Is knowledge necessary to faving faith?

Anfw. It is so necessary, that there can be no saving faith without it, I John iv. 16. We have KNOWN and believed the love that God hath to us.

Quest. 72. What is the difference between the knowledge of faith, and speculative knowledge?

Anfw. The knowledge of faith is humbling, I Cor. viii.
2. transforming, Acts xxvi. 18. affectionate, I John iv. 8. and progreflive, Hof. vi. 3.: whereas common or speculative knowledge, has none of these properties, nor effects.

Quest. 73. Wherein consists the harmony or agreeableness betwixt faith, love, and hope?

Anfw. By faith, we get a fight of an unfeen good, and believe it, Heb. xi. 27.3 by love, we defire and feek after it, If. xxvi. 8.; and by hope, we confidently expect, and patiently wait for it, Rom, viii. 25.

Quest. 74. How does faith view and consider its objects? Answ. It views them as certain, suitable, and invisible.

Quest. 75. Why doth it consider them as certain?

Answ. Because of the unquestionable veracity of God who reveals them, John vi. 69. We believe, and are sure that thou art that Christ, the Son of the living God.

Quest. 76. Why does it consider them as suitable?

Anfw. Because they are exactly adapted to the flate and circumstance of the soul whatever it is, 1 Cor. i. 30. 1 Tim. i, 15.

Quest. 77. Why does faith view its objects as invisible?

Anjw. Because it acts and goes forth toward them, upon the bare testimony of God; not only without the concurrence of sense and carnal reason, John xx. 29. but oft-times over the belly of them, Rom. iv. 18, 19.

Quest. 78. Is faith any part of our justifying righteousness? Anjw. No: we acknowledge no other righteousness, for pardon and acceptance, but the righteousness of Christ alone, Phil iii. 9.

Quest. 79. Why then are we faid to be justified by faith, Rom. v. 1,?

188

Anfro. Because it is faith which lays hold upon, and reeeives that rightcousness whereby we are justified, Rom. iii. 22.

Quest. 80. Is not faith necessary to interest us in Christ, and the benefits of his purchase?

Anfw. Yes; for though the indorsement of the promise to us, gives us a right of access, Acts ii. 30.; yet it is faith that gives the right of possession, John vi. 47.—He that believeth on me, HATH everlasting life.

87. QUEST. What is repentance unto life?

Answ. Repentance unto life is a faving grace, whereby a finner, out of a true fense of his sin, and apprehension of the mercy of God in Christ, doth, with grief and hatred of hin, turn from it unto God, with full purpose of, and endeavour after, new obedience.

Quest. 1. Why is the repentance, described in the answer, oalled [repentance unto life], Acts xi. 18.?

Anfw. Because, being a faving grace, it is inseparably connected with salvation, whereof it is a part; and likewise to distinguish it from the forrew of the world, which worketh death, 2 Cor. vii. 10.

Quest. 2. What is meant by the forrow of the world, working death?

Anfw. The meaning is; that the legal forrow, or horror of conficience, which the men of the world may have, from a dread of God as a vindiclive judge, ready to pour out the vials of his wrath and vengeance upon them, without any uptaking of his mercy through Christ, is nothing else but the beginning of eternal death, and inconceivable misery; as was the case with Cain, Judas, and others.

Quest. 3. Whether is repentance a transient action, or an abiding principle?

Anfw. It is an abiding principle, continually disposing the person to mourn for sin, and to turn from it all the days of his life, Is. xxxviii. 14. 15.

Quest. 4

Quest. 4. Is repentance then to be considered as a thing that is over with the first days of one's religion?

Anfw. No: but is to be viewed as a permanent grace, an habitual frame of foul, inclining those who are privileged with it, to mourn daily for fin, till God fball wipe away all tears from their eyes, in heaven, Rev. xxi. 4.

Quest. 5. Who is the proper subject of repentance?

Anfw. None but a [finner] can be the fubject capable of it; for juft, or righteous perfons, need no repentance, Luke xv. 7.

Quest. 6. By whom is it wrought in the heart of a finner?

Anfw. " By the Spirit of God, Zech. xii. 10. *"

Quest, 7. What is the instrument or means, whereby the Spirit works this grace?

Anfw. "The word of God, Acts xi. 18. 20. 21. +"

Quest. 8. What is the instrumentality of the word, in the hand of the Spirit, for working repentance?

Anfw. In the word there is a difplay of the holiness of the divine nature and law, to which we ought to be conformable. Lev. xix. 2.; the word also discovers the necessity of union with Chrift, and the imputation of his righteousness, as the foundation of true holiness, 1 Cor. i. 30.; together with the inevitable ruin of all who go on in their trespasses. Pfal. lxviii. 21.; and all these powerfully set home by the Spirit, upon the conscience of the sinner, whereupon he is instructed, and fmites upon his thigh, Jer. xxxi. 10.

Quest. 9. What is meant by the sinner's smiting upon his Anfw. It imports [a true sense of sin]; because a real inward concern upon the mind, is usually manifested by that outward motion of the body, namely, a fmiting upon the Quest. 10. Wherein confists a true fense of fin?

Answ. In a " fight and fense, not only of the danger, but " also of the filthiness and odiousness of fin, Ezek. xxxvi. " 31. 1" as contrary to the holiness of God, and consequently as highly offensive unto him, Pfal. li. 4.

Quest. 11. How is a true sense of sin begotten in the soul? Anfw. By faith; or an Sapprehension of the mercy of God in Christ 7.

Quest. 12. May there not be a fense of sin, without this apprehension of the mercy of God in Christ?

Anjw. Yes; but not a [true] fense: there may be a sense of sin as hurtful to the person, Gen. iv. 13.; but not as hateful to God. Hab. i. 12.

Quest. 13. Why is the mercy of God faid to be apprebended [in Christ]?

Anfw. Because though God be effentially merciful, yet his mercy can have no egress towards any innner of manind, in a consistency with the honour of his justice and holines, but through the obedience and fatisfaction of Christ, Exod, xxxiy, 6, 7.

Quest. 14. What is it to APPREHEND the mercy of God in Christ?

Anfw. It is, the fame with faith, or believing; it being by faith only, that we can lay hold upon his mercy, Pfal.

Quest. 15. Is is from faith then that repentance flows, as the proper source of it?

Anfw. Yes: for though faith and repentance are graces given together, and at once, in respect of time; yet, in the order of nature, the acting of faith goes before the exercise of repentance, Zech. xii. 10.

Quest. 16. How doth it appear, from scripture, that faith goes before repentance, in the order of nature?

Anfw. The scriptures set forth the blessed object of faith, and the promises of rich grace, as powerful motives and inducements to repentance, Jer. iii. 14, Joel ii. 13.; whereby it is evident, that it must be by a believing application of this glorious object, brought nigh in the promise, that a sunce is enabled to the lively exercise of true repentance, Acts xi. 21.——And a great number believed, and turned unto the Lord.

Quest. 17. How may the precedency of faith be evinced from the nature of repentance itself?

Anfw. Repentance is a turning from fin unto God: but there can be no turning to God, but through Chrift, John xiv. 6.; and no coming to Chrift, but by faith, chap. vi. 35.

Ouch. 18. Is not repentance placed before faith in ferip-ture, Mark i. 15. Repent ye, and believe the gospel?

Anfw. The reason is; repentance being the end, and saith the means to that end; though the end be first in one's ntention

intention, yet the means are first in practice. Thus in the text quoted, Christ commands sinners to repent; but then in order to their repenting, he commands them to believe the gospel, as the only way thereunto.

Quest. 19. How are we fure, that where repentance is named before faith in scripture, it is to be understood of repentance as the end, and of faith as the only way and means hereunto?

Anfor. From Acts xx. 21. Testifying repantance toward God, and faith toward our Lord Jesus Christ: where it is obvious, that if faith toward our Lord Jesus Christ, is not the means of repentance toward God, that fundamental truth would be destroyed, that Christ is the only way to the Father, as he himself assume, John xiv. 6. No man cometh unto the Father but by me.

Quest. 20. Is repentance to be separated from faith?

Anyo. Not shough these graces are to be diffinguished, yet they are never to be separated from one another, being conjoined in the same promise, Zech. xii. 10.—They shall LOOK upon me whom they have pierced, and they shall NOUKN for him.

Quest. 21. What is the evil of maintaining, that none, but true penitents, have a warrant to embrace Christ by faith?

Anfw. It fets finners upon spinning repentance out of their own bowels, that they may setch it with them, as a price in their hand to Christ, instead of coming to him by faith, to obtain it from him, as his gift, Acts v. 21.

Quest. 22. What are the constituent parts, or ingredients.

of true repentance, as flowing from faith?

Answ. [Grief and hatred of sin: turning from it unto God; with full purpose of, and endeavour after, new obedience].

Quest. 23. What is that [grief] which is an incredient of true repentance?

Answ. It is a real, inward, and abiding forrow for fin, as offensive and dishonousing to a holy and gracious God, Job xl. 4. 5.

Queft. 24. What is that [hatred] of fin, which accompanies true repentance?

Anfw. It is not only a loathing and abhorring of our fin, but of our felves on account of it, If. vi. 5.

Quest. 23. What are the qualities of this hatred?

Anfu,

Anfw. It is universal against all sin, Psal. cxix. 104. and irreconcileable to any known sin, Psal. ci. 3.

Quest. 26. What is the formal nature of evangelical repent-

Answ It is when a finner doth, with grief and hatred of his fin, [turn from it unto God.]

Quest. 27. What is the term from which the finner turns in repentance?

Anfw. He turns from fin; in regard a continuance in the practice of fin, is inconfiltent with repentance, Ezek. xiv. 6. Repent and turn—from your idols, and turn away your faces from all your abominations.

Quest. 28. How can penitents be faid to turn from fin, when it remains in them, and they are daily offending while in this life?

Anfw. Though they cannot shake themselves loose of the being and remains of sin, yet they turn from it, not only in their life and conversation, but likewise in their beart and affection.

Quest. 29. How do they evidence that they turn from it in there life and conversation?

Anju. By resisting the outbreakings of sin, and all temptations thereunto, Pfal. xviii. 23.5 by watching against all occasions of it, Prov. iv. 14. 15.; and endeavouring to have always a conscience void of offence toward God, and toward men, Acbs xviv. 16.

Quest. 30. How do they manifest their turning from sin in heart and affection?

Anfw. In as much as though fin cleaves to them, they do not cleave to it, as formerly, but hate and lothe it, Pfal. cxix. 104. 113.

Quest. 31. What is the term to which the sinner turns in repentance?

Answ. He turns [unto God], Hos. vi. 1. Come and let us return unto the Lord.

Quest. 32. Do not many turn from one fin to another, and never to God?

Answ. Yes: They return, but not to the Most High, Hos.

vii. 16.

Quest. 33. What is the true cause of the sinner's turning to God?

Answ. It is his being turned unto God first. Jer. xxxi. 10. Surely, after that I was turned, I repented.

Quest. 34. How is the sinner turned unto God first?

Answ. By the Spirit's working faith in him, whereby he receives, and refts on Christ for falvation, whereof remission of fin, and repentance, are a part, Acts v. 31.

Quest. 35. Wherein doth the sinner's turning to God confift? Answ. It consists in his turning to the loving of God, as his Lord and Mafter, If. xxvi. 13.; and to his duty to him as fuch. Acts ix. 6.

Quest. 26. How doth the returning finner express his love to God, as his Lord and Master?

Anfw. By a voluntary choice of him as his only Lord, Hof. ii. 7.; and by looking upon his fervice as the greatest freedom and happiness, Pfal. lxxxiv. 4.

Quest. 37. How doth he testify his returning to his duty to God, as his Lord and Master?

Answ. By a full purpose of, and endeavour after, new Quest. 38. What is the nature of this [purpose] of duty to God, which the true penitent enters into? Answ. It is a purpose or resolution to return to the practice of every known duty, Pfal. exix. 106, and to spirituality therein, Phil. iii. 3.

Quest. 39. Why called a [FULL] purpose?

Answ. Because it is not only a resolution of what a person will do hereafter, but a resolution which is immediately put in execution without delay, Pfal. cxix. 60. I made hafte, and delayed not to keep thy commandments: like the prodigal, who fays, I will arise, and go to my father; and immediately he arose and went, Luke xv. 18. 20.

Quest. 40. What is the inseparable concomitant of this full purpose, in all true penitents?

Anfw. An [endeavour after new obedience].

Quest. 41. Why is a full purpose of new obedience, connected with an endeavour after it?

Anfw. Because purposes, without endeavours, are but like blossoms without fruit, which can never prove one to be a true penitent, Matth. xxi. 30.

Quest. 42. Why called an [endeavour] after new obedience? Answ. Because though the penitent is sensible he cannot perform this kind of obedience in his own ftrength, yet he A a 2 aims aims at it, and at no less than perfection therein, Phil. iii.

14. I press toward the mark, for the prize of the high calling of God in Christ Tepias.

Quest 43. Why is the obedience, which the true penitent purposes and endeavours after, ediled [NEW obedience]?

Anfw. Becaute it is fuch an obedience as flows from a new principle, is influenced by new motives, performed in a new manner, and is aimed at a new end.

Quest. 44. What is the new principle, from which this obedience flows?

Anfw. A principle of faith, Rom xiv. 23. and a principle of love, John xiv. 15.

Quelt. 45. What are the new motives whereby this new chedience is influenced?

Answ. The grace of Gody Tit. ii. 11. 12. and the love of Christ. 2 Cor. v. 14. 15.

Quest 46. What are the motives whereby men, in a natural state, are influenced to duties?

Anfw. The dictates of a natural conference, Rom. ii. 15.; their own interest and reputation, Matth. vi. 3.; a mercetary hope of heaven, Mic. vi. 6. 7.; or a slavish fear of hell, It. xxxiii. 14.

Quest. 47. What is the new mariner in which new obedience is performed?

Anfau. It is performed in the strength of Christ, Phile Iv. 13.; or in a dependance on the furniture secured in the promise, 2 Cor. xii. 9.: it is done with delight, Is lxiv. 5.; and with the whole heart, Pfal. cxix. 69.

Quest. 48. What is the new end at which it aims?

Answ. The glory of God is the ultimate end thereof, I Cor. x. 21.

Quelt 40. What is the difference betweet legal and golpel

rebentane

Anfw. Legal repentance flows from a dread of God's wrath, Matth. xxxii. 3—6.; but gofpell-repentance from the faith of his mercy, Pfal. cxxx. 4.: in legal repentance, the finner is taken up moftly with the fatal confequences of fin, If. Ixix. 9.—121; in gofpel-repentance, he is chiefly affected with the evil nature of it, as contrary to the holy nature, and law of God, Janke xx. 21:

Qued. 30. What are the motives that Should engage us to

1 of the state

Anfw. The command of God, Acts xvii. 20.; the fufferings of Christ, Zech. xii. 10.; and the certain danger of impenitency, Lake xiii. c.

Quest. 1: What are the evidences of true repentance? Answ. The very same that are mentioned by the apostle. 2 Cor. vii. 11. For behold, the felf-fame thing that we forrowed after a godly fort, what carefulness it wrought in you : year what clearing of yourselves; yea, what indignation; yea, what fear; yea, what vehement desire; yea, what zeal; ved, what revenge!

Quest. 52. What is that carefulness, which is a mark of the true penitent ?

Anfib. It is earefulness about the one thing needful, that good part which shall not be taken away, Luke x. 42.

Queft. 53. Upon what ground will the true penitent clear

Anfw: Only upon the ground of the futery-righteousness imputed unto him, If, xlv. 24.

Quest. 54. What is the principal object of his indignation? Anfw. It is fin, as ftriking immediately against God, Pfal. li. 4. compared with Pfal. cxix: 104.

Quest. $5. What is that fear, which is an evidence of true repentance?

Anfw: It is a filial and reverential fear of God, or a standing in awe to offend him, Gen. xxxix. 9.

Quest. 56. What is that vehement defire, which a true penitent is privileged with?

Anfw. It is an earnest and ardent delire after conformity to God, and fellowship with him, Psal. xxvii. 4.

Quest. 57. What kind of zeal is it, that is evidential of gospel-repentance?

Answ. It is zeal for the glory of God, and the interest of Christ in the world, Pfal. exxxvii. q. 6.

Quest. 58. What is that revenge, which is competent to a true penitent?

Answ. It is such a revenge against sin, as aims at the utter ruin and extirpation thereof, Rom. vii. 24.

Quest. 59. In what respects is repentance necessary?

Answ. It is necessary in respect of the command of God, Acts xvii. 30.; and as evidential of the reality of faith, whereof it is the native fruit and effect, Zech. xii. 10.

Quest. 60.

196 Of Christ's ORDINANCES in general.

Quest. 60. May not this duty be delayed, or put off for a while?

Anfiw. No: because of the uncertainty of time, Luke xii. 19. 20. and of the continuance of the Spirit's ftriving, Gen. vi. 2.

Quest. 61. When should the Lord's people apply to him, for the exercise of this grace of repentance, in a more special and particular manner?

Anfo. After great falls, 2 Sam. xii. 13.; when under fore trials, or deep affliction, 2 Sam. xv. 26. 30.; and when they are to alk of God fome fingular favour or metcy, Dan. ix, 8. compared with verf. 18. 10.

Quest. 62. By what means may the lively exercise of repentance be attained?

Anfw. By looking on it as in the gift of Christ, Acts v. 31.; and by viewing our fins as laid on him, who was pierced for them, Zech. xii. 10.; together with searching and trying our ways, Lam. iii. 40.

88. QUEST. What are the outward means whereby Christ communicateth to us the benefits of redemption?

Assw. The outward and ordinary means, whereby Christ communicatest to us the benefits of redemption, are his ordinances, especially the word, sacraments, and prayer; all which are made effectual to the elect for salvation.

Quest. 1. What do you understand by [the benefits of redemption]?

Anfw. All the bleffings of Christ's purchase, which may be summed up in grace here, and glory hereaster, Pfal. lxxxiv. 11.

Quest. 2. Who [communicateth] these benefits or blessings to us?

Anfw. [CHRIST] himself, who has them wholly at his disposal, Luke xxii. 29. I appoint (or dispose) unto you a kingdom.

Quest.

Quest. 2. How comes Christ to have the disposal of hem wholly in his hands?

Anfw. By his Father's gift, John iii. 35. The Father veth the Son, and bath GIVEN all things into his hand : at by his own purchase of them; hence called a purchased poly fellion, Eph. i. 14.

Quest. 4. What is it for Christ to communicate the benefits of redemption?

Anfw. It is not to give away the property of them from himself, but to make us sharers with him in them all; that is, to make us heirs of God, and joint-heirs with Christ, Rom. viii. 17.

Quest. c. Whether doth Christ communicate them in a mediate or immediate way?

Answ. In a mediate way, through the intervention of ordinances, Eph. iv. 11 .- 14.

Quest. 6. What are the [ordinances] whereby Christ com-municateth to us the benefits of redemption?

Answ. They are " prayer and thanksgiving in the name of Christ; the reading, preaching, and hearing of the " word; the administration and receiving the sacraments;

" church-government and discipline; the ministry and main" tenance thereof; religious fasting, swearing by the name " of God, and vowing unto him "."

Quest. 7. Why are these called [HIS] ordinances?

Answ. Because they are all of them instituted and prescribed by him in his word, as the alone Head and King of his church, to be observed therein unto the end of the world, Matth. xxviii. 20.

Quest. 8. Have we any reason to expect, that the benefits of redemption will be communicated by ordinances of man's invention and appointment?

Anfw. No; for all fuch ordinances, having no higher fanction than the commandments of men, are declared to be IN VAIN, Matth. xv. o.; they are condemned as will-wor-(bip, Col. ii. 23.; and the observers of them severely threatened, Mic. vi. 16.

Quest. 9. Why is it faid, [especially the word, facraments, and prayer ??

Larger Cat. Quest 108. See them all explained, on the duties required in the second commandment,

198 Of Christ's ORDINANCES in general.

Anju. Because though the other ordinances, above mentined, are not to be excluded, as being all of them useful ; their own place; yet the morel, fargoments, and prayer, or the chief, or principal, outward means, for communicating the benefits of redemption, Act Si. 42.

Quest. 10. What is the special usefulness of the [word] for communicating the benefits of redemption?

Anjw. In the word these benefits are exhibited and offered to sinners of mankind, as the ground of their faith, that, believing, they may be possessed of them all, John xx. 21.

Quest. 11. What is the special usefulness of the [facraments] for communicating these benefits?

Answ. The facraments represent to our fenses, 1 Cor. x. 16. what the word doth to our faith, and are defigned for the confirmation thereof, Rom. iy. 11.

Quest. 12. What is the special usefulness of [prayer] for the above purpose?

Anfw. The prayer of faith fatches home, to the faul, all the good that is wrapt up both in the word and in the factaments, Mark ki. 24.—What things favor ye define when ye pray, believing that ye receive them, ye shall have them.

Quest. 13. Why are the word, sacraments, and prayer, called [means] whereby Christ communicateth to us the bo-nefits of redemption?

Anfw. Because he is pleased to begin and carry on the work of grace in the soul, by, and under these ordinances, Acts ii. 41. 42.

Quelt. 14. Why called the [outward] means?

Anfw. To diffinguish them from faith, repentance, and other inward means; and particularly to diffinguish them from the inward and powerful influences of the Holy Spirit, which are necessary to accompany the outward means in order to salvation, Zech. iv. 6.

Quest. 15. Why called [ordinary] means?

Anfw. Because they are the stated and ordinary way and method, whereby Christ communicates the benefits of sedemption to sinners of mankind, Rom. x. 14.—18. Ezek. xxxvii. 28.

Quest. 16. Are there any extraordinary means, without the word, whereby Christ communicateth the benefits of redemption to adult persons?

Answ. No: for whatever providences God may make use of, when he is beginning or carrying on his work of grace in the foul, Acts ix. 3 .- 7.; yet these dispensations are always to be confidered in a fubferviency to the word, chap, xvi. 25 .- 32, or as occasions of the Spirit's working in concurrence therewith, 2 Pet. i. 18. 10.

Queit. 17. Are the ordinances, of themselves, effectual for communicating the benefits of redemption?

Anfw. No: they are [made effectual], Rom. i. 16.

Quest. 18. To whom are they made effectual?

Anfw. To the [elect] only, Acts xiii. 48. Quest. 19. For what end are they made effectual to the elest ? Anfw. For [ [alvation], Heb. x. 30.

Ouest, 20; What is meant by falvation?

Anjw. Not only a begun deliverance from all fin and mifery, and a begun polletion of all happiness and bleffedness in this life, John iii, 15.; but likewife a total freedom from the one, and a full and uninterrupted enjoyment of the other, in the life to come, Rev. xxi. 4.

Quest. 21. If the ordinances are made effectual to the elect only for fatuation, why have others in the vifible church the benefit of them?

Anfw. To thew the infinite intrinsic fufficience of the fatisfaction of Christ, 1 John iv. 14.; and, at the same time, to render those who slight such valuable privileges the more inexcufable, John xv. 22.

Quest. 22. What may we learn from Christ's instituting his ordinances to be the outward and ordinary means of falvation?

Anfw. We may from thence learn the difference betwixt the church militant, which fees but through a glass darkly ; and the church triumphant, which fees face to face, I Cor. Kiii. 12.

8). QUEST. How is the word mide effectual to Salvation?

Answ. The Spirit of God maketh the reading, but especially the preaching of the word, an effectual means of convincing, and converting finners, and of building them up in PART II. Bb holiness holiness and comfort, through faith, unto falvation.

Quest. 1. What is meant by [the word] in this answer?

Answ. The whole of divine revelation, contained in the feriptures of the Old and New Testament.

Quest. 2. What hath God appointed with reference to his word, that it may be effectual to falvation?

Answ. He hath appointed [the reading], John v. 39. [but especially the preaching] thereof, 2 Tim. iv. 2.

Quest. 3. " Is the word of God to be read by all?"

Anfw. "Although all are not permitted to read the word "publicly to the congregation, Deut. xxxi. 9. 11. yet all "forts of people are bound to read it apart by themfelves, chap. xxii. 19. and with their families, chap. xii. 7. *"

Quest. 4. What is the meaning of these words in our Larger Catechism. " all are not permitted to read the word publicly

" to the congregation ?"

Anjou. The meaning is not, as if there were an order of men appointed by Chrift, to be READERS in the church, diftinct from minifers; but only, that none ought to read publicly to the congregation, except these whose office it is, not only to read the word of God, but to explain it to the edification of others, Neh. viii. 8. So they read in the book, in the law of God diffinally, and gave the senses, and caused them [manuly, the people] to underfland the reading.

Quest. 5. Why is the reading of the scriptures, apart by ourselves, necessary for every one?

Anju. Because the scriptures are a found for defence, Eph. vi. 17, 1 a lamp for direction, Plal cxix. 105; and food for nourishment, Jer. xv. 16.: in all which respects they are necessary for every Christian travelling Zion-ward, 2 Tim. iii. 16. 17.

Queft. 6. May not the reading the scriptures in our families, superfede the reading of them apart by ourselves?

Answ. No: the doing of the one ought by no means to justle out the other.

Quest. 7. What is effentially requisite in order to capacitate the unlearned to read the scriptures?

Answ. That they be "translated out of the original into "vulgar languages, 1 Cor. xiv. 11. *"

Quest. 8. " How is the word of God to be read?"

Anjw. "The holy scriptures are to be read with a high "and reverend esteem of them, Neh. viii. 5.3 with a firm "persuasion that they are the very word of God, 2 Pet. i. "21.; and that he only can enable us to understand them.

" Luke xxiv. 45. +"

Quest. 9. Why should we read the scriptures with an high and reverend esteem of them?

Answ. Because they are dictated by the Holy Ghost, and are able to make us wise unto salvation, 2 Tim. iii. 15.

Quest. 10. Why Should we read them with a firm perfuafion that they are the very word of God?

Anfw. Because, without this, we can never build our hope upon them, as containing the words of eternal life, I Thess. ii. 12.

Quest. 11. Why should we read them with a persuasion that God only can enable us to understand them?

Anfw. Becaule, without this, we cannot exercise a dependance upon him, for that spiritual and internal illumination, which is necessary to a faving and experimental knowledge of them, 1 Cor. ii. 10.

Quest. 12. "By whom is the word of God to be preached?"

Answ. "—Only by such as are sufficiently gisted, Mal.
"ii. 7. and also duly approved and called to that office,

" Rom. x. 15. 1 Tim. iv. 14. 1"

Quest. 13. Who are they that are sufficiently gifted?

Anjw. They are fuch as are not only of a blameless moral walls, and have a good report of them that are without; I Tim. iii. 7; but likewife fuch as have a competent flock of human literature, Tit. 1,9.; and are, in the judgment of charity, reputed to be pious and religious men, 2 Tim. i. 5.

Quest. 14. What is it to be duly approved and called to that office?

Anfw. It is not only to be approved by the proflytery, who have the fole power of trying the ministerial qualifications, and of ordination to that office, 1 Tim. iv. 14.; but likewise to have the call and consent of the people, who are st those that are called thereunto?"

Answ. " They are to preach found doctrine diligently,of plainly, -- faithfully, -- wifely, -- zealoufly, -- and fincere-C6 1 tr # 23

Quest. 16. What are we to understand by found doctrine? Anfau. The whole fystem of divine truth, contained in the holy scriptures, or evidently deducible therefrom; particularly, whatever has the greatest tendency to depreciate felf, and to exalt Christ, who ought to be the main and leading subject of all gospel-preaching, 2 Cor. iv. c.

Quest. 17. What is it to preach found dostrine diligently?

Anfw. It is to be instant " in season, and out of season, " 2 Tim. iv. 2.; t' embracing every opportunity of doing good to fouls; and watching for them, as they that must give account, Heb. xiii. 17.

Quest. 18. What is it to preach plainly?

Answ. It is to effay it " not in enticing words of mens " wisdom, but in demonstration of the Spirit, and of power, " r Cor. ii. 4. t"

Quest. 19. What is it to preach the word faithfully?

Answ. It is a " making known the whole counsel of God, (or at least a not shunning to do so), Acts xx. 27. " Quest. 20. When may ministers be said to preach wisely?

Answ. When in studying, or preaching, they are wholly taken up in "applying themselves to the necessities and ca-of pacities of the hearers, Luke xii. 42. 1 Cor, iii. 2. **" Quest. 21. When do they preach the word zealously?

Answ. When they do it " with fervent love to God, and " the fouls of his people, 2 Cor, v. 14. and xii. 15. ††"

Quest. 22. How is the word preached fincerely?

Anfw. When there is an "aiming at God's glory," and his people's " conversion, edification, and falvation, I Theff. " ii. 4. 1 Cor. ix. 22. 1 Tim. iv. 16. 11"

Quest. 25. What is it that the Spirit of God makes the reding and preaching of the word an effectual means of?

Aspu. He makes them an effectual means of convincing and converting finners, and of building them up in bolinefs and comfort, through faith, unto falvation.

Quest. 26. Whether doth the Spirit make more frequent and ordinary use of the reading, or of the preaching of the word, for these valuable ends?

Answ. He makes more frequent and ordinary use of the [preaching] of the word; and therefore there is an [ESPE-CIALLY] prefixed to it in the answer.

Quest. 27. How do you prove, that the preaching of the word is honoured as the most ordinary mean?

Anfw. From express feripture-tellimony to this purpose, Acts iv. 4. Many of them which beard the word believed. Chap. xi. 20. And some of them—fi, ake unto the Grecians, preaching the Lord Jesus, and the hand of the Lord was with them: and a great number believed, and turned unto the Lord.

Quest. 28. May not people be more edified in reading good fermons at home, than in hearing, from the pulpit, such as are not, perhaps, so well digested?

Anfw. If they are in health, and not necessarily detained from the public ordinances, they have no ground to expect any real and saving benefit to their fouls, in the neglect of hearing the word preached; because it pleases God, by the foolibbes of preaching, to save them that believe, I Cor. i. 21. And saits comet by HEARING, ROM. X. 17.

Quest. 29. What use doth the Spirit make of the reading, but especially of the preaching of the word, with reference to [finners] in a natural state?

Anfw. He makes use thereof as an effectual means of [convincing and converting] them, 1 Cor. xiv. 24. Acts xxvi. 18.

Quest. 31. Whether is it by the word of the law, or the word of the gospel, that the Spirit convinces of sin?

Answ. It is ordinarily by the word of the law, Rom. iii.

20 .- By the LAW is the knowledge of fin.

Quest. 32. What of fin doth the Spirit convince sinners by Anfw. Both of the nature and defert of fin.

Quest. 33. Wherein confifts the nature of fin?

Answ. In the want of conformity unto, and transgression of the law of God *.

Quest. 34. What is the defert of fin?

Anfiw. The wrath and curse of God, both in this life, and that which is to come †.

Quest. 35. How doth the Spirit convince men effectually, by the word, that they are finners?

Answ. By convincing them therefrom, that they are unbelievers, John xvi. 8. 9. He [the Spirit] will repreve [or convince] the world of sin, because they believe not in me, faith our Lord.

Quest. 36. What influence has a conviction of unbelief, upon convincing a person, that he is indeed a sinner?

Answ. Were once a person convinced, that unbelief is a rejecting of the only method of falvation, devifed in infinite witidom, or a treating of God's unspeakable gift, offered in the word, with the utmost contempt; he could not but conclude himself, on account thereof, to be the greatest of sinners, and that he deferved the forest of punishments, Heb. X. 20.

x. 29. Quest. 37. How doth the Spirit make the word an effectual means of [converting] finners?

Answ. By making use of it to open their eyes, and to turn them from darkness to light, and from the power of Satan to God, Acts xxvi. 18.

Quest. 38. Do all convictions of fin iffue in conversion?

Anjw. Far from it: many may be very deeply convinced of fin by the law, and yet never have a thorough change wrought upon their heart; as in the inflances of Cain, Judas, and others.

Quest. 39. What is conversion?

Anfw. It is the spiritual motion of the whole man, toward a God in Christ, as the immediate effect of the real and supernatural change, that is wrought in regeneration, Jer. iii. 22.

Quest. 40. Is there any difference between conversion and regeneration?

An fu. They are as infeparably conjoined, as the effect is to its caule. Regeneration, or the formation of the new creature, (wherein we are wholly paffive), is the caufe: and convertion, or the motion of the foul to God, is the effect, which infallibly follows thereupon, Hof. vi. 2

Quest. 41. Cannot man be the author of his own conversion?

Answ. No: he can neither prepare himself for it, nor cooperate with God therein.

Quest. 42. Why can he not prepare himself for it?

Answ. Because the carnal mind is enmity against God, ay and until regenerating grace take place in the foul, Rom. viii. 7. 8.

Quest. 43. Why cannot man co-operate with God in this work?

Anfw. Because there can be no acting, without a principle of action. Regeneration, being the initusing of spiritual life into the soul, it is impossible the creature can co-operate or concur with God therein, any more than Lazarus in the grave could concur in his own refurrection, till the powerful voice of Christ instude life and strength in him.

Quest. 44. What would be the consequence, if man could co-operate with God in regeneration?

Anfw. The confequence would be, that God would not be fo much the author of grace, as he is of nature; nor have fuch a revenue of glory from the one, as from the other.

Quest. 45. How are regeneration and conversion denominated in scripture, to prove that God only can be the author, of them?

Anfw. They are called a creation, Eph. ii. 10. and a requirection, chap. v. 14.

Quest. 46. Why called a creation?

Anfw. Because there is nothing in the heart of man, out of which the new creature can be formed; Every imagination of the thoughts of his heart being only evil continually, Gen. vi. 5.

Quest. 47. Why called a refurrection?

Anfw. Because it is God only who quickeneth the dead, and calleth the things which be not, as though they were. Rom. iv. 17.

Quest. 48. What influence has the word upon the conver-Sion of Sinners?

Anfau. It has no physical or natural influence of itself, but only as it is an instituted mean, in the hand of the Spirit of God for that end. John vi. 62.

Quest, 40. What is the efficacy of the word, in the work of conversion, compared unto in scripture?

Answ. It is compared to a fire, to a hammer, Jer. xxiii. 20. to rain. Deut. xxxii. 2. and to light. Pfal. cxix. 105.

Quest, co. Why compared to fire?

Anhw. Because as fire purifies the metal, separating the drofs; fo the word, in the hand of the Spirit, purifies the heart, purging away the drofs of fin and corruption that is there. If. iv. 4.

Quest. 51. Why compared to a hammer?

Answ. In regard that as a hammer breaketh the rock in pieces, (Jer. xxiii. 29.) and thereby fits it for the building; fo the Spirit of God, by the word, breaks the hard heart of man, and fits it for being built on the foundation God has laid in Zion, Prov. xvi. I.

Quest. 52. Why compared to rain?

Anfau. Because as the rain falls irreliftibly, so there is no withstanding the efficacy of the word in the hand of the Spirit. If. lv. 11.

Ouest. 53. Why compared to light?

Anhy. Because as light discovers things that were indiscernible in the dark; fo the Spirit, by the word, discovers the latent wickedness of the heart, 1 Cor. xiv. 25. and the matchless glory and excellency of Christ, as IMMANUEL, God with us, John xvi 14.

Quest, 54. What use doth the Spirit make of the reading, but especially the preaching of the word, with reference to SAINTS, who are brought into a state of grace?

Answ. He makes use thereof as an effectual mean for building them up in holiness and comfort, through faith, unto falvation , Acts xx. 32. Rom. xv. 4.

Quest. 55. Is [holiness] necessary in order to our justification before God?

Anfw. It is necessary in the justified, but not in order to their justification; because this would found their justification upon works, contrary to Rom. iii. 20. By the deeds of the law shall no flesh be justified in his fight *.

Quest. 56. Is it necessary as the ground of our title to hea-ien?

Anju. It is necessary to clear our title; but our title itest can be founded only in our union with Christ, and the imputation of his righteousness, 1 Cor. iii. 22. 23.—All are yours, and ye are Christ's; compared with Rom. viii. 30.—Whom be julystifed, them he also glorifed.

Quest. 57. Why are the faints faid to be built up in holiness?

Anfw. Because the work of fanctification, like a building, is gradually carried on towards perfection at death, Prov. it.

Quest. 58. How doth the Spirit make the reading and preaching of the word, an effectual mean of building up the faints in holines? 1 150 m ti Milaring bas

Quest. 59. How doth he, by means of these ordinances, build them up in [comfort]?

Anfw. By conveying with power unto their fouls, the great and precious promifes, which contain all the grounds of real and lafting comfort, Gal. iii. 29. and iv. 28.

Quest. 60. Through what instrument is it, that the Spirit makes these means effectual, for building up the saints in holiness and comfort?

Anfw. It is [through faith], I Theff. ii. 13.

Quelt. 61. What infirumentality has faith, in the hand of the Spirit, for building up the Jaints in holiness and comfort? Answ. It rests upon God's faithful word for the promoting of both, Pfal. cxxxviii. 8. The Lord will perfect that which concerneth me.

Quest. 62. Unto what end does the Spirit, by means of the word, build them up in holiness and comfort, through faith?

Answ. It is unto their complete and eternal [Jalvation], Rom. i. 16.

* See Part L on funct fication, Queft. 45. PART II. C G Quest. 62. What may we learn from the Spirit's making the means effectual to falvation?

Anlw. That as no special blesling can be expected from God, in the wilful neglect of the ordinances, Prov. xxviii. o, fo we may fit all our days under a pure dispensation of the gospel, without reaping any spiritual profit, unless divine fupernatural agency concur, I Cor. iii. 6

CO. OUEST. How is the word to be read and heard, that it may become effectual to falvation?

Answ. That the word may become effectual to falvation, we must attend thereunto with diligence, preparation, and prayer; receive it with faith and love; lay it up in our hearts; and practife it in our lives.

Quest. 1. What hath God injoined us, in order to our reading and hearing his word in a right manner?

Anfw. That we [attend thereunto]; that we [receive it]; and that we flav it up in our hearts, and practife it in our Quest. 2. What is it to [attend] unto the reading and hearinp of the word?

Answ. It is to make the reading and hearing thereof the main business of our life; to have it mostly at heart, because the word contains that good part, which shall not be taken away, Luke x. 42.

Quest. 3. How ought we to attend, or fet about the reading and hearing of the word?

Anfw. [With diligence, preparation, and prayer].

Quest. 4. What do you understand by attending the word [with diligence]?

Answ. A careful observing and embracing every seasonable opportunity, that may offer in providence, for reading and hearing the fame, Prov. viii. 34.

Quest. 5. What [preparation] Should we make for reading and hearing the word?

Answ. We should consider, that the word has the authority of God stamped upon it, 2 Tim. iii. 16.; that it is himself who speaketh to us therein. Heb. xii. 25.; that it is his ordinance for our falvation, John v. 39.; and will be the Tayour either of life or death unto us, 2 Cor. ii. 16.

Quest. 6. Why is [prayer] requisite for reading and hearing the word in a right manner?

Answ. Because as it is God alone, and none else, who can dispose our hearts for the right performance of those religious exercifes, fo he ought always to be addressed and supplicated for that end, Pfal. cxix. 18,

Quest. 7. What should we pray for, when setting about the reading and hearing of the word?

Anfw. That it may be the power of God unto our falvation, Rom. i. 16.; or an effectual means in his hand for convincing, converting, and edifying of our fouls, John vi. 63. Quest. 8. What is our immediate duty, when we are actually engaged in reading or hearing the word?

Anfw. Our immediate duty, in that case, is to [receive it].

Quest. o. What is it to receive the word?

Anfw. It is, with all readiness of mind, to take it in, as the dictates of the Holy Ghoft to our fouls, Acts xvii. 11.

Quest. 10. Why is the right improvement of the word, in time of reading and hearing thereof, called a receiving it?

Anfw. Because we can read no real benefit to our fouls, by the free offer and exhibition of all the bleffings that are brought nigh to us therein, unless we receive them as God's free gift to us, John iii. 27.

Quest, 11. How are we to receive the word, and all the good that is therein?

Anfw. [With faith and love].

Quest. 12. When is the word received [ with faith ], in time of reading and hearing thereof?

Answ. When there is an application of it to the foul in particular, in a fuitableness to the state and case of the perfon, and the nature of the word, whether in a way of promife, Lam. iii. 24. or threatening, Pfal. cxix. 120.

Quest. 13. How may a person know if he receives the word with faith?

Anfw. By the quickening, Pfal. cxix. 50. enlightening, verf. 130. fanctifying, verf. 9. and strengthening effect of it. Dan. x. 10.

C c 2 Queft. 14.

Quest. 14. What is the native consequence of receiving the word with faith?

Answ. A receiving it also with [love]; for faith worketh by love, Gal. v. 6.

Quest, 15. How may our receiving the word with love be Answ. When our affections are drawn out to the bleffed difcerned ?

truths and objects revealed therein; fo as to esteem them better unto us than thousands of gold and filver, Pfal. exix. 72. or even than our necessary food, Job xxiii. 12.

Ouest. 16. What improvement ought we to make of the word, after reading or hearing of it?

Answ. We should flav it up in our hearts, and practise it in our lives ].

Quest. 17. What do you understand by the heart, where the word should be laid up? Answ. The foul, with all its faculties, Prov. xxiii, 26. The understanding, to know the word; the will, to comply with it; the affections, to love it; and the memory, to retain it.

Quest. 18. What is implied in laying up the word in our hearts?

Anfw. That we account it the most valuable treasure, Pfal. cxix. 127.; that we want to keep it with the utmost care, verf. 11.; and that we refolve to use it in all the future exigencies of our fouls, verf. 24.

Quest. 19. How may we know if the word is really laid up in our hearts?

Anfw. By our delighting to meditate upon it, Pfal, exix. or.; by the Spirit's bringing it to our remembrance, John xiv. 26.; and by our habitual defire of farther conformity and subjection unto it, Pfal. cxix. c.

Quest: 20. For what end should we lay up the word, in our bearts ? .

Anfw. That we may [ practife it in our lives].

Quest. 21. What is it to practife the word in our lives? Answ. It is to have a conversation becoming the gospel, Phil. i. 27.; or to have both the outward and inward man regulated according to the unerring rule of the word, Pfal. Quest. 22. What doth the right manner of reading and hearing the word teach us?

Anfw.

Anfw. That the bare outward performance of duty will not be acceptable to God, unless the heart is engaged therein, If. xxix. 13.

91. QUEST. How do the facraments become effectual means of salvation?

Answ. The facraments become effectual means of falvation, not from any virtue in them, or in him that doth administer them; but only by the blessing of Christ, and the working of his Spirit in them that by faith receive them.

Quest. 1. What is meant by [effectual means of salvation]?

Answ. Such means as, by the blessing of God, do fully attain the end for which they are appointed, 1 Thess. ii. 12.

Quest. 2. What is the meaning of these words, in the anfwer, [not from any virtue in them]?

Anfw. The meaning is, that the facraments have not any virtue or efficacy, in themselves, to confer salvation; being only among the outward and ordinary means of grace, which can have no more efficacy of themselves to confer any saving benefit, than the rain-bow, of itself, has to prevent a delure.

Quest. 3. Who are they who maintain, that the facraments have a virtue or power, in themselves, to confer grace?

Anfw. The Papifts, who affirm, that the facraments of the New Tettament, are the true, proper, and immediate causes of grace; and that the efficacy of them flows from the sacramental action of receiving the external elements.

Quest. 4. How do you prove, that the facraments have not any innate, or intrinsic virtue in themselves, to confer grace or falvation ?

Anju. From this one argument, that if the facraments had any fuch virtue, then grace, or falvation, would be infallibly counceled with the external use of them; but it is obvious from scripture, that after Simon Magus was baptized, he remained still in the gall of bitterness, and bond of imaguity, Acts viii. 13. 23.

Quest. 5.

Quest. c. Why is it faid in the answer, that the sacraments become effectual means of Salvation, not from any virtue lin him that doth administer them??

Anfw. It is faid in opposition to the Papists, who maintain, that the efficacy of the facraments depends upon the intention of the prieft: so that any benefit by them, is conferred, or with-held, according to them, just as the ferret will of the administrator would have it.

Quest. 6. How is this error refuted?

Antw. If the efficacy of the facraments depended upon the intention of the administrator, then there could be no pertainty about the efficacy of them at all; because no mortal can be absolutely certain about the intention of another; the fecrets of the heart being known to God only. Acts i. 24.

Quest. 7. From whence then, have the facraments their efficacy and virtue?

Answ. [Only] from [ the bleffing of Christ, and the working of his Spirit 1.

Queit. 8. What do you understand by Ithe bleffing of Anfw. That divine power and life wherewith he is pleafed to accompany the facraments, and other ordinances; and without which they would be utterly ineffectual, Rom. Quest, o. What is I the working of his Spirit ], which is necessary to make the sacraments effectual means of salvation? Anfiv. Not only the planting of grace in the foul at first, but the drawing of it out into fuitable exercise, on all facramental occasions, Zech. iv. 6.

Quest. 10. Why is the working of the Spirit necessary to the efficacy of the facraments?

Answ. Because we are utterly impotent of ourselves for any thing that is spiritually good, John xv. c.

Quest. 11. In whom are the facraments f by the bleffing of Christ, and the working of his Spirit ) effectual means of falmatian?

Anfw. [ In them that by faith receive them ].

Quest. 12. What is it to [receive] the facraments [by Anfw. It is to apply Christ, and the benefits of his purchase, as represented, and exhibited to us in them, Luke xxii. 10. 20.

Quest. 12. What may we learn, from the necessity of Christ's bleffing, and of the Spirit's working, in order to the efficace of the facraments?

Anfiv. It teacheth us, that our whole dependence for the bleffing; whether upon burfelves, when we partake of the facrament of the supper, or upon our children, when we are sponsors for them in baptism, should be only on Christ alone. and the faving influences and operations of his Spirit, held forth in the promife, to accompany his own institutions: and therefore our partaking of these solemn ordinances, dispensed by fome ministers, to the flighting of them as dispensed by others, equally found and faithful, though perhaps, in our esteem, somewhat inferior in outward gifts, savs, upon the matter, that the efficacy of the facraments depends, fome bow, upon the administrator, and not upon the bleffing of Christ alone, quite contrary to the mind of the Spirit of God. I Cor. iii. 7. So then, neither is he that planteth any thing, neither he that watereth; but God that giveth the increase.

92. QUEST. What is a facrament?

Answ. A facrament is an holy ordinance instituted by Christ, wherein, by fensible figns, Christ, and the benefits of the new covenant, are represented, fealed, and applied to believers.

Quest. 1. From whence is the word [facrament] derived? Answ. It is of a Latin original, being anciently used, by the Romans, to fignify their military oath; or that oath which their foldiers took to be true and faithful to their prince, and that they would not defert his standard.

Quest. 2. How is it used by the church?

Answ. Not only to fignify fomething that is facred, but likewife a folemn engagement to be the Lord's.

Quest. 3. What is the general nature of a facrament? Anfw. It is [an holy ordinance instituted by Christ]. Quest. 4. Why is a facrament called [an holy ordinance]?

Anfa.

214 Sould Of the NA

Answ. Because it is appointed not only for holy ends and uses, but likewise for persons sederally holy.

Quest. 5. Is it necessary that a sacrament be [instituted by Christ?

Anjou. Yes; it is effentially needfary that it have his express and immediate warrant and infiltration, otherwise it does not deserve the name, I Cor. xi. 23. For I have RECRIVED of the LOND, that which also I delivered unto wou. Sec.

Quest. 6. Why must facraments be expressly, or immediately, instituted by Christ?

Anfw. Because he alone is the head of the church; and has sole power and authority to institute sacraments and other ordinances therein, Eph. i. 22. 23.

Quest. 7. " What are the parts of a facrament?"

Anfav. "Two; the one, an outward and fenfible fign, "ufed according to Christ's own appointment; the other, "an inward and spiritual grace thereby signified, Matth. iii. "11. 1 Pet. iii. 21. *"

Quest. 8. What are the outward [figns] in facraments?

Answ. They are the facramental elements, and the facramental actions; but chiefly the elements, because it is about these that the sacramental actions are exercised.

Queft. 9. Why called [fenfible] figns?

Anfw. Because they are obvious to the outward senses of feeing, tasting, seeling, &c.

Quest. 10. What kind of signs are sensible signs in a sacra-

Ment?

Anfw. They are not natural, nor merely speculative, but voluntary and practical signs.

Quest. 11. Why are they not natural figns?

Anju. Because natural figns alwayi fignisty the self-same thing, as shooke is always a fign of fire, and the morninglight a fign of the approaching sun; whereas the figns in a facrament, never fignity what they represent in that holy ordinance, but when facramentally yield.

Quest. 12. Why are they practical, and not merely speculative Jigns

Aufw. Because they are defigned not only to represent the fpiritual grace fignified by them; but likewife to feal and apply the fame.

Quest. 13. Why are the figns in a facrament called voluntary figns?

Answ. Because they depend entirely upon the divine inflitution to make them signs; yet so as there is some analogy or resemblance betwirt the sign and the thing signified.

Quest. 14. When are facramental signs used according to Christ's own appointment?

Anfw. When they are dispensed with the words of institution annexed unto them, Matth. xxviii. 19. 1 Cor. xi. 23. 24. 25.

Quest. 15. What do the words of institution imply or contain in them?

Anfw. They contain, "together with a precept authori"fing the use" of them, "a promise of benefit to the wor"thy receivers, Matth. xxviii. 20, *"

Quest. 16. What is the inward and spiritual grace signified by the sensible signs in a sacrament?

Anfw. [Christ, and the benefits of the new covenant].

Quest. 17. Why is the covenant of grace called [the new covenant]?

Anfw. Because it is always to remain in its prime and vigour, without the least change or alteration; for that which decayeth and waxeth old, is ready to vanish away, Heb. viii.

Queft. 18. What are the [benefits] of the new covenant? Anfw. They are all the bleffings contained in the promifes thereof, which may be fummed up in grace here, and glory hereafter. Pfal. lxxxiv. 11.

Quest. 19. Are Christ, and the benefits of the new covenant.

feparable from one another?

Anfw. No: for he that hath the Son, hath life, I John v. 12.: whoever hath Christ, hath all things along with him; —all are yours, and ye are Christ's, 1 Cor. iii. 22. 23.

Quest. 20. What is the intention and design of sensible signs in a facrament, with reference to Christ and the benefits of the new covenant?

Answ. The defign of them is, that Christ and his benefits may be [represented, fealed, and applied] by them.

* Confession of Lath, Chap. xxvii. § 3. PART II. D d

Queft. 21

Quest. 21. Why are Christ and his benefits faid to be Trenses fented ] by the figns in a facrament?

Answ. Because as facramental signs are of divine institution, so there is a resemblance or similitude between the figns and the things fignified.

Ouest. 22. Why are Christ and his benefits said to be [sealed] by these signs?

Answ. Because by the facramental signs. Christ and his benefits are confirmed to the believer, even as a feal is a confirmation of a bond or deed. Rom, iv. 11.

Quest. 22. Why faid to be [applied]?

Answ. Because by the right and lawful use of the facramental figns. Christ and his benefits are really communicated, conveyed, and made over to the worthy receiver: I Cor. xi. 24. Take, eat: this is my body, which is broken for you. Quest. 24. To whom do the sacramental signs represent.

feal, and apply Christ and his benefits?

Answ. Not to all who use them, but to [believers] only.

Quest. 25. Why to believers only? Answ. Because nothing but true faith can discern, and apply the spiritual grace, which is represented and exhibited by fensible figns, in the facrament, Gal. iii. 26. 27. Quest. 26. Wherein consists the FORM of a sacrament?

Anfw. In " a spiritual relation, or sacramental union, between the fign and the thing fignified *."

Quest, 27. What is the consequence of this sacramental union, between the fign and the thing fignified?

Answ. The consequence is, "that the names and effects of the one are attributed to the other t." Thus Christ is called our passover, I Cor. v. 7.; and the bread in the supper is called Christ's body, - This is my body, I Cor. xi. 24.

Quest. 28. When are the figns, and the things fignified, united, in those who partake of the sacraments? Answ. When, together with the signs, (in virtue of Christ's institution), the bleffings signified are received by-faith, Gal. iii. 27. Quest. 29. How may this be illustrated by an example?

Anfw. A little earth and stone put into a man's hand at random, fignify nothing; but when this is done in a regular manner, according to the forms of law, to give a proprietor feifin and infeftment of his lands, from whence these symbols were taken, it is of great availment of corroborate his right: to bread and wine in the facrament, are of small value in themselves abstractly considered; yet when received in faith, as the instituted memorials of the death of Christ, whereby his testament was ratisfied and sealed, the believer's right to all the blessings of his purchase, is thereby most comfortably consistency: 1 Cor. xi. 24.—This is my body, which is broken for you.

Quest. 30. Are the facraments necessary for the confirmation of the word?

Anfw. No; the word being of divine and infallible authority, needs no confirmation without iffelf: but they are neceflary on our account, for helping our infirmity, and confirming and ftrengthening our faith, Rom. iv. 11.

Quest. 31. What is the difference between the word and the facraments?

Anfw. The word may be profitable to the adult, without the facraments; but the facraments cannot profit them without the word, Gal. v. 6.

Quest. 32. What is the END of the facraments?

Anju. It is "to represent Christ and his benefits; and to "confirm our interest in him; as also to put a visible differ"ence between those that belong unto the church, and the "reft of the world; and solemnly to engage them to the fer-

"vice of God in Christ, according to his word "."

Quest, 22. Who are they that have a right unto the facra-

ments?

Anfw. They " that are within the covenant of grace,

66 Rom. xv. 8. †"

Quest. 34. Who are to be reckoned within the covenant of grace, in the light of men?

Anfw. They who "profess their faith in Christ, and obe-"dience to him, Acts ii. 38.;" and "infants descending from parents, either both, or but one of them, professing

"from parents, either both, or but one of them, profelling faith in Christ, and obedience to him, are, in that respect.

" within the covenant, Rom. xi. 6. ‡"

Quest. 35. What may we learn from the nature of the facraments in general?

Answ. The amazing love of the Lord Jesus, in giving us not only the word as the instrument in the hand of the Spirit, for begetting faith, and all other graces, Eph. i. 12.; but likewise the facraments for strengthening and increafing the fame; as well as for cherishing our love and communion with one another, I Cor. xii. 13.

93. QUEST. What are the facraments of the New Testament?

Answ. The facraments of the New Testa. ment are, baptifm, and the Lord's fupper.

Quest. I. What were the ordinary facraments under the Old Testament ? Anfw. They were two; CIRCUMCISION, and the PASS-OVER. Quest. 2. When was circumcision first instituted?

Anfw. In the ninety-ninth year of Abraham's age, Gen. xvii. 24.; at which time, both he, and all the men of his house, -were circumcifed with him, verf. 26, 27.

Quest. 2. At what age were the male-children afterwards to be circumcifed?

Answ. Precisely on the eighth day after they were born, Gen. xvii; 12.

Quest. 4. What was the spiritual meaning of this sacramental ceremony?

Answ. It fignified the impurity and corruption of nature, Ter. iv. 4.: the necessity of regeneration, or being cut off from the first Adam, as a federal head, Rom. ii. 28, 29.; and of being implanted in Christ, in order to partake of the benefits of his mediation, chap, viii. 1.; together with a folemn virtual engagement to be the Lord's, Gen. xvii. 11.

Quest. 5. What was the other facrament of the Old Tefla-

ment ?

Anfre. The paffover.

Quest. 6. When was it instituted?

Anfav. At the departure of the children of Ifrael out of Egypt, Exod. chap. xii.

Quest. 7. Why called the PASSOVER?

Answ. Because the destroying angel passed over the houses of the Ifraelites, in the night when he fmote the first-born with death, in every house or family of the Egyptians, Exod. xii. 27.

Quest. 8. On what account did the angel pass over the houses of the Israelites?

Anfw. Because, according to the express command of God, the blood of the passover-lamb was stricken upon the limtels and side-posts of their doors, as a signal to the destroyer to pass over them, Exod. xii. 22. 23.

Quest. 9. What was meant by striking the blood upon their lintels and door-posts?

Anfw. It fignified, that it is only in virtue of the blood or fatisfaction of Christ, that the curse and sentence of the law, (which is the wrath of God), is not executed upon the sinner, Rom. v. o.

Quest. 10. What were the fignificant ceremonies of divine institution, that were to be observed in this sacrament?

Anfw. The paffover-lamb was to be without blemish, Exod, xii, 5; it was to be slain, vers. 6.; it was to be roafted with fire, vers. 9.; and it was to be eaten, and that wholly and entirely, vers. 10.

Quest. 11. Why behoved the passover-lamb to be without blemish?

Answ. To fignify, that though our fins were imputed to Chrift, yet he was in himself boly, harmless, undefiled, Heb. vii. 26.; and therefore called a Lamb without blemish, and without foot, 1 Pet. i. 19.

Quest. 12. Why behoved it to be flain, or killed by blood-

Shedding ?

Anfw: To denote, that the death of Christ was necessary, for satisfying justice, and reconciling us to God, Luke xxiv. 26. Ought not Christ to suffer these things?

Quest. 13. Why was it to be roasted with fire?

Anju. To intimate, that Chrift's fufferings, as our Surety, were exquiftely and inconceivably great, without the least abatement of any of that wrath which was due to our fins, If. liii. 10, It played the Lord to bruife bim. Rom. viii. 32. God fpared not bis own Son.

Quest. 14. Why was it to be eaten wholly and entirely, and none of it to be left?

Answ. To fignify, that Christ was to be wholly applied, in a way of believing, as being of God made unto us wisdom, and righteoujne

righteoufness, and fanctification, and redemption, I Cor. i. 30.

Quest. 15. Why were all the families of Israel to eat the passover, at one and the same time, Exad. xii. 8.?

Answ. To fignify, that there is enough in Christ to satisfy the need of all his people at once; for in him dwelleth all the fulness of the Godhead bodily, Col. ii. o.

Quest. 16. Why was it to be eaten the same very evening wherein it was flain, verf. 6. 8.?

Answ. To fignify, that Christ ought to be applied and appropriated by faith speedily, without delay; Behold, NOW is the accepted time, 2 Cor. vi. 2.

Quest. 17. " How many facraments hath Christ instituted

" in his church under the New Testament?"

Answ. " Under the New Testament, Christ hath insti-" tuted in his church only two facraments; baptifm, and the " Lord's fupper *."

Quest. 18. How do these two sacraments come in the place of those under the Old Testament? Answ. Baptism comes in the place of circumcision; and the Lord's supper in the place of the passover.

Quest. 10. Were the facraments of the Old Testament no more than shadows of that grace, which is actually conferred by the facraments under the New, as the Papifts would have it?

Anfw. By no means; for " the facraments of the Old "Testament, in regard of the spiritual things thereby signi-" fied and exhibited, were, for substance, the same with " these of the New, I Cor. x. I .- 5. †"

Quest, 20. Wherein do they differ?

Anfw. The facraments of the Old Testament represented Christ as yet to come; whereas those of the New hold him forth as already come, and as having finished the work of our redemption, as to the purchase of it, Eph. v. 2.

Queft. 21. Is there any difference between them as to clearness and perspicuity?

Anfw. The words annexed to the outward figns in the facraments of the New Testament, make the things fignified appear vaftly more plain and perspicuous, than in the sacraments of the Old.

Quest. 22. What other facraments do the Papists add to baptism and the Lord's supper?

Anfw: They boldly adventure to add other five, namely, confirmation, penance, ordination, marriage, and extreme unflian.

Quest. 22. How may it appear, in a word, that all these are false and spurious sacraments?

Anfw: In regard that none of them have facramental figns of divine institution, fignifying any inward and spiritual grace; and confequently none of them can be APPOINTED feals of God's covenant.

Queft, 24. WHO may lawfully dispense the sacraments of the New Testament?

Answ. " Neither of them may be dispensed by any, but " a minister of the word, lawfully ordained, I Cor. iv. 1. *"

94. QUEST. What is baptism?

Answ. Baptism is a sacrament, wherein the washing with water, in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghoft, doth fignify and feal our ingrafting into Christ, and partaking of the benefits of the covenant of grace, and our engagement to be the Lord's.

Quest. 1. What is the proper signification of the word [baptifm]?

Answ. It is of a Greek original, and properly fignifies a washing, sprinkling, or pouring out, in order to cleanling, Mark i. 8. I indeed baptize you with water, but he shall baptize you with the Holy Ghost; that is, he shall pour his Spirit upon you, according to the promife, If. xliv. 3 .- I will pour my Spirit upon thy feed, &c. Quest. 2. Who is the author of baptism?

Anfw. The Lord Jesus Christ, the Mediator and Head of the church.

· Confession of faith, chap. xxvii. § 4.

Quest. 3. When did he institute and appoint it, as a sacrament of the New Testament?

Answ. A little before his ascension into heaven, when he gave his apostles that folemn charge, Matth. xxviii, 10. Go ye therefore and teach all nations, baptizing them in the name. of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghoft.

Quest. A. Was not haptizing used before that time?

Anfw. It was used long before by the Jews, in receiving their profelytes, but not by any divine inftitution.

Quest. 5. When came baptism to have a divine warrant and in Hitution ?

Anfw. When God SENT John the Baptist to baptize with water, John i. 33.

Quest. 6. Was there any difference between the baptism of John, and the baptism dispensed by the apostles after Christ's alcention ? Anfw. There was no effential difference betwixt them:

for both of them had the fame visible sign, and the same bleffings fignified thereby. The difference was only circumfantial, in respect of time, and the objects of administration.

Quest. 7. How did they differ in respect of time?

Anfw. The baptism of John was dispensed before Christ had finished the work which his Father gave him to do; but the baptism of the apostles was mostly after Christ had suffered, and had entered into his glory.

Quest. 8. How did they differ as to the objects of admini-

Aration ?

Anfw. The baptism of John was confined to Judea only: but the baptism of the apostles extended to all nations, to whom the gospel was preached. Matth. xxviii. 10.

Quest. o. Did not Paul re-baptize some disciples at Ephefus, who had been before battized by John, Acts xix. 4. 5. ?

Answ. No: he only declares, that they who had heard John preach the doctrine of reventance, and faith in Christ. were, by John, baptized in the name of the Lord Jesus;

Quest. 10. Why dia Christ, who had no need of it, conde-scend to be baptized by John?

Anfw. He gives the reason himself; It becometh us, says he, to fulfil all righteoufnefs, Matth. iii. 15.

Queft, 11. Did Christ himself baptize any ?

and so needed not be re-baptized by any other.

Anfw. No. Jefus himfelf baptized not, but his disciples,

Quest. 12. Why did not Christ baptize any himself?

Anjon. That he might commend the ministry of men of like passions with ourselves; and to shew that the efficacy of the ordinance did not depend upon the administrator, but upon the divine blesling; even as the words spoken by him on earth, when they were efficacious; they were so, not merely as spoken or uttered from his lips, but as accompanied with his own almighty power, Luke v. 17.

Quest. 13. What is the visible sign, or outward element in baptism?

Answ. Only [water], pure and unmixed, Acts x. 47. Quest. 14. How is water to be applied to the body in baptism?

Anfw. "Dipping of the person into the water is not necellary, but baptism is rightly administered by pouring or fprinkling water upon the person *."

Quest. 15. How doth it appear from scripture, that baputon the terson?

Anfw. From repeated inflances of the adminifration of baptifm by the apolles in this manner; particularly, when three thouland were baptized by them, Acts it. 41. water behoved to be sprinkled upon them, in regard the apolities could not have time, in a part only of one day, to take them one by one, and plunge them into it. Nor is it probable, that the jailor, Acts xit. 32, had such store of water, in the night-season, as was sufficient for himself, and whole samily, to be dipt into; or that they went abroad in quest of some river for that purpose: it is by far more reasonable to think, that in both the above inslances, they were baptized by sprinkling. The same may be failed of Paul's baptism, Acts x. 43. and of the baptism of Cornelius and his friends, Acts x. 47. 48.

Quest. 16. Why is it most expedient to sprinkle water upon the face in battism?

Answ. Because the face is the principal part of the body, and the whole person is represented by it, Exod. x. 29.

Quest. 17. What is signified by water in baptism?

· Confession of faith, chap. xxviii § 2. PART II. E e

Anfw. The cleanling virtue of the blood, R. i. 5. and Spirit of Christ, Tit. iii. 5.

Quest. 18. What is the difference between cleanfing by the blood, and cleaning by the Spirit of Christ?

Anjw. The blood of Chrift cleanfeth meritorioufly, I John 1, 7.; the Spirit of Chrift efficacioufly, Ezek. xxxvi. 27. By the former, the guilt of fin is, at once, taken away in justification; by the latter, the blot and stain thereof is gradual-tweariest off in fandiseation.

Quest. 19. What is fignified by sprinkling of water upon the hody ?

Answ. The application of the blood of Christ unto the foul, by the Spirit of God, 'Tit. iii. 5. 6.

Quest. 20. What is the analogy, or refemblance, betwixt the sign in baptism, and the thing signified?

Africa. Water makes clean, what before was foul and nathy; for the blood and Spirit of Christ purify from the guilt and pollution of fin, Zech. xiii. 1.: water is open and free to all; fo Christ and his benefits are freely offered to all the hearers of the goffee, Rev. xxii. 17.

Quest. 21. In whose name are we baptized?

Arfw. [In the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Choft], Matth. xxviii. 19.

Quest. 22. What is it to be baptized in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghoft?

Anjau. It is not only to be baptized by the will, command, and authority of the Three-one-God; but likewife to be, by baptifm, folemuly dedicated and devoted to the Father, the Son, and the Holy Ghoft, as our God and portion for ever, It xliv, 5.

Quest. 23. What is it to be baptized by the command and authority of the Father, Son, and Holy Ghoft ?

Anfw. It intimates, that the Trinity of persons, do not only authorize and appoint baptism to be a sacrament of the New Testament; but that they become jointly engaged to make good all the blessings of the covenant, signified and sealed by that ordinance, Jer. xxxi. 33. I will be their God, and they shall be my people.

Quest. 24. What is included in our being, by baptism, solemnly dedicated and devoted to the Father, Son, and Holy Ghost, as our God and portion for ever?

Anfw. It includes a folemn profession, that these three adorable

adorable persons have the sole right to all our religious worhip, Psal. v. 7.; that all our hope of salvation is from them, Psal. lxii. 1. 5.; and that we shall be wholly and for ever the Lord's, Pfal, xlviii, 14.

Quest. 25. Is it necessary that baptism be dispensed in these express words, "In the name of the Father, and of the Son,

" and of the Holy Ghost?"

Anju. Yes; because ministers are peremptorily commanded by Christ, to baptize in this very form, Matth. xwiii.

10, Go ye therefore and teach all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghyl.

Quest. 26. Did not the apostles baptize in another form, when they baptized in the name of the Lord Jesus, Asts viii.

Anfw. It is not to be supposed, that the apossles would alter the form, so expressly delivered to them, by their glorious Master; and therefore when any are said to be baptized in the name of the Lord Teslus, it is not designed thereby to notify to us, in what form of words they were baptized; but only that they were baptized by the authority of Christ, who appointed this sacrament; and unto faith in him, and communion with him.

Quest. 27. How ought the mentioning of the holy Trinity to be introduced in baptism?

Anfu. It is proper that it be introduced by words in the first perfon, expressing the present act of administration; and likewise setting forth the authority that a minister, lawfully called, has to dispense this sacrament; such as, "I baptize "thee, in the name," &c. *.

Quest. 28. What are the ends and uses of baptism?

Answ. They are to [signify and seal our ingrafting into Christ, and partaking of the benefits of the covenant of grace].

Quest. 20. What is it to signify and seal [our ingrafting into Christ?

Anjw. It is to fignify and feal our union with him, and confequently the imputation of his righteoulness to us, Gal, iii. 27. As many of yow as have been baptized into Christ, have put on Christ.

* See the Directory for public worship, on the head of baptism.

E e 2 Ou

Quest. 30. What are the [benefits of the covenant of grace]. the partaking whereof is fignified and fealed in baptism? Answ They are " remission of fins by the blood of Christ,

" regeneration by his Spirit, adoption, and refurrection un-" to everlafting life *."

Quest, 31, What is the consequence of its being fignified and scaled to ut in baptism, that we partake of such great and glorious benefits?

Answ. The consequence is, that on this account, " we " enter into an open and professed engagement to be-the " Lord's t."

Quest. 32. What is included in four engagement to be the Lord's ??

Anfw. That we shall be his " wholly and only t."

Quest. 23. What is it to be his wholly?

Answ. It is to be his, in all that we are, foul, fpirit, and body, 1 Cor. vi. 19. 20.; and in all that we have, whether gifts, graces, or worldly comforts, 1 Chron. xxix. 14.

Quest. 34. What is it to be the Lord's only?

Answ. It is to be his in opposition to all his rivals and competitors, every one of which we profess to renounce in baptism, Hos. xiv. 8.

Quest. 35. Who are these rivals and competitors with God, whom we profess to renounce in baptism? Anfw. They are fin, Rom. vi. 6. Satan, Acts xxvi. 18.

and the world, John xvii. 14. Queft. 36. Does baptifm make, or constitute, persons churchmembers ?

Answ. No: they are supposed to be church-members before they are baptized, and if they are children of professing parents, they are born members of the visible church, I Cor. Vii. 14.

Quest. 37. Why must they be church-members before they are baptized?

Anfw. Because the seals of the covenant can never be applied to any, but fuch as are supposed to be in the covenant; nor can the privileges of the church be confirmed to any that are without the church.

Larger Cat. Quest 265. See all these explained, Part I. on justification, fanctification, adoption, and refurrection. 1 Larger Cat. Queft. 165.

Quest, 28. Why then do our Confession *, and Larger Casechism +, say, that " the parties baptized are folemnly ad-

Answ. Because there is a vast difference between making a perion a church-member, who was none before; and the folemnity of the admission of one, who is already a member. All that our Confession and Catechism affirm, is, that by baptifm, we are folemnly admitted into the visible church; that is, by baptism we are publicly declared to be church-members before, and have now, our membership SOLEMNLY fealed to us thereby: For by one Spirit we are all baptized into one body, I Cor. xii. 13.

Quest. 39. Is it warrantable to call the baptizing of any,

the Christening of them?

Answ. No: because this is an encouraging of the super-Ritious Popish notion, that baptism makes even those, who are born within the visible church, to become Christians; and that by the want of it, they remain Infidels, and are left to uncovenanted mercy.

Quest. 40. What are the extremes about the necessity of bastifm?

Answ. The Socinians and Quakers deny that it is necesfary at all: on the other hand, the Papifts, and fome others, maintain, that it is so absolutely necessary, that no falvation can be expected without it.

Quest. 41. What is the doctrine of our Confession of faith on this head?

Answ. That " although it be a great fin to contemn or " neglect this ordinance, yet grace and falvation are not fo se inseparably annexed unto it, as that no person can be rese generated and faved without it, or that all that are bap-" tized are undoubtedly regenerated, 1"

Quest. 42. Wherein consists the greatness of the sin of con-temning and flighting this ordinance?

Answ. It consists in despising an express and positive institution of Christ, appointed to be administered in his shurch to the end of the world, Matth. xxviii. 19. 20.; and in flighting all the great and glorious benefits and privileges fignified and fealed thereby, Luke vii. 30.

are not inseparably annexed to baptism?

Anfin. From the instance of Abraham, who had the righteculnels of faith before he was circumcifed. Rom. iv. 11.: of Cornelius, who feared God, and was accepted of him. before he was baptized. Acts x. 2. 4.; and from the instance of the thief on the cross, who was faved without being baptized at all, Luke xxiii. 43.

Quest. Az. How doth it appear that grace and salvation Quest. 44. How doth the scripture evince, that all who are baptized are not regenerated and faved?

Answ. From the instance of Simon Magus, who was baptized, and yet after baptism, remained in the gall of bitternel's, and in the bond of iniquity, Acts viii. 13. 23.

Quest. 45. Whether doth baptism give a right to covenant-bleffings; or, is it a declarative fign and feal of them only? Anfav. It is only a declarative fign and feal of them. as circumcifion was, Rom. iv. 11.

Quest. 46. What then gives a right?

Anfw. The promise of the covenant, which is indorsed to the children, as well as to the parents, Acts ii. 30. The promise is unto YOU, and to your CHILDREN.

Quest. 47. Whether is baptism designed to make the covenant furer, or our faith stronger?

Answ. It is defigned only to make our faith stronger; for the fureness of the covenant flows from the faithfulness of God, which is inviolable and unchangeable, Pfal. lxxxix. 33. If. liv. 10.

Quest. 48. Wherein confifts the efficacy of baptifm?

Answ. It consists in fealing and ratifying the right to covenant-bleffings, which perfons have from the promife, fo infallibly, that they shall certainly be put in possession of them, Eph. v. 25. 26, For, according to the doctrine of our Confession, "The grace promised is not only offered, " but really exhibited and conferred by the Holy Choft, to " fuch (whether of age, or infants) as that grace belongeth unto, according to the counsel of God's own will, in his " appointed time. *" Quest. 49. Is baptism efficacious at the time of its admini-

Aration?

Answ. Not always: " the efficacy of baptism is not tied Confession, Chap. xxviii. § 6.

" to that moment of time wherein it is administered *." but may take place afterwards, as God in his fovereignty has fixed it; for the wind bloweth where it lifteth, John 111 8

Quest. 50. What may we learn from the nature of bap.

gifm ?

Answ. The infinite goodness of God, in appointing an initiating ordinance, irreverfibly fealing all the bleffings of the covenant to the elect feed, Gen. xvii. 7.

95. QUEST. To whom is baptism to be administered?

Answ. Baptism is not to be administered to any that are out of the visible church, till they profess their faith in Christ, and obedience to him; but the infants of fuch as are members of the visible church are to be baptized.

Quest. 1. Who may administer the sacrament of baptism? Answ. Neither of the two facraments " may be dispensed " by any, but by a minister of the word, lawfully ordained †." Quest. 2. How do you prove, that ordination by presbyters, is lawful and valid, without a diocesan bishop?

Anfw. From express scripture-testimony, afferting the validity of ordination to the ministry, by the laying on of the hands of the PRESBYTERY, I Tim. iv. 14.

Quest. 3. Why should ministers lawfully ordained, and no other persons whatsoever, dispense the sacraments of the New Testament?

Answ. Because they only are the stewards of the mysteries of God, I Cor. iv. 1.; and have the fole commission and authority from Christ to preach and baptize, Matth. xxviii. to. Go ve therefore and TEACH all nations, BAPTIZING them. &c.

Quest. 4. Is public prayer requisite before the administration of baptism?

Anfw. It is evident, that our Lord, at the first institution of the supper, and his apostles afterwards, according to his example, did pray for the divine blessing to attend the dispensation of that solemn ordinance, it Cor. xi. 24.: and therefore, by a parity of reason, ministers ought to pray, and the people to join therein, for the same blessing upon the administration of the sacrament of baptism.

Quest. 5. Ought not teaching, or preaching of the word, to so before baptism?

Anfw. Yes; because our Lord has joined them together, MAPTIZING them, &c. And accordingly it was the uniform practice of the apostless to preach when they baptized,
Ads is, 38, 41, and viii, 35, 38, and 30, 32, 33,

Quest. 6. Is naming of children necessary at baptism?

Answ. No: baptism dispensed by sprinkling of water, together with the words of infittution, is every way valid and complete, though the person baptized is not named at all. Ouest, 7. But was not the naming of children, at circumcifion, an ancient practice among the Tews, Luke i. 59.?

Anfw. It was fo: and the names of children may be published at baptifm fill, provided it is not looked upon as effential to that folemn ordinance; for it is the parent, and not the minifer, who gives the name.

Quest. 8. May baptism be administered in private?

Anfu. It is more agreeable to the nature of this ordinance, then the Lord gives his people peace and opportunity for their public affemblies, that it be administered where-ever the congregation is orderly called together, to wait on the dipenfing of the word, Acts it. 41.*

Quest. 9. What if the child Shall be removed by death, before fuch a regular opportunity can be had?

Anfw. Then the parents may comfort themselves in this, that they were neither guilty of an unnecessary delay, nor of contemning the ordinance; and that in these circumstances, the want of it cannot harm the child, 2 Sam. xii. 18. 23.

Quest. 10. With what frame and disposition of mind ought this facrament to be dispensed and witnessed?

Anfw. With a firm persuasion that it is an ordinance of God; with a filial and reverential sear of him on our spirits;

Of the Subjects of Baptism. 231

and with gratitude and thankfulness for the inestimable benefits that are fignified and fealed therein.

Quest. 11. How often is baptifm to be administered to any person? Anfw. But once only, Acts xix. 4. 5.

Quest. 12. Why but once only?

Anfw. Because when our ingrafting into Christ (which is the comprehensive benefit signified and fealed in baptism) doth once take place, it is never repeated, but remaineth firm and inviolable for ever, John xvii. 22. Quest. 12. To whom is baptism NOT to be administered?

Answ. [ Bastism is not to be administered to any that are out of the vifible church ]. Quest, 14. Whom do you understand by those [ that are out of the vifible church ??

Anfw. All Infidels, or fuch as are Jews or Heathens, and their children.

Quest. 15. Why may not thele be baptized?

Anfw. Because being strangers from the covenant of promife, they can have no right to the feals thereof, Eph. ii. 12.

Quest. 16. May Infidels in no event be baptized?

Anfw. Yes, they may; fo foon as [they profess their faith in Christ, and obedience to him ].

Quest. 17. What is it to [profess faith in Christ]?

Answ. It is to profess a belief of the whole doctrines of the Christian religion, Acts viii. 37.

Quest. 18. What is it to profess [obedience to him]? Answ. It is to yield an external subjection to all the ordinances and institutions of Christ, Acts ii. 46.

Quest. 19. Whom doth fuch a profession respect? Anfw. It respects only the adult, or such as are grown up to ripeness of age. Quest. 20. Have not INFANTS ( who can make no fuch profellion) a right to baptifm?

Anfw. Yes: [The infants of fuch as are members of the vifible church, are to be battized ].

Quest. 21. Who are [the members of the visible church]? Answ. They are " all fuch as profess the true religion, and " their children "." Quest. 22. What are we to understand by the true religion?

. Larger Cat. Quest. 62. PART II.

Anfw. We are to understand by it the whole of these doctrines deduced from the holy scriptures, which are contained in our Confession of faith, and Catechisms, as agreeing, in the main, with the Confessions of other reformed churches, 2 Tim. 1. 12. Hold fast the form of found words.

Ouest. 23. What is it to profess the true religion?

Angles. It is openly to acknowledge, on all proper occafions, a fledfall adherence to the whole of divine truth, without efpouling or countenancing any opposite error, Pfal. exix.

Quest. 24. Is a bare projession of the true religion suffi-Anfw. No: for faith without works is dead, James ii. 26. Quest. 25. Upon what ground have the infants of fuch as are members of the wifthle church a right to haptifm?

Anfw. Upon the ground of the grace and goodness of God in the promise, assuming them into the same covenant with their parents; as in the promise made to Abraham, Germin.

7. I will shabilly my covenant between me and thee, and thy feed after thee,—to be a God unto thee, and to thy feed after thee.

Quest. 26. But what if this promife, of assuming the seed into the same covenant with the parents, have a respect only to the natural offspring of Abraham, and to none else?

Anfw. The apossible Peter plainly assimms, that it is a promise of the covenant of grace extending to the Gentiles as well as to the Jews; and at the same time, that it is the foundation of church-membership, and consequently of baptism, when he says, Acts ii. 38. 39. Repent, and be baptized every one of you --for the promise is unto you, and to your children, and to all that are afar off, even as many as the Lord our God Ball call.

Quest 27. How doth it appear from this text, that the promise of assuming the children unto the same covenant with their parents, extends to the Gentile nations?

Anfw. Because the apostle says, that the promise is unto all that are AFAR OFF, even as many as the Lord our God fail call; namely, by the external call of the word, which is appointed to be published to every creature, Mark xvi. 15.

Quest. 28. How doth it appear, that this promise is the foundation of church membership, and consequently of baptism?

Anfw. It appears from this, that the apostle inforces his exhortation to repent, and be baptized, upon the adult perfons to whom he is speaking, from this powerful and encouraging motive, that then their children should have a right and title to the privileges of the same covenant of promile, the seal whereof they themselves were to receive in their baptims, Repent, says he, and be baptized;—for the promise is unto you, and to your children.

Quest. 29. What promise doth the apostle here point at?

Answ. He points at the promise made to Abraham, Gen,

Anfw. He points at the promise made to Abraham, Gen. xvii. 7. I will be a God unto thee, and to thy feed after thee.

Ouest. 20. What seal was annexed to this promise, or promulgation of the covenant of grace, made to Abraham?

Anfw. The feal of circumcifion, verf. 10. This is my coverant, which ye fhall keep between me and you — Every man-child among you fhall be circumcifed. And verf. 12. He that is eight days old fhall be circumcifed among you.

Quest. 31. What connection is there between circumcifing the feed of Abraham on the eighth day, under the Old Testament, and baptizing the infant-children of professing parents under the New?

Anfw. The connection is, that though circumcifion and baptifm be different fignts, yet they are both of them feals of the fame covenant of grace; and fince the infant-feed of Abraham received the feal of circumcifion, under the Old Tetament, by parity of reason, the infant-children of professing parents should receive the seal of baptism under the New; especially as baptism is now come in the room of circumcifion.

Quest 32. How do you prove, from scripture, that baptism is come in the room of circumcifion?

Anfw. From Col. ii. 10. 11. 12. Te are complete in him.

— In whom alfo ye are circumcifed with the circumcifion made without hands:—Buried with him in baptifm, wherein alfo you are rifen with him.

Quest. 33. How doth it appear, from this text, that baptism is now come in the room of circumcision?

Anfu. From the plain and obvious fcope of it, which is to thew, that there is no need now of that circumcifion which was outward in the flefth, in regard we have all the bleffed fruits and effects of Christ's death and refurrection more clearly, and at the fame time more extensively, represented and

and fealed in baptism; which is dispensed equally to both and featers.

Quest. 34. What would be the confequence, if the infants of projeiling parents, under the New Testament, were not admitted to the initiating feal of the covenant, as well as the infants of the Tews under the Old?

dufu. The confequence would be, that the privileges of the New-Testament church would be more abridged and lestened, than these of the Old, whereas they are rather increafed and enlarged. If. liv. 2. 3.

Quest. 35. How can infants be baptized, when they are incapable of making a profession of their faith, which seems to be required in order to baptifin, Acts viii. 37.?

/nifu. An explicit or formal profession of faith, is only required of them that are adult, or come to age, when they are to be baptized; but not of infants new, any more than when they were circumcifed of old, on the eighth day after their birth.

Quest. 36. Are infants capable of the bleffings fignified and fealed in baptifin ?

.da/u. Undoubtedly they are: for fome of them have been filled with the Holy Chyl even from their mother's womb, Luke i. 15-3 and confequently, by grace, capable of regeneration, pardon, and eternal life; wherefore the fign and feal of their bleffings, ought not to be with-held.

Quest. 37. How are children of professing parents designed in scripture?

finsu. If any one of the parents be a visible believer, or regular church-member, the children, on that account, are called holy, I Cor. vii. 14. The unbelieving hussain is fancii-fied by the wife; and the unbelieving wife is fanciified by the hussand; else were your children unclean, but now they are hole.

Quest. 38, What holiness is here meant?

Answ. Federal holiness, or being admitted to church-membership, together with their believing or professing parents Quest. 39. May not this holiness be understood of legitimacy, or being lawfully begotten?

Anfw. No; because marriage being an ordinance of the law of nature, the children of married parents, though both of them Infidels, are as lawfully begotten as those of profelling Christians.

Quest. 40. How doth federal holiness intitle an infant to baptism?

Answ. Federal holiness necessarily supposes a being within the covenant, in virtue of the credible profession of the parent, and confequently a right to the initiating feal thereof.

Quest. 41. Is there any express precept in the New Testament for baptizing the infants of wifible believers?

Anfw. The privilege of the infant-feed of visible churchmembers, having been fettled ever fince Abraham's time, and never reverfed, there was no need of any more than the general precept, Go teach and baptize, Matth. xxviii. 10.

Quest. 42. Why is there need of no precept more express than this general one?

Answ. Because the privilege of infants, their being affumed into the fame covenant with their parents, is declared to be continued in New-Testament times. Acts if 20. The promise is unto you, and to your children.

Quest. 43. Have we any scripture-example for infantbattifm?

Anfw. Yes: the apostles baptized whole households or families at once; fuch as the household of Lydia, Acts xvi. 15.; all the jailor's family, verf. 32.; and the household of Stephanas, 1 Cor. i. 16.

Quest. 44. But there is no mention of their baptizing infants in those families?

Answ. Neither is there mention of their baptizing adult persons in them; only since they baptized the whole, it is not to be supposed, but that there were some infants, or young ones, among them.

Quest. 45. " How is our baptism to be improved by us?" Anfw. "-By ferious and thankful confideration of the " nature of it, and of the ends for which Christ instituted

" it :- by being humbled for our finful defilement, our fall-" ing short of, and walking contrary to our engagements ;-

" and by endeavouring to live by faith, to have our conver-66 fation in holiness and righteousness, as those that have

" therein given up their names to Christ, and to walk in " brotherly love, as being baptized by the fame Spirit into " one body *."

236 Quest. 46. When foould we thus improve our haptism? Anfw. " All our life long, especially in time of temptation, and when we are prefent at the administration of 66 it to others *."

96. QUEST. What is the Lord's Supper?

Answ. The Lord's supper is a facrament, wherein, by giving and receiving bread and wine, according to Christ's appointment, his death is shewed forth; and the worthy receivers are, not after a corporal and carnal manner, but by faith, made partakers of his body and blood, with all his benefits, to their fpiritual nourishment, and growth in grace.

Quest. 1. Why is this facrament compared to a [supper]? Anfw. Because it was instituted immediately after eating the paffover, [Matth. xxvi. 26.] which was always at night, Exod. xii. 6. 8.

Quest. 2. Why is it called [the LORD's supper]?

Answ. Because the Lord Jesus was the sole author of it, I Cor. xi. 23.; and it was highly requifite it should be so. Quest. 2. Why was it highly requisite that the Lord Jesus

Should be the fole author of this holy ordinance? Answ. Because all the grace that is held forth therein, is treasured up wholly in him; and is conveyed and applied by him unto the foul, John i. 16.

Quest. 4. When did Christ institute and appoint this facrament ?

Answ. The same night in which he was betrayed, I Cor. xi. 23.

Quest. 5. What night was that?

Anfw. It was the very last night before his death, Matth. xxvi. 47. 48. compared with chap. xxvii. 1. 35. 46. 50. Quest. 6. What is implied in his instituting this facrament the same night in which he was betrayed?

Anfw. It implies his infinite goodness, and inviolable attachment to mankind loft, whom he represented; that in the immediate prospect of his greatest sufferings, and soul-agonies in their stead, he should have their salvation and comfort so much at heart, as to leave this memorial and pledge of his dying love among them, till he come again, Matth. xxvi. 20.

Quest. 7. Are Christians under any obligation to celebrate this ordinance at night, as our Lord and his disciples did at the first institution of it?

Anfw. No: the substituting this facrament in the room of the passover, (which was eaten immediately before), was the occasion of its being first administered at night; and that particular occasion can never recur again.

Quest. 8. In what posture should the Lord's supper be received?

Anfw. This facrament being called the Lord's table, t Cor. x. 21. a table-pollure, which is fitting, feems to be most agreeable to the practice of our Lord, and his disciples, at the first supper, Matth. xxvi. 20. 26.

Quest. 9. From whence did the practice of kneeling at the facrament take its rife?

Anjan. From the church of Rome, who maintain that the confecrated bread, or wafer, is changed into the real body of Christ, and therefore to be worshipped.

Quest. 10. What are the outward ELEMENTS, appointed by Christ, in this facrament?

Answ. They are [bread and wine], Mark xiv. 22. 23.

Quest. 11. What fort of bread and wine is proper to be used?

Answ. Just such as is ordinarily used in entertainments among men.

Quest. 12. Is the facrament of the supper to be received, by every partaker, in both elements?

Anfw. To be fure it ought: for our Lord gave both elements to his disciples; and the apostle appoints both the elements to be dispensed to communicante, I Cor. xi. 28. Let a man examine himself; and so let him eat of that BREAD, and drink of that CUP. And therefore the with holding of the cup from the people, as is done by the church of Rome, is a piece of facrilegious impiety.

Quest. 13. What is fignified by the bread and the wine?

238 Anfw. The [body] and [blood] of Christ, I Cor. xi, 24

25. Quest. 14. What is to be understood by Christ's body and blood ? Answ. His incarnation and fatisfaction, for the complete accomplishment of our redemption, John vi. 51 .- The bread that I give, is my Helb, which I will give for the life of the world.

Ouest. 15. What is the analogy, or resemblance, betwixt the bread and wine, and what is signified and represented by these elements ?

Anlw. As bread and wine make a fufficient entertainment for the nourishment of the body; so the righteousness and fulness of Christ, are a full and fatisfying feast for the refreshment of the foul, John vi. 55. My flesh is meat indeed, and my blood is drink indeed.

Quest. 16. What are the facramental ACTIONS with reference to these elements ?

Answ. They are all of them comprehended in the answer, under I giving and receiving bread and wine, according to Christ's appointment .

Quest. 17. WHOM do these sacramental actions respect? Answ. Some of them respect the administrator, and some the partakers in this holy ordinance.

Quest, 18. Who are the administrators of this sacrament? Anfw. CHRIST himself was the first administrator thereof; and, after him, ministers of the word, lawfully called and fet apart unto that office.

Quest. 10. What were the actions of Christ, the first administrator, which ministers are to imitate and copy after, in dispensing this sacrament?

Aufw. After his example they take the bread and the cup; they blefs these elements; they break the bread, and give both the bread and the wine to be distributed among the communicants.

Onest, 20. What is meant by taking the bread and the cup? Anfw. Christ's voluntary affuming the human nature into union with his divine person, Heb. ii. 16. that therein he might be a facrifice of infinite value in our flead, Eph. v. 2. Quest. 21. What is implied in bleffing the elements?

Anfw. That Christ has appointed the bread and the wine in this facrament, to be the visible figns or fymbols of his body and blood; and likewife, by his example, has warranted minifters to fet apart, by folemn prayer, fo much of these elements, as shall be used in this sacrament, from a common, to a holy use.

Quest. 22. Why is Christ's bleffing the elements called his giving thanks, I Cor. xi. 24.?

Anjav. Because so inconceivably great was his love to lost sinners of mankind, that he was thankful he had all their debt to pay, Pfal. xl. 7.8. and that he was able to do it to the uttermost, Heb. vii. 25.

Queft. 23. What is to be understood by breaking the bread?

Answ. The most exquisite sufferings of the Son of God.

Pfal. xxii. 14. 15. and the necessity of them, as the channel wherein mercy was to be vented to the sinner, Rom. v. 21.

Quest. 24. What is intimated to us by [giving] the bread, and [giving] the cup, Matth. xxvi. 26. 27.?

Anjw. It intimates, that Christ is the free gift of God to finners of mankind, for falvation and eternal life, John iii.

Quest. 25. What are the facramental actions of the partakers in this facrament, included in their [RECEIVING] of bread and wine?

Answ. They take the bread and the cup; they eat the bread, and drink a part of the wine in the cup.

Queft. 26. What is imported in their taking the bread and the cup?

Anfw. It imports, that our receiving of Christ, is founded on the gift and grant that is made of him in the word:

for, a man can receive nothing, except it be given him from heaven, John iii. 27.

Quest. 27. What is included in their eating the bread, and drinking the wine?

Anjoo It includes, that there ought to be an application of Christ to the foul in particular, in virtue of the particular indorfement of the promife, to every one that hears the gospel: For the promife, fays the apollle Peter, it unto you, that is, unto every one of you), and to your children, Acls ii. 20.

Quest. 28. For what end did Christ institute these facramental elements and actions?

Answ. That thereby [his death] might be [shewed forth].

PART II. G g 1 Cog.

I Cor. xi. 26. and the remembrance of it kept up, Luke xxii, 10.

Ouest, 20. What is it to shew forth the death of Christ?

Anju. It is to profefs, (by partaking of this facrament), that we believe his death, in our room, to have been most acceptable to God, Eph. v. 2.; and that we acquirefce therein, together with his obedience, as the fole ground of our hone of fallyation. Rom. iv. zc.

Quest. 30. How doth it appear that his death, in our room, was most acceptable unto God?

Answ. By his refurrection from the dead, I Thess. i. 10.

and his entrance into glory, Luke xxiv. 26.

Oueft, 21. How may we know if we acquiesce in the obedience and death of Christ, as the sole ground of our hope of falvation?

Anfw. If we are renouncing all other confidences, Hofxiv. 3. and are convinced that the meritorious obedience unto death, of the Son of God as our Surety, is the fole payment of the debt we were owing to law and juffice, Jer. xxiii. 6.—This is his name whereby he fhall be called, The Torkh OUR RIGHTROUNESS.

Quest. 32. Why has Christ appointed this facrament to be observed in remembrance of him, Luke xxii. 19. This do in remembrance of me?

Anfw. Because though his incarnation and fatisfaction be the greatest events that ever happened in the world, and the most interesting to us, yet we are apt to forget them; or, at least, not to have the folid and lively impression of them habitually upon our spirits, Pfal. evi. 13. They foon forgat his works.

Quest. 33. What is it about the death of Christ we ought to remember in this facrament?

Answ. The truth of it; the necessity of it; and the suffi-

Quest. 34. What is it to remember the truth of Christ's death?

Anfw. It is, by a true and faving faith, to believe, that Christ really did and suffered all these things for us, that are recorded of him in feripture, 1 Cor. xv. 3. 4.

Queft. 35. What is it to remember the necessity of his death, Luke xxiv. 26. Ought not Christ to have suffered these things?

Anfw.

Answ. It is to believe, that we had certainly gone down to the pit, unless God had found a ransom, or an atonement, Job xxxiii. 24.

Quest. 26. What is it to remember the sufficiency of it?

Answ. It is to believe that it is infinitely valuable; and therefore could have procured the falvation of thousands of worlds, had it been fo ordained, it being the death and blood of him, who is the supreme God, Acts xx. 28 .- Feed the church of God, which he hath purchased with his own blood.

Quest. 37. In what MANNER should we show forth and remember the death of Christ in this sacrament?

Answ. We ought to do it fiducially, humbly, mournfully, and thankfully.

Quest. 38. Why ought we to remember his death fiducially? Answ. Because as he was delivered for our offences, Rom. iv. 25. fo God raifed him up from the dead, and gave him slory, that our faith and hope might be in God, I Pet. i. 21, Quest. 39. Why ought we to remember it humbly?

Answ. Because when we are unworthy of the least of all God's mercies, Gen. xxxii. 10. we are much more fo of the greatest that can be conferred, John iii. 16. God so bred the world. &c.

Quest. 40. Why mournfully?

Answ. Because our sins were the procuring cause of his fufferings, If. liii. 5. 6. He was wounded for our transoressions, he was bruised for OUR iniquities :- The Lord hath laid on him the iniquities of us all, *

Quest. 41. Why should the death of Christ be remembered thankfully?

Anfw. Because his death was in our room, Tit. ii. 14.: and was the finishing stroke of the work which his Father gave him to do, John xix. 30.

Quest. 42. How often should the death of Christ be remembered by partaking of this facrament?

Answ. The scripture has not precisely determined how often; but it would appear that it ought frequently to be done. Quest. 43. How doth it appear, that the death of Christ Should be frequently remembered in the supper?

Answ. From the words of our Lord, I Cor. xi. 25. 26 .-This do ye, AS OFT as ye drink it, in remembrance of me; for &quot; Margin, Hath made the iniquities of us all to meet on him. Gg2

AS OFTEN as ye eat this bread, &c. plainly implying, that it ought OFTEN to be done. Quest, 44. When will the death of Christ be remembered perpetually, without interruption?

Anho. In beaven, though not in a facramental way, Rev. xxi. 22. I faw no temple there.

Quest. 45. How may it be proved, that it will be perpetually remembered in heaven?

Anfw. From the fong of the redeemed there, recorded Rev. i. r. 6 .- Unto him that loved us, and washed us from our fins in his own blood, to him be glory. And chap. v. 0 .- 14. And they fung a new fong, faying, - Thou wast flain, and hast redeemed us to God by thy blood, &c.

Quest. 46. Who are called [worthy receivers], in the anfwer?

Answ. None are worthy receivers of this facrament, but true believers; and even they, in order to their partaking worthily and comfortably, ought to have grace in exercise, as well as in the babit. Song i. 12.

Quest. 47. Why are true believers called WORTHY recei-Anfw. Not on account of any worthiness in themselves, vers?

for they have nothing of their own whereof they can boaft; but because they are united to Christ, and have all that grace from him, which enables them to partake in a fuitable and becoming manner, 2 Cor. iii. 5.

Quest. 48. What are the worthy receivers [made partakers of ] in this facrament?

Answ. They are [made partakers of Christ's body and blood, with all his benefits ].

Queft. 49. What is it to be partakers of Christ's body and blood?

Answ. It is to be entertained, in this facrament, upon all that was transacted upon the person of Christ, as God-man, Mediator: this being the only proper and fuitable food of the foul, John vi. 51. 53.

Quest. 50. In what respect is it, that the worthy receivers are NOT made partakers of his body and blood? Answ. They are not made partakers thereof [after a cornoral and carnal manner]. Quest. 51. Why are these words inserted in the answer, [not after a corporal and carnal manner]?

Anfw.

Answ. They are inferted in opposition to the Popish doctrine of transubstantiation, "which maintains a change of the substance of bread and wine, into the substance of Christ's body and blood, by confectation of a priest "." Quest. 52. What is the absurdity of this docume?

Anfw. It is "repugnant, not to scripture alone, but even to common sense and reason; overthroweth the nature of the sacrament; and hath been, and is the cause of manifold superfittions, yea, of gross idolatries †."

Quest. 53. How is it repugnant to scripture?

Anfau. The feripture expressly affirms, that Christ gave into this difeiples, after confecration, that he had taken into his hands before, Math. xxxl. 26. 27. Whereas the doctrine of transubstantiation maintains, that the elements, after confecration, are no more the same, having only the form, colour, taste, and smell of bread and wine, wanting the substance of either; being turned into the substance of Christ's body and blood: in opposition whereunto, the apostle calls the elements, after confecration, by the same names they had before it, to intimate, that there was no change of their substance, 1 Cor. xi. 26. 27. 28. As often as year at this BREAD, and drink this CUP, 62.

Quest. 54. How is transubstantiation repugnant to common fense and reason?

Anfw. Common fense and reason tells us, that a body occupies but one place, and cannot be in divers places at one and the same time; whereas they who defend translubsantiation must allow, that the body of Christ may be in a thousant places at once, even as many places as there are confecrated wafers.

Quest. 55. How doth transfubstantiation overthrow the nature of the facrament?

Anfw. By destroying the spiritual or sacramental relation, that is between the sign and the thing signified; for, if the sign be turned into the thing signified, then all relation and similitude betwist them ceases. Besides, the facrament being a commemoration of what was done and suffered in the human nature of Christ, it supposes his body to be absent, whereas translubstantiation supposes it present.

Quest. 56. How is it the cause of manifold superstitions and gross idolatries?

Anju. In as much as ftrange and furprifing effects are aferibed to the hoft, or confectated wafer, even when not used facramentally: and the alledged change of the bread and wine, into the substance of Christ's body and blood in the facrament, is the very pretence, why they pay religious worship and adoration to the elements themselves; which is groß idolatty.

Quest. 57. What is the difference between the Papists and Lutherans on this head?

Anjw. The Papifts maintain, that the bread and wine lofe their own natural fubstance, and are turned into the fubstance of Christ's body and blood; but the Lutherant affirm, that the bread and wine retain their own natural substance fill, and at the same time that the substance of Christ's bedy and blood is in, with, or under these elements.

Quest. 58. Are not both opinions equally abfurd?

Affu. Yes: for transhift antiation supposes, that one body may be in many places at the same time; and conshift ation takes it for granted, that two bodies may be together in the same very place, or that they may both occupy the same individual space at the same time.

Quest. 59. Is Christ offered up in this sacrament, as a sacrifice for the remission of sins?

Anfw. No: there is therein "only a commemoration of "that one offering up of himfelf, by himfelf, upon the "crofs, once for all; and a fpiritual oblation of all poffible "praife unto God for the fame "."

Quest. 60. Why doth our Confession fay, that Christ's once offering up of himself, was done BY HIMSELF?

Anjw. In opposition to the unbloody facrifice of the mass, which is offered up daily by the Popish priests, for remission of the sins, both of the quick and of the dead,

Quest. 61. What doth our Confession of Faith affirm concerning this "Papish facrifice of the mass, as they call it?"

Anfw. It affirms, that it is "most abominably injurious to Christ's one only facrifice, the alone propitiation for all the fins of the elect, Heb. vii. 27. †"

· Confession, Chap. xxix. § 2.

Quest. 62. Is not Christ really present in the sacrament of the fupper?

Anfw. He is " as really, but fpiritually, prefent to the faith of believers in that ordinance, as the elements them-

" felves are to their outward fenfes, I Cor. xi. 20. *"

Quest. 63. If Christ be really present in the sacrament only in a spiritual sense, and not corporally, why dath he say of the bread, This is my body?

Answ. The plain obvious meaning is, This bread is the fign or symbol of my body: so that the words are to be understood in the figurative, not in the literal sense.

Quest. 64. How do you prove, that these words, This is my body, are to be understood in the figurative, and not in the literal and proper fense?

Anju. From this known rule in all language, That when the firid literal fense involves a manifest abjurdity, or contradiction, we must of necessity have recourse to the figurative fense; as when the apostle says, I Cor. x. 4.—That rock was christ, it cannot be underfood literally, as if that rock, materially considered, was really Christ; but figuratively, that rock figurised Christ; and so of a great many other scripture-expressions.

Quest. 65. Since the worthy receivers are not made partakers of Chriss's body and blood, after a corporal and carnal manner, how do they partake of the same?

Answ. They partake of his body and blood, in this facrament, only [by faith].

Quelt. 66. What is it for the worthy receivers to partake of his body and blood by faith?

Anfw. It is to apply and appropriate himfelf and his righteoutness, [with all his benefits], to themselves, Pfal. xvi.

5. 6. Quest. 67. What are these [benefits] which faith, in this facrament, applies together with Christ himself?

Anjou. Among many others, there are thefe three comprehensive ones, namely, an ample indemnity of all sin, Mic. vii. 19.; an unquestionable security for the progress of fanctification, Job xvii. 9.; and an undoubted title to eternal life, John x. 28.

· Confession, Chap. xxix $ 7.

Quest. 68. Why are these, and the like, called [his] benesits?
Answ. Because he is the purchaser, Tit. ii. 14. proprietors,
John iii. 35. and dispenser of them, Eph. iv. 8.

Quest. 69. Why are worthy receivers faid to be made partakers of [all] his benefits?

Anyw. Because where himself is received, all good things go along with him, I Cor. iii. 22. 23.—All are yours; and ye are Christ's.

Quest. 70. What is the fruit and effect of their being, by faith, made partakers of Christ, and all his benefits?

Anfw. The fruit and effect thereof is, [their spiritual nourisoment and growth in grace].

Quelt. 71. What doth [their spiritual nourishment] imply in it?

An/w. That this facrament is not a converting, but a nou-rifbing ordinance.

Quest. 72. What doth their [growth in grace] imply?

Aifw. That the worthy receivers are already in a flate of grace.

Quelt. 73. How may spiritual nourishment and growth in grace be discerned?

Africo. If there is a more enlarged defire after the fineer milk of the word, 1 Pet. ii. 2, if there is more of living by faith, and not by fenfe, 2 Cor. v. 7,; and if there is more inward opposition to fin, Pfal. lxvi. 18. and outward tenderness in the walk, Pfal. xxxix. 1.

97. QUEST. What is required to the worthy receiving of the Lord's Supper?

Answ. It is required of them that would worthily partake of the Lord's supper, that they examine themselves of their knowledge to discern the Lord's body, of their faith to feed upon him, of their repentance, love, and new obedience; lest coming unworthily, they eat and drink judgment to themselves.

Quest. 1. What preparatory duty is here required of these that would partake of the Lard's supper?

Of the WORTHY RECEIVING, &c. 247

Answ. It is, [that they examine themselves], I Cor. xi. 28. But let a man EXAMINE himself, and so let him eat of that bread, and drink of that cup.

Quest. 2. What is it for persons to [examine themselves]? Answ. It is to make a strict inquiry into, and to pass an impartial judgment upon their fpiritual state and frame, by the rule of the word, Pfal. lxxvfi. 6, and cxix. 105.

Quest. 3. What is the best and most successful way of essaying this duty?

Answ. It is to put it into the hand of the Spirit of God to manage it for us, Pfal. exxxix. 23. 24. Search me, O God, and know my heart, &c.

Quest. 4. Why is self-examination necessary before receiving the Lord's Supper?

Answ. Because it is peremptorily commanded, in order to discover whether we be in a gracious state; or, if we have grace in any measure of exercise: without either of which, there can be no comfortable partaking of this ordinances Let a man examine himself, and so let him eat.

Quelt. 5. Is this the duty of every man, or of fome only? Answ. It is unquestionably the duty of every man: Let a man examine himself; that is, every man and woman, without exception, whether they think themselves gracious or gracelefs.

Quest. 6. Why should a gracious man examine himself?

Answ. Because there is not a just man upon earth, that doth good, and finneth not, Eccl. vii. 20.

Quest. 7. Why should they who think they are graceless, examine themselves ?

Anfw. Because they that be whole need not a physician, but they that are fick, Matth. ix. 12. Hereby they come to fee more clearly their absolute need of Christ.

Quest. 8. Is felf examination the duty of these only who are to partake for the first time?

Anfw. It is the duty of persons every time they adventure upon this ordinance, as the words of the precept evidently bear, SO let him eat; that is, let none approach this holy table at any time, without first essaying this duty.

Quest. 9. Is felf-examination to be practifed only about the time of a communion?

Answ. It ought to be practifed daily or habitually, 2 Cor. PART II. Hh xiii. c.; and especially in the view of such a solemn approach to the Lord at his table.

Quest. 10. What are these things, about which they that would worthily partake of the Lord's supper, are required to examine themselves?

Answ. They are required to examine themselves Fof their knowledge, of their faith, of their repentance, love, and new obedience].

Quest. 11. What are they to try or examine about their [knowledge]?

Answ. If they have a competent measure of it; and if the measure they have, be of a saving kind.

Quest. 12. What is that competent measure of knowledge, which is requisite to the worthy receiving of the Lord's sub-

Answ. That there be some uptaking of the person, offices, and righteousness of Christ; of the sulness, freedom, and stability of the covenant of grace; of the nature, use, and end of the facrament of the fupper; and likewife of our own manifeld fins and wants.

Quest. 12. Why is fuch a knowledge necessary?

Anfw. It is necessary [ to discern the Lord's body ].

Quest. 14. What is it to discern the Lord's body in this sacrament?

Anfw. It is to view the meritorious atonement, made by the Son of God in our nature, through the vails of bread and wine, which are defigned to fignify and represent the same. Quest. 15. Who are they who are guilty of not discerning the Lord's body?

Anfw. They who rest in partaking of the outward elements, without a folid belief of the mysterics that are wrapt up in them.

Quest. 16. How may we know if the measure of knowledge we have attained, be of a faving kind?

Anfw. If we think we know nothing yet, as we ought to know, I Cor. viii. 2.; if we are following on to know the Lord more and more, Hof vi. 3.; and if our knowledge influences our practice, John xiii. 17. If ye know these things, happy are ye if ye do them.

Quest. 17. Why is [faith] necessary to the worthy partaking of the Lord's Supper?

Anfw. It is necessary in order [to feed upon him].

Quest. 18. What is it to feed upon Christ in the sacrament

Answ. It is to receive in to our souls, from his fulness, all that spiritual good which is exhibited to us in the proof the Supper? mife. John i. 16.

Quest. 10. What is it of Christ that faith feeds upon in the facrament? Answ. It feeds upon all these discoveries of him that are made in the word; fuch as, his person, offices, mediatorial characters, and relations, John vi. 57. Quest. 20, How may we know if we have that faith which feeds on Christ in the word and sacrament?

Answ. Where this true and faving faith is, it is of an appetizing nature, whettening the spiritual appetite after more and more of him, If. xxvi. 8. o.; it purifies the heart, Acts xv. o.; accounts all things but loss for Christ, Phil. iii. 8.; and is careful to maintain good works, Tit. iii. 8.

Quest. 21. What is the use of [repentance] in this sacra.

ment?

Answ. Without repentance, there can be no mourning for fin, which is an infeparable concomitant of faith's looking to, or improving a crucifled Saviour in this ordinance, Zech. xii. 10 .- They hall look upon me whom they have pierced, and they fball mourn for him.

Quest. 22. How may we know if our repentance be genuine, or of a right kind?

Answ. It is true and genuine, if we are grieved for fin as it is offensive to God, Pfal. li. 4.; if we are forfaking, and turning from it both in heart and life, Hof. xiv. 8.; and particularly, if we are deeply affected with the fin of unbelief, John xvi. 9.

Quest. 23. What necessity is there for the exercise of the grace of [love] in partaking the Lord's supper?

Anfw. Without love to Christ, there can be no communion with him in this, or any other ordinance, John xiv. 21. -He that loveth me, Shall be loved of my Father, and I will love him, and will manifest myself to him.

Quest. 24. How may we know if our love to Christ be fin-cere and unfeigned?

Anfw. If it put us upon essaying the most difficult duties he may call us unto, Pfal. xxiii. 4.; if it engages us to put a favourable construction upon the afflicting providences we Hh 2 meet with in our lot, Heb. xii. 10.; and if we love his members out of love to himfelf, or because they are begotten of him. I John v. I. Quest. 25. Why is the obedience required of worthy receivers called [new obedience]?

Answ. Because it flows from a new principle of faith and love, Gal. v. 6.; is performed in a new manner, namely, in the ftrength of the grace that is in Christ Fefus, 2 Tim. ii. I.; and is directed to a new end, even the glory of God, I Cor. x. 31.

Quest. 26. How may we know if our obedience is indeed new obedience?

Anfw. If we are confcientiously diligent in the practice of all commanded duty, and at the fame time look on ourfelves as unprofitable fervants, Luke xvii. 10.; and lean wholly to the furety-righteoufness as the fole ground of our acceptance. If. xlv. 24.

Quest. 27. What risk do they run who omit to examine themfelves as to the above graces, before they come to the Lord's table ?

Anfw. They run the risk of [coming unworthily].

Quest. 28. What is it to come unworthily?

Anfw. It is to come without any real fense, or folid uptaking of the need that we fland in of Christ, as of God made unto us wisdom, righteousness, sanctification, and redemption, 1 Cor. i. 30.

Quest. 29. What danger do they incur, who thus come un-worthily?

Answ. [They eat and drink judgment to themselves], I Cor. xi. 20.

Quest. 30. In what fense can they who come unworthily, be faid to eat and drink judgment to themselves?

Answ. In fo far as by their eating and drinking unworthily, they do that which renders them obnoxious to the righteous judgment of God.

Quest. 31. What [judgment] do they render themselves obnoxious unto?

Anfw. To temporal judgments, or afflictions of various kinds, in a prefent life; and to eternal judgment, or condemnation, (if mercy prevent not), in the life to come, 1 Cor. xi. 30. 32.

Quest. 32

Quest. 32. "May not one who doubteth of his being in Christ, or of his due preparation, come to the Lord's supper?"

Quest. 33. When may a person be said to be duly affected with the apprehension of the want of an interest in Christ?

Anfor. When he is filled with a reftless uneafines, and can take no comfort in any outward enjoyment, while he thinks himfelf defiture of an interest in him; and, at the same time, is active and diligent in the use of all the ordinary means, wherein he is usually to be found, Song iii.

Quest. 34. " May any who profess the faith, and desire to se come to the Lord's supper, be kept from it?"

Anfw. "Such as are found to be ignorant or feandalous, "notwithstanding their profession of the faith, and desire to come to the Lord's supper, may and ought to be kept

" from that facrament, by the power which Christ hath left in his church; until they receive instruction, and mani" fest their reformation +."

Quest. 35. Why ought the ignorant to be kept back?

Anfav. Because they cannot discern the Lord's body, nor take up the end and design of this sacrament, and therefore will but eat and drink judgment to themselves, 1 Cor. xi. 20.

Quest. 36. Why ought the scandalous to be kept from this facrament?

Anjou. Because, by the habitual immorality of their practice, they manifelt themselves to be under the dominion of the prince of darkness; and therefore, while in that state, can have no right to the privileges which belong only to the members of Christ's family, 1 Cor. x. 21.

Quest. 37. "What is required of them that receive the sacrament of the Lord's supper, in the time of the admini-se Stration of it ?"

Anfw. " It is required of them, that they-heedfully " difcern the Lord's body, and affectionately meditate on " his death and fufferings, and thereby ftir up themselves " to a vigorous exercise of their graces; in forrowing for fin, " hungering and thirsting after Christ, feeding on him by " faith,-and in renewing their covenant with God, and " love to all the faints *."

Quest. 38. What is it for the Lord's people to renew their covenant with him at his table?

Anfw. It is to acquiesce anew in the covenant of grace, as made with Christ, If. xliv. 5.; and in fo doing, to furrender themselves to the Lord, to be wholly his, trusting that he will keep them by his power, through faith unto falvation, I Pet. i. 5.

Quest. 39. What is it for them to renew their love to all the faints, on that occasion ?

Anfw. It is to embrace the opportunity of being at the Lord's table, to breathe out the fecret and habitual defires of their fouls before him, that all the faints, as well as themfelves, may there abundantly out of the fulness of Christ, Pfal. xc. 14.; and that they keep themselves in the love of God, looking for the mercy of our Lord Jefus Christ unto eternal life, Jude vers. 21.

Quest. 40. What is the duty of Christians, after they have received the facrament of the Lord's supper?

Anfw. It is " ferioufly to confider how they have behaved 46 themselves therein, and with what success; if they find " quickening and comfort, to blefs God for it, beg the con-" tinuance of it, watch against relapses, fulfil their vows, " and encourage themselves to a frequent attendance on " that ordinance t."

Queft. 41. What is it to fulfil our yows?

Anfw. It is to fet about the practice of all commanded duty, according to our engagement, Pfal. cxvi. 16. 18.; and at the fame time depend upon the grace and furniture that is in Christ Jesus for the right performance thereof, Phil. iv. 13. Quest. 42. What if Christians can find no present benefit by their attendance on this ordinance?

Anfw. Then they are " more exactly to review their pre-

Quest. 43. What if they have failed in their preparation to, and carriage at the sacrament?

Answ. Then "they are to be humbled, and attend upon "it afterward with more care and diligence †."

Quest. 44. "Wherein do the sacraments of baptism and the " Lord's supper agree?

Anfw. "In that the author of both is God; the spiritual part of both is Christ and his benefits; both are seals of the same covenant;—and to be continued in the church of " Christ until his second coming. ‡"

Quest. 45. Wherein do they differ?

Answ. "In that baptism is to be administered but once, with most of the company of the com

"with water, to be a fign and feal of our regeneration and ingrating into Chrift, and that even to infants: whereas the Lord's fupper is to be adminisfered often, in the elements of bread and wine, to reprefent and exhibit Chrift as fpiritual nourilhment to the foul, and to confirm our continuance and growth in him, and that only to fuch as

" are of years and ability to examine themselves. "

98. QUEST. What is prayer?

Assw. Prayer is an offering up of our defires to God, for things agreeable to his will, in the name of Christ, with confession of our fins, and thankful acknowledgment of his mercies.

Quest. 1. " Are we to pray to God only?"

Anjw. "God only being to be believed in, and worship-"ped with religious worship; prayer, which is a special

"part thereof, is to be made by all to him alone, and to Quest. 2. Why is prayer to be made by all to God alone. and to none other ?

Answ. Because "God only is able to search the hearts, " hear the requests, pardon the fins, and fulfil the defires 66 of all. *"

Quest. 3. May we not direct our prayers to any of the per-Sons of the adorable Trinity?

Anfw. To be fure we may: for the Three-one-God being the fole object of religious worship; which ever of the three persons we address, the other two are understood as included, 2 Cor. xiii. 14.

Quest. 4. Why may we not pray to angels, or faints de-Anfw. Because it would be gross idolatry, they being but mere creatures; nor can they supply the wants, nor remove the miferies which fin has brought upon us. Quest. 5. Do we pray to God to inform him of what he knew not before?

Anfw. Not at all: for from eternity he knew all the thoughts that ever should pass through our minds in time, Pfal. cxxxix. 2. 4.

Quest. 6. Do we pray to him that we may alter his mind. or incline him to any thing which he was formerly unwilling to grant?

Answ. No; for with him is no variableness, neither sbadow of turning, Jam. i. 17.; but we pray to him, that we may obtain what we know and believe he is willing to confer, I John v. 14. This is the confidence that we have in him, that if we ask any thing according to his will, he heareth us.

Quest. 7. What are the several parts of prayer mentioned in this answer?

Answ. They are these three; petition, confession, and thankfgiving.

Quest. 8. In which of these doth prayer properly consist?

Anfw. In PETITION, or fupplication.

Quest. 9. How doth the answer describe our petitions or Supplications?

Answ. It describes them to be [an offering up of our defires to God].

. Larger Cat. Quest. 179.

Quelt. 10. Why are any petitions called [our defires]?

Anfiu. Because the words of our mouth, without the defires of our heart, are nothing but empty founds in the ears of God, II. xxix. 13.—This people draw near to me with hoir mouth—but hour emoved their heart far from me.

Quest. 11. Why must there be [an offering up] of our de-fires to God?

Anfw. Because prayers are fpiritual facrifices, 1 Pet. ii. 5.; and all facrifices were appointed to be offered to God only, 2 Kings xvii. 35. 36.

Quest. 12. From whence flow the defires of the heart?

Anfw. From a fense of need: we cannot have any earnest defire after that, the want whereof we are no way affected with; for, the full foul loatheth an honey-comb, Prov. xxvii. 7.

Oueth. 12. For what THINGS Jought we to offer up our defires to God?

Anfw. [For things agreeable to his will]

Quest. 14. What [will] of God are we to have our eye up-

Answ. We are to have our eye, not upon his secret, but upon his revealed will, Deut. xxix. 29.

Ouest. 15. How shall we know, if what we ask be agreeable to his revealed will?

Anfw. If we ask what he has promised, we are sure it is agreeable to his revealed will to confer it, because the promise is to us. Acts ii. 39.

Quest. 16. Are we straitened, or narrowed, in our re-matter of them?

Anfw. By no means: for the promise contains infinitely more than we are able to afk or think, Eph. iii. 20.

Ouest. 17. May we afk temporal mercies at the hand of God?

Answ. Yes; because they are promised, so far as we have any real need of them, Pfal. xxxiv. 10. If xxxiii. 16.

Quest. 18. Whether ought temporal or spiritual mercies to have the preference in our requests?

Answ. Spiritual mercies ought to have the presence, Matth. vi. 33. Seek ye FIRST the kingdom of God, and his righteousness, and all these things shall be added unto you.

Quest. 19. What is meant by the kingdom of God, and his righteouiness?

PART II. Ii Answ.

Anfw. The work of grace in the foul, and the furetyrighteouthes imputed, as the foundation thereof, Romviii. 4.

Quest. 20. Why are these to be sought in the first place?

Anfw. Because absolutely necessary to salvation, Rom. v.

21.

Quest. 21. In whose name are we to ask things agreeable to God's will?

Anfw. [ In the name of Christ].

Quest. 22. "What is it to pray in the name of Christ?"

Answ. It is "in obedience to his command, and in con"fidence of his promise, to ask mercies for his sake "."

Quest. 23. Is the bare mentioning of Christ's name, a praying therein?

Anfw. No; but a "drawing our encouragement to pray, "and our boldness, strength, and hope of acceptance in " prayer, from Christ and his mediation t."

Quelt. 24. "Why are we to pray in the name of Christ?"

Answ. Because "the sinfulness of man, and his distance

"from God, by reason thereof, is so great, as that we can have no access into his presence without a Mediator ‡."

Quest. 25. Is there any other Mediator but Christ, in whose name we may approach unto God?

Anfw. No: "There being none in heaven or earth ap"pointed to, or fit for that glorious work but Christ alone;
"we are to pray in no other name but his only, Col. iii.
"17.18"

Quest. 26. Can we, of ourselves, pray in a right manner? Anyw. No; unless the Spirit of supplication is poured upon us, (Zech. xii. 10.) to help our infirmities; for we know not what to pray for as we ought, Rom. viii. 26.

Quest. 27. " How doth the Spirit help us to pray?"

Anfw. "——By enabling us to understand both for whom, and what, and how prayer is to be made **."

Quest. 28. " For whom are we to pray?"

infiv. "For the whole church of Christ upon earth; for magistrates, and ministers; for ourselves, our brethren; yea, our enemies; and for all forts of men living, or that shall live hereafter #!."

Quest. 29.

Quest. 29. What are we to pray for, in behalf of the whole church of Christ upon earth?

Answ. That they all may be one in Christ the glorious head, John xvii. 21.; and that they may grow up into him in all things. Eph. iv. 15. till they all come in the unity of the faith, and knowledge of the Son of God, unto a perfect man, unto the measure of the stature of the fulness of Christ, vers. 13.

Quest. 30. What Should we pray for with reference to magiftrates?

Anfw. That they may not be a terror to good works, but to the evil, Rom. xiii. 3.; and that under them, we may lead a quiet and peaceable life, in all godliness and honesty, 1 Tim. ii. 2.

Quest. 31. What should we pray for in behalf of ministers? Anfw. That they may not SHUN to declare, unto their hearers, all the counsel of God. Acts xx. 27.; and that they may watch for their fouls, as they that must give account, Heb. xiii. 17.

Quest. 32. Can we be hearty in praying for others, if we neglect to pray for ourselves?

Answ. No: for, if we are indifferent about the state of our own fouls, it is impossible we can be concerned for others, any farther than our interest and affection bind us, Job xxvii. 10. Quest. 33. Who are our brethren whom we are to pray for ?

Answ. They are not only our kindred, according to the flesh, but all the members of the visible church; yea, all our fellow-creatures, 1 John iv. 21.

Quest. 34. What are we to pray for, in behalf of our enemies?

Anfav. That their hearts may be changed, their tempers foftened, that however they have carried towards us, they may be made Christ's friends, and partakers of eternal falvation through him. Matth. v. 44, compared with Luke xxiii. 34.

Quest. 35. If we are to pray for all forts of men living.

how may we pray about the Roman Antichrist?

Answ. Out of the love we should bear to our fellowcreatures, who are under the yoke and dominion of the Roman Antichrist, we ought to pray no otherwise about him, than that the Lord would foon confume him with the Spirit of his mouth, and destroy him with the brightness of his coming, 2 Theff. if. 8. Quest. 36. What do we mean, when we pray for those that fhall live hereafter?

Anfw. We hereby defire, that Christ's kingdom and interest may be propagated and advanced in the world, until his fecond coming, Pfal. eii. 18. John xvii. 20, Quest. 37. Whom are we not to pray for?

Aufw. We are not to pray " for the dead, 2 Sam, xii, " 23, nor for those that are known to have sinned the sin " unto death, 1 John v. 16. *"

Quest. 38. Why should we not pray for the dead?

Anlw. Because at death the state of every man and woman is unalterably fixed, Luke xvi. 22 .- 27.

Quest, 20. How may these be known, who have finned the fin unto death?

Anfw. By their rejecting the gospel which they once profeffed to embrace; by their malice and envy against Christ and the way of falvation through bim; by their treating the convincing evidences of Christianity, and the peculiar doctrines thereof, with blasphemy and contempt; and by their rooted batred of all religion, and the professors of it.

Quest. 40. Why are we not to pray for these, who are known to have finned this fin?

Answ. Because the sin against the Holy Ghost is declared, in fcripture, to be unpardonable, [Matth. xii. 31. 32.]; in regard it is a wilful and blasphemous opposition to the testimony of the Spirit of God concerning Christ, as the only way of falvation. Luke xii. 10. +

Quest. 41. " For what things are we to pray?"

Anfw. " For all things tending to the glory of God, the " welfare of the church, our own or others good : but not " for any thing that is unlawful t."

Quest. 42. " How are we to pray?"

Anfw. "We are to pray-with understanding, faith,

" flucerity, fervency, love, and perfeverance "." Quest. 43. What is it to pray with understanding?

Affu. It is to have some knowledge of God, who is the object of prayer, Pfal. lxv. 2.; of our own necessities, which are the subject-matter thereof, Pfal. lx. 11.; and of the promises, which are our encouragement therein, Numb. xiv. 17. 18. 19.

Quest. 44. What is it to pray in faith?

Anfw. It is to believe, that we receive the promised blessings we alk, because he has said, What things soever ge desire when ye pray, believe that ye receive them, and ye shall have them, Mark xi. 24.

Queft. 45. What is it to pray with fincerity and fervency?

Anfw. It is to have the heart and affections earnefly intent upon what we are praying for, Plal. xvii. 1. O Lord, attend unto my cry; give ear unto my prayer, that goeth not out of feirned liss.

Quest. 46. What is that love to God, which should be exercised in prayer?

Anfw. It is an ardent defire of his presence, Is xxvi. 9. and an unseigned delight in him, as the most amiable and foul-satisfying object, Psal. lxxiii. 25.

Quest. 47. What is it to pray with perseverance, Eph. vi.

Anfw. It is to continue inflant in prayer, as the word is rendered, Rom. xii. 12.; or, to bear up against all difcouragements, and not to give over, though we have not a speedy answer or return, Matth. xv. 22.—20.

Quest. 48. Is there any difference betwixt praying with perseverance, and praying always, or without ceasing, I Thess.

W TM ?

Anfw. The difference may lie in this, that to pray with perfeverance, is not to weary of the duty, or defit from it, shough we do not immediately obtain what we are praying for; but to pray always, or without ceasing, is to study to maintain a praying frame, Pfal. Ixxiii. 23. and not to neglect the seasons of prayer, as they recur upon us, Pfal. Ixi. 2.

Quest. 49. What are the several kinds of prayer pointed at

in scripture?

Anjw. They are commonly ranked under these three, namely, fecret, private, and public prayer.

Quest. 50. What is SECRET prayer?

Answ. It is the retirement of individuals, or fingle perfous, from all company with others, for a time, that they may have free and familiar intercourse with God by themfelves, Matth. vi. 6. But thou, when thou prayes, enter intethy close: and when thou hast shut thy door, pray to thy Father which is in secret.

Queft. 51. Is fecret prayer incumbent on every Christian?

Anfw. Yes: because every Christian has his own particular wants to be supplied, Pfal. lxx. 5. doubts to be folved,

If xxxviii. 14. and difficulties to be removed, 2 Cor. xii. 8.

which none but God himself can do. Pfal. xxxv. 10.

Quest. 52. May there not be secret prayer even in company with others?

Anfw. Yes: there may be what is ordinarily called EJA-CULATORY prayer.

Quest. 53. What is ejaculatory prayer?

Anfw. It is a fecret and fudden lifting up of the foul's defires to God, upon any emergency that may occur in providence.

Queft. 54. How may this kind of prayer be gone about?

Anfw. Either by a fimple thought darted up to heaven, as it would feem Nehemiah did, chap. ii. 4-; or, by words uttered in the mind, yet so as the voice cannot be heard, as we read that Hannah did, 1 Sam. i. 12.

Quest. 55. What success have these ejaculatory breathings of foul met with?

Anfw. They have met with very quick and happy returns, as in the inflance of Mofes, who, in the midft of the people's murmuring at the Red fea, diffracted his defires to heaven, in fome fhort ejaculation, to which the Lord gave a prefer tetun, Exod. xiv. 15.—Wherefore crieft thou unto me? I peak unto the children of Ifrael, that they go forward. And the fons of Reuben, &c. when fighting with the Hagarites, a Chron. v. 20.—They cried to God in the battle, and he was intreated of them.

Quest. 56. What is the usefulness of ejaculatory prayer?

Answ. It tends to maintain fellowship with God, without anju. It tends to maintain relicovinip wint Code, without any interruption of our lawful callings, Pfal. lxxiii. 22.: it is also a mean to repel fudden temptations, 2 Cor. xii. 8, 9.; and to dispose the heart for the more solemn performance of the stated duties of prayer and praise in the season of them, Pfal. xlii. verses 6th and 8th compared.

Quest. 57. What is PRIVATE prayer?

200

Answ. It is prayer among a few Christians, met together for joining in that solemn exercise. Rom. xvi. 5.

Quest. 58. How is it commonly distinguished?

Answ. Into family *, and social prayer.

Quest. 50. What is social prayer?

Anfw. It is to pray in a fellowship society of Christians, out of several samilies, intermixed with spiritual conference upon soul-edifying subjects; and that at such times, as they mutually agree upon, among themselves, Mal. iii. 16.

Quest. 60. What is PUBLIC prayer?

Anfw. It is the folemn worshipping of God by the church, in her public assemblies, wherein a passor, or one authorized to preach the gospel, is always the mouth of the people to God, Acts xx. 36.

Quest. 61. What is it to JOIN in private or public prayer, where one is the mouth of the rest?

Answ. It is to offer up the defires that come from the mouth of the speaker, [for things agreeable to God's will], as if uttered by ourselves.

Quest. 62. What is incumbent on those who are the mouth of others in prayer to God?

Anfw. They are called to take very special care, that their prayers be regulated exactly by the revealed will of God; in which case, all present will be encouraged to join in every part of the duty.

Quest. 63. What is requisite for joining in prayer in a right manner?

Anfu. It is highly requifite, in order hereunto, that there be close attention without wandering, Achs ii. 42. And they continued fedfalfly in—prayers; that there be lively faith without doubting, James i. 6.; and a series of ejaculation concurring with the words of God that may be spoken, I Chron. xvi. 36.

Quest. 64. What is the SECOND PART of prayer mentioned in the answer?

Anfw. It is [confession of our fins].

Quest. 65. Why is confession of sin mentioned as a part of prayer?

Answ. Because, being sinners, we cannot pray in faith for any promifed mercy, without acknowledging our unworthi-

262 ness of it; or that it is infinitely above our desert, Danix.

18. Quest. 66. What then doth the confession of sin necessarily Suppose?

Answ. It supposes guilt, and deserved punishment on account of it, Ezra ix. 12.

Quest. 67. Why is confession of sin necessary in prayer?

Anfw. Because we cannot be cordial and hearty in asking forgiveness of our fins, unless we are some way affected with a fense of them. Pfal. xxv. 11.

Quest. 68. For what end should we confess our fins in praver?

Anfw. That God may be justified, and have the glory of his judgments, as being all of them just and righteous, Pfal. li. 4.; and that we may be humbled, and disposed to receive deferved favours with gratitude, Pfal. xxxii. 5.

Quest. 69. In what manner should we confess our fins?

Anfw. With grief and hatred of them, Luke xviii, 12.4 and with full purpose (in the strength of grace) to forfake them, Job xxxiv. 32.

Quest. 70. What is the THIRD PART of prayer mentioned in the answer?

Anfw. It is a [thankful acknowledgment of his mercies]. Quest. 71. Are prayer and thanksgiving joined together in Scripture?

Anfw. Yes: Pfal. cxvi. 17. I will offer to thee the facrifice of thanksgiving, and will call upon the name of the Lord.

Quest. 72. What is the subject-matter of thankfulness? Answ. It is [mercies], or benefits, whether offered or re-eeived.

Quest. 73. Why are the bleffings we want called mercies? Anfw. Because having made ourselves miserable by sin, we are most unworthy and undeferving of them, Gen-TTVIL TO.

Quest. 74. Why called [HIS] mercies ?

Answ. Because God himself is the author of them, and they are his free gift unto us, I Tim. vi. 17.

Quest. 75. What mercies ought we to be thankful for? Anfw. Both for temporal and spiritual; common and special mercies, Pfal. cxlv. o. Quest. 76. What is the best evidence of thankfulness to God, for his mercies of any kind?

Anfw.

2 Cor. ix. 15-Ouest. 77. When ought we to make thankful acknowledgment to God for his mercies?

Answ. At all times, and on all occasions; there being no condition of life, but what has some mixture of mercy in it, lob xi. 6. Pfal. ci. 1.

Quest. 78. Is there ground of thankfulness under afflictions or chastisements ?

Anfw. Though no chaftening for the prefent be joyous, but grievous : nevertheless it is ground of thankfulness, if afterward it yieldeth the peaceable fruit of right eou fness, and be for our profit, that we may be partakers of his holiness, Heb. xii. 11. 10.

Quelta 79. Why ought prayer to be joined, with a thankful acknowledgment of God's mercies ?

Answ. That the mercies we receive may be bleffed to us in the use of them; and that we may not, by our ingratitude, provoke God to deny us the mercies we may ask for the future, If. i. 15.

Quest. 80. How may we know if our prayers are accepted and beard?

Anfw. If we have been helped to enlargement and importunity in prayer, and yet have attained to a holy submission to the will of God, as to the particular we were asking, it is a good evidence that he has heard the voice of our supplication, 2 Chron. xx. 12. 17.

Quest. 81. How may we know whether mercies come to us in the course of common providence, or as an answer of prayer? Answ. This may be known both from the manner, and from the time, in which mercies are received.

Quest. 82. How may it appear from the manner in which mercies are received, that they are in answer to our prayers?

Anfw. It may be known by these two signs, namely, if the mercy is granted speedily and unexpectedly, If. lxv. 24.; and if other mercies are conferred together with, and over and above that which we defired, I Kings iii. 12. 13.

Quest. 83. How may it be known from the time in which mercies are received, that they are given in return of prayer? Answ. If they are granted at the time when we need them most, or at the time when we are most earnest and importunate about them; as Poter's deliverance from prison was on PART II.

the very night, which Herod had determined, should be his laft; and likewife when the church was affembled to wrestle in prayer for him. Acts xii. 6. 7. 12. Quest. 84. Why doth the Lord delay mercies, which he defigns afterward to confer?

Answ. He delays granting them, that we may be the more thankful for them when they come; and in the mean time to make us more affiduous and ardent fupplicants for them. 2 Cor. xii. 8. o.

99. QUEST. What rule bath God given for our direction in prayer?

Answ. The whole word of God is of use to direct us in prayer; but the special rule of direction, is that form of prayer which Christ taught his disciples, commonly called, The Lord's prayer.

Quest. 1. Why do we need [direction] in prayer?

Answ. Because man is naturally a stranger, both to God and himfelf, being ignorant both of the glorious perfections of God, Rom. iii. 11. and of his own fins and wants. Rev. iii. 17.

Quest. 2. From whence are we to take direction in prayer? Answ. From [ the whole word of God ], which [ is of use to direct us therein.

Quest. 3. Is every part of the word of equal use for our direction in prayer?

Anfw. Though " all things in the scripture are not alike " plain in themselves, nor alike clear unto all *;" yet there is no part of the word, from whence an intelligent person, in a due use of the ordinary means, may not gather something that may be proper matter either for petition, confession, or thankfgiving in prayer, 1 John v. 14.

Quest. 4. Of what use in prayer, are the fins which we read in scripture, that other churches before us have been guilty of, and the judgments which have been inflifted for the fame?

Confession, Chap. i. $ 7.

Anfw. They are of use to direct us to pray, that the Lord would keep his church and people, in the day wherein we live, from running into the fame fnares, and thereby expofing themselves to the same judgments, I Cor. x. 11.

Quest, c. Of what use in prayer are the doctrines of the word in general?

Answ. They are of use to instruct us in the principles of religion, or chain of divine truth; without fome knowledge whereof, it is impossible to pray to the edification, either of ourselves or others, Rom, x, 14.

Quest. 6. Of what use is the dostrine of the bleffed Trinity.

in particular, for our direction in prayer?

Anfw. It is of fingular use to point out the method, in which we are to hope for the bleffings we pray for, namely, from the Father, through Christ, by the Spirit, according to Eph. ii. 18. Through him [that is, through Christ], we have an access by one Spirit unto the Father.

Quest. 7, Of what use are the offices of Christ for our direction in prayer?

Answ. They are of use to direct us to pray, that of God he may be made unto us wisdom, as a prophet; righteousness, as a prieft; fanctification, as a king; and complete redemption, as being all the three in one person, I Cor. i. 30.

Quest. 8. Of what use are the promises for this end?

Answ. They contain the very matter of prayer; and the pleading of them, by faith, is also the right manner in which the duty should be performed. James i. 6.

Quest. o. What is [the special rule of direction] for the duty of prayer?

Answ. It is I that form of prayer which Christ taught his disciples, commonly called, THE LORD'S PRAYER ].

Quest. 10. Why is this called [the special rule] of direction? Answ. Because there is not any one portion of scripture. where the petitory part of prayer, is fo comprehensively, and methodically laid down, as in the Lord's prayer.

Quest. 11. Could Christ use this prayer for himself?

Anfw. No: he could not put up the fifth petition, Forgive us our debts; because he had no sins of his own to forgive, being Separate from sinners, Heb. vii. 26. Quest. 12. Why then is it [commonly called the LORD's Quest. 14. What is the difference between a form and a pattern of prayer?

Anlw. A form of prayer, is a certain mode of expression. which must be used without the least variation whereas a pattern is only a directory as to the matter, leaving to the Suppliant himself to clothe his desires with such words, as are most adapted to his present circumstances. Close by

Oueft. 15. Why then is the Lord's prayer called, in the anfwer. THAT FORM of prayer which Christ taught his difciples ??

Anfw. Because the words of this prayer, " may be nied " as a prayer" to God, equally with other feriptures, " fo " that it be done with understanding, faith, reverence, and " other graces necessary to the right performance of the duty " of prayer *."

Quest. 16. How doth it appear, that this prayer is not defigned for a form, to the precise words whereof, Christ's difcitles and followers are to be tied firitly down, in all after Answ. This plainly appears, from its not containing, expressly, all the parts of prayer; and from its not being related by Matthew and Luke in the fame manner.

Quest. 17. What are those parts of prayer, which are not expressly contained in the Lord's prayer?

Anfiv. They are the confession of our fins, and the thankful acknowledgment of God's mercies; neither of which are in express terms, but by consequence only, contained in the faid prayer. Toward ah

Quest. 18. From what part of this prayer may confession of fins be deduced?

Anftu, From the fifth petition: for, when we pray, Forgive us our debts, we, by confequence, confess that we have dehts to be forgiven.

Larger Cat. Queft. 187.

Quest. 19. How is a thankful acknowledgment of mercies included in the Lord's prayer? In . The comment of the lord's Anjw. When we pray, Hullowed be thy name, we, of confequence, make a thankful acknowledgment of all theknown inflances, wherein God's name has been glorified; and when we pray, Give us this day our daily bread, we, upon the matter, acknowledge the bounty of his providence, which has hitherto to kindly upplied our wants.

Quest. 20. How do the evangelists Matthew and Luke differ, as to the manner in which they relate this prayer?

Anjou. Though there be a perfect harmony betwist them, as to the fenfe or matter of the prayer; yet there is found difference as to the mode of exprellion, particularly in the fourth and fifth petitions.

Queft, 2: How do they differ in the fourth petition?

Answ. Matthew has it, Give us this day our daily bread, chap. xi. 11.; Luke, Give us day by day our daily bread, chap. xi. 3.

Quest. 22. What is the meaning of give us this day?

Quest. 23. What is imported in give us day by day?

Answ. The expression imports, that the wants, which need to be supplied, will daily recur.

Quest. 24. How do the two evangelists differ, as to their manner of expressing the fifth petition?

Anfw. Matthew fays, Forgive us our debts, as we forgive our debtors, chap. vi. 12.; Luke expresses it, Forgive us our fint, as we forgive every one that is indebted to us, chap. xi.

Quest. 25. How do they differ as to the conclusion ?

Answ. Matthew has it; Luke leaves it out.

Quest. 26. What is the argument from all this, against the Lord's prayer, being designed for a set form?

Anfav. The argument is, that if it had been defigned for a fet form, the two evangelists would have expressed it in the same very words, without the least variation.

Quest. 27. What argument is there from the practice of the apostles against its being a fet form?

Anfw. That though feveral prayers of theirs are recorded in the New Testament, yet none of them use the express words of the Lord's prayer.

Quest. 28. Would it not feem that this prayer is commanded to be used as a form, from our Lord's prefixing these words to it, When ye pray, say, Our Father, Ge. Luke xi. 2.?

Anjo. No more can be intended by this expression take, When ye pray, say, than what is meant in the parallel place, Math. vi. 6. AFTER THIS MANNER pray ye: namely, to use the Lord's prayer as a directory, otherwise Luke's form, and not Matthew's, should be followed.

Quest. 29. May none, at any rate, use set forms, however found?

Anju. If fet forms are found, or agreeable to the will of God, they may be used by children, or fuch as are weak in knowledge, till they acquire some insight in the principles of religion; and then they ought to be laid aside, and extemporary prayer practifed and improved.

Quest. 30. But may not they, who are weak in knowledge, read found forms, as their prayers to God?

India, No, they ought to repeat them, because the committing of them to memory, will tend to imprint the matter of them more deeply upon the mind, than the bare reading can possible do: besides, there is not the least shadow of an example in scripture, for reading prayers to God on any account whatsoever.

Quest. 31. Why is the continued practice of fet forms unwarrantable?

Anfw. Because the case and circumstance of the church in general, and every member thereof in particular, is so exceeding various, that it is impossible any fet form can correspond thereunto. Moreover, the continued practice of a fet form, as it is an encouraging of soft, so it is an overlooking the aid of the Spirit, whose office it is to help our infirmities, when we know not what we should pray for as we ought, Som viis, 260.

Quest. 32. " Of bow many parts doth the Lord's prayer

st confift ?"

Anjw. "The Lord's prayer consists of three parts, a pre-"face, petitions, and a conclusion. ""

100. QUEST. What doth the preface of the Lord's prayer teach us?

Answ. The preface of the Lord's prayer (which is, Our Father which art in heaven) teacheth us to draw near to God with all holy reverence and confidence, as children to a Father, able and ready to help us; and that we should pray with, and for others.

Quest. 1. In what words is the [preface] of the Lord's prayer contained?

Anfw. It is contained in these words. Four Father which art in heaven].

Quest. 2. What is the end and design of this preface?

Answ. It is to give us a directory how to invocate or address the true object of all religious worship.

Ouest. 4. What is it to invocate or address God in prayer? Anfw. It is, in a believing and reverential manner, to make mention of fome of his names, titles, or attributes, in a fuitableness to the nature of the duty, in which we are engaged; as in I Kings viii. 23. Dan. ix. 4.

Quest. 4. Whom do we invocate, or call upon, when we address the [FATHER]?

Anfw. We invocate the Three-one-God; because, though each person of the Trinity be the object of worship, 2 Cor. xiii. 14.; yet when any one of these adorable persons is addreffed, we are, in our minds, to include the other two; in regard the very fame divine nature and effence is in them all. Chron. xxix. 10.

Quest. 5. Why are we directed to address the Three-one-

God, as a Father? Answ. To teach us that the object of true and acceptable worship is a reconciled God, Pfal. cxxx. 4.

Quest. 6. In what respect is God called a Father with reference to men?

Anfw. He is called a Father, with reference to them, either in respect of creation, external covenant-relation, or the grace of adoption.

Quest. 7. To whom is he a Father in respect of creation? Anfw. In this respect he is a Father to all mankind in general, Mal. ii. 10.

Queft. 8.

Quest. 8. To whom is he a Father in respect of external infw. To all the members of the visible church, or such as profess the true religion and their children, 2 Cor. vi. 18.

Quest. 9. To whom is he a Father in respect of the grace of adoption?

adoption?

Anjw. To believers only, or fuch as are the children

God by faith in Christ Jefus, Gal. iii. 26.

Quest. 10. May not every one who hears the gospel warrantably cry unto God, My Father, according to Jer. iii. 4.?

Anjw. No doubt but it is their duty to do fo, upon the call and command of God; but none will actually do it in faith, but they into whose hearts God hath fent forth the Spirit of his Son, Gal, iv. 6.

Quest. 11. What are we taught, when we are directed to invocate God in prayer, by the title of Father?

Answ. We are hereby taught, [to draw near to God-as ebildren to a Father].

Quest. 12. In what manner should God's children draw

Anfw. \ \ IVith all boly reverence and confidence \.

Quest, 13. Why called [holy] reverence?

Answ. To distinguish it from that dutiful regard and refpect which children owe to their parents by the dictates of nature's light.

Quest. 14. Wherein confifts the nature of this [ holy reverence ?

Anfw. It confifts in a most profound inward efteem of God as a Father, accompanied with "other child-like dispositions", becoming that relation, If. lxiv. 9.

Quest. 15. What are these other child-like dispositions which accompany the reverence wherewith God's children approach unto him?

Anfw. Among others, there are patience under his rebukes, Mic. vii. 9.; obedience to his commands, Acts ix. 6.; and a fervent zeal for his honour and glory, Mal. i. 6.

Queft. 16. What is that [confidence] which God's children bave in him as their Father?

Anfw. It is that entire trust they repose in him, as [able and ready to help] them.

Quest, 17. Whence are they persuaded of his ability and readiness to help them?

Answ. From his all-sufficiency, Luke xi. 13. and boundless liberality, Pfal. lxxxiv. 11: as laid out in the promise for their behoof.

Quest, 18. What help doth he afford them?

Answ: Such a help as to do ALL; for it is God that worketh in us, both to will and to do of his good pleafure, Phil, ii.

Quest. 10. Why are we directed to address our Father [IN FEAVENT?

Anfw. To teach us to draw near to him, with "heavenly " affections, Lam. iii. 41. and due apprehensions of his fo-" vereign power, majesty, and gracious condescension, It. " lxiii. 15. 16. *"

Quest. 20. What doth the consideration of his being in heaven more particularly teach us?

Anlw. It teacheth us from whence to expect our bleffings and benefits, and likewife the manner in which we ought to address God for them.

Quest, 21. From whence are we to expect our bleffings? Anhi. From above. Jam. i. 17. because they are in beavenly places, Eph. i. 3.

Quest. 22. Why are our bleffings faid to be in heavenly places ?

Answ. Because their original is from thence, and there will the full enjoyment of them at last be, Pfal. xvi. 11.

Quest. 23. What doth the consideration of God's being in heaven teach us, with reference to the manner in which we ought to address him for our bleffings?

Answ. It teacheth us to be modest, humble, and cautious, in our conceptions of, and applications to him; as being a God of fuch inconceivable greatness, and glorious majesty, Eccl. v. 2. Be not rash with thy mouth, and let not thine heart be hafty to utter any thing before God: for God is in heaven, and thou upon earth, therefore let thy words be few.

Quest. 24. Whom doth the relative pronoun four, in the preface, refer unto?

Anfw. It refers both to ourfelves and others.

&quot; Larger Cat. Queft 150. PART II.

Quest. 25. What is the import of it as it refers to our-

Answ. When we are directed to say Four Father], it imports the faith and confidence we are warranted to express in him, as standing in such an amiable relation,

Quest. 26. Upon what grounds are we warranted to express our faith and confidence in him, as standing in the amiable relation of our Father?

Answ. Upon the ground of his being the God and Father of our Lord Telus Christ, Eph. i. 3.; and upon the ground of our new-covenant Head calling him my Father, in the name of all his spiritual seed, Pfal. lxxxix, 26. He shall cry unto me. Thou art MY FATHER.

Quest. 27. What do these words, our Father, import, as they have a respect unto others?

Answ. They import, I that we should pray with, and for athers ].

Quest. 28. What is it to pray [with] others? Answ. It is to be the mouth of others to God, or to join with them in family or focial worship.

Quest. 20. What is it to pray [for] others?

Answ. It is to express our concern about them, or our sympathy with them before God, as fincerely and ingenuously, as we would do with reference to ourselves, were we in the fame circumstances, Pfal. xxxv. 13.

Quest. 30. Who are these [others] we should pray for?

Answ. We should pray for all men, I Tim. ii 1.; yea, for them which despitefully use us, and persecute us, Matth. v. 44.; but especially for all faints, Eph. vi. 18.

Quest. 31. Why have all the faints a special claim to our pravers?

Aufw. Because they are the special favourites of Heaven. John xv. o.; and therefore the very butt of the keenest refentment of hell, I Pet. v. 8.

101. QUEST. What do we pray for in the first petition?

Answ. In the first petition, (which is, Haltowed be thy name), we pray, That God would enable us and others to glorify him in all that whereby

whereby he maketh himfelf known; and that he would difpose all things to his own glory.

Quest. 1. What is the meaning of the word [petition]?

Answ. It fignifies asking or defiring of any thing.

Quest. 2. How many petitions are there in the Lord's prayer?

Answ. There are fix.

Quest. 3. In what order are these six petitions ranged?

Answ. The three first bear a more immediate respect unto Quest. 4. What are we taught by this order of ranking the petitions ?

Anfw. Hereby we are taught, first to pray for what concerns the glory of God, as being the highest and most valuable end; and then for what respects our own advantage, as being only subordinate thereunto, Matth. vi. 33.

Quest. 5. Which is the first of these petitions?

Answ. It is in these words, [Hallowed be thy name].

Quest. 6. What is signified by the [name] of God in this petition?

Answ. It is explained in the answer to be, Fall that whereby he maketh himself known].

Quest. 7. What is our duty with reference to this name of God?

Answ. It is to pray that it may be [hallowed].

Quest. 8. What is the meaning of the word HALLOWED? An'w. It is explained in the answer to be the same with glorified: when we pray, Hallowed he thy name, we pray that God himself may be glorified.

Quest. 9. By whom should we pray that God's name may be hallowed or glorified?

Anfw. We should pray, that his name may be glorified by himself; and likewise that he [would enable us and others to glorify him].

Quest. 10. What do we mean, when we pray that God's name may be glorified by himfelf?

Anjw. We mean, that he would be pleafed daily to demonstrate it more and more to the worldy, to be what it really is, most holy and most glorious, so as to excite that adoration and efteem which is due to him; for, says he, I will be fanclified in them that come nigh me, and before all the people will I be glorified, Lev. x. 3.

Quest. 11. Where doth he thus demonstrate the glory of his own name?

Answ. In his word; and by his works, both of creation and providence, particularly by the glorious device of redemption. Ouest, 12. What do we acknowledge, when we pray, that God would enable us and others to glorify him?

Answ. We thereby acknowledge " the utter inability and " indisposition, that is in ourselves and all men, to honour " God aright, 2 Cor. iii. 5. *"

Quest, 13. What is requisite in order to our honouring God aright?

Answ. In order hereunto, it is requisite that we diligently attend to the feveral ways, whereby God [maketh himfelf known], fuch as, his attributes, ordinances, word, and works; and fee if we are studying to glorify him in all these.

Quest. 14. How do we glorify him in his attributes, or perfections ?

Anfw. When we think or fpeak of them, with becoming reverence, and endeavour to exercise suitable acts of faith upon them; fuch as, admiring his wisdom, depending on his power, and trufting to his faithfulness, that he will do as he has faid.

Quest. 15. How do we glorify him in his ordinances?

Anfw. When we attend upon them, and improve them for our spiritual nourishment, and growth in grace, Psal. lxxxiv. 10.

Quest. 16. How do we glorify him in his word?

Answ. When we believe it as the record of God, John xx.

Quest. 17. How do we glorify him in his work of creation? Anfw. When we take up and admire his eternal power and Godhead, as shining therein, Rom. i. 20.

Quest. 18. How do we glorify him in his works of providence?

Answ. When we have a grateful sense of his mercies, Gen. xxxii. 10. and tremble at his judgments, Pfal. exix. 120.

Larger Cat. Queft. 190.

Quest. 19. How do we honour him in his glorious device of redemption?

Anfw. When we receive and rest upon Christ alone for falvation, as he is offered to us in the gospel, Acts xv. 11. Quest. 20. What do we mean, when we pray that God.

would enable [OTHERS] to glorify him, as well as our felves?

Answ. We thereby in effect pray, that the earth may be full of the knowledge of the Lord, as the waters cover the fea. If, xi. o.: that fo from the uttermest part of the earth may be heard fongs, even glory to the Righteous, chap. xxiv. 16.

Quest, 21. What are these things we should pray God would prevent and remove, that his name may be glorified?

Answ. We should pray, "that he would prevent and re-" move Atheifm, ignorance, idolatry, and whatever is dif-

" honourable to him *." Quest. 22. What should we pray God would do, in the course of his providence, for glorifying his own name? Anfw. [That he would dispose all things to his own glory].

Queft, 23. How doth God dispose all things to his own glory?

Answ. By bringing a revenue of glory to himself, even out of these things that seem most opposite thereunto, If. xliii. 20.

Quest. 24. What are these seemingly opposite things, out of which God brings a revenue of glory to himfelf?

Anfw. Amongst others, there are persecutions, and the falls of believers.

Quest. 25. How doth he bring a revenue of glory to himfelf out of perfecutions?

Anfw. By over-ruling them to the furtherance of the gofpel, Acts xi. 10. 20. 21.

Quest. 26. How doth he bring glory to himself out of the falls of believers?

Anfw. By over-ruling their falls and miscarriages in such manner, as that hereby they are made more humble, watchful, and circumspect, for the future, Pfal. li. 3.

102. QUEST. What do we pray for in the fecond petition?

Answ. In the fecond petition, (which is, Thy kingdom come), we pray, That Satan's kingdom may be destroyed; and that the kingdom of grace may be advanced, ourselves and others brought into it, and kept in it; and that the kingdom of glory may be hastened.

Quest. 1. How manifold is God's [kingdom] in this world?
Mnfw. TwoFOLD; namely, his general, effential, or providential kingdom; and his focial kingdom.

Quest. 2. What is his general kingdom?

Anfiv. It is the absolute power and sovereignty which he exercises over all things in heaven, earth, and hell, for the purposes of his own glory, Psal. ciii. 19.—His kingdom ruleth over all.

Quest. 3. What is his special kingdom?

N/w. It is the government and care which he exercises in and over his church and people, as a society distinct from the rest of the world, Pfal. lix. 13.—God ruleth in Jacob unto the ends of the earth.

Queft. 4. Into whose hands is the management of God's special kingdom committed?

Anfw. Into the hands of Christ as Mediator, Psal. ii. 6. Quest. 5. How is this kingdom, as committed into his hands, usually called?

Anfw. His mediatory, or donative kingdom.

Quest. 6. Why called his mediatory kingdom?

Anfw. Because he holds it as Mediator, Luke xxii. 29.

Quelt. 7. Why called his donative kingdom?

Annu. Because it is given him of the Father as a reward of his meritorious obedience and fuffering, Matth. xxviii. 18.; and to diffinguish it from his effential kingdom.

Quest. 8. May his essential kingdom be Jaid to be given him?

Anfw. By no means: because it is natural to him as God equal with the Father; and can no more be given him, than his divine nature and personality can.

Quest. 9. What are we directed to pray in this petition, with reference to God's kingdom in general?

Anfw. That it may COME: [Thy kingdom come].

Quest. 10,

Quest. 10. In what sense may we pray for the coming of his effential kingdom?

Answ. Only in this sense, that he would more and more demonstrate his supreme power and sovereignty over all things; and that the fame may be more and more acknowledged by the children of men. Pfal. lxxxiii. 18.

Quest. II. Would it be warrantable for us to pray, that he would govern the world, or actually exercise his supreme power?

Answ. It would be no more warrantable to pray for this. than to pray that he would be an infinite Sovereign, which he cannot but be; and act agreeable to his nature, which he cannot but do.

Quest. 12. Whether is it the coming of God's general or special kingdom that is chiefly intended in the answer?

Answ. It is the coming of his special kingdom of grace here, and of glory hereafter. Quest, 12. Are the kingdoms of grace and glory different kingdoms? Answ. They are not so much different kingdoms, as different STATES in the fame kingdom; according to the common maxim, Grace is glory begun, and glory is grace confummated, or in perfection.

Quest. 14. How may the kingdom of grace, in this world.

be viewed? Answ. Either as to outward dispensation, or inward operation? Quest. 15. What is it as to outward dispensation?

Answ. It is just the preaching of the gospel, Mark i. 14. - Jesus came-preaching the gospel of the kingdom of God.

Quest. 16. What is it as to inward operation?

Answ. It is the work of faving grace in the foul, Luke xvii. 21. Behold, the kingdom of God is within you Quest. 17. Why called [the kingdom of grace]?

Answ. Because the gathering of sinners into this kingdom. for their falvation, is of grace, both as to the means and end, Eph. ii. 8.

Queit. 18. What do we pray for, with reference to the kingdom of grace, when we say, Thy kingdom come?

Answ. We do not pray that it may be erected as a new thing in the world, but that it may be [advanced] therein. Quest. 19. Why should we not pray, that Christ's kingdom of grace may be erected, or fet up as a new thing in the world?

Answ. Because this would be, in effect, to deny that Christ had ever a church on this earth; whereas it is most certain, that ever fince the first promise, he has always had a church therein, and will have it unto the end of time. If. lix. 21.

Ouest, 20. But is it not our duty to pray, that the kingdon of grace may be fet up in these parts of the world where it is not at prefent?

Anfw. To be fure it is: for we should pray, That the word of the Lord may have free course, and be glorified, 2 Theff. iii. 1.; and that the earth may be full of the knowledge of the Lord, as the waters cover the fea, If. xi. o.; which is the same with praying, That the kingdom of grace may be advanced.

Quest. 21. What should we pray for as pre-requisite to the advancing of the kingdom of grace?

Anfw. In order hereunto we should pray, [That Satan's kingdom may be destroyed .

Quest. 22. What is the meaning of the name SATAN? Answ. It is an Hebrew word, fignifying an adversary; as indeed the devil is an implacable advertary, burning with hatred and enmity, both against God, and therefore called bis enemy, Matth. xiii. 25.; and against man, 1 Pet. v. 8 .-Your adversary the devil, as a roaring lion, walketh about fecking whom he may devour.

. Quest. 23. What do you understand by [Satan's kingdom]? Anfw. That power and dominion which he usurps over mankind-finners, who are by nature lawful captives, If.

Quest. 24. If sinners of mankind are by nature lawful captives, how can Satan's dominion over them be faid to be usurped? Anfw. Though they be justly delivered into his hands, as a jailor, yet he has no right to rule over them as a prince. Quest. 25. Do they not voluntarily subject themselves to his Anfw. Yes: and this is both their fin and their judgment, John viii. 44.

Quest. 26. What is the principal feat of Satan's kingdom?

Anfwo

Antw. The HEART of every man and woman by nature. Eph. ii. 2.

Quest, 27. What is the foundation and bulwark of this king-Anfw. SIN, both original and actual, Eph. ii. 3.

Quest. 28. What should we pray for, with reference to this kingdom of Satan? Answ. That it [may be destroyed].

Quest. 29. Why should we pray for the destruction of this kingdom?

Anfw. Because the work of grace cannot take place, nor fucceed in the foul, but upon the ruins of Satan's interest in it. Luke xi. 21, 22.

Quest. 30. How then is Satan's kingdom destroyed in the morld ?

Answ. By the advancement of the kingdom of grace there-222-Quest. 31. When may the kingdom of grace be faid to be fadvanced? Answ. When Fourselves and others are brought into it, and kept in it 7. Quest. 32. How are we and others [brought] into this kingdom ?

Answ. By the gracious influences of the Spirit of God, accompanying the difpensation of the gospel with irrefishible power, Pfal. cx. 2. 3.

Quest. 33. How are we and others [kept] in it?

Answ. By continued emanations of grace out of the fulness of Christ, whereby the principle of grace is quickened, strengthened, and preserved. Hos. xiv. c.

Quest. 24. What should we pray for, as the means of bringing into this kingdom?

Anfw. We should pray, " that the gosped may be propa-" gated throughout the world, the Jews called, the fulness " of the Gentiles brought in; that the ordinances of Christ " may be purely difpenfed, and made effectual to the con-" verting of those that are yet in their fins. ""

Quest. 35. What should we pray for as means of being kept in it?

Anfw. That the same ordinances may be effectual to the.

Quest. 36. Can any subject of this kingdom ever apostatize from it?

Anfw. No: they are kept by the power of God through faith unto falvation, 1 Pet. i. 5.

Quest. 37. Why then should we pray to be kept in it?

Answ. Because perseverance, being a promised privilege, should, on that account, be prayed for, Pfal. cxix. 28.—Strengthen thou me according to thy word.

Quest. 38. What fecurity have the faints that they shall be kept in this kingdom?

dn/m. They have the flability of the promife, Jer. xxxii. 40.; the efficacy of Christ's obedience to the death in their stead, Eph. v. 25. 27.; the prevalency of his intercession, John xvii. 24.; and the inhabitation of his Spirit, Rom. viii. 11. for their security in this matter.

Quest. 30. What is [the kingdom of glory]?

Anfw. It is that state of inconceivable happiness and bliss into which the faints shall be brought after death, John xiv.

Quest. 40. Wherein will the [glory] of this kingdom con-

Anfw. At the fecond coming of Christ to judgment,

Matth. xxv. 31. 34.

Quest. 42. What are we to pray for with reference to this kingdom?

Anfw. That it [may be hastened].

Quest. 43. When we pray that it may be [hastened], do we mean, that the fet time for the fecond coming of Christ may be anticipated, or come soner than the moment fixed for it in infinite wisdom?

Anfw. No: we wish it no fooner, but only express our ardent desire to depart, and to be with Christ, which is far better than to be hereaway, Phil. i. 23.

Quest. 44. Why do the faints fo earnestly desire to be with Christ in glory? Answ. That an eternal period may be put to all their finning, and to every thing that has a tendency to detract from the glory of his kingdom, and the happiness of his subjects:

wherefore, as he faith, Surely I come quickly; fo they pray, Amen, even fo, come Lord Fefus, Rev. xxii. 20.

103. QUEST. What do we pray for in the third petition?

Answ. In the third petition (which is, Thy will be done on earth, as it is in heaven), we pray, That God, by his grace, would make us able and willing to know, obey, and fubmit to his will in all things, as the angels do in heaven.

Quest. 1. How manifold is the [will] of God?

Anfw. TWOFOLD: his will of purpose, or disposing will;

and his will of precept, or revealed will.

Quest. 2. What is his will of purpose, or disposing will? Anfw. It is what he himself proposes to be done, as the final determination of the event of things, lf. xlvi. 10 .-My counsel shall stand, and I will do all my pleasure.

Quest. 3. How is this will commonly called?

Answ. It is called his will of providence, because he infallibly brings it about, or accomplishes it, in the course of his adorable providence, Pfal. cxxxv. 6.

Quest. 4. What is God's will of precept, or his revealed will?

Anfw. It is the rule of our duty, prescribing what he would have us to do, or not to do, Matth. xxvi. 39 .- 0 my Father, if it be possible, let this cup pass from me: nevertheless not as I will, but as thou wilt.

Quest. 5. Whether is it God's will of purpose or precept that is meant in this petition?

Anfw. Both are included, but chiefly his will of precept. Questi 6. When we fay, Thy will be done; what do we pray for, with reference to God's will of purpose?

Anfwe M m 2

Anfw. We pray [that God, by his grace, would make we had willing to—fubmit] thereto, and acquiefte therein, to foon as it is discovered or made known unto us, Acle xai. 14. And when he would not be perfuaded, we crafed, faying, The will of the Lord be done.

Quest. 7. What doth our praying for fubmission to God's will of purpose or providence, necessarily imply in it?

Answ. It implies that we are "by nature—prone to repine "and murmur against his providence"," especially in afflicting dispensations, Numb. xiv. 2.

Quest. 8. When do we submit to afflicting dispensations?

Answ. When we justify God in them, Dan ix. 7.; and acknowledge that he hath punished us less than our iniquities deserve, Ezra ix. 13.

Quest. Q. What do we pray for, when we pray that God's will of precept may be done?

Anfw. We pray, that God, by his grace, would make us able and willing [to know and obey] the fame.

Quest. 10. Why do we pray that God would [make us able and willing ] to know and obey his revealed will?

Anfu. Becaufe, "by nature, we, and all men, are not only utterly unable and unwilling to know and do the "will of God; but prone to rebel against his word,—and wholly inclined to do the will of the flesh, and of the devil +?"

Ouest. 11. Why do we pray that God would make us able and willing [by his grace]?

Anfw. Because it is whosly of his free love and sovereign grace, that he worketh in us either to will or to do, Phil. ii. 13. It is God which worketh in you, both to will and to do of his good pleasure.

Oueft. 12. What do we pray for, when we pray that God would make us able and willing to [know] his revealed will?

Anfw. We pray, that, by his Spirit, he would take away our natural blindness, and open our understanding, that we may understand the scriptures, Luke xxiv. 45.

Quest, 13. What do we pray for, when we pray that God would make us able and willing to [obey] his will?

Answ. We pray, that he would remove the weakness, indisposedness, and perverseness of our hearts; and, by his grace, incline us to fet about, and keep up the practice of every commanded duty, in the strength of that furniture which is fecured in the promife, Ezek. xxxvi. 27. I will cause you to walk in my flatutes. 2 Cor. xii. 9. And he faid unto me. My grace is fufficient for thee: for my frength is made perfect in weaknels.

Quest. 14. Why is knowing the will of God mentioned before the obeying of it?

Answ. Because there can be no true acceptable obedience, but what flows from that faving knowledge, which is inseparable from the faith of God's operation, John xiii. 17. If we know thefe things, happy are ye if ye do them.

Quest. 15. Where should we defire that the will of God may be done?

Anfw. We should defire that it may The done on earth], by all persons, and in all places thereon, Pfal. cl. 6. Quest. 16. In what things flould we pray that the will of God may be done on earth? Anfw. We should pray that it may be done in fall things ].

Pfal. cxix. 6.

Quest. 17. Why in ALL THINGS?

Anfw. Because we may be quite sure, that God's will, both of precept and providence, is perfectly, or in every respect, equal and just, Ezek. xviii. 25.

Quest. 18. Whom should we resemble in our obedience? Answ. The holy angels: we should study to do the will of God [as the angels do in heaven].

Quest. 19. Can we know and obey the will of God as perfeetly on earth, as the angels do in heaven?

Anfw. No: but we should copy after them, as to the manner of their obedience. Quest. 20. What is it to copy after them as to the manner of their obedience? Anfw. It is to effay obedience " with the like humility, 64 cheerfulness, faithfulness, diligence, zeal, fincerity, and

" constancy, as the angels do in heaven "."

104. QUEST. What do we pray for in the fourth petition?

Answ. In the fourth petition, (which is, Give us this day our daily bread), we pray, That, of God's free gift, we may receive a competent portion of the good things of this life, and enjoy his bleffing with them.

Quest. 1. What doth our Catechism mean by [bread] in this petition?

Answ. It explains it to be [the good things of this life].

Quest. 2. What do you understand by the good things of this life?

Anfw. Not only meat and drink; but clothes to cover us, houses to shelter us, sleep to refresh us, and the like; which are called things needful to the body, James ii. 16.

Quest. 3. May not spiritual mercies, or food to our fouls, be intended by the bread here mentioned?

Anfw. No: the petition respects temporal mercies, or the Quest. 4. How do you prove, that the good things of this life, and not spritual mercies, are intended in this petition?

Answ. From the completeness and compendiculiness of the Anju. From the competents and compensation to the Lord's prayer: for, it cannot be supposed, that, in a prayer for compete, the good things of this life would be quite omitted; of, that in a prayer for compensations, spiritual mercies would, without necessity, be repeated in this petition, when the other petitions are fo full of them.

Quest. 5. Why are these good things called by the general name of BREAD?

Answ. Because, though bread be the most common, yet it is the most useful and necessary support of natural life; and therefore called the staff, or stay of bread, Is. iii. 1.

Quest. 6, Why called [daily] bread?

Anjw. Both because our need of the supports of nature recurs daily; and likewise to teach us contentment with our present allowance in providence, Phil. 11. 11.

Quest. 7. What quantity of daily bread, or of the good things of this life, may we lawfully pray for?

Anfw. For a [competent portion] of them.

Quest. 8. What is meant by a competent portion?

Answ. Such a measure of temporal comforts, as our neceffities

reflities may require, or will tend to our good, Prov. xxx. 8. -Give me neither poverty nor riches; feed me with food conpenient for me.

Quest. o. What is imported in our praying, that God would [give] us this competent portion?

Anfw. It imports our defire to receive it [of God's free sift 7.

Ouest. 10. What do we acknowledge, when we pray to receive temporal comforts of God's free gift?

Anfw. We thereby acknowledge, " that in Adam, and " by our own fin, we have forfeited our right to all the out-" ward bleffings of this life, and deferve to be wholly depri-" ved of them by God "."

Quest, II. How doth it appear, that we have, by fin, forfeited our right to outward bleffings?

Anfw. It appears from this, that we have thereby forfeited our life itself, Gen. ii. 17.; and therefore, by necessary consequence, all the supports of it, Jer. v. 25.

Quest. 12. Why do we fay [Give us THIS day]?

Anfw. Because if God shall be pleased to afford us the neceffary fupplies of each day, when it comes, we ought not to be anxiously folicitous about to-morrow, Matth. vi. 24. Quest. 13. May we not lawfully pray for what respects the future condition of ourselves, or families, in this world?

Answ. Yes: if God shall continue us, or them in life. then, in this case, we may lawfully beg of him, that neither we, nor they, may ever be destitute of what is necessary for our glorifying God, in the respective stations, wherein he has, or may place us while in it, Gen. xxviii, 20, 21, 22,

Quest. 14. Doth God's giving us our daily bread, exclude the use of means for the obtaining of it?

Answ. No: for if any provide not for his own, and specially for those of his own house, he hath denied the faith, and is worse than an infidel, I Tim. v. 8.

Quest. 15. May we not then ascribe our daily bread to our own diligence and industry?

Anfw. No: because it is God who gives us ability to purfue our respective callings, and it is he who succeeds our lawful endeavours in them, Deut, viii. 17. 13 .- Thou falt remember the Lord thy God; for it is he that giveth thee power to get wealth.

Quest. 16. Why do we fay, Give us [our] daily bread? why do we call it QURS?

Anfw. Because whatever measure or proportion of outward bellings, God, in his providence, thinks fit we should receive, is properly ours, whether it be more or lefs, 1 Tim. vi. 8. Having food and raiment, let us therewith be content.

Quest. 17. Since both the godly and the wicked have their daily provision from God; what difference is there as to the manner, in which the one and the other hold their outward comforts?

Anfw. There is a wide difference as to the manner in which the godly and the wicked hold their outward comforts, whether we confider their respective right and title; their present enigment; or their future expectation.

Quest, 18. What is the difference as to their respective right and title?

Anfw. The wicked bave only a civil and common right; but the godly have, besides this, a spiritual and covenant right also. I Tim. iv. 8.

Quest. 10. What is the difference as to their prefent enjoyment?

Answ. The godly have God's blessing on what they prefently enjoy; but the wicked his curse. In this respect a little that a righteous man hath, is better than the riches of many wicked, Pial. xxxvii. 16.

Quest. 20. What is the difference as to their future expectation?

Anfw. The godly have the good things of this world, as pleages of the far better things of another; but the wicked have them as their whole pay; for they have their portion in this life, Pfal. xvii. 14.

Quest. 21. What should we pray for, in order to have the comfortable use of the good things of this life, which God may confer upon us?

Answ. That we may [enjoy his bleffing with them].

Quest. 22. Why is the bleffing of God necessary to all our outward comforts?

Anfw. Because without this, none of them could reach the end for which they are used: our food could not nourish is, nor our clothes warm us, nor medicines, however skilfully applied, give any relief from our ailments, Job xx. 22.

Quest. 23. Will God's bleffing make the meanest fare anfwer the end of comfortable nourisbment? Anfan. Yes: as is evident from the example of Daniel.

and the other three children of the captivity, who defired to be proven ten days, with no better cheer than pulse and water : -And at the end of ten days, their countenances appeared fairer and fatter in flesh, than all the children which did eat the cortion of the king's meat, Dan. i. 12. 15.

Quest, 24. Why do we pray in the plural number, Give Answ. To express a concern for the good things of this life to the rest of our fellow-creatures, as well as to ourselves. 1 Kings viii. 35 .- 40.

105. QUEST. What do we pray for in the fifth petition?

Answ. In the fifth petition (which is, And forgive us our debts, as we forgive our debtors), we pray, That God, for Christ's fake, would freely pardon all our fins; which we are the rather encouraged to ask, because, by his grace, we are enabled, from the heart, to forgive others.

Quest. 1. Why is this petition connected with the former. by the copulative particle [and]?

Answ. To teach us that we can have no outward comfort with God's bleffing, unless our fins are pardoned, and our perfons accepted in Christ, I Cor. iii. 22. 23.

Quest. 2. What are we to understand by [debts] in this petition ?

Anfav. By debts we are to understand our sins, whether original or actual, of omission or commission, Luke xi. 4.

Quest. 3. Why are these called debts?

Anfw. Because of the debt of punishment we owe to the ju-PART H.

288 flice of God, on account of them. Rom. vi. 23. The wages of fin is death. Quest. 4. Can we pay any part of this debt to the justice of God ?

Answ. No: " neither we, nor any other creature can " make the least fatisfaction" for it, Pfal. cxxx. 3. *; or pay the least farthing thereof, Matth. xviii. 25.

Quest. 5. What other debt are we naturally owing, befide the debt of punishment as transgressors?

Answ. We are likewise owing a debt of obedience to the law as a covenant; wherein we are also utterly insolvent, being unto every good work reprobate, Tit. i. 16.

Quest. 6. What are we to pray for, with reference to our fins or debts?

Anfw. [That God, for Christ's Take, would freely pardon them all ].

Quest. 7. Whose prerogative is it to pardon? Anfw. It is God's only, Mic. vii. 18.

Quest. 8. From what spring or fountain in God doth pardon flow?

Anfw. From his own gracious nature, Pfal. lxxxvi. c. and fovereign will, Exod, xxxiii, 10.

Quest. 9. What is it for God to [pardon]?

Answ. It is to " acquit us both from the guilt and pu-" nishment of sin, Rom. iii. 26. +"

Quest. 10. For whose fake doth he pardon?

Anfav. Only [ for Christ's fake].

Quest. 11. What is it for God to pardon for Christ's fake? Answ. It is to vent his pardoning grace " through the " obedience and fatisfaction of Chrift, apprehended and ap-" plied by faith, Rom. iii. 25. 1"

Quest. 12. Could God pardon fin, without any respect to the obedience and fatisfaction of Christ?

Answ. No: because justice behoved to be satisfied; for, without shedding of blood is no remission, Heb. ix. 22.

Quest. 13. What is the extent of pardoning grace? Anfw. It extends to [ALL our fins], Pfal. ciii. 3.

Quest. 14. In what manner should we expect that God will pardon all our fins?

. Larger Cat. Quest. 194. + Ibid. f Ibid.

his own name's fake. Pfal. xxv. II.

Quest. 15. How can God be said to pardon our fins freely, when he doth it on account of the furety-righteousness imputed to 115 8

Answ. God's accepting of Christ as our furety, and his fulfilling all righteousness in our room, were both of them acts of rich, free, and fovereign grace, Pfal. lxxxix. 19. Luke xii. 50. Though the pardon of our fins be of debt to Christ, yet it is free to us, Eph. i. 7.

Quest. 16. When a believer prays for the forgiveness of his daily fins, does he pray for a new formal pardon of them?

Answ. Whatever may be the believer's practice as to this matter, at some times, through the prevalency of darkness and unbelief; yet it is certain, that the pardon of fin, in justification, is one perfect act, completed at once, and never needs to be repeated, Mic. vii. 19 .- Thou wilt cast all their fins into the depths of the fea.

Quest. 17. If daily fins are already forgiven in justification, in so far as the not imputing of them is secured therein: why is the believer here directed to pray for the pardon of them?

Answ. As the evidences of pardon may be frequently eclipfed, and fatherly displeasure incurred, by our daily failings; it is therefore our duty to pray, that God's fatherly displeafure may be removed, and the joy of his falvation restored, by his " giving us daily more and more affurance of forgive-" ness, Pfal. li. 8. o. 10. 12. *"

Quest. 18. Upon what ground may we be encouraged to ask and expect, from God, the intimation of the pardon of our daily fins and failings? Anfw. [Because, by his grace, we are enabled, from the heart, to forgive others ]. Quest. 19. What is it we forgive in others?

Answ. Personal injuries; or injuries as committed against ourselves, Matth. xviii. 15.

Quest. 20. Have personal injuries an offence done to God in them?

Anfw. To be fure they have: and it is our duty to pray that God would forgive it, Pfal. xxxv. 13.

Quest. 21. In what manner should we forgive personal in-

Anfw. We should do it [ from the heart].

Quest. 22. What is it to forgive our fellow-creatures from the heart?

Anfw. It is not only to lay afide all refertment against them; but to wish, and do them all offices of kindness that lie in our power, as if they had never done us any injury, Matth. v. 44.

Quest. 23. Have we such a disposition in us naturally?

Answ. No: God enables us to it [by his grace].

Quest. 24. What are we naturally inclined unto with reference to personal injuries?

Anfw. We are naturally inclined to harbour hatred and malice in our hearts on account of them, and to revenge them if we cans, as was the cafe with Efau againft his brother Jacob, Gen. xxvii. 41.

Quest. 25. What should excite us to the duty of fergiving personal injuries?

Anjw. The examples of this disposition recorded in scripture for our imitation; such as, the example of Joseph, Gen. 1.7.21.; of Stephen, Acts vii. 60.; and of our Lord himfelf, Luke xxiii. 34.

Quest. 26. Can it ever be dishonourable to forgive a per-

Answ. No: it is a man's glory to pass over a transgression, Quest. 27. Can forgiving the person, infer an approbation of his crime?

infw. No: we may forgive the person, and yet charge his sin close home upon his conscience, as Joseph did to his brethren, Gen. xlv. 4. and l. 20.

Quest. 28. What if forgiveness imbolden the offender in the tike injuries for the future?

Anfw. The fear of this should not be an excuse for omitting the present duty of forgiving; because we should leave events to the Lord.

Quest. 29. When we say, Forgive us our debts, As we forgive our debtors, do we mean to state a comparison between our forgiving others, and God's forgiving us?

our forgiving others, and God's forgiving us?

Answ. No: there is an infinite disproportion betwixt the one and the other; the injuries our fellow-creatures do us are but few and small, in comparison of the innumerable and aggravated crimes we are guilty of against God, Matth. xviii. verles 24th and 28th compared.

verses 24th and 28th compared.

Quest. 30. Can we, in a consistency with the scope of this petition, make our forgiving of others, the ground and reason of God's forgiving us?

Anfw. No: for this would be to put our forgiving of others, in the room of Christ's righteousnels, on the account of which alone it is that God forgives us.

Quest. 31. What then is the true meaning of these words,

(as we forgive our debtors)?

Anju. The meaning is, that we take encouragement to hope, that God will forgive us the fins of our daily walk, from this evidence, or "tetlimony in ourfelves, that we, "from the heart, forgive others their offences, Matth. vi. 14.15. If ye forgive men their trefpalles, you heavenly "Father will also forgive you: but if ye forgive not men "their trefpalles," neither will your heavenly Father forgive "your trefpalles."

Quest. 32. What may we learn from the verses just now quoted, for illustrating the meaning of this petition?

Anfw. We may learn this from them, as the meaning of it, that our forgiving others, may be an evidence of God's forgiving us: and that our being of an implacable and unrelenting difposition toward our fellow-creatures, who have injured us, is a fad fign, that our own fins are not forgiven us of God, Math. xviii. 32.

106. QUEST. What do we pray for in the fixth petition?

Answ. In the fixth petition (which is, And lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil) we pray, That God would either keep us from being tempted to fin, or support and deliver us when we are tempted.

Quest. 1. What doth this petition necessarily suppose?

Answ. It supposes, "that the most wise, righteous, and 292

" gracious God, for divers holy and just ends, may so order " things, that we may be affaulted, foiled, and, for a time, " led captive by temptations, 2 Chron. xxxii. 31. *"

Quest. 2. How many ways may God be faid to Flead a perfon into temptation], and yet not be the author of fin?

Anfw. Two ways; objectively and permissively. Quest. 3. How may he be faid to lead into temptation ob-

Anfw. When his providential dispensations, which, in themselves, are holy, just, and good, do offer, or lav before us occasions for fin.

Quest. 4. May these occasions be called incitements or motives to fin ?

Anfw. No; only our corrupt hearts abuse them thereunto: thus David was envious when he faw the prosperity of the wicked, Pfal. Ixxiii, 2.

Quest, c. When may God be faid to lead his people into temptation permissively?

Anfav. When he fuffers them to be affaulted by the tempter, and, at the fame time, withholds these aids of grace, which would prevent their compliance with the temptation; as in the case of David's numbering the people, 2 Sam. xxiv. 1. compared with 1 Chron. xxi. 1.

Quest. 6. What is the [evil] we pray to be delivered from, and the temptations we pray against in this petition?

Anfw. The evil of [fin], and temptations to fin.

Quest. 7. What is it to be [tempted to fin]?

Answ. It is to be strongly solicited, instigated, and enticed thereunto, Prov. vii. 16 .- 24.

Quest. 8. Can God be the author or efficient of fuch instigations and allurements?

Anfw. By no means: for God cannot be tempted with evil, neither tempteth be any man, Jam. i. 13.

Oueft. o. Why then doth he permit them to take place?

Aufw. That he may direct and over-rule them to the purposes of his own glory; as in the instance of Peter, Luke xxii. 31. 32. The Lord faid, Simon, Simon, behold, Satan bath defired to have you, that he may fift you as wheat : but I have prayed for thee, that the faith fail not.

Quest. 10. From whence do all temptations to fin spring or take their rife?

Anfw. All of them flow from "Satan, I Chron. xxi. I. "the world, Luke xxi. 24. and the flesh, which are ready " powerfully to draw us afide and infinare us, Jam. i. 14. * Ouest. 11. Are we liable to be drawn aside and insinared by these enemies, after we are in a state of grace?

Aniw. Yes; "even after the pardon of our fins, by rea-"fon of our corruption, Gal. v. 17. weakness, and want of watchfulness, Matth. xxvi. 41. we are both subject to of watchfulnels, Matth. xxvi. 41. we are both lubject to be tempted, and forward to expose ourselves unto temp" tations, verf. 69. 70. 71. 72. †"

Quest. 12. Are we able to resist temptations when assaulted with them?

Anfw. No: we are "of ourselves unable and unwilling "to result them, to recover out of them, and to improve them, Rom. vii. 23. 24. ‡"

Quest. 13. How is Satan denominated in scripture, with reference to temptations?

Anfw. He is called, by way of eminence, THE TEMPTER, Matth. iv. 3.

Quest. 14. Why is he so called?

Anju. Because of his strong and violent instigation and folicitation to sin, Acts v. 3.

Quest. 15. When did he begin this trade of tempting?

Anfw. He began in paradife, Gen. iii. i. 4. 5.; and has been making his affaults upon all ranks of mankind ever fince, 1 Pet. v. 8.

Quest. 16. Can Satan force or compel the will to yield to his temptations?

Answ. No: otherwise all his temptations would be irrefiftible.

Quest. 17. How do you know that they are not irresistible? Answ. Because the saints are exhorted to resist them, Jam. iv. 7.; and have actually been enabled, by grace, to do it, 2 Cor. xii. 8, 9.

Quest. 18. How many are the ways, whereby Satan manages his temptations?

Answ. Two ways chiefly: either in a way of SUBTILTY, using wiles and devices; hence called that old serpent which t Itid.

deciveth the whole world, Rev. xx. 2. compared with chap; xii. 9.: or in a way of furious assaultr, throwing lab fiery darts, Eph. vi. 16. In both which respects he is called, in the Greek tongue, APOLLYON; that is, a destroyer, Rev. ix. 11.

Queft. 19. Why called a destroyer?

Anju. Because he aims at nothing less than the eternal ruin and destruction of all mankind, 1 Pet. v. 8.—Your adversary the devil, as a roaring lion, walketh about feeking whom he may devour.

Quest. 20. What are some of those chief wiles and stratagems wherein he displays his SUBTILTY?

Anfa. He makes choice of the most advantageous seafons for tempting; he employs the fittest instruments for carrying on his designs; and sometimes gilds over the souleft sins with the fairest names.

Quest. 21. What are these advantageous seasons for tempting, which Satan makes choice of?

Anju. When a perion is under fore affliction and diffres, job ii. 9.; when the object is prefent that will inforce the temptation, 2 Sam. xi. 2. 4.; and after fome remarkable manifeltation of divine love, 2 Cor. xii. 2. 7.

Quest. 22. Who are the instruments he employs for carrying on his temptations?

Anfw. Men of the greatest power and policy, 1 Kings xii. 26.—30.; and sometimes men of reputed piety and godlines: thus he employed the old prophet to seduce the man of God with a lie, 1 Kings xiii. 18.

Quest. 23. What are these fair names, under which Satan wants to make the vilest sins pass among men?

Anjou. He allures to covetoufnets, under the name of frugality, Eccl. iv. 8.; to profuseness, under the specious title of generofity, chap. v. 13. 14.: he tempts to drunkenness, under the disguise of good fellowship, Prov. xxiii. 29, 30.; and to neutrality and indifference in religion, under the colour of a prudent and peaceable spirit, Acts xviii. 14. 15. 17.

Quest. 24. What are those temptations, which Satan endeavours to throw in upon the foul, in the way of furious

ASSAULT

Answ. They are his temptations to blasphemous and atheiffical thoughts.

Quest. 25.

295

Quest. 25. What is his plot by injecting these horrid suggeslions?

Answ. Either to beget unbecoming thoughts of God, or to disturb, vex, and distract the Christian.

Quest. 26. Does he ever gain his delign, in begetting unbecoming thoughts of God, in the minds of any of God's children?

Anfw. Yes: as would appear by their speaking sometimes very unadvisedly with their lips, Pfal. kxvii. 8. 9. Is his mercy clean gone for ever? doth his promise fail for evermore? hath God forgotten to be gracious?

Quest. 27. Are the faints suffered to continue long in such fentiments?

Anfw. No: for as such words are far from their stated judgment, and only flowing from their lips in the hour of temptation; so the Lord, by his grace, will soon make them change their speech, as in the words immediately following, And I faid, This is mine instrmity; but I will remember the years of the right hand of the Most High, Pfal. lxwii. 10.

Quest. 28. Do blasphemous and atheistical thoughts ever take their rife in our own hearts?

Anfw. Frequently they do; as our Lord teftifies, Matth. xv. 19. Out of the HEART proceed—blafebemies.

Quest. 29. When may we charge ourfelves with fuch thoughts.

as arising in our hearts?

Answ. When we make no resistance, but give way unto them; contrary to the command of God, Resist the devil, and he will slee from you, Jam. iv. 7.

Quest. 30. Can the faints of God distinguish between blafthemous and atheistical thoughts, suggested by Satan; and those that arise in their own hearts?

Anfw. Yes they can, in some measure; otherwise they would frequently be deprived of the comfortable use of these consolations that are allowed them in the word.

Queft. 31. How may they knew the one by the other? An/w. If they are violent and fudden, coming in like a flaffi of lightening upon the mind, Matth. xvi. 22. 23.; if their fouls tremble at fuch thoughts, and oppose them with the utmost abhorence, P(3L). Ixviii. 1,5; and if nothing is more grievous than to be affaulted with them, verf. 21. 22.:

PART II. O o them

then they may conclude, that they are rather to be charged on Satan, than themselves.

Quest. 22. What are the extremes, to which Satan labours to drive sinners by his temptations?

Answ. Either to prefumption, or despair.

Quest. 33. What is PRESUMPTION?

Anlw. It is a confident hope of the favour of God, and of obtaining eternal life, without any sufficient foundation to Support it; like the foolish virgins, Matth. xxv. 11. 12.

Quest. 34. What is Satan's conduct with reference to prefumption i

Answ. He does all he can to foster and cherish it, and is fure to give it no disturbance, Luke xi. 21. When a strong man armed keepeth his palace, his goods are in peace, Quest. 35. What is DESPAIR?

Anfw. It is the melancholy apprehension of a person's case as being quite hopeless, and of there being no help for him in God, Jer. ii. 25.

Quest. 36. By what artifices doth Satan labour to drive persons to this deplorable extreme?

Answ. By fuggesting that their fins are too many, and too heinously aggravated, to be pardoned; that the time of forgiveness is past; or that they have been guilty of the fin against the Holy Ghost.

Quest. 37. Is it possible that our sins can be more numerous, and more heinously aggravated, than that they can be pardoned?

Answ. No; because no bounds or limits can be set to the infinite mercy of God, as vented through the meritorious obedience and fatisfaction of Jefus; for he will abundantly pardon, [margin, he will multiply to pardon, If. Iv. 7.]; and he declares, that though our fins be as fearlet, or red like crimfon, they shall be white as snow, and as wool, If. i. 18.

Quest. 38. Can any be certain in this life, that the time of forgiveness is past as to them; or, that their day of grace is over?

Answ. No: because while the gospel continues to be published unto them, it is their unquestionable duty to believe the report made therein, concerning falvation for them in Christ, without diving into the fecret counfels of God. I John v. II. This is the record, that God hath given to us eternal life: and this life is in his Son.

Queft. 39.

Quest. 39. How may a person know that he is not guilty of the fin against the Holy Ghost?

Answ. If he is deeply concerned and perplexed about this matter, and has an habitual defire after falvation by grace, he may be verily affured he is not guilty of this; for they that be whole need not a physician, but they that are sick, Matth. ix. 12. Quest. 40. What is the second foring of our temptations above mentioned?

Answ. The WORLD. Mark iv. 10.

Quest. 41. What are the things of the world which give rife to temptations?

Answ. Both the good things, and the bad things of it.

Quest. 42. What are the good things of the world, which may prove a snare and occasion to sin?

Anfw. The profits, pleasures, and preferments of the world, when trufted to, and refted in, Matth, xiii, 22.

Quest. 43. What should we pray for, in order to be delivered from fuch temptations? Answ. That God would incline our hearts unto his testing monies, and not to covetoufnefs, Pfal. cxix. 36.; and that he would fet our affections on things above, not on things on earth, Col. iii. 2.

Quest. 44. What are the evil things of this world, which may prove temptations?

Answ. The outward troubles and afflictions we meet with therein, John xvi, 33 .- In the world ve Shall have tribulation.

Quest. 45. Is God the author of all outward afflictions? Anfw. Yes: Amos iii. 6. Shall there be evil in a city. and the Lord hath not done it? Though men may have an instrumental and finful hand in their own troubles and distreffes, Jer. ii. 17. Hast thou not procured this unto thyself, in that thou haft for faken the Lord thy God? Quest. 46. When do afflictions prove temptations ?

Anfw. When we either despise the chastening of the Lord; or, faint when we are rebuked of him, Heb. xii. c.

Quest. 47. What fould we pray for when trifted with afflictions?

Answ. That when the Lord is pleased to chasten us, it, may be for our profit, that we may be partakers of his holinefs, Heb, xii, 10. 002

Quest. 48.

Quest. 48. Which is the third spring, or fountain of our temptations?

Anfw. The FLESH, Gal. v. 17.

Quest. 49. What is meant by the flesh?

Answ. Our corrupt and depraved nature, Rom. viii. 8. They that are in the flesh, cannot please God.

Quest. 50. How is the flesh, or corrupt nature, the spring of temptation?

Anfw. As it entices thereunto, Jam. i. 14.; and is the inlet to temptations from Satan and the world, Jer. xvii. 9.

Quest. 51. How Should we pray against such temptations, as have their rife from corrupt nature?

Answ. That God would not only restrain the pernicious tendency of our natural difpofitions, Pfal. xix. 13. but likewife fortify our fouls, by the powerful influence of his grace, againft all these evils, to which we are naturally addicted, Eph. iii. 16. Quest. 52. May we pray absolutely against temptations?

Answ No; but we may put an alternative into God's hand with reference to them.

Quest. 53. What alternative may be put into God's hand with reference to temptations?

Anfw. That he [would either keep us from being tempted to fin, or support and deliver us when tempted].

Quest. 54. What do we mean, when we pray, [that God would keep us from being tempted to fin]?

Anjw. We mean by it, that fince the event of a temptation, with respect unto us, is so dangerous and uncertain, if God has not some gracious ends to answer thereby, he would rather be pleased, by his providence, to prevent the temptation, than suffer us to fall into it, Psal. xix. 13.

Quest. 55. What do we mean, when we pray, that God would [support and deliver us when we are tempted]?

Anjou. We thereby defire, "that, if tempted, we may, "by his Spirit, be powerfully enabled to fland in the hour of temptation, Eph. iii. 16.5, or, if fallen, raifed again and recovered out of it, Pfall. li. 12. and have a fanctified "ufe and improvement thereof, I Pet. v. 8. a."

Quest. 56. How doth the Lord enable his people to stand in the hour of temptation?

2.11.11.11.11.11.11.11.11.11

Answ. By making his grace sufficient for them, and perfecting his strength in their weakness, 2 Cor. xii. 9.

Quest. 57. How does he raise and recover them out of temptation, when fallen into it?

Anfw. By discovering the corrupt and natural bias of their heart toward the temptation; humbling them on account thereof, and the offence done to God by their compliance; and by quickening their faith, to draw virtue from the righteoutness of the Surety, for a fresh intimation of pardon, Pfal. li. a. c. 7.

Quest. 58. When have they a fanctified use and improvement of temptations?

Anfw. When they are made more circumspect, watchful, and dependent on Christ for the future, as being sensible of their inability to resist the least temptation without him; for he has faid, Without me ye can do nothing, John xv. c.

Quest. 59. What should be our habitual scope, and general end, in offering up this petition, "Lead us not into tempta" tion, but deliver us from evil?"

Anfw. Our aim and end therein, fhould be, "that our "fanctification and falvation may be perfected, 2 Cor. xii. "9.; Stata trodden under feet, Rom. xvi. 20.; and we fully freed from fin, temptation, and all evil for ever, "1 Theff. y. 23. *"

107. QUEST. What doth the conclusion of the Lord's prayer teach us?

Answ. The conclusion of the Lord's prayer (which is, For thine is the kingdom, and the power, and the glory, for ever. Amen.) teacheth us, to take our encouragement in prayer from God only, and in our prayers to praise him, ascribing kingdom, power, and glory to him. And, in tetlimony of our defire, and affurance to be heard, we say, AMEN.

Quest. 1. What doth the particle [for], which ushers in the conclusion of the Lord's prayer, teach us?

Anfw. It " teacheth us to enforce our petitions with ar-

Queft. 2. From whence are thefe arguments to be taken?

Anfw. "Not from any worthines in ourselves, or in any "other creature, but from God, Dan. ix. 19. †"

Queft. 2. What argument, for instance, may we fetch from Quest. 3. What argument, for instance, may we fetch from God, to enforce our petitions?

Aufw. That mercy and truth have met together; righteoufnefs and peace have kiffed each other, Pfal. Ixxxv. 10. Quest. 4. What force is there in this argument?

Anfw. A very great force; namely, that all the perfections and excellencies of the divine nature harmoniously agree, in conferring all promised bleffings upon finners of mankind, on account of the meritorious obedience, and satisfiction of Christ, imputed to them, I Cor. iii. 22. 23.—All things are yours, and ye are Christ's.

Quest. 5. For what end should we use arguments with God in prayer?

Anfw. Not to prevail with him to grant what he does not fee fit for us; but to quicken our own faith, and encourage our hope, to expect the good things of the promife which we want, in his own time and way, Dan. ix. 18.

Quest. 6. Why should we essay [in our prayers to praise him??

Answ. Because praise glorifies God, Psal. 1. 23. and en-gageth him to hear our prayers, Pfal. Ixviii. 5. 6.

Quest. 7. What way should we praise him in our prayers?
Answ. By [ascribing kingdom, power, and glory to him].
Quest. 8. What is meant by [kingdom, power, and glory]?

Anfw. "Eternal fovereignty, omnipotency, and glorious excellency," as appertaining " to God alone, 1 Chron.

" xxix. 10.—14. 1"

Quest. 9. What [kingdom] do we afcribe unto God as his?
Answ. The kingdom of nature, as God-Creator; and the kingdom of grace, as God-Redeemer.

Quest. 10. What encouragement may we take in prayer, from the kingdoms both of nature and grace being his?

Anfw. That we shall want nothing that is good for us, either as we are his creatures, Pfal. cxlv. 16. or his children. Matth. vii. 11.

Ouest. 11. Why do we ascribe [power] to God, as well as kingdom?

Answ. Because without power, his sovereignty could not be maintained, or his kingdom managed, Pfal. Ixvi. 3. 7.

Quest. 12. What encouragement may we take in prayer, from the power being his?

Anfw. That no difficulty whatfoever shall hinder the accomplishment of the promise, Rom. iv. 21.

Quest. 13. What do we mean by ascribing [glory] to him? Answ. We thereby acknowledge, that he is possessed of all these excellencies, that render him glorious in the eyes of men and angels; and that the praise and honour of every thing that is great and excellent, or has a tendency to raife our esteem and admiration, is due unto him, Psal. Ixxviii. 4.

Quest. 14. What encouragement may we take in prayer, from the glory being his?

Answ. That the accomplishing his glorious purposes, and performing his gracious promifes, will bring in a revenue of glory and praise unto him, Pfal. xlv. 17.

Quest. 15. How long will the kingdom, power, and glory

he his?

Anfw. [For ever], without intermiftion through etermity.

Exod. xv. 18.

Quest. 16. What is the difference, in this respect, between God, and all earthly kings and potentates what sever? Anfw. Their kingdom, power, and glory is only of a short duration, Pfal. lxxxii. 6. 7.; whereas the God with whom we have to do, changes not, but is ever the fame, Jam. i. 17.

Quest. 17. Why do we fay [Amen] in our prayers?

Answ. We should do it [in testimony of our defire, and asfurance to be heard ]. Quest. 18. How may we know we fay Amen, [in testimony of our defire]?

Anfw. When "by faith we are emboldened to plead with " God, that he would-fulfil our requests, 2 Chron. xx. " 6. 11. *"

Quest. 19. What doth the word signify, when we say it in testimony of our desire?

Anfw. In this view it properly fignifies, fo be it, or, fo let it be.

Quest. 20. When do we fay Amen, in testimony of our [affurance to be heard]?

Answ. When "by faith we are emboldened,—quietly to " rely upon him that he will fulfil our requests, 2 Chron.

" xiv. 11. " Quest. 21. What doth the word signify, when we say it in testimony of our assurance to be heard?

Answ. In this sense it denotes, so it is, or, so it shall be.

Quest. 22. In which of these views is the word, Amen, to be understood in the conclusion of this prayer?

Anfw. It is to be understood as fignifying both; namely, as including a testimony of our desire, and likewise affurance of being heard.

Quest. 23. How doth this appear?

Anfw. Because there cannot be a defire of any promised blessing in faith, but there must be some measure of assurance that it will be granted in God's time, and order, Pfal. x. 17.
