An Excellers Vehicetion of

The Gypsie Laddic. The gypsies came to our good lord's gate. And wow but they sang sweetly : They sang sace sweet and sac very complete. That down came the fair lady.

And she came tripping down the stair, And a' her maids before her ;1

As soon as they saw her weel-far'd face, 17 They coost the glamer o'er her.

"O come with me," says Johnie Faw, "O come with me, my deary 100.

For I vow and I swear by the hilt of my sword; That your lord shall nae mair come near ye."

Then she gied them the beer and the wine, And they gied her the ginger; j. _____ But she gied then a far better thing, - The goud ring aff her finger.

" Gae tak frae me this gay mantle, And bring to me a plaidie;

For if kith and kin and a' had sworn; I'll follow the gypsie laddie.

" Yestreen I lay in a weel-made bed, Wi' my good lord beside me;

But this night I'll lye in a tenant's barn, Whatever shall betide me.

"Come to your bed," says Johnie, Faw, "O Di I come to your bed, my dearie; For I vow and I swear by the hilt of my sword, That your lord shall nae mair come near ye.

" Fil go to bed to my Johnie Faw, "" Fil go to bed to my dearie ;

For I vow and I swear by the fan in my hand, That my lord shall mae mair come near me.

* Pill mak a hap to my Johnie Faw, Pill mak a hap to my dearie; , will bound and he's get a' the coat gates round, will bound And my lord shall nae mair come near me. And when our lord came home at e'en, And spier'd for his fair lady, The tane she cry'd, and the other replied, "She's away wi' the gypsic laddie,

" Gae saddle to me the black black steed, Gae saddle and make him ready; Before that I either eat or sleep, 11 I'll gae seek my fair lady."

And he's rode east, and he's rode west, Till he came near Kirkaldy; -There he met a packman lad, And spier'd for his fair lady.

"O cam ye east, or cam he west, Or cam ye through Kirkaldy ? O saw na ye a bonny lass, Following the gypsie laddie ?"

" I cam na east, I cam na west, Nor cam I through Kirkaldy; But the bonniest lass that e'er I saw, Was following the gypsie laddie."

And we were fifteen weel-made men, Altho' we were na bonny ; And we were a' put down but ane, For a fair young wanton lady.

The Maid in Bedlam.

Oxe morning very early, One morning in the spring, I heard a maid in Beddan, White swarth and the sing i Her chains she rattled in her hand, While sweetly thus sung she, I love my love, because I know My love loves me.

erra 1 Dates:

Oh cruel were his parents," no no bus Who sent my love to sea ! And cruel, cruel was the ship, That bore my love from me ! Yet I love his parents, Although they've ruin'd me, and a And I love my love, because I know My love loves me. O should it please the pitying pow'rs To call me to the sky, I'd claim a guardian angel's charge To guard him from all dangers, How happy should I be! For I love my love, because I know My love loves me. I'll make a strawy garland, I'll make it wondrous fine ; is men I'll mix the eglantine gas decision And I'll present it to my love, of When he returns from sea ; For I love my love, because I know My love loves me. Oh ! if I were a litle bird, To build upon his breast ; Or if I were a Nightingale, To sing my love to rest ; To gaze upon his lovely eyes All my reward should be, For I love my love, because I know My love loves me. alt a in the Oh ! if I were an eagle, the second is To soar into the sky ! I'd gaze around with piercing eyes, Where I my love might spy ? But ah! unhappy maiden ! That love you ne'er shall see, Yet I love my love, because I know

My love loves me.

The Farmer."

COME each jolly fellow that loves to be mellow, / Attend unto me and sit easy ; One jorum in quiet, my boys we will try it, 19-Dull thinking will make a man crazy ; For here I am king, let us drink, laugh, and sing Let no man appear as a stranger; But show me the ass that refuses his glass, in but And I'll order him hay in a manger. By plowing and sowing, by 'reaping and mowing, Dame nature supplies me with plenty I've a cellar well stor'd, and a plentiful, board, but And my garden affords every dainty ; -I have all things in season, both woodcock and pheasant; I am here as justice of Quorum ; In my cabin's far end, I've a bed for a friend, With a clean fire side and a jorum, Were it not for my seeding, you'd get but poor You would surely he all stary'd without me I am always content when I've paid my rent, And happy when friends are about me son woo'l Draw close to the table, my boys, while you're able, Let me hear no words of complaining, and bak For the jingling of glasses all music surpasses.' I I love to see bottles a draining. Let the mighty and great roll in splendour and state. I envy them not, I declare it; I'll eat my own lamb; my own chickens and ham, And I'll shear my own sheep, and I'll wear it. I've lawns and I've bowers, I have fruit and I've flowers,

The lark is my daily alarmer ;

So my jolly hoys, now, that follow the plough, Drink Long Life and Success to the Farmer. -

The Bonny House of Airley.

IT fell on a day, and a bonny summer day, Wwei the corn grew green and barely, not That there fell out a great dispute Between Argyle and Airley. Argyle has raised a hundred men, And he has gone to the back of Dunkeld, To plunder the bonny house of Airley. The Lady look'd over her window, And oh ! she look'd uncheerly, And sho espy'd the great Argyle Coming to plunder the bonny house of Airley. Come down, come down; Madam, he says, Come down and kiss me fairly ; If you'd not leave a standing stone in Airley. He has tae'n her by the middle so small, "Says, Lady, where is your dowry ? It is up and down the bonny burn-side, Among the plantings of Airley, They sought it up, they sought, it down, al LaA "They sought is late and early, and world And found it in the bonny palm tree, tel That shipes on the bowling green of Airley. 103 He has tae'n her by the left shoulder," And O but she look'd queerly, as ytigum soit to And laid her down on the green bankill groat Till he plundet'd the bonny house of Airley III And J. I shoat the ca herry for Jobog ym hillo As this night he is wi' Charlie, The great Argyle and all his men Durst not plunder the bonny house of Airley, 2

Tis ten bony sons to him I have born, And the leventh ne'er saw his daddie; And if I thack hundred hard, but I all I d give them all to Charlie.

The Maid that tends the Goats.

Up among yon cliffy rocks. Sweetly rings the rising echo, To the maid that tends the goats, Lilting o'er her native notes. Hark, she sings, " Young Sandy's kind, An' he's promis'd ay to lo'e me; flere's a broach I ne'er shall tine. Till he's fairly married to me; Drive away, ye drone, time, An' bring about our bridal day. " Sandy herds a flock o' sheep; 199 Aften does he blaw the whistle! In a strain sae saftly sweet, Lammies list'ning dare na bleat. He's as fleet's the mountain roe, Hardy as the Highland heather, Wading through the winter snow, Keeping ay his flock thegither : But a plaid, wi' bare houghs, He brave's the bleakest nor lan blast. " Brawly can he dance and sing, Canty glee, or Highland cronach : Nane can ever match his fling, At a reel, or round a ring : Wightly can he wield a rung; In a brawl he's ay the bangster : A' his praise can ne'er be sung By the langest-winded sangster. Sangs, that sing o' Sandy, Seem short, the' they were e'er sae lang."
