THE increased interest in the Gaelic language for the past few years has created a necessity to provide suitable books for its study, and especially for school use. By request and under the auspices of An Comunn Gaidhealach the author has prepared this book, the main object of which is to place before teacher and pupil a simple and systematic course of Gaelic study specially adapted to viva voce practice. The pupil is introduced to lists of words which should, at the very commencement, be repeatedly pronounced until thoroughness in pronunciation be acquired; and these should forthwith be applied in the construction of simple sentences and conversation. The proverbs should be committed to memory after careful practice in pronunciation. The rules are simply expressed; and the reading and conversational exercises carefully graded, and kept, as far as possible, within scope of the rules. Towards the end, the irregular verbs are fully treated, a list of idiomatic phrases are given, and a full vocabulary of all the words used, except some whose meanings are given throughout the book. It is adapted to the adult acquirer of the language as well as to the young pupil. The rules may be passed over by those too young to understand them.

It is hoped that the book will make the work of teacher and pupil easier, and that it will be helpful to all learners of Gaelic. The author is greatly indebted to his friend and former pupil, Mr. John Maclean, for his valuable assistance in revising proof sheets.

ELEMENTARY COURSE OF GAELIC.

LETTERS.

1. There are eighteen letters in the Gaelic Alphabet, viz :
Five Vowels, a, o, u ; e, i.
Thirteen Consonants, b, p, f, m ; c, g ; l, n, r, t, d, s ; h.

The vowels are divided into two classes :

BROAD, a, o, u ; SMALL, e, i.

They have a long and short sound. The long-sound vowels have a duration mark over them ; the short-sound vowels have no such mark, thus :

Short-sound Vowels, a, o, u, e, i.

Long-sound Vowels, à, ò, ó, ù, è, é, i.

Two and three vowels coming together, with the sound of the one passing into the other, are called Diphthongs and Triphthongs ; as, uan, uaigh.

Some have but one simple sound ; as, gaol, ceum.

H is called the aspirate letter, and when used after the consonants, b, p, f, m, c, g, d, t, s, it forms the aspirates, bh, ph, fh, mh, ch, gh, dh, th, sh.

When used at the beginning of a word it is written thus, h- ; as, a h-uan ; and has a strong breathing sound.

The letters, sg, sm, sp, st, have no aspirated form.

VOWEL SOUNDS.

a	lagh	—	à	làdhran	—
a	bata	but	—	—	—
o	mòl	hot	ò	òl	lord
o	bog	home	ó	mór	more
u	cur	put	ù	cù	moor
u	solus	but	—	—	—
e	fear	net	è	nèamh	where
e	fead	rate	é	féin	rain
e	gile	run	—	—	—
i	nil	meet	í	trí	tree

CONSONANT SOUNDS.

3. B, sounds almost as sharp as p in English.

Bh, is like v; sometimes the sound of bh in the middle and at the end of certain words is like u, and sometimes it is silent.

F, is like f in English.

Fh, is silent, except in the three words, fhéin, fhuir, fhathast, when it has the sound of h.

M, is like m in English.

Mh, is like v, and more nasal than bh. It is silent in the middle and end of some words, and gives a nasal sound to the vowel. In some districts it has the sound of u; as, samhradh, pronounced sauradh.

P. is like p in English.

Ph, is like f in English.

C, is always hard ; before a, o, u, it has the sound of c in can ; after a, o, u, it has the same sound in some districts ; as, cnoe, like ck in lock ; but more generally the sound of chk ; before e, i, and after i, like c in came.

Ch, preceded or followed by a, o, u, has a guttural sound like ch in loch ; in contact with e, i, it has a more slender sound.

Chd, has the sound of chk ; as, luchd, pronounced luchk.

G, has a flatter sound than c, before and after a, o, u, it is like g in got ; in contact with e, i, it sounds nearly like g in get.

Gh, is flatter than ch ; before and after e, i, it has the sound of y in English ; in contact with a, o, u, it has a broader sound. In the middle and end of certain words it is silent.

T, has a flatter sound than t in English ; when preceded or followed by a, o, u, the sound is like th in than, but stronger, and is produced by putting the point of the tongue against or between the teeth ; in contact with e, i, it has the sound of ch in chin.

Th, beginning a word has the sound of h ; silent in the pronoun thu, and in certain tenses of irregular verbs when preceded by d'. In the middle of some words it has a slight aspiration, in others it is silent.

D, is the flat sound of t ; in the same position it has almost the same sound as t, but softer.

Dh, is equal to gh in the same position.

S, in contact with a, o, u, is like s in English ; before or after e, i, like sh ; after t- (with hyphen) it is silent.

Sh, has the sound of h.

L, before or after a, o, u, and ll after a, o, u, have a flatter sound than l in English, and is produced by pressing the point of the tongue against the teeth as in the word that ; in contact with e, i, the sound is like ll in million. It has also a simple sound after i, and when aspirated it is like l in English.

N, in conjunction with a, o, u, is like n in English ; nn has a flatter sound ; with e, i, it has a slender sound like n in pinion ; n aspirated has the sound of n in English ; after c, g, m, t, it resembles the sound of r.

R, rr, like r in English.

Monosyllables ending in lb, lbh, lg, lm, nm, rg, rb, rbh, rm, are sounded as two syllables ; thus, fearg (fearug), dealbh (dealuv), marbh (maruv).

The letters l, n, have an aspirated sound, though the aspirate letter is not used, so also has r though much slighter. They are the only three letters that may be doubled in spelling.

DIVISIONS OF SPEECH.

4. Article, Noun, Adjective, Verb, Pronoun, Preposition, Prepositional-pronoun, Adverb, Conjunction.

CASE.

A noun or pronoun is in the Nominative case when it is the Subject-word, such as the person or thing mentioned as the subject; as, bhuail each e; each is the subject-word; and in the Accusative case when it is the object word; as, bhuail e each; each is the object word. The Accusative takes the same form as the Nominative.

The Genitive case denotes possession, and is governed (1) by nouns; as, ceann eich; eich is in the Genitive case after the noun ceann: (2) by compound prepositions; as, air muin eich; eich is in the Genitive case after the compound preposition air muin: (3) by verbal nouns; as, a' bualadh an eich; eich is in the Genitive case after the verbal noun a' bualadh (commonly called the participle of the verb).

The Dative case follows a simple preposition; as, air craoibh; craoibh is in the Dative case after the preposition air.

The Vocative case is used in addressing persons or things directly; as, a dhuine.

THE ARTICLE AN, the.

5. The Article changes its forms according to the Gender, Number, Case, and Initial Letter of the noun which follows it. The following rules show the changes which the noun undergoes when preceded by the Article.

(1) Masculine nouns beginning with b, p, c, g, f, m, are aspirated in the Genitive and Dative singular; feminine nouns beginning with the same consonants are aspirated in the Nominative and Dative singular.

(2) To nouns beginning with s followed by l, n, r, or by a vowel, t- (with hyphen) is prefixed in the Genitive and Dative singular masculine, and in the Nominative and Dative singular feminine; the s is entirely silent.

(3) To nouns beginning with a vowel, t- is prefixed in the Nominative singular masculine; and h- in the Genitive singular feminine, and in the Nominative and Dative plural of both genders.

 Bu mhise an duine, }
 Am bu mhi an duine? } Was I the man?
 Am bu mhise an duine? }

17. The verb Bi in conjunction with the preposition aig, or with the prepositional pronoun formed therefrom denotes possession, and is equivalent to the verb have in English ; as, Tha peann aig Iain, John has a pen (literally, a pen is at John).

EMPHATIC.

Tha peann agam	(agam-sa),	I have a pen.
Tha peann agad	(agad-sa),	Thou hast a pen.
Tha peann aige	(aige-san),	He has a pen.
Tha peann aice	(aice-se),	She has a pen.
Tha peann againn	(againn-e),	We have a pen.
Tha peann agaibh	(agaibh-se),	You have a pen.
Tha peann aca	(aca-san),	They have a pen.

The assertive form Is in conjunction with the preposition le, or with the prepositional pronoun formed therefrom, denotes ownership ; as, Is le Seumas an sgian, the knife is James', or belongs to James.

Is leam an sgian,	The knife is mine.
Is leat an sgian,	The knife is thine.
Is leis an sgian,	The knife is his.
Is leatha an sgian,	The knife is hers.
Is leinn an sgian,	The knife is ours.
Is leibh an sgian,	The knife is yours.
Is leotha an sgian,	The knife is theirs.

The emphatic forms of the prepositional pronouns can be used also, as above ; as, is leam-sa, an sgian, etc.

After some particles as, am, cha, nach, gur, mur, and the interrogatives co, ciod? the verb Is is not expressed, but understood ; as, am mi? is it I? cha mhi, it is not I; co e? who is he?

LEUGHADH.

18. Tha an cat air a' bhòrd. Bha na cait fo 'n bhòrd.
 Tha an ròn air creig. Bha na ròin air na creagan. Bha an gille anns an sgoil. Bha na gilleann anns an sgoil. Bithidh iad anns an sgoil. Bhitheadh iad aig an taigh. Tha peann

NOTE.—The pupil should now be taught to construct simple sentences according to the preceding rules and examples.

POSSESSIVE PRONOUNS.

Mo,	my.	Ar,	our.
Do,	thy.	Bhur, 'ur,	your.
A,	his, her.	An, am,	their.

These have an emphatic form, but the emphatic particle is not attached to them, like the personal pronouns. It is placed after the noun or after the qualifying adjective (if any); as, mo cheann-sa, my head; do cheann ban-sa, thy fair head.

When mo, do, are followed by a word beginning with a vowel, or fh followed by a vowel, o is left out, and its place supplied by an apostrophe; a (his) in the same position is left out; ar, bhur take n before the vowel; and a (her) takes h; as, m' each, for mo each; 'each, for a each, his horse; ar n-each, our horse; a h each, her horse, m' fhalt, my hair, for mo fhalt. Mo, do, and a (his) aspirate the words which follow them.

EXAMPLE.

Mo bhó-sa,	my cow.	Ar bó-ne,	our cow.
Do bhó-sa,	thy cow.	Bhur bó-sa,	your cow.
A bhó-san,	his cow.	Am bó-san,	their cow.
A bó-se,	her cow.

The same meaning can be expressed by substituting the prepositional pronoun agam for the possessive pronoun ; as, a' bhó agam-sa (my cow) ; a' bhó aige-san (his cow) ; a' bhó againne (our cow), etc.

20. Mo chù. Do chù-sa. Ar cù-ne. Ar n-each. An eich-san. A h-uān. A falt. 'Fhalt-san. A bròg-se. Am brògan. Bhur brògan-sa. Do cheann liath-sa. Mo pheann-sa. A pheann-san. A peann-se. M' uan beag-sa. D' each bànn-sa. A làmh-san. A làmh-se. Ar làmhan. An làmhan-san. Mo chas. Do chasan-sa. A chasan. A casan. M' eun-sa. A h-eun-se. An eun-san. 'Eun-san. M' fhear. D' fhear-sa. A fear-se. An cù agam-sa. An t-each agad-sa. A' bhó aige-san.

ARTICLE, NOUN, ADJECTIVE, continued.

24. When the adjective qualifies the noun, it agrees with the latter in gender, number, and case; as, clach bheag, clachan beaga, le cloich bhig; but when it qualifies the action of the verb, the adjective is in the simple form, irrespective of the gender or number of the noun; as, tha a' chlach beag, tha na clachan beag.

Adjectives of one syllable have, in the plural, a or e added to the singular; as, bàn, singular; bàna, plural; mìn, singular; mìne, plural.

An adjective limiting a noun whose Genitive singular is like the Nominative plural is aspirated in the Nominative plural; as uan beag, uain bheaga.

The adjective preceded by the particle gu takes the form of an adverb; as, rinn e sin gu math, he did that well.

NUMERALS.

34. Numerals—Cardinal and Ordinal—are placed before nouns ; as, sé fir, six men, except when the Cardinal number is used to point a particular person ; as, Rígh Seumas a Sé, King James the Sixth.

Aon aspirates the noun, except when beginning with d, t, s; as, aon fhear, one man; aon duine, one man.

Dà, fichead, ciad, mile, are used with singular nouns only ; as, dà bhó, two cows ; fichead uan, twenty lambs.

Dà aspirates the noun and governs it in the Dative singular ; as da chraoibh, two trees ; but the limiting adjective is in the Nominative ; as, dà chraoibh àrd, two high trees. If preceded by a preposition, the adjective is in the Dative case ; as, air dà chraoibh àird, on two high trees.

FORMATION OF TENSES.

41. The Root or Stem of the Gaelic verb is in the SECOND PERSON SINGULAR of the IMPERATIVE, from which the other tenses are formed ; as bris, break ; dl, drink.

The Past Indicative aspirates the Stem ; as, buail, strike ; bhuail, did strike : dl, drink ; dhòl, did drink.

The Future adds idh or aidh to the Stem ; as, brisidh, will break ; dlaidh, will drink.

The Past Subjunctive adds inn or ainn to the aspirated Stem in the First person singular ; amaid or eamaid in the First person plural ; ibh or aibh in the Second person plural ; and adh or eadh in the Third persons singular and plural.

The verb and pronoun are incorporated in the First person singular and plural of the Past Subjunctive ; in the First person singular, and First and Second persons plural of the Imperative.

The particle na negatives the Imperative ; as, na buail, do not strike.

Verbs beginning with a consonant, except f followed by a vowel, are aspirated by inserting h after the initial consonant ; thus, glan (unaspirated) ; ghlan (aspirated) : those beginning with a vowel, thus, dl, dhòl ; and those beginning with f followed by a vowel, thus, fan, dhfhan (pronounced dhan), the fh being silent.

The verbal adjective is formed by adding te to the root of the verb ; as, bris, break ; briste, broken ; tha an sgian briste, the knife is broken ; caill, lose ; cailte, lost ; tha an sgian cailte, the knife is lost.

VERBAL CHANGES.

42. The verb in Gaelic precedes its subject, as being the most important word in a sentence and necessary for the construction of sentences. In the preceding lessons the verb Bi has been principally dealt with, and at this stage the teacher should select a list of verbs to be operated with in the construction of simple sentences ; and as the pupil advances the verbal and other changes should be fully explained by the teacher. Regarding the verb, the first point to be remembered is, that the root or simple form is in the Second Person Singular Imperative—expressing a command ; and from this the other forms are built up.

43. Root—2ND IMPERATIVE—Buail, strike; pronoun (thu, thusa) understood.

1ST IMPERATIVE, singular, Buaileam, let me strike (pronoun incorporated with verb).

3RD ,, singular, Buaileadh e, i, let him or her strike (eadh affixed).

1ST ,, plural, Buaileamaid, let us strike (pronoun incorporated).

2ND ,, plural, Buailibh, strike ye (pron. incorp.).

3RD ,, ,, Buaileadh iad, let them strike (eadh affixed).

Past Tense—Bhuail, did strike (root aspirated).

Future Tense—Buailidh, will strike (idh added to root).

1st Subjunctive, singular, Bhuailinn, I would strike (root aspirated and inn affixed).

2ND ,, sing., Bhuaileadh tu, thou wouldst strike (root aspirated and eadh affixed).

3RD ,, sing., Bhuaileadh e, i, he or she would strike (root aspirated and eadh affixed).

- 1ST SUBJUNCTIVE, plural, Bhuaileamaid, we would strike (pron. incorporated), root aspirated, and eamaid affixed.
- 2ND ,, plural, Bhuaileadh sibh, you would strike (root aspirated and eadh affixed).
- 3RD ,, plural, Bhuaileadh iad, they would strike (root aspirated and eadh affixed).

44. The verb retains the same form in all the persons of the Past and Future tenses, but undergoes certain changes in the Subjunctive and Imperative, as shewn above.

The pupil should now be instructed in the construction of simple sentences, using any familiar verb and subject, and carrying out any simple idea suggested by the subject chosen.

The verb Buail having been already selected, will serve as an illustration.

Buail an dorus.	Strike the door.
Buail an dorus mór.	Strike the big door.
Buail an dorus mór le òrd.	Strike the big door with a hammer.
Buailibh an dorus.	Strike (ye) the door.
Buaileadh e an dorus mór.	Let him strike the big door.
Bhuail mi an dorus mór.	I did strike the big door.
Bhuail am balach an dorus	The boy struck the door.
Bhuail am balach beag an dorus.	The little boy struck the door.
Buailidh mi an dorus.	I will strike the door.
Buailidh sinn an dorus le òrd.	We will strike the door with a hammer.

Buailidh am balach beag an dorus.	The little boy will strike the door.
Bhuailinn an dorus.	I would strike the door.
Bhuaileadh esan an dorus.	He would strike the door.
Bhuaileamaid an dorus.	We would strike the door.
Bhuaileadh na fir an dorus.	The men would strike the door.
Bhuail iad an dorus le maide.	They struck the door with a stick.
Bhuail iad dorus an taighe.	They struck the door of the house.

45. When the pupil has thoroughly understood the various verbal changes, the sentences should be extended by introducing new words suggestive of the idea already expressed, thus:

Tog òrd agus buail an dorus.	Lift a hammer and strike the door.
Thog am balach òrd.	The boy lifted a hammer.
Thog e clach agus bhual e an dorus.	He lifted a stone and struck the door.
Bhuail e an dorus le cloich.	He struck the door with a stone.
Bhris am fear so an dorus.	This man broke the door.
Bhris e an dorus leis an òrd.	He broke the door with the hammer.
Tha an dorus mór briste.	The big door is broken.
Thogainn an t-òrd sin.	I would lift that hammer.
Bhuailinn an dorus leis an òrd.	I would strike the door with the hammer.
Druid an dorus.	Shut the door.
Dhruid Seumas beag an dorus.	Little James shut the door.
Druididh mise an dorus mór.	I will shut the big door.
Dhruidinn an dorus.	I would shut the door

Dhruideadh esan an dorus.	He would shut the door.
Fosgail dorus an stàbuill.	Open the door of the stable.
Dhfhosgail Iain dorus an taighe.	John opened the door of the house.
Fosgailidh Màiri an dorus.	Mary will open the door.
Tha an dorus druidte.	The door is shut.
Tha an dorus mór fosgailte.	The big door is open.
Tog a' chlach sin.	Lift that stone.
Thogainn a' chlach sin, ach tha i tróm.	I would lift that, stone but it is heavy.
Togaidh mi a' chlach so.	I will lift this stone.
Tha a' chlach sin briste.	That stone is broken.
Tha a' chlach mhór sin tróm.	That big stone is heavy.
Tha a' chlach mhór briste.	The big stone is broken.
Bhris Calum a' chlach mhór le òrd.	Malcolm broke the big stone with a hammer.
Bhris e a' chlach leis an mhór.	He broke the stone with the big hammer.

46. The pupil, after being thoroughly exercised in the various changes of the verb in its Independent form, should then be taught to use the verb in conjunction with the particles or in its Dependent form, thus :

Na (not). Na buail an dorus. Do not strike the door.

An do? An do bhuaile mi an dorus? Did I strike the door?

Am? Am buail mi an dorus? Shall I strike the door?
Am buailinn an dorus? Would I strike the door?

Sean-fhacaí. Is fearr caitheamh na meirgeadh.

Is fearr do dhuine bhi snaim nan sop na bhi 'n a thamh.

47. The Gaelic verb has no simple present tense, but has a present compound tense, which, with the other tenses, is formed by the verb Bi, and the verbal noun preceded by the preposition ag; the g of the preposition is left out before words beginning with a consonant.

Tha mi a' bualadh.	I strike, or I am striking.
Bha mi a' bualadh.	I was striking.
Bithidh mi a' bualadh.	I will be striking.
Bhithinn a' bualadh.	I would be striking.
Am bheil mi a' bualadh?	Am I striking?
Cha 'n 'eil mi a' bualadh?	I am not striking.
Bha e ag òl.	He was drinking.
Cha robh e ag òl.	He was not drinking.
Nach robh e ag itheadh?	Was he not eating?
Bha e ag itheadh.	He was eating.

The verbal noun takes the Genitive case after it; as, An robh e a' bualadh an doruis? Was he striking the door?

Doruis is the Genitive case of dorus, after a' bualadh.

Bha an gille ag itheadh arain. The lad was eating bread.

Arain is the Genitive case of aran, after ag itheadh.

Bhreab am balach an dorus. The boy kicked the door.

Bha am balach a' breabadh an doruis. The boy was kicking the door.

Bhreab an t-each am balach. The horse kicked the boy.

Bha an t-each a' breabadh a' bhalaich. The horse was kicking the boy.

- Tha an gille a' briseadh na The lad is breaking the stone.
cloiche.
- Tha e a' briseadh na cloiche He is breaking the stone with le òrd. a hammer.

48. In the Compound tenses when the possessive pronoun is the object it is placed before the verbal noun, and the following is the order of construction :—First, auxiliary verb and personal pronoun or subject noun; second, the preposition ag (contracted 'g'); third, the possessive pronoun ; and lastly, the verbal noun, thus :

- Tha e 'g am* bhualadh. He is striking me.
(Literally, Tha e aig mo bhualadh, He is at my striking)
- Bha e 'g ad* bhualadh. He was striking you.
- Bha e 'g a bhualadh. He was striking him.
- Bha e 'g a bualadh. He was striking her.
- Bha e 'g ar bualadh. He was striking us.
- Bha e 'g ur bualadh. He was striking you.
- Bha e 'g am bualadh. He was striking them.
- Bha e 'g a bhualadh fhéin. He was striking himself.

* The possessive pronouns mo, do, are changed into ani, ad.

In the same relation and in the same order of construction, the preposition air is used to express a completed action, gu (contracted g') to express a purpose, and ann (contracted 'n) to denote a state or condition, as :

Tha mi air mo bhualadh.	I am struck.
Bha e air a bhualadh.	He was struck.
Bha i air a bualadh.	She was struck.
Chaidh e g' am bhualadh.	He went to strike me.

Bha na fir 'n an suidhe.	The men were sitting.
Bha mi 'n am shuidhe.	I was sitting.
Tha e 'n a laidhe.	He is lying.
Tha e 'n a chadal.	He is sleeping.
Tha i 'n a cadal.	She is sleeping.
Tha iad 'n an cadal.	They are sleeping.
Bha sinn 'n ar cadal.	We were sleeping.
Bha an gille 'n a ruith.	The lad was running.
Bha iad 'n an ruith.	They were running.

LEUGHADH.

49. Bhris an saor cas an àird. Bhris na fir dorus an taighe. Bha na fir a' briseadh an doruis. Tha dorus an taighe briste. Bris an t-slat so, ach na bris am bata sin. Is le mo charaid am bata. Brisidh mi an t-slat, ach cha bhris mi am bata. Ma bhriseas thu am bata, brisidh mise an t-slat air do dhruim. Bhailinn am fear a bhriseadh mo bhata. Bhreab an t-each dubh cù a' chiobair. Bha an ciobair a' bualadh an eich. Bha an t-each dubh anns a' ghàradh. Tha e crosda. Tha cù a' chiobair crùbach, ach cha 'n 'eil a chas briste. Bhail Seumas an t-each dubh le slait. Bhris e an t-slat air druim an eich dhuibh. Tha an t-each dubh a nis anns an achadh. Bhailinn an t-each, ach cha bhailinn an cù. Tha an t-each dubh math ged a tha e crosda. Tha sgian aig a' bhalach bheag sin. Tha sgian a' bhalaich aig Calum. Is le Calum an sgian. Bhris Seumas sgian a' bhalaich bhig. Bha sgian a' bhalaich math, ach tha i a nis briste. Ma tha sgian a' bhalaich bhig briste, tha i gun mhath. Na 'm bitheadh sgian agam-sa cha bhrisinn i. Ged a bhitheadh sgian agad bhriseadh thu i. Bha an sgian math, ged nach robh i geur. Cuir sgian an fhir sin air a' bhòrd agus na bris i. Cha 'n 'eil sgian an fhir sin agam. Chuirinn an sgian air a' bhòrd na 'n robh i agam. Bha am fear sin 'g am bhualadh. Bha na balaich 'g ar bualadh. Bha na fir a' bualadh nan each. Bha na h-eich 'g am breabadh. Bha an gille sin 'g a bhualadh fhéin. Thog an duine crosda sin a làmh g' am bhualadh. Tha an gille 'n a sheasamh air cloich. Tha na fir 'n an suidhe mu 'n bhòrd.

The pupil should now be exercised in the declension of nouns and adjectives, and conjugation of verbs.

IRREGULAR VERBS.

There are ten of these verbs whose tenses are formed irregularly, viz. :

ROOT.	PAST.	FUTURE.	SUBJUNCTIVE 1st person.
* Abair , say .	thubhairt.	their.	theirinn.
† Beir , bear, catch .	rug.	beiridh.	bheirinn.
Cluinn , hear .	chuala.	cluinnidh.	chluiinninn.
Dean , do, make .	rinn.	nì.	dheanainn.
Faic , see .	chunnaic.	chi.	chithinn.
Faigh , get .	shuair.	gheibh.	gheibhinn.
Rach , go .	chaidh.	théid.	rachainn.
Ruig , reach .	ràinig, ruig.	ruigidh.	ruiginn.
‡ Tabhair (thoir),	{ give. take. bring. }	thug.	bheir.
Thig (tiugainn), come .	thainig.	thig	thiginn.

The particles are used in the same way as shewn in par. 46.

* Abair takes the preposition ri after it ; as, abair ri Iain, say to John ; abair ris, say to him : the verb innis (tell) takes do.

† Beir takes the preposition air. Beir air Iain, catch John ; beir orm, catch me..

‡ Tabhair—more commonly thoir—means give, take, or bring ; as, thoir dhomh peann, give (to) me a pen ; thoir leat am peann, take with you the pen.

The pupil should be made thoroughly conversant with all the forms—dependent and independent—of these ten irregular verbs. One verb should be mastered before commencing another.

LEUGHADH.

55. Bha Iain agus Calum aig a' chladach an dé. Thug iad an lòn agus na slatan leó. Nuair a ràinig iad an cladach fhuir iad bàta Iain briste air na creagan. If you will not buy them to-day you will not buy them to-morrow. Perhaps I will buy better and cheaper at the market.

61. Are you thirsty? No, but I am hungry. Come in and sit down (dean suidhe). I have not time. I am going to the hill with the shepherd to gather the sheep. Wait a little and I will give you bread and cheese. Thank you. If you are cold come in and warm yourself. I am not cold. Where is Malcolm? He is warming himself to the fire. Malcolm is cold and wet. He fell in a pit. Was there water in the pit? Yes. Who was with Malcolm when he fell into the pit? I was with him. Did Malcolm not see the pit? No, the day was dark with mist. Did you meet the shepherd? Yes. We lost our way and he guided us home. When did you reach home? At five o'clock. It is now milking-time. Bring in the cows. They are already in the byre. Who brought them in? The herd put them in. Is the dairymaid in the byre? No, she is in the milk-house. Who broke the milk-pail? The black cow kicked the pail and spilled the milk. After milking-time the herd will put the cows into the field.

63. May John go home now? He may. May I go home with him? You may not. Why may I not go home with John? You must go to the town. When must I go to the town? At seven o'clock. I cannot go to the town at seven o'clock. Why can you not go to the town at seven o'clock? I must put the horses into the stable. The horses should have been in the stable at six o'clock. I will go to the town at eight o'clock. Do not wait long in the town. The night is wet and stormy. I will not wait long in the town. I will be home at ten o'clock. Be sure that you (will) lock the door when you return. I locked the door of the stable already. Goodbye.

RULE FOR SPELLING.

In words of more than one syllable, the last vowel of the first syllable, and the first vowel of the next syllable must be of the same quality; i.e., if the last vowel of a syllable be broad, the first vowel of the next syllable must be broad also; but if small, a small vowel follows.

According to this rule, a broad or small vowel is introduced, as the case may be, although it serves no purpose in respect of derivation or pronunciation. Thus sgeirean is the plural of sgeir: an is the plural termination, and the introduction of the e makes no difference in the sound, but is inserted in conformity with the above rule.

ASPIRATION.

Aspiration takes place under the following conditions:—

- (1) After the possessive pronouns mo, my; do, thy; a, his: as, mo bhrdg; do chù; a cheann.
- (2) After the prepositions do, to; fo, under; bho, o, from; mar, like, as: troimh, through; roimh, before; de, of; mu, about.
- (3) After the intensive particles fior, ro, glé, sàr, very.
- (4) After the numerals aon, one; dà, two; an ceud, a' cheud, the first.
- (5) After the article a'; and after 'n' before b, c, f, g, m, p. An aspirates f; as, fras, a shower; an fhras, the shower.

(6) In compound words the first consonant of the second word of the compound is aspirated, if the first part of the compound word be a feminine noun.

(7) The initial consonant of the noun is aspirated when preceded by an adjective.

(8) An adjective qualifying a feminine noun is aspirated in the Nominative and Dative singular.

(9) An adjective qualifying a noun whose Genitive singular is like the Nominative plural, is aspirated in the Nominative plural.

(10) The Vocative—singular and plural—of nouns of both genders.

(11) The verb is aspirated after the particles ma, if ; cha, not (except d, t, which take both forms); relative a ; conjunction ged and the infinitive of the verb after the particle a ; the past tense Indicative and past Subjunctive of the verb are aspirated.

(12) The initial of words not beginning with d, t, is aspirated after bu.

(13) Initial consonants after the article are aspirated in the Genitive singular masculine, Nominative singular feminine, and Dative singular masculine and feminine, except d, t, s.

DECLENSION OF NOUNS.

Nouns may be divided into Five Declensions, four of which are regular, and the fifth irregular.

The Genitive case is taken as the standard of classification.

FIRST DECLENSION.

The Genitive singular of MASCULINE NOUNS is usually formed by inserting the vowel i after the last broad vowel of the Nominative, or by leaving out the broad vowel or diphthongal part and substituting i; as, dorus, a door; doruis, of a door; bàrd, a poet; bàird, of a poet; ceann, a head; cinn, of a head. The Nominative, Accusative and Dative cases are alike.

The Genitive singular of FEMININE NOUNS is formed by inserting i after the last broad vowel of the Nominative and adding a final e; or, by leaving out the broad vowel or diphthongal part and substituting i; and if the last vowel of Nominative is i, final e only is added; as, craobh, a tree; craoibhe, of a tree; bròg, a shoe, bròige, of a shoe; cearc, a hen; circe, of a hen; tir, land; tire, of a land. The Nominative and Accusative are alike; but the Dative is formed from the Genitive by leaving out the final e of the Genitive; as, Genitive, bròige; Dative, bròig.

In the formation of the Genitive case there are some nouns of both genders which do not conform to the above rules; as, càrn, a cairn, Gen. cùirn; ðrd, a hammer, Gen. ùird; cas, a foot, Gen. coise; clach, a stone, Gen. cloiche.

Gen.	An t-srutha.	Nan sruth.
Dat.	An, 'n t-sruth.	Na sruthan.

THIRD DECLENSION.

The Genitive singular is formed by leaving out the final i, or diphthongal part, and adding ach.

Nouns of this declension are for the most part feminine, and the Nominative generally ends in ir and air (not signifying doers), and a few end in ail, eil, ain.

The Nominative, Dative and Accusative are alike.

The Nominative plural is generally formed by putting i after the last vowel of the Genitive singular, and adding ean, and a few add ean to the Nominative singular.
