The PREFACE to the READER.

CHRISTIAN READER,

I KNO w of nothing that ought to be lo much Man's Study (in order to glorify God, which is the chief End of his Creation) as to know his Milery by the Fall of Adam, and the Way of Recovery from under his Mifery, by the free Grace of God, in Jefus Christ. For untill Man know the Source of his Milery and Mercy, he cannot as he ought, ferve God acceptably, with Reverence and godly Fear, Heb. 12.28. It was Man's great Happiness, that in his first E-State, he had the Prerogative above all other Creatures upon Earth: to be made after the Image of God, holy, upright, and without Sin. But ever fince his Fall, it hath been his great Mifery, that he hath Sought out many singul inventions to rune hangles, Eccl. 7. 29.
The Imputation of Adam's Sin, hath so corrupted the Bountain of Man's Heart, that from it proceed all these Things that both defile and destroy the Mans, Marth. 15. 19, 20. And the the Actings of Sin be very various in their Kind yet they all wo k fo as to bring about one and the same End, viz. Man's utter Ruine and Destruction. For, 1. Thy Soul's Wellwither,

SERMON I

HOSEA xiii. 9. O Ifrael, thou hast destroyed thyself, but in me is thy help.

HOUGH Ifrael's name fpeak out his gloother parties in the world, yet Ifrael may come to be in a very low condition, even to be destroyed in all appearance, and cut off, as to their the Lord hath a foveraign hand in the low condition of his people, and it is true alto, that Ifrael's enemies have a great hand in their low condition, for which they will get no thanks from God: but it is as true that Ifrael hath a principal hand in this his low condition, he himself procuring his own overthrow. O Ifrael, thou haft destroyed thyself. 'Tis the iniquity of his people that feparates betwixt him and them. Ifa. 59. 2. Behold the Lord's hand is not shortned that it cannot lave, neither is his ear heavy that it cannot hear, but your iniquity bath separate betwixt you and your God, and your fins bave bid bis face from you, that he will not hear. And the many in Ifrael are now and then taking with this, that they by their finning have a principal hand in their own overthrow and destrucis not foon fastned on Israel. The Lord many times in this prophecy hath told them that their destruction was of themselves, and he hath used teon them, in the preceeding part of this chapter; and yet in the text he comes over it again, and leaves it of new at their door; as if he had faid, I have often told you before, and have proved from the beginning of this chapter, that we have ruined and overthrown yourfelves by your fin: But because you are not throughly enough convinced of it, I tell you again of it, again confider of it, and lay it more ferioully to heart. O Afrach, thus healt delived theylif: which fays, That it is not eaty to bind on the Lord's people a through, right and real conviction, that they have a main and chief hand by their fin in their own overthrow and destruction.

The Lord's people may be brought under ftroaks. 1. To acknowledge that their low condition and overthrow is from the Lord. 2. They may be brought to blarne adversaries, as being the instruments in God's hand of their trouble. 3. They may blame their own fin, as the cause of their ruin, but a through real and right conviction of this they are not easily brought unto, which hath these four qualifica-tions. 1. It must be personal. Some will grant, that it is fin that hath ruined the Church of God, but will not let it light that it is their fin. 2. It must be particular : It is not only my fin, but it is this and that fin in me that hath done it. 3. It must be a pungent, wounding conviction of fin, as the cause of their ruin, a conviction which makes the heart fick, which is very rare. Many will blame themselves, and particularly many fins they are guilty of, and will grant they have a hand in bringing much wo and wrack on the land, and on themselves, and yet will not be affecred for all that. 4. It must be an abiding permanent conviction. Many who have obtained the former three, come fhort in this: many have been to far convinced of fin, of their own fins, as having a great hand in all the wrath lying upon us, and have hung down their heads like a bulrusa for a day, but these affections have not bidden, they have not carried 7)

that weight alongs with them, as a counterballance

way from themselves, and from the land.

What are the marks of a through, real and right conwillian that we have destroyed ourselves, and have had a great band in the destruction of I frael by our fin. Answ. They who are rightly convinced, they lay their hand upon their mouth; they are filent before the Lord. notwithstanding of all that he hath done, is doing, or may do to them and to the land; fo far are they from complaining and repining for any thing that is come upon them. Pfal. 39. 9. I was dumb, and opened not my mouth, because thou, O Lord, did it: There was a man rightly convinced of fin. As long as a person or people multiply complaints of heavy. burdens and fad things on them, there is not a through real and right conviction fastned on their heart : for affoon as the conviction is through, they will be dumb, not opening their mouth: And, Lam, 3, 30, Wherefore doth a living man complain, a man for the punishment of his fin ? will a rational man, if he be a man and not a heaft, complain for any crofs difpensation? he will not, for it is the punishment of his fin, and he is punished less than his iniquities deferve. 2. They are bufy in fearching out the ways whereby they have brought destruction on themselveand the Church: Lam. 3. 40. Let us fearch and try our ways. Every man that is throughly, really and rightly convinced, that he hash had a hand in the overthrow of the people of God, he will fearth and labour to find out what is the hand he hath had in it. 3. A right, real and through conviction hath following in it a fudden and hafty reformation of thefe evils, which have procured and drawn on that wrath. And for me to fav, that I have laid my fin to heart. as being convinced, that I have had a hand in this wrath that is on the church and people of God, and can father it on this and that evil in myself, and yet

I study not to remove it, it is but a fancy, and not a real and through conviction. And the I would fay, Tam convinced. I but lie, for, would I hold a ftroak on invielt and others, if I judged it a ftroak, and that my fins procured it, if by any means I could remove it? This is also clear from, Lam. 3. 40. Let us turn again to the Lord: A through, real and right conviction of fin, and of our ruine by fin, brings every man to feek to reform what is amifs. 4. It makes the perion diligently plead at the throne of grace for mercy, reconciliation and peace with God through a Mediator. Speak of other things what we will. that flicks most in the heart of a throughly convinced finner. Lam. 2. 41. Let us lift up our hearts, with our hands, or in our hands, to God in the beavens, Speak to such a finner of a delivery, and of this and that promifing mean, and of an outgate, they fignifie not much to him without the peace and favour of God; moven in heaven is that which most bulks in his eye. c. They who are rightly convinced, when ever they hear or objerve any new emergent, or de claration of God's wrath, or evidence that he is angay, they not only look upon fin, as procuring it, but much shame and consumon fills their face. Alas! we but iport with terrible emergents of God's wrath and anger, while we tell them over as news, and never reflect upon ourselves, nor ore ashamed, nor blush as procuring them. If we were convinced, that we by our fin have a hand in harling the people of God before these miserable, unhappy entnaring courts, is it possible but we would blush and be ashamed. Ye would think it ftrange, if one should come in and tell you, such a man is harled before the Commission court, another is imprisoned or confined, and ve had a hand in it; but if ye were convinced, that it is right true, your hand was in it, would ye not be ashamed of it? Never think that ye are throughly, and rightly convinced, or that you really think your fin had a hand in such a thing, till you also think that we have reason to be ashamed, and to take shame to yourself for every thing you hear of that kind. 6. They that have such a conviction will not be fortified with every delivery or out-gate, except the bond be taken off, and the Lord remove the quarrel and fin, that brought on the stroak. I question not but this may be a challenge to all the Lord's people, that they have been content of, and would have been at any out-gate or delivery, but is that each one of us to refemble the children of a king, and fuch a king in our fufferings, who should say (and would say, if rightly convinced) no out-gate, except God give repentance.to take away fin, loofe bands, and heal backflidings. And I would ask you, Have any of you this for your work and bufiness, for which you plead at his throne? The rightly convinced foul fays, Lord, either deliver thy people from iniquity, or let them ly as they are, either loofe our bonds, or no deliverance will content us; for they know any cutward delivery could fignifie little or nothing to them, except iniquitie were removed. & their bonds loofed, and backflidings healed, because otherwise there would be a new browst upon the back of it. 7. They can put a blanck in God's hand, to fill up what fufferings he pleafeth. It is not their care and fear what may be inflicted on them, they are relolute to fuffer whatever he thinks good, and that patiently. Micah 7. 0. I will bear the indignation of the Lord, because I have sinned against bim; I will justifie the Lord, and fit filent, not only under what he hath done, but under what he shall do to me, and will never ask a reafon of his dealing, for I know he is holy and justand can do me no wrong; and when it is fo, then I take up my felf deftroying in the right hew, and am convinced I have a principal hand in it, and will fav. Rightequiness belongeth unto God, but shame and confusion of face to me. S. They have an high and eminent eminent refentment of new discovered fin, who ther in themselves or in others; and we will find son ftrange thoughts of refentment that this conviction hath driven tome to in scripture, as in that holy ma Ezra, ch. o. 3. who when he hears of the fin of the affinity of the people with strangers, he rends h mantle, and plucks out the hair of his head and beard his heart fails him, and he falls down upon his fail as dead; that is an high refentment, and an evidence of a through conviction. And if fuch a conviction be, when ye hear tell that this or that man has flip ped in a fin, to the bringing of more mitery on the people of God, ve will also resent it sadly. Ye wi also find another high resentment of new discovered fin in Phineas, Numb. 25. when he fees Zimry and Cozby in the act of uncleannels, he steps out of h flation, and flicks them both through the belly. Alass if there were zeal in us, flowing from a right con viction of fin, when we hear this man falls in thi fin, and another in drunkenness, a third bath taken that wicked declaration our hearts would rife in high relentments of the things; our hatred of them would be so irreconcilable, we could not digest them, or oul hearts would fail us at the new discoveries of new fin and guilt : new fin would make us fit down aftonish ed, and nothing would weaken our hope, and make us delpond, but that alone.

U(e 1. Be not easilie satisfied with your self under an convictions for sin ye win at under all this misery that i, come upon the church & people of God. and upon your selve

2. Never rest till you get a conviction qualified with that fourfold qualification. I Till your conviction be perfonal, that you bring home things to rounfelf. I be made to say, I am the man, God is angrie at me, and I how procured this wrait is the land, and to mysiss. 2. Rest not till ye come to particulars, this and that which I have done, and am guiltie of, it the case of all this deplacing, ruine and operatorow: general confessions will not do it. 3. Rest not till your heart be kindlie affected with the fins we are convinced of: feek that the convictionmay be pungent and wounding. 4. Let not your conviction be transient, but seek it may be an abiding conviction. The wrath that is on us is no transfent thing; it is like a cloud that is letled over us, and it is a fore matter, that our conviction should not be a settled & abiding conviction.

3. Let me fay, I fear upon trial, that by the marks that have been given, a through, real and right conviction of fin be very rare, and there be few found, for all that's come and gone, that have laid this matter rightlie to heart. O Irrael, thou hatt destroyed thysel Do you think that the Lord's people have been weeping thefe 3 or 4 Years under a through conviction of their fin, and that the Lord regards not their tears? No furely, this is not it, we have not been humbled & weeping; and therefore, think it not strange, that it be with us as at this day. The Lord's people meet and pray, and there is no answer returned, but one ill on the back of another; and the profane are stumbled and hardned, when they fee fuccess doth follow their prayers, and they do prosper in their way. In this we are to clear the Lord, & blame ourselves. I doubt nothing, but if from a through, real conviction, that we have ruined ourselves by our sin, we have been humbling our selves before God, we should either by this time have had an outgate, or known better the outgate and mind of God concerning the continuance of our trial & outgate; or at least, we should have had Some token for good shewed unto us from the Lord. Oh, have we been filent before the Lord under our conviction. and put from our complaining! have we been busied in fearthing out our fins, whereby we have destroyed ourselves & others? have we made haste to reform these evils we found upon search? have we diligently pleaded at the throne of grace for pardon and peace with God, and the looking of our bonds? have we upon every new declaration of wrath been ashamed, as having a deep hand in drawing it forth ? would we be satisfied with no outgate, nor promifing mean of delivery, except the Lord free us of the yote of our transgressions; and bleat our backfidings? base we been brough to put a blank in God's band to affilia us as he pleaseth? have we in zeal highly resented new discovering of his wrath?

No doubt there are many, who think there is no wrath upon Scotland and that Ifrael is in a good cafe. and hath not destroyed himself. But oh! are ye so blind? are ye not convinced that God hath protaned the church and flate of Scotland, that he hath loofed the girdle of our Nobles, and hath made their authority vile and contemptible before the people? that all our precious things are taken captive by the adverfary; that our interpreters, each of them one of a thousand, are some of them banished, others of them confined. & a godless profane pack put in their room? do ye not yet fee, how the land is ruined and destroy ed, and the flocks of the Lord's people scattered? & are these things & many moe no evidences of God's wrath? I would not wish to any man such a meafure of wrath, as is on that man who thinks there is no wrath upon Scotland. Again, are there not many of you faint-hearted? Is not your Spirit and courage, and valiantness for the truth gone? and is that no evidence of wrath? I doubt nothing, but it is a part of our plague, that we are as Ephraim, a fillie dove without heart; nor do I deny that a manifest breach of covenant lies on us on that account: but this is not all. Ifrael hath finned, and therefore is his heart faint, and his hands feeble, and he fled before the pursuer. Would ye know then, why the people of God are fo faint-hearted and weak? why Abner's hands were bound, and he died as a fool for fin, and want of a through, real and right conviction for fin, and not turning to God? otherwise I nothing doub, but they had been as bread to us this day; and one of us fhould have chafed a thoufand of them who now banish us, and harle us to prison. There is no hope as to this thing, till once we be brought to know & be made tenfible, we have destroyed ourselves. And if we have a heart to believe this text, and the great truth contained in it, it is your fin hath ruined you, and fenarated herwixt God and you. Why fit ve ftill looking one upon another? Arife, as it is faid of Ezra, he arose and tell about the confession of fin, and they entered into a covenant to amend what was amils. So I would say to you, Sit not still discouraged, arise and fall to search and find out what is your part of the fin that hath brought on this wrath. Make your conviction personal, particular and pungent, every family apart, and their wives apart; fet some time for the work, the finding out, and the confessing of fin and repentance for it, and turning to God; and then if the Lord shall not bring about your delivery, you shall have ground of much peace, and ye shall have an easie task in your sufferings. If we were once throughly convinced of fin, and if matters were as clear betwixt our God and us, as they are betwixt him and his enemies. I am confident the Lord would appear, and make bare his holy arm yet once more for his people. O but matters are clear betwixt God and adverfaries; and if we could tay here is an evidence that matters are clear betwixt God and us, and that we have heard the voice of the rod, and of him that hath appointed it. I nothing doubt. but ere long the Lord should do some great thing for us. But I know it is but loft labour for the most part, for a Minister to give you a general charge, and bid every one tearch his own way and labour that his conviction may be through, affecting and humbling. many cannot be moved to it: ve will hear what we fav, bus will not do what we bid you; for many a time hath God by his Ministers bidden you fearchyour ways fince this work began; and I put it to your conscience, if ye have set sime apart for it. And if ye fay, though ye win not to much, yet it is the work yeare and were about. I fear, few of you can fay this much; and who have it not to fay, have an ill conficience, and (carcely can I think that ever they had this real, through and right conviction. That they have a principal hand in defiroying themselves & the land by their fin. Others know not what to canteisnor how to further this work. *itensitien opporthemselves.

Therefore it will be heft to come a listle to You in Your relations & flations with this charge, and feeing it pleafit the Lard new to speak to you. Gye know not been long or whether be flatified to You by us again. I show I You to take to beart the things that I am to charge upon You, and everie one as be finds bimfelf, let some time a part to mourn before. God and to lete for paradon and peace.

The f. for! I final! (peak to, is to our felves who are Ministers of the Gospel. We cannot deny but our hand hath been deep in the desolation and deftruction that hath come upon the Lord's I frael, and tho' the Lord's people have had that much charity, as to clear us, yet God torbid, that we clear our felves. Many Paftors have destroyed the Lord's vineyard, through their transferstions and fins. And while I am speaking to our own fins, who are the Lord's Ministers, let none think that we are laying open their wickedness to their contempt, I know no way like this to make them honourable, to fearch out their fin, and to be bumbled for it before the Lord.

The 1. thing I charge on them is this, that we have had a carnal way in managing all his matters, we have taken our own prudential gate of binding things on people, and have laid more weight on thefe than on the ordinances of God, and the Spirit's working and backing them, and that both in doctrine, and in the exercise of dicipline, and our not laying weight on his ordinances a divine; and his Spirit's prefence and bleffing promited to make them effectual hath made his work take final effect among our hands.

z. We have been more careful to stock ourselves with matter of our work, 'than to bring fresh influences ut of heaven to make his work taking, beautiful and glorious; and every word we spake had been more layoury and refreshful with the people, if we had dipped our hearts in heaven's influences; because we have not lought after this, but have only studied words, and to make up purpole; and have not laid the stress of our work upon the spirit; and on his divine refluences, in the convey of these things we delivened, it bath made our work for much the mare fruitless.

3. It hath been our fin, if we got our work off our hand with credit, and were born out in the delivery of our meffage to the people, we did not follow it with prayer, and feek after it. If hath not been fo vexing to us after as beione. Why? because we cared more for our own credit, than for the people's profiting; a fin for which the Lord hath ludged us not fit to bear office in his house.

4. We may be charged with lelf-feeking and envying others, that were like to darken us; tho we have feemed to be blyth to hear fuch a man commended, yet it hath fluck to our heart, and hath afterward vented ittelf in our centures, which tells we never defired another to come our length, at leaft to outfirip us; so far have we been from that diposition to rejoice, if Christ were preached, and at the increasing of others, tho we should decrease. This amongst others hath helped to flut us out of our Ministry.

5. We may be charged with much worldly mindedness, we have not given ourselves wholly to these things of our Ministry. I do not say, that every one is alike guilty of this, or of the reft; yet some are guilty of one thing, and some of another; some in one degree, and some in another; and there hath been a great deal of carnality amongst us all. Can any of us say, that the care of the church has hien upon us, or that the care of souls, that we have had under our charge, hath had the weight on us it should have had.

We have not commended ourselves to every man's conscience, nor have we become all things to all men, that we might gain some , nor have we made it our work to seek that which is driven away, and to bind that which was broken; neither have the souls conditions of these who were going over the brae lyen heavy upon us, till they were reclaimed; we were not burnt nor scalede with the stumbling of any, that was the least part of our work; fra once we got a gate of them by publick censures, we troubled not our head with them any more.

6. Whatever hath been our diligence and duty, it hath not been our meat and drink to do the will of our mafter, and to finish his work with delight and pleadure; we have wearied of it. And many precious Ministers of the Gorpel longed for diumistion, and would have been glad many times to have been laid by, therefore God hath granted them their delire, and hath laid them by, and tho they would be glad to speak again in his name, they are justile delerred of that opportunitie, till they know and acknowledge their iniquitie, and be ashamed of it.

7. May it not be faid, as the word is, 7cm. 10. a. The Paffors generally were become bruiffh, therefore have they been finitten, and the flocks fcattered; 10 little Religion hath appeared in the practice of many Minifters, that Ye fhould not have known them by other men, by their carriage, if their habithad not (poken it. Woold to God that fad word might not be applied to manie Ministers in our time, what profanitie hath gone out from them, which hath taught the people to be prophane.

8. We have been more bufie in firite and contention to firengthen factions, and to hold up, our fide in controverted things, than bufied with the work of converting fouls to God. Thefe and many more things may be charged on us; but there is enough here to make us afhamed, and therefore You who are 17)

the Ministers of Christ, and have the honour to speak in his name, know that unto You is that word fooken, Fer. 12.10. Manie Pastors have destroyed my vineyard. & have made my pleasent portion a desolate wilderness. Take time apart, and together to think on these things. Charge Yourselves with them, and confess them to God when You meet, and Your alone mourn over them before him, who hath just lie But us out of his house, as unworthy to bear office therein, and yet acknowledge, that the Lord hath dealt mercifullie with us in this matter, for when he might have done it on fome horrid account for fcandalous transgressions, he hath laid us by on an honourable account of fufferers for him, because he hath found fome finceritie in us. And when he hath humbled the Ministers of Scotland, who are laid by as usefeis, I hope he shall yet take service off their hands ; but we would know, that his voice, and the voice of his rod now is, Ministers, go preach to Yourselves, hecause ye did not preach to Yourselves before, and if we take with our fin, and get our peace made with him, it may be he make us yet polished shafts in his hand; and if not, here we are, let him do to us what feemeth good to him; however, fure I am, it is present dutie to set some time apart for confession of, and mourning over fin; and if we do fo, it shall be well with us, however matters go. ThezdSort I would speak to, is to you who are El-

I hezabort I would leak to, is to you who are Elders and Deacons, Ye have helped to deftroy the Lord's people, and to lay his pleafant portion defolate, therefore God hath looled Your cords by Your fin, and made void Your authoritie, and remarkablie he lighted first on You, and shut You all to the door together, not that I aim at Your guilt more than at our own, but I would have You lay to heart Your transgressions, and wish I could further You to a full conviction of Your sin in order to Your peace, and God's being pacified sowards You, and his pea(18

ple. Can Ye fay that the fouls and bodies of the Lord's people have lien upon Your heart? that it ha h been a part of Your business to hold up their cale to God, and to have them reclaimed, & brought in to him? did Ye think it not enough, if Ye delated a fault, when it came to Your knowledge, and when Ye had done, Ye thought Your elves exonered and free ? did Ye not manage Your work with carnal weapons, mixing Your wild fire with the zeal of God, boafting of the people of the Lord, ruling over them with rigour and force, difengaging them by Your countels and reproots? have Ye taken confciencions inspection of these places respectivelie pu' under Your charge? have Ye distribute to the poor with bowels of mercy? what account could manie of You give of their condition, if Ye should be put to it? And give me leave to tell You, that Your worldlie mindedness. Your greed and coverousness. Your lying and deceit, Your breach of promifes & engagements. Your tipling, and carnal walking bath taught he people profanitie. When Ye made no confcience of Your words, how fhould they? when Ye abitained not from a tavern, was it not a mare to hem to follow? And therefore, I nothing doubt, I do You any wrong to charge You with the destroying the Lord's vineyard. I shall not infift on your fins; but if Ye would earch Yourselves, confes Your fins, let time a part to mourn over them before God. Ye might comfort Your elves, that this day Ye fuffer not as evil doers, but for his names fake; and happie are Ye, it Ye continue in adhering to him, his truth and cause. But let me ob est You, let men speak of conventicles, we have another thing to look to than their acts, and things of that kind: let time apart, Yourselves apart, and Your wives apart, and meet together and contess and mourn over Your fins. O if I could perswade You to this, I do nothing doubt, but ye should yet live to bear honourable charge in the house of God.

A 3d Sort I would fpeak to are those who are more eminent amongst the people. We have not ame No bles, and God be thanked for us, they have little credit who have mist of them; neither would I have You to think, that I mean of an eparticular Gendleman, in what I am to speak. We have not a confiderable Gen leman in all the parish; but anie of You that are more eminent than others, take it to You, and I would charge You with some bings, that I would have You sin so far as Yeare guilter convinced of & mounting before the Lord, and amending.

The 1st thing that I charge on You, Gentles, is, That whenever Christ or his cause had ought to do. Ye sent out the blind. the balt, and the lame, the profanest runnagates to fight for the cause; and I wish that there were not ground to fay of some, that they should have some males in their flock, and yet send out the blind, the halt and the lame in their room, and the consequence of this was often told you, the mijearriages of the armies did To flumble the Lord's people in other lands, that it hathhol den up. Evet holds up jeglouses betwirt the godlie in both nations to thisday, that they can think on nothing unanimouslie. 2. I charge You with oppression, and grinding the faces of the poor. I know Ye will flartle at the naming of this, but I cannot belp it. I dare fay Ye have used Your brethren as Your slaves, and made their lives bitter unto them. I do not justifie their undutiful carriage to You here, neither would I have You think I reflect on Your credit, to tell You Your fin: Your consciences will justifie Your Ministers, that it bath been a part of our work to hold up Your credit and conscience, and would have sweetned the lives of the poor bodies under You. I know Ye will lay, they will not be the better. the Ye should give them down of their rent: but will Ye once use this mean to better them; convince them that Ye are merciful, and if they be not better, but them from You. Is it not lamentable, that everie bit of land Ye have racked to the utmost value, so that Your ten(20

Mants cannot get Your rent paid, and bread to keep in their lives for their labour. I. know Ye will be loath to be convinced of this, the God's dealing with You may convince You more than my speaking to You; had not Your forbearers less rent, and less land, and richer tennants? And yet Ye are blind and will not Jec God threatning to cast out of Your lap Your dishonest gain; yea to cast Yourselves out of the land, and from Your habitations. O that Ye would be persuaded to look to God in this, and lay Your heads together, and confult how this ill might be helped. 3. I may justlie charge You with this, that Ye bring up Your Jons in vanitie; will our Gentles now put their children to callings? No, as if that were a discredit to them, and their credit that they hould live in idleness, and then they turn Malig -nants, and persecutors of the godlie, drunkards, thieves, and whore masters, men that will neither do well, nor let others do well where ever they come, but are a peft in everie societie where they come. Sure I am, it were more credit for You and them both, to have them brea at some bonest calling, than to have them slaving men in other countries, or trailing a pick to fight against the Turk, or coming through the countrie, as some of them are dailie with their testimonials seeking our charitie, or begging from door to door. 4. May I not charge manie houses of our Gentlemen, for being nests of uncleanness, cages of unclean birds, so that if anie sober man bould come into them, they bould not think they bave been bred under Go/pel light: and is not this a horrid reproach upon You? 5. May I not charge You with this, that now and then Ye fall out in Your unbappie fits of passion, in cursing, banning and swearing, and ove not assamed of this? There are not manie of them noto a days, but ask, what he is? He is a Gentleman indeed, but he is verie passionate, and given to banning and swearing, and one that can let an oath flee. But I bave not skill of that man's religion, who bridles not bis tongue; fure I am, the Spirit of God calls that man's religion vain, Jam. 1. 26. It is true, Te have had a respect to Ministers, and some of You have carried a great respect to them on some account; but did Ye lay as great weight on, and had Ye as great respect to their mellage? Hath not that been undervalued by You. as if there had been another gate for You to heaven, than for poor folk; and what care we for your respect to us, whilf Ye flight our message. 6. May Ye not be charged for want of charitie? Have Ye opened Your hand to the poor and needie ? I fear Your charitie may be foon counted and reckoned from one Year's end to another ; Ye will give Your plack at the church door, and Your alms at Your gate, but have Ye fearched for poor and needie objects: this should have adorned Religion more than manie other things, that better might have been forborn. 7. May Ye not also be charged for want of zeal to the cause of God? Especiallie of late have Ye not been so afraid for Your lives and estates which was impawed for the cause that is now overshrown? Nay, I lay it upon Your conscience, if Ye thought this a dutie incumbent for You, the Lord knows I intend not to lay open Your nakedness, but rather to set you in a way to make you honourable; and what is that ? Even to lay to heart Your fin, and take time to mourn over it, and make Your peace with God. Ye get now and then visits from Miniflers, make use of them, set some time apart, and make earnest of it, for words will not do it; and when Xe have mourned over Your evils, jet about the mending of them, as I fear Your sad days be but coming yet. I know Ye will think Ye know the worst of it, and that Is compliance. I confess, that is the worst of it at prefent, but there is werfe coming; if Ye complie, Ye shall not escape God's wrath, and if Ye mourn not, the Ye complie not, Ye shall not escape that wrath that abideth impenitents, and Ye may ere long be shaken out of Your worldlie inheritance. And is there not much need then that Ye should have Your peace made with God, and the livelie hope of heaven as an antidote against that?

A 4th Sort is the bodie of the people. I know You have affented to all that hath been afferted against Minifters and Gentlemen, and it is like Ye are glad to hear fuch doctrine, but have Ye not also destroyed the Lord's vineyard, and laid his pleasant portion defolate by our fins. 1. I charge You with deceitfulness, and over reaching one another, with covetoufnets and worldlie mindednets. & a spirit of contention flowing from Your coveroutness, so that for a pluck of grafs, and a beaft going over the merch. Ye have taken up a standing quarrel for Year and Day. And have they not taken en times more of You to whom Ye were not to much beholden, and Ye durft not fay it was illd ne? and yet Ye did not confider, nor take it from the Lord as a chaftisement for Your contention on fo fecklets grounds. 2, May I not charge You with complaining, grudging, whinning and whitpering, for the little that was taken from You, for upholding the cause & convenant of God. and for paying Ministers stipends, and it may be Ye shall lay more out on a worse account to them who will give You no thanks for it. It may be, Ye would now give out Your money to keep up the Gofpel, but it will not be bought with money. 3. I charge You for not taking the Gospel off our hands, we tell You, that God is now giving up treating with You for this, Ye have come to hear, but Ye have return-ed Your prophane gates. I know Your tipling, lying, banning & (wearing, Your fcorning of the godlie, Your Sabbath-breaking, envy, malice, difrespect to Ministers, for all Your fashions, and will Ye not be convinced & ashamed for these things? 4. I charge You for having a cruel hatred at Gentlemen, and for contempt of them and others above You; Your freting & undutiful carriage hath been palpable. wish You had subjected Yourselves more cheerfullie. Take time & meer together, & Your alone, & mourn over these fins, & manie moe, & seek God's mercy. (23)

I have known feveral of Your meetings, who was left reason. I know not how Ye have tallen from them now. Will Ye fall to them again, and deal teriooffle with God, that he may pitie You & Yours.

5. I have fornewhat to tay to fervants; do Ye know, that Ye have destroyed the Lord's vineyard. and have had a hand in all the evils lying on his people. I charge You with these things; 1. That Ye have not received the Gospel, tho we have mourned over You with tears; Ye have never made earnest of making Your peace with God; and know Ye not that he is now giving up treating with luch rebels? 2. Think upon Your profane carriage. Your filthie words & sperts, Your lascivious, wanton and graceless way of converfing, Your pride and vanitie. occasioned through God's goodness. & a cheap Year; fulness of bread hath so puffed You up, that Ye misken Your station; Ye must have word about with those that are over You, and the world dow not bear Your pride, which appears in Your apparel, other things we will not name: I put it to Your conscience, have Ye done Your mafters work as Your own? have Ye taken their rebukes and reproofs without inuffing & aniwering again? nay rather, was not, and is not Your pride fuch, as that Ye dow not bear a word? but ere long Ye shall bear more with them. to whom Ye were not so much obliged, & dare not speak again. In a word, Ye was well, and wist not, Ye fay, Ye had no libertie to ferve God; but lie not to God; in all the world there is not a place, wherein fervants have had more libertie to ferve God, than in this West-country. 3. May I not charge You menfervants, who were pitched upon, that Ye shifted to go out and fight the Lord's battles, for the cause & covenant of God, to which Ye were bound as well as Ministers and Gentlemen, and it may be, Ye be forced to harle a pick to a battle, where the quarrel will not be fo clear. Servants, I speak to You, have ye confidering their things, and manie moe. to take time and mourn for Your fins, whereby Ye have destroyed the Lord's vineyard? Ye will fav. Ye have no time; but let me fay it, I fear Ye shall get time enough ere long, God will give You the Sabbath day, ere Ye have that excute, and on Your filent Sabbaths mounn, if Ye have a heart to mourn.

6, and Lastlie, I shall speak a few things to the Godlie: and O that I could perfuade You, that Ye have helped to destroy the Lord's vipeyard. And it is the provocations of his Sons and of his daughters. that have brought this destruction on Israel. It is true, he is angry at Ministers, Elders and Deacons, Gentlemen, Commons and Servants as Juch. But it is as true, that he hath another quarrel at all in their stations and relations, who are godlie, and as fuch; and who knows, but he hath referved You for fuch a day, that Ye might venture Your life as Either, in going to the king: that which I mean is, that Ye may go in and wreftle with God for removing of wrath. Ye are persons who have had moven with God, but it has not been improven; and I have more to charge You with, than my memorie can reach, or time will permit to lay before You, But, 1. I charge You with falling from Your first love, evidenced by falling from Your former diligence. 2. I charge You that Ye are turned formal in all Your religious performances: Alas! that Ye understand not better the voice of the late rod of Sectaries upon You, who cried down all forms, to make You more cordial, rather than to turn more formal in all duties or worship. 3. I charge You with flothfulness, in giving to the Lord the refuse of Your time; he gets but fits and ftarts of You, after or betwixt turns. It was a great word in that man, I will not ferve the Lord with that which cost me nothing, 2 Sam. 24. 24. Is not Religion one main clause of the covenant? why then are Ye fo flothful and overlie in all religi(25)

ous performances; 4. I charge you with wordlie mindedness. that I defie any to draw a ffraw betwixt you and many ohers that know not God, as to this thing. Covetousness hath overwhelmed all, fo that it is turned into a common faving. ne is a godly man, but he is right greedy; there is no halt in he gathering of gear, except in the poor, who cannot get t. 5. I charge you with prevailing passions, and inordinate ffections to every idol, that comes in your way. Are ye not is foon fadled, and as foon angry, and in a paffion, and dow pear as little, as these in nature? are ye not ready to flee in ire at every word that thorters you? 6. I charge you with ride and felf conceit, and despising them that comes not up o your measure, therefore God threatens to level you ere ong. 7. I charge you with unbelief and ignorance of God his word, fo that I dare fay, there's not a Christian among in hundred that believeth this Bible to be the word of God o as to lay more weight on a threatning, and a ground of thallenge from it, than on the bark of a dog, notwithstandng of a large dispensation of means, and for so long a time: You have fitten down on poor probabilites on an interest in Christ: But there is not one among many fixed in it. How nany of you are under heart condemning? Tho' God hath een telling you the evils every day, wherefore he contends. whiles by his word, and whiles by your conscience, yet ye. mend not. And do ye think that God can abide with his rospel? Ye may make din and say, what will we do, if we want it? But what have ye done with it? It is to be feared, hat many of you would live as well without it as atheifts. . The true substantials of religion are decayed; as, 1. True benderness under challenges: the time has been when ye would have een challenged for an idle word, and mourned over it, but now not ur jourteen idle deeds, neither can ye mourn. 2. Tenderness in consciwe is much decayed, ye are ms to tender as to flart at a straw, as a were wont to do. 3. Where is that fearthing out of promises, and we application of them to ovents, I dare say, many of you some sew ears ago, had ten times more promises, than ye have this day, and or applying of all that falls out to fome scripture, to make out that Whis ways are mercy and truth to his own Is not that much gone, to' by it we used to hold in your life? 4. There was also a bensil to lifie others, but where is that gone now? 5. Where is that wonted val against sin, and for the glory of Goa? farely in this trial, God ash taken us with our back at the wall. 6. Add the abuse and neelest of your Christian fellowship, which hath provoked God to see you. But I insist no further. May I think ye will set time apare mourn over these evils, and seek for grace to get them helped? O that I could persuade you. Sure I am, considering these things ranks will justifie the Lord in all that he hath done. But what W all that we have faid avail, if it be not taken off our hand; he ver I shall take heaven and earth to witness, that I have ching these things upon you; and yet I say not on you, but on us all; a would fain hope, that we would take some time to the through a wiction of them on our spirits. And mourn over them before the If ye do so, I dare promise in his name, he will hear, and give outgate; if not, your bands (ball grow stronger. I shall say no me but if Ifrael were throughly convinced that he hath destroyed hinds there were hope that in him were Ifrael's help, which, if we get in and opportunitie to fpeak, shall be shewed to you, even that not the Handing we have destroyed ourselves, yet there is hope of help in w

> SERMON. II Hos, xiii. o But in me is thy help

T would feem that the Lord in his providence had ordered things and drawn them to fuch a period, a he intended I should close the scripture of Matthew, before should leave you, that thereby you might learn somewhile the doctrine of the crofs, and of the hazard of relinquish his cause I did scarce look to have got leave to give and count of that scripture to the end; and when that was de that he had but two other words to speak to you by one word anent your fin, and that ye are your own dr throw, and that God is not to be blamed for it: and and word anent your help and relief, that tho' it be so, that are the cause of your own ruine, and that you have defly ed yourself, yet you are bound to hope for relief in in when there is no other to help you. It feems that Godie these two words to speak to you, which no man or pie could hinder, till these were delivered.

Ye have heard to what a low condition the church to be brought, and whatever hand God may have in it, 8 d versaries that are instruments of it, yet her memberar chiefly to be blamed for their own overthrow: And be will have all forts & ranks of persons, Noblemen & Gele men, bond & free, rich & poor, ministers & people, godo: ungodly, particularly convinced of these fins, whereof 1 27 } are quilty, whereby they have destroyed themselves, and the church: fo that he hath not left himself without a witness. and happy shall he be, who shall bear the impression of these av till he come. Now the other word he hath to fpeak to you is, but in me is thy help If the first word hath left a deep impression upon your heart, I could with much confidence speak to the second. These words are not only a ground of encouragement to the poor people of God, the remnant in their low condition : but they are also a vindication of the majesty of God, that he is free of their destruction, and not to be blamed for it.

We shall speak of them, first, as they are a vindication of the majesty of God, that he is not to be blamed for their destruction, but in me is thy help The words may be rendered in the by past-time, but in me is thy help: so any evil that is upon you, ye may blame yourfelf for it, for in me thy shelp hath been, and yet still is.

Here observe that the Lord hath left abundant testimonies and witnesses at his people's door, that he is not to be blamed for their destruction, or for any miserie, calamitie or forrow, that is upon them, for in me thy help hath been; I have been ay good to you, I appeal to your own conscience, whether or not I have helped you many times, when ye have been low, and whether or not I have given you many favourable casts of my hand, so that we have no cause to blame me. God is flytting free with his people, that he is not to be blamed, these scriptures and the like prove it: wherein have I wearied thee? have I been a wilderness to you? hitherto hath God helped.

In profecuting this doctrine, I shall shew you, I. What ways people do reflect upon and blame him in their condition. 2. What testimonies God hath to produce for himself at the hand of his church, especially at the hand of his church of Ifrael, that he is not to be blamed, which will be very applicable to us. 3. Why did the Lord (who is not tied to render an account of his ways) condescend fo far as to satisfie his people, in shewing them that he is not to be blamed.

To the first, what ways do people reflect upon God and blame him. Ans. 1. When they reflect upon his providence, when they are under any firoak or mifery brought on them-felves, by their own fin; as thus, if the Lord had not done fuch things to me, it would not have been fo with me, this did befall me in his providence, and I could not win by it This was that which Adam began with, and is a clause irritant in his familie fince half thou eaten of the tree, faith God whereof I commanded thee thou (bouldft not eat? Who is to be blamed for that? The woman whom thou gavest to be with me, she gave me of the tree, and I did eat. I am not to be blamed, but your and her : thou gavest me her (indeed I got a bonie bride that morning I got her) and the gave it me. So we blame God when we blame his providence for what we do 2 When they reflect upor his predetermining counsel, as thus, This was even ordained for me, before coat or fairt were shapen for me It is the language in the o Ch. to the Romans, Who hath refifted his will? who could help it fince be decreed it? I lay, the placue of God frall be upon you, the votel cannot refift that will, for your blaming it. 3. When they reflection upon his free grace and mercy. Something of this is hinted at, Pfal. 77. Is his mercy clean gone for ever? hath he forgotten to be gracious? Free grace might have helped this: Tho' I be an under ferving man, what the matter; if free grace had given me a call by the common? I have no more grace than God hath given me, which is as much as to lay, if grace had done its part, I might have been kept from this evil hour. 4. When they reflect upon the faithfulnels of God, tho' fome date not speak it out, yet it is in their heart; there is a word to this purpose, Plal 77. 8 doth his promise fail for evermore? When folk do question the truth of his promife; this ye would beware of now: For folk are in hazard to question the truth of his promise, in reference to his publick work. To this purpose is that of Jer. Ch, 20. 7. O Lord, thou half deceived me, and I was deceived, and why art thou unto me as a liar? These are dreadful words of the creature to the creator, as if he had not infinite ways to make out his promise, that we cannot take up. 5. When they reflect upon his juffice, severite and peremptorines in smiting of his people. There is a word in one of the prophets that runs to this purpose, if we be destroyed, how can we live? Which is on the matter this, if God lo deal with us, there is no living, or being with him; he will not let folk away with the knot of a fraw, but he dings them down. When folk hear that God smites for this and for that, their heart rifeth in passion, and faith, that there is no dallying with him, let him alone, for many have fived with bim, and flood before him, and he will not make new laws, nor ordain new ways to sollow, neither for your pleasure nor mine.

2. What hath the Lord to fav for his own vindication at the hand of his church, especially at the hands of Ifrael, to prove that he is not to be blamed for their destruction, and the mifery that comes on them Anf. 1. God had this to fay to If ael for his own windication, that he had chosen them out of all nations of the world, without any thing in them previous to that choice, that might have engaged and influenced him; fo did he reason with shem, Deut. 7. 7, 8. The Lord did not fet his love upon you, nor shoofe you, because ye were more in manber than any people, for ye were the sewest of all people: But because the Lord loved you. If the Lord had a mind to drag you down, and destroy you; and had delighted in that, he would not have brought you out of that blind condition, wherein ye were lying with the rest of the world, but he would have left you a few blind moles drowning yourselves in your fin. 2. He had this for himself to fay, That he had brought them from the Azverie and bondage of Egypt, in which they had ruined themselves by their sm. after that he had chosen them, he had ay this to say for his own clearing, whatever came upon them, that he was their God that redeemed them from the land of Egypt, so that if he had delighted in their destruction, he would have left them there, and suffered them to run to the devil with the Egyptians, and never owned them nor delivered them 3. He had this to fay for himself, that he had entered into a covenant with them in the wilderness, after he had brought them out of Egypt, which privilege he had denied to any considerable incorporation before that time, whatever he had done to fome particular persons and families, yet he never tormally entred in covenant with any great incorporation, but with them 4. He had this to fay for himfelf, that he had done many miracles. and wrought many wonders among them; he had shewed them marvellous and ftrange acts, and great figns and wonders. after he had chosen them in Egypt, and before and after he had formally entred into covenant with them, for their confirmation and establishing, that he dang down every power that had lift up itself against them; what need him have done this, if he had delighted in their destruction? 5. He had this to fay for himfelf, That he had delivered them from many inconveniencies; that he reproved kings for their fake, and fuffered no man to do them wrong; that he smote kings, and mighty kings, Og king of bashan, and Sihon king of the Amorites; he never spared great nor small, whilft they abode with him, but he carried still as their husband and Lord; this fufficiently clears him from bearing the blame of their ruin.

6. He had this to fay, that he kept abundance of light among them, for to shew them their duty, that they might know what was the way of peace and life; many prophets did he fend them, while late and early did admonish, rebuke and teach them, so that it was not for want of light & counsel that they went wrong they had enough of that; this fufficiently cleared him. He had this to fay, that many times he had fore-warned them of their skaith, whence it should come, and by what, and hath mach them consent and submit to their own destruction, if ever they should go that black gate he had forewarned them of. Now, faith God, have told you the right way, and ye may lippen to me it walking therein; and I have also told you the wrong way that will bring you down, and bring you under their folks feet that are your enemies, if ever ye make covenant with them, I vow and fwear, I shall be full of your flesh: And they were fo far convinced of the equity of this, that they consented to their own ruin, if ever they should do it, if el ver we join with the people of these abominations, let God confume us from off the earth. If ever we take these thievel again by the hand, let the wrath of God purfue us, the hear vy hand of God be upon us; that is a ftrong vindication of him. S. He had this to fav, that notwithstanding of all they had done against him, he took heaven and earth to witness, he would ac cept of a little small thing at their hands Run ye to and fro through out the streets of Jerusalem, and see now and know, and seek in the broad places, if ye can find a man, if there be any that executeting judgment and seeketh the truth, and I will pardon it, Jer. 5 1. On ly acknowledge thine iniquity, Jer. 3. 13. Do but this, I wil pais by all bygones; will ye do but this, and I shall defie all the thieves to get you down, but I shall be about with theme

3. Wherefore doth the great God of heaven to confess, & as it were to vindicate himfelf fo at the hands of poor un worthy worms? he is not bound to give an account of his matters, or to render a reason of his ways: For who may fay unto him, what dost thou? Anf. I. He doth it for the glor of his justice. Against thee, thee only have I sinned, & done this evil in thy fight, that thou mighteft be justified when thou speakest, and clear when thou speakest. I clear thy justice of all that is come upon me. God will not leave any ground to reflect on that 2 For the glary of his grace and mercy, which his people ar ready to reflect upon: But I refer to yourselves to judge, whether or not. I have been merciful, O ye inhabitans of Jerufalem, and men of Fudab Mudah, judge between me and my vineyard. I refer it to your felves. and all the world, whether or not you deferve stroaks, and whether or not I can spare you longer. 2. That he may the more effectually bind his peoples fins upon them, whereby they have destroyed themselves. and convince them of the evil of their own way, and of their folly. Ufe. 1. Lo here the daring boldness of the corruption of men, that dare reflect upon God, and blame him for the mileries, calamities and forrow that befall them; we have this legacy left us by our father Adam, who blamed the holy God for his fall; we have a spice of this from him, altho we will not speak it out; yet we think it often in our hearts. If God had not carved out things to be fo and fo, they could not have been; you are not to meddle with that, for he is holy in all his counfels, tho' it be fo, but you are to be ashamed of your fins, for it is they that are the cause of your destruction. Take heed of blaming the majesty of God, if there be any apprehension in you to do it, suppress it and bear it down.

Ule. 2. Know that the Lord hath abundant testimony lying at our doors, as well as at Ifrael's, that he is not to be blamed for our overthrow, but we ourselves are to be blamed; he hath this to fay, that he did fet his love upon us, &c gave these ends of the earth to his son for his inheritance. and that he took infeftment of them, and that he took us by the hand, not for any thing in us, for we were but a pack of poor beggars, in respect of other nations, & that he brought us out of Egypt, from heathenish, papistical and prelatical bondage: & when we were all running the black gate, with the bishops, and running to black darkness, he brought us back again; and that he entered into covenant never more formally with any nation than with us; and many great and glorious things he wrought for us, that he gave us many victories, and reproved many both great and small who opposed us, for our sake, all which we hope to be but an earnest of what is to follow, and that he told us of our duty, & of his way, and warned us what would be our ruine. He told us, if ever we break covenant, and joined with the malignant party, and put them in places of trust, & made them captains and officers of our armies, they should be our ruine; and we confented to this, and put in our declaration, that even when there should be scarcity of men, we should not do it, not only in offenfive wars (as some do distinguish) buc in defensive wars. We faid. God forbid, that even in the scarcity of men we should split upon that rock, and that we would join with these abominations, and yet we never rest ed rill we made them captains and officers of our armies. & joined with them. God forgive them that brought them in and forgive us also that suffered them to be brought in: dare fay alfo, that God would take little off our hand, that he may be about with these thieves: Fain would he be at them, and have a fair occasion to be full of their flesh, who have to fhamefully broken his covenant, and foir upon his face. Well I wot he would take little off our hands. How. ever he hath many testimonies lying at our door, that he is free of our ruine. O but we had been a happy people, if we had bidden by him. Many things also hath he to say to vindicare himself of at the hands of his people, which would it take a long day to tell. He hath this to fay, that he hath holden out to you many a time, what is the way of truth the and the way of peace and piety wherein ye should walk, & that clearly; you have not fallen in an evil condition for want of light, and that your idols have overmastered your for want of that. He hath this to fay, that he hath not ceafed to be a reprover to you, tho' ye have trampled upon reproofs, yet hath he made your consciences challenge you, out and in. He hath this to fay, that you never fet yourfelf feriously to seek God, but ye got worth your pains, and met you mid-way and more. You never fet yourfelves fo, that ye were at a point; ye would have fomewhat in this prayer, or else ye should lay it by: But he met you, he meeteth him who rejoiceth and worketh righteounels. No fooner put ve up the fails, but he put wind in them; that is a testimony that he is not to be blamed, he hath this to fay, give me the tithes and offerings, as ye were wont to do, & see whether or not I will rain down a bleffing. Give me the ancient tale of duty, and fee whether or not I will come and blefs you. He hath this to fay, that he hath fufficiently discovered the vanity of that, which is the ground of the quarrel betwixt him and you. He hath convinced you that he hath made your bufiness thrive, as well when you gave him the due tale of duty, and did not clip them, and better too, than when ye did otherwise, 'tis but dashing for folk to slip prayer, that they may won foon out to the plough, or harveitridge; if they do, God may break fome foom or coulter, or fome other thing in the plough, or the hook wherewith the fhear, or make some, accident to befall them, that they shall loofe more time for their worldly gain, than all the time that prayer would have taken up to them It is in vain for you to rife up early and lit up late, and eat the bread of forrows, for to be givetle his beloved fleet. God can give his people that make configence of the dutys of religion their full of reft, and make their work go on allo. Again, he hath this witness against you, that there is fomething he hath been contending with you for, & defiring you to quite & forfake, & yet ye would not do it for him.

Ye know well enough what it is, 'is even the thing ye know of: What is the reason ye will not mend it? It is something that hath cleaved to you this year, & the other year, & feveral'years. Had ye but done this for me (as if the Lord would fay) and forgone this little petty thing for me, I should have made your peace run down as a river. Upon your conscience be it, whether or not I offered it good chape to you, if ye would give but a little more pains, and forgive a little small thing that ye know well enough what it is for, I will not tell you what it is, I think it not worth the naming, ve should have had peace, and perfect peace. It is a fore matter that we should fill keep in our vexation, & discuietness, which is all, because we will not forsake the thing we know of. I say then, God hath the right end of the firing, come of us all what will, he is free of our ruin. Let us therefore juffife him, and windicate his juffice, and free grace; for is bath done what it could do. with credit and honesty to the court of heaven. Let us therefore take with our fas, and blame eurfelves, for we have destroyed ourselves.

so the word may be rendered, not only have I ay done you good. but I can jet help, and I will help you, for all that is come upon you.

I shall once help you in spite of their hearts that would hear you down. Here observe two doctrines; 1. In the lowest condition the church of God and Ifrael can be in, God can help; there is help in God, if he please to put it out for I frael. Thou by thy broken you all, and dung you all down, and they think yo can never be raifed up again, but for as low as ve are, I can help you, for all things are possible with God, even these pleaseth him in heaven and in earth, being king of kings, &c Lord of lords; he is higher than the higest Our God can deliver us, fav the three children, vea he will deliver us; they were as low as we are, they had the king & all the court a bout them, and ready to cast them into a fiery furnace made ready also for them, which also they did, & yet God delivered them. I do not think that ye question this in your judgment, that God can deliver; yet before I speak to the other doctrine, that faith, God will deliver you, I shall shew you some ways wherein God can help his people in their lowest condition, and in any of these ways God can help us, if he please. I. He can help his people by destroying them, by that he makes them happy evermore; in death he makes them conquerors; he makes them fay of the bitter afflictions and ftroaks, that it is good for me that I was afflicted He teacheth & instructeth them out of his law by his chastening them 2. He can help them by his admirable bearing them up, and fupporting them in their condition, by flaying his rough wind in the day of his east-wind, correcting them in measure & judgment, even when he feems to make the waters run over them, and overflow them, tho' he brings them through the fire and water, yet he brings them through: He takes away the sting of the rod & affliction, & bears them up under it. 3. He can help them, by casting their help in the ordina. ry channel by ordinary means and instruments, even where their case is very low, & feems to be desperate; as to an outgate, and there is no man for help appearing, within a fhortime he can cast their help in the ordinary channel. Ye are it may be, thinking, that God must work a miracle before we can be helped; but he can put our help in the ordinary channel very foon, as he did in the year thirty eight, when he threw down the prelates. He can cause the spirit descend upon his people, and great faviours on mount Sion, & put it in the hearts of his people to arife, to the railing of his interefts, cause, covenant, ordinances and work; he can raise up feven shepherds, & eight principal men 4. He can do it in an extraordinary manner, he can create help, he shall creat help for me, faith David, creat deliverance for Ifrael, is a prayer of faith that it should be, and God shall send down help immediatly from heaven, he will order all things as they are remaining, God will work wonders, but he will be a

Use. I. The people of God should not despair, the their condition feems to be irrecoverable. It feems fo to you, but it is not fo to God the things that are impossible to men are not impossible to God What the matter, tho' God ding us all down, if he will do zood to our fouls, and teach us out of his law? What the matter the we ly under thefe folks feet for a time? He will make our worst condition best. What the matter the' we want the publick ordinances for a while, if he prove a little sanctuary to us, and if ye get your lesson taught by the master himself, who is an interpreter, one of a thousand, not only among it the threes, but above them all. What the matter, tho' he blow up all outward worldly helps, seeing ye have a proof of their emptiness, and seeing be can help either in an ordinary, or extraordinary channel? Let us nover be discouraged, and tyne heart; if the heart be gone, all is gone.

SERMON. III.

HOSEA xiii. 9. But in me is thy Help.

C o M. E. now to the third doctrine, That the church of God in her lowest condition, may warrantably look and wait for held from God Not only can he help, but she is obliged to wait for it. Take only that scripture to prove it. Pfal. 130, last v. Let Ifrael hope in the Lord for ever and ever, that day can never down; neither can that case befal Ilrael, wherein he is not obliged to hope; & if to hope, then to look for help from God;

In speaking to this, I shall speak to these things, I. Shortly to the low condition whereinto the church may be brought, 2. What grounds of hope hath the church in her lowest condition to look for help from God. 3. What conditions are required in a church, which may warrantably look for help from God. 4. How far was this promife verified to the church of the Jews. 5. Whether or not it be applisable to the church of Britain and Ireland.

To the first, the low condition into which the church may be. brought. 1. She may be defaced both as to her civil and ecclefiastical government, the authority of both may be loofed, and the people of God may be as scattered bones about the graves mouth, and few of their own refent this.

2. What are the grounds upon which the church is to expect help. when thus made low, and there is none to help. Anf. The covenant is one ground, you must understand that God hath made a covenant with this church, which is everlasting and perpetual, that he will do fuch and fuch things for her, even a covenant of peace, which shall not be removed. And of the tribe of Lew he hath faid, that is shall not want a man to ofter an offering to the Lord for ever: As David shall not want a man to fit on his throne, which is verified in Christ;

fo the tribe of Levi shall not want a man to minister before the Lord from generation to generation; when they were in a low condition, he faid, I will remember my covenant Many a black thing did the covenant keep off, & in another place I will do such and such things to you, after all your whoredoms and adulteries, but not by thy covenant. God hath ways of making out his covenant that we have no skill of : he hath a pole, 82 a little purse keeping in his covenant, that many do not see Indeed folk that have cast off the covenant, and have burn it by the hand of the hangman, will get fore bones, & fore fouls also; but as for these that cleave to it, they may expect help on that ground, Hof. 2. 19. I will betroth thee unto me in righteousness, in loving kindness, and in mercy; not only in righteoufness, I will not only do thee all that law binds a husband to do for a wife, but I will give thee a cast by the common I will betroth thee in loving kindness & in mercy. 2. A second ground is the headship & suretyship of Christ, under which he is come by an everlatting covenant of redemption betwix him and his father; once have I fworn to David (good honel David understanding Christ who never wronged man) his see shall endure for ever, and his throne shall last as the sun before me Pfal. Sq. 36. As for thee also by the blood of thy covenant I will ferial out thy prisoners out of the pit, wherein there is no water, Zach, 9. 11. Thy prisoners, that is, Christ's prisoners out of the pil wherein there is no water, that is, out of Babylon, a comfort less & heartless place; by the blood of thy covenant, that is through Christ's covenant confirmed by his blood. It was through Christ they were set free. And faith Daniel Dan, of 17. Look down upon thy fanttuary for the Lord's Sake, that is, for Christ's fake, the great prince Michael, that is ay for the church Lo Michael one of the shief princes came to help me, Dan. 10. 13 1 That good honest angel never fails me, but is ay at my back when I have any thing to do for you I never miss him. 3 A third ground is the name & glory of God, which is might tily engaged for the help of the church: What wilt thou de to thy great name, is a firong argument, when all weapon have failed, that hath force and virtue in it: We must even have a cast of thy hand for that, seeing thou hast taken us to be thy people, and brought us out of Egypt, thou must now fuffer the heathen to say, for mischief thou did it to May them w pon the mountains, and that thou wast not able to bring them to the Land thou premifed guto their fathers: And fometimes he faith, wrought for my name's lake; & at other times, for my name's lake I will deferr mine anger, I will, hold my hand, and not destroy them utterly. 4. A fourth ground is, that free love, which moved him to pity them, when they were lying in their blood, rank open & avowed enemies to him, he promifeth he will pity them fill; he promifeth that he will heal their backflidings, and love them freely, Hof. 14 3 I will even do this freely, for ye have neither in you nor on you that can help this bufinefs. These are most pregnant grounds, whereupon the church may expect help from God.

2. What are the conditions that are required in a church, which may warrantably expect help from God, And 1. It is required, that not the name of a church; for it is not to a land, or fuch a multitude of people, as fuch that God by his promife is bound to, but to a multitude or incorporation having pure ordinances. This is that which made Ifrael a church, when they were miferably corrupted with idolatry, they having some of the pure ordinances, as the word, & some of the sacraments, as circumcifion; & until they loft the word, doctrine, worship &c facraments altogether, God did never altogether reject them. 2. There must be a remnant, all the promises have always a respect to the remnant, the remnant of grace, tho' it be but fmall; hence it is said, if the Lord had not left us a remnant, we had been as Sodom, and made like anto Gomorrah. 3. There muit be intercessors; the church indeed is in a hard case, that wants them, as is clear, Ezek 22. 30, 31. And I fought for a man among ft them that should make up the hedge, and stand in the gro before me for the land, but I found none; therefore have I soured out my judgment upon them, I have confirmed them with the fire of my wrath, their own way have I recompensed upon their heads, suth the Lord. Yet in some singular cases he helps, where there is none to help, & no intercellor. If s. 59. 16. And he faw that there was no man, and wondered that there was no intercessor, therefore his arm brought salvation to him, and his righteousness suffained him; & it to, much more when there are interceifors, altho they were but a foxv. Jer. 5. 13 Run ye to and fro through the freets of Ternfalem. and feek and know in the broad places thereof, if ye can find a man, that feeketh the truth, and executeth Judgment, and I will pardonat. 4. It is required, that that incorporation deserve best the title & name of the true Ifrael, & church of God of any incorporation in the world, & that because God hath resolved will so have a church, and we cannot think that he will cast off better church, & keep a worfe. You shall find that altho Ifra was oftentimes corrupted, yet evil as they were, they were the best incorporation in all the habitable world; & that was the thing that kept them to the force, and gave them ftill right to that promise, let Ifrael hope in the Lord for ever and i wer. And yet even in their worst case in captivity, and out of it; in well and wo; indeed they were cast off at last, but ther was good reason for that, for the Christian church came in & took their rights & privileges from them. But put out min eye with any instance, that they were wholly put away, while they came in. Hence I conclude, that that church ought the hope in the Lord for ever & ever, & that even in their low eft condition, when they have destroyed themselves; and fo. I hope our case is the better this day.

4. How far was this promise verified to the church of Israel ? An 1. In respect that he helped them many times, & delivered them when they were very low, even from external judg ments, how oft did he deliver them when they cried unto him when they were under the feet of their oppressors. 2. In respect that he kept alway a little stock & stool, & a remnan among them in the captivity, and out of it which did bring forth a new brood, & multiplied three times more, especial it was made out at the coming of Chrift, & the preaching the gospel to them. 3 And chiefly, it shall be made out their ingrafting, when Ifrael shall return to the Lord.

5. How far may we make use of this promise, and how far is applicable to the church of Britain & Ireland. In answer to this we shall, I. Shew how far these conditions, which are re quired in a corporation which may warrantably expect hely are to be found in the church of Britain & Ireland. 2. We sha fhew fome additional things, which may further strengthe

To the first, what of the conditions which are required an incorporation which may warrantably expect help, are be found in the church of Britain and Ireland? Anf. 1. That church must have pure ordinances, and we say, we have pure ordina ces and much more pure than God gave Ifrael ground to hope in his for; who will say against it? We have the pure word of God preache and, pure facraments, and it is not long fince we had pure worsh. pure doctione, and pure discipline and government, all very near t patern. Indeed there are very great corruptions now brought in; b

Com whence have they come? From the church of Britain and Ireand? We deny that; for we declare before heaven and earth, that hele who deferve belt the name of the church of Britain and Ireland. hat they do adhere to the doctrine, worship, discipline and government fworn to in our folemn league and covenant; but these corupters have come from a party, whom we have opposed fince the year, aft off, their destruction was universal and arbitrary, voluntar and y choice; but we by violence and force are driven from pure ordinanes by an ungodly party, whom we have striven with from the womb. Wey shall find that the church of Scotland wants not pure ordinanes, but that ungodly party hath violently rugged them from the true liberiers and flewards of them and kath intruded a pack of prophane verjured flaves to diffense them; the Lord is our witness, we have tot done it by choice. 2. There must be a remnant; I never bad better. or we plead, that there is a numerous remnant in the church of Briain and Ireland, and fach a remnant as was never found, for any bing we know in any nation or kingdom at once. I grant the remnant far from their duty, but what can ye conclude from that; that God will leave that church? I deny that to follow; I will indeed conclude be cloud to be growing, and that it is not at its height, but not that and will give up with that church. I will get you scriptures to speak he contrary; particularly, Jer. 5. 1. and Ia. 6. ult. The remnant hall be as a teil tree; it is a fignificant word, it fignifies the terrife hat was on the north of Jerusalem, which kept the storm off the mple, and shall be as an oak, whose substance is in them; the holy ed shall be the substance of the land; and if so, then God and the surch of Britain and Ireland commot fled, for that condition is mich-We verified in it. 2 There must be intercessors, I grout, that gives a ish to our faith. But altho we have been in the fense of our sin, grantg that we are far from what we should have been at, yet God and e world knows that there are intercessors for the church of Britain d Ireland, in the land, and out of the land. And if God lought but e, and would have spared for one's lake; I dare lay, there are many oulands lamenting over the condition of Britain and Ireland, Do think that God will fout out their prayer: He will regard the prayof the destitute; there hath been many a sappy mayer pst up, and any a tear shed within these four years; and the people o God have m filling God's bottle with them, and we hope it shall be full ere it long, every one of his should be helping to fill it. It is a frange ing, the there be so many godly folk, that we cannot get God's bosfilled up amongst us, when it is full, they will make the wheel of providence go about to the confusion of enemies, and the redemption his people. A. The church which may warrantably expect help, me world And I prefigue, that this condition stands mightily verified the church of Britain and Ireland; I fay it with fubmiffion to other who know better the affairs of other churches abroad than I do. I have pare ordinances, and are under covenant with God. We have inteft our feed in them, and have laid all to the flake for them, as have been figually owned of God in that work, and the rumour had ame abroad through the reformed churches, that we are the pur charch, wherein we will find the bell title and claim; if that will h do it, we may think men may take their word again in their con nanting, but that campe be without confent of parties. Te will for that the church of Britain and Ireland hath broken covenant we God I grant that is a great eliction: I grant indeed our rulers had roluntarly and deliberately done it: But is that the deed of the chim do abominate that deed of theirs, and do cleave to the covenant, a are suffering, because they will not break it. That the purest remna may delerwidly be called the church, read Pfal, 22, penult. A feet shall serve him, and it shall be counted to the Lord for peneration. The feed that forts him is counted the church, thele w rotult all that break his covenant, and are backfliders, and they the declare his righteousness to the generation to come, that he hath do this. Hold your tongue; they are not yet born, but in their mothe womb, and their fathers toins, who shall reat the good of this wo that we are luffering for Take up your hearts then, and be not a couraged, leeing we have fuch access to these four conditions, for they have arounded, they shall get all we have eraches get then wet let us hold to our claim, while a better come, and take it from

I shall in the next room, give you some few items, the every lass and lad may make use of for ftrengthning the faith, that God will help. I. We have a very infolerat par to deal with, who have made void God's law, &t establish iniquity by a law. And fhail the throne of iniquity ha ful men, and shall they live half their days? No, they sha not They have broken covenant, and committed the m horrid breath that ever was heard tell of ; they have nor d ly broken t, but burnt it with the hand of the hang-m
