

The Spiritualist,

AND JOURNAL OF PSYCHOLOGICAL SCIENCE.

The Oldest Newspaper connected with Spiritualism in Great Britain.

No. 395.—(VOL. XVI.—No. 12.) LONDON: FRIDAY, MARCH 19, 1880. Published Weekly: Price Twopence.

JAMES MALTBY,
ARMY TAILOR & ACCOUTREMENT MAKER

To Her Majesty's Military and Naval Forces.

Everything of the best Quality.

At special prices to Spiritualists, to whom references can be given. Five per cent. for cash.
8, HANOVER PLACE, REGENT'S PARK, LONDON, N.W.

JUST PUBLISHED.

In One Volume, a Series of Five Stories, Entitled

BETWEEN THE LIGHTS,

By LISETTE EARLE.

Price Seven Shillings and Sixpence.

May be obtained of Messrs. Remington and Co., Arundel-street, Strand, London, and of all Booksellers.

An interesting Book to Spiritualists.

A NEW PUBLIC LENDING LIBRARY.

"THE SPIRITUALIST LIBRARY,"

33, MUSEUM STREET, LONDON, W.C.

Catalogues may be had on application. Subscription Fifteen Shillings a Year, exclusive of the cost of postage of books.
Full particulars as to terms will be found in the catalogue.

THE THEOSOPHIST,

A MONTHLY JOURNAL DEVOTED TO SCIENCE, ORIENTAL PHILOSOPHY, HISTORY, PSYCHOLOGY, LITERATURE AND ART.

Conducted by H. P. BLAVATSKY.

PUBLISHED AT 108, GIRGAUM BACK ROAD, BOMBAY.

Subscription, £1 Per Annum, Post Free.

Post Office Orders to "The Proprietors of 'The Theosophist,'" at the above address.

JUST PUBLISHED. Price 2s. 6d. Crown 8vo. Cloth. Red Edges.

MESMERISM, WITH HINTS FOR BEGINNERS.

By CAPTAIN JOHN JAMES

(Formerly of the Ninetieth Light Infantry).

A text-book by an Author who has had thirty years' experience in Mesmerism.

"Captain James is, it is needless to say, a very firm believer in the reality and uses of the mesmeric sleep, and he has here thrown together the results of his own experiences, at the request of his publisher. We agree with Mr. Harrison that the author has treated the subject exactly in the way in which it is desirable that matters on which the public require information should be treated; and he tells concisely, and yet fully, many of the secrets of what is still regarded in many quarters as a somewhat dark art. Want of faith is, he argues, the great bar to the progress of what he terms 'a just appreciation of the powers and the blessings to be derived from a proper use of mesmerism,' and he holds that one of the chief causes of the failure of mesmerists is, that they give up the trail too quickly, and that they also mesmerise far too many persons. As to the beneficial results of mesmerism, our author has no doubts whatever, whether as a cure for epilepsy, headache, toothache, or other ailment; and his final advice to the practitioner is, 'Call it what you like, but persistently employ it for the benefit of the sick and suffering.' Even if Captain James fails to make converts by his little volume, he may at any rate be credited with having written an interesting work in a thoroughly pleasant way."—The Publisher's Circular.

The Spiritualist Newspaper Branch Office, 33, Museum-street, London, W;

Just Published. Price One Shilling. Cloth. Red Edges.

A CLERGYMAN ON SPIRITUALISM.

Narrating how a Clergyman prayerfully and earnestly inquired into Spiritualism, and setting forth his experience. With a dedication to

THE REV. SIR WILLIAM DUNBAR, BART.,

By LISETTE MAKDOUGALL GREGORY,

Dealing with some of the difficulties of the Clergy in relation to Spiritualism.

The Spiritualist Newspaper Branch Office, London, W.C.

ALLAN KARDEC'S WORKS.

ALLAN KARDEC (Blackwell's Translations).

THE SPIRITS' BOOK (1858). From the Hundred and Twentieth Thousand.

THE MEDIUMS' BOOK (1861). From the Eighty-fifth Thousand.

HEAVEN AND HELL (1863). From the Sixtieth Thousand.

Price 7s. 6d. TRUBNER AND Co., London.

JUST PUBLISHED.

SPIRIT-IDENTITY.

By M.A. (Oxon)."

Cloth 8vo. Red Edges. Price Five Shillings, post free.

The Spiritualist Newspaper Branch Office, 33, Museum-street, London W.C.

A New Invention.

THE UNITED SUIT.

Gentlemen's complete Attire in One Garment for Instantaneous Dressing. Very Stylish in Appearance.

INVENTED AND MADE SOLELY BY

JAMES MALTBY,
ARMY TAILOR,

8, HANOVER PLACE, CLARENCE GATE, REGENT'S PARK, LONDON, N.W.

Crown 8vo., pp. 155, cloth, price 3s.

AN ESSAY ON SPIRITUAL EVOLUTION,

Considered in its bearing upon Modern Spiritualism, Science and Religion.

By J. P. B.

"This is a very ingenious work. . . His eclecticism has led him to recognize philosophic unity and system in more than one popular scheme of metaphysics; and we have rarely had a more complete resumé of all the prevalent schools of philosophy."—Pall Mall Gazette.

LONDON: TRUBNER AND Co., LUDGATE HILL.

32 Pages, Price 2d.; by Post, 3d.

RATIONALE OF SPIRITUALISM.

E. W. ALLEN, 11, Ave Maria Lane.

JUST PUBLISHED.

THE FIRST VOLUME OF

SPIRITS BEFORE OUR EYES.

By WILLIAM H. HARRISON.

This book shows that one section at least of the phenomena of Spiritualism is produced by the spirits of departed human beings, who have passed over the river of Death. It contains a great number of well-attested facts, proving that the said spirits are the persons they say they are. The work, from beginning to end, is full of evidence of Spirit Identity

The Author attempts to prove the Immortality of Man by strictly scientific methods, giving well-proved facts first, and conclusions which naturally flow from them afterwards.

Price of the Library Edition, on superior paper and handsomely bound in half-calf 8s. 6d. post free. Cloth edition 5s. 6d., post free.

The Spiritualist Newspaper Branch Office, 33, Museum-street, London, W.C.

MR. C. E. WILLIAMS,

61, LAMB'S CONDUIT STREET, W.C.
At home daily from 12 till 5. On Thursday and Saturday evenings from 8 o'clock for reception of friends.

MR. J. WILLIAM FLETCHER,
22, GORDON ST., GORDON SQUARE,
LONDON.

(At Home every day except Sunday),
Will Lecture at Steinway Hall, Lower Seymour street, every Sunday night at 7 o'clock.

MR. F. OMERIN,

Having made many rapid and permanent cures of Gout, Rheumatism, and other painful maladies is prepared to visit patients. Address,

MR. OMERIN,
5, NORTHUMBERLAND STREET, STRAND,
LONDON.

MESMERIC HEALING.

NATURE'S CHIEF RESTORER OF IMPAIRED VITALITY.

D. YOUNGER,

By this mysterious gift of God to man, the most shattered constitutions can be built up in a short time, acute cases cured in a few minutes, all pangs and pains disappearing and health restored simply by the influence thus imparted has the property of restoring an equilibrium of the vital forces, thus giving a new life-power to the nervous or feeble patient. Any form of mediumship developed. Clairvoyance a speciality.

Mesmerism and healing taught. Written instructions with anointing oil for home use, or self-treatment. Address all letters,

D. YOUNGER,
Moscow House (corner of Moscow-road and Hereford-road), Bayswater, London.

Stamped directed envelope for reply.

NOTICE OF REMOVAL TO 31, NEW BOND STREET, LONDON, W. MRS. PARKER, at home for private sittings and mesmeric treatment; development for clairvoyance and other forms of mediumship, from one to five o'clock daily; and eight to ten. Evenings of Mondays and Thursdays.

M. HUET, good Medium for Raps. At home from 12 till 5 o'clock. 173, Rue St. Honoré, Paris.

MRS. WOODFORDE, Developing and Healing Medium. Any form of Mediumship developed. Ladies and children healed by Mesmerism. Terms according to circumstances. Days and hours of business—Mondays, Wednesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays, from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. 4, Keppell-street, Russell-square, W.C.

CHARACTERS FAITHFULLY DELINEATED from Handwriting, Photos, or blank paper Mesmerised by the Breath. Fee 2s. 6d. Address, Miss Ross, care of Mrs. Nichols, 32, Popstone-road, Earls-court, S.W.

MIND AND MATTER. A Spiritual Paper, published weekly in Philadelphia, Penns. U.S.A. A Special, Independent, and Liberal Spiritual Journal. Publication Office, 713, Sanson-street; J. M. Roberts, Publisher and Editor. Annual subscription to residents, in any part of Great Britain, in advance Twelve Shillings. (Send International Postal Order.) Sample copies free.

LUNACY LAW REFORM ASSOCIATION, 64, Berners-street, and 79, Chancery Lane, London, W.C. Attendance at the last address daily from 2.30 to 4 p.m. Saturdays 1 to 2

DESSERT SERVICES CHEAP:— J. M. DALE desires to call attention to the above. A number of Services he is selling at unprecedentedly low prices during the present month. 50, Crawford Street, Bryanston Square West, London.

THE TRAPPED MEDIUM; OR THE TWO CLEVER SCEPTICS. A pamphlet by Christian Reimers—This brochure contains a series of illustrations, setting forth the exciting adventures of Professor Molecule, F.R.S., X.Y.Z., B.I.G.A.S.S., and his assistant, Dr. Protoplaster, in their investigation of Spiritual Phenomena. It is an excellent little book for distribution among scientific men. A review of it in The Spiritualist newspaper says that the pamphlet displays real genius. Price 6d. post free 6d. The Spiritualist Newspaper Branch Office, 33, Museum-street, London, W.C.

The Spiritualist Newspaper,

A Record of the Progress of the Science and Ethics of Spiritualism.

No. 395.—VOLUME SIXTEEN; NUMBER TWELVE.

LONDON, FRIDAY, MARCH 19th, 1880.

“THE SPIRITUALIST” Newspaper.

Established in 1869.

PUBLISHED WEEKLY. PRICE TWOPENCE.

10s. 10d. per annum Post Free within the limits of the United Kingdom, and within the English and Foreign Postal Union.

EDITED BY WILLIAM H. HARRISON,
Museum-street, London.

The following Ladies and Gentlemen have published their names in connection with their Literary Contributions to

The Spiritualist :—

HIS IMPERIAL HIGHNESS NICHOLAS OF RUSSIA, Duke of Leuchtenberg	JOHN E. PURDON, Esq., M.B., India
THE LORD LINDSAY	WILLIAM WHITE, Esq.
THE RIGHT HON. THE COUNTESS OF CAITHNESS	MISS FLORENCE MARRYAT
THE BARONESS VON VAY, Countess Würmbrand (Austria)	MADAME ISABEL DE STEIGER
THE HON. ROBERT DALE OWEN, formerly American Minister at the Court of Naples	PRINCE EMILE DE SAYN WITGENSTEIN (Wiesbaden)
THE HON. ALEXANDRE AKSAKOF, St. Petersburg	BARON VON DIRCKINCK-HOLMFELD (Holstein)
SIR CHARLES ISHAM, Bart.	J. W. EDMONDS, Esq.
CAPT. R. F. BURTON, F.R.G.S.	THE COUNT DE BULLET
ALFRED RUSSEL WALLACE, Esq., F.R.G.S.	THE HON. J. L. O'SULLIVAN
C. C. MASSEY, Esq.	M. ADELBERTH DE BOURBON
MR. SERJEANT COX, President of the Psychological Society of Great Britain	M. L. F. CLAVAIROZ (Leon Favre)
ALEXANDER CALDER, Esq., President of the British National Association of Spiritualists	WILLIAM CROOKES, Esq., F.R.S.
COLONEL H. S. OLCOTT, President of the Theosophical Society of New York	C. F. VARLEY, Esq., C.E., F.R.S.
MRS. MAKDOUGALL GREGORY	ST. GEORGE W. STOCK, Esq., M.A., (Oxon)
GERALD MASSEY, Esq.	R. FRIESE, Esq., Ph.D., Breslau
MRS. WELDON (Miss Treherne)	J. M. GULLY, Esq., M.D.
CAPTAIN JOHN JAMES	EPES SARGENT, Esq.
S. C. HALL, Esq., F.S.A.	HENSELIGH WEDGWOOD, Esq., J.P.
MRS. S. C. HALL	DR. GEORGE WYLD
EUGENE CROWELL, Esq., M.D., New York	W. LINDSEY RICHARDSON, Esq., M.D., Melbourne
STANHOPE T. SPEER, Esq., M.D., Edinburgh	J. C. LUXMOORE, Esq., J.P.
ROBERT S. WYLD, Esq., LL.D.	C. CARTER BLAKE, Esq. Doc. Sci.
THE REV. C. MAURICE DAVIES, D.D.	H. M. DUNPHY, Esq.
H. D. JENCKEN, Esq., M.R.I.	ALGERNON JOY, Esq., M. Inst. C.E.
CHARLES BLACKBURN, Esq.	DESMOND FITZGERALD, Esq., M.S. Tel. E.
J. T. MARBLEY, Esq.	J. A. CAMPBELL, Esq., B.A. (Cantab)

The Spiritualist has a steadily rising Circulation in all the English-speaking Countries on the Globe. It is regularly on sale at 33, Museum-street, London; 5, Rue Neuve des Petits Champs, Palais Royal, Paris; 2, Lindenstrasse, Leipzig; Signor G. Parisi, Via Della Maltonia, Florence; Signor Bocca, Librarian, Via del Corso, Rome; British Reading Rooms, 267, Riviera di Chiaja, opposite the Villa Nazionale, Naples; 37, Rue Florimont, Liege; Josefstaad, Erzherzog 23, Alexander Gasse, Buda-Pesth; 84, Russell-street-South, Melbourne; Messrs. Kelly and Co., Shanghai; 51, East Twelfth-street, New York; Banner of Light Office, 9, Montgomery-place, Boston, U.S.; Religio-Philosophical Journal Office, Chicago; 319, Kearney-street, San Francisco; 325, North Ninth-street, Philadelphia; No. 1010, Seventh-street, Washington.

Advertising terms on application.

ETERNAL PUNISHMENT.

A GOOD old-fashioned sermon, such as formed the strong meat of the past generation, a discourse which could never be mistaken as milk for babes, an authoritative utterance in which the flames of hell are pictured as a terror to evil-doers, is a rarity now-a-days, and to listeners uninfluenced by any belief therein, is as interesting as the philosophical contemplation of the thumbscrews, racks, and instruments of torture of those good old times whose supposed attractions are so enhanced by poetry and by distance. What effect such sermons may have upon the minds of children, upon the minds of enthusiastic women, who delight to “sit under” popular preachers, and upon other easily impressed persons, is another question. In the ship of modern orthodoxy eternal punishment is the doctrine which has next to be thrown overboard to temporarily save the rest of the cargo, wherefore, for a long time past the more intelligent divines, such as Canon Farrar, have in their sermons been reducing the flames of the future to a vanishing point, or until the hereafter of the wicked is pictured as not much more unpleasant than a game at snapdragons at Christmastide. The Christian World newspaper has for years carefully given space to every argument that the doctrine of eternal punishment is a misinterpretation of Scripture, and Spiritualists have never hesitated to denounce the alleged lurid future of the “lost” as a libel upon the Almighty.

The sight of a live dodo in the year 1880 cannot be more refreshing to a student than is the hearing of a thorough-going old-fashioned sermon, in which the flames of the infernal regions have lost none of their reality or their pristine vigour. Such a discourse was delivered last Sunday in a Catholic Church, in which, after an æsthetical and pleasing service, the officiating priest explained to the listeners the position of those of them who desired to appear before the Holy Tribunal of Penance. He told them that for a sin of thought, Lucifer and other bright angels had been condemned by a just and good God to eternal flames for ever, and that all his hearers would share the same fate, who had committed without subsequent repentance a single wicked deed or thought. Nay, if they had ever had a bad thought, which they could not remember when they tried, they were for that forgotten thought doomed to the eternal flames of Hell. Moreover, he informed them that the priest's absolution was of no avail, unless the repentance had been sincere, and even then absolution was of no use if real repentance had been merely brought about by the sufferings the sin had caused to others; the repentance must be founded upon regret at the position in which the sin had placed the individual in relation to the verities of the spirit world, and not upon regret at the sufferings of earthly life.

Beneath the car of Juggernaut the self-condemned sinner is crushed, and his agonies are over in a few minutes; but the God held up for respect in sermons like the above, condemns his victims to endless fire for ever, for sins for which a police magistrate would fine a man five shillings, or for which a Dymchurch jury would decide, "we find him not guilty, and warn him not to do so any more."

The Catholic faith has come down to us through the ages as a grand old religion, as almost the only exponent of the aspirations and ideals of civilised man before the somewhat recent date when Henry VIII. altered the religion of Great Britain, and proceeded to murder his wives. However, as he is described in Chichester Cathedral, and treated in authorised Church of England prayers at Oxford University as an estimable and righteous monarch, his sanctified nature need not be farther dwelt upon here. The Catholic Church not only has great historical associations, but here and there has points of affinity with Spiritualism, for it has never denied the continuous intervention of spirits with the affairs of men, nor the possibility of communication with the unseen world. It has also brought down from ancient times the custom of praying for the dead, and Spiritualists everywhere know that this custom has had some foundation in truth, because those spirits who chance to be in an unhappy state, almost invariably ask to be prayed for when they communicate through mediums, often to the surprise of the sensitive who receives the message, and who had never previously supposed that praying for the departed was of any efficacy. But, if the doctrine of eternal punishment as set forth last Sunday at Folkestone, is the hard and fast doctrine of the Catholic Church, it is an irrefragable barrier between Spiritualism and Catholicism, although a refreshing phenomenon to meet now-a-days, for it is like a lump of honest quartz in front of the steam roller of modern progress; it is a fragment of an adamantine rock of the past, which will not yield, so will be crushed with more than papal infallibility. The various Protestant sects exhibit less sturdiness; they are throwing the doctrine of eternal punishment overboard, and pretending that it was all an accident that it ever found a place in their ship; but in this matter the Catholic Church sticks to its colours as firmly as it did in past ages, when it practically imitated its ideal Deity, by roasting alive Jews and Heretics as a sacrifice well-pleasing to a merciful God.

While the teacher of the young and of the timid was last Sunday setting forth that a good God had invented a hell of flame, and an eternal life in a bottomless lime-kiln, he might have brought the subject more directly home to them, by presenting the following comments upon an Auto-da-fé at Seville, at which Torquemada, one of the lights of the Catholic Church, took part with some of his hooded familiars in roasting some heretics alive in the "wonderful" city* of Seville:—

"Yes! thou art 'WONDERFUL!'—but oh,
'Tis sad to think, 'mid scenes so bright
As thine, fair Seville, sounds of woe,
And shrieks of pain and wild affright,
And soul-wrung groans of deep despair,
And blood, and death should mingle there!

"Yes! thou art 'WONDERFUL!'—the flames
That on thy towers reflected shine,
While earth's proud Lords and high-born Dames,
Descendants of a mighty line,
With cold unalter'd looks are by
To gaze, with an unpitiful eye,
On wretches in their agony.

"All speak thee 'WONDERFUL!'—the phrase
Befits thee well—the fearful blaze
Of yon piled faggots' lurid light,
Where writhing victims mock the sight,—
The scorch'd limb shrivelling in its chains,—
The hot blood parch'd in living veins,—
The crackling nerve—the fearful knell
Wrung out by that remorseless bell,—
Those shouts from human fiends that swell,—
That withering scream,—that frantic yell,—
All, Seville,—all too truly tell
Thou art a 'MARVEL'—and a Hell!
God!—that the worm whom thou hast made
Should thus his brother worm invade!
Count deeds like these good service done,
And deem THINE eye looks smiling on!"

Sad is the fact that in this Nineteenth Century, teachers are still to be found who tell their flocks that a God of Love could devise

* "Quien no ha visto Sevilla,
No ha visto Maravilla."

Old Spanish Proverb.

for his enemies, and perpetuate to all eternity, such fiery torments as Torquemada inflicted upon the innocent at Seville. Horrible doctrines such as that of eternal punishment have a tendency to blight or sadden the lives of weak-minded but sensitive people, and to induce those forms of religious mania which are so well known to the medical practitioners who have the care of lunatics.

THE APPARITIONS AT KNOCK.

DETAILED DESCRIPTIONS.

THESE descriptions are quoted from The Dublin Weekly News, a journal which week by week is publishing most interesting information about the Knock apparitions and cures, from its correspondent on the spot.

THE VIRGIN MARY, ST. JOSEPH AND ST. JOHN, SEEN BY ABOUT TWELVE WITNESSES AT ONCE.

I SHALL begin with the narrative of the young man Dominick Byrne. He acts as assistant to Archdeacon Cavanagh. He is a tall, well-knit young fellow, erect and lively, with a small and shapely head, an aquiline nose, a keen dark eye, and clear-cut handsome features. The expression of his countenance is open and resolute. He speaks with rapidity, and answers a question almost the very moment it is asked. He was clothed, when I saw him, in grey frieze, and wore high leather leggings. Dominick lives with his family—composed of mother, brothers and sisters—in a thatched cottage, looking like an ordinary small farmhouse, which stands about a couple of fields from the high road, close by the church, and is approached by a pathway running outside the school-house wall, at the southern extremity of the church enclosure. I may add that I estimate Dominick Byrne's age at two or three-and-twenty. The scene of my interview with him was inside an empty booth in the field beyond the school-house wall.

It is stated, I said to him, that you saw the apparition of the 21st of August. Is that true?—It is.

How was your attention drawn to it?—I was at home in my own house. My sister Mary left the house to go and lock up the chapel.

Did she go out alone?—No, Mary M'Laughlin, the priest's housekeeper, was with her. Well, she wasn't gone many minutes when she came running back into the house to me, and she said, "Come out now, if you want to see the Blessed Virgin!" "Yeh, where would I see the Blessed Virgin?" said I. "Come out, come out," she said again, and I got up and ran out after her.

This happened in the evening?—Yes.

At what time of the evening?—It was going for eight o'clock.

"Was there clear daylight then?"—There was—bright day. I followed my sister until I got within a couple of hundred yards of the chapel. Then I saw the three figures outside the gable, but I walked on to within four or five feet of them, and when I got as near as that, then they seemed to be up against the wall.

What was the height of the figures?—They were about life-size.

Did they appear to touch the ground?—No; they came down within about a foot of it.

Did the figures look flat, like pictures, or round and full, like statues?—They looked like statues, round and full.

Now I wish you to describe them for me.—The Blessed Virgin was in the middle. Her face was turned out to us. Her eyes were lifted up, in the manner of praying. Her hands were this way. [The speaker placed his hands so that the tips of the fingers were about on a level with the shoulders, and the palms of the hands were turned outward], St. Joseph on her right hand side, and turned towards her. His hands were joined together, and he was stooping. His hair and beard looked gray. On the left hand side was St. John. He was dressed in a long robe, and had on a mitre. He was turned partly out, and partly away from the Blessed Virgin, facing an altar farther on to the left hand side of the gable. On his left hand he was holding a large book open. His right arm was lifted up in the form of blessing, and the fingers of the hand were this way. [The witness illustrated his evidence by holding up his own hand, with the fore and middle fingers stretched out, and the third and small fingers bent double, with the thumb placed against the joints of them next the tips.] The appearance before him was of a plain marble altar, with a lamb upon the altar, and a cross upon the shoulder of the lamb.

Were the figures, and all, of one colour?—Yes.

What colour was that?—The colour of a bright whitish light.

Did the figures, or any part of them, or of the whole appearance, ever shake or waver while you were looking at them?—No.

Did the whole apparition seem to change position at all?—No, it did not.

Did you notice any flickering motion?—No.

How long did you stay about the gable?—About two hours.

Did the apparition go through any change in that time?—No; it remained exactly the same.

How many persons saw it, to your knowledge?—About twelve or fourteen.

Tell me the names of some of them.—My mother, Mrs. Byrne, my sisters, Mary and Maggie, a girl named Catherine Murray, two boys, John Curry and Pat Hill, myself and another Dominick Byrne, and Miss M'Laughlin, Father Cavanagh's housekeeper.

Did you see anyone touch the figures?—No, not one.

At what time did you come away?—About half-past nine, we all went away together to see a woman in the village that was thought to be at the point of death. When we went back, in about ten minutes, to the gable of the chapel, all was dark.

And you never saw the figures, or any of them, again?—No.

This closes the evidence of Dominick Byrne respecting the appearance of the 21st of August. His manner was free from anything like doubt or hesitation. He gave his answers readily and plainly

THE SCENE IN THE CHURCH.

Proceeding from Miss Anderson's to the house of the parish priest, I went into the church on my way. Night was closing round at the time. Sheets of rain were pouring down from the sky all densely piled with massive clouds. Fierce gusts of wind rendered it hard to keep one's footing, and all but impossible to move in any direction. There was nobody visible on the road or about the village. I expected to find the church almost deserted. But the church of Knock is never deserted now. In any sort of weather, at any hour of the day or night, there are worshippers to be seen in that humble temple. I found a row of silent figures along the entire length of the sanctuary; one solitary suppliant here and there in a dim corner, scarcely visible by the fading light of day, and groups before the pictures of the saints. The intense stillness was only broken, now and then, by a deep ejaculation. Passing out by the doorway opposite the altar, I beat my way against the storm to the southern gable, my purpose being to see if any crutches or sticks had been left since my previous visit. I found the receptacle quite filled with sticks and crutches; of the latter, as well as I could make out, there were a dozen or so; of the former there cannot have been less than about sixty. Standing upright in the midst of the mass of tangled wood I saw a fashionable umbrella of green silk, now somewhat stained by exposure to rough weather. This, I learned, had been left by Miss Margaret O'Neill, of Dublin, who had suffered for years from hip disease, which caused a considerable shortness of one leg, obliging her to make use of the umbrella I saw to assist her in the act of walking. She came to Knock with her mother on the 6th of the present month, stayed up all night praying in the church, and was able to walk next day without the help of the umbrella, which she left behind in token of her recovery.

THE TESTIMONY OF ARCHDEACON CAVANAGH.

I found Archdeacon Cavanagh in his study, seated at a large and massive table, on which there were so many letters awaiting attention that I concluded the correspondence of the pastor of Knock must be more extensive at present than that of a prime minister or an editor of a popular paper.

After a little conversation, I remarked to the Archdeacon that I had heard, in the village, of other wonderful appearances, recently witnessed, both at the gable and inside the church.

Yes, he said, last night (Thursday, the 12th inst.), about half-past nine o'clock, I, and several others, saw a most brilliant star outside the gable. It lit up the whole place. It came and struck against the spot where the apparition of the Blessed Virgin was seen, and flashed with the quickness of lightning. I have frequently, of late, about eight or nine at night, seen a golden light floating about the gable, with stars and brilliant lights flashing through it, but I never saw anything so dazzling as that one star last night.

And also inside the church have appearances been seen?—They have. I have seen them myself; both last night and the night before I saw stars above the altar, on both sides of the little stained glass window representing the crucifixion of our Lord. Three of them were very plainly visible, one, large, on the right hand side of the window, and two, of a smaller size, on the left. I thought I also saw a number of small stars shining much more faintly than those three principal ones, scattered about the space on either side of the window.

How was the church lighted at the time when you saw the stars?—The altar lamp was lighting, and also a small lamp before the Blessed Virgin's altar, and there were a few candles lighting through the church.

How many others saw the stars?—All the people in the church.

HEALING THE AFFLICTED.

Our conversation went on for a considerable time, but at present I shall confine myself to recording what occurred with reference to the case of Miss O'Neill. I mentioned that I had seen a silk umbrella outside the gable, and had heard how it belonged to a young lady from Dublin lately cured of hip disease after spending a night at prayer in the church.

That is the truth, the Archdeacon answered. She was cured on her first visit. Read this letter from her mother, a most pious and exemplary woman. He handed me the letter, which, by permission, I lay before your readers:

Dublin, February 8th, 1880.

Very Rev. Archdeacon,—It is with no ordinary amount of pleasure I write to express the happiness it affords me to say my daughter is still improving every hour since we had the great blessing of visiting Knock. We are both wishing for the time to come to renew our visit to that holy place. There is not a shadow of doubt but Knock is specially blessed, for whilst I was there I felt intensely the influence of religion, God be praised for ever! Now at your own convenience I would like you to let me know what you would like for the large altar, or if you have a good harmonium, or some useful present for the church, as I wish to make an offering to God for His greater glory and honour. Margaret will write to you in a few days herself, as I think it is better to wait for a little while, and, please God, she will be perfectly restored with God's help. If it would not be too much I would ask you to say one Hail Mary for me before the place where the Blessed Virgin's statue appeared. I will not trespass on your time with a longer letter, but will conclude, with the help of God soon to be able to visit Knock again. I enclose you the names of people that I had the happiness of seeing miraculously cured. I have the honour to remain yours most respectfully,—MARY JOSEPH O'NEILL.

I do not envy the person who can read this affecting letter without a thrill of responsive feeling, and a reflection that there is nothing in this world more contemptible or more pitiful than the mockery of the stolid unbeliever.

Before taking my leave of the pastor, I asked him: Have you read the detailed accounts, relating to the apparitions, which have been given in the Nation and Weekly News?—I have read them, he replied, with much satisfaction, for I have found them substantially correct.

He then confided to me a diary, which he had written throughout with his own hand, containing brief notes of all the miraculous cures at Knock from the date of the appearance of the first apparition down to the date on which he handed me the record. This document, emanating from the parish priest himself, is one of extraordinary authority, and of an interest not to be surpassed, and permission is given to me to draw upon it in my further letters on the subject.

THE ECCLESIASTICAL COMMITTEE OF INVESTIGATION.

I am also enabled to furnish you to day with a full and perfect copy of the text of the depositions made before the tribunal of clergymen appointed by his Grace the Archbishop of Tuam, as the prelate having episcopal jurisdiction over Knock, to investigate the facts regarding the apparition of last August. The commissioners were Archdeacon Cavanagh; Canon Waldron, parish priest of Ballyhaunis; and Canon Burke, parish priest of Claremorris. By request of the archdeacon the following clergymen also attended and assisted the commission in its proceedings: Rev. James Corbett, C.C., Claremorris; Rev. Michael O'Donoghue, C.C., Ballyhaunis; Rev. Michael Heany, C.C., Aughamore; Rev. Michael Curran, C.C., Claremorris; Rev. James Killeen, C.C., Crossboyne; and Rev. Father M'Alpine, C.C., Ballindine. The commission sat, for one day only, in the sacristy of the church of Knock, and personally examined every witness. Archdeacon Cavanagh then reported to the Archbishop that his decree had been duly executed. With his grace now rests the question whether he shall make a report to the Holy See.

AN INCIDENT.

UNARMED and unattended walks the Czar,
Through Moscow's busy street one winter's day.
The crowd uncover as his face they see,—
"God greet the Czar!" they say.

Along his path there moved a funeral,
Grey spectacle of poverty and woe.
A wretched sledge, dragged by one weary man,
Slowly across the snow.

And on the sledge, blown by the winter wind,
Lay a poor coffin, very rude and bare.
And he who drew it bent before his load,
With dull and sullen air.

The Emperor stopped and beckoned to the man;
"Who is't thou bearest to the grave?" he said.
"Only a soldier, Sire!" the short reply.
"Only a soldier, dead."

"Only a soldier!" musing, said the Czar;
"Only a Russian, who was poor and brave.
Move on. I follow. Such an one goes not Unhonoured to his grave."

He bent his head, and silent raised his cap;
The Czar of all the Russias, pacing slow,
Following the coffin, as again it went,
Slowly across the snow.

The passers in the street, all wondering,
Looked on that sight, then followed silently:
Peasant and prince, and artisan and clerk,
All in one company.

Still, as they went, the crowd grew ever more,
Till thousands stood around the friendless grave,
Led by that princely heart, who, royal, true,
Honoured the poor and brave.

AGNES MACDONELL, in The Spectator.

March 2nd, 1880.

NOTE.—This incident is narrated by a lady who was living in Moscow when it took place.

EXPERIENCES OF ANÆSTHETICS.

BY C. C. MASSEY.

SOME time ago you published a very interesting communication on this subject from Dr. Wyld. If medical men were as a rule psychologists, they would be doubtless able to collect very valuable evidence of the experiences of their patients while under the influence of anæsthetics, proving in a fair proportion of cases that separate psychic existence, disengaged from bodily conditions, which is affirmed by Spiritualists. The following case, communicated to me by a friend from his own experience, does not prove this, but is sufficiently remarkable to be worth the attention of psychologists.

Two years ago, the gentleman referred to, had an operation performed for the removal of a tumour in the face. He was put under ether, complete insensibility being for a time induced. He revived, however, during the progress of the operation, and at once, as he distinctly remembers, and as was confirmed by the surgeons present, joined in the conversation which had been passing between the latter; chloroform was then administered, and the operation was completed. The wound was sewn up after his restoration to consciousness, complete local insensibility remaining, however, during this process, a fact worth noting. Recollecting then that he had spoken, and what he had said in the interval between his revival from the effects of the ether, and his being put under chloroform, he asked the doctors "if he had been talking nonsense," as he had no knowledge whatever of their conversation. They replied that he had joined in this with perfect relevance, as if he had heard all that had been said.

Although not affording the direct proof of psychic disengagement which some of Dr. Wyld's cases, if I remember rightly, gave, the above seems to me to receive its most probable explanation on this hypothesis. It seems impossible to suppose that the material brain to which the nerves of touch could transmit no message, was nevertheless affected by the auditory nerve, (the case not being one of mere local paralysis.) On the other hand, the psychic body, artificially separated, while not able to receive impressions through the external body, may nevertheless possess an organism which can be reached through the medium of the air, whose vibrations may convey to it sound. And the impulse to speak may have carried it back to the brain, and hence the awaking, the words being then spoken without the least consciousness or memory of what provoked them.

There must surely be among your readers gentlemen of the medical profession, who are able to supplement Dr. Wyld's researches in this direction; and contributions from their experience might throw further light on the subject, especially in its relation to the mesmeric and trance conditions.

Temple, March 15th.

Correspondence.

[Great freedom is given to correspondents who sometimes express opinions diametrically opposed to those of this Journal and its readers. Unsolicited communications cannot be returned; copies should be kept by the writers. Preference is given to letters which are not anonymous.]

THE AUSTRALIAN TRANCE MEDIUM.

SIR,—On Thursday evening, March 11th, over forty of the friends of Mr. Thomas Walker held a tea meeting at Blackburn, for the purpose of bidding Mr. Walker farewell, previously to his departure to South Africa. After tea Mr. Atkinson was unanimously voted into the Chair, and in a very feeling manner he expressed the sympathy of the meeting at the departure of Mr. Walker. Several other speakers followed, who all told of the geniality and kindness of Mr. Walker, and his earnestness in spreading the cause of Spiritualism, and they spoke of the sorrow of all who knew him, that he should so early after his return home be called to labour in a distant part of the world.

During the evening it was announced that an enlarged photograph of Mr. Walker would have been presented to him, had there been sufficient time to get it up. However, in the course of two or three weeks the portrait would be ready and then be presented to his mother.

At the close of the evening Mr. Walker uttered a few words, expressing his sorrow at leaving so many who had in such a short time become very warm and dear friends to him; he hoped after his engagements in Africa were ended he should meet them all again, and again labour among them, helping to spread the glorious truths of spirit communion.

R. WOLSTENHOLME.

DISEASES HEALED BY SPIRIT POWER AT KNOCK.

ARCHDEACON CAVANAGH'S DIARY.

LAST week we drew a parallel between the cures of diseases by spirit power effected by Dr. Newton, the medium, outside the pale of the Catholic Church, and cures effected at the beneficently haunted Church at Knock, and have since been informed that Archdeacon Cavanagh has there adopted much the same method in relation to the facts, which we did in relation to Dr. Newton's cures when he was in London. The only difference is that the Archdeacon has recorded all cures indiscriminately, but that we sifted away many at the outset and put them out of court, having had experience as to the antipathy of the public to a real, practical spirit world, in which men will be responsible for their good or bad acts judged in relation to their own consciences, irrespective of their theological opinions. So when a man said he had been cured of a headache, we did not record it, because but his word or imagination could be advanced in support of the statement; the actual plan was to select chiefly the cures of diseases to the reality of which the friends and neighbours of the relieved sufferers could also bear witness. If the cures at Knock continue to be so numerous, Archdeacon Cavanagh will find it convenient to divide his record into two sections, on the principle just stated, and to give only the better authenticated cases for publication. The correspondent of The Dublin Weekly News makes the following statements about the diary of the parish priest at Knock:—

He began the record on the 31st October, 1879. The date of the earliest apparition was the 21st August. A cure of deafness and pain in the ear was reported twelve days later, and several others in the course of the subsequent weeks, but Archdeacon Cavanagh took no steps towards collecting and sifting the statements circulating amongst the people, until after the Archbishop of Tuam had appointed a commission to take evidence respecting the apparition, and after the commission had met, examined the several witnesses, and forwarded its report to the Archbishop. By this time the accounts of cures were numerous, indeed almost continual; the body of testimony increased from day to day; and the Archdeacon deemed it his duty, now that the Church, through his Grace of Tuam, had taken cognizance of the matter, to set down the exact particulars of such cures as could be proved to his satisfaction.

The diary opens with the words, "Ad Majorem Dei Gloriam" ("To the greater glory of God"). It is entitled, "An Account of the Miraculous Cures wrought at the gable of the chapel here, where the Blessed Virgin Mary, the Immaculate Mother, appeared, on the night of the 21st of August last." A further note specifies that the cures have been wrought on persons who either prayed on the spot, or applied cement or clay taken from the church to the parts of the body affected by pains or wounds.

The following are the cases noted:

1. Delia Gordon, daughter of Mr. P. J. Gordon, of Claremorris; deafness and pain in the left ear. This, the first cure reported, was instantaneous. It occurred on Sunday, the 31st of August. Full particulars of the case, as related to me by Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Gordon, the father and mother of Delia Gordon, and also by the young girl herself, were published in the Nation and Weekly News of the 7th of last month. The cure was effected by putting into the ear a small particle of cement.

2. A cripple, name not ascertained. He rode on an ass to the very spot, and was able to walk away.

3. A woman, name not stated, living at Carramore, near Knock. She had been suffering from a sore on the hand. The pain ceased instantly.

4. Mrs. Doble, Claremorris.

5. A man named Shallagh, herd to Lord Oranmore.

6. Honoria Horan, of the parish of Kilmovee, county Mayo. She had been a fortnight unable to speak or swallow food.

7. Mrs. (Martin) Busty, Knock; sore eyes.

8. Mary M'Loughlin, Knock. She had been suffering from pain and stiffness of the knee for many years, and also from a chronic pain in the right side. She drank some of the water taken from the ground at the church gable, and got rid of the pains, which have not since returned.

9. A girl from Claremorris, name not stated. Her hand had been broken. She was not able to lift it to her forehead. Now she can use it freely.

10. Mrs. (Thomas) Curry, Knock; sore knee.

11. Mrs. Curry's niece. She had been nearly blind. She could not see the steps at the entrance to the church. She visited Knock and prayed there, and her sight has so far improved that she is able to distinguish objects even at a considerable distance.

12. Patrick Curry; a painful hurt in the arm caused by a fall from a horse.

13. Laurence Condron, Jones's Road, Dublin; violent retching.

[I have now before me a letter, written by a Dublin lady from which I take the following passage: "You can tell Father Cavanagh that there was a man here in Dublin, living on Jones's Road, of the name of Laurence Condron, who was very ill, and had a violent retching, and another disease also. A doctor was called in, but he could not stop it with all his medicine. The priest was also called in. The poor man's mother came here, as she leaves us milk, and I gave her a little of the mortar, or earth, that you sent me, and the moment he took it he got quite cured, and was here yesterday quite strong. There are plenty of witnesses of his being cured on the spot."]

14. Patrick Scott, of Ballymoe, a young man who had been a cripple for eight years. He came to the church at Knock on the 27th of November, walking by the assistance of a crutch. He left the crutch after him, and returned homeward bounding with delight.

[A declaration in the following terms is now in my possession: "I, Pat Scott, parish of Ballintubber, county Roscommon, do hereby solemnly declare that it is at Knock I received power in my leg, which was not of the least use to me for upwards of eight and a half years, being entirely powerless. I could not move or walk without a crutch. I can now walk firmly on it, but it is still short. Ballintubber, 31st January, 1880." The following is an extract from a letter lately written by Pat Scott to the Ven. Archdeacon Cavanagh, supplying some particulars of his case: "Dear Father Cavanagh.—It is with great pleasure I write in answer to yours, which I received a few days ago, but must make an apology for delaying so long referring to the particulars you require to know from me. The facts are simply these: Nine years ago I was attacked with a pain in my groin, and for five months no one could tell whether I would live or die. The summer after I was enabled to move very slowly by means of a crutch, which I continually carried for the last successive eight years to the day in question. During that time my leg, down from my hip, was powerless, but had feeling. I could not go to my bedside without the aid of the crutch. I never walked on the heel, but simply tipping the ground with the top of my toe, in consequence of a contraction of the sinews. Mrs.— induced my mother to send me to Knock, that holy place, and on entering the chapel the second time on the same day I discovered the leg gaining strength. I was so much rejoiced that I determined to leave the crutch after me, as I did, and for the first time out of nine years made the effort of walking, independent to the crutch, with both heel and toe, to the astonishment of all the neighbours here, who looked upon me as a very great miracle and curiosity. I forgot to say I carried a stick, and still do. I find I am every day improving, but I do not feel so well satisfied till I pay one or two visits more to Knock. There is no doubt but I derived this great blessing from our Immaculate and Heavenly Queen. . . I am, reverend sir, very respectfully yours, PAT SCOTT.”]

15. John Carney, son of Mr. Thomas Carney, of Eden; instantaneously cured of a very sore and terribly swollen foot by an application of the cement.

16. William Carty; had been suffering intense pain from a sore finger. As soon as he placed the finger on the wall, the pain entirely ceased.

17. James Moran, of Kinquin; pain in the side. He had been suffering from it for four years.

18. Mrs. (John Hugh) Flalty, of Cloonlea; acute pain in the right shoulder, arm, and hand; cured after three visits to the church.

19. Mrs. (Martin) Fleming, of Tabber, Ballina; sore leg. In this case the doctors failed to do any good. By bathing the limb in water containing some of the cement a thorough cure was effected.

20. Mary Gallagher, Charleston, County Mayo; blindness. She had consulted doctors at home and also in Dublin, without the least result. After visiting Knock she was restored to sight.

21. Thomas Conlon, of Shanvaghara. He was vomiting blood, was in a dying state, and received the last sacraments of the Church. He was instantaneously cured by swallowing in a few drops of water, a small piece of the cement.

22. Michael Royan, of Blackloon, Bekan; nearly blind; restored to sight by a visit.

23. Anne Lavin, Castleroyan, parish of Swinford; running evil; had resorted to medical aid with no effect.

24. Maria Crean; evil.

25. Mary Conner, Clonlea; sore and swollen knee.

26. Mary Prendergast, Lessusker. She rode to the church on an ass, being unable to walk, but walked home without any difficulty.

27. Martin Curry, Cloonduce; sore foot; applied to the sore a poultice of clay from the church.

28. A young man from Charleston, county Mayo; cured of an evil by a visit to Knock, after doctors had entirely failed to help him.

29. A man from Barnacarroll was cured of deafness after he had been a victim to it for five years. The recovery of the sense of hearing was complete.

30. Mary Connell, Wingfield; cured of an eruptive swelling in the head by going with her mother to the church at Knock, and praying at the spot where the figure of the Blessed Virgin was seen on the 21st of August.

31. Brigid Curry, daughter of Mr. William Curry, of Lecarrow; cured of constant pains in the head, and especially in the eyes and ears.

32. Mr. Joseph Kelly, of Kinclare; chronic headache and megrim, from which he had suffered for a lengthened period.

33. Kate Barrett, Prisen; hacking cough of four years standing; cured after three visits.

34. Mrs. Kilkenny, of Woodfield; mental derangement, and also a physical ailment that had defied the skill of the doctors.

35. James Burke, Coogue, Pulbog; violent pains in the back and hips.

36. Mrs. (Patrick) O'Brien, of Shanvaghara; restored to health after long indisposition.

37. Mrs. P. Healy; a similar case to the preceding.

38. Owen Mullarkey; ulcer on the face; cured after having lasted thirty years.

39. Mrs. Kennedy, (mother of Miss Kennedy, assistant teacher of the Female National School at Knock); cured of deafness. Some particulars of this case were supplied in one of my former letters.

40. Patrick Kelly, Shammer, Kilmovee; epilepsy of a violent type; cured by one visit.

41. Ellen M'Laughlin, Killabeghagh; lameness. She had suffered for three years past with her right foot. She could not touch the ground with it. A number of bones had been extracted from it at different times. She had to be carried on her way to Knock, but, while there, she recovered the full use of her foot, and walked on her return home.

42. A girl named Hughes, the daughter of Andrew Hughes, of Gurtarah, parish of Claremorris; cured of a pearl cataract on one of her eyes. Her father rubbed the afflicted eye with some of the cement.

43. A girl named Coleman, of the parish of Claremorris; cured of sore gums (the result of toothache) by washing the part with water containing a portion of the cement.

44. Michael Prendergast, a child two years old, the son of James Prendergast, of Cloonlara, parish of Bekan; cured of a fracture of the skull, the result of a fall.

45. Mrs. John Waldron, Lauralia; had suffered from violent retching for more than thirty years; was cured by drinking water in which a piece of the cement had been deposited.

46. Catherine Freehilly, of Island; cured of mental derangement.

47. A young man named Hopkins, second assistant in the National School, Claremorris; cured of epilepsy.

48. John Kilgallen, Coogue, now resident in England, received from his mother a little of the cement, and procured by means of it intense relief from the pain of a broken arm.

49. The mother-in-law of the last named was suffering from violent pain, the effect of a fall. An application of the cement relieved her.

50. Maria Tully, daughter of Michael Tully, of Churchfield; cured of sore eyes, which had afflicted her for the space of a year and a half; bathed her eyes in water containing a portion of the cement.

51. Michael Moran, Tullarahen; deafness, cured by one visit.

52. Laurence Fleming, parish of Dunmore; cured of deafness.

53. John Kelly, of Ballina; chronic pain in the right side.

54. Michael Langan, a man in the employment of Mr. Little; chronic pain in the foot.

55. Michael MacHale, of Killala; nearly blind; power of seeing much improved.

56. Thady Connor, a herd, of the parish of Kilbridge; lameness; much better since his visit.

57. Brigid Duffy, Tounane, parish of Kilmovee; cured of an evil.

58. Ellen Halligan, of Kilkelly; cured of an evil.

59. Pat Prendergast, Clarefield, parish of Knock; cured of an evil. This case and the two preceding are recorded as having occurred on the same day—namely, Thursday, the 22nd of January.

60. Pat Boyle, Island; was unable to walk without a stick and a crutch; was cured on his first visit to Knock; and left his crutch behind him.

61. A boy named Kelly, from Ballyhaunis; was unable to place his right foot on the ground, or to move about without the help of a crutch. He visited Knock on the 15th of January, and has since been able to walk without the help of a crutch or even a stick.

62. Ellen Morris, Tarman, in the parish of Castlerea; unable to walk at all for a period of two years; completely cured at Knock on the 15th of January.

63. Mrs. Grealy, Ballindreagad; cured of a running evil on the 15th of January.

64. Mr. Conway, brother of Mrs. Curry; cured of blindness; bathed his eyes in water containing some of the cement. He was able to see on the following morning.

65. Richard Kane, of Liscal; sleeplessness and general delicacy of constitution.

66. Martin Concannon, of Kerrane; a megrim.

67. William Heneran, Lakehill; suffered violent pain in his foot in consequence of the fall of a stone upon it; applied the cement, and obtained relief on the instant.

68. Mrs. Fitzgerald, Swinford; general debility.

69. Miss Glynn, Kilkerrin, housekeeper to Father John Magreal; pains and general debility.

70. Frank Conway, Eden; arm powerless from the elbow; cured by an application of the cement.

71. Mary Forestal, Caher, a girl of 12; was unable to make any use of one of her feet; visited Knock, and returned home quite well.

72. Peter Murphy, Newton, near Claremorris; cured of lameness; used to be unable to walk without a stick.

73. Michael Ansbrough, Carramore; restored to sight.

74. Mrs. Kelly, Claremorris; cured of a constant pain in the side.

75. Kate Rogers; consumption; used to faint every day for a considerable time; is quite restored to health.

76. Mrs. Feeny, hotel keeper, Swinford; violent toothache; cured by an application of the cement.

77. Honoria Cussance, parish of Kiltullagh; blindness; cured by visiting Knock. It is stated on the authority of the Rev. P. M'Loughlin, parish priest of Kiltullagh, County Roscommon, that medical men had given up the case.

78. Thomas Moran, of Castles, parish of Kiltullagh, County Roscommon; a palsy of the head.

79. Anne O'Donnell, of the parish of Carracastle; blindness and intense pains. She suffered such agony during a period of three years that her mother thought she would find her dead one morning. She is now restored to health and the use of sight.

80. Pat Boyle, of Garlagh, parish of Crossboyne; epilepsy.

81. Mary Devine, Ballyhaunis, a girl of 11; lameness and an evil.

82. Michael M'Nicholas, of Coogue, parish of Knock; blindness.

83. Michael Shaughnessy, parish of Kiltulla; extreme debility. He had been for thirteen weeks unable to turn in bed.

84. Brigid Concannon, of the parish of Glan; right foot powerless; had been unable to move except by the help of two persons; by one visit to Knock was restored to the use of her limbs.

85. Patrick Fallon, Mourneen, Curracastle; had been for years unable to move unless with a stick and crutch; now walks without using either. He left his crutch behind when leaving Knock.

86. Patrick Browne, Brownstown, a boy of about 15; cured of lameness; left his crutch at Knock.

87. John Cawley, a child of 5; cured of lameness; left after him at Knock the stick he had been obliged to use.

88. Laurence Madden, of the parish of Clonkeen; had used two sticks in walking; was so far recovered after a visit to Knock as to dispense with one of the sticks.

89. Mrs. (Thomas) Regan, Carracastle; constant pains and general delicacy of long standing.

90. A man, whose name has not been ascertained, received his sight in the church, before all the people, while the Angelus bell was ringing on Thursday, the 29th of January.

91. Miss Mannion, of the parish of Roscommon; sight improved by a visit to the church.

92. Martin Noone; paralysis.

93. Mary M'Laughlin, Curragh; sore eyes; had been for several years afflicted.

94. Michael Nertney, Tulsk, County Roscommon; restored to sight.

95. Thomas Killeen, of Roslea, parish of Mayo; sight much improved; had been almost stone blind for seventeen years.

[The two cases just set down occurred on Monday, the 2nd of February. I was at Knock that day, and happened to be in the church enclosure when Thomas Killeen and Michael Nertney cried out that they began to be able to see. I questioned both of them closely on the spot, and gave the result of my inquiries in a letter written that same evening. Both men convinced me of the truth of their declarations.]

96. Catherine Casey, Deroughal, parish of Aughamore; loss of strength and failure of sight; is now completely recovered.

97. Martin Corcoran, Bushfield, Roscommon; paralysis of the leg.

98. Mrs. Hurley, Roscommon; lameness; much improved.

99. Mary Collins, of Clonbern; blindness.

100. John Flynn, of Cloonmanagh, parish of Kilmovee; an evil; medical remedies had all been tried in vain.

101. John Fogarty, of Crusheen; weakness of the left foot.

102. Pat Ryder, of Craughwell; epilepsy.

103. Michael Brennan, Ballyhaunis; palsy of the head.

Next week I shall give further extracts from the diary, and very remarkable letters from persons cured.

A "FOOD REFORM COOKERY BOOK," the text-book of The Food Reform Association, is a pamphlet just published in Glasgow, by Mr. James M'Geachy.

NEXT Sunday evening an address will be delivered to the Glasgow Association of Spiritualists, by Mr. James Robertson.

THE VERIFICATION OF A DREAM.

MR. RICHARD WALKER, of Cambridgeport, Massachusetts, writes to The Banner of Light, (Boston, Mass.) of February 21st:—

In the year 1833 I had left my home at Milton Mills, N. H., on the 13th of April, for a journey to different places, calculating to be gone five days. I had taken a horse and carriage as conveyance, as railroads were absent on my route. The second day after I left home I reached Portsmouth, N. H., and that night I dreamed that an aunt of mine, who had been in the spirit-world several years, came to me and told me that my little son was sick and would die; she also showed me all the arrangements of the funeral, just as afterwards actually took place. All this was so vivid and real to me that I had not a doubt of the fact, and instead of prosecuting my business any farther, as I intended, which would have led me to other places, I took an early start for home, arriving at Dover at 11 o'clock, and, while waiting for my horse to eat, I entered the house of a near relative, who urged me to stop to dinner, but I said, "No, my boy is sick and will die; I must hasten home." When I arrived home I found my little son on his couch with membranous croup, and the doctor standing over him. He died before the time I should have been home had it not been for the dream.

This little son almost four years old, my only boy, and, bearing my own name, was my pet. The blow came hard on me, as I then had not the blessed light of Spiritualism I now have, which would have made the affliction manifoldly lighter.

A STRONG CASE OF SPIRIT IDENTITY.

APROPOS to the recent death of Dr. French, at Quaker City, who was the last active male believer in and advocate of Spiritualism in this county, it is fitting to relate the following startling story, which is not recited as a proof of the claims of Spiritualists, although its facts challenge the investigation and consideration of all who are in any way interested in the subject. The people named were or are widely known not only throughout the State, but some of them in this region. They are all of such character that their truthfulness cannot be questioned by the most incredulous. The narrative of the statement cannot be disputed. Explanation, if there is any outside of the field of a belief in Spiritual manifestations, must be sought otherwise than by a challenging of the facts. They are true.

Campbell Starr, known to most of our readers, died a few years ago at Columbus. He was for several years before his death a travelling agent for the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, in soliciting freights. He was no believer in Spiritualism. Some of his intimate associates were. There were many twittings between them upon the subject and at one of them Starr said, "If after my death I can communicate with you I will do so, or if you die first you are to communicate with me." The promise was forgotten—not thought of for years, until the happenings herein related brought it back.

Starr died. A lady, a warm and earnest advocate of Spiritual doctrine, living at Cincinnati, was a constant attendant upon séances in that city. She was rallied frequently about her foolish belief and labours by her friends of opposing belief, amongst them Col. W. L. O'Brien, General Passenger agent of the Pittsburg, Cincinnati and St. Louis Railway. "Oh, I'll bring you proof," she said upon one occasion, "this very night." "Well," said the Colonel, "do so. Bring us a letter from some of our dead friends." This lady was never acquainted with Campbell Starr, and had never seen or known anything of him. Now Starr in very many of his letters and on his papers would instead of signing his name, make the figure of a five pointed star. After Starr's death his personal effects, and amongst them a valuable fast horse, had been disposed of amongst his friends without sacrificing them by sale, for they were of such character that at general sale they would not bring their value. A friend, named Miller, at Richmond, Indiana, had bought the horse. All this was unknown to the lady. On her return on this evening from the séance she brought a letter sealed to Col. O'Brien. It was opened and found signed by a five-pointed star. It was a puzzle until the thought of Campbell Starr's custom came up. It was accepted as a good effort by somebody to make believe that it was from him. It said: "Write Miller not to drive my horse. The horse will kill him." Nothing was seriously thought of it, until in a few days thereafter the telegraph announced, "Campbell Starr's horse killed Miller to day. The horse dashed him against a curb stone and crushed his skull." Starr's prophecy was fulfilled and the mystery of Spiritualism had another illustration. These are the facts.—The Jeffersonian (Cambridge, Ohio).

A SERMON AGAINST SPIRITUALISM.

THE Rev. George Campbell, recently preached in the Old Wynd Church, Glasgow, to the effect that Spiritualism is the work of demons. He selected his texts from Leviticus and Deuteronomy. Leviticus, 20th chapter, 27th verse: "A man also, or woman that hath a familiar spirit, or that is a wizard, shall surely be put to death: they shall stono them with stones: their blood shall be upon them." And Deuteronomy 18th chapter, 9th, 10th and 11th verses: "When thou art come into the land which the Lord thy God giveth thee, thou shalt not learn to do after the abominations of those nations. There shall not be found among you anyone that maketh his son or daughter to pass through the fire, or that useth divination, or an obsorver of times, or an enchanter, or a witch, or a consulter with familiar spirits, or a wizard, or a necromancer." The speaker said that he would be able to show clearly the Godless, unscriptural, anti-Christian, diabolical and immoral character of Spiritualism, to his hearers that evening. Spiritualism was no new thing, but old as man—wicked fallen man, and practices akin to it were strictly forbidden in the Bible; this dealing with spirits, consulting the dead, if it had no existence, would never have been denounced. The language of the texts indicated the frightful judgment pronounced against those who indulged in such unlawful, ungodly and soul-destroying practices. Polytheism, the worship of the dead, of demon spirits, shades, was the idolatrous worship of the Canaanites, who were wedded to Baal, who indulged in sensual grove worship. "They joined themselves unto Baal-Peor, they ate the sacrifices of the dead," and for these heinous crimes of bestiality, of idolatry, of consulting the dead, like modern Spiritualists, the Lord determined to cast them out, to sweep them off the earth, as vile abominations. For these sins He would have them utterly destroyed, and give their land to his own chosen people, the Jews. No wonder then, were the Israelities warned, aye, and punished, when they departed from the Lord, and fell into the practices of those they had transplanted. See to it, dear friends, he proceeded, that the evils which afflicted those people fall not on you; but they assuredly will if you countenance Spiritualism, which is but a modern reproduction of the crimes mentioned in the text. Yea, we are reminded by the lesson of the evening, the end of Saul shall be your end also. The preacher added that to his mind Spiritualism was demoniacal; of that he had no doubt whatever. It was a solemn subject. Spiritualism had produced a great commotion in the world during the last thirty years. He believed in Spiritualism as a fact, and not as others had done. It could no longer be ignored; it must be met and grappled with, and the church warned of "seducing spirits" in these latter times "deceiving the very elect." He confessed that he had no personal acquaintance with the subject, but his esteemed friend, the Rev. Dr. Donald Fraser had, and he (the Dr.) was thoroughly convinced that Spiritualism was true and that it was demonism. The newspapers might pooh-pooh, if they liked; it was a reality nevertheless. Another dear friend of his, a godly man, came into contact with Home, and from what he saw and heard came away thoroughly convinced, and with no doubt in his mind it was all demonism. There was a great deal of imposture in the world, and Spiritualism would possess some in consequence; but to say the whole thing was imposture was utterly impossible to any man of judgment. He had long made up his mind that it was genuine; its facts were as patent as the coins of the realm, a counterfeit of which now and then would never shake our confidence in the existence of the original. The real must exist before any counterfeit appears. It must be borne in mind that modern Spiritualism has been before the public more than thirty years, a fact in itself opposed to the imposture theory, and it was those who witnessed the phenomena who believed in them, which is another important fact. All scientific men should investigate the subject. Dr. Wm. B. Carpenter admitted seventy per cent. of the phenomena to be genuine, and he had a theory for them, but anyone who was acquainted with the subject, knew that the theory was not large enough even to cover the facts Dr. Carpenter admitted to be true. Prof. Huxley pooh-poohed the whole thing, saying: "If true, it does not interest me;" an unscientific spirit truly, and unworthy of so great a man. It was the duty of scientific men to investigate all subjects under heaven so that the people might know the false from the true. The rev. gentleman then described, to the astonishment of many present, the manifestations which took place in John Wesley's house, and ventured to hint that Wesley was a medium himself. He mentioned manifestations which took place in the Court of France, in St. Petersburg and Berlin, and the spirit of Napoleon Bonaparte writing his autograph in the presence of Napoleon III. before the crushing defeat of France. Even so Saul would consult with the woman of Endor before the kingdom was rent out of his hands. He told of Mr. Home floating seventy feet above the ground before Lord Lindsay and others. He believed this to be true because some of the witnesses were still alive, had seen this fact stated over and over again, and had never contradicted it. Profane history lent itself to Spiritualism. Socrates had his familiar spirit, who came to him and gave him certain thoughts; yes, a demon! not a figure of speech as some would have them believe. He regretted to say that nearly all the poets were Spiritualists, and many scientific men also. He did not deny that in the Providence of God deceased human beings might come back, but he did not see the necessity for their doing so. They must remember the advice of Abraham to the rich man, and the end of Saul. He begged his audience to put their trust in God, and not in spirits. He reminded them that "secret things belonged to God," and that consulting spirits was an abomination. Spiritualism had made its votaries profane. They deny the divinity of Christ, they reject the atonement, and refuse to accept the Bible as the infallible word of God. They forbade marriage and indulged in free love abominations to the breaking of family ties. Spiritualism, although permitted by God, as all things were, was the work of demons for the trial of the saints, and the perfection of the church.

Mr. James Coates, secretary to the Glasgow Association of Spiritualists, delivered a reply to the foregoing sermon to a large audience in the Association's Rooms, taking for his subject "The Rev. George Campbell, the Devil, and Spiritualism." Mr. Coates invited Mr. Campbell to discuss the subject in public, the proceeds to be handed to one of the local charities. Mr. Campbell declined, saying "he had stated what (according to his education and religious belief) he held to be true and for the good of his people, and that he declined to enter into any controversy." A few more ministers preaching in Scotland, that Spiritualism is true, would do no harm, their congregations could then ascertain for themselves what the Devil had to do with it.

Mrs. MAKDUGALL GREGORY will return to London from the Isle of Wight to-morrow.

THERE is a great want in England of mediums who can obtain strong physical manifestations in daylight.

THE REV. JOSEPH COOK, of Boston, Massachusetts, will visit England in September.

MR. EGLINTON has reached Leipzig, and is giving séances to some of the professors at the University there.

PROFESSOR ZÖLLNER, of Leipzig, has invented a torsion photometer, in which the vanes of a radiometer act against the torsion of a fibre of silk.

MR. WALKER, the Australian trance medium, has left England for Capetown, South Africa, where Mr. Berks Hutchinson has engaged him to deliver a series of lectures on Spiritualism.

"PASSED TO SPIRIT LIFE."—The following news will have a sad interest for some of our readers:—"Died, on Monday, March 8th, at 8, Museum Villas, Letitia Maria, the beloved wife of St. George Stock, Esq., M.A. Oxon."

SPIRITUALISM IN GLASGOW.—A conference was held in the rooms of the Glasgow Association of Spiritualists on Sunday morning last, under the presidency of Mr. James Robertson. The subject of "Mediumship" was taken up, and among the speakers were Mr. Wood, of Oldham, Mr. Griffiths, of Birmingham, Mr. Barker, of Rothsay, and Mr. E. W. Wallis. In the evening, Mr. Wallis, in the trance state, delivered an address to an audience which filled the hall to its utmost capacity. On Tuesday, last week, a social gathering and entertainment was held in the Association's Rooms, 164, Trongate, in honour of Mr. E. W. Wallis, as an acknowledgement of the work for Spiritualism which he attempted in Cornwall. Mr. James Walker occupied the chair. After tea, Messrs. Broadley, Barker, Mr. Coates, Miss Nesbit, and a few others contributed to an excellent entertainment of songs, readings, conjuring tricks, and speeches. The proceeds were handed over to Mr. Wallis.

MESMERISM AND ITS PHENOMENA,

OR

ANIMAL MAGNETISM.

By the late Wm. GREGORY, M.D., F.R.S.E., Professor of Chemistry at Edinburgh University.

Dedicated by the Author by Permission to His Grace the Duke of Argyll.

The second and slightly revised and abridged edition, for its quality and size the cheapest large work ever published in this country in connection with Spiritualism.

Just published, price 5s., or 5s. 6d. post free.

CONTENTS.

CHAPTER I:—First Effects Produced by Mesmerism—Sensations—Process for causing Mesmeric Sleep—The Sleep or Mesmeric State—It Occurs Spontaneously in Sleep-Walkers—Phenomena of the Sleep—Divided Consciousness—Senses affected—Insensibility to Pain.

CHAPTER II:—Control Exercised by the Operator over the Subject in Various Ways—Striking Expression of Feelings in the Look and Gesture—Effect of Music—Truthfulness of the Sleeper—Various Degrees of Susceptibility—Sleep caused by Silent Will; and at a Distance—Attraction towards the Operator—Effect in the Waking State of Commands Given in the Sleep.

CHAPTER III:—Sympathy—Community of Sensations, of Emotions—Danger of Rash Experiments—Public Exhibitions of Doubtful Advantage—Sympathy with the Bystanders—Thought Reading—Sources of Error—Medical Intuition—Sympathetic Warnings—Sympathies and Antipathies—Existence of a Peculiar Force or Influence.

CHAPTER IV:—Direct Clairvoyance or Lucid Vision, without the Eyes—Vision of Near Object: through Opaque Bodies: at a distance—Sympathy and Clairvoyance in Regard to Absent Persons—Retrospection—Introspection.

CHAPTER V:—Lucid Prevision—Duration of the Seer—Predicted—Prediction of Changes in the Health or State of the Seer—Prediction of Accidents and of Events Affecting others—Spontaneous Clairvoyance—Striking Case of It—Spontaneous Retrospection and Prevision—Peculiarities of Speech and of Consciousness in Mesmerised Persons—Transference of Senses and of Pain.

CHAPTER VI:—Mesmerism, Electro-Biology, Electro-Psychology and Hypnotism, essentially the same—Phenomena of Suggestions in the Conscious or Waking State—Dr. Darling's Method and its Effects—Mr. Lewis's Method and its Results—The Impressible State—Control Exercised by the Operator—Gazing—Mr. Braid's Hypnotism—The Author's Experience—Importance of Perseverance—The Subject must be Studied.

CHAPTER VII:—Trance, Natural and Accidental; Mesmeric—Trance Produced at Will by the Subjects—Col. Townsend—Faker—Extasis—Extasis not all Imposters—Luminous Emanations—Extasis often Predicted—M. Chagnac's Extasis—Visions of the Spiritual World.

CHAPTER VIII:—Phreno-Mesmerism—Progress of Phrenology—Effects of Touching the Head in the Sleep—Variety in the Phenomena—Suggestions—Sympathy—There are Cases in which these Act, and others in which they do not Act—Phenomena Described—The Lower Animals Susceptible of Mesmerism—Fascination Among Animals—Instinct—Sympathy of Animals—Snail Telegraph Founded on It.

CHAPTER IX:—Action of Magnets, Crystals, &c., on the Human Frame—Researches of Reichenbach—His Odylic is Identical with the Mesmeric Fluid of Mesmer, or with the Influence which Causes the Mesmeric Phenomena—Odylic or Mesmeric Light—Aurora Borealis Artificially Produced—Mesmerised Water—Useful Applications of Mesmerism—Physiological, Therapeutical, &c.—Treatment of Insanity, Magic Divination, Witchcraft, &c., explained by Mesmerism and Traced to Natural Causes—Apparitions—Second Sight is Waking Clairvoyance—Predictions of Various Kinds.

CHAPTER X:—An Explanation of the Phenomena Attempted or Suggested—A Force (Odylic) Universally Diffused, Certainly Exists, and is Probably the Medium of Sympathy and Lucid Vision—Its Characters—Difficulties of the Subject—Effects of Odylic—Somnambulism—Suggestion—Sympathy—Thought-Reading—Lucid Vision—Odylic Emanations—Odylic Traces followed up by Lucid Subjects—Magic and Witchcraft—The Magic Crystal, and Mirror, &c., Induce Waking Clairvoyance—Universal Sympathy—Lucid Perception of the Future.

CHAPTER XI:—Interest felt in Mesmerism by Men of Science—Due Limits of Scientific Caution—Practical Hints—Conditions of Success in Experiments—Cause of Failure—Mesmerism a Serious Thing—Cautions to the Student—Opposition to be Expected.

CHAPTER XII:—Phenomena Observed in the Conscious or Waking State—Effects of Suggestion on Persons in an Impressible State—Mr. Lewis's Experiments With and Without Suggestion—Cases—Dr. Darling's Experiments—Cases—Conscious or Waking Clairvoyance—Produced by Passes, or by Concentration—Major Buckley's Method—Cases—The Magic Crystal Induces Waking Lucidity, when Gazed at—Cases—Magic Mirror—Mesmerised Water—Egyptian Magic.

CHAPTER XIII:—Production of the Mesmeric Sleep—Cases—Eight out of Nine Persons Recently Tried by the Author Thrown into Mesmeric Sleep—Sleep Produced without the knowledge of the Subject—Suggestion in the Sleep—Phreno-Mesmerism in the Sleep—Sympathetic Clairvoyance in the Sleep—Cases—Perception of Time—Cases: Sir J. Franklin, Major Buckley's Case of Retrospection.

CHAPTER XIV:—Direct Clairvoyance—Cases—Travelling Clairvoyance—Cases—Singular Vision of Mr. D.—Letters of Two Clergymen, with Cases—Clairvoyance of Alexis—Other Cases.

CHAPTER XV:—Trance—Extasis—Cases—Spontaneous Mesmeric Phenomena—Apparitions—Predictions.

CHAPTER XVI:—Curative Agency of Mesmerism—Concluding Remarks and Summary.

Spiritualist Newspaper Branch Office, 33, Museum-street, London.

INFORMATION FOR NON-SPIRITUALISTS.

In thirty years Spiritualism has spread through all the most civilised countries on the globe, until it now has tens of thousands of adherents, and about thirty periodicals. It has also outlived the same popular abuse which at the outset opposed railways, gas, and Galileo's discovery of the rotation of the earth.

The Dialectical Society, under the presidency of Sir John Lubbock, appointed a large committee, which for two years investigated the phenomena occurring in the presence of non-professional mediums, and finally reported that the facts were true, that the raps and other noises governed by intelligence were real, and that solid objects sometimes moved in the presence of mediums without being touched.

Mr. William Crookes, F.R.S., editor of the Quarterly Journal of Science, deviser of the radiometer, and discoverer of the new metal thallium, investigated the phenomena of Spiritualism in his own house, and reported them to be true. Mr. A. R. Wallace, Mr. Cromwell Varley, Prof. Zollner, and a great number of intelligent professional men have done the same.

HOW TO FORM SPIRIT CIRCLES AT HOME.

Inquirers into the phenomena of Spiritualism should begin by forming circles in their own homes, with no Spiritualist or stranger to the family present.

The assertions of a few newspapers, conjurers, and men of science that the alleged phenomena are jugglery are proved to be untrue by the fact that manifestations are readily obtained by private families, with no stranger present, and without deception by any member of the family. At the present time there are only about half a dozen professional mediums for the physical phenomena in all Great Britain, consequently, if these were all tricksters (which they are not), they are so few in number as to be unable to bear out the imposture theory as the foundation of the great movement of modern Spiritualism. Readers should protect themselves against any impostors who may tell them that the phenomena are not real, by trying simple home experiments which cost nothing, thus showing how egregiously those are duped who trust in worthless authorities.

One or more persons possessing medial powers without knowing it are to be found in nearly every household, and about one new circle in three, formed according to the following instructions, obtains the phenomena:—

1. Let arrangements be made that there shall be no interruption for one hour during the sitting of the circle.

2. Let the circle consist of four, five, or six individuals, about the same number of each sex. Sit in subdued light, but sufficient to allow everything to be seen clearly, round an uncovered wooden table, with all the palms of the hands in contact with its top surface. Whether the hands touch each other or not is of little importance. Any table will do.

3. Belief or unbelief has no influence on the manifestations, but an acrid feeling against them is weakening.

4. Before the manifestations begin, it is well to engage in general conversation or in singing, and it is best that neither should be of a frivolous nature.

5. The first symptom of the invisible power at work is often a feeling like a cool wind sweeping over the hands. The first indications will probably be table-tilting or raps.

6. When motions of the table or sounds are produced freely, to avoid confusion let one person only speak; he should talk to the table as to an intelligent being. Let him tell the table that three tilts or raps mean "Yes," one means "No," and two mean "Doubtful," and ask whether the arrangement is understood. If three raps be given in answer, then say, "If I speak the letters of the alphabet slowly, will you signal every time I come to the letter you want, and spell us out a message?" Should three signals be given, set to work on the plan proposed, and from this time an intelligent system of communication is established.

7. Possibly symptoms of other forms of mediumship, such as trance or clairvoyance, may develop; the better class of messages, as judged by their religious and philosophical merits usually accompany such manifestations rather than the more objective phenomena. After the manifestations are obtained, the observers should not go to the other extreme and give way to an excess of credulity, but should believe no more about them or the contents of the messages than they are forced to do by undeniable proof.

8. Should no results be obtained at the first two sittings because no medium chances to be present, try again with other sitters. A medium is usually an impulsive individual, very sensitive to mesmeric influences.

Mediumship may either be used or abused. Mediums should not lower their strength by sitting more than about twice a week; angular, excitable people, had better avoid the nervous stimulus of mediumship altogether.

OTHER-WORLD ORDER: Suggestions and Conclusions thereon By WILLIAM WHITE.

Mr. White's contention is that there is place and use in the divine economy for all varieties of men and women; and that there is not any one, however perverse or insignificant, who is not created for some function in universal humanity. As to the question of everlasting punishment, Mr. White maintains an original position. If asked whether he believes in the everlasting punishment of sinners, he answers Yes; but if asked whether he believes in everlasting sinners, he answers, No. All the confusion, perplexity, and anguish which exists as to the future life arise from the constant assumption that the everlasting punishment of sin is identical with the everlasting existence of sinners. Sin or transgression has been, is, and ever will be eternally punished; torment and misery are everlastingly inseparable from wrong-doing; and precisely because inseparable, the wrong-doer must, sooner or later, cease from wrong-doing. In short, the everlasting punishment of sin is sure warrant for the impossibility of everlasting sinners. E. W. ALLEN, 11, Ave Maria-lane, E.C.

FALSE LIGHTS and DARK SPOTS in Spiritualism, by Christian Reimers. One Shilling. E. W. ALLEN, Ave Maria-lane, London.

Price Two Shillings. Post Free. Cloth. Red Edges. SPIRITUALISM.

By P. P. ALEXANDER, M.A., Author of Mill and Carlyle, Moral Causation, etc. This work contains among other items of interest a record of phenomena observed at séances by the author, and a close criticism of some of the writings of Professor Tyndall about Spiritualism. "Mr. Alexander is unquestionably a very clever writer."—Saturday Review. The Spiritualist Newspaper Branch Office, 33, Museum-street, London, W.C.,

RESEARCHES IN THE PHENOMENA OF SPIRITUALISM, by William Crookes, F.R.S. The best work ever published to scientifically demonstrate, by means of self-recording and other instruments, the reality of some of the physical phenomena of Spiritualism, 5s. The Spiritualist Newspaper Branch Office, 33, Museum-st., W.C.

MEDIUMSHIP: ITS NATURE AND VARIETIES.—A Pamphlet containing useful information for those who hold, or are about to hold, spirit circles in their own homes. Published at The Spiritualist Newspaper Branch Office, 33, Museum-street, London, W.C. Price 1d.; Post free for 14d.; or six copies post free for 6d.

RAPHAEL'S PROPHETIC MESSENGER AND EPHEMERIS for 1880. Containing Predictions of the Events and the Weather that are likely to occur during the year 1880, with a large Hieroglyphic. "Raphael's" is the oldest and best Astrological Almanac now published. He foretold the great floods, sad colonial calamities, and all the principal events of the current year, even to the present Afghan War! Buy, read, and judge it for yourself. Post free 7d.; with Ephemeris, 13d. London: S. E. CATTY, 12, Ave Maria-lane, E.C.

BRITISH NATIONAL ASSOCIATION OF SPIRITUALISTS, 38, Great Russell-street, Bloomsbury. This organisation comprising several hundred members, has public offices, a reading room and library, with a secretary in attendance to receive visitors and answer inquiries. For terms, information as to séances, &c., apply to the Secretary. Office hours 2 p.m. to 9.30, daily. Saturdays 2 p.m. to 6 p.m.

PARIS.—TO SPIRITUALISTS is offered a comfortable Social Home in a convenient part of the city, by an English brother. The apartments can only accommodate four persons. Terms, board and all included, £3 per week each; or for two persons, £2 10s. per week, if two occupy one room. Address, "S. C.," care of Mr. Bedford, 9, Rue de la Pepiniere, Paris.

THE BANNER OF LIGHT: the oldest journal devoted to the Spiritual Philosophy in the world! Issued weekly, at No. 9, Montgomery-place, Boston, Mass. Colby and Rich, publishers and proprietors. Isaac B. Rich, business manager; Luther Colby, editor; aided by a large corps of able writers. The Banner is a first-class eight-paged family paper, containing forty columns of interesting and instructive reading, embracing a literary department, report of spiritual lectures, original essays—upon spiritual, philosophical, and scientific subjects; editorial department; spirit message department; contributions by the most talented writers in the world, &c., &c. Terms of subscription, in advance, 15s. per annum. The Spiritualist Newspaper Branch Office, 33, Museum-street, London, W.C.

Price 3s. 6d. Imperial 8vo. Cloth, red edges, Post free. "RIFTS IN THE VEIL."

A Collection of choice poems and prize essays given through mediumship, also of articles and poems written by Spiritualists. A useful book to place in the public libraries, and to present or send to those who are unacquainted with Spiritualism. It contains much about the religious aspects of Spiritualism, given through the writing mediumship of "M.A. (Oxon)," and is one of the most refined and elegant works ever printed in connection with the movement. CONTENTS.

- Introduction:—The Philosophy of Inspiration. I.—"O! Beautiful White Mother Death." Given through the trance-mediumship of Cora L. V. Tappan-Richmond. II.—The Apparition of Sengireef. By Sophie Aksakof. III.—The Translation of Shelley to the Higher Life. Given through the trance-mediumship of T. L. Harris IV.—Gone Home. Given through the trance-mediumship of Lizzie Doten. V.—The Birth of the Spirit. Given through the trance-mediumship of Cora L. V. Tappan-Richmond. VI.—Angel-Guarded. VII.—An Alleged Post Mortem Work by Charles Dickens. How the writings were produced. The Magnificent Egotist, Sapsea. Mr. Stolop reveals a Secret: A Majestic Mind Severely Tried: Dwellers in Cloisterham: Mr. Peter Peckcraft and Miss Keep: Critical Comments. VIII.—The Spider of the Period. By Georgina Weldon (Miss Treherne) and Mrs. — IX.—Margery Miller. Given through the trance-mediumship of Lizzie Doten. X.—Ode by "Adamanta." XI.—Swedenborg on Men and Women. By William White, Author of The Life of Swedenborg. XII.—Resurgam. By Caroline A. Burke XIII.—Abnormal Spectres of Wolves, Dogs, and other Animals. By Emilio, Prince of Wittgenstein. XIV.—To You who Loved Me. By Florence Marryat XV.—Desolation. By Caroline A. Burke XVI.—Truth. Given through the mediumship of "M.A., Oxon." XVII.—Thy Love. By Florence Marryat. XVIII.—Haunting Spirits. By Baroness Adelma Von Vay (Countess Wurmbrand). XIX.—Fashionable Grief for the Departed. XX.—The Brown Lady of Rainham, By Lucia C. Stone. XXI.—A Vision of Death. By Caroline A. Burke. XXII.—A Story of a Haunted House. By F. J. Theobald. XXIII.—"Love the Truth and Peace." By the Rev. C. Maurice Davies, D.D. XXIV.—The Ends, Aims, and Uses of Modern Spiritualism. By Louisa Lowe. XXV.—De Profundis. By Anna Blackwell. XXVI.—Ancient Thought and Modern Spiritualism. By C. Carter Blake, Doc. Sci., Lecturer on Comparative Anatomy at Westminster Hospital. XXVII.—Die Schmsucht. Translated by Emily Kislbury from the German of Schiller. XXVIII.—The Relation of Spiritualism to Orthodox Christianity. Given through the mediumship of "M.A. Oxon." XXIX.—A Stance in the Sunshine. By the Rev. C. Maurice Davies, D.D. XXX.—"My Saint." By Francis Marryat. XXXI.—The Deathbeds of Spiritualists. By Epes Sargent. XXXII.—The Touch of a Vanished Hand. By the Rev. C. Maurice Davies, D.D. XXXIII.—Death. By Caroline A. Burke. XXXIV.—The Spirit Creed. Through the mediumship of "M.A., Oxon." XXXV.—The Angel of Silence. By W. II. Harrison. XXXVI.—The Prediction. By Alice Worthington (Ennesfalleu). XXXVII.—Longfellow's Position in Relation to Spiritualism. XXXVIII.—Spiritual Manifestations among the Fakirs in India. By Dr. Maximilian Perty, Professor of Natural Philosophy, Berne; translated from Psychic Studies (Leipzig) by Emily Kislbury. XXXIX.—The Poetry of Science. By W. II. Harrison. XL.—Meditation and the Voice of Conscience. By Alex. Calder. XLI.—Dirge. By Mrs. Eric Baker. XLII.—Epigrams. By Gerald Massey. XLIII.—Some of the difficulties of the Clergy in Relation to Spiritualism. By Lisette Makdougall Gregory. XLIV.—Immortality. By Alfred Russel Wallace, F.R.G.S. XLV.—A Child's Prayer. By Gerald Massey. The Spiritualist Newspaper Branch Office, 33 Museum-street, London, W.C.

Price Five Shillings. Post Free. Cloth. Crown 8vo. ANIMAL MAGNETISM AND SOMNAMBULISM.

By EDWIN LEE, M.D., Corresponding member of the Medical Academies of Paris, Berlin, Munich, Brussels, Madrid, Turin and Florence. Author of the Prize Essay on "Mesmerism and Therapeutics," awarded by the Milan Society for the Promotion of Science, Arts and Letters. The Spiritualist Newspaper Branch Office, 33, Museum-street, London, W.C.

Price 5s. 6d. Inspirational Poetry. "POEMS FROM THE INNER LIFE."

With a Preface describing the spiritual state of trance during which some of the poems were given.

- CONTENTS. PART I. I.—The Prayer of the Sorrowing—II. The Song of Truth—III. The Embarkation—IV. Kepler's Vision—V. Love and Latin—VI. The Song of the North—VII. The Burial of Webster—VIII. The Parting of Sigurd and Gurda—IX. The Meeting of Sigurd and Gurda. PART II. X. The Spirit Child—XI. Reconciliation—XII. Hope for the Sorrowing—XIII. Compensation—XIV. The Eagle of Freedom—XV. Mistress Gleuare—XVI. Little Johnny—XVII. "Birdie's Spirit Song"—XVIII. My Spirit Home—XIX. "I still Live"—XX. Life—XXI. Love—XXII. "For a" that"—XXIII. Words of Cheer—XXIV. Resurrexi—XXV. The Prophecy of Vala—XXVI. The Kingdom—XXVII. The Cradle or Coffin—XXVIII. The Streets of Baltimore—XXIX. The Mysteries of Godliness—XXX. Farewell to Earth. The Spiritualist Newspaper Branch Office, 33, Museum-street, London, W.C.

REVUE SPIRITE, Journal d'études psychologiques, fonde par Allan Kardec, appears on the 1st of every month. Price, 1 franc. Published by the Societe Anonyme, 5, Rue Neuve des Petits Champs, Paris. Post-Office orders payable to Lecyrie.

Just Published. Price 5s. 6d. Post free. SPIRITUALISM AS A NEW BASIS OF BELIEF.

By JOHN S. FARMER. CONTENTS. CHAPTER I:—The Existing Breach between Modern Culture and the Popular Faith. CHAPTER II:—Modern Thought versus Modern Facts World towards Modern Spiritualism. CHAPTER III:—The Attitude of the Religious World towards Modern Spiritualism. CHAPTER IV:—The Popular Faith and the Claims of Spiritualism as a Renewal of Revelation. CHAPTER V:—The New Bases of Belief. CHAPTER VI:—Inspiration and Revelation: their Nature and Source. CHAPTER VII:—The Identity of Bible Facts and Spiritual Phenomena. CHAPTER VIII:—Popular Errors and Objections to Spiritualism Explained and Answered. CHAPTER IX:—Immortality in the Light of Modern Spiritualism. Will be sent by the Author on receipt of Stamps or P.O.O. (P.O.O.'s made payable at Akerman-road, Brixton, S.W.). Address, J. S. Farmer, 96, Holland Road, Brixton, S.W. Trade supplied by E. W. Allen, 11, Ave Maria Lane, E.C.

NEATLY PRINTED LEAFLETS Containing instructions HOW TO FORM SPIRIT CIRCLES AT HOME,

With no Spiritualist or Professional Medium present, may be obtained at The Spiritualist Newspaper Branch Office, price 300 for Sixpence, post free, or 500 for Ninepence, post free.

These leaflets are specially suitable FOR DISTRIBUTION AT PUBLIC MEETINGS, And in localities where mediums and spirit circles are not numerous.

The Spiritualist says:—Contention about Spiritualism and mediums should be avoided, and action substituted. The real strength of Spiritualism lies far more in its facts than in clamouring about them; the facts, therefore, should be multiplied by the wholesale dissemination of printed information how to form circles in the homes of private families. A proportion of those who receive the information will try experiments, and those who obtain the phenomena in their own homes will at once irrevocably recognise as impostors or disreputable unsafe guides, those newspapers and individuals who state authoritatively that the facts are not true. If every Spiritualist makes it binding upon himself to "drop about" or distribute five hundred of the leaflets, containing instructions how to form spirit circles at home, the whole nation will be deluged with useful information, and such a number of mediums will spring up in private families, as to rapidly increase the knowledge of truths calculated to benefit in the highest degree this materialistic, consequently irreligious age.

Accidental Indigestion

BEFORE AND AFTER THE

CHRISTMAS PUDDING,

USE

ENO'S FRUIT SALT

Every Travelling Trunk and Household in the World ought to contain a bottle of

ENO'S FRUIT SALT,

Prepared from Sound Ripe Fruit, as a Health-giving, Cooling, Sparkling, and Invigorating Beverage for any Season.

It is the best Preventive and Cure for Biliousness, Sick Headache, Skin Eruptions, Impure Blood, Fevers, Pimples on the Face, Giddiness, Feverishness, Mental Depression, Want of Appetite, Sourness of Stomach, Constipation, Vomiting, Thirst, &c., and to remove the effects of Errors in Eating and Drinking.

ENO'S FRUIT SALT.—From the Rev. Dr. HUNST, Vicar of Collierly:—"I have used your Fruit Salt for many years, and have verified your statements. The thanks of the public are due to you for your unceasing efforts to relieve suffering humanity. Long may you live to be a blessing to the world."

STIMULANTS & INSUFFICIENT AMOUNT OF EXERCISE frequently DERANGE the LIVER. ENO'S FRUIT SALT is peculiarly adapted for any constitutional weakness of the liver. A WORLD OF WOES is AVOIDED by those who KEEP and USE ENO'S FRUIT SALT.—"All our customers for ENO'S FRUIT SALT would not be without it upon any consideration, they having received so much benefit from it."—WOOD BROTHERS, Chemists, Jersey, 1878.

The Physical Basis of Life—Good Food.

How to enjoy good food, that would otherwise cause bilious headache disordered stomach, poisoned blood, &c., &c., use

ENO'S FRUIT SALT.

A NATURAL APERIENT.—ENO'S FRUIT SALT, when taken with water, acts as a natural aperient, its simple, but natural action, removes all impurities; thus preserving and restoring health. If its great value in keeping the body in health were universally known, no family would be without it.

TAGGED, WEARY AND WORN

OUT!!! Any one whose duties require them to undergo mental or unnatural excitement or strain—ENO'S FRUIT SALT is the best known remedy. It acts like a charm. It allays Nervous Excitement, Depression, and the injurious effects of stimulants and too rich food. Its power in aiding digestion is most striking. It also restores the Nervous System to its proper condition (by natural means). Use ENO'S FRUIT SALT. You cannot overstate its great value in keeping the blood pure and free from disease.

ENO'S FRUIT SALT.—"14, Rue de la Paix, Paris.—A Gentleman called in yesterday. He is a constant sufferer from chronic dyspepsia, and has taken all sorts of mineral waters. I recommended him to give your Salt a trial, which he did, and received great benefit. He says he never knew what it was to be without pain until he tried your Salt, and for the future shall never be without it in the house."—M. BERAL.

ENO'S FRUIT SALT.—"After suffering for nearly two and a half years from severe headache and disordered stomach, and after trying almost everything and spending much money without finding any benefit, I was recommended by a friend to try ENO'S FRUIT SALT, and before I had finished one bottle I found it doing me a great deal of good, and now I am restored to my usual health; and others I know that have tried it have not enjoyed such good health for years.—Yours most truly, ROBERT HUMPHREYS, Post Office, Barrasford."

"SUCCESS IN LIFE."—A new invention is brought before the public and commands success. A score of abominable imitations are immediately introduced by the unscrupulous, who, in copying the original closely enough to deceive the public, and yet not so exactly as to infringe upon legal rights, exercise an ingenuity that, employed in an original channel, could not fail to secure reputation and profit.—ADAMS.

CAUTION.—Examine each bottle and see the capsule is marked "ENO'S FRUIT SALT." Without, you have been imposed on by a worthless imitation. Sold by all Chemists. Price 2s. 9d., and 4s. 6d.

Prepared only by J. C. ENO'S PATENT, at ENO'S FRUIT SALT WORKS, Hatcham, London, S.E.

Price Five Shillings. Crown 8vo, richly gilt,

THE LAZY LAYS

AND PROSE IMAGININGS.

BY WILLIAM H. HARRISON.

An Elegant and Amusing Gift-Book of Poetical and Prose Writings, Grave and Gay.

Strongly recommended by reviews in The Morning Post, Graphic, Court Journal and some twenty or thirty other standard journals.

The gilt device on the cover designed by Florence Claxton and the Author.

CONTENTS.

- PART 1.—Miscellaneous Poems and Prose Writings. 1. The Lay of the Lazy Author.—2. The Song of the Newspaper Editor.—3. The Song of the Pawnbroker.—4. The Castle.—5. The Lay of the Fat Man.—6. The Poetry of Science.—7. How Hadji al Shacabac was Photographed (a letter from Hadji al Shacabac a gentleman who visited London on business connected with a Turkish Loan, to Ali Mustapha Ben Buckram, Chief of the College of Howling Dervishes at Constantinople).—8. The Lay of the Broad-Brimmed Hat.—9. St. Bride's Bay.—10. The Lay of the Market Gardener.—11. "East falls the Eventide."—12. Our Raven.—13. Materialistic Religion.—14. The Lay of the Photographer.—15. How to Double the Utility of the Printing Press.—16. The Song of the Mother-in-Law.—17. Wirbel-bewegung.—18. "Poor Old Joe!"—19. The Human Hive.—20. The Lay of the Mace-Bearers.—21. A Love Song.—22. A Vision.—23. "Under the Limes."—24. The Angel of Silence.

PART 2.—The Wobblejaw Ballads, by Anthony Wobblejaw.

- 25. The Public Analyst.—26. General Grant's Reception at Folkestone.—27. The Rifle Corps.—28. Tony's Lament.—29. The July Bug.—30. The Converted Carman.

From The Morning Post.

The Morning Post, which strongly recommends the book in a review nearly a column long, says:—"Comie literature which honestly deserves the epithet seems to be rapidly becoming a thing of the past; consequently any writer who, like Mr. Harrison, exhibits a genuine vein of humour, deserves the praise of all who are not too stupid to enjoy an innocent laugh. Not that his muse restricts herself only to such lighter utterances; on the contrary, some of his poems touch on the deepest and most sacred feelings of our common humanity. . . . The unfortunate Hadji's narrative of his adventures amongst the magicians of Whitechapel is quite one of the funniest things that has been published for years. . . . The book contains quite enough to ensure it a welcome from which its tasteful appearance will not detract." The Morning Post says of The Wobblejaw Ballads—"No one can help laughing at them," and it says that the rhymes are pitched in "something like the same key as The Bon Gaultier Ballads or The Biglow Papers, with an appreciably successful result."

From The Court Journal.

"All are of marked ability. . . . Occasionally we find verse of great beauty, showing that the author possesses the pure poetic gift."

From The Graphic.

"Those who can appreciate genuine, unforced humour should not fail to read The Lazy Lays and Prose Imaginings. Written, printed, published and reviewed by William H. Harrison (38, Great Russell-street). Both the verses and the short essays are really funny, and in some of the latter there is a vein of genial satire which adds piquancy to the fun. The Lay of the Newspaper Editor is capital if rather severe, and so is The Lay of the Mace-bearers; but one of the most laughable bits is the Turk's account of how he went to be photographed."

The Spiritualist Newspaper Branch Office, 33, Museum-street, London, W.C.

Price Five Shillings. Post Free. Cloth.

A LYRIC OF THE GOLDEN AGE.

Given through the inspirational mediumship of Thomas Lake Harris. These poems, given while Mr. Harris was in a state of trance, are of rare literary excellence.

The Spiritualist Newspaper Branch Office, 33, Museum-street, London, W.C.

Price 6d.; post free 7d.; cloth.

PRIZE ESSAYS.

THE PROBABLE EFFECTS OF SPIRITUALISM UPON THE SOCIAL, MORAL AND RELIGIOUS CONDITION OF SOCIETY. Two Essays by Anna Blackwell and Mr. G. F. Green.

THESE ESSAYS WON THE FIRST AND SECOND GOLD MEDALS OF THE BRITISH NATIONAL ASSOCIATION OF SPIRITUALISTS.

The Spiritualist Newspaper Branch Office, 33, Museum-street, London, W.C.

THE BIRKBECK BUILDING SOCIETY'S ANNUAL RECEIPTS EXCEED FOUR MILLIONS.

HOW TO PURCHASE A HOUSE FOR TWO GUINEAS PER MONTH, with immediate Possession and no Rent to pay. Apply at the Office of the BIRKBECK BUILDING SOCIETY.

HOW TO PURCHASE A PLOT OF LAND FOR FIVE SHILLINGS PER MONTH with immediate possession, either for Building or Gardening purposes. Apply at the Office of the BIRKBECK FREEHOLD LAND SOCIETY.

A Pamphlet, with full particulars, on application, FRANCIS RAVENSCHROFF, Manager, Southampton-buildings, Chancery-lane.

ESTABLISHED 1851.

BIRKBECK BANK.—Current

Accounts opened according to the usual practice of other Bankers, and interest allowed on the minimum monthly balances. No Commission charged for keeping accounts.

The Bank also receives money on Deposit at Three and a half per cent. repayable upon demand.

The Bank undertakes for its Customers, free of charge, the custody of Deeds, Writings, and other Securities and Valuables; the collection of Bills of Exchange, Dividends, and Coupons; and the purchase and sale of Stocks and Shares.

Letters of Credit and Circular Notes issued for all parts of Europe and elsewhere.

A Pamphlet with full particulars on application. FRANCIS RAVENSCHROFF, Manager, Southampton-buildings, Chancery-lane.

March, 1880.] [Price Sixpence.

THE PSYCHOLOGICAL REVIEW.

A Monthly Magazine.

CONTENTS.

The present position and future needs of Spiritualism in England; M.A. (Oxon)—Kiddle's Spiritual Communications—Exposures of Spiritualism; Dr. Nicholls—Two Views of Spiritualism; M.A. (Oxon)—A Needed Lesson; Georgina Houghton—Extracts from a Spiritualist's diary; A. M. H. Watts—The last Words of James Nayler, the Quaker Martyr, 1660—Notes and Gleanings—Lessons in a School of Life—Victorian Sardon, the French Dramatist—The Message of Spiritualism to the Criminal—Higher Aspects of Spiritualism—Poetry—A Psalm of the March Winds; J. T. Markley.

LONDON: E. W. ALLEN, 11, Ave Maria-lane. GLASGOW: HAY NISBET & Co., 52, Ropework-lane

SPIRIT PEOPLE.

A scientifically accurate description of Manifestations recently produced by Spirits, and SIMULTANEOUSLY WITNESSED BY THE AUTHOR AND OTHER OBSERVERS IN LONDON.

By WILLIAM H. HARRISON. Limp Cloth, red edges. Price 1s.; post free 1s. 1d. 33, Museum Street, London, W.C.

Or of MESSRS. COLBY AND RICH, 9, Montgomery street BOSTON, U.S.

"As a dispassionate scientific man he appears to have investigated the subject without pre-conceived ideas, and the result of his examination has been to identify his opinions with those of Messrs. Varley, Crooks and Wallace, in favour not only of the absolute reality of the phenomena, but also of the genuineness of the communications alleged to be given by the spirits of the departed. Into the vexed question of a priori objections to Mr. Harrison's opinions we shall not now enter. We will only say that his descriptions of facts are couched in a moderate and truly scientific spirit, that he appears to have exhausted every reasonable test which his experience led him to make, and that the whole tone of the book (which is singularly free from dogmatic pretension) is rigorously logical."—Public Opinion.

CONTENTS.

Eternal Punishment..... 133
The Apparitions at Knock 135
Detailed Descriptions 135
The Virgin Mary, St. Joseph and St. John.
seen by about twelve witnesses at once 135
The Scene in the Church..... 136
The Testimony of Archdeacon Cavanagh 136
Healing the Afflicted..... 137
The Ecclesiastical Committee of Investigation 137
Poetry:—An Incident 137
Experiences of Anaesthetics. By C. C. Massey ... 138
Correspondence:—The Australian Trance Medium 138
Diseases healed by Spirit Power at Knock 139
The Verification of a Dream 142
A Strong Case of Spirit Identity 142
A Sermon against Spiritualism..... 142
Paragraphs:—Spiritualism in Glasgow 143
Passed to Spirit Life..... 143

Printed for the Proprietor by ARLISE ANDREWS, at the Museum Printing Works, 31, Museum-street, Bloomsbury, London, W.C., and published by E. W. ALLEN, Ave Maria-lane, London, E.C.