Hague, October the isth. UR Letters from Rome fay, the Venetian Ambassador had on the 21st past, a long Conference with the Pope's Secretary of State, as 'tis said, about a Ceffation of Arms in Italy.

They had advice at Venice, that the Duke de Vendosine was gone so on the French Army to Mantua; that the French Troops were marching out of the Land of Trent, towards Dezenzano; that Gen. Vaubonne was past thro' the Veroneze, with 1200 Horse; that Gen. Solari was arrived at Parona, within 3 Miles of Verona, with 3500 Foot, and 200 Horse, on his way to Ostiglia; that Gen. Heister was marched with the control of t 3000 Horse and Foot from Roveredo towards Inspruck; that the Imperialists grow dai-

If the said Foot from Roveredo towards improces, that the imperiants grow darly firenger and firenger upon the Secchia.

They Write from Augsburg, that 400 French being Plundering two neighbonring Villages, Lieut. Petrack, with a Party of Germtns, fell upon them, and cut them all off but 4, that were made Prifoners; and that Gen. Merci marching towards Landsperg, with fome Troops, hid them in a Wood, and ordered fome Huffars to show themselves to a Body of French, who soon attackt his Hussars, upon which he fallyed out of the Wood, with the rest of his Men, Killed 60 French, and took as many Prisoners, 18 of whom were Wounded.

The Prussians continue to Bombard Gelder with good Success, above half the Town being reduced to a heap of Rubbish, and abundance of the Inhabitants and Soldiers in Garison killed.

They tell us from Dantzick, that the Swedes had Storm'd the Beckerberg of Thoorn, but were repulfed with loss of 500 Men; and that the K. of Sweden feeing the Obstinacy of the Governour, defigned to turn the Seige into a Blocade, and to throw 100

Bombs into the place every Week.

They tell us from Nismes that, the Camisars, to the number of 700 Foot, and 150 Horse, advanced on the 21st past in the Night, before a walled Town called Aiguevives, and demanded Provisions, which being denyed them, they set Fire to the Gate, and afterwards marched into the City, and refreshed themselves without doing the least Hurt to any of the Inhabitants. Another Troop of Camisars came into the Neighbourhood of Castres, burnt some Villages, and thought to have surprized, and carryed off the Bishop of Castres, but missed their aim.

off the Bishop of Castres, but missed their aim.

They tell us from Liege, That the Confederate Army, under the Dake of Marlborough is broke up from St. Trayen, and lies Incamped at Birsen, the Head Quarters being at Tongerein. Tis thought they is that Camp till next Month, and then separate and go into Winter Quarters. The French Army is also Marched higher up within their Lines.

We hear that the French Army is also Marched higher up within their Lines.

We hear that the French Army, under Visitars, is Decamp'd from Genhassen, having first Burnt their Camp, and Marched part towards Bavaria, and part towards Donaweett: And they had Advice at Frantfort, That Count Tellard had separated his Army, and part of them was Marched towards the Mossell.

The Duke of Marlborough is gone from the Camp to Aix la Chapelle, and designs to go thence to Dusseldorp by that time the King of Spain Arrives there.

A Ship Arrived at Leghorn in six Days from Toulon, reports, That the Englist and Dutch Fleet had been at the standard Fourmontiers to take in fresh Water, and Wood for Firing, and they had Advice at Venice, That the said Fleet was seen near the sland Yvica.

The King of Spain was expected Yestarday, or this Day at Dusseldorp, where he'll stay but five or six Days.

five or fix Days

The City of Thourn defends it felf Manfally, and some Letters say The Swedes have suffered much by a Salley.
