

TO THE WORTHY
ELECTORS
OF WIGAN.

---

GENTLEMEN,

Observing in the Wigan Gazette of this morning a most unwarrantable perversion of the spirit of my address to the Electors of Wigan, I take the earliest opportunity of repeating, (what I could not have supposed that any one who had read that address could have possibly misunderstood,)—that the prominent and cogent occasion of that Address was the fact of my having met with no encouragement whatever, nor received the slightest mark of satisfaction at the offer of service tendered to Wigan under the circumstances recapitulated in my Address, —the consideration of health being of a very SECONDARY nature.

LINDSAY.

Haigh Hall, 24th January, 1840.

---

R. COCKER, PRINTER, MARKET-PLACE, WIGAN.

