NEW INTENDED ACT OF PARLIAMENT

F any BAKER shall be known to cheat or defraud the public, by sixing beans, alum, starch, bone sust, whiting, potatoes, or any other puriousing redients in his bread, so that by roguery they get what is termed a parish dinner, by taking a ew potatoes out of one dish, a little bit of meat out of another, lifting the crust off the pie when half baked, & taking out part of the inipe, shall for all such offences be forced to sit in his own oven directly his batch is drawn, for the space of half an hour.

*ck

なるないないないないないないない

るななななななないが

II. Any BUTCHER that is known to stick a lump of fat under his scaleto make it weigh clown, so that the purchaser be deprived of his rights thereof, shall sit in the stocks three times a day for a week, with the said 1 mp of fat stuck on his hat as caution to all other Butchers, against such illegal acts.

III. Any CLOTHESMAN, named Moses, Aaron or Isaac ar any of their tribe, who shall annoy any honest and respectable house-keepers with the cry of old clothes before daylight in the morning, shall be compelled to eat pork in some of their teeth.

space of their teeth.

IV If any TAILOR employed in cutting out a suit of clothes, be detected in cabbaging more han one fifth of the said cloth, he shall be compelled to sit upon his red kot o ose for one hour.

P. If any PAWNBROKER shall be known to wear the Coat, Waistcoat, Breeches, Hat, or his Wife to wear the Shift, Gown, or Flannel Petticoat, belonging to eigenstanted.

- Tinker, Tailor, or Costermonr's Wives, shall for such offence be ut up the Spout and nover more to ome down again, until they beg the ublic Pardon, and take no Interest.

VI. A 'y GROCER who shall sellhor, e ans for coffee, sloe leaves for tea, mix and in his sugar, water in his vinegar, orick dust inhis pepper shall or such of spee he will ducked in a hogshead of reacle.

39 17 An MILKMAN, or Maid that

FI An MILKMAN, or Maid that hanght miking the town pump instead errows, shill sit on the pump on and for the seond offence to be pelted with ag III ny BARBER or harber's elerlwho, when shaving any customer, shall wi fully draw blood, o shove the brush of lather into his mouth, shall have his head shaved and his bare block publickly exposed in his shop window.

posed in his shop window.

IX. Ary MI LER, who shall be known to take unfair toll; or kiss any othe man's wife, who shall be in the habit of risming to his mill, shall be drowned in hown mill dam, without the benefit of elerge.

XI. Any Lawyer, who shall be do tected in taking a bribe from any candidate, or any person in interest, so as to register two votes for one, or endeavour to decoy any honest freeman from voting according to his own conscience, shall have his coat tunned, and pay his own fee of 6s. 8d. for every such officure.

XII. Any MILLINER, Dress, or bonnet maker, who shall wear any article entrusted to her charge so as to decorate her person on a Sunday or holiday, shall never appear in public for six months, except in a workhouse dress.

XIII. Any SHOP BOY, Counter hop per, or second hand dandy, who shall put the wrong end of a lighted cigar in his mouth so as to injure his lips, or spoil his handsome cribbage face, shall not smoke another cigar for three months.

XIV. Any CONFECTIONER, or Lella-pop Manufacturer, caught boiling the scrapings of hogsheads, or the washings of treacle casks, so that they're made into Brandy balls, Hardbake, or Barley Sugar, shall for every such case be sent to the Brixton mill, and then be forced to drink nothing but the washing of the treacle pot for three months.

XV. Any MAN that shall beat his Wife, or be known to visit any bagsio, shall be tried by a jury of women, and if found guilty, shall be flogged with his wife's garters, and not sleep with her any more.

XVI. Any PUBLICAN that is known

XVI. Any PUBLICAN that is known to adulterate his spirits, or mix smart beer with strong, shall be smothered in beer grounds, in his own waste butt, and "the Brewer obliged to see him decently buried in a waggon load of hot grains.

XVII. Any WOMAN that is seen in a

XVII. Any WOMAN that is seen in a gin shop before breakfast in the morning or seen gossiping from your to house, in read of minding her hasbands business, her husband shall be authorized to tiener to the leg of the bedstad and feed her on water gruel for three days.

XVIII. Any young WOMAN that is known to wear more than 24 curls in h hair, or a large leghon bonnet so as to ebstruct the passengers in assing any street, an or highway, she sask he doomed to le all the days of her life. NIX. If any FISHMONGER abald to found repairing stinking FISt1 so as to deceive the public by putting from gilds smeared with blood, bright eyes, & prees of stick thro' the body to make flabby fish appear crimp, shall for such offences be sentenced to be ducked 3 times a day at Billingsgate for his ingenuity and impositions.

TRADES UNIONS OF ENGLAND.

Come all you hold Britons attend to my

I am just going to give you asketch of th times, So give ear high and low, you will find

So give ear high and low, you will find by those lines, Tstrength of the famed British Union, respinions of England, Hezza

'There's the Tailors, Shoemakers, & likewise,
The Plasterers and Bricklayers strong) 44

rise,

The nobs of this country are truck with our

prise,
To behold the brave men of the

The true British Unions, Huzzal
There's the Coalheavers, Sawyers, and bourers too,

Tanners and Painters, and Glaziers a few.
All bravely united, courageous and true,
To stick up for the rights of their trades, sin
Success to the Unions, Iluzza!

All over Great Britain they're metly conbin'd,

米· たいないないないないないないないないないないない。

And some great alteration we strilly may

They are liberal, generous, valiant ar I Find Hurrah for the British Unions,

The Unions of England, Huzza
There is Manchester, Birmingham, I iver pool too,

Derby, Leicester, and Nottingham, valian and true,

From the Lands end of England to Scottan through,

The numbers are daily increasing, The Unions of England, Huzzat

England, Ireland & Scotland united shall be Till from bondage and slavet y Britonsare free Here's the Shamrock, the Rose, and the Thistle, all three,

So bravely combined in the Union The Union of freedom, Huzza!

Three cheers for the brave men of Dorches ter give,

Three roans for the T-- and two for th

Let every true Briton as long as they live, Give three cheers for the true British Unions Unions of England, Huzza

Bylcand Co., Printers, Monmouth Court. Dia

