

ADVICE

74

TO THE

High--Church.

1.
YOU talk of your High-Church Addresses,
Their Loyalty, Zeal and Affection;
But tho' our Necessity presses
You still keep the Whigs in subjection.

And will not one Penny bestow
To reduce the proud Spirit of France,
And not suffer the Whigs for to show
How much they are willing t' advance.

3.
You all have great Places of Trust.
Yet remember on whom ye depend;
Pray God you be faithful and just,
And prove honest Stewards in the end.

4.
You say that we must have a Peace,
On the Articles France does propose,
Why then all our Troubles will cease,
And a Fig for our impotent Foes.

5.
We know they're not able to stand,
Nor hinder their Country from Ruin,
Yet High Church does grant their demand,
And scorns to seek their undoing.

6.
Their Charity thus they extend,
Nor will they advantages take,
They hope to have France for a Friend,
And therefore a Peace they will make.

7.
Pray think on the ways of old Lewis,
How unfaithful he ever has been;
You know what I tell you most true is,
Then have more regard for your Q---n.

8.
If you give unto Philip the Indies,
And all the whole Kingdom of Spain,
He quickly will tell you his mind is
What Lewis has lost to regain.

9.
For why should he stand to the Bargain
His Grandfather made for himself,
He'll tell you 'tis not worth a Farthing,
Nor will he be thought such an Elf.

10.
Old Lewis once laid in his Grave
The Grandsons too soon may unite,
And they that have Money may have
Great numbers of Soldiers to fight.

11.
With Vigour then push on the War,
Till better Proposals are made;
All sinister Treaties abhor,
And secure to the Subjects their Trade.

12.
Remember how much it has cost
The Spanish Dominions to gain:
How many brave Men we have lost,
And shall we then labour in vain.

13.
Five Millions the French do proffer
To lend you, if that you have need;
Then do not refuse such an offer,
But accept of their Favour with speed.

14.
The kindness you see of the D---n,
Which if you refuse, I admire it;
The Whigs too will lend you as much,
Or more if the Q---n require it.
