MAJESTY
QUEEN
ALEXANDRA.

Stray Thoughts on Men and Manners.

Every true thought is a valuable acquisition to society.—BURKE.

BEG not a long life, but a good one. HE makes no friend who never made a foe.—Tennyson.

THE worst fooled man is the one who fools himself.

EDUCATION is the cheapest defence of nations.—Edmund Burke.

YEARS do not make sages, they only make old men.—Madame Swetchine.

THE man who can and won't is not so exasperating as the man who can't but will.

THE politician does not care about the strange bedfellow so long as he has an easy berth.

THE happiest man is he who has reduced the necessities of life to a minimum.—Seton Merriman.

OBSTACLES have the effect of eliciting talents which in prosperous circumstances would have lain dormant.

TRUST him with little who, without proofs, trusts you with everything; or, when he has proved you, with nothing.—Lavater.

A GOOD deed is never lost; he who sows courtesy reaps friendship, and he who plants kindness gathers love.—Basil.

PLEASURE, when it is a man's chief purpose, disappoints itself, and the constant application to it palls the faculty of enjoying it.

THOUSANDS that are capable of great sacrifices are yet not capable of the little ones which are all that are required of them.

THERE'S much said about hypocrites in the church; but for each one in the church you will find a dozen out of it. Religious hypocrites aren't the only kind.

DO not be imposed on by appearances; check your impulses, and moderate your desires, and keep your reason always in your power.—Marcus Aurelius.

MEN rarely succeed in changing the world; but a man seldom fails of success if he lets the world alone and resolves to make the best of it. It is easier to climb a mountain than to level it.—Lytton.

BE ready to adopt new ideas. We progress only through change. It is just as unreasonable to stick to old ways merely because you are used to them as it would be to walk up ten flights of stairs when you might be carried up in an elevator.

SOME people's sensibility is a mere bundle of aversions, and you hear them display and parade it, not in recounting the things they are attached to, but in telling you how many things and persons they "cannot bear."—Foster.

FOLLY is a close friend of pride. A GREAT idealist can never be egotistic.—Ruskin.

POWER gravitates towards the man who can use it.

SELF-RELIANCE is the result of self-forgetfulness.—Hugh Black.

HE must be a strong man who can conceal his inclination.—R. W. Emerson.

THE most manifest sign of wisdom is contented cheerfulness.—Montaigne.

OUT of the lowest depth there is a path to the loftiest height.

THERE are few politicians as good as they claim to be or as bad as others think they are.

PERFECT valour consists in doing without witnesses what one would do before the whole world.

IN this world it is not what we take up, but what we give up that makes us rich.—H. Ward Beecher.

ALL good things can be worked out by good means. Those that cannot are bad.—Charles Dickens.

WORK is not man's punishment; it is his reward and his strength, his glory, and his pleasure.—Georges Sand.

CHEERFULNESS, the character of common hope, is, in strong hope, like glimpses of sunshine on a cloudy day.—Joanna Baillie.

BE not ashamed of thy virtues; honour's a good brooch to wear in a man's hat at all times.—Ben Jonson.

IF you begin by thinking that nothing can be done without difficulty, you will end by doing everything with facility.—Lord Dalling.

HE doeth much that doeth a thing well. He doeth well that rather serveth the community than his own will.—Thomas à Kempis.

CARRY your present load firmly, correctly, and cheerfully, and someone will surely note, at the proper time, that you are equal to a larger one.

LET us be thankful that in every man's life there is a holiday of romance, an illumination of the senses by the soul that makes him a poet while it lasts.—J. R. Lowell.

THE women are quick enough—they're quick enough. They know the rights of a story before they hear it, and can tell a man what his thoughts are before he knows 'em himself.—George Eliot.

NOTHING good bursts forth all at once. The lightning may dart out of a black cloud; but the day sends his bright heralds before him to prepare the world for his coming.—Hare.

As We Make It

Is it not just as we take it,
This mystical world of ours;
Life's field will yield, as we make it,
A harvest of thorns or flowers.

—ALICE CARY.

The Merry Heart.

'Tis mirth that fills the veins with blood.—BEAUMONT AND FLETCHER.

"AND is it true, then, that everything is off with you and Charlie?" "Yes, dear, and now we see each other as we really are."

Mrs. A.: "When I was engaged to my husband he was the very light of my existence." Miss D.: "And now—?" Mrs. A.: "The light goes out every night."

"Why did he marry the widow after courting her daughter?" "He concluded that he would rather have the girl as a step-daughter than the widow as a mother-in-law."

Mrs. Dearly: "I dreamed last night I had such a perfectly lovely new hat." Mr. Dearly: "That's the first dream of a hat you ever had that didn't cost me money."

Tenant: I come to inform you, sir, that my cellar is full of water." Landlord: "Well, what of it? You surely did not expect a cellar full of champagne for two pounds a month, did you?"

Lawyer: "When I was a boy my highest ambition was to be a brigand." Friend (who is familiar with his little ways): "Well, it isn't every man who can so nearly realise the dreams of his youth." Lecturer (proudly): "Yes, gentlemen, I've delivered one lecture over 300 consecutive nights." Jones (sadly): "That's nothing. My wife has delivered one lecture to me, without missing a night, for over seven years!"

First Girl: "What a perfectly exquisite hat, dear!" Second Girl: "Oh, I am glad you like it." First Girl: "Oh, it's perfectly lovely. I used to wear a hat like that myself when it was in fashion."

SHE had just returned from a call upon her dearest friend. "What a bore she is, and so selfish," she said. "Took up all the time telling me about her trip to Paris instead of letting me tell her about my trip to Norway."

"THERE is no occasion for you to envy me," said the prosperous person. "I have as many troubles as you." "I s'pose ye have, mister," admitted the tramp; "but the difficulty with me is that I ain't got anything else."

Papa: "Well, Johnny, you went to church this morning?" Johnny: "Yes, papa." Papa: "How did you like the sermon?" Johnny: "The beginning was good, and the end was good, but there was too much middle in it, papa."

Rich Heiress: "But, Captain Hawleigh, will you love me when I grow old and ugly?" The Captain (gallantly): "You may grow older, my dear Miss Plutus, but you can never grow uglier." And he wondered why she rejected him.

"I HAVE nothing but praise for our new minister." "So I noticed when the plate came round."

A LITTLE boy was beating his sister, and on being asked why he did so, replied, "We have been playing Adam and Eve, and she won't tempt me, but will eat the apple herself."

"DOCTOR, a friend of mine has assured me that sucking lemons will prevent seasickness. Is that true?" "Oh, yes, provided you sit in the shade of a tall tree while you do it."

"JOHN," she said, "there's nothing I enjoy more than reading the last words of great men. I wonder what your last words will be?" "Maria," he replied, "the last word is something I never expect to have."

"Who is the responsible man in this firm?" asked the brusque visitor. "I don't know who the responsible party is," answered the sad, cynical office boy, "but I am the one who is always to blame."

SHE drew herself haughtily to her full height. "Fifteen shillings is too much—too much," she cried, pale and trembling. "Then I'll make it 14s. 11½d." said the milliner. "Very well; wrap it up."

Mamma: "Fighting again, Willie? Didn't I tell you to stop and count one hundred whenever you were angry?" Willie: "But it didn't do any good, ma. Look what the Jones boy did while I counted!"

First Man: "Wait a minute, I want to step into the dressmaker's and pay my wife's bill." Second Man: "Why don't you give her the money and let her go and pay for it?" First Man: "She'd order another dress."

Customer: "You say, then, that this material is the latest?" Shopman: "The very latest, madam." "But will it fade in the sun?" "Why, it has been lying in the window for two years, and look how well it has stood."

"SEE that you don't get hurt, Sam. It's dangerous working here in the quarry." "Oh, nothing can happen to me, Joe. I've borrowed ten shillings from the foreman, and since then he doesn't let me do any dangerous work."

Country Minister: "My dear brethren, I do wish you would bring your children to church—bring even the very youngest ones. If they are too young to understand the service, they will at least cry and keep the older people awake."

Light.

The night has a thousand eyes,
And the day but one;
Yet the light of the bright world dies
With the dying sun.

The mind has a thousand eyes,
And the heart but one;
Yet the light of a whole life dies
When its day is done.

—FRANCIS W. BOURDILLON.

CHARLES DICKENS 1801

GARDENING FOR THE MONTH.

If the weather permits, sow early peas and beans in sheltered borders. Any bulbs planted in the close of last year, and now appearing above ground, should be looked to: it is well to shelter the more valuable sorts, by layers of fern leaves, from frost and snow. Delicate plants must be taken particular care of at this time. Any still unplanted bulbs, such as tulip, narcissus, etc., should be put in the ground during the first open weather. Train neatly roses, clematis, honeysuckle, and other creeping plants. After each fall shake the snow off evergreens.

QUEEN ALEXANDRA.

QUEEN ALEXANDRA is the eldest daughter of the late Christian IX., King of Denmark, and sister of the ex-Empress of Russia and the King of Greece. The full name of Her Majesty is Alexandra Caroline Mary Charlotte Louisa Julia.

Her Marriage to Edward VII.—then Prince of Wales—took place on the 10th of March, 1863, and was an occasion of great national rejoicing. On this event taking place, the House of Commons voted her an annual allowance of £10,000, and £30,000 in the event of her surviving her husband. There have been six children born of the marriage,

KING ALFRED.

KING ALFRED, whose statue at Winchester, where he was buried, is shown in our engraving, was born at Wantage in Berkshire in 849 A.D., and died in 901 at the age of fifty-two. There never, perhaps, was a monarch so highly esteemed by his fellow-countrymen, and many traditional stories cluster around his name, in which he appears almost to as much advantage as in real history.

SOUND BUSINESS RULES.

MEN who have become rich often lay down for others to follow rules of conduct which four of whom survive, the eldest of the four being the Prince of Wales.

STATUE OF KING ALFRED, BROADWAY, WINCHESTER.

A DOMESTIC COMPROMISE.

It is not often that domestic compromises are as happily arranged as one in which Abraham Lincoln, the famous American president, played a leading part.

One day the president was unusually distraught. There had been a little domestic wrangle over the colour of a wall-paper. Mrs. Lincoln was determined to have yellow; the president was equally strong on green.

The next morning he was quite cheerful, and the secretary said he supposed the affair had been settled to his satisfaction.

"Oh, yes," said Lincoln; "we've made a compromise—it's going to be yellow."

do not bear the closest scrutiny without revealing moral defects. But in the advice given by old Anselm Rothschild, of Frankfurt, there is much that is worth quoting.

Inquire thoroughly and conscientiously, he said, into the particulars of the business you propose to engage in.

After careful thought come to a definite decision, go ahead bravely, and never be discouraged.

Do not burden yourself with useless acquaintances. Do not be snobbish. Be polite to all.

Do not use intoxicating drinks. Pay your debts promptly. Invest your money safely, and trust neither to chance nor to man.

Stand up for your rights, and advance your interests sturdily but honourably.

* GARDENING FOR THE MONTH.

PEAS sown now will be ready for the table about as soon as those planted in November, and will yield a more abundant crop. Sow radishes in a sheltered border. Before the buds are much swelled prune apricots, peaches, nectarines, and plums, and also apples, pears, cherries, &c. Pinks, polyantheses, thrift, box, and all plants employed for edging borders may be moved in suitable weather. On mild days admit air freely to auriculas, pelargoniums, and other hardy pot-plants. In the last week of the month sow hardy annuals in a warm border for subsequent transplanting.

—SHAKESPEARE.

THE OPENING OF PARLIAMENT BY THE KING: THE PROCESSION.

THE OPENING OF PARLIAMENT.

THE first session of King Edward's second parliament was opened by the King in person on the 19th of February, 1906. His Majesty went from Buckingham Palace in the State Coach, and the procession included four other carriages occupied by the chief officers of the Household. The route was by the Mall, across the Horse Guards Parade, and down Whitehall to Westminster Palace; it was kept by troops and lined by many thousands of spectators, who gave His Majesty a hearty welcome. The Commons having been summoned to the House of Lords, the King read the speech from the Throne, and when the brief, but imposing, ceremony was over, he returned to Buckingham Palace amid renewed demonstrations of loyalty.

A CAPITAL IDEA.

AN old lady one day while passing a book-seller's shop suddenly remembered that she had promised a young relative a birthday present. After spending some time in scanning the titles of the various books in the window, she selected a volume, entitled "Cricket on the Hearth."

"Can you recommend this book?" she demanded of the shopman.

"Oh, yes, madam," replied the attendant, "I am sure you will be pleased with it. It's by Charles Dickens, one of the most famous writers of his time."

"Very good," said the lady, as she proceeded to leave; "and I must say it's a capital idea arranging these outdoor games so that they can be played indoors during rainy days and bad weather. If this 'Cricket on the Hearth' only turns out half as successful as ping-pong I shall be satisfied."

THE WINDMILLS OF HOLLAND.

IN Holland windmills are to be seen of all sizes; sawmills and grist-mills, and mills for pumping water; mills new and old, used and disused. In the construction of these mills one, and evidently the original, pattern is adhered to. The dull thatched body is relieved by green woodwork and striped with red and white. They are most beautiful in their lines, and on the front of each, where the arms attach, there is usually some fanciful carving, gaudily painted. Some of the mills bear tablets, showing that they were built in the seventeenth century. The sails that are stretched over the wings or arms are generally stained some soft red, or green, or brown, to preserve them from the weather.

"WE'D RATHER BE ALIVE THAN NOT."

*What though we wish the cats at play
Would some one else's garden till;
Though Sophonisba drop the tray,
And all our worshipped Worcester spill;
Though neighbours "practise" loud and shrill,
Though May be cold and June be hot,
Though April freeze and August grill,
We'd rather be alive than not.*

*And sometimes on a summer's day
To self and every mortal ill
We give the slip, we steal away
To walk beside some sedgy rill:
The darkening years, the cares that kill,
A little while are well forgot;
When deep in broom upon the hill,
We'd rather be alive than not.*

GARDENING FOR THE MONTH.

In the kitchen garden there is much to do this month. Sow lettuce, carrot, and radish in the latter part of the month. Plant potatoes in rows two feet apart and ten inches between the sets. Graft apples, pears, cherries, and plums; for this the middle of the month is said to be the best time. Fruit trees and shrubs may be transplanted. Any anemone roots left over from the autumn should now be planted. Pot scarlet lobelias, and place them in a sunny window or a moderate hot-bed. At the end of the month the seeds of hardy annuals may be sown in light soils.

TERRIBLE MINING DISASTER IN FRANCE.

WAITING FOR THE DOCTOR.

A LECTURER, discoursing on the subject of health, inquired: "What use can a man make of his time while waiting for the doctor?"

Before he had time to make an answer to his own inquiry someone in the audience called out, "He can make his will."

HE MARRIED RANK.

THE American railway magnate, Mr. John W. Gates, states that when he was in Florida recently he found that, as in Kentucky, every man was either a judge, a colonel, or a major.

"Who is that man?" he asked of an acquaintance.

"Oh, that is Colonel Spencer."

"He strikes me as being rather young for a colonel," said Mr. Gates. "He can't be over thirty."

"Quite true, Judge," was the reply, "but, you see, he wedded Colonel Caldwell's widow, and, so to speak, married into the title."

A GREAT MINING DISASTER.

ONE of the greatest mining disasters on record occurred on the morning of the 10th of March, 1906, in an extensive colliery near Lens, in the Pas de Calais. Some 1,800 miners had descended into the pit, when a tremendous explosion occurred which projected into the air three cages, filled with miners, which were being lowered down the three shafts. Soon afterwards flames began to issue from the pit mouths. By the efforts of rescue parties some 650 men, many of whom were injured, were got to the surface during the day, and a few were afterwards rescued alive, but over a thousand perished. One was recovered alive after having been entombed for twenty-five days.

AN OLD HAND.

TAILOR (to applicant for a job): "We want a good cutter. Have you had much experience in the tailoring line?"

Applicant (with a confident smile): "I never had a suit of clothes ready when I said I would since I have been in the business."

Tailor: "You'll do. You must be an old hand."

A RAPID WOOING.

THE following account of a rapid wooing is given by the sister-in-law of the late Mr. Cope, R.A.

She met a farmer friend, and said to him, "I hear, John, that you're lately married. Who is your wife?"

"Weel, Miss Benning, I doan't quite know."

"How so? Where did you meet with her?"

"Aweel, ye see, miss, I went t' market, and as I was going, I seed a canny lass walking along t' road, and I says, 'Will ye get oop and ride?' 'Ay,' says she. So she gat oop; and I asked her, 'Are ye gangin' to t' market?' 'Ay,' says she. 'What for?' says I. 'To git a placee,' says she.

"So I set her down i' t' market and left her; and as I was comin' back i' t' evening, there was this same lass warking t' saame way oop-hill. So I spak' to her again, and axed her, 'Ha' ye gotten yer placee?' 'Nay,' says she, 'I hanna.' 'Will ye git oop and ride?' 'Ay,' says she. So she got oop; and I axed her, 'D'ye think my placee would suit ye?' 'What placee is that?' says she. 'Why, to be my wife!' says I. 'I doan't mind,' says she.

"So we got wed; and she's a rare good wife, but she's a perfect stranger to me."

LORD KITCHENER OF KHARTOUM

GARDENING FOR THE MONTH.

SUCCESSIONAL sowings may be made of all the principal kitchen crops. The main crop of carrots should be got in about the middle of the month, and there is yet time for a crop of parsnips, but they must be sown without delay. Any time this month will do for putting in kitchen herbs; they will take root more quickly if planted in a rather dry sandy border. The principal sowing of all the hardy annuals should now be finished: the sowing of the half hardy should be completed by the end of the month. Transplant hardy biennials, such as wall-flowers, Brompton stocks, hollyhocks, &c.

GARDENING

FOR THE MONTH.

CONTINUE the sowing of peas: those already up will require sticking. Plant potatoes and sow radishes. Sow mustard and cress. To procure a succession, sow cress once a month, and mustard once a fortnight. Keep a sharp look-out for weeds. Half hardy plants that have been sheltered during the winter may be uncovered about the middle of the month. This is a favourite time for putting in cuttings of double wallflowers, rockets, and other hardy perennials. If heartsease be now propagated in cuttings and placed in a shady border, it will flower in the autumn.

SAN FRANCISCO EARTHQUAKE.

FOREIGN OFFICE, LONDON.

THE stately pile of public buildings which comprises the Foreign, India, Colonial, and Home Offices, with those of the Local Government Board, forms one of the ornaments of the Metropolis. It was designed by Sir Gilbert Scott, in the Italian style, cost half a million of money, and was erected during the five years terminating in 1875. It is seen to great advantage from St. James's Park, much greater than from Whitehall, and it is this point of view which has been chosen by our artist. The inner court, approached from Downing Street and from Charles Street, is effectively set about with statues.

THE DESTRUCTION OF SAN FRANCISCO.

ON the 18th of April, 1906, San Francisco was the scene of the greatest disaster in the history of the United States. Shortly after five o'clock in the morning there was a severe earthquake shock, which practically wrecked the city. The shock was followed by an outbreak of fires in all directions, and as the earthquake played havoc with the water connections, the firemen were almost helpless. The fire was not got under control till the 20th, by which time the flames had spread into the residential districts and consumed many of the city's finest structures. The loss of life was considerable, though far from what it might have been, and the destruction of property was enormous. Between 200,000 and 300,000 persons were rendered homeless. The sympathies of all civilised communities throughout the world were roused by this catastrophe, and generous aid was rendered not only by the United States Government, but by well-wishers in many foreign countries.

ACKNOWLEDGMENT WANTED.

UPON a client complaining to Baron Rothschild that he had lent 10,000 francs to a person who had gone off to Constantinople without leaving any acknowledgment of the debt, the Baron said—

"Well, write to him and tell him to send you the 50,000 francs he owes you."

"But he only owes me 10,000," objected the other.

"Precisely," rejoined the Baron, "and he will write and tell you so, and thus you will get his acknowledgment of it."

THE EVILS OF BETTING.

AS Chaplain of H.M. prison at Clerkenwell the Rev. J. W. Horsley saw a great deal of the evils of betting and the folly of those who through it have been led astray.

"It will probably," he says, "surprise people who do not know the real facts to be told that the most hopeless class of those who are in prison are the men who have been on the turf."

Speaking of the untrustworthiness of sporting prophets, he adds: "I am in the habit of taking the prophecies of these so-called experts and keeping a record of them. I find that the odds are at least seven to one against any of them spotting the winner. To show you how widely these experts differ, I have just compared the selections on one race which appeared in the papers of to-day, and these men—these expert men—have actually between them chosen no fewer than thirteen different horses to win the same race.

"The crop of embezzlements which come from men stealing from their employers to pay losses on the Derby is something extraordinary."

GARDENING FOR THE MONTH.

Sow the last crop of long-pod beans and peas for the season. Turnips are to be sown for succession in the first week of the month, and for a full autumn crop in the third week. Sow mustard and cress. Commence the grafting and budding of roses. Take up the bulbs of tulips, hyacinths, &c., as soon as the leaves grow yellow. Keep them dry in paper bags till the season for planting them comes round again. Some of the quick-flowering annuals may still be sown, and the more tender kinds, which have been reared in a hot-bed, planted out.

THE MARRIAGE OF KING ALPHONSO.

THE MARRIAGE OF KING ALPHONSO.

THE wedding of King Alfonso of Spain and Princess Ena of Battenberg took place on the 31st of May, 1906, in the Church of San Jeronimo in Madrid with all the pomp and circumstance appropriate to so great an event. The streets were gaily decorated and crowded with enthusiastic spectators as the two splendid processions, one the King's, the other the bride's, passed to the church. Unfortunately the occasion was marred by a dastardly attempt, happily unsuccessful, on the life of the King and Queen. On the return of the procession from the Church to the Palace a bomb was thrown at the royal carriage, and though their Majesties escaped, many people were killed and injured.

EASY-GOING JOURNALISM.

VERY good feeling prevails between some Hungarian newspapers and their readers, as witness the following notice, published a few months ago in the local paper of a small town of the Maygars:—

A Christening.—This paper was not published yesterday for the following reason. It is a matter of common knowledge that our editor has become the happy father of a fine boy. On Sunday evening he was christened Julius. On the same evening our dear responsible editor gave an evening party, as the result of which our assistant editor and staff were rendered unfit for duty. This is of course well known to our constant readers, all of whom were present at the memorable ceremony of the christening. In any case, however, we wish to place the matter before our readers, and to ask them to forget the incident.

CHEERING WORDS.

NEVER forget to give a cheering word whenever you can. The late Mr. Moody told a story as follows:—

"I remember when I first went away from home. It was only twelve miles, but I've never been so far since as that seemed to me then. I had left my mother and sisters for the first time in my life, and if I ever needed a kind word or a word of cheer it was then.

"I was walking down the street with my brother, who had gone there a year before, and as we were going along my brother said, pointing out an old gentleman, 'There's a man who will give you a cent; he gives every new boy that comes to the town a cent. He gave me one, and he'll give you one.'

"This was true. He came up to us and he said to my brother, 'This is a new boy, isn't it?'

"'Yes.'

"The old man took off my hat, and put his trembling hand on my head, and said, 'Well, God bless you, my boy; I'm told your father is dead, but you've got a Father in heaven.'

"He gave me a brand-new cent. I don't know what has become of the cent, but I can feel the pressure of the old man's hand upon my head to-day. He gave me what I wanted so much—a kind and cheering word."

Mothers and sisters, do not leave off sowing words of kindness; they will never be lost, but spring up years after bearing golden harvest.

GARDENING FOR THE MONTH.

PEAS and scarlet-runners now require sticking, and potatoes must have the earth drawn round the roots. Plant out broccoli and celery. Propagate medicinal and pot-herbs by slips and cuttings. Continue to take up bulbs as the foliage decays, and place annuals or other plants in the places left vacant. In showery weather thin out annuals; they will supply the plants wanted for filling up. Pipings of pinks and carnations may be struck, and layers may be laid down about the middle of the month. Bud roses. Cut down pelargoniums that have done blooming.

THE PRINCE OF WALES IN INDIA.

THE KING AND QUEEN OF SPAIN.

ALPHONSO XIII, King of Spain, is the son of Alphonso XII and Queen Maria Christina, a daughter of the late Karl Ferdinand, Archduke of Austria. He was born on the 17th of May, 1886, after the death of his father. His early days were spent at Madrid and at the Palace of Micamar, in San Sabastian. He received a liberal education, and is said to speak English very well. The rule in Spain is that the sovereign comes of age at sixteen, and during the minority of His Majesty his mother reigned as Queen Regent. He assumed his full powers on the 17th of May, 1902.

The Queen of Spain will long be remembered by the British public as Princess Ena (Victoria Eugénie) of Battenberg.

THE PRINCE OF WALES IN INDIA.

A HIGHLY successful tour in India was made by the Prince and Princess of Wales in the close of 1905 and the early part of 1906. They left London on the 19th of October, 1905, and landed at Bombay on the 9th of November, being welcomed there by Lord Curzon and the Governor of Bombay. Two days later the Prince laid the foundation-stone of a new museum in Bombay, and on the 15th the foundation-stone of new wet and dry docks. From Bombay the Prince and Princess proceeded to Indore, where they held a Durbar. At Rawal Pindi they witnessed a great military review of 55,000 troops on the 8th of December. They arrived at Calcutta on the 29th of December, and were there officially received by the Viceroy and Lady Minto. The tour came to an end in March, 1906.

HE FELT FOR HIM.

THE late Sir Henry Irving—several years before he received the honour of knighthood—was paying his first visit to a populous Lancashire manufacturing town.

The popular tragedian was attending the morning rehearsal of Hamlet at the theatre, when he heard himself addressed thus:—

"I'm sorry for thee, Mr. Irving."

The tragedian indignantly wheeled round, and was surprised at not finding any person who could thus have addressed him.

The rehearsal proceeded, and shortly afterwards the voice repeated:—

"I'm sorry for thee, Mr. Irving."

At last, and after a search, the actor espied a man in the "flies," evidently one of the handy men of the theatre.

The tragedian assumed his most impressive air, and said:—

"Sir, did you address me?"

"Aye," came the reply, "I say I'm sorry for thee."

"And pray, sir, why am I indebted to you for you sympathy?"

"Well," was the answer, "I'm real sorry for thee." Then, with a very significant shake of the head, "I've played 'Amlet' to those beggars myself!"

A GOOD REASON.

*Love me not for comely grace,
Nor for a pleasing eye or face,
Nor for any outward part:
No, nor for a constant heart;
For these may fail or turn to ill;*

*So thou and I shall sever.
Keep therefor a true woman's eye.
And love me still, but know not why!
So hast thou the same reason still
To doat upon me ever.*

LORD CHARLES BERESFORD.

GARDENING FOR THE MONTH.

Sow lettuce to stand the winter, and cauliflower, and transplant lettuces and every sort of cabbage. Hoe and thin turnips. A few cole-worts may still be planted. Make war on caterpillars. Savoy and cabbages, which are particularly subject to their attacks, should be sprinkled with lime on dewy mornings. Examine bulbs that are out of the ground; they must not be allowed to become damp, for then they would be of little value. Plants, such as fuchsias, which are meant to bloom in the window in autumn, should be prevented from flowering now.

EATON HALL.

EATON HALL.

THE palace of the Duke of Westminster at Eaton, near Chester, is probably the largest and undoubtedly by far the most costly private residence in England. It is one of the nine wonders of the Kingdom.

The present hall is the fourth which has been built upon the site. The gardens and conservatories are planned on a scale commensurate with the Hall.

The great courtyard of the Hall is enclosed by a beautiful specimen of seventeenth-century iron work.

WHAT IS "TOSSING THE CABER" ?

THE most characteristic of all Highland sports is the "tossing of the caber." This may have been practised from the earliest days, when the people of the country were called by the Romans "Caledonians." The name was a corruption of a Gaelic term for "woodmen." "Koile" is a phonetic spelling of the Gaelic for a wood, and "duine" is the Gaelic for men. "Koile-duine" suffers little if any by change into Caledonian.

The sport is the sport of a woodland people. A young pine or other long piece of rough tree length is taken. It is grasped at one end—the lower—by both hands, holding it so that it rests almost upright against the man's shoulder. The man then lifts it and endeavours to throw it forward so that its upper end shall strike the ground, and that the base which he holds shall pitch over and lie farthest from him.

AN EXCITING OCCUPATION.

FELLING chimneys is one of the most exciting occupations in the world. The removal of a chimney one or more hundred feet in height is naturally a very difficult mechanical problem.

To tear it down, beginning at the top, brick by brick, would, of course, be a very expensive operation. A costly scaffolding would have to be erected, a number of men employed, and many weeks or months consumed in the operation. On the other hand, to fell a chimney is a dangerous undertaking, requiring unusual skill and experience. The shaft must be so controlled that it will fall exactly in the direction selected. A mistake in calculation, however slight, would, of course, work considerable havoc.

After considerable experimenting the plan generally adopted is to first remove a section of the base of the chimney, propping it up meanwhile with wooden supports. When all is ready this foundation of wood is set on fire and the watchers retire to a safe distance. The trick is to so arrange the supports that when the crash comes the chimney will fall in the desired direction.

It usually happens that a tall chimney breaks almost exactly in the centre in falling long before it reaches the ground.

GARDENING FOR THE MONTH.

EARTH up celery and plant lettuce in a sheltered border for winter use. This is the best time for forming new beds of horseradish. Plant endive. Lift onions, and place them on a dry border or gravel walk. Keep down weeds, which now grow apace. Dahlias and some hardy annuals are still in flower. Place auriculas under shelter for the winter at the end of the month, but they should still have as much light and air as is consistent with shielding them from frost, &c. Make cuttings of china roses. Plant out pinks in the beds where they are meant to flower.

A WEDDING PARTY OF TO-DAY

THE MARCHIONESS OF GRAHAM.

GARDENING FOR THE MONTH.

Dig up parsnips, carrots, potatoes and beets. Spinach beds should be weeded out, and Augus'-sown lettuces planted out, if not done last month. Fences should now be repaired and drains cleaned, and the garden should be kept as neat as possible. Early in the month put any plants intended for the window early in spring: plant them in dry soil. Prepare beds for tulips, hyacinths, &c. They should be dug to the depth of eighteen inches, and well drained. Take up scarlet lobelias, divide them, and plant them in pots for the winter; they are apt to decay if left out.

THE ERUPTION OF VESUVIUS: PEASANTS FLEEING FROM THE DISTRICT.

THE ERUPTION OF VESUVIUS.

A SERIOUS eruption of Vesuvius took place early in April, 1906, and became intense about the 8th of the month. Great quantities of lava poured forth from the crater and overwhelmed the town of Bosco-Trecase and several villages. The eruption decreased in severity on the 10th. The immense fall of ashes in Naples caused the collapse of the old church of San Giuseppe and of the roof of the market of Monte Oliveto. At the church seventy-nine persons were killed, and at the market fourteen were killed and about a hundred and twenty injured.

THE HOUSES OF PARLIAMENT.

THE architect of the Houses of Parliament at Westminster was Sir Charles Barry, who was one out of ninety-seven competitors. His design speaks for itself; and the only thing to regret is that the stone used for the exterior—magnesian limestone from Anston in Yorkshire—has proved itself so little capable of withstanding exposure to the atmosphere of London. The fabric, probably the largest Gothic building in the world, covers an area of eight acres, has a façade towards the river of 940 feet, contains some 500 apartments, besides residences for the officers of Parliament, and has entailed an expense of about three millions sterling. It was begun in 1840 and completed in 1857, Parliament in the meanwhile sitting in a temporary building run up close by. The most imposing feature of the exterior is the Victoria tower at the S.W. angle, probably the loftiest tower (as distinct from spire) in existence, the height to the top of the vanes being 420 feet. St. Stephen's Tower, better known as the Clock Tower, is 316 feet high.

A REMARKABLE CENSUS RECORD.

THE first official census of the people was taken in 1801, when Mr. Wildsmith Badger was the enumerator for the riverside town of Marlow. During the 100 years that have since elapsed, Mr. Badger or one of his descendants assisted in the enumeration as under:—1801 and 1811 taken by Wildsmith Badger; 1821 and 1831, taken by John Henry Badger; 1841 and 1851, taken by Henry Badger, grandson of Mr. Wildsmith; 1861, 1871, 1881, 1891, and 1901, taken by Henry Wildsmith Badger, great-grandson of the above W. Badger, who left an old book of records, which shows that the population of Marlow in 1801, was 3,236; now it is 5,670. A paragraph in the record of 1801 is interesting and reads—At the same time bread was 3s. 7½d. the ½-peck loaf, and meat from 10d. to 1s. 6d. per lb.

GARDENING
FOR THE MONTH.

FINISH taking up potatoes, carrots, beets, and parsnips. Take up early broccoli, endive, late cauliflower, and lettuces, and lay them in an open shed or in old cucumber or melon pits, which will protect them from frost and afford a supply during winter. Take up dahlia roots carefully, in fine weather, and label them. Let the roots dry gradually, and then lay them in a shallow box; cover them with sand and house them in any dry place where they are free from frost. Plant tulips and hyacinths in beds as early in the month as possible.

THE CORONATION OF THE KING OF NORWAY.

THE CORONATION OF THE KING OF NORWAY.

THE coronation of King Haakon and Queen Maud of Norway took place in the Cathedral of Trondhjem on the 22nd of June, 1906, amid much solemn ceremony, and the event set the seal on a connection which will, it is to be hoped, bring equal happiness and prosperity both to the new sovereign and his consort and to the Norwegian people. Once more a Haakon wears the Norwegian crown, and by his name awakens memories of nearly five hundred years ago, when Norway was a separate realm under a separate king.

The assemblage that crowded the Cathedral at the coronation included the Prince and Princess of Wales—brother and sister-in-law of the Queen—and many other royal visitors. Our illustration shows the Queen proceeding to the altar after the crowning of the King.

The happy coincidence has been pointed out that June 22, the day of King Haakon's coronation, was also the day of his betrothal and marriage to Queen Maud.

NO ADVANTAGE TO BE TALL.

TALL men, as a rule, have bodies out of proportion to their lower limbs—that is smaller than they ought to be—with the natural result that they are unable to bear fatigue or to compete in the struggles of life with lesser men more harmoniously proportioned. Army experience bears out these observations. In a long and fatiguing march the tall men usually fall out first or succumb to campaigning, unless, as is very rarely the case, they have well-knit and symmetrical frames. A soldier between 5 ft. 5 in. and 5 ft. 8 in. or 9 in. is usually the man most capable of bearing the strain of life.

WORSE AND WORSE.

A COUNTRY doctor drove into town to purchase a horse. The dealer, however, failed to persuade him to purchase the animal, and as he returned home the doctor said, "Ah Thomas, that man tried to take me in; but I'm not such a fool as I look, eh?"

"No, sir, replied the groom; "that you're not."

The doctor looked round suspiciously. Thomas felt he had said something not quite right, and touching his hat added, "Beg pardon, sir. I mean you hadn't need to be."

MILLIONS ON THE KERBSTONE.

It sounds like mere romance to say that millions of money change hands on the kerbstone, but it is the soberest fact. Half a million sterling would not be an extravagant bid for the coffee stalls which are open on the streets of London every night. "I should say," one who knows the stalls well said a little time ago, "that the average price at which they change hands is about £180. Only last autumn a stall and its position were sold in the south of London for the enormous sum of six hundred pounds.

HOLIDAY MAXIMS.

Resolve that you are going to have a good time.

Do not worry about anything.

Cultivate simplicity in every way.

GARDENING FOR THE MONTH.

MAKE plantations of rhubarb, seakale, asparagus and horse-radish. Sow early peas and beans on dry warm slopes. A delicate salad may be obtained in five or six weeks by packing roots of dandelion in leaf-mould and putting them into gentle heat. The work to be executed in the flower garden is much the same as last month. Tea-roses that are in exposed situations should be taken up and placed safely out of the reach of frost. Any fuchsias that are to remain out all the winter, should be cut down and have the roots covered with litter or coal-ashes.

A Combination of Literary and Artistic Excellence.

CASSELL'S MAGAZINE.

The continual and increasing demand for this widely popular monthly is a proof of its all-round excellence. In the brilliance of its articles and in the beauty of its illustrations, in printing and in paper, it is unexcelled by any existing magazine. From cover to cover the contents are such as to satisfy the most exacting reader.

"'WHY DID YOU KILL THE MAN?' SHE ASKED."
(Reduced Illustration from CASSELL'S MAGAZINE.)

The December Part forms the Double Christmas Number, price 1s., with exquisite Rembrandt Presentation Plate. The issue consists of no fewer than 160 pages, and includes the opening chapters of a striking New Serial by A. W. MARCHMONT, entitled "The Man who was Dead." It is crowded with topical reading and bright illustrations of the most entertaining and absorbing character, and includes Eight Humorous Pictures in Colours.

Monthly, 6d.

CASSELL & COMPANY, LIMITED; and all Booksellers.

A Magazine that should be in Every Home.

THE QUIVER.

Pleasant Sundays and brighter week days are assured to all who read THE QUIVER. It is the oldest, yet most up-to-date among religious monthlies, and more than maintains its position as the premier magazine for Sunday and General Reading. Its brilliant Articles are thoughtful and entertaining, and the very best work of the leading artists appears within its covers.

(Reduced Illustration from THE QUIVER.)

A new volume commences with the December Part, which forms the Christmas Double Number, price 1s. This splendid issue consists of 160 pages, with Two Plates and Rembrandt Presentation Plate. The same Part also contains the opening chapters of a New Serial Story entitled "Mary Gray," by KATHARINE TYNAN.

Monthly, 6d.

CASELL & COMPANY, LIMITED, London; and all Booksellers.

The Most Popular Weekly Journal.

All of us, when business is over and the day's work done, need relaxation—something to while away leisure moments pleasantly and profitably. One of the best forms of recreation is to be found in reading, and the best and cheapest form of literature is unquestionably provided by the most entertaining of all weekly periodicals — CASSELL'S SATURDAY JOURNAL. Every member of the family can find within its pages something to suit his or her particular taste.

Each weekly number contains a Chat with or about a Celebrity, with portrait, of great interest to all who delight in keeping in touch with men and things; many and varied Articles which not only entertain, but at the same time impart useful information invaluable to the reader; and numerous amusing Anecdotes and humorous Pictures. Wives and sisters are catered for in "Matters Feminine."

The contributors of serial and complete stories include such popular authors as MARIE CONNOR LEIGHTON, HEADON HILL, GEORGE R. SIMS, HALLIWELL SUTCLIFFE, Mrs. C. N. WILLIAMSON, WILLIAM LE QUEUX, and others.

Prize schemes are a special feature, and valuable awards are being continually made to readers in simple and engrossing competitions.

Every copy of CASSELL'S SATURDAY JOURNAL contains a Free Insurance Coupon for £1,000 in case of death by Train, Steamboat, Omnibus (including Motor Bus), Tramcar, Motor Car, or Cab, and £50 in case of death through a Cycling Accident. No traveller or cyclist should be without it.

CASSELL'S SATURDAY JOURNAL is published Weekly, 1d., and Monthly, 6d.

On Sale at all Newsagents and the Railway Bookstalls.

CIRCUMSTANCES ALTER CASES.

HE: "It's a goodish walk to the links, and I believe you don't care much for walking." SHE: "I don't for walking's sake; but I shall enjoy it now, as I am going with an object."—(Reduced Illustration from CASSELL'S SATURDAY JOURNAL.)

The Ideal Magazine for Young People.

LITTLE FOLKS.

The bright and attractive features of this world-known magazine are a source of endless pleasure and entertainment to all children.

A new volume commences with the December Part, forming the Christmas Double Number, price 1s., with which is presented a handsome Coloured Plate. This remarkable issue consists of 160 pages, 32 of which are printed in colour, with coloured frontispiece. There is also a complete Play, a Christmas Carol, and many other interesting items.

HARD PRESSED.

(Reduced Illustration by John Hassell, from LITTLE FOLKS.)

LITTLE FOLKS is unexcelled for the quality of its stories and illustrations, and in the new volume such favourite writers for children as MRS. MOLESWORTH, E. S. ELLIS, MRS. MEADE, EVELYN SHARPE, HAROLD AVERY, and others contribute delightful serials and tales.

Among the artists whose charming pictures adorn its pages are JOHN HASSELL, HARRY ROUNTREE, HARRY B. NEILSON, CHARLES PEARS, and many other leading painters.

LITTLE FOLKS Christmas Volume is unsurpassed as a Gift Book, and is published in picture boards at 3s. 6d., or in cloth gilt, 5s.

Monthly, 6d.

A Home Magazine in Every Sense.

THE PENNY MAGAZINE.

This famous periodical is essentially a home magazine. It is the ideal periodical for odd moments—to be picked up and laid down when needful, but always to be found a source of pleasurable enjoyment. Splendid fiction is provided in the Serial and Short Stories, which makes the magazine an excellent companion for holiday reading.

"The chauffeur . . . lost control of the car while descending a rather precipitous incline, with the result that the motor skidded and crashed over the side."

(Reduced Illustration from THE PENNY MAGAZINE.)

THE PENNY MAGAZINE runs with the times, and by its topical articles keeps the reader in touch with things of passing moment. The many amusing tales and jokes add that element of humour without which no journal of this kind is complete. A special feature are the numerous illustrations reproduced from photographs, and the original drawings by prominent artists.

Take home a copy to-day. It will delight the whole family circle.

GRIFFITH JOHN:

THE STORY OF FIFTY YEARS IN CHINA.

By the Rev. R. WARDLAW THOMPSON (Foreign Secretary of the London Missionary Society). With two photogravure portraits of Dr. Griffith John, and sixteen other full-page illustrations.

The life of Dr. Griffith John is one of the most striking in the whole range of modern missionary biography. His early powers marked him out as a preacher of extraordinary promise; but his heart was in the mission field, and he offered himself to the L.M.S. He was sent to China, and there has spent fifty fruitful years. The story of his boyhood, his early evangelistic work, his pioneer journeys in China, and all the toils, anxieties, and triumphs packed into half-a-century of missionary experience, is of absorbing interest. Dr. John himself writes the history of his earlier days; and the narrative is continued by Mr. Wardlaw Thompson, whose intimate acquaintance of Dr. John and of the missionary problems of China further vouches for the authoritative character of the work.
