INTRODUCTION.

THE BON-ACCORD DIRECTORY, for 1841-2, is offered to the public as a great improvement upon its predecessor, inasmuch as—

First, The List of Names and Designations has been extended, and rendered scrupulously accurate in detail. This department of the work being of such a complicated and difficult character, it can hardly be expected to be absolutely correct; but it is confidently hoped that any errors that may be discovered will be of a very trivial description.

Second, The Mercantile Tables and Local Lists have been constructed so as to suit the convenience of both the Counting-house and the Domestic Establishment. The section which comprises the Postage Rates presents, perhaps, the most comprehensive and valuable epitome of Postage Duties and Regulations that can possibly be compiled. The information given under this head is drawn from the most authentic sources; and the calculations upon which the Tables are based, may be depended upon as extremely accurate. From these Tables, it may be ascertained at once what the Postage of a letter is from the Post-office of Aberdeen to any part of the world.

Third, The work is accompanied by a Map of the County, a Front View of the new Public Schools Building, and a Perspective Drawing of the new Market Street. The Map of the County is engraved on steel, by Lizars, and corrected down to the present year. The views are drawn with great care, and lithographed in the highest style of the art.

Generally, The publication partakes more of the character of an Almanac than its predecessor; and for most practical purposes, it may be said to be an Almanac and a Directory combined.

In these circumstances, it is hoped that THE BON-ACCORD DIRECTORY, will be considered worthy of the confidence and encouragement of the Citizens of Aberdeen.

MUNICIPAL WARDS OF THE CITY.

Under the Burgh Reform Act, the Magistrates and Councillors are elected by the parliamentary electors within the burgh, which is, for the convenience of polling, divided into three Wards, each of which sends six representatives to the Town Council. Of these two retire every year, when their places are, of course, supplied by a new election.

FIRST WARD.—To consist of that portion of the royalty which is included within the following boundary, viz. :—Beginning on the seashore, at the point where the north boundary of the royalty touches the shore, and following the said north boundary westward, till it touches the turnpike road leading from Inverury to Aberdeen; southward, along that road and the Gallowgate to Broad street, and along Broad street to Union street; along Union street; along Union street to Castle street and Justice street, eastward to Park lane, along Park lane and the road or street leading along the foot of the Castlehill to James street; along James street, and continuing in a line due south from the termination of the same to the Dee; eastward, along the Dee to the mouth of that river, and thence northward along the seashore to the point where the north boundary of the royalty touches the shore.—Polling-place, in the Court-house.

SECOND WARD.—To consist of that portion of the royalty which is included within the following boundary, viz. :—Beginning at the centre of Union street, opposite the Back wynd, and keeping along the Back wynd to Schoolhill; westward, along Schoolhill and Woolmanhill to the point where the Millburn crosses Spa street, near the Steps of Gilcomston; from that point northward by the boundary of the royalty, and following the said boundary eastward, till it meets the north-west point of the boundary of the First Ward; then southward by the Inverury road and Gallowgate to Broad street, and along Broad street to Union street; along Castle street and Justice street eastward to Park lane; along Park lane and the road or street leading along the foot of Castlehill to Justice street, and continued in a line due south from the termination of the same to the Dee; thence up the river to where the same is intersected by a line drawn south in continuation of the Shorebrae; thence up the said line, Shorebrae, and Shiprow, to Union street, and along Union street westward to the point opposite the Back wynd, where the description of the Ward began.—Polling-place, Cruickshank's Hall, Schoolhill.

THIRD WARD.—To consist of that portion of the royalty which is included within the following boundary, viz. :—Beginning at the point where the Millburn crosses Spa street, near the Steps of Gilcomston; thence along Woolmanhill and Schoolhill to a point opposite the north end of Back wynd; along Back wynd southward to Union street; along Union street eastward to opposite the head of Shiprow, down Shiprow and Shorebrae, and in prolongation of the termination of the latter to the intersection with the river Dee; thence up the river Dee to the mouth of the burn of Ferryhill, and from the mouth of the burn of Ferryhill, following the boundary of the royalty, to the point on the Millburn, near the Steps of Gilcomston, where the description of the Ward began.—Polling-place, at the Water Reservoir, Union Place.

WARD FIRST.—Comprehending North, Greyfriars, and St. Clement's Parishes, and a small part of Old Machar, at Causewayend.

WARD SECOND.—Comprehending East and West Parishes, and a small part of Old Machar, at Causewayend.

WARD THIRD.—Comprehending South Parish, and that part of Old Machar within the Ward.

At what time the Crafts of Aberdeen formed themselves, or were formed, into a joint Society is not known. About 1632, Dr. Guild, afterwards Principal of King's College, whose memory is greatly and justly cherished by the trades as their patron, founded an hospital for poor and needy artificers, in the monastery belonging formerly to the Holy Trinity monks; and by a charter, dated 6th June, 1633, confirmed by Charles I. the 24th of same month, he gave to the crafts, for the use and benefit of the hospital, the monastery, church, and churchyard. By various other donations and bequests, by purchases of ground, and increase in its value, from its vicinity to the town, &c. the hospital funds have been vastly augmented; and last year (1840) £950 was distributed to 130 annuitants belonging to the different trades.

In 1771, a Widows' Fund was instituted, the stock of which, arising from small payments by entrants, and one bequest of a £1000 lately from Dr. Martin of London, whose father was a member of the bakers' incorporation, now yields a handsome revenue, which is distributed among the widows. In 1816, the Supplementary Widows' Fund was instituted by Convener John Leslie. It was opened in 1828, during the founder's lifetime, by whom the funds were distributed to the annuitants till his death in 1837; and the capital now amounts to about £2400.

Besides these, each Corporation possesses funds of its own, devoted to charitable and other purposes. These funds and the other affairs of the trade are managed by their own office-bearers, consisting of a Deacon and a Boxmaster, elected annually by the respective trades; and in general the funds are ample—the property belonging to them, lying in the vicinity of the town, being annually increasing in value.

POLICE ESTABLISHMENT.

By the Act 10th, Geo. IV. (1829), "for better paving, cleansing, lighting, watching, and improving the streets, lanes, and other public places and passages within the city of Aberdeen, and certain grounds adjacent; for regulating the police thereof, and for supplying the inhabitants with water," the city and suburbs are divided into nine Wards, each of which returns two Commissioners, who, with four ex officio commissioners, are intrusted with the power of carrying the Act into effect. The qualification of electors is the occupation of premises, within the respective Wards, assessed under the Act, and valued at not less than £5 of yearly rent; and the Commissioners are chosen from electors occupying premises in the Ward, assessed under the Act, of the yearly value of not less than £15, and being likewise resident in the Ward. The election takes place on the second Thursday of October biennially. The next election is in 1841.

HARBOUR.

The present Harbour Act is 10th Geo. IV. c. 24, and was passed 14th May, 1829. It takes the exclusive management out of the hands of the corporation, adding five Burgesses of Guild and one member of the Incorporated Trades, elected biennially by ballot, and limits the period of completing the work to twelve years after its passing.

Trustees' Qualifications.—1. Burgesses of Guild who stand rated in the Tax-roll of the city, upon trade or business, to the extent of £3000 annually, or are owners of 150 tons of shipping belonging to the port. 2. Members of the Incorporated Trades who stand rated in said Tax-roll, upon trade or business, to the extent of £1500, or are owners of 75 tons of shipping belonging to the port.

Electors' Qualifications.—1. Burgesses of Guild who stand rated in the Tax-roll of the city to the extent of £500, or are owners of 30 tons of shipping belonging to the port. 2. Members of the Incorporated Trades who stand rated in said Tax-roll to the extent of £400, or are owners of 25 tons of shipping belonging to the port.

Copartnerships.—The same rules apply to companies carrying on business either as Burgesses of Guild or members of the Incorporated Trades, one partner in every such company being qualified as a Trustee or an Elector, as the case may be, for every sum sufficient to confer the qualification on an individual, for which the company may stand rated in the Tax-roll.

HERRING FISHERY.

Various important privileges are granted to Herring Curers and Fishers, by the Magistrates and Harbour Trustees, for the encouragement of this fishery ; which will be communicated, and every information afforded, on application to the Town-Clerk, or to Mr. Riddel, Harbour Office, Quay. In general, we may state that salt for euring the herrings is imported free of dues ; the herrings, when cured, are also exempted from dues when shipped ; and ground is given, free, for drying the fishermen's nets.

SECTION III.—LEGAL DEPARTMENT.

COURTS OF LAW.

CIRCUIT COURT OF JUSTICIARY.

The Circuit Court of Justiciary, for the counties of Aberdeen Banff, and Kincardine, meets at Aberdeen twice a year, in the months of April and September, for the trial of criminal cases, by one or two of the Lords. Appeals, in certain civil cases, from the inferior courts, are also heard by this court.

SHERIFF COURT.

The Sheriff is Judge Ordinary of his Sheriffdom or Shire, and, accordingly, judges at present in all actions and causes, not specially, by law or usage, appropriated to other courts. Thus, all personal causes, actions of debt, of whatever amount, possessory actions, claims for alimant by paupers, and such like, belong to his court. Processes of cessio and admiralty causes are, by late Acts, made competent in this court.

The Sheriff's criminal jurisdiction formerly embraced even capital punishments, but it is now much limited. He holds a criminal court at least twice a year, in April and September.

The Sheriff also exercises certain ministerial duties. He receives the royal revenues—returns the assize or jury to the Justiciary Court—presides at the election, and returns to Chancery the names of the persons elected to serve in Parliament for the city and county—strikes the fiars of all grain, &c. within the county, &c.

Andrew Murray of Murrayshall, advocate, Sheriff

William Watson, W. S.,

William Gordon, advocate, } Sheriff-substitutes

James Skelton, W. S., Sheriff substitute at Peterhead

James Gordon of Craig, advocate, Sheriff clerk

Francis Gordon, advocate, }

John Dunn, advocate, } Clerks-depute

George Leslie,

James Reid, Clerk-depute at Peterhead

William Simpson, advocate, Procurator Fiscal

John D. Milne and A. Henderson, advocates, Assistants

William Gordon and Alex. Mitchell, advocates, Auditors

Robert Shaw, Bar Officer

The Court days are Wednesdays and Fridays, at Ten o'clock, A.M., during the sessions, which extend from the first Court day (Wednesday or Friday) after 15th May, to the last Court day in July, and from the first after 15th October to 4th April inclusive.

COMMISSARY COURT.

The Commissary Court came in place of the Bishops or Consistorial Court, which formerly exercised extensive jurisdiction. It claimed jurisdiction in all ecclesiastical matters, which its judges extended very widely. Thus, actions of divorce, adultery, bastardy, tithes, patronage, scandal, breach of vows, confirming the testament of persons deceased, &c. came to be appropriated to this Court. By 4 Geo. IV. c. 97, the Sheriff is appointed Commissary, and the Commissariat and the Sheriffdom are made co-extensive. Actions of declarator of marriage, divorce, &c. are transferred to the Court of Session, and the chief business of the Commissariat is now to confirm testaments, &c.

Andrew Murray of Murrayshall, Commissary

Wm. Watson and Wm. Gordon, Commissary-Deputes

Alexander Gordon, advocate, Commissary-Clerk

John Grant Leslie, Commissary Clerk-Depute

William Simpson, Procurator-Fiscal

John D. Milne and Alex. Henderson, Assistants

SHERIFF SMALL-DEBT AND CIRCUIT COURT.

The Small-debt Court was formerly stationary like the Ordinary Court, but by the Act of Parliament 1 Victoria, cap. 41, Circuit Courts, for the trial of Small-debt cases (actions for sums under £8 6s 8d), are established in addition to the ordinary Small-debt Court; and the Sheriff is ordained to divide the county into districts, and hold a certain number of Courts in each annually.

Appeals against the Sheriff's judgments in these Courts are not competent, unless on the ground of corruption, malice, or oppression on the part of the Judge; and the decrees may be immediately put in execution by arrestment or pouding; imprisonment for small debts being abolished. Written proceedings, or the assistance of professional men are not allowed, unless with leave of the Court.

The Ordinary Small-debt Court at Aberdeen is held on Thursday, at Ten o'clock, A.M., weekly, during sessions of the Court, and once or twice during vacation.—George Leslie, Clerk.

The Circuit Small-debt Courts are held at Tarland, Inverury, Huntly, Turriff, and Old Deer, once every three months; and at Peterhead once every two months.

John Skeen, Tarland		James Nicol, Turriff
Robert Dawson, Inverury		James Watt, Old Deer
William Murdoch, Huntly		James Reid, Peterhead

Are the persons who will respectively issue summonses, &c. to be brought in these Courts; and George Leslie is the Clerk who will officiate at these Courts.

It is optional to creditors to cite their debtors either to the district court of their domicile, or to the head court at Aberdeen.

BURGH OR BAILLIE COURT.

The jurisdiction of the Magistrates (Provost and Baillies, though it is a Baillie that usually sits in Court) is equal to that of the Sheriff within their territory—the royalty of the Burgh—but it is not exclusive of the Sheriff's authority, except, perhaps, in questions strictly belonging to the police of the burgh, which more properly pertain to the Magistrates.

Thomas Blaikie, Provost.

Baillie Patrick Simpson		Baillie Lewis Crombie
„ James Forbes		„ Leslie Clark

Town-Clerk, Clerk.—James Simpson, Legal Assessor.—A. & J. Cadenhead, Procurators Fiscal.—Town-serjeants, Officers of Court.

The Court day is Saturday, at Eleven o'clock, A.M., during the same sessions as the Sheriff Court.

JUSTICE OF PEACE COURT.

The office of Justice of the Peace was introduced into Scotland in 1609. As signified by their name, the Justices judge in riots and breaches of the peace—they enforce the laws against beggars and vagrants—the game laws—and, with the Commissioners of Supply, they regulate the highways, bridges, and ferries. The execution of various penal statutes, revenues, laws, and others, is also committed to them. The quarter-sessions are held on the first Tuesday of the months of March, May, August, and last Tuesday of October. Special sessions are occasionally held.

Francis Gordon, Clerk.—George Leslie, Depute.

John D. Milne, Procurator-Fiscal.

JUSTICES OF PEACE SMALL-DEBT COURT.

For the trial of small-debt causes, under £5, by 6, Geo. IV. c. 48.

Any two Justices of Peace, Judges.—Francis Gordon, Clerk.

George Leslie and John Dunn, Clerks-Depute.

The Aberdeen District Court sits every fortnight, on Monday, at Eleven o'clock, A.M.

POLICE COURT.

This is a Criminal Court, constituted under the Aberdeen Police Act (14th May, 1829), for the trial of offences against the Act, breaches of the peace, theft under the value of £10, reset, fraud, &c. &c. It sits daily in the Old or Baillie Court-house, at Eleven o'clock, A.M.

The Sitting Magistrate, Judge.

A. & J. Cadenhead, Procurators-Fiscal.—Town-Clerk, Clerk.

* * All the Courts, except the Baillie and Police Courts, meet in the New Court-house, Castle Street. The Sheriff, Commissary, Justice of Peace, and Small-debt Clerks' Offices are in the Record Hall, 27, King Street. Hours of attendance from Ten o'clock, A.M., to Three, P.M., and from Six to Eight, P.M.

SOCIETY OF ADVOCATES.

The members of this Society are the practitioners before the Sheriff, Commissary, and City Courts of Aberdeen. It is probable the practitioners formed a distinct body from the very establishment of the Courts, but it is not till 1693 that we find authentic mention made of their admission as procurators by the judge. On 2d October of that year, the Sheriff called before him sixteen individuals, "the ordinar advocats and procurators of this judicatorie," and "understanding of their abilities, honestie, and judgment," admitted them procurators before his court, and discharged every person not duly admitted by him from practising therein. In 1685, at the instigation of Lord Whitehill, then Commissary Scougal, they formed themselves into a Society for affording pecuniary relief to decayed members, widows, &c., and enacted rules and regulations for their government, which were sanctioned by the Sheriff. In 1774, a royal charter was obtained, incorporating the Society, and confirming the former rights and privileges of the members. In 1799, they procured to themselves a more extensive charter, under the title of The President and Society of Advocates in Aberdeen. They alone, of the procurators before the inferior courts in Scotland, are styled "Advocate," a designation given them from time immemorial—by what authority is not known. The Society flourishes. It possesses a moderately good library; and a large building, containing a hall, committee rooms, and every other accommodation, was built in 1837. The present entry-money is £120, with £5 5s to the library. The number of members is one hundred and forty, of which twenty-four do not reside in Aberdeen.

and so on in proportion. Pre-payment optional.

Postage stamps are sold at the Post-office, and the Stamp-office.

Price—Labels, 1d. and 2d. each
 „ Covers, 1 $\frac{1}{4}$ d. and 2 $\frac{1}{4}$ d. each

Letters bearing stamps in value equal to the amount of postage chargeable according to the first or “pre-paid” column of the above scale, will be delivered free in any part of the United Kingdom. In cases, however, where stamps of a less value than the rate exigible have been used, the letter is chargeable on delivery with double the amount of such difference. For instance, a letter posted exceeding half an ounce and under one ounce, upon which a penny label has been put, will, on delivery, be charged twopence, being double the difference betwixt the label used and the proper one for the weight of the letter, which ought to have been adopted—the public being, in this case, mulcted one penny extra.

Stamps may be used for printed votes, Parliamentary proceedings, and on Foreign, Colonial, and ship letters proceeding outwards; but their use is prohibited from the Colonies or Foreign ports.

Letters for Foreign countries, and places beyond seas, having an insufficient number of stamps, will not be forwarded, but sent to the Dead-Letter Office to be returned to the writer. And the same principle is applied to letters for Foreign countries, prepayment of which is required, when left at any Post-office with less than the full amount of such postage.

Members of each House of Parliament are allowed to receive, by the post, petitions and addresses to her Majesty, and petitions addressed to either House of Parliament, not exceeding thirty-two ounces in weight, exempt from postage, provided such petitions and addresses be sent without covers, or in covers open at the sides. Should they exceed that weight, they will not require to be pre-paid, but are charged according to their weight, as unpaid letters, with double the rates of postage to which, if pre-paid, they would be subject.

SHIP LETTERS.

Letters conveyed by private ship to places beyond seas are liable to a rate of,

Under $\frac{1}{2}$ oz.	0s 8d
Above $\frac{1}{2}$ oz. and under 1 oz.	1s 4d
Above 1 oz. and under 2 oz.	2s 8d

and so on in proportion.

Letters to France may be posted unpaid, leaving both British and French rates of postage to be paid by the receiver; or the British rate may be paid to Calais; or both rates, British and French, to destination.

The British rate to Calais is calculated—

Not exceeding $\frac{1}{4}$ oz.	0s 10d
$\frac{1}{2}$ oz and under 1 oz.	1s 8d
1 oz and under 2 oz.	3s 4d
2 oz and under 3 oz.	5s 0d

and so on at the uniform rate of 1s. 8d. for each additional ounce. And the French rates, varying according to the subjoined list, are calculated on the following principle, viz. :—

Under $\frac{1}{4}$ oz.	1 rate
$\frac{1}{4}$ oz and under $\frac{1}{2}$ oz.	2 "
$\frac{1}{2}$ oz and under $\frac{3}{4}$ oz.	3 "
$\frac{3}{4}$ oz and under 1 oz.	4 "
1 oz	5 "

and an additional rate for each $\frac{1}{4}$ oz. in weight This principle is acted upon in charging letters forwarded "via Marseilles," whether addressed by French packet or monthly closed mail.

EXAMPLE—The British rate for a letter under $\frac{1}{4}$ oz to Calais is 10d, and the French rate from Calais to Paris (as will be seen on reference to the list of French post towns) is also 10d., hence,

REGISTRATION OF LETTERS.

Since January last, a system of registration has been in operation applicable to all descriptions of letters.

Letters intended for registration must either be stamped or pre-paid, and presented at the Post-office at least 30 minutes before the closing of the letter-box for the particular mail by which it is to be despatched.

The British registration fee is 1s., and must always be paid in money, and at the time of registration.

In the case of Foreign, Colonial, or Ship letters, registration extends to the port of despatch in the United Kingdom only.

Registration fee on such letters, 1s., and, in addition, the rate of postage to which they may be liable.

Letters addressed to France may be registered to their destination; and those passing through France, so long as they may remain in the French territory—the former on payment of double the French rate to place of destination, in addition to the British rate and British registration fee, and the latter on payment of the usual postage rate, and 1s. registration fee. It must be observed, however, that such registration does not render the Postmaster-General or the Post-office revenue in any manner liable for the loss of any such letter or contents thereof.

NEWSPAPERS

Sent in covers, open at the sides, and which have no writing or marks of reference or communication upon them or on the covers, other than the address of the persons to whom sent, circulate throughout the United Kingdom free of postage. And, provided they be posted within seven days from the date of publication, they are sent to, and received from, the undermentioned British Colonies and Foreign places without charge:—

SECT. V.—COMMERCIAL ESTABLISHMENTS.

BANKS.

A Bank was first established at Aberdeen, about the year 1752, on a small scale, in an office on the south side of Castle Street. This establishment, however, did not thrive, and it was soon given up; but, not long after, the Thistle Bank of Glasgow opened an agency here, and its notes speedily got so wide a circulation, that specie was almost banished the place. In the course of 1766, a number of the gentlemen of the town and county formed themselves into a copartnership, for the purpose of establishing a native Banking Company, under the title of "The Banking Company in Aberdeen," and a capital stock of £72,000 was subscribed for, in shares of £500. On the 1st January, 1767, the Bank was opened for business. This Company is still in existence, and is one of the most flourishing and stable companies in Scotland. Its original paid up capital of £150 per share now sells for upwards of £3000. Two other native Banks (viz. the Town and County and the North of Scotland, both flourishing establishments), and four branches of Edinburgh Banks, now divide the business of the city with the Aberdeen Bank.

BILLETING OF SOLDIERS.

William Mackie, Queen Street, Billet-master.

Previous to 1837, the billeting of soldiers was extended to only six classes of the inhabitants, viz. bakers, brewers, butchers, gardeners, mealsellers, and spirit-dealers; but the Council, after corresponding with the public authorities in Edinburgh, Glasgow, Dundee, and other towns, procuring various returns from the billet masters, and examining the Acts of Parliament and the decisions of the supreme courts upon the subject, extended the billeting, by Act of Council, of date 27th March, 1837, over the whole inhabitants generally within the city, freedom, and liberties, who are rated in the Police books at £5 and upwards, with the exception of ministers, professors, schoolmasters, widows, and unmarried ladies not in business on their own account, and paupers; and the billeting in the city and suburbs proceeds in terms of the said Act of Council. The billeting is levied in the order of the Wards, and the whole city must be gone over in this way before those billeted on in the First Ward have to pay a second time. It frequently happens, however, that the same person may be billeted on twice before the whole of the Wards are exhausted, for there does not appear to be any provision made for exempting a person who has paid a billet in the First Ward in May, from paying another should he remove to the Second Ward in June.

LIFE DEPARTMENT.

The Tables are varied and extensive, and suitable for all classes, the rates being amongst the most moderate hitherto offered to the public.

The ANNUAL REVENUE from LIFE PREMIUMS already exceeds EIGHT THOUSAND POUNDS, and is rapidly increasing. This fact sufficiently attests the confidence placed by the public in the Company.

ADVANTAGES OF THE INSTITUTION.

1. Premiums may be made payable, in any way, to suit the convenience of the assured.

2. Parties may assure a fixed sum, and may participate in the profits, to a greater extent than has hitherto been allowed by any other Office.

3. The sum assured may be made payable to the party at ANY AGE FIXED UPON, or to his Heirs or Executors, if he should die previously.

4. ONE-HALF OF PREMIUM MAY REMAIN UNPAID FOR FIVE YEARS from the date of the Policy; to be deducted, with interest, from the amount assured, at death, or paid off at convenience.

5. Claims are paid within three months after satisfactory proof of death.

6. No charge is made for entrance money; and

7. Loans are made on Policies, on favourable terms.

CREDITORS who wish to secure themselves against the loss which the death of their Debtors may occasion them—HOLDERS OF LEASES dependent upon Lives—EXPECTANTS of Property in Reversion, but burdened by some contingency of Life—PURCHASERS of Annuities, Heirs of Entail, and all who require to be assured in fixed sums, will find the Premiums at which this Company underwrites the risk of death to be exceedingly moderate, while the security afforded to the assured is beyond the possibility of doubt.

Premiums must be paid yearly, quarterly, in one sum, or in a limited number of payments.

The sum assured may be made payable AT ANY AGE FIXED UPON, or to the heirs of the assured, should he predecease that age. ONE-HALF OF THE PREMIUMS MAY REMAIN UNPAID FOR FIVE YEARS, to be deducted, with interest, from the sum assured when it becomes due. Insurances are effected upon the Lives of NAVAL and MILITARY MEN, or upon those of other parties intending to reside abroad, at premiums proportioned to the extra risk.

IMMEDIATE and DEFERRED ANNUITIES are granted, and every species of business engaged in appertaining to Life Assurance.

Forms of proposals, and every information given at the Agencies of the Company in Great Britain and Ireland.

THE Rates charged by this Society, for Assurances, without participation in Profits, will bear a comparison with those of other Offices of equal respectability and resources. Some of these Rates are peculiarly favourable. An example (Table No. V.) may be selected, the sum Assured being £100 :—

| Age. | Annual
Premium. | Age. | Annual
Premium. | Age. | Annual
Premium. |
|------|--------------------|------|--------------------|------|--------------------|
| 51 | £4 2 1 | 53 | £4 8 8 | 55 | £4 17 3 |
| 52 | 4 5 2 | 54 | 4 12 8 | 56 | 5 2 4 |

In the Participation branch of its business, this Society has been very successful; the strongest evidence of which will be found in the fact that, at the last Septennial Division of Profits, declared up to 31st December, 1838, the average additions made to the Policies entitled to participate, amounted to ABOUT 43 PER CENT., OR NEARLY ONE-HALF OF THE WHOLE PREMIUMS PAID. Similar benefits may be anticipated at next Septennial Division of Profits, on 31st December, 1845.

The attention of the public is particularly requested to a new principle of Life Assurance, by which important advantages may be secured. This principle is that of assuring the payment of a specific sum, to the Insured himself, at any age, the sum insured being payable to the party's Representatives, should he die before attaining that age.

To persons possessing an income derivable solely, or in great part, from mercantile, professional, or official employment, from the labour of which they naturally contemplate to be relieved during their declining years, this mode of Assurance is specially adapted. Parents may thus be enabled to make positive pecuniary arrangements for settling their Children in life, on the attainment of any given age; and Creditors, requiring this species of security from their Debtors, may calculate to a certainty on the day of payment.

The Society ADVANCES MONEY, on approved Personal or Heritable Security, combined with a Life Assurance; and on redeemable Annuity, on the security of Entailed Estates. The rate of Interest charged on ordinary loans is Five per cent., and when the security continues unexceptionable, the principal may be allowed to lie undisturbed for years.

The Society's Tables, and every information regarding Life Assurance, may be obtained on application to

LIFE DEPARTMENT.

TWO Forms of Constitution have, in general, been adopted in the formation of Life Assurance Companies. By the one, a Capital is subscribed by a body of Shareholders, who bear all the risk of loss that may arise, and divide all the profits. By the other, business is commenced without a Capital, the assurers mutually assuring one another, and bearing all the losses, or dividing all the profits which may arise in the progress of the undertaking. The objection made to the former class of companies is, that the assured do not participate in the profits, however large they may become. The objection to the latter class is that, as no subscribed and permanent capital exists; and as SECURITY is obviously the first object with the Public, in a contract which may remain in force for half a century, the safety of the assured is not sufficiently provided for.

The Constitution of this Company has been framed so as to neutralize both these objections. While the large capital invested secures to the assured the ultimate payment of his Policy, the periodical divisions of the profits impart to his assurance an increased value, continually enlarging with the growing prosperity of the Institution.

This being the Constitution chosen by the Board, as that which affords the most solid and satisfactory basis to the Company, they have directed their anxious attention to the minor arrangements, with the view of affording every possible facility to the public in transacting business with the Office.

In furtherance of this object, they have directed—

- I. That assurances shall be undertaken for one year, seven years, the whole term of life, or any intermediate period that may suit the views of the assured; that the Premium may be received by annual payments, to be made to the termination of the risk—by one single payment at the commencement of the assurance—or, by annual payments to be made for five, ten, fifteen, or twenty years, or any other period, as the assured may determine; the payments in the last case absolutely to cease at the expiration of such period as may be chosen; while the assured shall continue to participate in the profits, and fully to enjoy all the other advantages presented by the Company, up to the time, however distant, at which the assurance may terminate.

II. They have directed the profits accruing to the Policy-holders to be declared at the expiration of every successive period of five years; and these are to be applied either to increase the sum assured under the Policy, or to diminish the future Premiums, as shall be most agreeable to the assured; so that the individual opening a Policy with the Company possesses the assurance either that the sum assured will gradually increase, he continuing to pay the same Premium, or that the Premium which he at first pays will undergo periodical diminutions, while the sum originally assured remains untouched.

III. Persons whose lives it is proposed to assure may appear any day of the week, except Sunday, at the Company's Office, No. 1, Bartholomew Lane, or at the offices of the various Agents of the Company throughout the country.

IV. The lives of Naval and Military OFFICERS, not engaged in actual service, are accepted on peculiarly favourable terms, no extra premium being charged. The lives of FEMALES IN A STATE OF PREGNANCY are also accepted at the common premium, an additional premium being imposed only for the first year's assurance. The ordinary cases of GOUT, HERNIA, and several other diseases, may be covered under a small extra charge commensurate with the increased risk. Persons residing ABROAD, in any part of the Continent of Europe, do not lose the benefit of their assurance, provided they proceed thither and return in decked vessels, by any port between the Elbe and Brest. The lives of persons going beyond the limits of Europe are assured under an extra Premium, proportionate to the additional hazard incurred. There is no charge for entrance-money, nor for the Policy, beyond the value of the stamp.

Such is the Constitution of this Company; and the advantages and facilities which it affords to the public must be evident to all who will give the principles on which the Constitution rests a careful examination.

THE Directors of the Commercial Life Insurance Company beg to announce that they are now ready to receive proposals and transact business in all the various branches connected with Life Insurance, Annuities, Endowments, &c.

The Tables upon which this Company propose to act have been formed with great care and labour, after a minute analysis and comparison of the rates of most existing companies. They embrace most of the varied schemes upon which the majority of these companies transact business, at rates as moderate as is consistent with safety both to the Assurer and Assured, and are thus adapted to all classes of the community. They are peculiar in this respect, however, that it is now for the first time proposed by a Scottish Company to extend Life Insurance and Annuities to parties who are paid by weekly or fortnightly salaries, and the working-classes in general, on such terms and upon such principles as present to them strong inducements for availing themselves of their advantages. A set of Tables has been prepared exhibiting the amount to be paid for insuring £100, or purchasing an annuity of £10, by weekly, monthly, or quarterly contributions, as well as by half-yearly and yearly, or single payments, and in accordance with this Table, the Company will insure the sum of £10 and upwards, and grant annuities of £5 and upwards. Agencies upon this basis have already been opened in many of the towns in Scotland. Negotiations are in progress for opening Agencies in others, and, by this means, the Company hope to foster the proper spirit of prudent accumulation, which has in many quarters sustained the fatal check from the disastrous results of the erroneous calculations or imprudent management of Benefit Societies, and does not receive adequate encouragement from the moderate return afforded by Savings Banks.

The following is a specimen of the Tables of the Company, for insuring £100 at different ages, divided into yearly, half-yearly, quarterly, monthly, and weekly payments:—

| Age. | Weekly. | | | Monthly. | | | Quarterly. | | | Half-yearly. | | | Yearly. | | |
|------|---------|----|----|----------|----|----|------------|----|----|--------------|----|----|---------|----|----|
| 15 | 0 | 0 | 7½ | 0 | 2 | 8 | 0 | 7 | 11 | 0 | 15 | 8 | 1 | 10 | 7 |
| 20 | 0 | 0 | 8½ | 0 | 3 | 1 | 0 | 8 | 11 | 0 | 17 | 6 | 1 | 14 | 4 |
| 25 | 0 | 0 | 9¾ | 0 | 3 | 6 | 0 | 10 | 1 | 1 | 0 | 0 | 1 | 19 | 2 |
| 30 | 0 | 0 | 11 | 0 | 4 | 0 | 0 | 11 | 7 | 1 | 3 | 0 | 2 | 4 | 11 |
| 35 | 0 | 1 | 0½ | 0 | 4 | 6 | 0 | 13 | 3 | 1 | 6 | 3 | 2 | 11 | 4 |
| 40 | 0 | 1 | 2½ | 0 | 5 | 4 | 0 | 15 | 5 | 1 | 10 | 6 | 2 | 19 | 9 |
| 45 | 0 | 1 | 5 | 0 | 6 | 2 | 0 | 18 | 0 | 1 | 15 | 5 | 3 | 9 | 5 |
| 50 | 0 | 1 | 8½ | 0 | 7 | 4 | 1 | 1 | 6 | 2 | 2 | 6 | 4 | 3 | 4 |
| 55 | 0 | 2 | 1½ | 0 | 9 | 2 | 1 | 7 | 0 | 2 | 13 | 5 | 5 | 4 | 7 |
| 60 | 0 | 2 | 8¼ | 0 | 11 | 8 | 1 | 14 | 4 | 3 | 8 | 0 | 6 | 13 | 2 |

According to this scheme, a person aged 30, by a payment of 11d. a-week, may secure the sum of £100 to his Widow and Family at his death, or by a weekly saving of the very moderate sum of 5½d. may secure to them the sum of £50, subject to no deduction.

A set of Tables has also been prepared, whereby the insured will be entitled to participate in the Profits of the Company, to the extent of five-sixths. The Company in this way offer to the public the combined advantages of a mutual insurance and a proprietary company.

The following is a specimen of the Tables, with participation in profits :—

FIRE DEPARTMENT.

THIS branch of the Company's business comprehends the Insurance of all descriptions of real and personal Property, from Loss or Damage by Fire. A revised Classification of Extra Risks has been made by the Glasgow Insurance Company, according to which are charged the lowest remunerating rates of Premium compatible with a prompt and liberal settlement of Claims. The three Ordinary Classes of Fire Insurance will be rated as usual, viz. :—

COMMON INSURANCES. HAZARDOUS. DOUBLE HAZARDOUS.
1s. 6d. per cent. 2s. 6d. per cent. 4s. 6d. per cent.

Losses, when satisfactorily ascertained, are immediately paid. Farming Stock is insured without the average Clause. Losses by Fire caused from Lightning, will be made good to the Insured.

LIFE DEPARTMENT.

This branch of the business comprises Insurance on Lives and Survivorships, the Purchase and Sale of Reversionary Property and Life Interests, the Sale and Purchase of Immediate, Contingent, and Deferred Annuities, and the Endowment of Widows and Children.

Two distinct plans are offered by this Company to Insurers. By the first, persons may effect every kind of Insurance, at a reduced rate of Premium, without participating in the Profits of the Company. By the second, persons may insure for the whole term of Life, and participate in the Company's profits to the extent of two-thirds, and at the same time be protected, by a Capital subscribed by a large and substantial Proprietary, from the responsibilities attached to Societies for Mutual Insurance.

The Company will advance money on the Security of Policies, and persons desirous of discontinuing the payment of their Annual Premiums, may dispose of their Policies to the Company.

The Assured are allowed to pass by Sea from one part of Great Britain and Ireland to another, and also, in time of peace, in Queen's Ships, Steam-Vessels, and Packets, to and from British and such Foreign Ports as lie within the limits of Europe, without any special leave or licence from the Directors.

No Admission nor Entrance Fees are required, nor is any charge made for the Policy beyond the Stamp Duty.

Tables of Rates, Forms of Proposals, and all other necessary information may be obtained on application at the Head Office, 98, Miller Street, Glasgow, or of any of the Company's Agents throughout the Country.

THE leading features of this Company are PARTICIPATION IN THE PROFITS, AND LOWER RATES OF PREMIUM THAN THOSE OF MOST SOCIETIES WHICH DO NOT GIVE PROFITS TO THE ASSURED.

The Subscribed Capital of the Company, while it affords ample security to the Assured, will, by yielding a higher rate of interest than is paid to the Shareholders, contribute to the general profits; whereas, in the case of some of the English Companies, with Capitals unnecessarily large, the Premiums paid by the Assured are materially drawn upon to supply the differences between the interest paid to Shareholders and interest yielded by investments: thus diminishing instead of increasing the security of the Policy-holder.

In addition to the low rate of Premium required by this Society, one-half of the Profits will be divided among the ASSURED and ANNUITANTS ; but, in the first instance, one-fifth of the whole will be retained to form an extra precautionary fund.

Two Directors and one Auditor may be chosen from the ASSURED.

For the Profits to which the ASSURED may become entitled at each quinquennial rest and division, a separate Policy will be issued, which being unincumbered by the payment of Premium, will be an absolute reversion, payable at the death of the Assured, and increasing, without cost, in value every year, and therefore readily available for private sale or deposit, and which the Society will always purchase on equitable terms, or receive in commutation of future Premiums on the original Policy.

To the Purchasers of ANNUITIES, this Society holds out advantages never before offered—a much higher rate than can with safety be granted from English investments, and participation to the extent of one-half in the Profits as above stated, including those of Life Assurance, for which an equivalent additional Annuity will be granted at each quinquennial rest.

Participation in Profits to ANNUITANTS has not been offered, with one recent exception ; but to it they are as much entitled, if they have paid a proper price for their Annuity, including a fair allowance for the selection of life, as their converse associates, the contributors of annual payments to secure sums payable at their decease.

Two Directors and one Auditor may be chosen from the ANNUITANTS, thereby giving them cognizance of and control over the disposal of the funds.

The benefited members of the Company will consist of the first thousand Policy-holders for the time being, for the whole of life for £500 or upwards, in one or more Policies, and of the first thousand Annuitants for the time being, who have paid £500 or upwards for their Annuities ; every vacancy in the thousand benefited Policy-holders to be filled up by the next oldest Policy of Assurance, on the plan of the Equitable Society of London ; and, in like manner, every vacancy in the thousand benefited Annuitants, by the next oldest deed of Annuity, the Assured and the Annuitants, however, will only succeed to the vacancies in their respective class.

A DESCENDING SCALE of Premium is offered to those who wish to avail themselves of present prosperity, gradually to reduce future payments, until they cease altogether, when Assurers will, nevertheless, be entitled to Bonus.

AN ASCENDING SCALE, to those who are looking forward to increase of income.

Naval and Military Service, Voyages, and Foreign Residences, are taken at moderate rates of Premium, payable only during the time of actual exposure to the additional risk.

No extra Premium will be charged to the Assured for the whole of life, for voyage as cabin or intermediate passengers in approved vessels to, or for residence in, the Australasian Colonies in approved situations. Distance from medical advice, occupation in whale-fishery, or distant voyaging, will be covered by equitable Premiums ; but parties may proceed from port to port throughout the Australasian Colonies in decked vessels of 100 tons or upwards.

Premiums on Policies, WHEREVER EFFECTED, may be paid at any settlement in Australasia where there is a bank, but always at the same, unless permission to change shall have been given.

Policies, whether effected in England or the Australasian Colonies, may be made payable in either by indorsement, provided the party do not quit the country in which the Policy is made payable without notice to the Directors.

GEORGE KING,
BOOKSELLER AND STATIONER,

RESPECTFULLY solicits attention to his extensive Stock of GENERAL and THEOLOGICAL LITERATURE, to which he is continually making additions, by selecting the most approved works as they are issued from the press. Among those of standard character, he would mention OLIVER & BOYD'S CABINET LIBRARY ; BICKERSTETH'S CHRISTIAN'S FAMILY LIBRARY ; COLLINS' CHRISTIAN CLASSICS ; M'PHUN'S DOMESTIC and USEFUL GUIDES ; and the publications of

THE LONDON TRACT SOCIETY.

A complete supply of the Publications issued by this Institution are kept in various bindings suitable for gifts, or adapted for lending libraries, and will be supplied to those purchasing a quantity, on the most liberal terms.

CHAMBERS' PEOPLE'S EDITIONS ; WARD'S LIBRARY of STANDARD DIVINITY ; and other serial works of this class, constantly on hand.

In consequence of the abolition of the Queen's Printers' monopoly, G. K. is enabled to offer BIBLES, TESTAMENTS, CONFESSIONS OF FAITH, PSALM and PRAYER BOOKS, at a very great reduction, in many cases at less than one-half of the former prices, and will be supplied Wholesale and Retail, on the most advantageous terms to purchasers.

BAGSTER'S BIBLES, CONCORDANCES, &c. in various languages, Morocco bindings.

The various Class Books in use at King's and Marischal Colleges, and other Seminaries of Education.

Sabbath School publications, with all the requisites adapted to the present state of mental and moral training.

LITERARY NOTICES.

Treating, as it does, largely, on the subject of dietetics, a work like this ought to be in the hands of all nurses, and heads of families; and to captains of vessels, missionaries, emigrants, or travellers, it must prove invaluable.—Liverpool Mercury.

We strongly recommend this work to all who are intrusted with the management of a family.—Bristol Times.

Of much utility as a ready and simple guide in medical practice.—Liverpool Courier.

In general, every man must be benefited by a knowledge of his own constitution, which causes tend to injure it, and what to restore it. The work before us is eminently calculated to promote these important ends. The most recent and delicate results of medical research are here embodied in simple and perspicuous terms. The various articles of food and medicine are analyzed and their properties explained; while the general structure of the body, and the effects of ventilation, light, exercise, &c., are not the least important, or the least interesting subjects treated.—Inverness Courier.

In one respect it is especially to be recommended; there is no quackery about it. It is scientific and yet perfectly intelligible to the plain reader.—Wiltshire Independent.

This promises to be a valuable accession to the family and medical library, from the clear and simple nature of its details, descriptions, and directions. From the alphabetical arrangements, the reader can at once lay his hand on any information which he requires, whilst the absence of professional jargon, or parade, enables him to comprehend, at once, the writer's meaning. The author seems to have spared no pains to enrich the text with the most recent and accurate information, so that, even as a work of science and general knowledge, it deserves a place in the par-

It gives us much pleasure to speak in high terms of the easy and comprehensive manner in which the medical information in this work is conveyed.—Weekly Dispatch.

WELLS & M'NEILL,

MANUFACTURERS OF

IMPROVED PATENT FELT,

FOR ROOFING, &c.,

FACTORY AT LAMB'S BUILDINGS, BUNHILL ROW,
OFFICE AT NO. 31, CLEMENT'S LANE, LOMBARD STREET, LONDON.

TO ENGINEERS, ARCHITECTS, SURVEYORS, BUILDERS, COP-PERSMITHS, ZINC MANUFACTURERS, & OTHERS.

THE present Manufacturers (who have recently purchased the patent of this valuable concern) beg to draw the attention of the above parties to their superior Manufacture for covering the Roofs of every description of Buildings, whether under Copper, Zinc, Slates, or Tiles.

It is manufactured purposely for securing a perfectly tight roof against rain or snow, as well as resisting the external heat of the sun, from the non-conducting quality of the material. It is composed of much longer and stronger fibrous materials than Roofing Paper; is no dearer, but infinitely more durable; is impervious to wet, and not liable to crack with changes of temperature.

It is manufactured thirty-two inches wide, and may be ordered for the length of any building, thereby preventing the necessity of many joinings.

For ROOFING SHEDS, OUT-BUILDINGS, &c., this material is now extensively used, WITHOUT ANY OTHER COVERING than a coat of coarse paint, or a mixture of pitch and tar, upon which it is well to sift a good covering of sand. This makes a very economical roof, as the timbers may be extremely light.

For Brickmakers, it is an invaluable and cheap article for covering their Bricks in the field, and is now much in use for that purpose.

For shipping to New Settlements, and to the Colonies generally, for any of the above purposes, it is the cheapest as well as the most durable article yet manufactured.

THE PRICE IS ONE PENNY PER SQUARE FOOT.

* * Samples sent to any part of the Town or Country, and Orders by Post immediately executed.

MR.S. WARRACK begs leave to intimate to the Medical Profession and the Public, that she can receive a few Additional PATIENTS, at her Establishment, UPPER MIDDLEFIELD, for the reception of a limited number of those in the higher ranks of Society afflicted with disorders of the mind.

A considerable addition was lately made to the House; the airing-ground, which is enclosed, is extensive; and the situation is retired and healthy. Mrs. W. who has been accustomed to the management of the Insane for seventeen years, devotes her time entirely to the patients under her care; and the greatest attention is paid to everything that can contribute either to their comfort or recovery.

The House is officially visited by the Sheriff and other authorities, who, upon every occasion, have expressed their entire satisfaction with the whole of the domestic arrangements; and those of the Medical Profession in Aberdeen, who have had patients in the house, highly approve of the manner in which the establishment is conducted.

The Medical Superintendance of the Asylum is under the care of JAMES TORRY, Esq. Surgeon, Marischal Street; but this is not to be understood

THE TEA TRADE,
AND NEW GROCERY ESTABLISHMENT.

D. GRAY respectfully returns his best thanks to his Friends and the Public for the liberal patronage he has received since he opened, on Thursday the 18th June, 1840,

A NEW TEA AND GROCERY ESTABLISHMENT,
IN NO. 22, UNION STREET.

D. GRAY, in soliciting a continuance of public favour, would particularly call attention to the circumstance of his having been connected, for several years, with one of the most extensive Tea Houses in this country — that of Messrs. MELROSE & Co. of Edinburgh—where he enjoyed opportunities peculiarly favourable for obtaining a thorough knowledge of this important and difficult department of trade—difficult, because there is no commodity which more generally fluctuates in value, and certainly none to which recent events have imparted more uncertainty of price. In consequence of this, it is only by an intimate acquaintance with markets, and a perfect knowledge of the article—acquired by long personal experience and unwearied attention—that Tea can be so procured as will admit of its being supplied to the public upon the most liberal terms. Mere lowness of price ought not to be recognized as any claim on public support, especially in Tea—an article wherein excellence of quality is never brought to account against a fractional difference of price; and by those who esteem it as superior to every similar beverage, a mere fractional difference of cost will not be allowed to form a consideration of any weight; but, although D. G. will not offer deleterious articles at inferior prices, or at any price, he undertakes to submit the most superior TEAS, at the very cheapest rates at which such can be offered. It is especially worthy of attention, as the best medical authorities agree (vide “Tea, its Medicinal and Moral Effects,” by Dr. Sigmond of London), that, to be sanative, Tea must be pure. To this point D. GRAY has long paid much attention, and flatters himself that he will, in this respect, give the utmost satisfaction to those who may honour him with their patronage. In short, it shall be a leading and principal object with him so to conduct the Tea Department, that, in point of strength, flavour, and price, his Customers will be served in a manner not surpassed in any metropolitan town.

D. G. also keeps on hand a full assortment of COFFEE, SUGAR, SPICES, and General GROCERY GOODS; and he again begs to state that, while he will not allow himself to be undersold, it is his determination to rest his claim to public support on the score of superior quality.

THE SCOTTISH PROVIDENT INSTITUTION

Is the ONLY OFFICE in which the benefit of MUTUAL ASSURANCE and PARTICIPATION IN THE WHOLE PROFITS is combined with MODERATE PREMIUMS.

Until its establishment, an Assurer was compelled either to see the profits of his assurance go to raise the shares of a Proprietary Company; or, in joining a Mutual Assurance Society, to pay a rate of premium confessedly exorbitant, and disproportioned to the risk. The sacrifice made by joining an office of the former class may be inferred from the high dividends paid on their stock, as well as from the large additions made by Mutual Offices to the policies of their members.

WILLIAM SKINNER, ADVOCATE, 161 UNION STREET,
Agent for Aberdeen.

COMPARISON OF THE DIFFERENT SYSTEMS OF LIFE ASSURANCE OFFICES,

AND ADVANTAGES OF THE

SCOTTISH PROVIDENT INSTITUTION.

Institutions for Life Assurance are of two classes—PROPRIETARY and MUTUAL. The following is a brief view of the principles which distinguish each:—

Proprietary Companies.

In the uncertainty which attended the early stages of the business of Life Assurance, the engagement by a society or company to pay a large sum at the death of their members, in consideration of a small yearly premium to be received during their lives, was viewed as a speculation so hazardous as to require the guarantee of a previously subscribed capital. Hence the origin of Proprietary Companies. But this idea has now been proved to be entirely without foundation; and it has been found, in the words of Professor De Morgan, that “there is nothing in the commercial world which approaches, even remotely, to the security of a well-established and prudently managed Insurance Office.” If the premiums charged be adequate to the risks, then the capital can never be required. “If,” to quote again from the same eminent mathematician, “the premiums were really too low, capital would be an injury, and not a benefit; for, since this capital is really paid for, in whole or in part, out of premiums, it would not preserve the office from insolvency, but would rather accelerate its progress towards bankruptcy.”

Of the numerous Offices which have recently sprung up, the great majority are Proprietary Companies, and have been confessedly established more for the purpose of affording a lucrative investment to Capitalists, than with a primary view to the interests of the assured themselves. In these, consequently, either the whole or a large proportion of the profits are taken by the shareholders, in return for the alleged guarantee of a capital, often merely nominal, and at all events unnecessary. Notwithstanding the exertions made by these shareholders, however, public opinion has declared strongly in favour of the other class. Messrs Chambers, in a recent number of their Journal, state: “It has been found, that, by the plan of Mutual Assurance, all desirable security is afforded, while the profits are divisible among the only parties who have any right to them,—the Assurers. Mutual Assurance Societies are, therefore, rapidly supplanting Assurance Companies, most of which will probably in a few years cease to exist.”

Mutual Assurance Societies.

The great principle which distinguishes these from the Proprietary Companies is, that in the former the entire surplus arising from any excess in the contributions, and which is generally termed the “Profits,” belongs to, and is divisible among, the assured themselves.

It will be evident, on reflection, that the premiums in Mutual may be lower than those of Proprietary Offices, with equal security in both to the assured. In the latter, the use of the capital must be paid for, and it is out of the premiums that this price must come. From this burden the premiums of the Mutual Societies are free, and yet the rates charged by them have generally been on the highest scale, and greatly beyond what was required to meet the risks. If proof of this were wanted, it would be found, not only in the concurrent evidence of all the more recent statistical observations, but in the invariable experience of all the established Offices. In the Equitable Society of London, the actual deaths as compared with the number provided for in their Tables, have been in the proportion of two to three; or, taking the younger members alone, in the proportion of one to two only. And in the Scottish Widows' Fund, for every 100 deaths calculated upon, only 57 have actually occurred.

But the fact that the premiums charged by such Offices are excessive, is not denied; and their defence is made to rest on the assumption that, as the profits are eventually returned to the members, it signifies but little what amount of premium is taken at first. These surplus contributions, however, can never be refunded in their original proportions, and it is certainly, therefore, a more rational course for a party assuring to apply the excess of premium in securing a larger assurance of specified amount, than to trust to future and contingent bonuses, of which he may never partake; and which, in all probability, will prove the fruitful source of discord and contention among the members at some future period.

Another objection applies to the mode usually adopted by them in the division of the profits, which, by the ordinary practice, are distributed among the whole members indiscriminately, without distinguishing those who have actually occasioned a loss to the Office, from those whose contributions have chiefly, if not exclusively, given rise to the very surplus which forms these profits. Thus, the representatives of a person assured for L.1000, and dying in six or eight years after entry, will carry off not only the sum contracted for in his policy, but a farther sum, in name of profit on his assurance, although the premiums which he has lived to pay will not amount to one-fourth of his original assurance, and therefore the common fund has already been loser by him to the extent of more than L.750. For the original sum assured,—or for this first loss of L.750,—the office is no doubt justly liable, as it forms the very ground of the contract; but it is not, or ought not to be, liable for more,—for a calculated profit of L.150 or L.200, which can only be realized, if ever realized at all, out of the excess on the contributions of others, to their manifest detriment in the mean time, and possibly to their ultimate loss.

It will thus be obvious that, although it is in Mutual Societies alone that the benefits of Life Assurance are receivable in their fullest extent, there are yet important defects in the constitution of these Societies as generally established. It was a desire to remedy these defects, and to afford to the public all the benefit derivable from increased knowledge and experience, that led to the formation of

The Scottish Provident Institution.

This Institution is strictly a mutual Assurance Society, but it differs from those previously existing, in the reduction, and more accurate adjustment, of the Premiums, and in the more equitable division of the Profits.

1.—The Premiums have been deduced, by strict calculation, from the Government Observations for Males, with such additions as to provide for perfect security. At early and middle ages, the premium charged by most offices for L.400, will secure about L.500 in this. It is not to be supposed that prudent men will long continue to pay contributions so utterly disproportioned to the risk, now that the correctness of existing data for calculation has been tested, and consequently the requisite premium ascertained with a very near approach to accuracy. By reference to the Comparative Table (page 8), it will further be seen that while the premiums of the older Mutual offices at early and middle ages are from 20 to 25 per cent. higher than in this, members of sixty are actually admitted at a lower rate. There is thus a great relative injustice done to the younger entrants, a part of the overcharge on whose premiums must obviously go to make up the comparative deficiency on those of the old.

2.—The principle adopted in the distribution of the profits, and which is peculiar to this Office, is—that the surplus should be reserved for those members who survive the period at which their premiums, with accumulated interest, amount to the sums in their Policies. This scheme was devised by the late eminent Actuary, Mr James Cleghorn, under whose professional charge the Institution was founded. Its superior equity is thus attested in a recent article in the Quarterly Review:—"The general use, by Insurance Offices, of the word 'Profits,' is an abuse of the term, they being wholly contingent and remote. It cannot for a moment be questioned, that instead of 'profit,' the Assurance Office must sustain a loss by every insurer who dies before the amount paid by him in premiums, with the accumulated interest, shall be equivalent to the amount of his policy; yet, in most of these Offices, the representatives share in the profits, should the insured die immediately after seven payments. The equitable rule would be, to assign the bonus to such only as had survived the expectation of life, according to the generally received law of mortality, or who had paid in premiums, with interest upon them, a sum equal to that for which the life was insured."

Some general idea of the ultimate effects of this system, and of the superior inducements it holds out to a member entering in the prospect of an extended life, may be formed by attending to the following example.

Let it be assumed that 100 members, all of the age 25, enter the Society, for an Assurance of L.1000, paying each such a rate of premium as will take 25 years to amount to the sum assured, and that one out of the hundred will die in each of these 25 years;—assume further, that the profits are such as would afford a yearly bonus of $1\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. on the capital sum. It is evident that, by the usual mode of distribution, the accumulated fund, at the end of 25 years, will be diminished by the amount of a progressive Annuity of L.15. The member who dies in the first year will take out L.15; the one who dies in the second year, L.30; in the third, L.45; and so on, increasing each year in the same arithmetical proportion. Now, the amount of such a progressive annuity, at 4 per cent., will be no less than L.6850. If these bonuses, then, had been reserved, this is the sum which would remain at the end of these 25 years, to divide among the remaining ($100 - 25 =$) 75 members, in addition to what they might otherwise receive.

By this arrangement it is evident that a comparatively small surplus on the whole fund, must afford a large bonus for the classes to which it will be appropriated. By saving for survivors the shares which in other Offices are frittered away among polices that have subsisted only a few years, a larger addition may be made to old policies than can be made by such Offices, even though their premiums are much higher.

Nor should it be overlooked, that this plan possesses a decided advantage in its security. No fixed rateable prospective addition is promised, or held out in anticipation; but such amount of profits only, be they great or small, are promised, as shall be found to have actually accrued. A continued addition of $1\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. per annum will, in course of time, amount to a very serious obligation. Taking the average expectation of a life of 25 at only 35 years (nearly three years less than by the Carlisle Table), this addition, taking into account the septennial accumulation, will amount, on an Assurance of L.100, to L.65: which, added to the L.100 in the Policy, would make the Assurance to which the ordinary Premium of L.2:5:10 is equivalent, L.165, instead of only L.100; and, consequently, would reduce the premium adequate to the assurance of L.100 only, without such addition, to L.1:7:9, instead of L.1, 18s., as charged in this Office. It cannot be doubted that, by reserving the surplus for those who, in fact, and not by previous calculation merely, have contributed to it, the risk which may be thought to attend such prospective additions, is to a great extent diminished.

From this brief statement of the leading principles of the Institution, it must be obvious that its constitution affords to the members every advantage of which Life Assurance is capable. By the first of these, namely, the diminution of the premiums, the greatest present benefit is secured to all: while, by the second, the peculiar mode of division of the profits, those who survive the average duration of life will derive the greatest future contingent advantages,—a combination presented by no other Office than the SCOTTISH PROVIDENT.

In addition to those advantages, which are peculiar to the SCOTTISH PROVIDENT INSTITUTION, the other provisions have been framed on a scale as liberal as is consistent with a due regard to security.

Assurances may be paid for in one sum, or by yearly or half-yearly Premiums; or the Premiums may be payable for a limited number of years only, so that the party may be altogether relieved from payment in advanced age. The following are examples of such Premiums, ceasing after twenty-one payments, for an assurance of L.100 at death:—

| Age. | Premium. | Age. | Premium. | Age. | Premium. |
|------|----------|------|----------|------|----------|
| 25 | £2 10 8 | 35 | £2 19 8 | 45 | £3 14 9 |
| 30 | 2 14 6 | 40 | 3 6 4 | 50 | 4 7 2 |

It will thus be seen that a person aged 30 may assure L.100 for a yearly payment of L.2:14:6, to cease on his attaining his 50th year, being thus entirely relieved of payment before he has passed the prime of life, and that for nearly the same premium as other offices require for the whole of life, however long.

NO ENTRY-MONEY, nor any charge beyond the Policy Stamp.

ANNUITIES, Immediate, Deferred, and Contingent, are granted on favourable terms. Of these, printed Tables may be had on application.

EXTRACTS FROM REPORT OF DIRECTORS TO THE THIRD ANNUAL MEETING OF CONTRIBUTORS, HELD ON 17TH FEBRUARY 1841.

“The Directors have again the gratification of reporting the continued and increasing prosperity of the Institution.

“In the past year, 278 new Policies have been issued, the sum assured by which is L.134,245, 5s. (besides several contingent and other annuities), and the annual Premiums on which amount to L.3621 : 16 : 3. Premiums have also been received in single payments to the amount of L.1606 : 2 : 6.

“In regard to Mortality, the past year has been a peculiarly favourable one. Only three Deaths have occurred among the Members, the sums assured amounting to L.1400; while, on the other hand, a sum of L.200, which had been sunk for Annuity, has fallen in by the death of the party. Since the opening of the Institution, the mortality has very little exceeded one half of what is provided for by the Tables adopted in the calculations.

“The Directors beg in conclusion to assure the contributors that they have rigidly adhered to the principle they originally laid down—of depending upon the intrinsic advantages of the Institution for its extension, without recognising any of those practices which increased competition has too generally introduced. They have continued to exercise the most scrupulous care in the admission of Members; and in no instance has one shilling of the funds been diverted from its legitimate object, to afford remuneration to parties—not their own accredited agents—for bringing assurances to them. As a more legitimate, and, in the end, a more effectual means of promoting its prosperity, the Directors rely on the exertions of the Members in disseminating as widely as possible an acquaintance with the principles of the Institution, and its advantages over every other Society.”

The RELATIVE INCREASE of business in each of the last three years is shewn in the following Table :—

| In the year ending 31st December. | Number of New Policies opened. | Amount of New Assurances. | Annual Premium on these. |
|-----------------------------------|--------------------------------|---------------------------|--------------------------|
| 1838 | 112 | L.38,614 | L.1064 |
| 1839 | 202 | 86,335 | 2380 |
| 1840 | 278 | 134,242 | 3622 |

THOMAS MURRAY, Esq., LL.D., in moving the approval of the Report, said,—

Although the results there stated must satisfy this Meeting in regard to the prosperity of the Institution, yet, as it was only lately that the subject of Life Insurance had attracted general attention, it would not be improper to contrast its position with that of similar Societies, as the only means by which persons not conversant with the subject could judge of the astonishing advance which this Society was making in public favour. With this view, he should notice a few facts in the history of each of the other three Scottish Mutual Assurance Offices, and which he selected from their published Reports. As all of these offices were of undoubted character, and occupied a high place in public estimation, a favourable comparison with them would on that account be the more satisfactory.

“To begin with the Scottish Widows’ Fund, the parent Institution in Scotland, and which has attained the greatest celebrity, I find the total amount insured in that Office, up to the end of its sixth year, was only L.140,000, little more than we have insured in the single year for which the Report has just been read, while our total amount is nearly L.270,000, being thus about double the amount in half the time. But the comparison may be rendered still stronger by confining ourselves to the business of a single year. In the Report to the Annual Court of that Society, held on 15th January 1830 (the Society was founded in 1815), I find the following statement. ‘During the last year, the new assurances opened have been to the extent of L.203,000, while the largest amount opened in any previous year had not exceeded L.130,000.’ Now, you have heard that, besides Annuities, the amount we have insured in this our third year, exceeds L.134,000; and it will be kept in mind that our maximum sum on one life, has, till recently, been L.1500, while they had for some time been freely accepting insurances to the amount of L.4000.

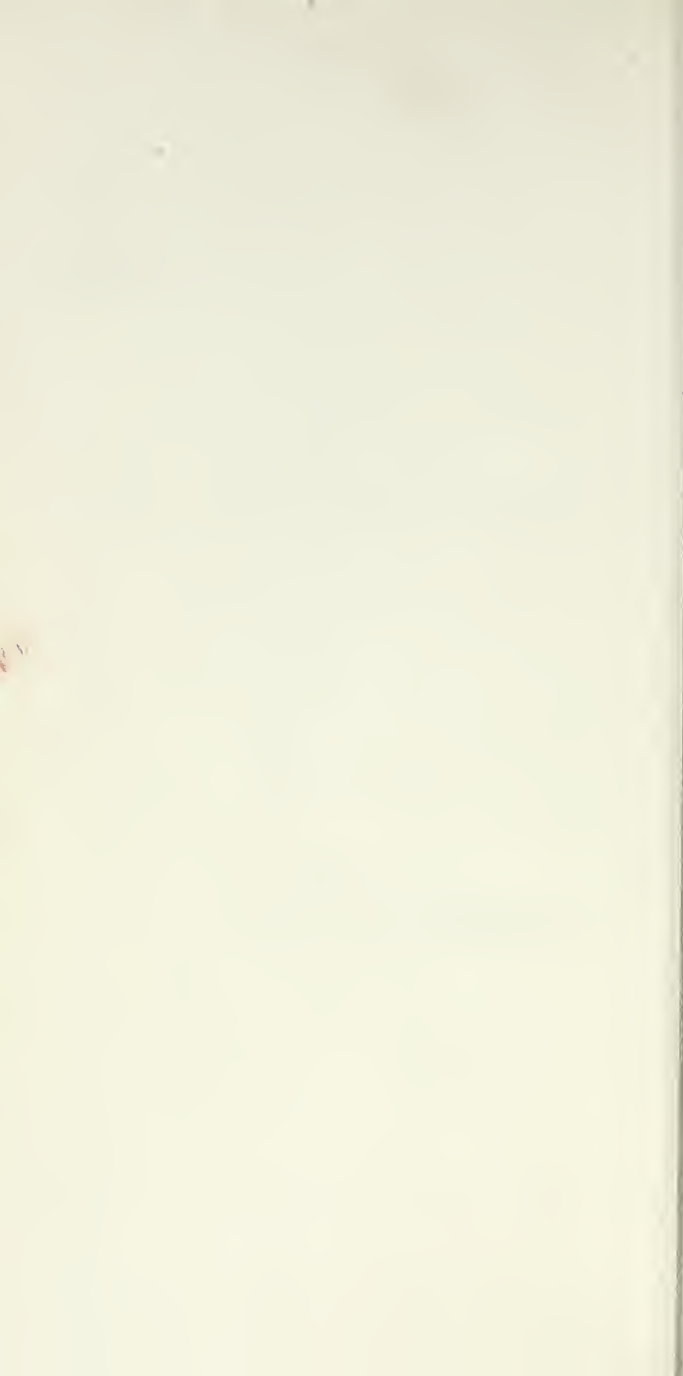

“Let us now take the Scottish Equitable, an Office which, not having the same difficulties to contend with in its infancy, has made comparatively rapid progress. In the Report of their Third Annual Meeting, the number of Policies opened in the year is stated at 109, the sum assured L.69,700, the Premiums upon these Insurances, L.2084, and the Entry-Money, L.345. We cannot boast of our Entry-Money, as no such tax is laid upon our Members; but in all other respects it will be seen that the comparison is most gratifying. Even in the Premiums, notwithstanding that at many ages our rates are nearly a fourth lower than theirs, the difference in our favour is so great as between L.2080 and L.3620. But it is in the number of the Insurances, a matter of great importance, as by extending the basis of the Society it must contribute both to its security and future progress, that our superiority is most conspicuous. Instead of 109, we have opened 278, and of these I have just been informed no less than 115 were opened in the last quarter of the year, being, for that time, at the extraordinary rate of nearly 10 Policies a-week.

“I have only now shortly to notice the Scottish Amicable of Glasgow. By their last published Report (their 14th or 15th, I believe), the total amount insured with them is stated to be L.434,660, and the amount on Policies passed within the year, L.102,000, being about a third less than we have reported in our third year.”
