CONSTITUTION.

I.—The Society shall be called “THE CLAN MACKAY SOCIETY”; shall be non-political and non-sectarian; and shall consist of

(a) Persons bearing the surname of Mackay, by birth or marriage;

(b) Persons bearing any of the names of the various clan septs, or related to the clan by descent, shall be admitted as “Associates,” but shall not be eligible to hold office, or entitled to vote at any of the meetings, or derive any benefit from the funds of the Society. The Sept names are as follows:—MACKIE, BAIN (in its various forms), POLSON, MACPHAIL, MACKEE or MACKEY, MACGHIE, NEILSON, MacCRIE, MacCAY, etc.

II.—The objects of the Society shall be the fostering of Clan sentiment; the cultivation of social intercourse among the Members; the rendering of assistance to deserving Clansmen; the encouragement of education; and the collecting and preserving of records and traditions bearing on the history of the Clan.

III.—The Membership shall consist of three classes, viz: Life Members, who shall make one payment of not less than £3 3s.; Extraordinary Members, who shall pay an Annual Subscription of 10s. 6d.; and Ordinary Members, who shall pay 2s. 6d. annually, with the exception of such as shall be resident in the rural part of the Highlands and Islands of Scotland, or serving as non-commissioned officers or privates in Her Majesty's Army, or as seamen in the Royal Navy, whose Annual Subscription shall be 1s. No Member whose Subscription is in arrear for more than six months shall be entitled to vote at any meeting, or exercise any privilege. Associate Membership shall also consist of three classes as above.

IV.—The Society may elect Honorary Members, of whom there shall not be more than twelve at any one time. Honorary Members shall be elected at the Annual General Meeting. No one shall be elected an Honorary Member until his name has been proposed at both the Ordinary Meetings of the Society in Edinburgh and Glasgow, next preceding the Annual General Meeting, by at least Ten Members of the Society, who shall state in their proposal that the person proposed has, in their opinion, done credit to the Clan, or rendered special service to the Society.

V.—Members of the Society claiming the title of Chieftain by hereditary right shall lodge a statement of claim with the Secretary, for the consideration of the Council, at least three months before the next succeeding Annual General Meeting of the Society, when, if recommended by the Council, they shall be duly proclaimed and acknowledged. Bards and Pipers to the Society shall also be appointed at the Annual General Meeting, on the recommendation of the Council.

VI.—The business of the Society shall be managed by a Council, consisting of the Chief, a President, Six Vice-Presidents, Twenty-four Councillors, a Secretary, an Assistant Secretary, and a Treasurer, any Five of whom shall form a quorum. The President, Vice-Presidents, Secretaries, and Treasurer, shall be elected annually. Twenty-four Councillors shall be elected at the first Annual General Meeting, and thereafter Eight Councillors shall retire annually, but shall be eligible for re-election. The Ordinary Meetings of the Council shall be held alternately in Edinburgh and Glasgow, in the months of January, May, and October, in each year, on dates to be fixed by the President, or any two Vice-Presidents, and the Secretary, who shall also have power at any time to convene a Special Meeting of the Council.

VII.—The Ordinary Meetings of the Society shall be held alternately in Edinburgh and Glasgow, on the third Thursday of each month, from October to April, inclusive. The Annual General Meeting shall be held on the third Thursday of November in each year, at such time and place as the Council may from time to time appoint; and an Annual Social Gathering shall take place on or about the same date, as the Council may determine. Fifteen Members shall form a quorum at all meetings of the Society.

VIII.—No addition shall be made to the Constitution, and no alteration shall be made thereon except by a majority of Members present and voting at an Annual General Meeting; and no proposed addition or alteration shall be considered or discussed at any such Meeting, unless a full and accurate notice thereof shall previously have been given by circular addressed to each Member, at least two calendar months before the date of the Meeting.

BYE-LAWS.

I.—FUNDS AND PROPERTY.

Any property or funds of the Society requiring to be invested, shall be held in the name of three Trustees, to be appointed by the Council, and no investment shall be made or varied except by the direction of the Council.

II.—DONATIONS AND LEGACIES.

Donations or Legacies, either for the purpose of the Society generally, or for any of its special purposes, may be made payable to the President, Treasurer and Secretary for the time being, as Trustees of the Society.

III.—AUDITORS.

The accounts of the Society shall be audited yearly by two Auditors, appointed by the Council, and shall thereafter be laid before the Annual General Meeting.

IV.—BANK ACCOUNT.

The funds of the Society shall be lodged within a reasonable time by the Treasurer in a bank in Glasgow of good repute, in name of the Clan Mackay Society, and the said account shall be operated upon by cheques drawn by the Treasurer, and countersigned by the Secretary and one of the Vice-Presidents.

FORM OF LEGACY OR BEQUEST.

To be inserted in a Deed of Settlement.

I also leave and bequeath to the Clan Mackay Society, instituted 1888, the residue of my estate (or the sum of) (to be inserted in words), to be applied in promoting the objects of the Society (or special objects may be named—benevolent, educational, bursary, &c.), which bequest I appoint my executors to pay to the Treasurer and Secretary for the time being of said Society, whose receipt shall be a sufficient discharge therefor.

CAPTAIN JAMES MACKAY, WILTS,
Retiring President of the Society.

REPORT OF COUNCIL

FOR SESSION 1896-97.

FELLOW CLANSMEN AND CLANSWOMEN,—In presenting for your consideration our Ninth Annual Report, we are pleased to be able to state that the Society has made the most gratifying progress during the past year, both in regard to membership and funds. Indeed it is only when the record of our Society is compared with those of the numerous kindred associations which now exist, that the extraordinary success of the Clan Mackay may be fully realised.

CLAN SENTIMENT may be only an abstract idea to many, but to those who bear the honoured name of Mackay, it is still a living and an active force. In other and more perilous times, when the “strong hand” (“Manu Forti”—the clan motto) of the Mackay was often his surest safety, our clansmen were noted for their “clannishness,” that strong feeling of kinship which makes men stand together for weal and woe, and judging by the tangible results offered from the history of our own Society, we have ample proof that the Mackays of the present day, although now scattered to the uttermost ends of the earth, still preserve those kindly feelings towards each other which were so characteristic a feature of our ancestors in the country of Lord Reay.

MEMBERSHIP.—Since the last society booklet was printed two years ago, the Membership Roll has received many additions—indeed we believe our list is the largest of any clan society. While many recruits have been found in Glasgow and Edinburgh, we are specially gratified at the large number of new members, resident at a distance and in foreign lands, who have enrolled. Copies of the last published report were posted to every Mackay whose address was obtainable. The record of good work performed which our Society is always able to show was evidently satisfactory, for the response was most gratifying, clansmen joining the Society who are never likely to be even able to attend a meeting. We are particularly pleased at the number of "ASSOCIATES" who have recently enrolled, and we hope next year to be able to print a very much larger list of members representing the various important SEPTS of the clan. There are still many thousands of Mackays, Mackies, Bains, etc., who have never heard of the Society, and it is our intention to post a copy of our forthcoming clan booklet to every clansman whose address we can obtain, at home and abroad, and we have no doubt that many useful members will be added to the Roll of the Clan Mackay.

OBITUARY.—It is our painful duty each year to have to record the death of several of our members, the present list, (which is given on page 25), containing the names of two or three well-known clansmen. There are few of our name more widely known than the late John Mackay (Ben Reay), author of that valuable historical work "An Old Scots Brigade," being the history of the famous Mackay regiment which, under Lord Reay, rendered such valiant service to the Protestant cause during the great 30 years' war. He was one of the first life-members of the Society, as were also the late George H. Mackay, Glasgow, and Alex. R. Mackay, Governor of the Virgin Islands, whose deaths we all sincerely lament. Another prominent clansman who has recently passed away was the late John Mackay, Guide at Edinburgh Castle. He was a veteran of the gallant 93rd Sutherland Highlanders, and saw a great deal of active service in the Crimea, and during the Indian Mutiny. He was one of the famous "Thin red line" at Balaclava, where 500 Sutherlanders defeated an overwhelming force of Russian cavalry.

SOCIAL INTERCOURSE.—Our members have had frequent opportunities during the past year of cultivating friendly intercourse with each other. Our meetings, which are held alternately each month in Glasgow and Edinburgh, afford suitable opportunities for members meeting one another, while the musical evenings, which are always open to the friends of members, and attract the lady members of our Society, are always well attended and afford very pleasant entertainment. The Annual Social Gathering was held this year in Glasgow, under the presidency of our honoured

Chief, Lord Reay, and was attended by nearly 900 clansfolk and friends, including members from all parts of the kingdom. The concert and assembly were greatly enjoyed by all present. On the afternoon of the same day, Lord Reay was entertained to dinner, in the Windsor Hotel, by a large party of clansmen. Mr. John Mackay, C.E., J.P., Hereford, presided, and speeches were delivered by the Chief, and a number of the leading members of the clan.

RENDERING OF ASSISTANCE.—During the past year the Council have given special attention to this important object of our constitution. Now that the Bursary has been practically completed, the rendering of assistance to poor deserving persons of our name will become the really chief duty of the Society. As may be seen from the treasurer's statement for last year, a considerable portion of our income was dispensed in assisting aged and necessitous applicants, and indeed our funds could not be devoted to a better or more laudable purpose. It is not usual for the Council to publish the names of those who receive pecuniary help, but every case is carefully investigated, and no deserving person is refused assistance. In many instances we have been able to assist clansmen in securing suitable employment, and so favourably has the Society become known in Sutherland for its services in this direction, that the Council have frequently the greatest difficulty in finding openings for the large number of young Mackays who come south in the hope that the Society might be able to give them their first start in life.

ENCOURAGEMENT OF EDUCATION.—Having established a Bursary of £20 per annum, tenable for two years in a High School or Technical College, and managing the Reay Bursary in St. Andrews University, it cannot be said that the Clan Mackay do not appreciate the benefits of education. "The Clan Mackay Victoria Bursary," so named in honour of Her Majesty's Diamond Jubilee, was recently won by William Mackay, Rhenevie, Bettyhill, Sutherland, and a grant of £5 was made to assist another deserving young lad, Alex. Mackay, Farr, Sutherland, to attend a higher school. The St. Andrews Reay Bursary is held by George Mackay, Durness, Sutherland.

RECORDS AND TRADITIONS.—A great many interesting and valuable papers have been read at our meetings dealing with the history and traditions of the Clan Mackay, the most recent being those delivered by Mr. John Mackay, Glasgow, Hon. Secy., on "The Bards and Pipers of the Clan Mackay"; and "The Origin and History of the Septs of the Clan". Sutherland and the Reay Country, edited by Mr. John Mackay, Hon. Secy., and the Rev. Adam Gunn, M.A., Durness, is a valuable contribution to the literature of the Mackays; and Mr. John Mackay has also in the press a new edition of the "Songs and Poems of Rob Donn Mackay," some fifty of these popular Mackay country songs being set to the ancient original music, now published for the first time. In addition to these evidences of literary activity, the late Mr. John Mackay (Ben Reay), left a great quantity of MSS. which he had been collecting for many years for the purpose of bringing out a new History of the Clan Mackay. This valuable material, it is hoped, will soon be arranged, and preserved in a permanent form.

Before closing, it may interest members to learn that recently the ancient banner of the clan, (a' Bhratach Bhàn) the "White Banner" of song and story in the Mackay country, was nearly lost to the clan. The last possessor having died, the flag was about to be sent to a claimant in London, when Provost William Mackay of Thurso, heard of the matter, and communicated with Mr. John Mackay, Hon. Secy. Our clansmen promptly lodged two claims on behalf of Lord Reay, and the Rev. J. Aberigh-Mackay, D.D., as representing the Clan Society. After a great deal of correspondence and negotiation the other claimants withdrew, the result being that this venerable relic of the clan has now become the property of the Society, and will henceforth be deposited in some public building for safe keeping. To Provost Mackay, Thurso, and Mr. John Mackay, Glasgow, Hon. Secy., the Society is indebted for preventing the Bratach Bhàn being lost to the clan and country.

Signed for the Council,

JOHN MACKAY, Hon Secretary.

THE WHITE BANNER OF THE CLAN MACKAY (A' Bhratach Bhàn).

Now in the possession of the Clan Mackay Society.

Songs and Music of the Reay Country Bard.

Now in the Press.—Crown 4to, Gilt Top, Elegant Binding, 10s. 6d. post free.

SONGS AND POEMS:

BY

ROB DONN (ROBERT MACKAY),

The Celebrated Bard of Lord Reay's Country,

WITH

MANY ORIGINAL MELODIES, TRANSLATIONS, GLOSSARY, etc.

It has been for many years a matter of surprise and regret to some of those interested in Gaelic music that, although the County of Sutherland was known to possess many old and beautiful melodies, especially those associated with the songs of ROB DONN, the Reay Country bard, comparatively few have ever been noted down and published. Recognising their national value, and desirous of preserving them for the enjoyment of all lovers of Gaelic music, the late MR. JOHN MUNRO, brother of the Hon. James Munro, of Melbourne, late Premier of Victoria, undertook the congenial work of noting down for publication as many as possible of the tunes to which Rob Donn Mackay's songs are sung in Sutherland. He succeeded in making a collection of nearly fifty, associated with the bard's songs and poems, grave and gay, humorous and satirical, elegies, etc. The MSS. came into the publisher's possession, and it is intended to issue at once a new and revised edition of the Mackay bard's works, nearly fifty of the songs being set to the original music as sung in the far north, few of which have ever before appeared in print. The tunes will be given in both the Staff and the Sol-fa notations. The bard's works have been carefully revised by the most competent Gaelic Scholars. It is intended to include as many English metrical translations of Rob Donn's poem's as can be found. These can mostly be sung to the original Gaelic music, and will also convey to the reader an idea of the spirit and substance of the original verses. To all lovers of Gaelic song and music the volume should be welcome, and especially so to members of the "Clan Mackay."

The work will be printed on superfine, thick toned paper, (crown 4to size), and will be handsomely bound, uniform in style with our other publications. No expense is being spared in its preparation. The names and addresses of subscribers received before publication will be printed in the volume. The price will be 10s. 6d. post free, and as only a strictly limited edition is to be printed, those desiring copies should communicate at once with

JOHN MACKAY, Editor Celtic Monthly, GLASGOW.

This handsome volume is intended to provide clansmen with a full and reliable HISTORY OF THE CLAN MACKAY, at a price which will be within the reach of all. There are few of the Highland Clans whose history has been so thrilling, or who have emerged from a struggle against tremendous odds, extending over so many centuries, with such an honourable record. No person of the name can read the history of these wild and exciting times without feeling proud that he is a "Mackay," and bears a name which has become a proverb, the wide world o'er, for all that is upright, genuine, and of good report. Each chapter treats specially of the Mackay Country (Lord Reay's Country—Duthaich Mhic Aoidh), and a large number of fine half-tone process engravings are given of places of historic interest, ancient clan castles, churches, monuments, etc. Plate portraits of several notable clansmen and natives of the county also appear.

The chapter treating of the Regiments is specially interesting, the Clan Mackay having been so much identified with the raising of these gallant corps, and the story of the achievements of the famous Mackay regiment (The Strathnaver Invincibles), which Donald, the 1st Lord Reay, led during the great THIRTY YEARS' WAR on the Continent, is more exciting and "stranger than fiction."

The Edition de Luxe is already out of print, and copies command a large price. As only a few of the 8vo edition are now left, those desiring copies (price, 3/- post free) should apply at once to

JOHN MACKAY, Hon. Secy.,

IMPORTANT TO CLANSMEN.

THE CELTIC MONTHLY:

AN ILLUSTRATED MAGAZINE FOR HIGHLANDERS.

(THE ORGAN OF THE CLAN MACKAY SOCIETY).

THE Celtic Monthly, which has already become so popular among Highlanders at home and abroad, was intended to serve as the organ of the various clan, county, Gaelic, and other Highland societies throughout the country, and by means of reports of meetings, and the publication of matters of interest to all Highlanders, to keep the scattered members of these societies in closer touch with each other.

Life-Like Portraits, with biographical sketches, of prominent members of the Clan Mackay, are given nearly every month, and these cannot fail to prove of special interest to members. Finely engraved Plate Portraits of the chiefs of the various clans, and of distinguished Celts, are also presented with each issue. Articles, stories, poems, etc., suitably illustrated, bearing on the clan and the Mackay country specially, and the Highlands generally, from the pens of the most competent authorities, find a place in our pages, while special attention is given to contributions in the Gaelic language. A Musical column, in which appear many of our most popular Gaelic melodies, is an interesting feature of the magazine, the music in many cases never having been before printed.

The Celtic Monthly is the only Highland magazine.

The Annual Subscription is 4/- (post free), and we trust that you will become a subscriber to the Monthly, and recommend it to your friends. Volume VI. commenced with the October number. We will be glad to send a specimen copy to any member making application.

The illustrations in the Celtic Monthly are admitted by the press to be among the finest examples of Art Printing in this country.

VOLUMES IV. & V., Handsomely Bound, Gilt, can be had, price 10/ each, Post free.
