PREFATORY NOTICE.

WE think it may be well to state here the reasons why the genealogical outlines of the families of Douglas of Mulderg and Robertson of Kindeace have been printed. They are the work of a descendant of the Douglas family, who lives amongst us, and has been known during the last thirty or forty years as a genealogist of great ability and possessing very wide information. This gentleman has frequently of late years been asked for information regarding these two families, therefore he has kindly complied with the request of some of those interested in the Douglas and Robertson families that his genealogical knowledge of them should be printed. The advantage of printing will be seen when it is understood that a large portion of the matter this book contains has not hitherto been published, and might easily be lost and forgotten, as many of the descendants of these families have not been proprietors of land and their representatives have gone to all quarters of the globe in order to make their fortunes. The habit of wandering far afield has rendered the collection of full particulars in some cases extremely difficult, and in others impossible; so, when there are errors in this book, they may, we hope, be pardoned, as great care has been taken in trying to avoid mistakes.

It is with considerable regret that the system of giving authorities for every sentence and word has been abandoned; but, if this plan is properly carried out, it increases the bulk of a book to a tremendous extent, and, owing to the long quotations necessary, renders a genealogy rather broken; also, if the system of giving authorities is not scrupulously adhered to, it leaves as much room for romance and false statements as there would be if no authorities were given. However, most of the quotations from documents and sasines in these two genealogies were kindly given by Sir James D. Mackenzie, Bart. of Scatwell and Tarbat, from the genealogical papers of his late brother, Lewis M. Mackenzie, Esq. of Findon; as well as by Charles Fraser-Mackintosh, Esq. of Drummond, who has most courteously allowed information to be reprinted from his valuable, and now scarce, work, "The Antiquarian Notes," which contains so much matter relating to the Robertsons of Inches and their descendants.

Much information has also been gathered from such books as Dr Hew Scot's important collection of particulars concerning Scotch ministers, the "Fasti Ecc. Sc.", as well as "The Origines Parochiales Scotia," "Northern Notes and Queries," and many other works of an historical character. Also contemporary MSS., and other sources, from which genealogical matter can be obtained, have been searched.

Regarding the origin of the Clan Robertson, nothing has been said, as it has been considered better to begin that genealogy from a distinct and clear ancestor, rather than to try and find the name of their progenitor through a mist of years, which has allowed even great authorities to arrange the Robertson origin according to fancy, and to carry them down, unsupported by contemporary evidence, until a firm foothold could be found. The remote origins, through a string of names, given to Clans may be pleasing to some people on account of great antiquity, but to those who think about genealogies these wild flights of speculation or romance make a work absurd, and cast suspicion and doubt on the portions treating of a later date, which are probably really honest and worthy of credence.

Sincere and grateful thanks are due to the following for their kindness in giving information:—Sir James D. Mackenzie, Bart. of Scatwell and Tarbat; Charles Fraser-Mackintosh, Esq. of Drummond; George Mackay, Esq., M.D., Edinburgh; Charles Robertson, Esq. of Kindeace; Mrs Robertson of Chilcote; Miss Mary Eleanor Robertson; Mrs Douglas of The Rock, Isle of Man; William Munro, Esq. of Balerno; A. A. Bethune-Baker, Esq.; George Bain, Esq. of Rosebank, Nairn; Alexander Bain, Esq., Gilgarren; The Rev. A. W. Cornelius Hallen, of Alloa, Editor of "Northern Notes and Queries"; Raymond Tinne Berthon, Esq., and many others who have given invaluable assistance. The late Mrs Balfour-Melville of Pilrig and Straith Kennes was also most kind in lending her papers, which contained the result of continued research for genealogical information regarding her own family, their ancestors and connections.

The orthography of the names of persons and places, in printing from these MSS., has been strictly followed. Since going into press some further information has been forthcoming, which is given in Addenda I. and II.; also several errors are rectified in the Corrigenda.

THE DOUGLASSES OF MULDERG.

THE exact date at which the Douglasses settled in Ross-shire cannot now with accuracy be ascertained. But the traditions of the family uniformly assert that they came from Lanarkshire to the North about the time of the Reformation.

It appears from reliable evidence that they were located about the Abbey of Fearn, in Easter Ross, at the latter part of the sixteenth century, and possessed landed property in the seventeenth and early part of the eighteenth century, in the parishes of Fearn and of Kiltearn.

In the Valuation Roll, 1644, of the Sheriffdom of Inverness, including Ross, Hector Douglas I. of Mulderg is styled "of Mulderg;" his rental in Fearn parish is marked £1540 Scots, and in Kiltearn parish £533 6s 8d Scots. In 1646 he was one of those selected to make a loan, his name and the amount appearing in a list discerned at Aberdeen thus—"Hector Douglas, Elder of Mulderg, £1333 6s 8d Scots."

Hector Douglas IV. of Mulderg was appointed one of the Commissioners of Supply for the Sheriffdom of Ross in 1661. In 1662 he was fined £2400 for non-conformity to Scottish Episcopacy, the highest fine being that of Mackenzie, Kilcoy, £6000, who is said to have been a pious man. The second largest was that of the excellent Sir Robert Munro, Baronet of Fowlis, £3600. The third highest was that of Hector Douglas, Mulderg. He was in good company, for Wodrow, the historian, testifies relative to those who were fined, "that so far as he could learn anything about them, generally speaking, they were persons of the best morals and most shining piety in the places where they lived, and chargeable with nothing but being Presbyterians. Middleton thought that all the fines would have come into his own hands, as well as the estate of the Marquis of Argyle; but of all this he was disappointed, as the money came to other hands. But the fines were uplifted and much more by military force" (see Wodrow's History, vol. I., page 271).

From the title deeds of the property of Mulderg in the possession of the present proprietor, it appears that there was a "Hector Douglas, younger," in 1647; also that a "Hector Douglas died in 1675." The Douglas family ceased as proprietors of Mulderg in 1718. Some of the Douglasses also possessed the estate of Rainy, which adjoins that of Mulderg to the north and north-east. Both these properties were possessed by the Maccullochs at a later date.

The Douglasses of Mulderg and of Kiltearn were the same family, and their burying-grounds in both parishes can be pointed out.

Below is a copy of the initials in the burying-ground of the Douglasses in the aisle adjoining the Abbey of Fearn at the north-east.

As far as can be discovered the "I" here signifies interred.

The burying-ground of the Douglasses in Kiltearn is at the east gable of the Parish Church, surrounded by a high iron railing attached to the gable of the Church, and several tombstones on pillars along the gable within the railing.

DESCENT OF THE DOUGLAS FAMILY.

I. HECTOR DOUGLAS I. of Mulderg was proprietor as early as 1630, for his son Hector was then "apparent of Mulderg." According to "Northern Notes and Queries," Hector the elder married Janet Ross, but it is more likely his wife was H. Ross—see the initials on the Douglas tomb at Fearn, where he and his wife are buried. He was living 1647, but died before September, 1653, leaving issue:—

1. Hector, his successor, of whom below as II. of Mulderg.

2. Agnes, married to the Rev. Thomas Mackenzie III. of Inverlael, parish of Lochbroom, Archdean of Ross. They had sasine of lands in Kincardine, 28th June, 1641; and she had sasine of lands of Cadboll, 26th January, 1653, and was still living in 1669. The Rev. Thomas Mackenzie, who died 7th April, 1665, and was buried at Fearn, had been admitted minister of Tarbat, 1633, but he deserted his charge in 1635, and went to Ireland, from whence he returned and took up his residence in Ross-shire, being admitted at Killearnan prior to 2nd November, 1638. He was second son and eventually heir of the Rev. John Mackenzie I. of Inverlael, Archdean of Ross, who purchased the estate of Inverlael from Lord Lovat in 1610, having married, 31st May, 1606, Margaret or Janet Innes, daughter and co-heir of William Innes of Calrossie, and grand-daughter of Walter Innes of Calrossie, and his wife Margaret, daughter of Lauchlan Mackintosh of Mackintosh (who was murdered by some of his clan, 1524) by his wife Jean, only daughter of Alexander Gordon of Lochinver. The Laird of Inverlael and Agnes Douglas had issue—(1) John IV. of Inverlael, who married a daughter of Ross of Balnagown, 1670; (2) Thomas, W.S., died unmarried; (3) a daughter, according to tradition the wife of Hector Douglas V. of Mulderg; (4) a daughter, second wife of Sir Kenneth Mackenzie, 1st Baronet of Coul, had issue.

3. Isabella, married (contract dated 11th November, 1639), as his second wife, to Mr William Ross V. of Shandwick, who died 20th April, 1663, by whom she had three daughters. Isabella Douglas married, secondly, Andrew Fearn, portioner of Pitcullen.

II. HECTOR DOUGLAS II. of Mulderg married, about 12th August, 1630, Bessie Gray, eldest daughter of George Gray of Skibo, Sheriff-Depute of Sutherland. On 6th September, 1653, "Hector Douglas" was retoured "heir of his father, Hector Douglas of Mulderg." He died before 9th July, 1656, and Bessie Gray married, secondly, Andrew Ross, Provost of Tain, who died before 8th August, 1668. She was living 4th March, 1670, for she was then liferentrix of Mulderg. Hector Douglas and Bessie Gray had issue—(1) Robert Douglas, of whom below as III. of Mulderg; (2) Hector Douglas, of whom below as IV. of Mulderg; (3) a son, — Douglas, who married and had issue a son, Hector Douglas V. of Mulderg, successor to his uncle, Hector Douglas IV. of Mulderg in 1676.

III. ROBERT DOUGLAS III. of Mulderg (son of Hector Douglas and Bessie Gray) succeeded in or before 1656, and married Jane, daughter of the Honourable Simon Mackenzie of Lochslin, son of Kenneth the first Lord Kintail. Marriage contract dated 9th July, 1656, "between Robert Douglas of Mulderg, eldest lawful son to deceased Hector Douglas and Jean, eldest lawful daughter to Simon, brother german to George, Earl of Seaforth." Robert Douglas died before 1661, and Jean Mackenzie, his widow, married, secondly, Sir James Grant of Moyness, in Nairnshire. She died in 1707. Robert Douglas having no male issue the estate passed to his brother.

IV. HECTOR DOUGLAS IV. of Mulderg (son of Hector II. of Mulderg and Bessie Gray), who married Margaret, eldest daughter of David Ross III. of Pitcalnie by his wife Margaret, second daughter of Alexander Mackenzie of Kilcoy. Sasine on marriage contract of Hector and Margaret 4th March, 1670. Hector Douglas IV. of Mulderg died about 1675, and was buried at Fearn. He having no male issue was succeeded by his nephew.

V. HECTOR DOUGLAS V. of Mulderg, son of — Douglas and grandson of Hector II. of Mulderg and Bessie Gray. On the 4th April, 1676, "Hector Douglas of Mulderg" was retoured "heir of Hector Douglas of Mulderg, his uncle on the father's side." He married his first cousin once removed, a daughter of the Rev. Thomas Mackenzie III. of Inverlael, by whom he had issue—

1. Hector Douglas VI. of Mulderg, Sergeant in the 3rd Regiment of Foot Guards. He sold some lands to the Maccullochs in 1718.

2. Robert Douglas, Ketwell, in Kiltearn. He was twice married, and had issue by both wives. See under the heading "The Descendants of Robert Douglas."

3. Christian Douglas, married to George Robertson in Balcony, and had issue. See under the heading "The Descendants of Christian Douglas."

4. Flora Douglas, married to William Aird, farmer, Wester Kincaig, and had issue. See under the heading "The Descendants of Flora Douglas."

4. Anne Robertson (only daughter of the Reverend Gilbert Robertson, minister of Kincardine, county Ross), born 2nd March, 1750, married 17th November, 1772, to the Reverend George Rainy, who was admitted minister of Creich, county Sutherland, 2nd April, 1771. He died 18th October, 1810, aged 77. Mrs Rainy died in Glasgow 13th August, 1833. Mr Rainy was a native of Aberdeenshire, and, therefore, unacquainted with Gaelic. During the latter part of his course at the Divinity Hall, when tutor in a gentleman's family in the parish of Kilmuir-Easter, county Ross, he was highly esteemed for his piety by the eminent minister of that parish, the Rev. John Portius, and urged by him to study Gaelic. He acquired a number of vocables, and could speak it fluently, but failed in acquiring the proper pronunciation, which is difficult to any but a native Highlander. He must have been a man of ability when he acquired the knowledge of it which he did, for at that time no Grammar or Dictionary of the language was available. But his own congregation understood him well. The Rev. Mr Sage of Resolis, who knew Mr Rainy intimately, says of him in his Memorabilia that he "was a very model of a sincere practical Christian, and preached the Gospel by his life; that when his congregation connected the doctrine which he taught in the pulpit with his intercourse amongst them, his sanctified dispositions and warmth of heart, they forgot the liberties which he took with their language and listened with attention, because they were convinced that they heard the Truth from the lips of one of its most faithful ministers." Mrs Rainy was pious, the impersonation of motherly kindness, and the beau idéal of a minister's wife. Mr and Mrs Rainy had issue—

(1). Margaret Rainy, died in infancy.

(2). Margaret Rainy, born 16th April, 1774, married to Charles Stewart Parker, of Fairlie, Ayrshire, a West India merchant; Mrs Parker died at Gourock, 17th January, 1844. From her youth she was distinguished for her piety; her excellent father was wont to say of her that "really Margaret ought to be in the Pulpit." By the great Dr Chalmers, who was intimately acquainted with her, she was held in the highest esteem. In his speech at the Free Church General Assembly, Inverness, in August, 1845, he said of her, "that she was one of the best and truest Christian friends he ever had on earth." She had issue—(1*a*) Charles Stewart Parker, merchant, of Liverpool, born 15th June, 1800, married 26th May, 1826, to his second cousin, Anne, daughter of Samuel Sandbach of Woodlands, and had issue. ## THE DESCENDANTS OF FLORA DOUGLAS.

FLORA DOUGLAS (daughter of Hector Douglas, V. of Mulderg) was married to William Aird, farmer, Wester Kincaig, parish of Rosskeen (this marriage must have taken place before 1700). They had issue—

I. George Aird, farmer of Culkinne, now called Milcraig, parish of Rosskeen. He was in Captain George Munro of Culcairn's Company in the Black Watch (now the 42nd Regiment) when Captain Munro was killed at Locharkaig in August, 1746. George Aird died at Newmore at a very advanced age, having married and had issue—

1. John Aird, Teaninich, who married and had issue. He died in 1823, much past 80 years of age.

2. William Aird, farmer, Contlick, and then of Multavie in the parish of Alness. He married a daughter of Patrick Macarthur, in the parish of Cawdor, and died 16th March, 1833, aged 87, having had issue—George, Isabella, and Flora. Their descendants emigrated.

II. John Aird, married, firstly, his cousin, Janet Robertson, daughter of George Robertson, Balcony, and of his wife, Christian Douglas. Issue—

1. Christina Aird.

2. Elizabeth Aird, married Alexander Munro, Drummond.

John Aird married, secondly, Catherine Ross, sister of Donald Ross, farmer, Nonekilm, parish of Rosskeen. Issue—

1. Anne Aird, married to Donald Kemp, Park and Sowar-dale, in Kiltearn parish. Issue—(1*a*) George Kemp; (2*a*) David Kemp; (3*a*) Donald Kemp, in Clair, parish of Kiltearn.

2.  $\left\{ \begin{array}{l} \text{George Aird, died abroad.} \\ \text{Donald Aird, died 1853, aged about 90, having} \end{array} \right.$

3. Twins  $\left\{ \begin{array}{l} \text{married and left issue, who emigrated.} \end{array} \right.$

4. Flora Aird, died unmarried.

5. David Aird, died unmarried.

John Aird was in Lord Loudon's Regiment in 1745-6. He had a farm at one time in the east end of the parish of Creich, and then in Newmore, parish of Rosskeen, where he died in 1788, very aged. John Aird and his brother George were with their parents in the Church of Nonekilm, parish of Rosskeen, when it fell in 1714 during Divine service, but they escaped uninjured.

III. William Aird (son of William Aird and Flora Douglas) had the farm of Torran, and afterwards of Heathfield, in the parish of Kilmuir-Easter. He married Elizabeth Munro, daughter of William Munro, farmer, Invergordon, and his wife, Janet Squair. William Aird died in January, 1797, aged 82. Issue—

1. Janet Aird, married to — Rose, teacher in Ardclack, and had issue.

2. Flora Aird, married Donald Murray, farmer, Tuchendown, parish of Rosskeen. They left issue who emigrated. She died about 1833, aged 80.

3. Rebeka Aird, married to George Graham, Invergordon, and had issue who emigrated.

4. Mary Aird, died unmarried about 1826, aged 82.

5. Gustavus Aird, J.P., born 6th May, 1752, married 24th June, 1797, Ann, eldest daughter of John Grant, farmer of Polnical, parish of Kilmuir-Easter, by his wife Margaret, daughter of the Rev. George Grant, minister of Kirkmichael, county Banff, from 1725 to 1772. Margaret Grant's mother was Ann, daughter of the Rev. James Chapman, minister successively of Cawdor and of Cromdale from 1699 to 1737, by Ann, daughter of Cuthbert of Castlehill, who fought under Gustavus Adolphus, and was present at the battle of Lutzen in 1633. John Grant, farmer of Polnical, was son of Gregor Grant, farmer of Polnical, and grandson of William Grant of Ardoch, now called Pointzfield, parish of Resolis, by his second wife, Kate Mackenzie. The contract of marriage of William Grant of Ardoch and Kate Mackenzie was dated 23rd November, 1680. She was daughter of Colin Mackenzie, II. of Kincaig (who married Agnes, daughter of Duncan Bayne of Delny), and grand-daughter of Colin Mackenzie, I. of Kincaig. William Grant of Ardoch was son of John Grant of Moyness, and grandson of James Grant of Logie, sometimes called of Ardneidlie and of Edenhill (who died before 1623), and his wife Katherine, daughter of William Rose of Kilravock. James Grant of Logie was a younger son of Duncan Grant of Freuchie, or Grant, and grandson of John Grant of Freuchie, or Grant, and his wife, Lady Marjory Stewart, daughter of John, 3rd Earl of Athol, and grand-daughter of John, 2nd Earl of Athol, and Lady Mary Campbell. Gustavus Aird died at Heathfield 13th May, 1835. Ann Grant (Mrs G. Aird) died 24th March, 1859, aged 88. Issue—

(1) Elizabeth Aird, born 13th April, 1798, died in Tain, 11th February, 1843, married 23rd December, 1831, to George Murray, merchant, Tain, who died 11th February, 1879, aged 81.

THE ROBERTSONS OF KINDEACE, COUNTY ROSS.

THE name by which the Robertsons are known is "Clan-donachaidh." Their genealogy cannot be commenced prior to the time of Andrew de Atholia, who was father of DUNCAN DE ATHOLIA, EARL OF ATHOL from whom the Clan takes its name. He was a great warrior, and a firm supporter of the cause of Robert Bruce. When a very aged man he fought, in company with his son Robert, at the battle of Durham against the English, 12th October, 1346. He married a daughter of Callum Ruaidh Leannach (the Gaelic name of Malcolm, 5th Earl of Lennox), by whom he had a son and successor, Robert. Duncan de Atholia married, secondly, one of the co-heirs of Ewen de Insulis, Thane of Glentilt, by whom he had issue—Patrick, progenitor of the Robertsons of Lude, Thomas, and Gibbon. He had a Charter, dated December, 1355, from John, Bishop of Dunkeld—"Nobili viro Duncano, filio Andree de Atholia, et heredibus suis masculis terrarum de Adulia;" and dying soon afterwards was succeeded by his eldest son, ROBERT DE ATHOLIA, Bailie of the Earldom of Athol. He appears in the Chamberlain Rolls of Scotland, 1358, thus—"Et nihil hic de exitibus Curiae vice comitatus, pro tempore computationis quod cecidit, nisi de hiis, de quibus extitit, deforciammentum per Robertum, filium Dumcani, filium Andree de Atholia, super quod consulatur Rex." He married, firstly, one of the co-heirs of Sir John de Striveling of Glenesk, and had by her an only daughter, Jean, married to Alexander de Meyners of Fothergill.

He married, secondly, it has been stated, one of the co-heirs of Ferdill, situated in the Stormont, in Perthshire. He undoubtedly acquired one half of the lands of Ferdill, as there is a Crown Charter for them—thus: “Carta Roberti fil. Duncani de Atholia,” &c., &c.—in the Printed Record of the Great Seal, page 28, No. 42, dated 24th May, 1363. He was succeeded by his son by the second wife, viz.,

DUNCAN (CROSDA) DE ATHOLIA, who appears in the Rotuli Scotiae, Vol. II., page 277, where he is designed as “Duncanus de Atholia, dominus de Rannoch.” He was a hostage in England for the ransom of King James I., and is mentioned in the same way as above in the year 1432, in Rymers Foedera, Vol. IV., part 4, page 180. When a man of advanced years he granted, on 20th January, 1438, a charter for some lands to the Dean of Dunkeld, in which he was called “Dominus de Strowan.” He married (according to Douglas’s “Baronage of Scotland” a lady of the name of Graham) and died leaving issue, Robert, a very celebrated chief, progenitor of the barons of Strowan, chiefs of the Clan, and a second son, viz.,

DUNCAN, who became progenitor of the Robertsons of Inches, county Inverness. He settled as a merchant in Inverness during the reign of King James I., and died leaving a son and heir,

ROBERT, who carried on his father’s business in Inverness, and being a successful merchant, became possessed of lands and houses in the neighbourhood of that town. He died, leaving a son and heir,

JOHN ROBERTSON, the first of this branch of the Clan to assume the surname of Robertson. He granted a charter, 20th April, 1448, to William Michael, Burgess of Inverness, of a particate of land in “Doomsdale,” Inverness, in which he is described as John, son and heir of Robert, son and heir of Duncan. John Robertson died in the reign of King James III. He had issue—Laurence and William. The elder son,

LAURENCE ROBERTSON, purchased a slated house in Inverness from the Monastery there. Charter for the same granted to "Laurence Robertstone by Henry Dewar, pryor of the Monasterie and Convent of Inverness, with the consent of the remanent breitheren, of one ruid of land in the head of the Bridge Street callit Sklaet House," dated 20th July, 1517. He married, and died leaving issue, a son,

JOHN ROBERTSON, Burgess of Inverness, served heir of his father in the reign of King James V. He died without issue, and was succeeded by his uncle,

WILLIAM ROBERTSON, Burgess of Inverness, as shown by the "Service and Sasine in favour of William Robertson as heir to John Robertson, his nephew, son to Laurence, in roods, burgage lands, and housés, in Inverness and pertinents," 8th January, 1536. On the 18th October, 1522, there was an "Assedation by the Magistrates and Council of Inverness to William Robertson, Burgess of Inverness, of a timber shop appended to the Tolbooth." William Robertson married, and died leaving a son,

JOHN ROBERTSON, Provost and Burgess of Inverness, a very strong and courageous man, hence he obtained the sobriquet of "Stalwart John." He acted as Lord Lovat's standard-bearer at the battle of Loch Lochy, 1544, fought between the Frasers and Macdonalds, and known to the Highlanders as "Blar-na-Leine" or the battle of the shirts. John Robertson was a successful merchant, and lived at a place still called "Robertson's Field," at Kinmylies, close to the Burgh. He married, firstly, a daughter of Hugh Rose of Kilravock, by whom he had issue, William, the elder, progenitor of the Robertsons of Inches; and Laurence, Burgess of Inverness, both living 1590. John Robertson married, secondly, Janet Simpson, as shown by the following:—"Instrument of resignation by John Robertson, Burgess of Inverness, to Janet Symmondson, for her life rent of a rude of land on the Bridge Street," 28th October, 1551, and a " Charter by Janet Simpson in favour of John Robertson, her husband, and sasine of two roods of land in Doomsdale Street," 24th April, 1568, also, by an " Instrument of Sasine in favour of John Robertson and Janet Symondsone, his spouse, of the foresaid two roods in Demsdell," 6th April, 1570. John Robertson had issue by his second wife—

I. William Robertson the younger, of whom below as first proprietor of Kindeace.

II. James Robertson, progenitor of the Robertsons of Ship-land.

III. John Robertson, married and had issue.

IV. A daughter married to a son of Lord Lovat.

WILLIAM ROBERTSON the younger, Burgess of Inverness, was born before 1576. He carried on a good business in Inverness, and in 1615 purchased the lands of Urchany, county Nairn. In 1629 William Robertson purchased the lands, &c., of Kindeace, from which lands this branch of the family has since taken its title "of Kindeace." On 19th March, 1631, there was a charter under the Great Seal, to " Willielmo Robertson, burgen de Invernys, villae et terrarum de Easter Kindeace, &c., &c." He married Elspeth, daughter of the Rev. Thomas Howeson, minister of Inverness. The name of William Robertson of Kindeace appears in the Valuation Roll of the Sherifffdom of Inverness, including Ross, 1644, as a proprietor in the parishes of Kingscairn, Strath-hockel, Rosskeen, and Nonekill. William Robertson of Kindeace died after 1646, having had issue,

I. William Robertson, who predeceased his father, without issue.

II. Mr George Robertson of Kindeace, who died before 7th June, 1636.

III. Gilbert Robertson, of whom below as II. of Kindeace.

IV. David Robertson, progenitor of the Robertsons, farmers of Drumnahoy, in the parish of Cluny, county Aberdeen. He was living, 1646. Now represented by James Elsmie, Esq., of Aberdeen, and by the descendants of the Rev. Alexander Cushny, D.D., Minister of Rayne, who married Ann Robertson, the elder daughter of the Rev. Alexander Robertson, of Coul, in the Presbytery of Kincardine O'Neil, by his wife, Mary, youngest daughter of Mr Robertson of Drumnahoy. David Robertson went from Inverness-shire and settled at Cluny, where he had the farm of Drumnahoy. He had issue,

1. John Robertson, farmer of Drumnahoy, who died aged forty years, and was succeeded by his son,

(1). James Robertson, farmer of Drumnahoy, born 1663, died aged 98 or 100, and had issue—(1*a*) Andrew Robertson of Drumnahoy, merchant and brewer in Aberdeen, and also an Elder of the Kirk. He died about 1765, aged 82 years. (2*a*) A daughter, married to Mr Elsmie, and had issue—(1*b*) James Elsmie, who had his uncle's farm of Drumnahoy, and was ancestor of James Elsmie, Esq., and of George R. Elsmie, nephew to Mr James Elsmie, of Aberdeen.

V. Mathew Robertson of Docharty, or Dochcarty. There was a Mathew Robertson of Docharty in 1660 who married Margaret, daughter of Colin Mackenzie of Tarvie, and had a daughter, Margaret Robertson, married (contract dated 1680) to Thomas Mackenzie of Cleanwaters.

VI. John Robertson.

VII. A daughter, married to Finlay Skinner, merchant in Inverness.

VIII. Margaret Robertson, married before 16th February, 1638, to Robert Mackintosh in Borlum, brother of Lauchlan Mackintosh of Borlum. He became Robert Mackintosh of Lynvuilg, but disposed of that property to his brother before 30th July, 1651. See sasines of these dates.

IX. A daughter, married to Robert Rose of Markine, Provost of Inverness. For her issue see the printed genealogy of the Roses of Kilravock.

GILBERT ROBERTSON II. of Kindeace, merchant and burgess of Inverness. On the 7th June, 1636, he had a retour as heir male of his brother, Mr George Robertson of Kindeace, in the house and lands of "Eister Kindeace," and on the 10th January, 1643, as "haeres Magistri Georgii Robertstone, filli legitimi Willielmi Robertstone de Kindeis fratris," in the house and lands of Pitogartie. He married Margaret Mackenzie, daughter of Colin Mackenzie I. of Kincairg, as proved by the following sasine, 18th July, 1638, to "Margaret Mackenzie, fil. sen. leg. Colini Mackenzie de Kincairg, by Gilbert Robertson, fiar of Kindeis, with the consent of William Robertson, his father, of her liferent jointure lands as his future spouse." She married, secondly, John, son of Hugh Ross of Auchnacloch. On 31st August, 1649, Gilbert Robertson purchased Morewater and Pitmaduthie from Walter Ross, and on the 17th April, 1650, there was a renunciation of Easter Kindeace in favour of Gilbert Robertson. Gilbert Robertson of Kindeace (who died before 1669) and Margaret Mackenzie, his wife, had issue three sons and one daughter, viz.—

I. William Robertson, who predeceased his father.

II. Colin Robertson, of whom as III. of Kindeace.

III. Francis Robertson, in Balcony, parish of Kiltearn, county Ross. On the 12th April, 1697, "John Bethine of Culniskea and Francis Robertson in Balconie" gave in a petition to the Session of Kiltearn to know what would be their share of what had been spent on the Kirk and Manse in 1691 and 1696, and in June, 1697, "Francis Robertson in Balconie and Gilbert Robertson, his son," contributed towards the repairing of the bridges of Skeak and Culcairn waters. He married Helen Ross, daughter of Hugh Ross of Easterfearn. Francis Robertson in Balcony and Helen Ross were buried in the Robertson buryingground, enclosed by an iron railing in the north-west corner of the Churchyard at Kiltearn, where there is a gravestone with the following inscription* on it :—

Here lyes the ashes of Helen Ross, sometimes Spouse to Francis Robertson, in Balcony, who departed this life the 5th of February, one thousand six hundred and twenty-seven.

* The date in this inscription is not correct, a by no means uncommon thing in monuments. It should be one thousand seven hundred and twenty-seven, for there is positive proof in contemporary MSS. that Francis Robertson, in Balcony, was living in 1697, his wife being daughter of Ross of Easterfern; also, the inscription shows by the word "sometimes" that Helen Ross was a widow at the time of her death.

born 1st August, 1765, married 5th March, 1804, Laura Dorothea (who died 1848), third daughter of his uncle, William Sutherland Ross, by his wife, Miss Hannah M. Owen. He died 1852. (7*c*) Eben William Robertson, Esq., II. of Chilcote, county Derby, J.P., D.L., born 17th September, 1815, married 11th June, 1838, Isabella, youngest daughter of William Manly Colgrave, Esq. of Bracebridge, county Leicester, and his wife, Catherine, eldest daughter of General Sir John Fraser, G.C.B. Issue—(1*d*) Katherine; (2*d*) Isabella; (3*d*) Francis Robertson, Esq., III. of Chilcote, county Derby, and of Netherseal Hall, county Leicester, born 15th October, 1849, married, 1881, Mary Katherine, daughter of Major Douglas Halkett, and grand-daughter of the late John Halkett, Governor of the Bahamas, and his second wife, Lady Katherine Douglas, daughter of Dunbar, 4th Earl of Selkirk. Francis Robertson died, without issue, 1882.

2. Hugh Robertson, in Balcony, farmer, married A. R. He and his wife are buried at Kiltarn. Issue—

(1). The Rev. Andrew Robertson, minister successively of Farr, county Sutherland, 1727 to 1731, and of Kiltarn, county Ross, 1731 to 1769, licensed by the Presbytery of Tongue 19th May, 1725. He married Mary Oswald (who died 29th January, 1787), aunt of the late Mr Oswald of Scotsburn, and died 6th July, 1769. Issue—(1*a*) Harry, merchant in Glasgow. (2*a*) A daughter, married to Bailie Millar of Tain, and had issue.

(2). Hugh Robertson, farmer, of Balcony, married Ann, daughter of Robert Douglas in Ketwell, and had issue (see under the heading "The Descendants of Robert Douglas" in the account of the Douglasses of Mulderg).

(3). William Robertson, tenant at Teaninich, Alness, died October, 1770, married Catherine Ross, who died May, 1760. They were both buried at Kiltearn. Issue—(1*a*) John, of the Bank, Glasgow. He was the only owner of a private carriage in Glasgow at one time. Issue—two sons and six daughters. One son was called John Murdoch. Two Miss Robertsons at Largs and Mrs Spens Munro were descended from John of the Bank. (2*a*) Andrew, merchant of Glasgow, married to Ramsay (who died a widow between 1815 and 1818), daughter of Bailie Millar of Tain. Issue—(1*b*) John, an M.D. who lived at Rothesay, and had a son, Andrew, an officer in the Army. (2*b*) A daughter, married to William Eccles, a West Indian merchant, and had issue. (3*a*) William, merchant of Glasgow, died unmarried. Robertson Street, Glasgow, was called after him. (4*a*) The Rev. Dr George, minister of Campbelltown, Argyllshire, died (leaving issue) 8th September, 1820, aged 85. (5*a*) Gilbert, died abroad. (4). Janet Robertson, married to Robert Douglas, Balcony, and had issue (see under the heading "The Descendants of Robert Douglas" in the account of the Douglasses of Mulderg).

3. George Robertson, in Balcony, farmer, married before 1699, Christian, daughter of Hector Douglas, V. of Mulderg, and had issue (see under the heading "The Descendants of Christian Douglas"). George Robertson was apparently living at the time of the death of his son, Robert, as he is not called "late" in the following inscription for a monument written by the Rev. Gilbert Robertson of Kincardine :—

Here are deposited the relies of Mr Robert Robertson, son to George Robertson, in Balcony, a pious and judicious youth, who departed
this life, June 29, 1723.
As for me I will behold Thy face in righteousness.
I shall be satisfied when I awake with Thy likeness.—Psalm xvii., 15.

IV. Janet Robertson, married to Alexander Ross of Easterfearn, son of Hugh Ross of Easterfearn. Alexander Ross was retoured heir of his brother german, Thomas Ross of Easterfearn, 15th August, 1694. Alexander Ross was a Commissioner of Supply 1685, 1689, and 1690. He died before 30th January, 1699, having had a large family by his wife, Janet, who died before 24th January, 1700. Janet Robertson had issue (with others)—

1. William Ross of Easterfearn, Bailie of Tain, who died 1727, having had with other sons and a daughter, Isobel Ross, wife of Thomas Ross of Calrossie, and mother of Katherine Ross, who married John Munro of Culcairn, and was great-grand-mother of George William Holmes Ross, Esq., of Cromarty. Walter, third son of William Ross of Easterfearn, died 2nd October, 1721, of wounds received in Kintail while trying to collect the rents of the forfeited Seaforth Estates.

2. Alexander Ross of Little Daan, W.S., died in London, 4th March, 1753, having had issue—David Ross, the famous tragedian, to whom his father (in his will proved in London) left a shilling a year to be paid on David's birthday, the 1st May, to remind him that he had better not have been born.

Elizabeth Ross (heiress of her father), who died July, 1793, married Hugh Ross of Kerse, Bailie of Tain, who, in June, 1721, killed Hugh Ross VI. of Achnacloich in a duel at Tain. She had several children.

3. Robert Ross, Bailie of Tain, who married Janet, daughter of Alexander Ross of Little Tarrell, and had, with others, Janet Ross, who married John Mackenzie, "Shipmaster," Cromarty, and was a widow 1745, and mother of Jean Mackenzie, who married Robert White, of the parish of St James', Westminster. He went to Tripoli in 1751 as Consul, and died 29th November, 1763, when the affairs of the Consulate were left in the care of his widow. Mrs White had only two children, namely—(1*a*) Robert White, Vice-Consul of Tripoli, died there 1769. The Arms of Charles Robertson, Esq., now of Kindeace.

ARMS:—Quarterly, 1st and 4th, “Gules, three wolves’ heads, erased, Argent, armed and langued, Azure, within a bordure, engrailed, of the First,” for Robertson; 2nd and 3rd, “Argent, three boars’ heads, coupé, Sable, armed and langued, Gules, within a bordure, of the Last,” for Cruikshank. On a compartment under the arms, a wild man in chains lying.

CRESTS:—“A dexter arm holding up an imperial crown, Proper,” also “a swan, Proper.”

MOTTOS:—“Virtutis Gloria Merces” and “Vite faciendo nemine timeas.”

It is doubtful if the Robertsons of Kindeace should not also quarter the arms of the Robertsons of Shipland, which Mr Robertson of Kindeace gives as—

ARMS:—“Gules a water budget, between three wolves’ heads, erased, Argent, armed and langued, Azure.”

CREST:—“A dexter arm holding up an imperial crown, Proper.”

MOTTO:—“Corde Manuque.”

Arms of the Descendants of Provost Andrew Robertson of Dingwall.

ARMS :—" Gules three wolves' heads, erased, Argent, armed and langued, Azure," with a wild man in chains lying under the escutcheon.

CREST :—" A dexter hand holding up an imperial crown, Proper."

MOTTO :—" Virtutis Gloria Merces."

The Arms, Crest, and Motto, of the Robertsons in the parish of Kiltearn, and of Chilcote Hall, were the same as those of Provost Andrew Robertson of Dingwall.

Copy of a letter from Charles Robertson, Esq. of Kindeace, to Raymond Tinne Berthon, Esq.:—

Kindeace, Delny, Ross-shire, N.B., 6th Nov., 1892.

DEAR SIR,—I am sorry I cannot give you all the information you want, but I have looked up Strowan's old old book and have found there some writing, either my grandfather's or great-grandfather's, on the margin of the writ of the family of Gilbert Robertson, II. of Kindeace. The printed part says he had three sons and two daughters, thus:—

1. William
2. Colin.
3. ———, and two daughters, Frances and Janet.

But the correction in the faded writing is different, and reads as follows:—

1. William.
2. Colin.

* 3. ——— [and two daughters], Frances, "one daughter, Janet, who married, and had children—Gilbert, George, and others."

I have copied the corrections, only adding quotation marks. You will see that it leaves Frances as the third son's name, though spelt with an "c." Frances is a woman's name generally. I think I can explain how George came to be put in by Burke. You mentioned 1838 as the date in which it first appears. I find from a document of my father's that he gave the name as George in 1828, and sent it to Mr Colburn, New Burlington Street. On what authority he gave the name as George, I do not know.

Believe me,

Yours very truly,

(Signed) CHARLES ROBERTSON.

* NOTE.—The words "and two daughters" are obliterated in original. This proves that Francis was the third son, for, if there had been two daughters, the words quoted would not have been obliterated, and "one daughter" written in their stead. On the other hand, if there had been no child called Francis, the name "Frances" would have been obliterated at the same time as the words "and two daughters." Therefore Francis was the third son

Extract from a letter dated 27th August, 1894, written to Mr A. M. Ross, Publisher, Dingwall:—

“Some considerable time ago I sent to —— a note to serve as the foundation of an introduction to his book. This told that the Douglasses appeared in Ross-shire about the time that the Earl of Morton, Regent for Scotland, and a Douglas, claiming to be the representative of that great family, was beheaded.

“This Earl favoured what was called the Reformed Church, as against the Roman Catholic or Jacobite party, who for a time got the upper hand.

“The tradition—for if any documents exist, I know not of them—was common among descendants of Easter Ross Douglasses in my early youth, that they were descended from some of the Earl of Morton’s followers, who fled there during his accusation and death. Manifestly they were possessed of some means or influence, for they immediately acquired land.

“The Morton Douglas family have been Reformers and Whigs, as against the Jacobite faction of the families now represented by Home and Queensberry.”

The value of this tradition cannot be ascertained, but it may be well to state that the arms, crest, and motto borne by the descendants of the Douglasses of Mulderg are exactly the same as those borne by the Queensberry family, except that the wings in the crest are dove colour instead of or.

Page 38.—Annie Marion Darroch married the Hon. Gilbert James Duke Coleridge, born 1859, barrister-at-law, youngest son of John, 1st Lord Coleridge, Lord Chief Justice of England.

ADDENDA II.

Page 21.—George Robertson in Baleony and Christian Douglas had, besides Ann* (Mrs Munro of Lealtie), another daughter called Ann, who was some years junior to Mrs Munro. Ann Robertson, junior, married Andrew Fraser of Suardell, tacksman, a cadet of the Struy family, and had issue—

(1). George Fraser of Creich, married, 1772, Helen, daughter of Angus Sutherland, in Kincardine, and Janet Ross of Invercarron, his wife. Issue—(1*a*) Angus, in Dornoch, born 1773, died 1833, married, 1800, Elizabeth, daughter of William Sutherland of Shibereross. Issue—(1*b*) William Sutherland Fraser, Procurator-Fiscal of Sutherland, 1833 to 1889, born 1801, died unmarried 1889. (2*b*) Helen, born 1802, died unmarried 1883. (3*b*) George, in Grenada, born 1804, died 1855, married, 1838, Emily Jane Ker. Issue—(1*c*) John Charles Ker Fraser, born 1841, died unmarried in 1879; (2*c*) William Leopold, born 1848, died 1878; (3*c*) Angus, born 1842, married, 1874, Blanche, daughter of Dr Charsley of Ceylon, and has issue—Blanche, born 1882, and Eilean, born 1886; (4*c*) Franeklyn Stuart, M.B., C.M., Edinburgh, born 1850, died unmarried 1880. (4*b*) Andrew, W.S., Edinburgh, Sheriff-Substitute of Fort-William, 1838 to 1873, born 1805, died 1873, married, 1841, Janet, daughter of William Brown of Gilston, East Lothian. Issue—(1*c*) Elizabeth Sutherland Fraser, married, 1866, to David Harris, Esq., Edinburgh. Issue—(1*d*) David Fraser Harris, born 1867, B.Sc., London, M.B., C.M., Glasgow; (2*d*) Andrew Fraser, born 1868; (3*d*) Sutherland Fraser, born 1873; (4*d*) Robert Fraser, born 1878; (5*d*) Janetta Susan, born 1871. (2*c*) Robert Brown Fraser, of 101 Leadenhall Street, London, born 1850. (5*b*) Janet Fraser, born 1806, died 1873, married, 1838, Lewis Hoyes of Grenada and of Forres, N.B. Issue—(1*c*) Lewis Hoyes, S.S.C., Edinburgh, born 1841, died unmarried, 1888; (2*c*) Elizabeth Sutherland, born 1843, married, 1879, to Donald Taylor, Sheriff-Clerk of Sutherlandshire. (6*b*) John, born 1808, died 1879, married 1839, Margaret Marrow, and left issue—(1*c*) William Marrow Fraser, born 1841, married, and has issue; (2*c*) Angus L. Fraser, born 1843, married, and has issue; (3*c*) John L. Munro Fraser, born 1845, married, and has issue. (7*b*) Rose Dempster, born 1809, married in Bermuda, 1841, Lavinia Thompson. Issue—(1*c*) Rose Dempster Fraser, married M. L. Masters, and has issue; (2*c*) William Sutherland, born 1850, died 1890; (3*c*) Alexander Thompson, born 1855, married, and has a family; (4*c*) Elizabeth Sutherland, born 1843, died

*NOTE.—It is most likely that either Mrs Munro of Lealtie or Mrs Andrew Fraser was really named Agnes, for the names Agnes and Ann are often found to be interchangeable, in the same way as Donald and Daniel, and Isabel and Elizabeth.

1871, married 1866, to G. E. Fühl, Lieutenant Danish Navy. Issue—(1*d*) Rose Dempster Fühl, born 1868; (2*d*) Lizzie, born 1871, married 1893. (5*c*) Lavinia Thompson, born 1853, married Ernest Adolphus Richards, and had issue; (6*c*) Mary Laughlin, born 1858, married Edward Henry Innes; (7*c*) Susan Foster, born 1848, married W. L. Masters; (8*c*) Janet Hoyes, born 1861, married to Abdiel William Campbell. (8*b*) Mary Fraser, born 1811, married, firstly, in 1837, to Dr John Poyntz Munro, and secondly to John M'Donell of Grenada. (9*b*) Angus, born 1814, died in India, 1848. (10*b*) Christina, born 1817. (2*a*) William, born 1775, Captain in 59th Regiment, married, in Ireland, Eliza Trimble, and had a son, George, who went to America, and died unmarried. (3*a*) Janet, born 1777, married William Maepherson in Tain, and had issue. (4*a*) Andrew Fraser of Flemington, Major 94th Regiment, and Governor of Fort George, married 1816, Anna, daughter of Dr Roy, of Fort George, by his wife, Isabella Campbell of Melfort. Issue—(1*b*) Leopold Saxe-Coburg, Captain Ceylon Rifles, born 1819, died 1846, in Ceylon, A.D.C. to H.E. Sir Colin Campbell. No issue. (2*b*) James George Fraser of Merlewood, Inverness, Surgeon-Major, Bombay Medical Service, born 1820, died 1878, married 1852, Eliza Munro, daughter of Walter Angus Bethune, of Dunrobin, Tasmania, who died 1887, s.p. (3*b*) Charles Ross Fraser of Heather Ley, Inverness, Major, H.M. Indian Army, born 1822, died 1889, married, 1860, Julia Josephine Margaret (who died 1868), daughter of Walter Angus Bethune, and granddaughter of the Rev. John Bethune of Dornoch. Issue—(1*c*) Charles James Roy Fraser, Esq. of Merlewood, Inverness, born 1863, B.A., Balliol College, Oxford, F.R.G.S. (2*c*) Walter Andrew, born 1866, Lieutenant, Indian Staff Corps. (3*c*) Annabella Roy. (4*c*) Julia Charlotte Fraser. (5*a*) George, born 1781, died unmarried in Demerara. (6*a*) Ann, born and died 1783.

(2). James Fraser, in Novar, born 1757, died unmarried.

(3). Colin Fraser, born 1760.

(4). Catherine Fraser.

(5). Helen Fraser.

Page 49.—Although the family history of the Robertsons of Strowan states that Duncan de Atholia and his son Robert were at the Battle of Durham, in 1346, it is said to be open to doubt if the persons who have been identified as Duncan and Robert de Atholia were not the MacDowells of Galloway.

Page 55.—A daughter of the Rev. Francis Robertson of Clyne, probably the one called Jean, was married, as his second wife, to Captain George Sutherland of Midgarty, second son of Sutherland of Langwell, in Caitlness, and had issue a son and a daughter, namely—(1*b*) Robert, who made a large fortune in the West Indies, which he afterwards lost. He then went to St Domingo about the year 1810, and was chief councillor to Christoph, King of Hayti (crowned in 1811). Robert Sutherland only survived his removal to St Domingo a few years, and died unmarried, leaving a natural son, Robert, who was brought up at Torboll. (2*b*) Janet Sutherland, married, after her father's death, to Captain Kenneth Mackay of Torboll. There is a monument of Captain Mackay in Dornoch Cathedral. Issue, fourteen children, of whom the following are known—(1*c*) Harriet; (2*c*) Esther, married to Provost Murray of Tain; (3*c*) Jean, married to William Murray of Geanies; (4*c*) Alexa (Lexy), died at school in London; (5*c*) George; (6*c*) John; (7*c*) Robert; (8*c*) Eric; (9*c*) Ewen; (10*c*) Williamina Mrs Noble; (11*c*) Mary, married Peter Pope; (12*c*) Jessie, died at home; (13*c*) another daughter, who died at home.

Page 56.—Harry Robertson, merchant of Glasgow, son of the Rev. Andrew Robertson of Kiltearn, is said to have married a daughter of George Millar of Tain.

CORRIGENDA.

1. David P. Fraser.
2. D'Arcey Fraser.
3. Robert Fraser.

Page 15, line 27.—For Achnadoieh read Achnacloieh.

Page 18.—In the table of the Royal descent of Margaret Mackenzie, wife of Gilbert Robertson, II. of Kindeace, Sir William Douglas, Knight, husband to Princess Egidia Stewart, should be of Nithsdale, not of Netherdale. The Christian name of the wife of Roderick Mor Maekenzie of Redcastle should be Florenec, not Catherine. The first wife of the Rev. John Mackenzie of Tolly, minister of Dingwall, was Margaret, daughter of Patrick Grant of Ballindalloch, not John.

Page 25, line 5.—For 31st read 13th.

Page 25, line 8.—For 3rd read 31st.

Page 27, lines 20 and 21.—The first and second daughters of S. S. Parker, by his second wife, are named Constance Ethel and Caroline Gertrude Stewart.

Page 35, line 24.—For K.C.S. read K.C.S.I.

Page 40, line 4.—For 1818 read 1820.

Page 49, line 9.—For Gaelie read Gaelic.

Page 50, line 6.—For 1363 read 1362.

Page 59, line 9.—Place a comma after Westminster ; and line 10, for He read he.

Page 63, line 21.—For Urchanny read Urchany—this name is frequently spelt Orkney.
